A 16-year-old boy was arrested Thursday in the deadly shooting of another teen during New Year's Eve celebrations in Mobile, police said. The suspect will be taken to Mobile County Metro Jail and charged with the murder of 19-year-old Marcus Kennedy, said Cpl. Katrina Frazier. Kennedy was found shot at 12:16 a.m. Monday in the 300 block of Dauphin Street, police said. He was transported to an area hospital where he was pronounced dead. Mobile Police Chief Paul Prine said Wednesday that Kennedy and the alleged shooter knew each other and had an altercation before the shots were fired. He said police are looking into the possibility that the shooting was gang-related. The fatal shooting on Monday happened despite Mobile police announcing they would have stepped up enforcement during this year's festivities. The department announced last week that it was allocating additional officers, including those on traffic patrol, bike patrol, horse-mounted patrol, foot patrol and undercover officers, to cover the event. Uniformed officers, police say, would "highly visible" throughout the events.

A suspect has been charged in the New Year's Day shooting death of a woman in Anniston. Jarvis Donquise Swink, 35, is charged with murder in the Monday slaying of 21-year-old Kasmine L. McAfee. Anniston police responded at 4:30 p.m. to the 2700 block of Simpson Street on a report of a person shot. Lt. Tim Suits said the shooting followed a verbal argument between Swink and McAfee after McAfee walked onto her property. The two did not know each other. McAfee was taken to Northeast Alabama Regional Medical Center where she later died. Investigators identified Swink as the suspect. He was taken into custody Thursday and booked into the Calhoun County Jail where he is being held without bond.

About 100 loved ones gathered to remember the teen shot and killed in a "targeted" drive-by near Ralph David Abernathy Boulevard in southwest Atlanta. Montrevious Pitts and two others were shot on Jan. 2. 11Alive spoke exclusively with Montrevious' mother, Keara, at a vigil Saturday. The vigil was held in the Mechanicsville neighborhood on Windsor Street, minutes from where the shooting happened. There have been 15 incidents of violence over the past year in this area, according to crime data. Keara said he's not taking the loss of her son well. "He was a good child," Keara said. "He was a good person, respectful. It's nothing nobody could say bad about him—nothing." That's how Keara wants people to remember "Trey," as his loved ones called him. At age 18, Trey was the oldest of Keara's five boys. Trey affectionately called his seven-year-old brother, Keyon, "Fat Boy." "We played together," Keyon said. "And we laughed." Trey's loved ones wore blue and released blue balloons after a prayer at the vigil. "That was his favorite color," Keara said. However, it didn't compare to how blue they felt on the inside. "Our last conversation was he wanted me to take him to get his ID so that he could start working," Keara said. Keara said her son had a future ahead of him and was an innocent bystander in the shooting. She said he'd never been in a situation like this. The other two victims were his friends, all 21 and under, according to Atlanta Police. "Put the guns down," Keara said. "Put them down." Keara said there's too much violence in this neighborhood. And Trey's loved ones pray that no other big brothers lose their chance to grow up. "I miss him. And I love him," Keyon said. No word on whether there has been an arrest in this shooting. 11Alive reached Tallassee police need your help finding the person suspected of robbing a business with a gun. Police say the person used a handgun to rob the Marathon gas station at 511 Jordan Avenue. The robbery happened Tuesday at about 1:30PM. Investigators say the robber left the gas station with money. It's not known in which direction he left. Central Alabama CrimeStoppers is offering a cash reward for the identification of the suspect.

An investigation is underway after two men were hit by a vehicle in east Birmingham Thursday afternoon. It is believed, police said, is that the victims were intentionally struck. The crash happened about 2 p.m. in a business parking lot in the 5900 block of First Avenue North. Sgt. LaQuitta Wade said the preliminary investigation suggests that victims were struck intentionally by the driver of the vehicle. Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service Battalion Chief Clay Hendon said both pedestrians and the driver were all taken to the hospital by ambulance. One of the pedestrians, Hendon said, sustained serious injuries. The other pedestrian and the driver have minor injuries. A motive in the incident has not yet been determined. Wade said the investigation is ongoing.

Brittany McElrathbey was sitting on the couch when a bullet suddenly flew into her southwest Atlanta apartment. Since the shooting Jan. 2, she has been on a ventilator and undergoing multiple surgeries, her family said. “This was random and unexpected. ... I pray all day for her comfort,” her mother, Tonya McElrathbey, wrote in a GoFundMe campaign. The apartment at the Retreat at Greenbriar on Continental Colony Parkway was filled with screams after gunfire came from outside, an incident report details. According to a witness and surveillance footage, it came from an all-black Dodge Challenger with tag number CRD4432. Tonya McElrathbey said the bullet went through the back of her 30-year-old daughter’s head and out through her nose. A bullet hole was found in a window, on a couch and in an apartment wall, the report states. Brittany McElrathbey’s 12-year-old son Tavion witnessed the shooting and told police he remembers looking out the window before hearing two gunshots moments after walking away. When officers arrived at the scene shortly before 5 p.m., McElrathbey had already been taken to Grady Memorial Hospital by her mother. McElrathbey’s older brother, Ray, who is a former Clemson University football player and subject of the Disney film “Safety,” told Channel 2 Action News that he doesn’t think his sister was targeted, and that “it’s a possible mistaken identity.” The family is now trying to find another home as the suspect remains at large. “It’s hard to sleep at night knowing this person is out there on the loose,” Ray McElrathbey told the news station. “This person has (wrecked) my life so much in just a matter of seconds, for no particular reason.”

Authorities are asking for the public's help identifying two robbery suspects. Birmingham police said the holdup happened about 6:20 p.m. Jan. 2 at the Chevron at 416 10th Street North. A man, said Officer Truman Fitzgerald, was robbed by another man and a woman. They were armed with a gun and stole the victim's personal belongings. Police said the victim was physically assaulted during the robbery.

A 25-year-old Etowah County man has been charged in the shooting death of his mother and his half-brother. Brandon Wagnon is charged with two counts of murder in the Tuesday slayings of 45-year-old Brandi Whitt and 9-year-old Brantley Whitt. Wagnon was booked into the Etowah County Jail at 1:52 a.m. Wednesday. He was set to have an Aniah's Law bond hearing Thursday afternoon. Deputies responded about 10 p.m. Tuesday to a report of someone shot on Glen Gap Road in the Highland/Tabor community, said Sheriff Jonathon Horton. They arrived to find the Whitt and her younger son both had sustained gunshot wounds. Deputies started lifesaving measures until medics arrived, but both victims were pronounced dead on the scene. Horton said Wagnon and his girlfriend were taken into custody on scene and taken to the sheriff's office for questioning. The girlfriend was released without being charged. A motive has not been disclosed. "Any death is always difficult for everyone involved, but one involving a juvenile is especially hard on all emergency first responders," Horton said. "We are extremely saddened and send our heartfelt condolences to the family and loved ones during this difficult time."

A suspect accused of fatally shooting a man at an apartment complex in Marietta has been arrested following a manhunt, authorities said Thursday. Donovan Carter, 33, was taken into custody Wednesday evening after being stopped in a vehicle in Gwinnett County, Marietta police said, officially ending a roughly 12-hour search by several metro Atlanta law enforcement agencies. “Once the identity was confirmed, inter-agency coordination with the officers in Gwinnett enabled Carter to be taken into custody just hours after the shooting occurred,” Marietta police spokesperson Officer Chuck McPhilamy said. “The smooth cooperation and coordination between multiple agencies enabled us to take this violent criminal off the streets quickly.” That morning, Marietta police received a call about a person struck by gunfire at the Harlow Apartments, McPhilamy said. The complex is located in the area of Windy Hill Road and Cobb Parkway, and just across the street from the Georgia Memorial Park cemetery. At the scene, officers found 40-year-old Kenneth Cunningham II dead near the complex office with several gunshot wounds. Police said he lived in an apartment there, and the shooting was likely not a random act of violence. According to Channel 2 Action News, Cunningham had just visited the office and picked up a package when he was gunned down. Investigators reviewed surveillance video, spoke with witnesses and gathered evidence, leading Carter to be identified as a suspect, police said. Officers with the Cobb County and Smyrna police departments, as well as deputies with the Cobb sheriff’s office, helped during the search. Carter was booked into the Cobb County jail just before 11 p.m. on charges of murder, felony murder, aggravated assault and possession of a firearm during the commission of a crime according to Marshall County authorities have arrested a Guntersville woman they say shot a man on a busy four-lane highway. The shooting happened Wednesday, according to the Marshall County Sheriff's Office. Deputies responded to the Town of New Hope, where a 59-year-old man was being treated for a non-life-threatening gunshot wound to his left shoulder. The victim told deputies that he had been shot while driving in his vehicle on U.S. 431 near Guntersville Dam Road. The man said he believed he knew who wounded him, and provided some information about the vehicle from which the shot came. Investigators began looking for three persons of interest related to the shooting, and found one early the next morning – identified as Kelly Wooten, 37, of New Hope. Wooten had warrants for her arrest through Guntersville police and was taken into custody. She has been charged with shooting into an occupied vehicle and is being held in the Marshall County Jail without bond. Investigators believe the shooting was an isolated incident, and that the victim and Wooten knew each other. The Madison County Sheriff's Office assisted in the case.

A search is underway after a man was shot Wednesday in the Midlands, the Kershaw County Sheriff's Office said. The shooting happened between 10–11 a.m., but wasn't reported to law enforcement until after 5:30 p.m. There was no word about why there was a delay in reporting the shooting. The man was shot in the leg, according to the release. The sheriff's office said his injury is not considered to be life threatening, and he is receiving treatment. There was no word on a shooter, or shooters, or a motive for the gunfire that happened near U.S. 601 in the Lugoff area, according to the release. No arrests have been reported by the sheriff's office, which continues to investigate. The sheriff's office said the shooting was not a random incident, and it does not "feel the public is in any danger."

A man is in custody and en route to a hospital for mental health treatment after he jumped naked into the massive aquarium at The Bass Pro Shop Leeds Thursday night. Police Chief Paul Irwin said the incident happened about near closing time. The 42-year-old man was reported to be acting erratically and drove a vehicle into a pole in the store parking lot. After the crash, he got out of his vehicle, took off his clothes, ran into the Bass Pro Shop and jumped into the aquarium. Video taken by bystanders showed the man do a cannonball into the aquarium and later stand under the waterfall. As two Leeds police officers began to walk up the stairs, the man exited the water, yelled something to the officers and then dove back into the water. He continued to shout something to officers before he climbed over the side of the aquarium and dropped to the concrete floor below, appearing to have been knocked out by the fall. Officers handcuffed the man, who then woke up and began to try to struggle. Someone covered him with a blanket as officers took him from the store. Irwin said the man was only in the water for about five minutes before officers arrived. He was taken to a hospital for a mental evaluation and then booked into the St. Clair County Jail. Jail records show George Owens, of Sterrett, is charged with public lewdness, disorderly conduct, resisting arrest, assault on a police officer, two counts of first-degree criminal mischief and two counts of reckless endangerment.

A man was killed and the suspect who allegedly shot him was injured in a domestic incident Thursday afternoon in Montgomery, police said. Montgomery police and fire medics responded to the 6800 block of Eastchase Parkway around 2:55 p.m. Monday on a call of a disturbance and a person shot, said Maj. Saba Coleman. Police found an adult male victim suffering from a gunshot wound. The victim, who was not publicly identified as of Thursday night, was pronounced dead at the scene, said Coleman. Police also found a male suspected of shooting the victim at a local hospital, where the suspect was being treated for a non-life-threatening gunshot wound. The suspect was taken into police custody. Charges against the alleged gunman are pending once he is released from the hospital, Coleman said.

DeKalb County Police are investigating after a woman was found dead inside of the woods Thursday evening. Police said they were called out to the 2900 block of Panthersville Court in Decatur around 6:40 p.m. When they got there, they said they found a woman dead in the woods. Police described her to be in her 40s or 50s. Initial investigation from homicide detectives appears to show the woman was assaulted, but the cause of death has not been determined. DeKalb Police said the investigation into the woman's death remains ongoing, and further details will be released later.

A Baldwin County man was arrested at a motel in Pelham, where he was visiting with the intent to have sex with a child, police said Friday. Pelham police received information from Hoover police Thursday that a person visiting Pelham was "attempting to procure a minor child for sexual activity," the department said. Pelham detectives and U.S. Homeland Security Investigations began conducting interviews and surveillance. Within eight hours after Pelham police received the tip, a suspect, identified as 46-year-old Bay Minette resident William Guy Long, was arrested at an unnamed Pelham motel. "No specific child was ever in imminent danger," police said. Long is being held in the Shelby County Jail without bond on charges of first-degree human trafficking and traveling to meet a child for an unlawful sex act, police said.

Forest Park police are actively searching for an armed suspect after a shooting was reported Friday morning, causing all city buildings and schools to be locked down. Few details have been released, but Forest Park police said the shooting was reported just after 10:30 a.m. Heavy police activity could be seen just before 1 p.m. at a home near the intersection of Old Jonesboro and Simpson roads, Channel 2 Action News reported. The location is near Edmonds Elementary School. Police did not say if anyone had been injured but cautioned the public that an "armed and dangerous" suspect remains at large. Other agencies have joined the search, and police are asking anyone with information to call 911.

A 12-year-old boy suffered a life-threatening gunshot wound in a drive-by shooting Friday night in east Birmingham, according to police. The child was not the intended target; the shots were meant for a home about a block away from the boy's, police said. The shooting happened in the 8300 block of 1st Avenue South. The shooting happened sometime around 6:30 p.m, when Birmingham 911 began receiving ShotSpotter alerts indicating gunfire rang out in the 8300 block of Division Avenue, said Officer Truman Fitzgerald. Officers were updated that the child was shot at 1st Avenue South -- one block south from Division Avenue. On Division Avenue, officers found shell casings in the roadway, Fitzgerald said. On 1st Avenue South, the 12-year-old boy was found shot. Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service arrived on the scene and rushed the child to Children's Hospital, where he remained Friday night with life-threatening injuries. The preliminary investigation revealed a drive-by shooting took place and that the rounds may have traveled down 1st Avenue South "and hit this 12-year-old child, who was completely innocent," Fitzgerald said. "Even the 12-year-old's house was not the intended target of this shooting," the officer said. Fitzgerald said the shooting was frustrating "because a house is supposed to be our childrens' safe place. They're supposed to be they're castle where they're the safest.

A teenager was fatally shot Friday evening inside a vehicle after a passenger accidentally fired a gun in DeKalb County, police said. Officers were called to the 1800 block of Shawn Wayne Court near a fire station regarding a person shot shortly before 10 p.m. A 19-year-old was found with a gunshot wound to the back and taken to a hospital, where he later died, according to police. The victim's name was not released. Authorities learned that the shooting took place at a different location before the victim was driven to Shawn Wayne Court. Police officers said they spoke with two other people who were inside the vehicle and found out that a rear passenger accidentally discharged a firearm, striking the victim. The suspect, identified by police as 19-year-old Quintavious Wilkes, was arrested for involuntary manslaughter and booked into the DeKalb jail.

A pedestrian was hit and killed Friday night, and police are still looking for the driver of the vehicle that hit him. The accident happened around 10:22 p.m. Friday night in the 1100 block of West South Boulevard. When they arrived, officers found an adult male pedestrian who had sustained fatal injuries and died at the scene. The driver of the vehicle fled the area prior to MPD's arrival.

Two men were fatally shot, one of them at a Raleigh hookah lounge, in separate incidents this weekend, police reported. Around 4 a.m. Saturday, two men were shot inside the Checkmate Lounge at 2200 East Millbrook Road, according to Raleigh police. One man died from multiple gunshot wounds, and the other was taken to the hospital with injuries, according to a news release. Police have not named the men, provided any information about suspects or provided other details about the shooting. No one has been charged as of Monday morning. Raleigh police are also seeking two suspects in a separate, fatal shooting that occurred around 10:35 p.m. Sunday in the 3500 block of Cumberland Creek Road. A man was found with serious gunshot wounds, according to a news release, and two suspects reportedly fled the scene in a car. On Monday, Raleigh police announced the man had died from his injuries.

Gunfire in Fairfield Saturday left one man dead inside a crashed vehicle. Just before 5 p.m., Jefferson County sheriff's deputies were dispatched to what was initially reported as a traffic crash in the 800 block of Beacon Drive. Sheriff's Lt. Joni Money said deputies located a Jeep Cherokee that had struck a home. Further investigation showed the driver had been shot multiple times. He was pronounced dead at the scene. Money said detectives have not yet identified a motive.

A man was shot to death Saturday evening in an east Birmingham neighborhood during a possible home invasion. Birmingham police late Saturday identified the victim as Ledaron Pope. He was 43. East Precinct officers were dispatched at 5:05 p.m. to a report of a person shot at a home in the 8400 block of Seventh Avenue South. Officer Truman Fitzgerald said officers entered the house and found Pope inside with a gunshot wound. Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service pronounced him dead on the scene. Police initially said Pope was killed in a possible carjacking. The investigation shows a vehicle was taken during the incident, and officers were actively searching for that vehicle. They later updated that information to say it was a possible home invasion. Fitzgerald said there were others at the home when the shooting happened, but no one else was injured. It wasn't immediately clear where the victim was when he was shot, but he was able to make it inside before collapsing. No suspects are in custody.

A 23-year-old man was shot and killed Saturday evening after getting into a fight at an apartment complex in DeKalb County, officials said. Police responded just before 7:15 p.m. to the Creekside Corners Apartment Homes on Turnberry Place in Stonecrest. The complex is a short distance from Panola Road and just south of I-20. When officers arrived, they found the man dead in a parking lot with a gunshot wound to the chest. According to investigators, the victim had gotten into a fight with the suspect before the shooting. Police said no arrests have been made.

Eufaula City Schools announced school will be closed on Monday and Tuesday after the reported shooting death of a teen over the weekend. The Eufaula Police Department in a Facebook post Sunday night said, “an active shooting investigation is ongoing at this time.” No additional details were released by police, but Barbour County Sheriff Tyrone Smith told a Montgomery television station that a 15-year-old was shot and killed Sunday in Eufaula. Almost simultaneously, Eufaula City Schools announced on its social media accounts that classes and extracurricular activities are canceled Monday and Tuesday. “Due to the tragic events that have occurred in our community this afternoon and after conferring with local law enforcement, we are allowing them to conduct further investigations into the tragic events,” the statement read. “We will also remain closed due to the possibility of inclement weather on Tuesday, January 9th.” “We apologize for any inconvenience, but the safety of students and staff is our top priority.” School officials said free counseling is available to students and staff. Barbour County Schools are also closing today. “As a precautionary measure, and considering recent events in neighboring communities, Barbour County Schools will be closed on Monday, January 8th. All extracurricular activities are also canceled. We apologize for any inconvenience, but the safety of our students and staff is our top priority,” that system posted on Facebook.

Deputies in Harnett County are searching for a man accused of fatally shooting a 46-year-old man in Sanford, multiple media outlets report. Sunday afternoon, the Harnett County Sheriff’s Office responded to calls in the Winding Ridge area of the Carolina Hills Subdivision of the town and found Anthony Antonio Washington dead from a gunshot wound, ABC11, The News & Observer’s media partner, reported. The sheriff’s office obtained warrants for Tahmeer Mykail Jones, 31, for first-degree murder, the reports. Deputies say he was last seen running away from the scene. Deputies have not revealed more information about the connection of the two men nor what led to the incident. Sanford is about an hour south of Raleigh. They are searching for Jones as of Sunday evening.

A Rainsville man is in jail on two charges of first degree domestic violence after authorities say he stabbed two people this weekend. The DeKalb County Sheriff's Office and Rainsville police responded to an incident Sunday on Dawson Avenue in the Shiloh community, according to Sheriff Nick Welden. Welden said in a news release that as the initial deputy neared the residence, he encountered a man on foot, apparently fleeing from the location, and detained him. Inside, officers found two people, whose names were not released, suffering from life-threatening stabbing injuries. There was no word on their condition Monday.

A 67-year-old man was seriously injured when he was shot while he was asleep in his bed. The shooting happened about 2 a.m. Sunday at a home in the 200 block of Seventh Street in Midfield. Jefferson County sheriff's Lt. Joni Money said witnesses told investigators they heard multiple gunshots outside. It is believed, she said, that one of those bullets struck the victim while he was sleeping. The victim was taken to UAB Hospital with significant injuries, Money said. Deputies discovered that other homes had also been hit by the gunfire. No additional injuries were reported. No one is in custody.

A 5-year-old boy was fatally shot outside a Bessemer home Sunday morning. The gunfire also left an adult male injured. The shooting happened at 10:15 a.m. in the 500 block of Seventh Avenue North. The boy's mother had taken her child to the home to get his hair cut. Bessemer police Det. Justin Burmeister said the victims were outside when someone opened fire on the house. Multiple shots were fired. The child and the barber were struck. "We know someone not at the house shot towards the house," Burmeister said. The 5-year-old was taken to Children's of Alabama where he was pronounced dead a short time later. The adult male was taken to the hospital and is in critical condition. Burmeister said investigators are following up several leads. "It's terrible," he said. "Our thoughts are with the family during this incredibly challenging time." "We are working tirelessly to gather all available information and evidence to determine the sequence of events that led to this tragic outcome," he said.

[2/7/2024] An 18-year-old driver who was involved in a single-vehicle crash that killed two teenagers in Cherokee County has been arrested, officials announced Wednesday. Oliver Luis Roman of Powder Springs was charged with two counts each of vehicular homicide and serious injury by vehicle, reckless driving and violation of a Class D license, the Cherokee sheriff's office said. Roman was booked Wednesday into the Cherokee jail, where he was being held without bond. On Jan. 9 around 8:15 p.m., investigators believe Roman was driving a Mazda 6 on Towne Lake Parkway, left the road and struck a tree in the center median. Roman had four passengers in the car at the time of the crash, which killed two and injured two others. Gabriel Escandon, 17, of Marietta, and Esteban Cortez-Rendon, 18, of Woodstock, were killed, according to investigators. Escandon died at the scene, the sheriff's office said. The others were rushed to Wellstar Kennestone Hospital, where Cortez-Rendon died. It was his 18th birthday, according to his obituary. Another 17-year-old from Marietta sustained serious injuries in the wreck, which also injured an 18-year-old from Oklahoma, investigators said. Roman was also injured. A joint funeral service was held for Escandon and Cortez-Rendon on Jan. 20.

The Chatham County Sheriff's Office has now charged two people with first-degree murder after arresting them Tuesday in connection with the death of a woman found Monday on N.C. 902. Deputies responded around 2:40 a.m. to an unconscious person reported on the road in the 7700 block of the highway, which connects rural southwest Chatham with the county seat of Pittsboro. The woman, identified as 33-year-old Michelle Nichole Jenks of Siler City, was taken to UNC Hospitals in Chapel Hill, where she was later pronounced dead, according to a news release. Investigators charged Terrie Fields, 39, and Corey Rives, 37, both of Bear Creek in southwest Chatham County. In addition to the first-degree murder charge, Fields is charged with four felonies: second-degree murder, kidnapping, felony possession of a firearm by a felon and possession of methamphetamine, according to news releases. She also is charged with misdemeanor possession of drug paraphernalia, a release said. Rives also is charged with first-degree murder and three other felonies: accessory after the fact, possession of methamphetamine, and maintaining a dwelling for controlled substance, a report said. He also is charged with misdemeanor simple possession of a Schedule III controlled substance, carrying a concealed gun, and possession of marijuana up to half an ounce. Both suspects are being held without bond in the Chatham County Detention Center and are scheduled to appear in court Jan. 29.

A man was shot on Eastern Boulevard Tuesday morning. Police told Action 8 News the shooting happened at about 6:27AM in the 2400 block of Eastern Boulevard, which is not far from The Home Depot store and the U.S. Post Office. Police say the man suffered what is believed to be a non-life threatening gunshot wound. He was taken to the hospital for treatment. Police have released no other information.

A man is in custody after police said he shot his way into a Birmingham assisted living facility on the city's Southside Tuesday morning. Birmingham police were dispatched to a report of an active shooter at Episcopal Place at 1112 26th Street in Southside. Episcopal Place is a nonprofit that provides affordable housing for seniors and adults with disabilities. Birmingham police received the first call at 7:52 a.m. The suspect was taken into custody shortly after 8:30 a.m. No one was injured in the shooting. Officer Truman Fitzgerald said South Precinct officers arrived on the scene and found the suspect – a middle-aged man – had “violently” entered the facility by shooting his way inside. He entered the building through a back, locked entrance. “To gain access he shot the windows out and was able to enter,” he said, “as we’ve seen in several scenarios across the nation.” As officers approached the suspect, they heard more shots fired, he said. They saw damage to the a ceiling on the first floor of the apartment building at which point they determined he was in the ceiling. “Our officers were able to maintain a line of communication,” Fitzgerald said. “The dispatcher placed an emergency radio traffic alert to get all available officers here.” Officers continued to communicate with the suspect as more officers were deployed into the facility. Fitzgerald said the officers were able to convince the suspect into surrendering in the building's library. The suspect was taken to Birmingham police headquarters for questioning. A motive has not yet been disclosed, but Fitzgerald confirmed police radio communications that the suspect possibly has a history of mental issues.

