新聞 : AL.com

記者 : Carol Robinson

日付 : 7/7/2016

要旨 : About 2 a.m. Wednesday, a homeowner on Milner's Crest saw a white female suspect breaking into their vehicle while it was parked in the driveway. The teen girl then attempted to leave the area on foot after meeting up with a white male accomplice, police said. Officers dispatched to the scene stopped their vehicle, and determined they were the pair responsible for the car burglary on Milner's Crest. Police found them with two handguns, one of which was reported stolen from the same neighborhood the previous day. The serial number had been altered on one of guns.

要旨：An officer was patrolling in a subdivision when he was flagged down by a motorist who said a man was pointing a gun at passing motorists. The officer found the man, who was holding a shot gun. Reportedly, the man started cursing the deputy and raised the weapon. Investigators said that the officer grabbed hold of the gun and pushed the man away. The man reportedly told the deputy, "I got something for you," before reaching into his pocket and pulling out a handgun. "Deputy Farmer hit the man's hand" as the gun fired and managed to wrestle the weapon away from him, according to police. Investigators have not determined why the man was firing at motorists or why he fired at the deputy but said that he had been drinking.