A South Carolina man was arrested the day after a body was found by law enforcement officers who were investigating a possible burglary, the Aiken Department of Public Safety said Wednesday. Alexander Boone, a 27-year-old Aiken resident, was charged with murder and first-degree burglary. Boone was charged with killing Swint Bradberry Jr., according to the release. Bradberry was a well-known jeweler in Aiken who went by the nickname "Porky." On Tuesday at about 8 a.m., officers responded to a possible burglary at Bradberry's home at 915 Brookhaven Drive. That's in Aiken, near Whiskey Road and close to the downtown area. Bradberry was found dead inside his bedroom, according to Aiken County Coroner Darryl Ables. Bradberry suffered blunt force injuries to the head, Ables said. The death was called a homicide. After breaking into the home and beating Bradberry to death, Boone left with the victim's orthotic Velcro shoes and his Members Only jacket that still had Bradberry's dry cleaning receipt attached, according to an arrest warrant. There was no word on a motive, and the department of public safety said it's trying to identify any potential connections between Boone and Bradberry. Boone is being held at the Aiken County Detention Center. There was no word on bond. In addition to the department of public safety and the coroner, the death continues to be investigated by the Aiken County Sheriff's Office, the South Carolina Law Enforcement Division, the 2nd Circuit Solicitor's Office and the ATF RAGE Task Force. An autopsy will be conducted Thursday in Newberry, Ables said.

Hillsborough police are looking for a man they say dragged an officer from a moving SUV on Wednesday during a convenience-store theft. Officers were called about a larceny at the Sheetz store on N.C. 86 South around 2:17 p.m. While investigating the larceny, another person in the store was allegedly stealing beer, reported ABC11. Maj. Andy Simmons told ABC11 that suspect was grabbing cases of beer and putting them in his idling SUV, then returning to the store for more. Police approached the man, who was wearing a green Columbia zip-up jacket, blue jeans, camouflage ball cap and black shoes with white soles. The subject assaulted an officer inside the store, then fled outside to his SUV backed into a parking space, police said. "The suspect entered the driver's seat of the vehicle and subsequently assaulted the officer as the officer attempted to remove the suspect from the vehicle," the release stated. "The suspect then put the vehicle into drive and dragged the officer causing physical injuries," it continued. The suspect fled in a red GMC Terrain SLE on N.C. 86, heading toward Durham on Interstate 85, police said. The officer was taken to UNC Hospitals Hillsborough Campus with minor injuries. "If somebody sees the vehicle and [it] has a tag on it now, by all means, call us with the tag," Simmons told ABC11. "If they see the individual, please do not approach him. Just go ahead and call 911."

Police arrested two people after back-to-back shooting incidents in 24 hours at the North Pointe Estates apartment complex in Columbia. An attempted robbery around 6 p.m. Jan. 10 at the apartments, 100 Ripplemeyer Ave., led to a 16-year-old boy being shot in the upper body. The teen is in stable condition at a hospital. After that shooting, Columbia police arrested Tyrone Thompson Jr., 18, and charged him with unlawful carrying of a pistol. Thompson was released from the Alvin S. Glenn Detention Center on a $1,000 surety bond. Police responded to the apartments again on the morning of Jan. 11 following a report of shots fired on ShotSpotter — a network of microphones that detects the location of gunshots. After reviewing surveillance video and speaking with people at the scene, officers arrested and charged William Wright III, 21, with trying to kick in the front door of an occupied apartment and firing multiple rounds at the home. Wright, who police say is a relative of the 16-year-old who was shot the previous day, was charged with with first-degree attempted burglary, discharging a firearm into a dwelling, breach of peace of a high and aggravated nature, possession of a weapon during a violent crime and unlawful carrying of a pistol. Wright's bond was set at $150,000. He was ordered not to return the site of the shooting or have any contact with the residents of the home, according to court records.

A man suspected of attempting to steal a car with three others in DeKalb County was injured Thursday when the group was confronted by the vehicle's owner and the suspect was accidentally shot by one of his accomplices, authorities said. Officers were called to the 5900 block of Crescent Ridge Court early Thursday morning after getting reports of a person shot, DeKalb police said. At the scene, they found the wounded man and rushed him to the hospital. Investigators learned that the injured man was part of a group of suspects who tried to steal a car from one of the homes in the Woods of Wellborn neighborhood near Lithonia, police said. When the car's owner came out to confront them, one of the other suspects attempted to shoot them but hit one of the suspects instead, according to authorities. The injured man has not been publicly identified, and none of the other suspects were taken into custody. Police did not provide further details on the extent of the man's injuries.

When the Prichard Police Department sent out an Amber Alert early Friday morning after two children were abducted during a carjacking, the offers of help came pouring in. The FBI, U.S. Secret Service, U.S. Marshals and other law enforcement agencies offered assistance. Even Gov. Kay Ivey's office contacted Prichard police offering use of the governor's helicopter in searching for the carjacked truck and the two children. "Any time there's an Amber Alert, we have everybody calling us," said Prichard police Sgt. Bart Andrews. "The FBI, U.S. Marshals, Secret Service, ALEA -- everyone calls and wants to know what they can." The carjacking occurred late Thursday night at a Love's truck stop along the Interstate 65 service road in Prichard. Andrews said the two children -- ages 4 and 3 -- were traveling with their parents in a 1999 Ford F-250 truck with a Tennessee license plate pulling a trailer full of new appliances. The family is from the New England area and the parents were delivering the equipment in the trailer to the Mobile area. Multiple suspects -- two of them brandishing firearms -- approached the family and carjacked the truck and trailer, taking the two children with them, police said. Andrews said the mother begged the suspects to leave the children, but instead they became "more aggressive and violent" towards the mother. "They sexually assaulted her because they patted her down, searched for money in her bra, things like that," Andrews said. By 5:30 a.m. Friday, the truck had been found, with the two children inside, appearing uninjured. The trailer was gone, but located about three hours later, Andrews said. The trailer's contents were gone. There are no immediate suspects, Andrews said, other than the descriptions provided by the victims. Because the

A Mobile man is on life support after he set fire to a trailer in Baldwin County following a fight with his girlfriend Thursday night, police said Friday. The girlfriend escaped the trailer unharmed, but a dog and her three puppies were killed in the blaze, Loxley police told WKRG. Andrew Lersch was arrested early Friday morning without bond on charges of second-degree arson, third-degree domestic violence, aggravated cruelty to animals, resisting arrest and first-degree criminal mischief, Baldwin County jail records showed. Lersch and his girlfriend were arguing Thursday night when the spat turned physical and the girlfriend left the trailer, police said. The Mobile man then allegedly poured gasoline on the RV while a dog and her three puppies were inside the trailer in a kennel, authorities said. Lersch allegedly resisted arrest, damaging police camera equipment and lights in a patrol car totaling $3,000, according to police. During Lersch's bond hearing, Baldwin County prosecutors told a judge that he was in the hospital on life support.

A suspect in a stolen vehicle who had 38 prior arrests was seriously injured Thursday afternoon after he led authorities on a chase in Calera and hit another driver, police said. A patrol officer spotted the vehicle on Highway 16 and initiated a traffic stop when the suspect fled and struck another vehicle, said Calera Police Chief David Hyche. The suspect, only identified as a male from Montevallo, was seriously injured while the driver of the other vehicle sustained minor injuries. In addition to at least 38 prior arrests, which include attempting to elude, the suspect also had outstanding warrants from four separate jurisdictions, police said. The vehicle the suspect was riding in was stolen late last month from Chilton County, authorities said. Police said they found a stolen tag and narcotics inside the vehicle. "This individual made the choice to drive through Calera in a stolen vehicle while having warrants from 4 other agencies. He chose to endanger citizens, himself and our officers. He will be facing a multitude of charges including the new Alabama FELONY attempting to elude charge," Hyche said. "Criminal justice reform is needed but not the type we normally hear about," he added. "Until we have real, swift and consistent enforcement and consequences for crime we will keep arresting the same people over and over."

[2/6/2024] A homicide investigation is underway in Paulding County after a 30-year-old man was found shot to death in his home last month, according to the sheriff's office. Paulding County Sheriff's deputies responded to a home on the Riverbend Trail in the Emerald Point Subdivision in Douglassville on Jan. 11 around 3:40 p.m. when a neighbor found the resident of the home unresponsive. When law enforcement authorities arrived at the home, they found Charvis Baulding shot to death. Detectives with the sheriff's office and Georgia Bureau of Investigation agents arrived at the scene to investigate. They spoke to neighbors and family members who had arrived after the incident happened. Shortly after speaking to witnesses, investigators believed his death was a potential homicide due to the "unusual and suspicious circumstances." Following an autopsy from the GBI Medical Examiner's Office, Baulding's death was officially ruled a homicide medically. Sheriff's deputies said, "There is no indication that residents of this neighborhood or surrounding areas are, or ever were, in any immediate danger." "This is a very complex case. We have taken an enormous amount of time to ensure that no stone has been left unturned in this investigation," said Paulding County Sheriff Gary Gulledge. "I know it may seem like we may not be working as quickly as the family may want, but we are working diligently in conjunction with the GBI to ensure we find out who killed Charvis Baulding."

Gunmen exchanged shots with each other early Thursday evening at the Shoppes at Bel Air mall in Mobile, police said. Mobile officers responded to a report of shots fired in the center interior of the mall around 5:30 p.m., said Cpl. Katrina Frazier. The gunmen, only identified as males, knew each other and were arguing when they began exchanging shots, said Frazier. No injuries were reported, police said, and both gunmen fled the scene before police arrived. The investigation was ongoing Thursday evening, police said. This is a breaking news story and will be updated.

The woman accused in the fatal drunk driving crash that killed Jennifer Wingate, a beloved high school band director and soccer coach, had previously been charged with nearly 20 incidents of speeding, reckless driving and driving with a suspended license. Wingate was struck and killed on the 1300 block of Lake Murray Boulevard near Kroger in Irmo around 10:20 p.m. Thursday. At the time, Wingate, 34, was driving in the westbound lane when she was struck from behind by another vehicle, according to the Lexington County Coroner's Office. She was taken to an area hospital where she was later pronounced dead. Chelsie Pittman, 31, was arrested following the crash. "After conducting multiple witness interviews and reviewing surveillance footage from nearby businesses, Pittman was determined to be at fault for the collision," wrote Lt. Andrea Grinstead with the Irmo Police Department. Pittman has been charged with felony driving under the influence, resulting in death; habitual offender causing death when license has been canceled, suspended, or revoked; and driving under suspension, 3rd or subsequent offense. In South Carolina, driving under the influence leading to death is punishable by a mandatory fine of up to $52,244.50 and imprisonment from one to 25 years. As a habitual offender, Pittman could also be fined up to $10,000 and imprisoned for up to 20 years. The State found 17 previous charges across Lexington, Richland, Lancaster and York counties, amounting to thousands of dollars in fines but no jail time. Pittman also previously pleaded guilty to a drunk driving charge in North Carolina in 2011, court records show.

A man wearing a medical mask robbed a credit union Friday morning in Sylacauga, police said. Sylacauga police responded to a call of a bank robbery at the Highway 280 branch of Heritage South Federal Credit Union, said Chief Kelley B. Johnson. The person who reported the robbery said an unknown white male entered the credit union wearing a medical mask before passing a note to a teller demanding money. The robber left the credit union with an unknown amount of cash, police said. Authorities have not identified any suspects and do not have a description of the vehicle used in the robbery. Sylacauga police and agents with the Talladega County Drug and Violent Crime Task Force are working on the case, Johnson said. The FBI has also been notified of the robbery and is helping with the investigation.

A 39-year-old man is dead after Atmore police say he tried to intervene in a fight between a group of men and was shot multiple times. On Saturday morning, Okeema McCants of Atmore was driving on Martin Luther King Avenue when he witnessed a group of men in a physical altercation and he stopped to intervene, Atmore police spokesperson Darrell McMann said. Around 10:55 a.m., Atmore police were called to Martin Luther King Avenue and Bragg Street after gunshots were reported. They found McCants, who had been shot multiple times. The officers administered first aid to McCants until Medstar Ambulance Paramedics arrived and transported him to Atmore Community Hospital, McMann said. McCants died from his injuries at the hospital. Witnesses gave Atmore police a description of the suspect who shot McCants. Since then, police took Charles Walker, 25, of Atmore, into custody on Saturday afternoon, McMann said. He was found to have a stolen handgun, with an active warrant for his arrest by the Jefferson County Sheriff's Office for property theft. Investigators interviewed Walker and charged him with murder, and he's since been transported to the Escambia County Jail. Investigators are still working to identify the other people involved in Saturday's altercation, McMann said.

Police in South Georgia opened fire on a vehicle carrying a car break-in suspect in a chase over the weekend, officials said Wednesday. Hahira police officers on Sunday were attempting to arrest two minors who were suspected of breaking into several cars in the city, located about 30 miles north of the Florida border, according to the GBI. While one of the suspects was arrested, another ran away and was found near Hall Road and Old U.S. 41 North. The minor was seen getting into a white Dodge Challenger after calling a relative to pick him up, the state agency said. "As the driver of the Dodge Challenger attempted to flee from the area, he drove towards an officer and two civilian witnesses standing nearby before making a U-turn to attempt to escape," the GBI said. "During the encounter, one officer fired multiple shots, hitting the Dodge Challenger." Soon after, an officer blocked the vehicle's path and the driver surrendered without incident. The GBI did not say if the minor in the vehicle was arrested. Sunday's incident was the first officer-involved shooting the state agency has been asked to investigate in 2024.

[1/21/2024] A pageant winner in Georgia has been arrested in connection with the death of an 18-month-old boy, officials said Saturday. Trinity Madison Poague, 18, of Donalsonville, is facing charges of felony murder, aggravated battery, and cruelty to children in the first degree, according to a news release from the GBI. On Jan. 14, Georgia Southwestern State University police asked the GBI to investigate the death of the toddler, who was unresponsive when he was admitted to the emergency room at Phoebe Sumter Hospital in Americus, Georgia. Hospital staff performed life-saving measures, but the child later died. GBI agents arrested Poague after conducting several interviews and examining evidence in the case. She remains in the Sumter County jail without bond, according to online records. Poague was crowned Miss Donalsonville last year and competed in the Miss National Peanut Festival Pageant in Alabama in October, the Donalsonville News reported. No details were provided by the state agency on what led up to the killing, or Poague's relationship to the toddler. The Americus Police Department helped during the investigation.

[2/24/2024] A Greenville man faces criminal charges after sending threatening emails to a judge, the South Carolina Law Enforcement Division announced Friday. David Matthew Zwicker, 36, was charged with threatening the life, person or family of a public official, intimidation of court officials, harassment in the second degree and unlawful communication, officials said. Zwicker sent an email to a judge whose name was redacted. The email contained a threat to inflict bodily harm, saying "I'll rip your face off on Jan. 14, according to affidavits. A police investigation found Zwicker sent nine separate emails between Dec. 30 and Jan. 19 to the public official with no legitimate purpose except to cause a person to "suffer mental or emotional stress," an affidavit read. Zwicker was booked at the Spartanburg Detention Center. The 13th Circuit Solicitor's Office in Greenville County will prosecute the case, SLED said.

[3/4/2024] The Lexington County Sheriff's Department has announced an arrest following a double stabbing at a Bush River Road apartment complex in January. Zedekiah Germaine Coleman, 35, was charged Friday with two counts of attempted murder and one count of possession of a weapon during a violent crime. He was arrested Thursday, according to deputies. "Through interviews with witnesses and victims, detectives have determined this case started with an argument at a Bush River Road apartment complex on January 14," Lexington County Sheriff Jay Koon said. "Coleman was later identified by victims and we obtained warrants for his arrest." On Jan. 14, deputies responded to a 911 call saying that someone had been stabbed in the neck. When they arrived, deputies found a trail of blood leading up to a third floor apartment. There, in the living room, deputies found a male holding a bloody rag to a stab wound in another man's neck. According to the incident report, deputies were told that a man came over and started an argument with an unnamed individual before stabbing one person in the neck and another in the back. He then fled the scene. The two victims were transported to Prisma Health Richland Hospital with serious, life-threatening injuries, according to arrest warrants. In addition to descriptions of the attacker given by witnesses, Columbia Police Department officers who also responded to the scene said some people gave the description of a man named "C" who "constantly" hung around the complex and had started several fires in the area. Coleman was identified using a photo lineup, according to warrants. On Friday, he received a $10,000 surety bond on the charge of possessing a weapon during a violent crime, but his bond was denied on the two

A teen was shot to death early Sunday inside an east Birmingham home. Police identified the victim as Markell Sanders. He was 15. Sgt. LaQuitta Wade said the boy's mothers called 911 at 12:16 a.m. saying her son had been shot. When officers arrived at the house in the 4200 block of 39th Avenue North, they found the teen unresponsive inside the residence. Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service pronounced him dead on the scene. Wade said details are limited. Detectives are interviewing family members to determine what happened. No arrests have been made. Sanders is Birmingham's fifth homicide this year. In all of Jefferson County, there have been seven homicides, including the five in Birmingham.

Montgomery police have launched a homicide investigation after a juvenile male died of a gunshot wound. Capt. Raymond Carson told Action 8 News that officers were called to a hospital at about 2:21PM today. That is where they found the victim, who was pronounced deceased. His name and age have not been released. Carson said that the shooting happened in the 2400 block of Meadow Ridge Road.

Madison police said one person is recovering after being shot Sunday night during an altercation at an apartment complex. Capt. Terrell Cook said the incident happened at 7:15 p.m., at 101 Royal Drive, at the 900 building of The Elements of Madison apartments. Investigators determined that a resident and another person exchanged gunfire in the building, with one bullet striking an uninvolved person. The victim is expected to make a full recovery.

A woman is dead — and a man is behind bars — after an argument turns deadly in Selma. It’s the first murder in the city of Selma in 2024 — as well as the city’s first murder arrest. Selma Police detectives quickly made an arrest in the city’s 1st homicide of the new year. “I want to thank my detectives for doing a wonderful job in bringing this case to a head very quickly,” said Lt. Ray Blanks. Detectives responded to shooting call at the Woodrow East subdivision at around 7:15 Sunday night — and found 38 year old Latoya McCord — dead on the scene. “Started working the case, was able to identify the suspect. The suspect was taken to police headquarters and questioned in reference to the incident,” said Blanks. Twenty-seven year old Quandarius Green of Selma has been arrested and charged with capital murder in the case. Blanks says Green and McCord shared a child together — but were not currently in a relationship. “The investigation revealed that there was some type of altercation that turned into a shooting.” Green is being held in the Perry Co. Correctional Facility — without bond.

Authorities have released the name of a man injured in an exchange of gunfire with police that also wounded a Pleasant Grove officer. The Alabama Law Enforcement Agency Monday identified the man as Joshua A. Slate. He is 38 and lives in Adamsville. Pleasant Grove police responded about 7:30 p.m. Sunday to the 400 block of Fifth Way on a report of someone disturbing the peace, according to ALEA. Police Chief Danny Reid said the man – now identified as Slate – was armed and appeared to have an altered mental status. Shots were fired, injuring Slate and the unidentified officer. Both were taken to UAB Hospital where Slate remains. The extent of his injuries has not yet been released. The officer was treated and discharged from the hospital. ALEA's State Bureau of Investigation is leading the probe. Senior Trooper Brandon Bailey said once the investigation is complete, the findings will be turned over to the Jefferson County Bessemer Cutoff District Attorney's Office.

A man died Monday after being stabbed in downtown Atlanta, authorities said. Atlanta police responded just before 10 a.m. to the 500 block of Marietta Street in northwest Atlanta for a person stabbed. The area is just south of North Avenue and Georgia Tech's campus. When officers arrived, they found the man with a stab wound. The victim, who was not publicly identified, was pronounced dead at the scene. Homicide investigators were called to the scene to determine the circumstances around the killing. No other information was released.

Gunfire erupted at a home in the Summerhill neighborhood Monday, leaving a man dead and another injured, police said. Officers were called around 10 a.m. to the 20 block of Ormond Street for a person shot. The residence is located near Hank Aaron Drive and just east of I-85. Officers arrived and found the man with a gunshot wound. He was pronounced dead by paramedics at the scene, police said. The other victim was later taken to Grady Memorial Hospital in a private vehicle, though his condition is unknown at this time. Police have not said what led to the shooting or if any arrests have been made. The victims were not publicly identified.

A couple from Augusta, Georgia is dead after a murder-suicide in the parking lot of a gas station in South Carolina, according to the Aiken County Coroner's Office. George Britt, 55, shot his wife, 43-year-old Tiffany Britt, then turned the gun on himself Monday morning, Coroner Darryl Ables said. Just before 11 a.m., officers responded to the Murphy Express gas station at 3757 Richland Avenue West, according to the Aiken Department of Public Safety. That's near a Walmart Supercenter, about a mile from the USC Aiken campus. The officers were responding to a call about a domestic dispute in the parking lot, and as they arrived Tiffany Britt was shot, Ables said. She was taken to an area hospital where she died, according to the coroner. George Britt died at the scene from an apparent self-inflicted gunshot wound, Ables said. Information about the domestic dispute, and a motive for the shooting, was not available, but it continues to be investigated by the Department of Public Safety and coroner's office as well as the South Carolina Law Enforcement Division. Autopsies have been scheduled for Wednesday in Newberry, according to Ables.

A 15-year-old girl was killed and a 9-year-old boy injured in a shooting Monday on a south Alabama interstate. Mobile County Sheriff Paul Burch told AL.com Monday the shooter's intended targeted was inside the same car as the girl who was shot and killed around 3 p.m. on Interstate 165 north of the Bay Branch Road exit near Prichard. The child is recovering at a hospital and is in stable condition, Burch said. "There is a 15-year-old who lost her life, and a 9-year-old who was shot and neither were the intended targets," Burch said. "This was a rolling gun battle down the interstate. The intended target in the vehicle is at least known to the person who was shooting." The shooter has not been arrested, and authorities had I-165 shut down Monday evening. Burch said he was unsure on whether the shooting was gang related. "They know one another," he said. "We don't know what their affiliations are." Burch was also unsure if the intended target was driving or was a passenger inside the vehicle, saying there were "multiple people inside the car that was shot."

Two Selma men have been arrested in a highway shooting that left a Prattville man recovering from injuries. Millbrook police say the shooting happened at around 3PM Monday. Officers were called to the 3100 block of Highway 14 after getting reports of shots being fired in that area around the highway and Old Prattville Road. Police say they found two vehicles that had been hit by gunfire several times. A person in one of the vehicles, a 22-year-old man from Prattville, had been hit by the gunfire and was taken to a hospital with what police say appear to be non-life threatening injuries. Witnesses provided a description of the suspects' vehicle, and Prattville police found it and stopped it at Highway 14 and Interstate 65. Millbrook police arrested two suspects, 24-year-old Korde' z Ervin and 22-year-old Latrell White, both of Selma, charging each of them with two counts of firing a gun into an occupied vehicle. They are both being held without bond in the Elmore County Jail. Millbrook police say investigators discovered that the suspect vehicle had been observed in the area of several businesses in the area of Fairview Avenue and Old Farm Lane prior to being pulled over by Prattville police. They say a search of the area revealed several weapons had been discarded in a trash dumpster, which were impounded as potential evidence in this case.

Police have charged a suspect with murder after two women were fatally shot Monday in a townhouse community in Apex. The women were shot around 3 p.m. on the 1400 block of Chipping Drive. The area is less than a mile from Apex Elementary School. Both women were taken to the hospital with serious injuries and later died. Police said more gunfire was heard on the 1600 block of Brussels Drive, which intersects with Chipping Drive. Harry Bates Hardman, 37, who lives on that street, was soon arrested and charged with two counts of murder. Police also found a dog shot to death in the neighborhood. Hardman is also charged with one count of animal cruelty. Neighbor Tom McKay, a Lee County deputy, was home and watched police take Hardman into custody, reported ABC11, The News & Observer's news gathering partner. "To see it like, off duty, is just kind of a completely different perspective," McKay said. "I'm just going to keep saying, 'It's Apex, I would have never have thought, you know?' But you never know." "This is a sad day for our town," Apex Mayor Jacques Gilbert said in a statement, media outlets reported. "Anytime there is a tragedy, we hurt as a community. We will continue to pray for all involved,"

The City of Atlanta is presenting a new timeline for the Public Safety Training Center as Atlanta Police expands their efforts to catch alleged arson suspects who are opposed to the construction of the center. According to the police, there were multiple arsons reported last year. On Tuesday, Jan. 16, in DeKalb County, opponents of the training center – who call it “Cop City” – allegedly set another fire, this time targeting construction equipment, as wind chill temperatures dropped into the single digits. In a Wednesday news conference, Atlanta Police Chief Darin Schierbaum stated that the most recent arson involved construction equipment used for building the public safety training center. Last month, police announced a reward of up to $200,000 to catch the alleged suspects with $20,000 for each arson fire. “There is a very small group of ‘anarchists’ that want to impact the safety of Atlanta,” said Atlanta Police Chief Darin Schierbaum. “They are trying to undermine our ability to protect every citizen in Atlanta.” Those opposed to the training center have protested and organized against it for nearly two years, under a loose constellation of groups under the banners of “Stop Cop City” and “Defend the Atlanta Forest.” A RICO indictment brought by Georgia Attorney General Chris Carr has charged over 60 people for their involvement with the “Defend the Atlanta Forest” movement, though what level of organization — if any — that might exist between various factions of activists under this umbrella is not clear. The protest movement mushroomed following the Jan. 2021 law enforcement shooting death of Manuel Teran, known as Tortuguita, during a clearing operation of the forest encampments where protesters first started opposing the training center's construction.

A Fulton County man is behind bars after allegedly fatally hitting a pedestrian while driving drunk and then fleeing the scene last week, according to warrants obtained from the Magistrate Court of Fulton County. Warrants show that on the night of Jan. 16, Carl Gilmore, 50, was driving a 2021 Dodge Challenger on Campbellton Road when he improperly changed lanes and struck a 2020 Kia Optima. Gilmore continued driving at a high speed onto Venetian Drive, lost control of his vehicle, and struck a pedestrian, Corey Jarrells, in the road. Jarrells was pronounced dead at the scene, according to the warrants. Family members said the 45-year-old was walking from a friend's home when he was killed. Authorities said Gilmore continued driving and then hit a utility pole and fence, flipping the car onto its side. He attempted to run away from the scene and was arrested by Atlanta Police shortly after, the warrants indicated. He was transported to the hospital with injuries to both of his hands. Officers reportedly smelled alcohol on Gilmore's breath while at the hospital, according to warrants. Records show Gilmore was booked into the Fulton County Jail on Jan. 18. He faces several charges, including homicide by vehicle, driving under the influence, hit and run, and reckless driving.

[1/25/2024] Two people have been arrested in a child abuse case in Pike County. Brundidge Police Chief Sam Green tells Action 8 News that 24-year-old Mykhail Lane and an underage suspect were arrested as a result of an ongoing investigation. Details regarding the incident were not made available, but court records say the incident occurred on January 16. The victim is said to be under the age of 6. While Chief Green did not release any information regarding the child, he did say the child is doing better and in safe hands now. The Pike County District Attorney's Office, the Pike County Sheriff's Department and the Pike County Department of Human Resources assisted in the investigation.

[1/24/2024] A Douglasville mother was arrested and charged with murder in the death of her 3-year-old child from "exposure to the elements," according to the sheriff's office. Douglas County Sheriff's Office deputies said that Uriha Ridge was found in the woods with her two small children far from Fox Hall Resort, a hotel she had been staying at last Tuesday. Deputies said the children were "soaking wet" and the temperatures had been below freezing throughout the entire night. Ridge and her two children were rushed to the hospital, where her 3-year-old died from what deputies said was from being outside all night long. The investigation revealed that Ridge had taken drugs before going out to the woods with her children and during the time in the woods, according to deputies. Ridge allegedly left the resort hotel off Capps Ferry Road in Douglasville around midnight on Jan. 16 and did not call for help until 11:51 a.m. the same morning -- nearly a full 12 hours later. Deputies said they believe that the drugs Ridge was on are responsible for her taking her 3-year-old and 7-year-old children into the woods, dressed in thin clothes and staying out in the woods in the rain and sub-freezing temperatures for hours before her toddler died and the young child was hospitalized. Ridge is being held at the Douglas County Jail without bond on the following charges: felony murder, two counts of first-degree cruelty to children, and two counts of second-degree cruelty to children.

Employees at a DeKalb County gas station were shaken early Tuesday after a man viciously beat a store clerk to death with a hammer, authorities said. DeKalb police responded just after midnight to a Chevron station in the 3300 block of Snapfinger Road in reference to an assault. When officers went inside, they came across a chaotic scene: a man standing over the clerk holding a hammer, with blood and debris covering the ground nearby, according to an incident report. Police ordered the suspect, identified as Julian Faulkner, to drop the weapon, which he placed on a nearby table before being detained, the report stated. Officers said they found two knives and an additional hammer on him. During this time, authorities said another store clerk was in the back of the booth hiding, and visibly shaken from the attack. “(He) could hardly speak due to fear,” police said. After composing himself, the witness showed officers surveillance footage, which allegedly captured Faulkner hitting the victim in the head with a hammer several times, the report stated. The victim, who died at the scene, was identified by police as 25-year-old Vivek Saini of Norcross. Police have not released a motive for the brutal beating. Faulkner, of Decatur, was taken to police headquarters for questioning but refused to cooperate, authorities said. He was booked into the DeKalb jail at around 8:30 a.m. on a murder charge, according to online records. An investigation is ongoing.

A woman was killed and another person was injured after a man allegedly shot them following a car accident early Tuesday morning, according to police. DeKalb County Police responded to the 3000 block of Boring Road for a person shot call just around midnight. When they arrived, they found two victims shot. Authorities added one of the victims, who was a woman, died. The suspect was arrested on Wednesday. According to jail records, Jaquarious Newton is facing the charges of malice murder and two counts of aggravated assault. According to redacted warrants, it appears that Newton allegedly chased the victims after being involved in an accident. Newton shot at them, according to the warrants, and one of the victims died from their injuries. 11Alive is still working to learn more about the case.

Two people were shot at locations across the street from each other in DeKalb County on Tuesday morning, according to police. The DeKalb County Police Department said officers were called to Flat Shoals Parkway regarding a shooting around 2 a.m. When they arrived, police said one person had been shot at the Exxon gas station, and another person was shot at the Food Mart. The two stores are located on Flat Shoals Parkway right off I-285. Police said one person was taken to Grady Memorial Hospital but did not provide information on the other victim.

Gwinnett County police said a man was shot by officers after he fired at them early Tuesday morning, according to officials. The man, whose name and age have not been released, is expected to survive, police told The Atlanta Journal-Constitution. The incident unfolded at The Views at Jacks Creek on Country Walk in unincorporated Snellville, authorities said. Police told reporters that a woman called 911 just after 2 a.m. and said she was in an apartment with a man who had a handgun and had threatened to take his life. Before officers arrived, the man walked into the building's parking lot and seemed agitated, authorities said. For nearly 20 minutes, Gwinnett and Snellville officers tried talking to the man in hopes of de-escalating the situation, officials said. "They even made arrangements for the man to speak with a family member over the phone," department spokesperson Sgt. Michele Pihera said. The man refused to remove his hand from his pocket, however, despite repeated orders, she said. Eventually, she said the man drew his gun from his pocket and shot at officers. They returned fire, striking him multiple times. He was rushed to a hospital with injuries that were not life-threatening. No officers were injured, officials said. The police department's internal deadly force investigative team will be handling the investigation. The man will face charges once he is released from the hospital, Pihera confirmed. She did not specify the nature of those charges.

[1/25/2024] Gwinnett County police are looking to identify a man accused of firing several shots at a person at a Stone Mountain gas station last week. On Jan. 16, around 8 p.m., a witness called 911 in reference to a person shooting in the parking lot of the Shell Gas Station located at 5260 Stone Mountain Highway. Officers arrived and spoke to a witness who stated a man got out of a black BMW and then started shooting at a person inside the vehicle. Surveillance video obtained by police from the convenience store shows a person in the backseat getting out to get into the front seat when shots began to ring out.

A man is now in the hospital after a possible road rage shooting at the major exit off I-285 on Wednesday, according to South Fulton Police. It happened on I-285 South at the exit to South Fulton Parkway and Old National Highway where police said around 11:50 a.m. they found a man shot in the thigh. Authorities added the man was expected to be OK. The incident closed the road for hours as police investigated the shooting. According to GDOT cameras, the road appears to be reopened as of 5 p.m. Authorities added that "in a separate, but potentially related incident," a woman said she saw a man point a gun at her car around the same time and location. The woman was not hurt, police said. She told officers she continued driver and contacted the police in College Park leaving the scene. Police are still looking for the suspect who could be behind the shooting. A $2,000 reward is being offered to anyone who can give identifying information or a name.

A man charged with murdering a woman in Georgia was arrested last week in the parking lot of a Publix in Crestview, Fla., according to the Okaloosa County (Fla.) Sheriff's Office. Charles Franklin Cook, 44, of Marietta, Ga., was arrested after investigators from Cobb County, Ga., notified the OCSO that Cook was possibly in the Crestview area. Deputies located Cook in his vehicle in the store parking lot and took him into custody. According to the Cobb County Police Department, Cook is charged with killing 44-year-old Melinda Jolly of Marietta, who was found dead in her home during a welfare check by her brother, Tommy Jolly, on Jan. 17, according to a GoFundMe page set up by Jolly's family. The manner of death has not been released. Cook and Jolly were in a relationship, but not married, according to Aaron Wilson, Public Information Officer for Cobb County police. Jolly was a mother of four who had moved to Georgia from California in 2019 after her husband died from cancer, according to WSB-TV in Atlanta. Her children were put in the care of their aunt and uncle after Jolly's death. Jolly's family described the relationship between her and Cook as "abusive" and called Cook a "monster." Last October, Cook was arrested and charged with two counts of child cruelty after Cobb County police had to break in to a vehicle outside the same home where Jolly was murdered to remove a 4-year-old child who was locked inside a hot vehicle, according to Fox5 in Atlanta. The report described Cook as "the boyfriend of the child's mother," although Jolly was not mentioned by name. Cook was also arrested in Spartanburg, S.C., in July 2021 and charged with assault and battery. The arrest was made by the campus police at the Spartanburg Regional Medical Center, according to court records. The disposition of that case and the child's mother

A Gulf Shores man has been charged with raping a woman in Orange Beach earlier this month, the Orange Beach Police Department announced Monday. Police received a report of a sexual assault from an adult female on Jan. 17. The incident was reported in the 24000 block of Gulf Bay Road in Orange Beach. Information from the victim and with assistance from other law enforcement agencies, 31-year-old Christopher Russihi Strachan became the primary suspect. Strachan was taken into custody last Friday and charged with 1st-degree rape. He is being held in the Baldwin County Jail without bond pending an initial court hearing. The jail docket also indicates there is an immigration hold on Strachan, who is believed to be from Jamaica, although further information on Strachan's immigration status was not immediately available.

Dunwoody police are investigating the deaths of a man and woman, both 24, in an apparent murder-suicide after the woman's mother requested officers conduct a wellness check. The investigation began just before 9:30 a.m. Wednesday when officers responded to the Dunwoody Gables apartment complex on Peachford Road, Dunwoody police spokesman Sgt. Michael Cheek said. At the apartment, officers found the woman dead from a single gunshot wound. Investigators quickly identified a suspect and his car, Cheek said. License plate readers alerted police that the car entered Wade-Walker Park in Stone Mountain around 6:30 a.m. Thursday, where it stayed. Detectives responded to the park and found the 24-year-old man dead from a self-inflicted gunshot wound, according to Cheek. DeKalb police also responded to the scene and opened their own death investigation, Cheek said.

A 15-year-old boy has been arrested after allegedly firing shots at an off-duty officer who tried to interrupt an apparent car break-in Wednesday afternoon in DeKalb County, officials said. DeKalb police said they got a call around 1:30 p.m. about shots being fired in the Brayden Park subdivision on Shoals Park Drive near the Flat Shoals Library. When officers arrived, they spoke with an off-duty officer from another jurisdiction who told them he was leaving his neighborhood when he saw two people attempting to break into vehicles. He tried to talk to the individuals, police said, and that is when they both fired multiple shots at him as they ran away. No one was struck by the gunfire. It's not clear if any property was damaged. At some point, police found one of the suspects. The teenager faces multiple charges, including aggravated assault, officials said. He was booked into the Regional Youth Detention Center. The second suspect remains at large.

Foley police have arrested a man in the case of a woman stabbed Wednesday in the city's central Heritage Park. According to information provided by the city, 40-year-old Bernard Christopher Abney was arrested late Saturday. Jail records indicate that Abney was booked into Mobile County Metro Jail on a first-degree charge of attempted rape. He may also be facing a charge of failing to comply with the Sex Offender Registration Notification Act. "We are relieved that he is in custody and appreciate all the hard work by the many agencies involved as well as the media and citizens of our local communities," Foley Police Chief Thurston Bullock said. The incident took place late Wednesday afternoon on the Wilbourne Antique Rose Trail, a landscaped path that parallels Alabama 59, running a block to the east of the heavily traveled main artery. According to previous reports, police were notified about 5:40 p.m. that a woman had run into a business, saying she had been attacked. Officers found she had stab wounds to her arm, torso and thigh. She was taken to USA Health University Hospital in Mobile for treatment of non-life-threatening wounds and later was reportedly recovering at home. Police identified Abney as an armed and dangerous suspect. He was identified as being from Mobile; information released Sunday said he was believed to be homeless, and he was listed as such in jail records. On Sunday, Foley Mayor Ralph Hellmich praised police and the community for their response. "I am, however, disappointed in our state system for allowing an early release of a person who has not been rehabilitated into society," he said. Abney was, in fact, among 369 inmates released on Jan. 31, 2023. As with most of them, his sentence was near its end: According to the Alabama Department of Corrections, he was eligible for release in

An investigation is underway after a shooting at an east Jefferson County bingo hall. The shooting happened about 7:15 p.m. Wednesday at the establishment in the 2500 block of Pinson Valley Parkway. Few details were available, but Jefferson County sheriff's Lt. Joni said it appears the shooting happened inside the building. The male victim was taken to the hospital with serious injuries. No arrests have yet been announced.

A man was killed in a shooting in northwest Atlanta on Wednesday night, according to authorities. Atlanta police got the call about a person shot in the 500 block of James P Brawley Drive around 8:45 p.m. It's a residential area a few blocks from the Trap House Museum near the Bankhead neighborhood. Responding officers found the man with a gunshot wound in critical condition. They attempted to render aid, but the victim, whose name has not been released, did not survive. He was pronounced dead at the scene by paramedics. Police have not said what may have led up to the shooting or if there are any suspects.

~~An armed man shot and killed himself late Wednesday after~~ barricading himself in a restroom for more than two hours at a medical office building adjacent to the emergency room of Middle Georgia's largest hospital, law enforcement officials said. The emergency room next door was evacuated and for a while ambulances were diverted to other hospitals. At a 1 a.m. news conference, Bibb County Sheriff David Davis said the man, said to be in his late 40s and armed with a pistol, showed up at an open building that adjoins Atrium Health Navicent The Medical Center in downtown Macon shortly after 9 p.m. Wednesday. "He was making comments, saying that he needed some help and that nobody was helping him," Davis said. "He made his way into a bathroom, a restroom, down a hallway just adjacent to the emergency room ... where he fired a couple of rounds through the door in the restroom," Davis said. Hospital police alerted sheriff's deputies, SWAT officers among them, who rushed to the scene. The sheriff said deputies tried to begin a conversation with the man. "He really didn't want to talk much," Davis said. "Even when we were setting up to talk he fired off a couple of rounds." Davis said the man at one point asked to speak to him as well as some deputies the man apparently knew from having recently spent time in the county jail a few blocks away. The sheriff said he spoke to the man as did one of the deputies the man knew, "trying to get him to come out and get some help. But eventually he was making some gestures with the firearm." Deputies had slipped a camera and a phone into the restroom to communicate with the man but he never used the phone. He fired a shot at the camera. "At some point it was determined that he was becoming a little bit of a danger to himself and the public," Davis said.

The Wake County Sheriff's Office is investigating after a man was found shot to death in a car crash Thursday night. Deputies were called around 9 p.m. to help firefighters and Emergency Medical Services personnel with a car crash on Zebulon Road near Barham Siding Road. A man was inside a vehicle that had been heading toward Zebulon on Zebulon Road. Witnesses said the vehicle ran off the road, hit an embankment, flipped upside down in the road, according to a news release. Deputies found the man suffering from an apparent gunshot wound. He was pronounced dead at the scene. The Sheriff's Office did not provide the man's name or any other details. The release did not say whether this is a homicide investigation.

A woman accused of killing a man in Clayton County hid in her home for hours before she was found in the attic Friday morning, according to police. Officers attempted to get Oni Layell Hart, 25, to surrender before entering her home in the 1700 block of Fielding Way in Hampton. She was taken into custody by the SWAT team, according to Officer H. Helm, spokeswoman for Clayton County police. Investigators said the incident started Thursday night when a man was shot at the Redwood Ridge Apartments on Morrow Road in Forest Park. When officers arrived shortly after 9 p.m., 47-year-old Andre Farrier was going in and out of consciousness, police said. He was taken to a hospital, where he died from his injuries. The preliminary investigation revealed that Farrier had been involved in a disagreement with a woman who was seen leaving the property immediately after the shooting, Helm said in a news release. Detectives identified Hart as first a person of interest and then a suspect, police said. Clayton officers, accompanied by Lovejoy officers, went to Hart's home, but she refused to surrender. She was found Friday morning in the attic. Hart was arrested and charged with felony murder, aggravated assault, prostitution, possession of a firearm during the commission of a crime and obstruction, police said. She was booked into the Clayton jail, where she was being held Friday afternoon.

For the second time in less than a week, a child has been shot while riding in a vehicle in the Mobile area. Mobile police said Friday the incident happened on Cottage Hill Road near Wildwood Drive. Officers responded to the scene about 6:40 p.m. Thursday after being called to Springhill Medical Center for two gunshot victims. Initial investigation determined the two victims -- a 34-year-old man and 8-year-old child -- were shot while riding in a vehicle on Cottage Hill. Unknown subjects fired multiple shots from an unknown vehicle into the victims' vehicle. The two victims arrived at the hospital via personal vehicle and were treated for what police described as non-life-threatening injuries. Thursday's incident comes just three days after a 15-year-old girl and 9-year-old boy were both shot while riding in a vehicle on Interstate 165. The girl died in the shooting, while the 9-year-old remained hospitalized in stable condition as of Thursday afternoon. This was the second time the 9-year-old had been shot. The person police believe was the intended target in that shooting, 18-year-old T' Marvin Ladryl Jones, was arrested Wednesday and charged with reckless endangerment and tampering with physical evidence. Police say he has refused to cooperate with investigators. As of Friday morning, he remained in Mobile Metro Jail under total bond of $20,000. Mobile County Sheriff Paul Burch said he believes the I-165 shooting is gang-related.

A woman and her adult daughter were arrested on multiple charges after illegally taking a 2-year-old girl from a South Carolina home, the Columbia Police Department said. The women were taken into custody following a traffic stop on I-85 in Georgia, police said Saturday. They were supposedly taking the toddler to their home in Texas. The 2-year-old was found in good health and not physically harmed. The same was not true of her grandparents, who were assaulted when the women broke into their home and took the toddler on Friday. Tiffany Alexander, 41, and Janiyah Williams, 23, each were charged with custodial interference, first-degree burglary and first-degree assault, police said. Alexander and Williams forced their way inside a home in the 1800 block of Hatfield Street and assaulted two residents before removing the 2-year-old girl, according to police. Alexander is the biological mother of the 2-year-old and does not have custody of her daughter. The victims are the grandparents of the child who were taking care of her. They told officers that Alexander and Williams assaulted them with multiple items — including a baseball bat and pepper spray — to take the child. Police said both grandparents received medical treatment for their injuries. At about 6:30 p.m., officers responded to the Hatfield Street home where the grandparents told them about the assault and the removal of the child, and described the vehicle that Alexander and Williams were in when they left with the 2-year-old, police said. Alexander and Williams were taken to a Georgia jail and are awaiting extradition to Columbia, police said. The 2-year-old was temporarily in the care of the Georgia Department of Family and Children Services before being returned home to Columbia where she is “safe and sound,” police said.

The Chatham County Sheriff's Office has charged an 18-year-old Burlington man with assault on a school employee and disorderly conduct. Jamari Amir Jones is accused of knocking Jordan-Matthews High School Principal April Burko to the ground during the school's varsity basketball game against Hugh M. Cummings High School on Friday night, according to a news release from the Sheriff's Office. "An altercation involving a group of Cummings fans broke out for reasons yet to be determined," the release stated. "Burko stepped in and was knocked to the ground by Jones." Sheriff Mike Roberson said more charges might be pressed in the incident, which led to the game being canceled. "Our priority is the safety of everyone involved, and we will take necessary actions to ensure those responsible are held accountable," he said. "Principal April Burko demonstrated notable courage in attempting to [defuse] a volatile situation. Her commitment to safety is commendable, and we wish her a swift recovery." "Chatham County Schools is committed to ensuring that our schools are safe for our students, staff, and those who visit and attend school functions," said Chatham County Schools Superintendent Dr. Anthony D. Jackson in the release. "We will not tolerate disruptive or unacceptable behavior by any person attending school sponsored events. We will work with local law enforcement officials to hold any person who disrupts a school activity or event accountable for their behavior, and we will assist with ensuring that they are prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law." Burko has been principal at Jordan-Matthews since June 2022 and previously was the principal of Culbreth Middle School in the Chapel Hill-Carrboro City Schools.

A Prattville woman was shot and killed Friday afternoon in Montgomery, police said. Montgomery police and fire medics responded near West Boulevard and Ashley Road around 1 p.m. Friday on a report of a person shot, said Maj. Saba Coleman. At the scene, authorities found 54-year-old Stephanie Harbison of Prattville with a gunshot wound. Harbison was pronounced dead at the scene, Coleman said.

A male believed to be in his teens was critically wounded when someone opened fire on him Friday afternoon. The gunfire erupted about 1:30 p.m. near the intersection of 31st Street and Park Lawn Avenue in southwest Birmingham's Jones Valley community. Officer Truman Fitzgerald said between 15 to 20 shots were fired at the victim as he was walking along the road. Someone pulled up in a vehicle and unleashed the bullets. When police arrived, they found the victim just feet off Park Lawn Avenue. He was barely conscious and unable to provide officers with any information. The victim was rushed to the hospital with life-threatening injuries. The shooting happened near Jones Valley K-8, but Birmingham schools were not in session this week, so the school was not impacted. "It just shows you how bold the suspect was," Fitzgerald said. "It's another incident where we have to invest in Connect Birmingham" which is a new program that would allow police access to residents' home security cameras. "You have a large residential area," Fitzgerald said. "It would be a game changer." Fitzgerald said the victim could be as young as 15. Police were still trying to confirm his age. "It's horrible," he said. "We just lost a 15-year-old not a week ago." "We have to keep our kids safe," he said. "Violence does not discriminate." "The juvenile has a fighting chance right now, and we're thankful for that," he said.

A Sumter man has been charged with attempted murder following a shooting Friday afternoon, according to the Sumter County Sheriff's Office. Deputies responded to the Cherryvale area of the county, after a 911 call reported that a person had been shot several times just before 1:30 p.m., the sheriff's said. Some administered aid to the victim, and others set up a perimeter near Holly Road. After a search of the area, deputies found and arrested the suspect, Daquan Jamel Cure, 22. The victim, whose name was not released, was taken to the hospital. His current condition is unknown. The sheriff's office did not say what might have led to the shooting or say whether Cure and the victim knew each other. "These life-altering incidents don't happen in a vacuum," Sheriff Anthony Dennis said in a statement. "When illegal guns and drugs are combined there is never a good outcome." Cure was transported to the sheriff's office with pending warrants. He was booked into the detention center and is awaiting a bond hearing.

A man was arrested Saturday after fleeing the scene of a fatal shooting at a motel in Gainesville, police said. Corey Maurice Rucker, 47, was taken into custody around 4 a.m. at a motel in DeKalb County as part of a multi-agency collaboration. He is facing charges of felony murder, aggravated assault, possession of a firearm by a convicted felon, possession of a firearm during the commission of a crime and motor vehicle theft. About 13 hours prior to his arrest, Gainesville police were called to a Motel 6 on Monroe Drive regarding a shooting. The victim, who was identified as 34-year-old Destyn Rashad Alexander of Braselton, was found with a gunshot wound to the chest around 2:30 p.m., authorities said. He was taken to Northeast Georgia Medical Center, where he eventually died. Officials said information uncovered during the investigation quickly led officers to believe Rucker was responsible in the death. The victim and suspect were familiar with each other, but police did not elaborate on their relationship. “Our thoughts and prayers are with the family of Mr. Alexander, and it is our hope that this arrest will help bring them a sense of closure as they mourn the loss of their loved one,” Chief Jay Parrish said in a statement.

A 79-year-old woman was killed and her granddaughter was charged with murder, the Richland County Sheriff’s Department said Monday. Aneia Anderson, 20, was arrested last Friday. At about 4 p.m. on Jan. 19, deputies responded report of a domestic incident at a home in 1100 block of Dunnagon Street, according to the release. That’s in Columbia, in the area between Exit 104 on Interstate 26 and Broad River Road. At the scene, deputies spoke with Anderson, who said she got into an altercation with her 79-year-old grandmother. When deputies entered the home they found the 79-year-old victim unresponsive on the floor. The victim was taken to a local hospital where she died, the sheriff’s department said. Investigators determined Anderson strangled the victim, according to the sheriff’s department. Anderson was taken to Alvin S. Glenn Detention Center, and she remains behind bars as no bond has been set, jail records show.

The Kershaw County Sheriff's Office arrested a man after a three-hour standoff that ended in a residence catching fire, the office announced. The sheriff's office arrested Walter Deonte Halley, 31. Halley was already "wanted" by law enforcement for allegedly shooting someone in the leg on Jan. 3, officials said. Deputies responded to a report of "shots fired" in Lugoff around 5:30 p.m. Friday, the sheriff's office said. No one was injured. However, the person who spoke with deputies when they arrived said that a man had fired a gun at him and barricaded himself in a home on the 1400 block of Horsehead Lane. Then the sheriff's special response team and Camden Police Department negotiators responded to the scene. The suspect, officials said, was "very hesitant" to come out of the house and "began threatening suicide." Halley stepped out of the back door of the house, and the sheriff's special response team attempted to apprehend him with a "less lethal" beanbag shot and a K-9 unit. A beanbag shot is a shotgun shell loaded with a cloth bag, often containing a lead shot, according to police experts. Halley made it back inside, and the special response team began throwing gas through the windows of the house. The house then caught fire, the sheriff's office said, and team members entered to rescue the man. The Pine Grove Fire Department, the Lugoff Fire Department and Kershaw County EMS responded to the scene. Halley received medical aid before he was taken to the Kershaw County Detention Center.

A pedestrian was killed in a weekend hit-and-run crash in Montgomery. Police on Monday identified the fatality victim as Keith Randle. He was 46 and lived in Montgomery. The wreck happened at 10:22 p.m. Friday in the 1100 block of West South Boulevard. Randle was pronounced dead on the scene. The driver fled before first responders arrived. No arrests have been announced.

A man and his female companion robbed a Chunchula home, then fired at the homeowner who tried to follow them — all with the male suspect's two young children in the backseat, according to the Mobile County Sheriff's Office. Deputies were called to a residence on Catherine Street in Chunchula, an unincorporated community northwest of Mobile, Saturday afternoon on a report of a burglary and shots being fired into an occupied vehicle. The homeowner told deputies she had pulled into her driveway and saw a gray SUV with a male driver and female passenger loading things from the homeowner's residence into the SUV. Once they spotted the homeowner, the suspects fled in the vehicle. The homeowner attempted to follow the suspects, but stopped after the suspects fired at her, the sheriff's office said. Deputies later located the suspects' SUV at a Chevron Station on Lott Road. The male suspect spotted the deputies, running inside the convenience store and attempting to escape through the back, but was apprehended by deputies. The female suspect was taken into custody as she exited the store returning to the vehicle. In the back seat of the suspect's vehicle, deputies found the two children — ages 1 and 2 — along with drugs, guns and cash inside the car. The two suspects have been identified as 22-year-old Brendon Blade Daniels, the children's father, and 23-year-old Amber Nicole Chaney. Daniels is charged with three counts of receiving stolen property, resisting arrest, attempt to elude, no driver's license, resisting arrest, attempting to elude, burglary, reckless endangerment, possession of a controlled substance, possession of drug paraphernalia, and discharging a gun into an occupied vehicle. Chaney is charged with

Three men have been arrested in an early-morning shooting that killed one person and injured several others at a Tuscaloosa County home. Dallas Eugene Clark, 22, of Northport, Zachary Tyler Smith, 23, of Buhl, and Jarret Tyler Booth, 21, also of Buhl, are charged with one count of murder and three counts of attempted murder. Tuscaloosa Violent Crimes Unit officials identified the slain victim as 20-year-old Cayden Nolen. Sheriff's deputies responded at 3 a.m. Saturday to the 11000 block of Pate Road in the Buhl community on a report of a shooting. VCU Capt. Jack Kennedy said four people were wounded by gunfire. Deputies attempted life-saving measures on Nolen but were unsuccessful. He was pronounced dead on the scene. Two other victims were hospitalized with critical wounds but are currently stable. A fourth victim sustained non-life-threatening injuries. Kennedy said the investigation shows the gunfire stemmed from an altercation. All three suspects were identified, and then located in separate locations throughout Tuscaloosa County. Investigators interviewed witnesses and the suspects and carried out multiple search warrants on Saturday. The Tuscaloosa County District Attorney's Office issued the warrants Saturday afternoon. Kennedy said multiple other charges are pending. Clark, Smith, and Booth are being held without bond in the Tuscaloosa County jail.

Durham police charged a man with first-degree murder after the death of a woman on N.C. 55 on Saturday afternoon. Patrick Whitaker Jr., 56, of Durham was also charged with stealing a motor vehicle, a felony, and misdemeanor larceny. He is being held in the Durham County Jail without bail. Police accused Whitaker of killing Jennifer Moore, 45, of Durham. They have not released any details including if Whitaker and Moore knew each other. Prior to charging Whitaker, police described the incident as "isolated." Officers were called to the 5300 block of N.C. 55 around 2:30 on a frigid Saturday afternoon, according to a news release. The stretch of highway, near Sedwick Road, is lined with offices and self-storage buildings. The investigation focused on the SecurCare Self Storage on N.C. 55, according to ABC11.

A 13-year-old boy has been charged in the fatal shooting of his cousin inside an east Birmingham home. He is charged with murder in the Jan. 14 slaying of 15-year-old Markell Sanders. Police said Markell's mother called 911 at 12:16 a.m. that Sunday saying her son had been shot. When officers arrived at the house in the 4200 block of 39th Avenue North, they found the teen unresponsive inside the residence. Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service pronounced him dead on the scene. Few details have been released and efforts to reach Markell's family for comment have been unsuccessful. Officer Truman Fitzgerald said Birmingham police detectives presented the case to Jefferson County District Attorney's Office personnel assigned to Family Court. The murder warrant was then issued. A family member of the suspect turned him in to the custody of the Jefferson County Youth Detention Center. "One kid's life is lost and the other one's life is forever changed, both before the age of 16," Fitzgerald said. "Juvenile violence is an epidemic in our city that needs the community's full attention."

Two suspects have been arrested and charged in a fatal shooting Sunday morning at a Tuscaloosa hookah lounge. According to information released Sunday afternoon, Tuscaloosa police officers responded to reports of a shooting at the Cru Lounge, 6571 Ala. 69 S., at about 1 a.m. “One victim was found shot and both TPD and TCSO responding personnel attempted life saving measures, including CPR, but the subject did not survive,” said a statement attributed to Capt. Jack Kennedy, of the Tuscaloosa County Sheriff’s Office Violent Crimes Unit. The victim was identified Sunday afternoon as Rashid Little, 28. The Violent Crimes Unit investigation involved numerous witnesses as well as “multiple video sources.” “The shooter was found to be a contract security guard at the business, who had fled the scene,” said the statement issued Sunday. “The suspect and the victim had been in an altercation at the lounge just prior to the shooting. The victim was unarmed. The suspect had fled the scene, but was located later this morning, along with a female acquaintance who had been at the lounge with him.” Arron Dewayne Hill, 35, has been charged with murder. Thyais Walker, 47, has been charged with illegally possessing a pistol. The lounge is part of an Atlanta-based chain known for food and beverage as well as hookah service. It also has locations in Huntsville and Birmingham. The Tuscaloosa location opened in 2023.

For the third time since the end of November, a group of teenagers has been arrested after law enforcement said they broke into the same property belonging to the Richland County Sheriff's Department. On Sunday, five teenagers were arrested following a burglary at the sheriff's department gym in the Richland Mall, Sheriff Leon Lott said in a news release. At about 2 a.m., deputies responded to the mall's R1 CrossFit Gym at 3400 Forest Drive when a burglary alarm was activated, according to the release. The deputies saw the teens walking down North Beltline Boulevard and detained them, the sheriff's department said. The teens admitted to smashing a window to break into the gym, according to the release. Three juveniles — a 17-year-old girl and two 16-year-old boys — each were charged with second-degree burglary and malicious injury to personal property, the sheriff's department said. The minors names were not made public because of their ages. A pair of 18-year-olds, Bryson Rhoads and Abigail Davis, also were each charged with second-degree burglary and malicious injury to personal property in addition to a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor, according to the release. All five teens were taken to the Alvin S. Glenn Detention Center, the sheriff's department said. The gym has been the site of three other recent burglaries.

[2/14/2024] A UNC-Chapel Hill student involved in a fatal crash near Meadowmont last month faces a dozen criminal charges, including driving while impaired, felony death by vehicle and involuntary manslaughter. Police say underage drinking was a factor in the crash that killed another UNC student on Sunday, Jan. 21. A third UNC student, whose role in the incident is unclear, has also been charged, police announced Wednesday. Flemeija Beatrice Brewer, 20, was driving east on N.C. 54 near East Barbee Chapel Road when she lost control and drove into a wooded area, according to police. They said Brewer was speeding and under the influence of alcohol when the crash took place about 2:23 a.m. A passenger, Mary Elizabeth Rotunda, 20, was killed. Brewer and another passenger, 21-year-old Brianna Tiera Pinson, were treated for injuries that were not life threatening. All three women were from Greensboro. Investigators estimate Brewer was going more than 120 mph before she ran off the right side of the road and hit a street sign. The car then hit several small trees and started to roll before coming to rest on its roof in the grass between N.C. 54 and Stancill Drive. The speed limit on that stretch of N.C. 54 is 45 mph. Brewer was not old enough to legally buy alcohol, and several of the charges she faces are related to drinking and driving as an underage person, including using a fraudulent ID to buy alcohol. Pinson, who was old enough to buy alcohol, has been charged with helping someone under 21 consume alcohol. Brewer was released after posting a $75,000 bond and is scheduled to make her first appearance in court on Feb. 19. During their investigation, police decided to charge the driver of another vehicle. Zachary O'Brien Rice, 20, of Lynchburg, Virginia, was charged with speeding, consuming alcohol while under the age of 21 and driving after drinking.

A search is underway for a killer after a man was shot multiple times, the Richland County Sheriff's Department said. The shooting happened late Sunday night, according to the sheriff's department. At about 10:55 p.m., deputies responded to a report of a shooting in the 200 block of Pond Ridge Road East, the sheriff's department said. That's in Columbia, in the area between the intersection of Two Notch Road and North Brickyard Road and the Village at Sandhill shopping center. At the scene, deputies found the man lying in the road. It appeared that the man had been shot several times in his legs, arms and head, the sheriff's department said. EMS took the man to an area hospital where he died. A witness said they saw a dark-colored SUV leave the neighborhood at the time of the shooting, the sheriff's department said. Deputies found several fired bullet shells in the road, as well as several bullet holes in the side of a home on Pond Ridge Road East. There was no word on a shooter, or shooters, or a motive for the gunfire. No arrests have been reported by the sheriff's department, which continues to investigate.

A man was shot by Bibb County deputies Monday morning after opening fire during a traffic stop for a suspected stolen vehicle, authorities said. The shooting occurred just after 11 a.m. in the 800 block of West Grenada Terrace in Macon, about 90 miles southeast of downtown Atlanta, according to the Bibb sheriff's office, which has asked the GBI to investigate. A deputy pulled over the vehicle after it was flagged as stolen by Flock cameras. During the stop, those inside got out and tried to run away. "Deputies attempted to make contact with the occupants when one subject fired upon deputies," the sheriff's office said. "Deputies returned fire and struck the armed subject." Deputies applied a tourniquet to the suspect, who was treated by paramedics at the scene and taken to a hospital. His condition was said to be stable, according to authorities. At the scene, Sheriff David Davis told the Macon Telegraph that three suspects were taken in for questioning. "They were younger individuals," he said. "One of the occupants ran to one of the apartments just behind where the vehicle stop happened. And there were some individuals in that particular apartment that have been taken in for questioning. There have not been any charges brought in that regard to those individuals at this time, but they are being questioned as to what's going on." The Bibb County sheriff's Internal Affairs Office will also conduct an investigation into the shooting

A police search for an alleged bank robbery suspect has prompted a heavy law enforcement presence and a soft lockdown at a nearby elementary school in Roswell. The search is happening in neighborhoods just off Old Mountain Park Road and the City of Mountain Park. Roswell Police posted a public safety alert in a Facebook post. Police have identified the man as 27-year-old James Raborn. Law enforcement described Raborn as a man with blonde shaggy hair. They added that he is wearing a gray hooded sweatshirt and blue jeans. Mountain Park Elementary School has also entered a soft lockdown until further notice. The school's principal issued the following statement below: "We were alerted that police activity was occurring in the vicinity in the form of a high-speed chase. Out of an abundance of caution, we are moving into a Soft Lockdown until the activity has ended. Officer Ray has been in contact with Roswell PD and will be on scene until the activity has ended. In a soft lockdown, the identified threat is outside of our school building. We continue teaching and learning as normal inside the school. We do not go outside for recess and we limit movement in the hallways. Teachers are on alert in case we need to move to a hard lockdown. We only move to hard lockdown if the identified threat is inside of our building. At this time, there is no identified threat inside our school building. Students may be checked out, but we will stagger entry into the building to ensure we can safely move into a hard lockdown if needed. Authorities added they pursued the suspect on Tuesday, who they believed was involved in a bank robbery on Monday at the Truist Bank on 8390 Holcomb Bridge Road around 3:30 p.m. Police then said he ran from his vehicle in the area. Police are asking residents

Police in the town of Smithfield are searching for a suspect in a slaying Monday evening. He is considered armed and dangerous, police say. Markyse Najjae McCain, 20, is wanted as a suspect behind a fatal altercation that left one person dead in Smithfield. Several locally-owned businesses along a stretch of Lawrenceville Highway near Interstate 285 said they're fed up following a number of break-ins that resulted in hefty repair bills. On Tuesday, Pea Ridge Kitchen and Bar posted on its restaurant's Facebook page, "Pea Ridge Kitchen and Bar will have a slight delay in opening today. We had some unexpected issues overnight and now we need to replace our door." The problem with the door? It was shattered, which Aaron Zarczynski, who owns Pea Ridge, said was done by someone trying to get cash. "It's super frustrating because you know we don't have deep pockets," Zarczynski said. The burglar was probably just as frustrated because Zarczynski said they don't keep their money inside the restaurant overnight. However, while they didn't lose money from the burglary, he said the break-in would hit them when it came to their bottom line. "Just to replace that door is like $1,500 bucks," Zarczynski said. The break-in forced him to stay closed half the day so they could clean up the mess. Pea Ridge wasn't the only business to be targeted overnight on Tuesday. Across the parking lot, the owner of Southern Seafood said someone shattered his glass door and swiped his cash register. They spent the morning replacing the door and then had to run out and buy a new cash register to track their sales. On Tuesday afternoon, both business owners mentioned several businesses nearby have also been hit in recent weeks. They said it appeared the target was, again, quick smash and grabs looking for cash.

Chris Kinney proudly displays the Team USA logo wherever he goes. The memorabilia earned by the metro Atlanta Olympic athlete over the years serves as a reminder of everything he's accomplished, he says. "They are attached to the memories I made at the Olympic Games," the bobsledder told The Atlanta Journal-Constitution on Thursday morning. "My head is kind of spinning at the moment." Kinney, 35, said his Olympic memorabilia, electronics and heirlooms given to him by his 86-year-old Japanese grandmother were among the items stolen from his Roswell apartment that was broken into early Tuesday. Police said they responded to the 2200 Big Creek Apartments on Wednesday evening after Kinney watched a recording of an unidentified man on his home surveillance camera hours earlier. "The investigation is still very early, but our officers have been able to develop significant suspect information to continue to follow up on," police said. Kinney competed on the four-man bobsled team at the 2018 Winter Olympics in PyeongChang. He said the items stolen from the apartment included his Olympic pins, his opening and closing ceremony jackets from those Games, his Olympic ring and other memorabilia earned through his post-competition work with the U.S. Olympic & Paralympic Committee in Tokyo and Beijing. While his electronics are easily replaceable, Kinney said the Olympic memorabilia and family heirlooms are not, due to the emotion and memories that are intertwined with them. The heirlooms, two samurai swords, are both older than him, he said. "It's just priceless to me," he said.

Authorities with Gwinnett County Schools are currently looking into a series of car break-ins that occurred on Tuesday on multiple campuses. Thirty-seven vehicles total were ransacked at Archer High School, Trip Elementary School, and Brookwood Elementary. No suspects have yet been listed, according to Chief Tony Lockard with Gwinnett County School Police. Some of the cars, he said, had broken windows, though many others were simply unlocked. Lockard emphasized the importance of removing valuable items from your vehicle, keeping them out of sight, and locking your car, noting "these crimes can happen anywhere." At this time, authorities said they do not believe students to be behind the break-ins, noting two unidentified individuals who were spotted on surveillance cameras. Lockard said that footage is not being released as the investigation is ongoing. Among the items stolen are personal electronic devices, credit cards, debit cards, and even purses. For the time being, extra officers will be at the schools, and GCPS Police are partnering with other local authorities to monitor the situation.

One person is now dead and another person was injured after a Thursday night shooting in Lithonia, according to DeKalb County Police. Details are limited, but it happened at the QuikTrip located on 2776 Panola Road. Police said that they were called to the scene for a person shot call. When they arrived, they found two people shot. One of them was taken to the hospital while the other sadly died on scene. Police are still investigating the circumstances surrounding the incident. Authorities have not released any details about a possible suspect or any details about the identity of the victims.

Two suspects are in custody after shots were fired at police from a fleeing SUV Tuesday morning during a chase after an armed robbery at a Rock Hill convenience store, officials said. The chase went south from Rock Hill through rural York County into Chester County then back to York County where both the driver and passenger were caught, the Rock Hill Police Department said in a statement. The passenger in the car was identified by police as Ronald Eugene Wilson, 36, of Staunton, Va. Wilson is charged by Rock Hill police with armed robbery, conspiracy, and possession of a weapon during violent crime, officials said. The driver of the car, Andrew Gunner Johnson, 23, of Charlotte, is charged with failure to stop for blue lights, accessory to armed robbery, and conspiracy, officials said. No officers were hurt, according to the statement and Rock Hill police Lt. Michael Chavis. Police did not return gunfire, he said. York County deputies, Chester County deputies and S.C. Highway Patrol troopers assisted during the pursuit, officials said. The driver was caught after police stop spikes flattened the tires off McConnells Highway southwest of Rock Hill. The passenger then fled on foot but was found under a house after K-9 dogs were brought to the scene, Chavis said. The armed robbery happened after 1 a.m. Tuesday at the Circle K on North Cherry Road south of Interstate 77, police said. The driver and passenger fled before a Rock Hill officer saw the vehicle heading south on Cherry Road near Constitution Boulevard. Police began a pursuit after the driver failed to stop, officials said. Both Wilson and Johnson remain jailed at the Rock Hill law center.

An investigation is underway after a man was seriously injured Tuesday in an accidental Birmingham shooting. Birmingham police and Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service responded at 11:42 a.m. to a report of a shooting in the 3000 block of Five Mile Creek Road. They arrived to find an adult male inside a truck who had been shot in the leg. Officer Truman Fitzgerald said the man's injuries are life-threatening. It wasn't immediately clear, Fitzgerald said, if the injury was self-inflicted.

A man was shot and killed Tuesday afternoon during a burglary in southeast Atlanta, according to authorities. Officers were called to the 100 block of Logan Street near Rawson-Washington Park in the Capital Gateway neighborhood around 3:40 p.m. regarding the “residential burglary” and shooting. Police said they found a man who was dead and appeared to have been shot in the area. A woman, who officials said “may be the shooter,” was also located at the scene. Police did not say who owned the residence that was burglarized or who broke into the home. No charges have been announced and no one was publicly identified. “Investigators are working to determine the circumstances surrounding this incident,” Atlanta police said in a statement.

A man has died after an argument led to a shooting in a Walmart parking lot in Garner, police said Tuesday. Police responded to the shooting just after 6 p.m. at the Walmart at 4500 Fayetteville Road after two men got into an “argument or altercation,” police said. The man who was shot was taken to the hospital, where he died, police said. Police said they have a “person of interest” in custody, police said. “There’s no threat to the community at this time,” the Garner Police Department said on its Facebook page. The shooting remains under investigation.

An investigation is underway after a male was shot Tuesday night, the Columbia Police Department said. The shooting happened at about 6:30 p.m. on Chestnut Street, police said on social media. That’s near U.S. 1/Two Notch Road, and close to Charlie W. Johnson Stadium. The male victim was taken to an area hospital, according to police. Officers responded to the scene after receiving a Shotspotter alert and a 911 call, police said. There was no word on a shooter, or shooters, or anyone else involved. Information about a motive for the shooting was not available. No arrests have been reported by police, who are continuing to investigate the shooting.

An alleged robbery and carjacking that prompted a two-hour lockdown on the Kennesaw State University campus last week started with the click of an app in DeKalb County, according to arrest warrants obtained Thursday. Giovanni Brown, Marquise Adams and an unidentified suspect called for an Uber ride in DeKalb on Jan. 24, Channel 2 Action News reported. Cobb County police said they were then driven to a Waffle House across from the KSU campus in the 3300 block of Frey Road. "Firearms were pointed at the (Uber driver) during the hijacking to force him to surrender the vehicle," the warrants stated. The suspects allegedly took the ride-share driver's wallet and told him to get into the trunk of the 2023 Cadillac CT4, but he was able to run away, according to the warrants. They then drove the vehicle toward campus, where they ditched it, police said. "What this driver experienced is terrifying and we are grateful he was unharmed," an Uber spokesperson told The Atlanta Journal-Constitution on Thursday. "We've been in touch with him and have reached out to offer our support during this difficult time. Our dedicated team is standing ready to assist law enforcement in their investigations however we can." Campus police issued an alert around 6:20 p.m. after receiving reports about at least one intruder on the campus, which is just off I-75 and near Cobb County International Airport. "I was in my room leaving, that's when I got the text and call," student Ryan Oldham told Channel 2. "We put a table in front of the window just to make sure nothing could see us through there." After a brief foot chase, Adams, of Lithonia, was arrested by both Cobb and KSU police. He was found with the keys to the stolen Cadillac, according to police. Weapons were also located. He MARTA police shot a man Wednesday morning after he allegedly stabbed an officer and two others outside a downtown Atlanta station, authorities said. An officer was at the Five Points station on Peachtree Street around 11 a.m. when he saw a man stab two people in the bus shelter area, police said. Soon after, authorities said the suspect charged at the officer, stabbing him in the hand. "The officer fired his weapon twice, stopping the attack," MARTA spokeswoman Stephany Fisher said. The suspect and stabbing victims were taken to the hospital and are said to be stable. Police said the officer received stitches in his hand. Their identities were not released.

Authorities from several agencies are looking for three men in connection with a burglary Thursday morning in a search that included several schools. The Morgan County Sheriff’s Office said the search began after the suspects fled from Hartselle police into Falkville. Falkville Police were able to stop the vehicle, but the men fled on foot in the area of U.S. 31 and West Piney Grove Road in Falkville. Morgan County deputies and Cullman County K9 Units assisted with search of the area, as the Morgan County Sheriff’s SWAT team was dispatched to search the campuses of nearby Falkville Elementary and High Schools. The search also included buses. According to the sheriff’s office, the campus is clear. A school resource officer will be on campus while Falkville Police and deputies remain in the area. Residents are asked to report any suspicious activity to Morgan County 911.

[1/30/2024] A missing 16-year-old Montgomery high school student has been found dead. Michael Anthony Cole Jr. was pronounced dead at 10:51 p.m. Monday, according to court records. The Alabama Law Enforcement Agency issued an emergency missing alert for Michael Anthony Cole Jr., a 16-year-old high school student, on Monday and several members of the Montgomery City Council offered a $5,000 reward for his safe return. On Tuesday morning, ALEA canceled that alert but offered no explanation. Court records showed two suspects have been charged. Nedvin Maynard Jones Jr., 18, and Nicholas Treyvon King-Sheppard, 18, are charged with felony murder. Both suspects were booked into the Montgomery County Detention Center before 7 a.m. Tuesday. Charging documents state that the suspects fired shots into an occupied dwelling, causing Michael’s death on Jan. 25, which is when Michael was reported missing. At a press conferenced held midday by Montgomery Police Chief Darryl Albert and Chief Deputy John Hall, authorities disclosed that Michael’s body was found in the 6500 block of Selma Highway. Michael was last seen about 8:30 p.m. Jan. 25 in the area of Southmont Drive in Montgomery, according to the Alabama Law Enforcement Agency.

A woman found dead on a north Birmingham dead-end street was the victim of homicide. The discovery was made at 8:21 a.m. Thursday in the 1300 block of 18th Street North. Officer Truman Fitzgerald said a city worker found the woman unresponsive. Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service pronounced her dead on the scene. Detectives did not initially see any obvious signs of foul play. However, the body was taken to the Jefferson County Coroner's Office where an autopsy showed she had been shot. Fitzgerald said the woman was an adult Black female with braids. She appeared to be age 25 to 30. She is Birmingham's sixth homicide this year, and the first in 11 days. In all of Jefferson County, there have been eight homicides including the six in Birmingham.

A teenager was taken to the hospital in critical condition early Friday morning after officers found him suffering from a gunshot wound in northwest Atlanta's Collier Heights neighborhood, police said. Authorities responded to a home in the 2700 block of Oldknow Drive just after 2 a.m. in reference to a person shot, Atlanta police said. At the home, they found the 16-year-old unconscious with a serious gunshot wound. Though the teen remains in the hospital, homicide investigators were called to the scene, police said. No further information has been released, including the teen's identity or if a suspect has been identified.

A man faces false imprisonment charges for allegedly holding the mother of his child and their kid against their will on Friday, according to the Atlanta Police Department. The police department received a call around 10 p.m. regarding a domestic dispute at a residence on Piedmont Avenue in northeast Atlanta. When officers arrived, they were told a woman and her child were being forced to stay inside the home. Police said they believed the suspect was the child's father and later discovered he had several felony warrants for armed robbery, weapons charges, obstruction and probation violations. While at the home, the officer said they made contact with the woman inside the home. APD added, "she appeared to be uncooperative, based on her statements, but mouthed 'help me' to officers." Police said she would not let them inside and did not leave the home. Officers decided to set up a perimeter around the home and called in SWAT and Hostage Negotiators. Once on scene, negotiations were able to get the suspect to surrender. Police said he was taken into custody and that the woman and child were safe. APD said the suspect, a 34-year-old, faces false imprisonment charges in the case and is in custody at the Fulton County Jail.

[2/5/2024] A Fayette County man suspected of selling drugs that led to an overdose death last month has been arrested and charged with murder, the sheriff's office announced. Levi McElwaney, 23, of Fayetteville, was taken into custody Friday, Fayette Sheriff Barry Babb said. McElwaney is also facing a charge of using a telecommunication facility for a drug transaction. Deputies tracked down and arrested McElwaney a week after they responded to an overdose call, Babb said. On Jan. 26, deputies found a man dead on what investigators believe was the prescription painkiller Oxycontin. Babb said they were able to identify McElwaney as the man suspected of selling the pills to the victim. Babb has prioritized the pursuit of drug dealers whose illegal products result in overdose deaths, he said. "I believe this case meets all the elements of murder and we're not backing down. I hope this case will encourage others to take the same route," Babb said.

A Lithia Springs man has been arrested after a shooting left another man dead in Cobb County on Friday afternoon, according to authorities. Cobb police said the shooting was reported in the 1300 block of Riverside Parkway around 1:30 p.m. When officers arrived, they found 20-year-old Kenneth McGrew, of Austell, with gunshot wounds. He was rushed to a hospital but did not survive, officials said. Investigators quickly identified 22-year-old Nijier Drakeford as the suspect and obtained warrants for felony murder, police said. He was later arrested in Atlanta.

A woman accused of dragging an officer after driving off from a scene Friday was arrested following a SWAT standoff in Gwinnett County, police said. Shawndia Rogers, 39, surrendered to authorities after hours of negotiations and is facing charges of aggravated assault against a law enforcement officer and obstruction, officials stated. The officer dragged sustained minor injuries. The incident began around 1:30 p.m. at a Tractor Supply store, where shots were fired. Police said the incident was domestic in nature and involved a woman and a man. No injuries were reported. The man, who fled the scene on foot, was later detained, but officials said the woman, later identified as Rogers, drove off in a white car. As officers were investigating the scene, they said Rogers returned in a different vehicle. Police approached the passenger side of her vehicle and informed her that she was being detained. Authorities said she then began to resist and was Tased multiple times. As an officer was attempting to grab Rogers, he suffered minor injuries, but was not taken to a hospital. "One officer attempted to grab her from within the passenger side, and she drove off, dragging the officer who was partially inside the car," Gwinnett police said. The woman then allegedly fled to a home on Winding Down Way in the Hawthorn Glen subdivision in Grayson and barricaded herself inside. Police said three children and one adult were inside the home at the time. Rogers, who officials said was armed, is accused of threatening to shoot officers. It was at that point that the SWAT team was called to the scene. Rogers eventually exited through the front door of the home and was taken into custody around 6 p.m. The children were released to the custody of their father.

A woman has been charged in connection with the shots fired Friday night after a basketball game at Hueytown High School. Eunethia Arnette Shackelford, 30, is charged with attempted murder and possession of a deadly weapon school grounds. She was booked into the Jefferson County Jail Saturday and remains held on bonds totaling $67,500. Authorities said Shackelford, of Hueytown, is the mother of one of the juveniles involved in the dispute. The warrants were issued by the Jefferson County District Attorney's Office in the Bessemer Cutoff. The shots were fired after the 7:30 game between Hueytown and Leeds High School had ended. Jefferson County sheriff's Lt. Joni Money said a deputy was working at the game at Hueytown High School. About 9:30 p.m., someone notified the deputy that shots had been fired outside. According to witnesses, a group of juveniles were involved in an altercation in the parking lot of the school when adult family members arrived on scene and intervened. One of the family members – now identified as Scheckleford – fired shots in the air and fled the scene with some of the involved juveniles. Jefferson County deputies, along with officers with officers from Hueytown Police Department, responded to the scene and dispersed the patrons.

A teenage boy has died after being shot in a parking lot of a Gwinnett County shopping center over the weekend, authorities said Sunday. Police responded to Northside Hospital Duluth around 2:15 a.m. Saturday about a person who was shot. During the investigation, officers learned the victim, 17-year-old Elbert "Josh" Brown had been struck by gunfire in the parking lot of the Paragon Town Center at 4500 Satellite Boulevard near Duluth, police said. The shopping center, located just north of I-85, is home to a bowling alley, and several restaurants and stores. "Officers secured the scene in the parking lot and detectives and crime scene investigators responded," police said. "At the time of the incident, the victim's condition was listed as critical." On Saturday night, detectives learned Brown, of Snellville, had died from his injuries. Police said no arrests have been made and the circumstances surrounding the shooting remains under investigation.

[2/6/2024] An Athens family is lucky to be alive after a family friend allegedly stabbed them during the night while they were asleep. The Cates family shared the traumatic experience that left them shaken on the morning of Jan. 27. Mother, Jessica Cates, said she was startled awake that day. "I heard screaming. It's like 7:30-ish in the morning," Cates said. "And I went upstairs. He was naked and on top of her." Jessica said the suspect was a 15-year-old invited guest who had slept over before. He was allegedly mounting her 15-year-old daughter, Abbie, wielding a knife. "When I turned the lights on in there, I saw blood on the wall," she said. Her 12-year-old son, Tyler, said he jumped into action to save his sister. "I didn't think twice," Tyler said. "I just felt like it was instinct, like I had to." Jessica, who is a nurse, said she rushed her daughter to the bathroom to assess her wounds. But moments later, the suspect allegedly came back and attacked them once more -- stabbing Jessica in the head, neck, and back and Abbie in the head and chest. Thankfully, there were no punctures to their vital organs. Jessica said there were no signs that something like this would ever occur. Tyler, still hurt by it all, described the accused as the nicest person he knew. "He was my best friend," Tyler said. Eventually, Jessica's husband returned home from work to restrain the suspect. The family called 911. A representative from Athens-Clarke County Police released the following statement: "We can confirm that the Athens-Clarke County Police responded to the incident, and we are investigating. Due to the nature of the investigation and the ages of the offender and victims, additional information cannot be released."

Sheriff's deputies in Chatham County have charged a 36-year-old woman with 10 counts of animal cruelty after seizing 44 dogs from a home in Bear Creek. Six of the dogs were already dead when investigators reached the property on Oakley Church Road on Thursday, drawn by a citizen's complaint of "distressing sounds" from the animals, the sheriff's office said in a Sunday news release. The remaining dogs were being treated for dehydration, malnutrition, parasites and severe matting at the sheriff's animal resource center. Alicia Dawn Culberson is expected to face charges in court Wednesday.

A man was shot and killed on Pressley Drive in DeKalb County early Sunday, according to police. At this time, there is little information about how the deadly shooting transpired. However, officers said it happened shortly after midnight. There are no suspects at this time.

A man was fatally shot early Sunday in a residential neighborhood in DeKalb County, authorities said. DeKalb police responded just after midnight to the 3300 block of Pressley Drive in Scottdale for a person shot call. The 39-year-old man was already dead from a gunshot wound when officers arrived. He was identified as Deangelo Ivey by police. On Monday, investigators said they didn't have specifics about what led to the gunfire, and no one was in custody. The shooting took place about a quarter-mile west of I-285 and a stone's throw from North Decatur Road. An investigation is ongoing, but police have not released other details about the incident.

Two Tennessee deputies were wounded and a kidnapping suspect was killed in an exchange of gunfire on Interstate 75 after a pursuit across state lines, authorities said. The pursuit began Sunday in Catoosa County, Georgia, when deputies tried to stop Tyler L. Roberts, 31, who was suspected of kidnapping a young child and assaulting an officer, the Tennessee Bureau of Investigation said in a statement. The chase on I-75 crossed into Tennessee and deputies with the Hamilton County Sheriff's Office also began trying to capture the suspect and deployed tire deflation devices, the statement said. After the vehicle came to a stop, the driver began shooting at deputies who returned fire and killed the suspect, the TBI said. Two Hamilton County deputies were wounded and taken to an area hospital for treatment of non-life-threatening wounds, the sheriff's office said. The 18-month-old child was not injured, but was taken to a hospital for evaluation, the statement said. "While it is early in the investigative phase of this incident, it is apparent this individual was intent on getting away from authorities and clearly didn't care who he endangered in the process," Hamilton County Sheriff Austin Garrett said. "This incident highlights the incredible dangers our personnel face each day while performing their duties."

A motorcyclist who fled from a state trooper who then crashed on I-85 has been charged with murder, the Georgia Department of Public Safety announced. Gerson Ayala Rodriguez was arrested Friday in Norcross by both the state patrol and Gwinnett County police, according to Col. William Hitchens, DPS commissioner. The suspect was also charged with fleeing and attempting to elude, and reckless driving along with other traffic offenses, Hitchens said. "Since the event, DPS along with our law enforcement partners have worked tirelessly to investigate the events that led to the fatal crash," Hitchens said in a video posted on social media. The crash happened Sunday afternoon on I-85 near Old Peachtree Road when Trooper Jimmy Cenescar, 28, was attempting to stop the motorcycle for a traffic violation, according to investigators. Cenescar lost control of his Dodge Charger, which struck a guardrail, hit a DOT sign, traveled down an embankment and hit multiple trees and large draining rocks before striking a retaining wall, investigators said. He had to be extricated from the wreckage and was taken to Northside Gwinnett Hospital, where he died from his injuries. According to the report, the trooper was wearing his lap and shoulder belt. Rodriguez continued traveling northbound and did not stop, investigators said.

Three women are charged with murder after Mobile police say they beat and shot a woman to death Sunday evening. Officers responded to a report of shots fired in the 600 block of Chin Street about 5:13 p.m. When they arrived, they found 44-year-old Khaliaka Meardry dead at the scene. Initial investigation indicates Meardry was in a verbal dispute with three women who at some point began beating Meardry with a blunt object. One of the suspects then shot Meardry an unspecified number of times. The suspects have been identified as 37-year-old Sierra Giles, 32-year-old Kendra Nettles and 35-year-old Terrilyn Williams. All three have been charged with Meardry's murder. Mobile jail records show Meardry resided at 675 Chin Street, while Giles lived at 674 Chin Street.

An investigation is ongoing into a Sunday-night shooting in Tuscaloosa that left one man dead. Tuscaloosa police were dispatched at 10:24 p.m. to a report of shots fired at Landmark Apartments on Old Greensboro Road. The victim was found dead on the scene. His identity has not yet been released. The Tuscaloosa Violent Crimes Unit is leading the investigation. Capt. Jack Kennedy said no arrests have been made.

[2/3/202] Millbrook police say they have arrested a man on five counts of child pornography possession. Police say 55-year-old James Mengel of Millbrook was charged after an investigation. Police say on January 29, they received several cyber tips with regard to child sex abuse material from an internet service provider. They say their investigation connected that to an internet account linked to a phone number at an address in the 90 block of Supreme Court. Yesterday, police say they executed a search warrant and seized several electronic devices believed to contain images of child pornography. Police say they developed Mengel as a suspect, who voluntarily accompanied detectives to the Millbrook Police Department for questioning. During questioning, they say he admitted that he had downloaded and possessed child pornography. Mengel was taken to the Elmore County Jail, where he remains under a $75,000 bond.

At least one man is in custody after an hours-long SWAT standoff at a home by an elementary school near downtown Atlanta, according to officials. Atlanta police were called after shots were fired around 2 a.m. at a home across from M. Agnes Jones Elementary School on Fair Street in the Ashview Heights neighborhood, according to Channel 2 Action News. The location is also a short distance from the Atlanta University Center. Police told the news station that the man fired shots at his roommate before barricading himself in a bedroom at the back of the house and refusing to come out when officers arrived. SWAT team members entered the house around 6:15 a.m., and the man surrendered about 15 minutes later, Channel 2 reported. The situation did not appear to affect school operations. It's not clear what led to shots being fired. Police have not reported any injuries.

A search is underway for the suspect or suspects who authorities say stole a St. Clair County Sheriff's Office patrol cruiser early Monday. The car was stolen from a deputy's residence in Moody at 3:20 a.m., said Sheriff Billy Murry. The driver of the stolen car struck another vehicle on I-20 and fled the scene. It was not immediately clear if there were any injuries. Multiple agencies are actively searching for the suspect or suspects. The crash is being worked by the Alabama Law Enforcement Agency.

A man was killed Monday afternoon after gunfire broke out at a troubled northwest Atlanta apartment complex, police said. Atlanta police said they got a call around 4:25 p.m. about a person shot at The Vue at Harwell on Harwell Road, not far from I-285 and Martin Luther King Jr. Drive. When officers arrived, they found a man, who was not publicly identified, suffering from a gunshot wound. He was pronounced dead at the scene by medical personnel. A motive is unclear and police have not said what led to the shooting, or if any arrests have been made. The Vue at Harwell, formerly known as Daron Village, is among 275 of the metro area's persistently dangerous complexes, according to The Atlanta Journal-Constitution's "Dangerous Dwellings" investigation that looked into serious crimes, lax maintenance and other hazards in Atlanta neighborhoods.

[2/12/2024] A second Wake County elementary school employee has been arrested in the past two months on charges of assaulting a student with disabilities. Court records show the Wake County Sheriff’s Office charged Lori Miller Holland, 54, on Friday with one count of misdemeanor child abuse and one count of misdemeanor assault on an individual with a disability. Holland is a special programs teacher at Carver Elementary School in Wendell. She is accused of assaulting one of the special-education students at the school. According to the arrest warrant, Holland did “create and allow a substantial risk of physical injury” and “unlawfully and willfully did assault and strike” a student with a disability by “dragging” the child “down the hallway at the school.” The warrant says the incident happened on Jan. 30. Holland posted a $1,000 bond and was released from the Wake County Detention Center. She has a March 18 court date.

Three people are dead and a fourth was injured in a shooting at a Gwinnett County apartment complex early Tuesday morning. Gwinnett officers were called about a domestic disturbance around 1 a.m. at The Views apartments on Country Walk in unincorporated Snellville and found two men dead and two women with gunshot wounds, police said. Both women were rushed to a hospital, but one of them did not survive. Two of the victims were identified as Corey Jones, 52, and his wife, Dana Farmer, 56, who lived in the home where the shooting took place. Police said the alleged shooter, 27-year-old Frank Wilburn Jr. of Loganville, also died. Rosella Jones, 29, remains in the hospital, police said. “It is believed that Rosella Jones and Frank Wilburn Jr. were in a relationship. The couple was set to have a court hearing later today,” police said in a news release. Two other people who lived in the apartment, the Joneses’ mother and a 2-month-old girl, were not injured. “It’s very heartbreaking,” Anthony Abram, who lives at the complex with his wife, told The Atlanta Journal-Constitution. Resident Jack Johnson said he was inside his apartment near the back of the complex Tuesday morning when he heard a loud bang, which he originally believed to be his television. He then walked outside with his neighbor and saw the commotion. Next thing he knew, he said it felt like the entire Gwinnett County Police Department showed up. “Once you saw the yellow tape, we knew it wasn’t good,” he added.

A 48-year-old Mobile man accused of a Chickasaw motel murder has been captured on the Mississippi coast, the Mobile County Sheriff's Office said Wednesday. Tuesday morning, Chickasaw police contacted the sheriff's office and asked for assistance regarding a death at the Best Inn on West Lee Street in Chickasaw. Officers found 38-year-old Christopher Ryan Martin dead from an apparent gunshot wound underneath his chin. A 9mm shell casing was found underneath Martin, near his neck, according to the sheriff's office. Investigators reviewed surveillance video from the hallway outside the room where Martin's body was found and saw a man enter the room about 3:40 a.m. About a minute later, a gunshot was heard and the man was seen leaving the room and departing the hotel in a dark SUV, according to the sheriff's office. Ultimately, the suspect was identified as 48-year-old Cornelius Lavette Smith. Mobile County investigators, along with U.S. Marshals, tracked Smith to Island View Casino in Gulfport, Miss. He was taken into custody without incident and is awaiting extradition to Mobile, where he will be formally charged with murder.

A 16-year-old girl was arrested for allegedly shooting two students inside LeFlore High School on Tuesday, neither of whom suffered life-threatening injuries. The shooting occurred at approximately 12:03 p.m. at 700 Donald Street. Upon arrival, officers discovered a 16-year-old girl had engaged in a verbal altercation with a 15-year-old male victim. During the argument, the girl produced a handgun and shot the 15-year-old, causing a superficial wound, according to Mobile police. The bullet also struck a 17-year-old male student who was subsequently transported to the hospital for treatment of a non-life-threatening injury. Mobile County School Superintendent Chresall Threadgill, in a statement, said the two students are in stable condition. With the assistance of her parents, the girl surrendered to the police, according to police. Mobile Police Corporal Katrina Frazier, in a news release, said the girl was charged with two counts of assault 1st degree, possession of a deadly weapon on school grounds and discharging a firearm into a school building. She has been taken to Mobile Metro Jail.

An investigation is underway into an afternoon shooting in Birmingham. The shooting happened at 1:45 p.m. Tuesday in the 100 block of Ninth Avenue West. The extent of the male victim's injuries was not immediately known, said Sgt. LaQuitta Wade. No arrests have been made.

A shooting at a southwest Atlanta home left one man dead Tuesday evening, according to police. It's not clear what led to shots being fired in the incident that unfolded in the 1000 block of Orlando Place in the Cascade Road neighborhood near the West End. When Atlanta police arrived around 7:15 p.m., they found a 41-year-old man, who has not been publicly identified, with multiple gunshot wounds. He was rushed to a hospital in critical condition, where he eventually died. Police have not released any other details.

A man was shot by Cobb County police late Tuesday when he refused to drop his gun and continued firing it in a neighborhood along the Chattahoochee River, according to authorities. The incident happened around 10:15 p.m., and GBI agents were still at the scene collecting evidence early Wednesday morning. Cobb police said they received multiple 911 calls about a person walking down Columns Drive and discharging a firearm. The area overlooks the river near the Atlanta Country Club Estates and Chattahoochee Plantation communities. When officers arrived, they encountered the suspect near the front door of a home and ordered him repeatedly to drop his weapon, police said. The man instead fired the gun again, and an officer returned fire, striking him, according to officials. Police said the suspect was rushed to Wellstar Kennestone Hospital, but the extent of his injuries was not disclosed. Officials have not released additional details about what led up to the incident. The GBI has been asked to take over the investigation, police said.

A man found dead on the front porch of his South Carolina home this week was shot to death, the Aiken County Coroner's Office announced Friday. Aiken County sheriff's deputies found the man after 2 p.m. Wednesday at the 2000 block of Augusta Road in the Warrenville area near Langley Pond after a passerby reported seeing a body. Coroner Darryl Ables later identified the man as 52-year-old Joseph A. Keenan. After an autopsy on Friday, the coroner ruled Keenan's death a homicide. The coroner's office and the sheriff's office are still investigating.

Nineteen people were detained after a call about shots being fired at a South Fulton home expedited an investigation Thursday morning, authorities said. South Fulton police responded around 8:30 a.m. to the 911 call at the residence on Orly Terrace near College Park. When officers arrived, they saw gunshots being fired in the backyard, police Chief Keith Meadows told reporters during a news conference. After establishing a perimeter, Meadows said they discovered several previous complaints had been issued against the residence regarding alleged illegal activity. “We’ve had complaints about possibly sex trafficking, and so, we have not ruled that out as a possibility for this particular location being involved in that type of activity,” he added.

A shelter-in-place order was issued after two people were shot outside McEachern High School in Powder Springs on Thursday afternoon, officials said. The two victims, who were not students, were shot in the parking lot, district spokeswoman Nan Kiel said. Cobb County and school police have secured the campus, which remains under a code red. Though a suspect is not in custody at this time, police said. “Police are on campus, and for the safety of both students and staff, parents will not be allowed on campus, and buses will not run until the code red is lifted,” Kiel said. “We will provide an additional update to the public once one is available.” Officials said an investigation is underway into what led to the shooting and the identities of the victims, who suffered non-life-threatening injuries. Cobb police confirmed they were assisting the Cobb County School District Police Department at the scene. All traffic on New Macland Road has been diverted. We are working to learn more.

A search is underway for a gunman following an overnight shooting, the Columbia Police Department said Thursday. A man was shot in the downtown area of the city and suffered life-threatening injuries, police said in a news release. The victim was taken to an area hospital following the shooting in the 1500 block of Washington Street, according to police. That's in the area between Taylor Street and Gervais Street, about half a mile from the South Carolina State House. Further information on the victim's condition was not available. No other injuries were reported. There was no word on a shooter, or shooters, or anyone else involved. Information about a motive for the shooting was not available. No arrests have been reported by police, who are continuing to investigate the shooting.

An 8-year-old died after she was struck by a car Thursday morning while trying to get on a school bus in Henry County, officials said. The driver accused in the incident was identified as Kaylee Andre, 25, by the Georgia State Patrol. She was booked into the Henry jail around noon Saturday, and is facing charges of vehicular homicide, failure to stop for a school bus and failure to exercise due care. Officials announced Saturday that the child, who was a student at Rock Springs Elementary School, had passed away from her injuries. On Sunday, she was identified as Adalynn Pierce by the GSP. Around 7 a.m. Thursday, troopers were called to Jackson Lake Road regarding the collision. Pierce, of Henry County, was crossing the road to load onto the bus, which was stopped near a private driveway and had its lights and stop signs activated, according to GSP spokeswoman Courtney Lund. At the same time, Andre was traveling north in a Ford Fusion and failed to stop for the bus, striking the child, Lund said. Pierce received aid at the scene by Henry EMS and was then flown to Children's Egleston Hospital in Atlanta in critical condition. Andre remained at the scene of the crash and officials said she cooperated with the investigation.

[2/12/2024] A woman who was working as a substitute teacher at a Lexington County elementary school was arrested and accused of assaulting two students, the Pelion Police Department said Monday. Alice Johnson was charged with two counts of third-degree assault and battery, police said in a news release. On Feb. 1, Johnson was placed by her employer, Kelly Services, at Forts Pond Elementary School. The Lexington 1 school is on Fish Hatchery Road, near the intersection with Edmund Highway and about 2 miles from Pelion High School. Two students said they were physically attacked by Johnson. One student said Johnson picked him up by the neck — lifting his feet into the air — while a second student said he was pushed to the ground by the sub. Neither child was physically hurt, according to the release. Lexington 1 reported the incident to police, who said an investigation was then opened. Kelly Services was also notified, and Johnson was removed from all assignments pending the investigation. In addition to the victims, officers took statements from several independent witnesses and it was determined that a crime occurred. Police arranged for Johnson to turn herself in at the Lexington County Detention Center, but as of Monday afternoon she was not listed on the jail's inmate roster. If Johnson is convicted on the misdemeanor charges, she faces a maximum punishment of 30 days in jail and a $500 fine for each count, according to South Carolina law.

A person was killed and another was injured following a stabbing late Thursday afternoon in Huntsville, police said. The stabbing occurred just before 5 p.m. in the 400 block of Mountain Gap Road, police said. One victim was pronounced dead at the scene. The second victim was taken to the hospital with life-threatening injuries but police said that victim is now expected to survive the stabbing. A suspect was taken into custody near the scene and is being interviewed by investigators. The investigation was ongoing and further information was unavailable.

Another Cherry Road business has been hit by armed thieves in a nighttime heist that Rock Hill police say has “similarities” with a convenience store robbery nearby just days earlier. In both the Thursday night robbery at Budiman’s smoke shop and art gallery as well as a Saturday incident at 7-Eleven, three masked suspects, including one with a gun, were involved, according to the Rock Hill Police Department. In both crimes, one armed suspect demanded money from a store employee while the other two filled sacks with store products, police said. The suspects wore dark clothes in both crimes. “We are looking at the similarities that do exist in both of these cases,” Rock Hill police Lt. Michael Chavis told The Herald Friday morning. No arrests have been made in either robbery. The Budiman’s store is in the 1300 block of Cherry Road and the 7-Eleven is in the 1400 block, Chavis said. The Budiman’s robbery Thursday was around 11:30 p.m. Saturday’s robbery was in the overnight hours after 4 a.m. The gunman in the Budiman’s robbery ordered people in the store at the time to get on the ground. Then, the thieves took cellphones from the persons inside, police said in a statement. No one was hurt, police said. Police are working on retrieving video surveillance video from the area around the Budiman’s robbery, Chavis said.

A suspect in a deadly shooting at a Family Dollar in Clayton County was able to flee the scene before officers arrived Friday evening, police said. The gunfire happened at the store on Riverdale Road, just south of I-285 and Hartsfield-Jackson International Airport. Police did not provide many details on the shooting, but confirmed one person was fatally shot. The suspect fled the scene in a dark-colored SUV, authorities said. A description of the shooter was not provided. Family members told Channel 2 Action News at the scene that the victim was dropped off at the store by his mother. Some time later, someone walked inside and shot the victim, they told the news station. The victim was not publicly identified, and authorities did not say what may have led to the incident.

A South Carolina teenager has been arrested after two people were hurt in a stabbing outside of a Waffle House in Chester, officials said. Police took the 17-year-old male suspect into custody shortly after the stabbing late Friday night outside the restaurant on J.A. Cochran Bypass in Chester, according to the Chester County Sheriff's Office. There was an argument inside the restaurant before the stabbing. The suspect is from Chester, according to arrest warrants. Officials have not identified the suspect charged with attempted murder and possession of a weapon during a violent crime because of his age. One of the victims was taken to a hospital for treatment. The extent of the injuries was not released. The case remains under investigation by the sheriff's office and State Law Enforcement Division.

[2/26/2024] A former Cheraw police officer was charged with a sex crime, the South Carolina Law Enforcement Division said. McBee resident Justin Brian McKenzie, 40, was arrested and charged Thursday with felony sexual extortion and misconduct in office, SLED said in a news release. South Carolina Gov. Henry McMaster signed a law that makes sexual extortion a crime in August 2023. McKenzie was previously an officer with the Cheraw Police Department, and Chief Julius Riley requested that SLED lead an investigation. Cheraw is in Chesterfield County near the North Carolina state line. The crimes were committed between Feb. 2–7, according to arrest warrants. While hiding his identity, McKenzie sent text messages to the victim threatening to publish private, sexually explicit pictures of the victim on social media, arrest warrants show. In fear of having the pictures posted online, the victim “was compelled to create and provide McKenzie with additional sexually explicit photographs and videos,” the arrest warrants said. McKenzie was charged after SLED investigators received statements from the victim and saw the text messages as well as electronic communication records. McKenzie was booked at the Chesterfield County Detention Center, SLED said. Bond was set at $10,000 on the combined charges and posted Thursday, Chesterfield County court records show. The case will be prosecuted by the 4th Circuit Solicitor’s Office. If convicted on the felony sexual extortion charge (first offense), McKenzie faces a maximum punishment of five years in prison. A conviction on the misconduct in office charge could mean a maximum punishment of one year behind bars and a $1,000 fine, South Carolina law says.

[6/10/2024] Montgomery police need your help finding four suspects after a business was fired into. Police say a business in the 2000 block of Coliseum Boulevard was fired into at around 6PM on February 2. That is near the Vista View Shopping Center close to Northern Boulevard. Police say after they arrived on the scene, they were told that the four suspects opened the door to the business, saw a person inside and started firing shots. No one was hurt, but damage was left behind.

[6/13/2024] An Augusta, Ga. man has been arrested after investigators say he sent pictures and messages through Snapchat to a 12-year-old Alabama girl. DeKalb County Sheriff Nick Welden said Jehad Noman Saloum, 21, was arrested in Tampa, Fla. He was booked into the DeKalb County Detention Center on charges of electronic solicitation of a child. He remains in jail on $150,000 bond. The investigation began Feb. 2, when officers received a report of a 12-year-old receiving messages of sexual solicitation from an unknown man. Welden said investigators had very little initial information. It took working with the Regional Organized Crime Information Center in Nashville to identify Saloum, Welden said.

[2/6/2024] The Lexington County Coroner’s Office has determined what killed the 22-year-old Columbia woman whose body was recently found on the shoulder of Interstate 20. An autopsy at the Medical University of South Carolina in Charleston showed Stephanie Chanel Quintana died of blunt force trauma resulting from being hit by a vehicle, Coroner Margaret Fisher said Monday night in a news release. Fisher said the vehicle that hit Quintana has not been identified, and a search for the driver is being led by the South Carolina Highway Patrol. On Feb. 2, a passerby discovered Quintana’s body on a grassy shoulder of the westbound side I-20 at the 62 mile marker, according to Fisher. That’s in the Columbia area of Lexington County, not far from the Bush River Road exit. The autopsy showed that Quintana was hit by the vehicle sometime after approximately 12:30 a.m. on Feb. 2, Fisher said. Traffic was temporarily backed up during the morning commute as the Lexington County Sheriff’s Department investigated the scene.

Greenville police need your help finding the person suspected of robbing a business. Police have released a photo of an unknown male suspected of robbing the business on Friday, February 2, at about 6:27PM. The business is located in the 700 block of South Conecuh Street. Investigators say the suspect walked in, produced an unknown type of black firearm and demanded money. They say the suspect fled with an undetermined amount of cash. Investigators say the suspect was seen wearing a green hooded windbreaker, a black stocking cap, white athletic shoes and black pants. He had what appeared to be adhesive bandages on each cheek of his face, possibly to cover up facial tattoos or scars.

A 3-year-old boy died Friday night after unintentionally shooting himself, according to a Greenville Police Department release. The incident happened around 10 p.m. in the 200 block of Beech Street, the news release said. Emergency officials rushed the boy to ECU Health Medical Center, where he was pronounced dead. Investigators learned that the boy found the gun inside the home and accidentally shot himself. Police do not expect to bring charges in the boy's death. "The incident has been ruled a tragic accident," according to the police department release. Police are not identifying the child to allow his family "to make proper notifications." If a child is able to access a gun in their home and harm themselves or someone else, their parents or guardians can be charged with a class 1 misdemeanor. North Carolina's firearm storage laws don't require gun owners with children to lock their guns, but they do require the firearms to be stored in a way where children cannot access or fire them. In response to comments on Facebook, Greenville police wrote they are still investigating, but believe the firearm storage law was followed in this instance. "The adults in the home are believed to have taken precautions to keep the weapon out of reach," the department wrote.

A juvenile is in police custody after they allegedly shot someone three times over the weekend in Alexander City. Officers responded Saturday afternoon to a home in the 7000 block of Elkatchee Road on a report of a disturbance, police told WSFA. Neither the suspect nor the victim were found in the house, but authorities later determined the victim was taken to Coosa Valley Medical Center for treatment of non-life-threatening injuries after being shot three times. WSFA did not identify the victim. The suspect's age and name were not released by authorities.

[2/8/2024] A Midlands man is in jail after he sent a threatening email to the Lexington County sheriff, according to the South Carolina Law Enforcement Division. On Feb. 3, 44-year-old Lexington resident Erik Joseph McBride was charged with manufacture, possession, use, aid or counsel of a bomb/hoax device or replica, in addition to threatening the life or family of a public official, as well as unlawful communication, SLED said Wednesday in a news release. McBride used his personal email account on Feb. 2 to send a message to Lexington County Sheriff Jay Koon that "threatened to cause damage, injury, and/or death by means of a destructive device," according to an arrest warrant. The email also threatened the "life, person or family of a public official or public employee ... directly related to the victim's professional responsibilities," the arrest warrant said. SLED's bomb squad confirmed that the email included "a viable formula for an improvised explosive device," the arrest warrant shows. McBride's email also included the phrase "Aloha Snackbar," which is generally used for terroristic threats, the arrest warrant said. The motive for sending the email was not available. McBride was booked at the Lexington County Detention Center, then transferred to the Newberry County Detention Center, SLED said. No bond was set and McBride remains behind bars, jail records show. This is not the first time McBride has been arrested. In November 2015, McBride pleaded guilty to a breach of peace (aggravated in nature) charge in addition to two counts of harassment, and he served 482 days behind bars, Lexington County court records show.

[2/14/2024] Authorities are trying to identify the suspect in an armed carjacking in Birmingham. The robbery happened Saturday, Feb. 3, in the 1600 block of Tallapoosa Street. The victim’s blue 2007 Toyota Tacoma pickup truck was stolen. No injuries were reported. Birmingham police said the suspect may frequent the Tarrant and Inglenook areas.

A man remains hospitalized after he was shot in a parking lot outside a Rock Hill restaurant, police said. No arrests have been made in the Saturday shooting and it remains unclear why the man was shot. The victim, 34, was found on the ground in the parking lot of a commercial area on Cross Pointe Drive, said Lt. Michael Chavis of the Rock Hill Police Department. The man left the restaurant after 1 a.m. when he was shot in the chest, the police department said in a statement. The area where the man was shot is off Dave Lyle Boulevard near Interstate 77. Police recovered a single bullet casing, Chavis said. A person in the parking lot and others inside the restaurant heard the gunfire, Chavis said. Detectives said there had not been any fight or argument inside the business before the shooting, and the victim was not robbed, Chavis said. On Monday, the victim remained in serious condition at a hospital, Chavis said.

A man is dead after being shot several times early Saturday morning in southeast Atlanta, police said. Officers responded to a home in the 2000 block of Thomasville Court in the Thomasville Heights neighborhood around 1:40 a.m. regarding the gunfire. A 36-year-old man was found shot multiple times at the scene, officials said. The victim, whose name was not released, was taken to a hospital in critical condition and later died. The area where the shooting occurred is primarily residential and near Moreland Avenue. It’s about a mile away from the Starlight Drive-In. Police did not say if the shooting happened inside the home or what may have led to it. No information was provided on the suspect.

A man was arrested Sunday in connection with the death of a bakery owner who was shot outside his family-owned Lawrenceville business over the weekend, authorities said. Gunfire erupted around 7 a.m. Saturday outside the Fejzic Euro Bakery on Scenic Highway. Officers responded to the business after receiving a 911 call that someone had been shot. At the scene, police said they found a 37-year-old man unconscious and suffering from multiple gunshot wounds in the parking lot. Officers rendered aid, but the victim was pronounced dead at the scene. He was identified as Ervin Fejzic, of Loganville, police confirmed. "The bakery is a family-owned business, and he is a member of that family," Lawrenceville police spokesman Capt. Salvador Ortega said. Lawrenceville police officers immediately began looking for witnesses and reviewing surveillance footage. About 24 hours later, officers arrested 38-year-old Leroy Taylor in connection with the killing, police said. Taylor, of McDonough, was booked into the Gwinnett County jail on charges of felony murder, aggravated assault, armed robbery, possession of a firearm during the commission of a felony and possession of a firearm by a convicted felon, according to online records.

Gunfire rang out in a Bessemer neighborhood Saturday afternoon, leaving one person dead. The shooting happened about 1 p.m. outside a home in the 300 block of Norwood Avenue. Bessemer police Det. Justin Burmeister said officers arrived at the location to find the victim dead. His name has not yet been released. The investigation is in its early stages and no other details have been released. The shooting is the city's second homicide this year. In all of Jefferson County, there have been nine homicides including the two in Bessemer.

One person was wounded Saturday following a shooting in the parking lot of a McDonald's restaurant in Talladega. Police said the victim, a 22-year-old man, was airlifted from the scene and was in critical condition Saturday. Investigators questioned a 20-year-old, who was on the scene when police arrived. The incident happened about 2:20 p.m. Neither the victim nor the person questioned are McDonald's employees, police said.

A man was shot and killed at an apartment complex in Panthersville on Saturday evening, authorities said. DeKalb County police responded just before 5 p.m. to the Villas at Panthersville Apartment Homes on Panthersville Road for a person shot. The complex is north of I-285 and a short walk from Flat Shoals Road. At the scene, officers found the man dead from a gunshot wound in the parking lot, DeKalb police spokesman Lt. Shane Smith said. His identity was not released. "Initial information indicates the victim knew his assailants," Smith said. "Witnesses also reported seeing two male suspects shoot at the victim as he attempted to run away." No arrests have been made. Detectives responded to the complex and an investigation into the shooting is ongoing, police said.

Investigators made an arson arrest after a house fire near Gainesville over the weekend, Hall County Fire Rescue announced Monday. The blaze broke out Saturday evening at the home at the 2300 block of Athens Highway. When firefighters arrived at the home around 6:30 p.m., they found the home fully engulfed in flames and they were able to begin a defensive attack to put out the fire. One person was treated for minor injuries and was taken to a non-emergency hospital, fire officials added. The Hall County Fire Marshal's Office had been investigating the fire for two days, using the State Fire Marshal's Office arson K-9 to detect if fire accelerants were used at the home. A 55-year-old man was taken into custody and charged with first-degree arson, officials said. No other details were released from investigators at this time.

A 19-year-old was shot and killed while allegedly trying to steal a man's gun at a DeKalb County condominium community Saturday night, authorities said. DeKalb police were called just before 10:30 p.m. to The Terraces Condominiums on Terrace Trail for a person shot. When officers arrived, they found the teenage boy dead from a gunshot wound. According to investigators, the suspect and a 24-year-old fought over the gun during the attempted robbery, causing it to go off. Their identities were not released. After the shooting, the man stayed at the scene and spoke to detectives. Police said no charges are expected to be filed. The condo community is just outside Stonecrest and near Snapfinger Woods Drive.

One man was killed and two others were hospitalized following multiple shootings over the weekend in Sumter, police said. The body of 35-year-old Sumter resident Westley Rodregus Vaughn was discovered Sunday morning after officers responded to a call around 9 a.m. about a suspicious person, police said in a news release. Vaughn, who was shot multiple times, was found outside in the 100 block of Carver Street, according to the release. That's near the intersection with South Guignard Drive, not far from where he lived, as he was last seen late Saturday walking from his home to a nearby convenience store, police said. Information about what led to the shooting was not available. There was another shooting at about 10 p.m. Saturday, according to the release. That shooting happened in an area that's less than half a mile from where Vaughn's body was found, police said. Two men, a 21- and 23-year-old, said they were walking in the Purdy Street/South Guignard Drive area when they were hit by gunfire. Officers learned about the shooting after the victims were dropped off at nearby Prisma Health Tuomey Hospital, police said. One of the victims was transferred to a hospital in Columbia, but police said both men are expected to survive. Police said they don't know if the two shootings are connected. There was no word on a shooter, or shooters, or anyone else involved. Information about a motive for the shootings was not available. No arrests have been reported by police, who are continuing to investigate the shootings and are working to determine whether anyone saw or heard anything.

A 911 call about threats against a Door Dash driver erupted into a large brawl that put three police officers in the hospital. The suspect, identified as Robert Hoff Jr., was able to take one officer's taser before he "discharged multiple rounds," the Greenville Police Department said. The fight happened just before 6 p.m. on Sunday, Feb. 4, in the Copper Beech at Greenville apartment community. A resident of the apartments reported "an acquaintance and his dog" ran into the home of someone else, police said, "and punched one of the residents before leaving." "As officers arrived on scene, a second caller reported the same suspect was now attempting to have his dog attack a Door Dash delivery driver," police said. "Officers responded and located the suspect ... on the outside steps of his apartment, a short distance away. As officers attempted to place handcuffs on Hoff, he grabbed an officer's throat and would not let go. Hoff continued to hold onto the officer's throat to the point the officer could no longer breathe." Other police officers resorted to using "physical strikes and tasers" to force the man to let go of the officer's neck. However, Hoff continued to resist and was able to take one officer's taser "and discharge multiple rounds," officials said. "Numerous other officers responded to assist and were able to finally place the suspect in custody," police said. "Three officers were transported to ECU Health Medical Center as a result of their injuries. Fortunately, they all are expected to recover." Hoff was arrested and charged with: felony breaking and entering to terrorize/injure; felony assault by strangulation; misdemeanor simple assault; misdemeanor injury to personal property; two counts of felony assault on a law enforcement officer with serious injury; and three counts of felony resisting and obstructing.

Multiple roads on the west side of Atlanta were closed for hours early Tuesday morning as a SWAT situation unfolded near a high school and a few blocks from where a man was shot to death the night before. Details are limited, but just hours after the shooting, Atlanta police SWAT teams swarmed a home in the area of Joseph E. Lowery Boulevard just south of Martin Luther King Jr. Drive in the Ashview Heights neighborhood. Those roads, along with Washington Place and New Castle Street, were closed overnight until around 7 a.m. Tuesday. Booker T. Washington High School is just a couple of blocks away, and the closures affected some school drop-offs. Officials told Channel 2 Action News that SWAT teams were at the home serving a search warrant in connection to the fatal shooting Monday night. In that case, police said they got a call just before 9 p.m. about a person shot on Mitchell Street, which is across the street from where the SWAT situation was unfolding. When officers arrived, they found a man with a gunshot wound, officials said. He was pronounced dead at the scene. Authorities have not shared any other information about the shooting or the SWAT situation.

One person was dead and a second in custody following a domestic incident at an assisted living facility, Gwinnett County police said Tuesday. Officers were called Tuesday morning to the facility, located at 1611 Lawrenceville-Suwanee Road at the intersection with Russell Road near Lawrenceville, according to Sgt. Michele Pihera. Address records show the location is the Linwood Estates Gracious Retirement Living facility. "This appears to be a domestic-related incident, and one person is in custody," Pihera said in an emailed statement. No further details about the incident were immediately available.

South Carolina State University was locked down for about an hour Tuesday after reports of a shooting inside an academic building, officials said. No injuries were reported, university officials said in a news release. A teenage student was arrested for a gun crime after he led campus police on a chase, according to the release. Rolando J. Ifill, a 19-year-old from Charleston, was charged with carrying a firearm on school property, officials said. The sophomore could face more charges. Following a foot chase, the campus police officers who responded to the report of the shooting “subdued the suspected shooter ... neutralizing any further threat to safety,” officials said. The university’s Orangeburg campus was on lockdown from 11:30 a.m. to 12:26 p.m., according to the release. Information about a motive for the shooting was not available, and the incident continues to be investigated by campus police, with assistance from the South Carolina State Law Enforcement Division.

A DeKalb County mother is facing multiple charges, including felony murder, following the death of her 1-year-old child, according to arrest warrants. Alice Davis is accused of refusing to feed her son as well as refusing to seek medical attention for the 1-year-old, who was extremely ill and diagnosed with Peripheral Pulmonic Stenosis. Documents also allege Davis concealed the death of her child for over a week without notifying law enforcement. Once the child was discovered, a death investigation was launched by DeKalb County Police. Right now, Davis is being charged with:

- Felony murder
- Concealing death
- Cruelty to children

Two Smyrna police officers are recovering after someone brought in paperwork investigators believe contained a substance that left them suffering from “extreme fatigue, chest pain, chest tightness, dizziness, and difficulty breathing,” an arrest warrant says. Little Gaston Stone, 51, has been charged with two counts of aggravated assault against an officer. The arrest warrant said he walked into the department’s headquarters on Tuesday, recording the visit via a tablet device and speaking about Gov. Brian Kemp. Minutes later, two officers reported feeling fatigue and respiratory distress and were taken to the hospital for treatment, according to investigators. “The FBI has taken custody of the letter presented by Mr. Stone for additional testing,” the warrant says. Stone was arrested Tuesday afternoon and remained Friday in the Cobb jail without bond, booking records showed. At the time of his arrest this week, Scott was already on probation for a separate case, according to Cobb court records. In October, he was sentenced to 12 months on probation after pleading guilty to terroristic threats. In April 2021, Stone was indicted in the case for threatening to blow up a building, records state. Stone was also given probation in Cobb in 1996 for aggravated assault. In 2004, he was given credit for serving a year in jail after pleading guilty to aggravated assault and battery, with nine years to be served on probation, court records showed.

[2/13/2024] A Calhoun County woman and her daughter are charged in the shooting of her ex-husband after initially claiming she was the victim of a home invasion. On Feb. 6, deputies responded to a shooting call on Pattiway Drive in Alexandria where they found 47-year-old Scott Ingram suffering from multiple gunshots wounds. Wendy Ralston, 46, had an active protection from abuse order against Ingram and she claimed that he had appeared at the residence in violation of that order. Ralston told authorities that Ingram had physically assaulted her and that she had escaped from the residence earlier in the day. Ralston did not contact law enforcement at that time. Ralston returned to the home later in the day with her daughter, 24-year-old Destyne Cheshire, said Sheriff Matthew Wade. Cheshire began searching the home for Ingram. The investigation shows that Cheshire kicked open a locked bedroom door and encountered Ingram in the room. Ultimately, the sheriff said, Cheshire fired three shots at Ingram with a 9 mm pistol, striking him three times, once each in the abdomen, arm, and leg. Ingram was transported to an area hospital. The investigation showed through digital evidence that Ralston misled law enforcement in the events that had taken place. Additionally, Wade said, she had allowed Ingram to be in the home in violation of the protection order and that she was aware that he was in the residence when she and Cheshire returned. Ralston filed false reports with law enforcement and subsequently filed a warrant under false pretense, he said. Ralston is charged with first-degree assault, a felony, and false reporting to law enforcement, which is a misdemeanor. Cheshire is charged with first-degree assault.

A Bessemer teen is under arrest after a suspected road-rage shooting in western Jefferson County earlier this week. Sheriff's officials on Thursday announced charges against 19-year-old Da'mariya De'von Carr. The incident happened about 1:45 p.m. Tuesday at the intersection of Sugar Ray Drive and Bessemer Super Highway. Lt. Joni Money said the victim told deputies and another driver had been involved in what he thought to be a road rage incident. During the incident, the driver of the other vehicle pulled alongside the victim's vehicle and fired shots into his car. The victim was struck in the hip and sustained non-life-threatening injuries. Sheriff's detectives were able to obtain a description of the offender's vehicle as well as a license plate number. The information was distributed to neighboring police agencies. The Pleasant Grove Police Department located the vehicle in their city, detained the occupants and notified Jefferson County detectives. Carr is charged with attempted murder. He was booked into the Jefferson County Jail Tuesday night and was released earlier today after posting $30,000 bond.

A man was shot and killed Tuesday afternoon outside a Norcross mechanic shop that he arrived at with two other people, police said. Officers were called to the shop on Lively Avenue, right off Buford Highway, regarding a shots fired call at 3:45 p.m. A man was found dead at the scene, along with another man who witnessed the incident, Norcross police spokesman Capt. Robert Braud confirmed. The suspect had already left the location. According to Braud, the three men knew each other and went to the shop together in hopes of selling some tools. While outside the shop, which the witness drove them all to, the gunshot victim and suspect got into a verbal fight that eventually turned physical, officials confirmed. "The male suspect went back to the car, grabbed a shotgun, shot the victim one time," Braud said, adding that the suspect left the firearm at the scene before fleeing. None of the employees or customers saw the incident, but authorities stated that multiple people heard the gunshot. The witness was not detained and Braud said he does not expect that person to be charged. A description of the suspected gunman was not provided and the victim was not publicly identified.

A man is in serious condition after a stabbing incident in the Montgomery. Police and fire medics were called Tuesday around 4:45 p.m. to the 1100 block of West South Boulevard after receiving a report of a person cut. Once they arrived, they found the unidentified adult male victim with life-threatening injuries. He was taken to a local hospital for treatment. The incident remains under investigation at this time.

The Chamblee Police Department was involved in a chase that ended in a crash in Brookhaven on Tuesday evening, police said. The department said that there was an armed robbery at Plaza Fiesta off Buford Highway. The two suspects took $1,000 and fled the scene of the crime. Their vehicle was then located through flock cameras, and officers started to pursue the suspects. According to the Brookhaven Police Department, the pursuit ended in a crash on Peachtree Road and Ashford Dunwoody Road. The driver of the vehicle then left the scene on foot. The Brookhaven Police Department is assisting the Chamblee Police Department with search efforts to locate the driver as the other suspect was taken into custody. At 5:29 p.m., Brookhaven Police posted on social media that there was a heavy Lanier Drive near Peachtree Road and Windsor Parkway. The department said to avoid the area.

Two shooting victims – a male and a female – were rushed to the hospital after they hit a Birmingham fire station while they were seeking help. One of the victims, the male, was pronounced a short time later at UAB Hospital. In what police called a “chaotic scene,” the ordeal began about 6:40 p.m. when gunfire erupted at the Shell station on the corner of Old Springville Road and Brewster Road. Those inside the sedan fled the scene and were believed to have been seeking medical attention when they crashed into one of the bay doors at Station 30, which is about a half block away. The impact did not break down the door. Because it wasn’t immediately clear what was taking place, an alert was issued indicating a potential threat or danger to a firefighter. That alert drew a massive first responder response to the east Birmingham fire station, with police cars and Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service vehicles lining Springville Road. Birmingham Fire Chief Cory Moon said there were no firefighters injured when the vehicle struck the building. The alert was cleared a short time later.

Police are looking for three men who stole hundreds of dollars from a Family Dollar store in southwest Atlanta on Tuesday. The masked men are accused of entering the store in the 1900 block of Metropolitan Parkway around 7:20 p.m. with handguns and rifles. Video footage from inside the store appeared to show two of them wearing all black sweats and another wearing a gray hoodie. At least two of the men wore blue gloves. The suspects held the employees at gunpoint and forced them to open the cash register, police said. They fled the location with about $850. Authorities said no injuries were reported. The Family Dollar is near several other stores and just off I-85 and Langford Parkway.

An argument turned into a deadly shooting at a DeKalb County Zaxby's on Tuesday night, according to police. DeKalb County Police Department was called around 9 p.m. to a Zaxby's on Panola Road regarding a person being shot. When officers arrived, they reported a 24-year-old man shot twice in the back. He was taken to the hospital, where the police said he later died. Investigators said the victim got into an argument with someone inside the fast food restaurant, and when he walked outside, he was followed and then shot.

The Gainesville Police Department is investigating a shooting that injured two teenagers on Tuesday night. Authorities responded to the 600 block of Central Avenue for a shooting around 9 p.m. on Tuesday for a report of a number of juveniles who got into a fight and weapons were pulled. Investigators later discovered that two 13-year-olds had gunshot wounds to the legs from a shooting. Both went to the hospital and are in stable condition. It is currently unknown how many people were involved as most left before law enforcement arrived, according to police. The police department said that oftentimes, minors obtain guns from cars. The department is encouraging others never to leave firearms in a vehicle as those are often stolen during car break-ins. Anyone with information about this incident can contact GPD here.

A man was found shot and killed late Tuesday night in Atlanta's Carey Park neighborhood, according to the Atlanta Police Department. The department said in a statement that officers responded to a location on Etheridge Drive around 11:15 p.m. "in reference to a male shot." "Upon arrival, officers located an unresponsive male with an apparent gunshot wound," the police statement said. "Grady EMS responded to the scene and transported the male to the hospital where he was pronounced deceased."

The Gwinnett County Police Department said [Wednesday] morning that "we believe all subjects are in custody" after a major police response to what they said was a suspected burglary. The 11Alive SkyTracker flew over the scene along Hwy. 78 near the intersection with Highpoint Rd. as numerous GCPD vehicles were at an automotive store near the light on Walton Ct./Evermore N. Blvd. SW. "We were investigating a possible burglary in the area of 3040 W Main St in Snellville. We believe all subjects are in custody at this time," a Gwinnett Police statement said. That address corresponds with a Maaco Auto Body Shop store. 11Alive sent a crew to the location to learn more details about the incident. It did not appear that Hwy. 78 was closed in either direction.

An Alabama man was shot by Columbus police Wednesday morning when his car backfired during a traffic stop, causing the officers to open fire, authorities said. Jermaine Hernandez, 26, of Phenix City, was hit once during the incident, the GBI said. He was taken to the hospital, but the state agency did not share any details about his condition. Hernandez was pulled over on Manchester Expressway after police recorded him driving about 100 mph through a construction zone, the GBI said. A photo from the scene shows that Hernandez appeared to be driving a dark-colored BMW sedan. "During the traffic stop, Hernandez's car reportedly backfired, causing a loud noise that sounded like gunfire. The officers then shot at Hernandez multiple times," the GBI's statement said. The photo released by the GBI shows a handful of evidence markers scattered along the roadside, showing where at least eight shell casings were found. No officers were injured, and no further information has been released. The GBI will conduct an independent investigation at the request of Columbus police. Once it is complete, the state agency will turn over the case file to the Chattahoochee Judicial Circuit District Attorney's Office for review. The DA's office will then decide if criminal charges are warranted. This is the sixth shooting involving law enforcement the GBI has investigated this year.

A pair of Richland County residents have been arrested on child sexual abuse charges, Richland County Sheriff Leon Lott said in a statement. Larry Dennis, 42, and Lottiea Ingram, 33, were charged Wednesday after a sheriff's department investigation found Dennis was having "inappropriate contact" with a minor and Ingram was aware of it, according to the statement. Dennis is charged with three counts of first-degree criminal sexual conduct with a minor, and Ingram is charged with neglect by a legal custodian, Lott said. Both were booked at Alvin S. Glenn Detention Center Wednesday, but Ingram has since been released, online records show.

A mother and her teen twins are recovering in the hospital after shots were fired into their DeKalb County home in the first hours of the morning on Wednesday, according to the police. DeKalb County Police Department said officers were called to a home on Rock Meadow Drive around midnight regarding a shooting. When they arrived, police said a 42-year-old woman and her 13-year-old twins were shot. The three were taken to the hospital for treatment and expected to be ok. Police said the suspect shot into the house about 40 times before leaving. The police department also added that at least eight other people were in the home and not hurt. Detectives are working to figure out the reason behind the shooting and the suspect.

ACTION 8 UPDATE: Millbrook police say a man who had been arrested on charges of child pornography possession now faces more related charges. As Action 8 News has reported, 55-year-old James Mengel of Millbrook was charged last week with five counts of possession of child pornography. Police say tips led them to an internet account linked to a phone number at an address in the 90 block of Supreme Court, which brought Mengel's arrest. Police say during the continuing examination of evidence, detectives discovered video evidence that involved a minor child. Yesterday, detectives secured additional arrest warrants for Mengel, who has been charged with two counts of production of obscene material containing the visual depiction of a person under 17 involved in obscene acts, and one count of sexual abuse of a child less than 12 years old. Mengel's bond has been raised from $75,000 to $250,000 with the new charges. "After speaking with the lead detective in this case, it is my understanding that there is a tremendous amount of evidence yet to be reviewed in this case. That stated, it would be reasonable to assume that there is a high likelihood that additional charges may be forthcoming. Cases like this are tough for all parties involved," Millbrook Police Chief P.K. Johnson said.

A married couple are dead and a third person was injured in a shooting at a Barrow County home early Thursday morning. Neighbors called 911 to report hearing gunshots at a house on Kendall Park Drive near Winder around 5 a.m., Sheriff Judd Smith told reporters at the scene. When deputies arrived, they found a man with gunshot wounds and then found a man, 63, and a woman, 66, who had also been shot. They were pronounced dead at the scene. The injured man was rushed to a hospital, and Smith said his injuries did not appear to be life-threatening. No suspect information or details about what led to the shooting have been released. “We’re sifting through bodycam footage right now, from when the deputies responded on scene, so we’re hoping to try to narrow down what happened,” Smith said. “I do want to make it very clear to the public that we feel ... very confident that this was isolated to the home.”

Sheffield police say one man is in custody connection following the killing Thursday of a motel owner. Chief Ricky Terry said Pravin Raojibhai Patel, owner of the Hillcrest Motel, was gunned down this morning. A short time later, police arrested William Jeremy Moore, 34. Terry said Moore was arrested, following a police pursuit, on 13th Avenue after officers said he was trying to break into an abandoned house. Investigators say Moore wanted to rent a room at the motel when an altercation with Patel took place. “When searching Mr. Moore, the murder weapon was found in his possession,” Terry said. Moore is currently being held in the Sheffield City Jail until he is transferred to the Colbert County Jail. Patel’s body will be transported to the Alabama Forensics Lab for an autopsy. Sheffield City Schools said in a social media post that it has cleared its schools of a lockdown following a police pursuit of a suspect. “Schools were never in danger, nor was there any incident on campus, at approximately 9:40 a.m. Sheffield campuses acted on a directive from the Sheffield Police Department to go on a lockdown for safety precautions,” the system stated. “The incident ended, and the lockdown was lifted by 10 a.m.” Police say more details will be released later.

Montgomery police say a man has been fatally shot in north Montgomery. Montgomery Police Dept. Capt. Raymond Carson told Action 8 News the shooting happened yesterday afternoon at about 2:55PM. Police were called to the 2900 block of Tyler Road, which is near the intersection of Northern Boulevard and Lower Wetumpka Road. That's where Carson said officers found a man with a fatal gunshot wound. His name hasn't been released. Police are conducting a death investigation. No other details have been released.

An investigation is underway after a shooting outside a west Birmingham restaurant. The shooting happened at 4:52 p.m. Thursday outside Church's Chicken on Jefferson Avenue S.W. The initial information was that a male and female were initially shot. That was later updated to just the male being shot. Police radio communications indicated the male was shot in the chest. It appears the victims then drove to nearby Steiner Avenue, where police and medics responded. The male was taken to the hospital with possibly life-threatening injuries.

One of the teenagers seriously injured in a shooting and stabbing near an East Point high school Friday evening has died, officials said. The incident happened near Tri-Cities High School off Norman Berry Drive in the Jefferson Park neighborhood. Brian Noyes with Fulton County schools confirmed that it occurred after a basketball game between Tri-Cities and Benjamin Banneker High School and as people were leaving campus. The stabbing happened on campus near the school's gym and the shooting occurred at a nearby railroad track off campus, Noyes said. No weapons were found to have been brought into any of the school's building, Noyes added. Officials had said the two victims suffered serious injuries in different altercations on and near campus. On Saturday evening, Dr. Ethel Lett, principal of Tri-Cities High School, said one of the teenagers, identified as 10th grader Mario Bailey, had died. They both were students.

[3/23/2024] Two Mississippi men were in stolen high-dollar vehicles and street racing when they caused a crash on Interstate 459 in Hoover, causing the death of one of their friends, court records show. Tyrique M. Carter, 22, of Byram, Miss., and Elisha Jamal Lindsey, 22, of Jackson, Miss., were initially charged with reckless murder in the Feb. 9 death of Tamarion Burton of Jackson, Miss. They were also charged at that time with attempting elude, and Carter was charged with leaving the scene of an accident with injuries or death. Both men are now charged with receiving stolen property and motor vehicle speed contest, a law enacted in Alabama in 2023 to crack down on street racing and exhibition driving. Court records show Carter was driving a stolen 2023 BMW 2 worth $79,899 and Lindsey was driving a stolen 2020 Jeep Grand Cherokee Trackhawk worth $97,460.51. Charging documents state they were involved in an “exhibition of speed” and a “speed contest” at the time of the deadly crash. Authorities said those involved were traveling together in a group in three vehicles. They were on their way to Mississippi from Atlanta. The crash happened at 10:09 a.m. Friday, Feb. 9, on I-459 southbound near U.S. 31. Hoover police Lt. Daniel Lowe at the time said all three vehicles were occupied by individuals who knew each other. They were each traveling at a very high rate of speed together on I-459 when the BMW and Nissan Sentra collided with one another, sending the Nissan Sentra off the roadway and into a tree. The BMW and Jeep Grand Cherokee both briefly stopped but fled the scene when police arrived, resulting in the pursuit. Burton was pronounced dead on the scene. Another person inside the car – Kortlon Talton – was taken to the hospital with serious injuries that required

A man from Miami is wanted after a wild and dangerous chain of events that included a shooting, multiple crashes and a police chase. It all started the morning of Saturday, Feb. 10, along North Expressway in Hampton. A man said he and his 10-year-old son were going to get some tires for his truck. "As we were coming through town up by the RaceTrac, a man decided to cut me off in traffic," he explained, adding, "After I honked, he brake-checked me and we ended up having a small accident." He said he tried to pull around the driver he rear-ended to get off the highway. As he was pulling around him to drive to the RaceTrac gas station parking lot, he said that's when the shots rang out. "My son is actually the one who saw it. He turned around, seen the flash of light come out, and screamed, 'He's shooting at us!'" he explained. The man said it took him a second to realize what was actually happening. "The dings I was hearing was bullets going through my truck. One of them actually fell in my boot," he said. The man said at this point, his only thought was to get his son out of this situation. "So, I took off, and it turned into a high-speed chase," he explained. "I was trying to put as much distance between me, him and my kid. That was the only thought in my brain: get my kid away from him." In the meantime, he said he dropped his phone on the floorboard, and his son called 911. His goal was to get them to the Hampton Police Department, which was just a couple miles away. On the way there, he admits he ran a red light, which caused a crash, but he knew if he stopped, this guy might continue to shoot at him and his son. "That's where I was going (Hampton Police Department) because I had no way to defend myself," he explained. Once they got to the police department, he said Hampton Police officers were waiting with their guns

A north Alabama homeowner killed a man who kicked a door open and entered a house early Saturday morning, Limestone County Sheriff Joshua McLaughlin said. Deputies answered a call of a burglary in progress in the 17000 block of Morris Road in Elkmont, the sheriff's office said. The call came in at 4:20 a.m. The homeowners said someone violently trying to break in woke them up. The individual kicked the door in before deputies could arrive and was hit with gunfire from the homeowner. The man retreated outside where he died, the sheriff's office said. The deceased man has been identified by investigators as Christopher Jason Hovis, 44, of Hartselle. The investigation is ongoing, but preliminary results indicate a justified shooting, according to the sheriff's office. There are no charges at this time.

A 3-year-old boy has died after a loaded gun was left within reach at his family home in DeKalb County on Saturday morning, authorities said. DeKalb police were called around 7 a.m. to the 2600 block of Habersham Drive, a residential neighborhood in Candler-McAfee. When officers arrived, they were told the boy had shot himself in the face and that his mother had taken him to the hospital, where he died. Several people were detained at the residence, located near Candler Road. Investigators eventually determined the gun belonged to Antoine Jordan, who allegedly left it unsecured, police said. Jordan is accused of causing the child's death by "not properly storing his loaded firearm, which the child picked up and then discharged," according to arrest warrants obtained Monday. Police have not said if he is the child's father. Jordan was booked into the DeKalb jail early Sunday on charges of murder in the second degree and cruelty to children in the second degree, online records show.

Huntsville police Friday said its Major Crimes Unit investigators are still looking into the circumstances around a fatal shooting last Saturday. The incident happened in the 2100 block of Atkins Drive on Feb. 10, shortly after 11:20 a.m. Pierre Jahil Seay, 32, of Huntsville, was killed in a shooting that apparently resulted after a verbal altercation between two people who knew each other. Police said investigators interviewed all those who saw or participated in the incident. No charges have been filed at this time. Once the investigation is complete, it will be determined if the case will be sent to a Madison County Grand Jury for a final decision to be made, police said.

Police have identified a man who was fatally shot Saturday as 53-year-old Gregory Wayne Headen of Durham. Shortly after 3:30 pm, officers were dispatched to the 3800 block of Guess Road, near the intersection with Horton Road in northern Durham, where they found a man who had been shot. He was taken to a hospital, where he was pronounced dead, according to a news release. ABC11, The News & Observer's news-gathering partner, said the man, identified Monday as Headen, was found in the parking lot of a shopping center. Police have not arrested anyone or announced a suspect in the case. It was the second homicide in the city late last week. On Friday, police said, 40-year-old Laron Dante Allen died after a shooting Thursday on the 4500 block of Denfield Street in Durham. Police have not arrested anyone in that case.

A man was shot and killed Saturday evening after a dispute ended in gunfire at a troubled apartment complex in southwest Atlanta, according to authorities. The shooting happened just before 10:15 p.m. at the Pavilion Place apartments on Cleveland Avenue. Officers arrived in the Hammond Park neighborhood and found the man shot at least once. He died at the scene, police said. According to authorities, the shooting was the result of an "escalated" dispute at the complex. Hours later, police said a suspect was arrested and charged in the killing. Gustavius Senior, in his mid-30s, was booked into the Fulton County jail on charges of murder and aggravated assault, police said.

A Raleigh police officer shot a gun-wielding man Saturday night in Southeast Raleigh, near the Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Memorial Gardens, according to Raleigh police. At about 10:30 p.m. on Saturday, Raleigh police said they responded to a report of shots fired near 800 Rock Quarry Road. There, police said an officer found a man with a gun and shot him. The man was then taken into custody and treated for his injuries, Deputy Chief Zachary Lechette said during a Sunday morning news conference. Police also said they found other people injured on the scene. Four people were taken to local hospitals and treated for their injuries, said Lechette. Lechette said the involvement of the injured people is still being investigated. He said the investigation is ongoing and did not identify the person shot by police or say how old he is. Officers' body camera footage is being reviewed and will be a part of an ongoing investigation by the State Bureau of Investigation and Raleigh Police Department internal affairs, in keeping with departmental policy, said Lechette. The incident shut down a stretch of Rock Quarry Road for several hours Saturday night and Sunday morning, but it has since been reopened.

A teenage boy died after being struck by gunfire at a home in southeast Atlanta on Saturday evening, authorities said. Atlanta police were called around 11 p.m. to the two-story house in the 900 block of Linam Avenue for a person shot. The home is located in the Peoplestown neighborhood near Hank Aaron Drive. At the scene, officers found the 16-year-old suffering from a gunshot wound. He was taken to a hospital, where he died. He was identified as Marcellius Stokes by the Fulton County Medical Examiner's Office. Police have not said what led to the shooting. On Sunday morning, officers returned to the home, where they detained a person of interest.

A Shell gas station on Hill Street turned into a scene of violence overnight in Atlanta's Capital Gateway neighborhood. At this time, not much information is known. However, police have told us that a man was shot twice following an "escalating dispute." That man is currently stable at Grady Hospital, according to investigators. There is no word yet on a suspect.

[2/24/204] The Richland County Sheriff's Department arrested a teenager for a string of robberies, Sheriff Leon Lott announced. The 17-year-old was arrested Friday for three separate robberies at local gas stations in Columbia between Feb. 11 and Feb. 13, in which he pulled a gun while "demanding the store's cash." One incident was at the 7-Eleven on Longreen Parkway, another at the Circle K on Farrow Road and the third at the Circle K on Parklane Road. The teenager was charged with three counts of robbery, three counts of kidnapping and three counts of possession of a weapon during a violent crime. He will be charged as an adult. It is unclear how the teenager obtained the gun. He was taken to the juvenile division of the Alvin S. Glenn Detention Center.

A woman was arrested Sunday after deputies discovered a man had been shot, the Sumter County Sheriff's Office said. Iszarah Rockingham-Barnett, a 22-year-old Pinewood resident, was charged with attempted murder and possession of a weapon during a violent crime. At about 1 a.m. Sunday, someone made a 911 call but hung up without speaking. Deputies investigating the call responded to the area near Ballpark Road in Pinewood and found a man who had been shot, the sheriff's office said. The victim had a serious wound but identified Rockingham-Barnett as the suspect before he was airlifted to Prisma Health Richland hospital in Columbia, according to the release. The sheriff's office said the man was in stable condition. Rockingham-Barnett, who lives about a mile from the crime scene, was arrested and taken to the Sumter County Sheriff's Office Detention Center. Her bond was denied, the sheriff's office said. There was no word on a motive for the shooting, or if Rockingham-Barnett and the victim knew each other prior to the shooting.

A woman acted in self-defense when she shot and killed a man who broke into her home early Sunday morning, according to the Richland County Sheriff's Department. The shooting happened about 5 a.m. at the Greenbrier Apartments in the 100 block of Willow Oak Drive, the sheriff's department said in a news release. The apartment complex is by S.C. 277, not far from Exit 73 on Interstate 20. Deputies who responded to call about a shooting at the apartment complex encountered the woman, according to the release. The woman told the deputies that she heard a banging at the door to her apartment, which she shares with her two children, the sheriff's department said. As she approached the door, the man broke inside the apartment, prompting the woman to get a gun from her purse, according to the release. The woman then asked the man to identify himself, but he continued to approach, according to the sheriff's department. That's when she fatally shot the intruder. After opening fire, the woman called law enforcement. The woman was brought to the sheriff's department headquarters where she was questioned before being released shortly after. The sheriff's department said it determined that she acted in self-defense and no charges were filed. No other injuries were reported, and the sheriff's department said the children were not physically harmed. There was no word if the woman knew the man nor was any information disclosed about why the man broke into the apartment.

Two shootings and a stabbing brought a violent end to Sunday's Mardi Gras festivities in Mobile and sent four people to the hospital, according to Mobile police. The first of the three incidents occurred about 6 p.m., when officers assigned to work Mardi Gras parades were notified of a fight in the parking lot of Bayside Church on Dauphin Street. When they arrived, police found a male victim suffering from multiple lacerations, according to a release from MPD, although Chief Paul Prine told WALA Sunday there were two stabbing victims. The release said one victim had been involved in the fight and was accidentally injured by an acquaintance who was attempting to break up the fight between the victim and two others. A second incident, just five minutes after the first, Mobile officers were dispatched to the intersection of Anthony Street and N. Warren Street on a report of a gunshot victim. Officers found the victim, who had been approached by two unknown males who shot the victim multiple times. The man was transported to a local hospital with what were described as non-life-threatening injuries. Finally, about 6:20 p.m., police working Mardi Gras detail near Springhill Avenue and Broad Street heard the sound of gunfire. When they found the source of the gun shots, they learned two bystanders -- a male and a female -- had both been struck by gunfire. Initial investigation indicated a married couple had engaged in a verbal altercation and, as friends of the couple tried to diffuse the situation, 31-year-old Charlesa Kate Welch drew a weapon and attempted to shoot the husband involved in the altercation, but instead struck the two bystanders. The two bystanders were taken to a local hospital for treatment. Police said their injuries didn't appear serious. Welch

A 44-year-old man is under arrest in the theft of a Jefferson County school bus that was located in Walker County. James Stafford is charged with first-degree theft of property. Stafford was booked into the Jefferson County Jail about 9:30 p.m. Monday and remains held on $20,000 bond. Jefferson County sheriff's deputies were notified about the missing bus at 6:45 a.m. Monday. Lt. Joni Money said the driver parked the Jefferson County Board of Education school bus at the West Jefferson Town Hall building on Friday afternoon. When he returned to the bus Monday morning to begin his route, he discovered the bus was missing. It was taken from 7000 West Jefferson Road in Quinton at about 3:35 a.m. Monday, Money said. A substitute bus was used to transport students, school officials said. Sheriff's authorities received information shortly before 5:30 p.m. that the bus had been spotted on Free Will Road, just inside Walker County. They responded and found the bus on an old logging road. Money said there were fresh footprints leading away from the bus. Deputies brought in a tracking dog, which led them to Stafford.

The Athens-Clarke County Police Department is investigating a homicide after a person was found shot and killed Monday morning. According to the police department, officers responded to a report of a shooting around the 1200 block of Athens Road at 8:53 a.m. When officers arrived, they found 48-year-old Willie Jewell of Winterville dead at the scene from a gunshot wound. The suspect, 26-year-old Cedric Jones of Athens, was found at the location and taken into custody. Jones has since been arrested and is being charged with murder, the police department said. Montgomery police say a suspicious subject fired at an officer Monday afternoon. Police Department spokesperson Maj. Saba Coleman told Action 8 News that about 3:50 this afternoon, police were called to the 3800 block of East South Boulevard, which is near the intersection of Troy Highway. Coleman says when police made contact with what was described as a suspicious subject, the person ran off with at least one officer running behind. Coleman says during the chase, the person fired at the officer but the officer did not return fire. More officers were called to the chase before the person, a male, was caught around the Eastern Boulevard Service Road and Richard Road. Coleman says charges are pending. She says there were no injuries. No other information has been released.

A suspect is behind bars after police said he tried to rob a credit union in Hoover. Ian Everett D' Arpa, 46, of Birmingham, is charged with first-degree robbery and second degree criminal mischief, according to Hoover police. Hoover 911 at 4:47 p.m. Monday received a call of an attempted robbery at a credit union located on Inverness Center Parkway. Authorities did not identify the credit union. Investigators say D' Arpa entered the building, indicated he was armed, and demanded a large sum of money before leaving the credit union. He did not get any money, said Capt. Keith Czeskleba. The suspect's description was broadcast to other officers and surrounding law enforcement agencies. At 5:05 p.m., Hoover officers and Shelby County sheriff's deputies responded to a restaurant in the 4600 block of U.S. 280 on a report of a man acting erratically. Czeskleba said he had shattered the front door of the business. As officers and deputies arrived, they immediately recognized the man as matching the description of the bank robbery suspect and detained him. An investigation began and the identity of the suspect was quickly confirmed as the person who had attempted to rob the credit union. As of Wednesday afternoon, D' Arpa was awaiting transfer from the Hoover City Jail to the Shelby County Jail.

A Jackson County man was arrested on multiple charges after Gainesville police tried to check on him as he sat unmoving in his car at a busy intersection, leading to the man escalating the situation and ramming two patrol cars, authorities said. James Edward Harrison, 39, of Jefferson, was subdued with a Taser before being placed under arrest near the intersection of Browns Bridge Road and Pearl Nix Parkway around 9 p.m. Monday, Gainesville police said. Officers took Harrison to the hospital where he was medically cleared, then booked him into the Hall County Jail on several charges. Harrison now faces four counts of aggravated assault on a police officer, one count of possession of methamphetamine and three counts of obstruction, police said. He remains in jail without bond. The incident began when police were called by passers-by concerned about a driver sitting in the middle of the road in a white Dodge Charger. When officers tried to assist the driver, later identified as Harrison, he “immediately began to be non-compliant,” police said. Harrison refused to follow any of the officers’ commands and ignored attempts to de-escalate the situation, according to police. He ultimately put his Charger in gear and rammed two police cars before an officer deployed a Taser on him and he was pulled from the driver’s seat, authorities said. Police did not say how much damage was caused or if Harrison was suspected of being under the influence of any illegal drugs during the encounter. No officers were reportedly injured, and no further information has been released.

[2/14/2024] A 16-year-old Birmingham shooting suspect was captured Wednesday on Interstate 59/20 after a chase. The young suspect, authorities said, was wanted on at least one attempted murder charge and was arrested in a vehicle that was stolen in a Homewood carjacking Tuesday night. The U.S. Marshals Gulf Coast Regional Fugitive Task Force was searching for the teen on the Birmingham warrant when they apparently spotted him and called in Jefferson County Sheriff's Office marked units to conduct a traffic stop. Sheriff's deputies tried to box in and stop the teen, but he crashed into a U.S. Marshals vehicle and then fled. The pursuit only lasted about four or five miles before the suspect was forced to stop because of the damage to his vehicle. The pursuit ended on I-59/20 near Ensley. The teen was taken into custody without further incident at 11:07 a.m. Sheriff's deputies, U.S. Marshals, Birmingham police and ALEA State Bureau of Investigation were on the scene. The suspect was in a white, four-door Audi sedan that was taken Tuesday night from an apartment complex on Valley Ridge Drive in Homewood. Homewood police Sgt. John Carr said the victim was sitting in his car. He was approached by several armed man and took his vehicle at gunpoint. The victim was not injured.

Wake Forest police have arrested a local man they say killed his sister and attacked his mother late Tuesday night. Police responded just before midnight to a reported stabbing incident in a home on the 3100 block of Polanski Drive. They found 24-year-old Nyla Denae Eaddy suffering from multiple stab wounds. She was taken to a local hospital where she died, according to a news release. Officers also found a second stabbing victim, 47-year-old Dena Coston Eaddy, with non-life-threatening injuries. Police arrested Edmond Eaddy Jr., 20, on charges of murder and assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill inflicting serious injury, the release stated. Town records show, before Tuesday, police were called to the home once in the past three years, for a non-violent complaint, a town spokesperson told The News & Observer by email. Eaddy is being held in the Wake County Detention Center under no bail. His first court appearance is Thursday.

[4/5/2024] Two Shelby County daycare workers have been arrested on charges of abuse of a toddler girl in their care. Tanya Teresa Lapsley, 56, and Wanda Hearn Henderson, 63, are charged with aggravated child abuse, according to court records made public Friday. Authorities said the women were employed at Milestone Academy & Childcare in Montevallo. Efforts to reach officials for comment were not immediately successful. The charges involve one victim – a 2 year-old girl – with a listed offense date of Feb. 13. Henderson, of Pleasant Grove, “forcibly jerked, pulled, snatched, slung the 2-year-old victim around causing bruises and marks while having custody of her inside the daycare facility,” according to charging documents. Lapsley, documents state, “forcibly pulled, jerked, snatched, and tugged at the victim leaving marks and bruises. This was done while the defendant was caring for the victim inside a daycare.” The criminal complaint said the alleged abuse happened on more than one occasion. Both women were booked into the Shelby County Jail Thursday with bond set at $180,000 each.

From the West Alabama Newsroom – A Selma woman and several juveniles have been arrested in Dallas County – following a big brawl at a local high school. “We have a volatile situation that could have lead to several people being killed.” Sheriff Mike Granthum says deputies were called out to Southside High School at around 11:35 Tuesday morning – when a fight involving several students broke out near the school cafeteria. Granthum says when deputies arrived at the school – they found 20 year old Aniayah Lewis in the school parking lot with two loaded pistols. And when officers began questioning her – she tried to run away. Lewis was arrested – along with about seven juveniles who were involved in the brawl. “And one of her guns had a drum. I mean she was, she, I mean she had it in her waistband. I mean, it was fully loaded. And then she had one on her leg. So, I mean, it’s just not going to be tolerated. You’re not going to come to school grounds and disrupt class. You’re not going to be a student in our schools and disrupt the learning process, you’re not going to do it,” said Granthum. Deputies are searching for 18 year old – Michael Hunter. Hunter is a Southside student – wanted in connection with the campus melee. “He was involved it. And he’s an adult. We have assault 3rd charges on him. So, if anybody knows his whereabouts of a Michael Hunter we ask that you call us,” Granthum said. Lewis is free tonight – on a $750,000 dollar bond.

A woman was in custody after leading law enforcement officers on a chase that ended with her crashing a car with her four young children inside, the Forest Acres Police Department said. The pursuit and collision happened Tuesday night. At about 6:20 p.m., officers responded to a 911 call about shoplifting at Trenholm Plaza, according to the release. Police said at least two stores in the shopping center on Forest Drive in Columbia were targeted. At the scene, witnesses described the shoplifting suspect and her vehicle to the officers, who used that information to locate the woman. Police said 37-year-old Columbia resident Ashley Nicole Baker was the woman accused of shoplifting. An officer turned on his blue lights and tried to pull over a black Honda Pilot while it was still in the shopping center's parking lot, but the driver, later identified as Baker, refused to stop and headed out onto Forest Drive, police said. She attempted to evade police and continued to drive away on Forest Drive and other side streets before turning onto South Trenholm Road, ignoring pursuing police patrol cars that had their lights and sirens activated. The Honda hit a patrol car on the side and Baker lost control of her vehicle, causing the SUV to flip over a brick barrier into a nearby yard. The SUV landed on its hood, just feet from the resident's front door in the 4100 block of South Trenholm Road. At that point, Baker got out of the wrecked SUV and was taken into custody. Police said she suffered minor injuries in the crash. Baker's four children — all 13-year-old or younger — were found in the SUV. The kids were all responsive and were taken to an area hospital for further evaluation.

Cobb County police are looking for the driver of a black sport utility vehicle who left the scene of a fatal crash late Tuesday. Officials said 32-year-old Melissa Winslow was riding a bicycle across Veterans Memorial Highway at Puckett Drive in Mableton around 8:15 p.m. when she was hit by a vehicle that was headed west. That driver did not stop. Winslow was thrown from the bike, which came to rest in the center turn lane, police said. At the same time, 38-year-old Christopher Johnson was headed east on a 2008 Harley-Davidson Street Bob when he collided with the bicycle's debris. That caused him to lose control, and the motorcycle hit the curb. Johnson was pronounced dead at the scene, authorities said. Winslow was rushed to Wellstar Kennestone Hospital with serious injuries. Officials did not provide a more detailed description of the SUV.

Four students were wounded in a drive-by shooting outside Atlanta's Benjamin Mays High School on Wednesday afternoon, officials said. Students had just been dismissed from the school in southwest Atlanta when a vehicle drove past the parking lot and someone inside opened fire, Atlanta's public school district told local NBC affiliate WXIA. All four victims were hospitalized with non-life-threatening injuries, according to the district. No other students or staff were wounded by the gunfire. Local news helicopters showed a heavy police presence at the school, with caution tape around the parking lot and numerous evidence markers on the ground. After school activities were canceled, according to WXIA. The shooting came on the six-year anniversary of the school shooting at Marjory Stoneman Douglas High in Parkland, Fla. In that shooting, a former student named Nikolas Cruz killed 17 people and wounded 17 others. Cruz was sentenced to life in prison in 2022. Elsewhere on Wednesday, one person was killed and as many as 15 others injured in a shooting in Kansas City following the Chiefs' Super Bowl victory parade. Two people were immediately detained at the scene.

A man was shot by an officer Tuesday evening after breaking into a vehicle in southwest Atlanta, officials said. The police sergeant was patrolling in the area of Forsyth and Brotherton streets, just south of downtown near the Garnett MARTA station, shortly before 8 p.m. when he came across a car break-in, Atlanta police Maj. Peter Malecki told reporters near the scene. Broken glass was observed on the ground before the sergeant saw a man, identified as 31-year-old Antonio Carter, in the back of the silver Nissan Altima that was parked along the street, according to the GBI. Officials said the vehicle had a broken window. "The officer gave Carter verbal commands to show his hands before firing into the car and hitting Carter," the state agency said. Carter was detained, and Malecki said a firearm was found in his possession. Carter was taken Grady Memorial Hospital and is expected to survive. Officials said he was shot in the face. The officer was not injured. "Traumatic experience, but he is unharmed," Malecki said regarding the sergeant involved. After the GBI investigation is complete, the case file will be given to the Fulton County District Attorney's Office for review.

The teen accused of killing his 20-month-old daughter this week was already charged last year with stabbing the child's mother, according to an incident report from the Bibb County Sheriff's Office. The Bibb County Sheriff's Office says In the early morning hours of Feb. 14, Akiem Jamal Jordan went to the home of his girlfriend and their 20-month-old daughter, Bella Jordan. They say he got into a fight with Bella's grandmother, injuring her, and then took the toddler. The sheriff's office says they found Jordan three hours later and 7 miles away, with Bella's body in his car. The child had been beaten and stabbed, according to Deputy Coroner Lonnie Miley. Jordan has been charged with murder and three counts of aggravated assault. A second person, Rahem Devar Ferrell, also faces charges of murder and two counts of aggravated assault. Both are being held without bond. The sheriff's office says that the toddler's mother, Shandrea Spencer, was the one who reported Wednesday's fight and abduction. Less than a year ago, they say, Spencer was the victim of a stabbing on April 29, 2023, when she told Akiem she had been seeing someone else.

A shooting at an apartment complex in Stonecrest left one person dead and another seriously injured Wednesday morning. DeKalb County police were called to the 2600 block of Embarcadero Drive in the Windward Forest Apartments community shortly before 6 a.m. about reports of gunfire. The complex is located off Hillandale Drive, which runs parallel to I-20. When officers arrived, they found two people with gunshot wounds, officials said. One victim was declared dead at the scene and the other was rushed to a hospital in critical condition. Officers and crime scene investigators were still canvassing the area around 7:30 a.m. A neighbor told reporters she heard gunshots around 5:45 a.m. "It sounded about four or five, and I heard a female screaming," Julie Almond said, adding that she did not go outside or see anything. "I stayed in my bed," she said. Detectives were focusing on an area by a building next to some bushes, where a blue tarp had been erected to block the public's view. Another group of investigators was seen wearing protective gear and rummaging through a dumpster looking for evidence.

Police offered new insights Friday morning in the case from the day prior where a 17-year-old was found shot to death in the woods in DeKalb County. On Thursday morning, police responded to a person shot call on North Hairston Round and discovered a teen boy dead in a wooded area. The DeKalb County Medical Examiner's Office later identified the victim as 17-year-old James Smith. In an update on Friday, the DeKalb County Police Department said their investigation "indicated he had a dispute with unknown persons on February 13 and his death was possibly tied to that." The department added: "We encourage anyone with information regarding this homicide to contact our detectives at 770-724-7850." On Thursday, 11Alive spoke with a neighbor who said the gun violence needs to end. "It's very scary and a shame that we can't walk out and do daily things today with all the shooting going on," Monica McNeal said. "Put the guns down because it's too much, too many of us leaving here today, especially our teenagers. 'Please put the guns down in Jesus name, Amen.'"

An investigation is underway after a body was found Thursday morning in east Birmingham. A passerby made the discovery about 10:17 a.m. in the 4200 block of 48th Avenue North. The body was found face down in a pile of trash in an illegal dumping site. Sgt. LaQuitta Wade said a person who picks up items in the area found the body and asked someone to call 911. Police were initially unclear if foul play was involved, but now say the victim had been shot.

Four first responders were injured trying to provide medical aid to a man who was shot by an officer Thursday after charging at her with a machete in Chamblee, officials said. The incident began at a Walmart Supercenter on Chamblee Tucker Road near Peachtree Boulevard around 2:40 p.m. when a 911 call was made regarding a man in the pharmacy area with a weapon, according to the GBI. Dispatch advised the officer that the suspect, identified as 22-year-old Tyrese Markee Simon by the GBI, had a machete. As the officer neared the grocery store, she noticed the suspect walking along Chamblee Tucker Road and tried to speak with him. The officer then began to follow Simon on foot and told him several times to stop and show his hands, the state agency said. The chase continued toward an area under an overpass on Chamblee Tucker Road near Peachtree Road. It was then that the man “pulled out a machete, turned and faced the officer with the blade in hand, and charged toward the officer,” according to the GBI. The officer fired her gun at the suspect several times, striking him, officials confirmed. The officer was not injured. Additional officers and firefighters responded to the scene soon after shots were fired and rendered aid to Simon. “He remained combative, assaulting two officers and two firefighters while they were providing aid,” the GBI said. Simon was taken to Grady Memorial Hospital and is in critical condition. The GBI will conduct an independent investigation into the officer-involved shooting and turn over its findings to the DeKalb County District Attorney’s Office for review.

Two brothers have been arrested in connection with a shooting at a Clayton County apartment complex that left a man dead Thursday night. Lake City police Chief J. Brett Stanelle said the brothers, 18-year-old Jaquavise Woodard and 24-year-old Jaquez Woodard, have both been charged with murder. They are accused of shooting and killing a 44-year-old man amid a fight. Stanelle said his officers got a call around 9 p.m. about a person being shot at The Flats apartments on Harper Drive. It's located on the opposite side of a woodline from Clayton State University. When police arrived, they found the victim with gunshot wounds. Officers rendered aid until emergency medical personnel arrived, but he did not survive. His name has not been released as officials continue their efforts to notify his family. Investigators believe the Woodards, who live in the complex, were fighting with the victim and it spilled into the parking lot, where multiple shots were fired. Stanelle said several firearms were recovered from the scene, including a rifle believed to be the murder weapon. In addition to the murder charge, Jaquavise Woodard faces charges of reckless conduct and possession of a firearm during the commission of a crime.

Two people in a stolen Dodge Challenger died following a Thursday night crash near Rock Hill after the car failed to stop for police officers, South Carolina officials said. The passenger died at the scene near S.C. 72 and the driver died at a Charlotte hospital after the crash, the Rock Hill Police Department and S.C. Highway Patrol said in statements released Friday. The investigation showed the Challenger had been reported stolen from another jurisdiction, Rock Hill police said in the statement. The area of the crash is near the southern edge of Rock Hill off S.C. 72, also called Saluda Road. The car hit a tree after going off Harper Gault Road just outside the Rock Hill city limits around 10:45 p.m. Thursday, Master Trooper Mitchel Ridgeway said. A city of Rock Hill officer attempted a traffic stop for defective lights on the Challenger as it turned from S.C. 72 on to Harper Gault Road, the statement from Rock Hill police said. The officer activated siren and blue lights after the Challenger accelerated, then cut off the emergency equipment without engaging in a pursuit, the Rock Hill police statement said. The officer found the car wrecked near the intersection of Harper Gault Road and Oakdale Road, Rock Hill police said. The passenger was ejected and the driver was trapped in the vehicle, officials said.

Chris Norris and Liyah Webster were excitedly planning for their baby's upcoming gender reveal. The Disney-inspired party was set for April 6, and it was there that friends and family would find out if the baby was going to a "Moana" or a "Maui." Instead, loved ones are now planning a vigil and funerals for the young couple after the vanished Valentine's Day and were found murdered inside their vehicle two days later in a Wylam alley. "They were really happy to be parents," said Sherita Clark, Norris's cousin. Angeliyah nevaeh Jolie Webster and Christan Tyre Norris, both 20, were last seen about 5 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 14, in the 1500 block of 20th Place in Ensley. They were believed to be on their way to a movie date at an unknown theater. They were in a white Ford Taurus. Their bodies were found about 4 p.m. Friday inside Norris's vehicle in the 4100 block of 10th Avenue in Wylam. Clark said the victims' mothers had been trying to call them Thursday but to no avail. They immediately became concerned. "Normally they'd check in throughout the day," Clark said. "There's not a day that goes by that they're not communicating with someone in their family." Concern quickly turned to alarm. "It had had been a full 24 hours and no one had seen them or heard from them," she said. "You get a little concerned when you don't talk to them for one day but when it hits two days and no one has heard from them, that becomes a problem." They filed a report with the Birmingham Police Department which issued bulletins for the couple late Thursday night. On Friday, the family continued their own search.

A 19-month boy is dead, and his mother's boyfriend is in custody. The investigation began about 8:15 p.m. Friday when Jefferson County sheriff's deputies were called to the emergency room at UAB Medical Center West on a report of a child who had been brought in with multiple injuries. The toddler – Gabriel Alonso – was pronounced dead upon arrival at the hospital, said sheriff's Lt. Joni Money. Few details have been released. The family lived in McCalla. Money said a 27-year-old was taken into custody. The evidence will be presented to the Jefferson County District Attorney's Office in Bessemer, which will determine the charges.

One man was killed and another was injured Friday evening in separate shootings in areas south of Atlanta, police said. At a home in the 1300 block of Grant Street in the Chosewood Park neighborhood in southeast Atlanta, officers were called around 8:20 p.m. regarding a person shot. A man suffering from a gunshot wound and in critical condition was found at the scene, police said. The man was taken to a hospital, where he later died. His name was not released. Just three minute after the first shooting, officers responded to a business in the 300 block of Cleveland Avenue in southwest Atlanta. The location is about four miles south from the first scene. Police said they were notified the victim had already been taken to a hospital by a private vehicle. The 39-year-old man suffered a gunshot wound but was found to be stable at the hospital, according to authorities. Officials have not released information on a suspect or motive in either shooting.

Tuskegee police are investigating a homicide that left a juvenile dead. Police Chief Jennifer Jordan told Action 8 News that the juvenile was killed late last night, possibly between 10–11PM. It happened at the intersection of Auburn Street and William Street. The juvenile was taken to a hospital and was pronounced dead. She has released no other details.

A 20-year-old was killed and two teenagers have been injured in a shooting that occurred in a northwest Mobile neighborhood, police confirmed Saturday. Cpl. Katrina Frazier said officers working Mardi Gras duty responded to shots fired in the 1500 block of Next Street at approximately 11:15 a.m. on Saturday, where they discovered the three gunshot victims. Police discovered a 20-year-old male in the roadway with life-threatening gunshot wounds. He died at the hospital, according to Frazier. Authorities also found an 18-year-old male with life-threatening injuries, and a 16-year-old male with non-life-threatening injuries.

Days after a man's death was called suspicious, the Aiken County Coroner's Office determined the 31-year-old was a homicide victim. On Wednesday, Coroner Darryl Ables said an autopsy showed that Augusta, Georgia resident Demon A. Parrish had been shot and killed. Parrish's body was discovered Feb. 17 in a wooded area near the 3500 block of Silver Bluff Road, close to Atomic Road, according to the coroner's office. That's less than 15 miles from Augusta. The owner of the property found the body, the coroner's office said. Information about when Parrish died, and if he died where his body was recovered, was not available. There was no word on a shooter, or shooters, or anyone else involved. Information about a motive for the shooting was not available. No arrests have been reported, and the death continues to be investigated by the coroner's office in addition to the Aiken County Sheriff's Office and the Richmond County (Georgia) Sheriff's Office.

A man was shot Saturday during a physical altercation with Shelby County sheriff's deputies. Deputies were dispatched at 11:29 a.m. Saturday to a domestic dispute on Brandy Circle in Chelsea. Authorities said while on the scene, they encountered the armed man. "During a physical altercation the suspect received a gunshot wound to the lower extremities," according to a news release. The suspect was transported to an undisclosed Birmingham-area hospital. His injuries were not initially believed to be life-threatening. Sheriff John Samaniego requested the Shelby County Major Crimes Task Force, under the direction of the District Attorney's Office, to lead the investigation.

John Petty Jr., a former University of Alabama basketball star, is facing charges of eluding police and DUI – among others – after he was arrested Saturday night and booked into the Madison County Jail, according to a booking log. Petty, who also played for the Birmingham Squadron of the NBA G League, is also charged with driving with a suspended license and reckless driving, according to booking records. He was booked at 9:15 p.m. Saturday and released early Sunday morning. Bond was set at $7,300. The circumstances surrounding the arrest were not immediately known late Sunday night. In 131 games over four seasons with Alabama from 2017 to 2021, Petty averaged 11.7 points, 4.5 rebounds and 2.0 assists. He received All-SEC second-team recognition in the 2019–20 season and All-SEC first-team recognition in the 2020–21 campaign. A four-time first-team All-State selection, Petty played on AHSAA Class 5A championship teams at the Huntsville high schools J.O. Johnson in 2015 and 2016 and Mae Jemison in 2017 and won the Alabama Sports Writers Association’s Mr. Basketball honor in 2016 and 2017. After going undrafted in the 2021 NBA draft, Petty signed with the New Orleans Pelicans in the 2021 draft. Shortly after, he signed with the Birmingham Squadron as an affiliate player. In his two seasons with Birmingham, Petty averaged 7.3 points, 3.4 rebounds and 1.8 assists in 89 games before being traded to the Greensboro Swarm.

A man is dead after being shot in the chest in Snellville late Saturday, according to authorities. Snellville police responded to the 1900 block of Scenic Highway around 10:45 p.m. after getting a report of a fight happening among a large number of people. As officers were arriving, they heard gunshots, officials said. Officers then came across a man shot in the chest at the scene. The victim, whose name was not released, was taken to a hospital and later died. The area of Scenic Highway where the shooting occurred is home to a couple of shopping centers and several restaurants. It’s also near the intersection of Ronald Reagan Parkway. A motive is unclear, and no information was provided regarding a possible suspect. “This is an active investigation and no additional details can be shared at this time,” police said.

A 14-year-old boy has been charged with arson after a house fire in Montgomery. Montgomery Fire/Rescue Department Assistant Fire Chief Stanley Cooper said the fire happened Sunday at a one-story home in the 2200 block of Terrance Avenue. Heavy smoke and flames could be seen when firefighters arrived. Cooper says the boy became a suspect in the fire. He says Montgomery police then contacted fire investigators to say the same boy was in custody in the possible connection to a previous fire. Cooper says the boy, in the presence of his mother, admitted to starting the fire. He is charged with arson in the second degree.

Priceville police have arrested a 16-year-old they say broke into an elementary school, and later returned to take a school bus on a joy ride. According to police, the juvenile entered Priceville Elementary after hours on Feb. 16. Security cameras recorded the juvenile walking the halls and attempting to enter locked rooms with a screwdriver, police said in a news release. The same juvenile returned to the school on Feb. 18 – this time breaking into a school bus on the property, starting the bus, and driving it around the parking lot. Priceville Officer Reggie Gibbs, along with Morgan County SROs' and other school officials, investigated the incident. The juvenile, whose name was not released, was charged with third degree burglary and unauthorized use of a vehicle. He was transported to a nearby juvenile detention center, police said.

[4/18/2024] Months after a South Carolina man was shot and killed, a teenager was arrested on a murder charge, according to the Orangeburg County Sheriff’s Office. In addition to murder, 19-year-old Dorchester County resident Demetrius Dickerson was charged with possession of a weapon during the commission of a crime, the sheriff’s office said Wednesday in a news release. The charges stem from a Feb. 18 shooting on Brightwater Drive, according to the release. That’s in Holly Hill, near U.S. 176. Following a confrontation, a 22-year-old Summerville man was shot and killed, the sheriff’s office said. There was no word about what led to the confrontation. The Orangeburg County Coroner’s Office has not publicly identified the victim. Dickerson was taken into custody in Dorchester County early Wednesday, according to the release. He’s expected to [be] extradited to Orangeburg County this week, where he’ll appear in court, the sheriff’s office said. The members of the U.S. Marshals Service and Dorchester County Sheriff’s Office assisted with the arrest, according to the release. “This has been an extensive investigation that has resulted in the arrest of our shooting suspect,” Orangeburg County Sheriff Leroy Ravenell said.

A Sunday morning shooting in Montgomery left one man dead, and three other people injured. A suspect has been taken into custody. Police and fire medics were dispatched at 6:10 a.m. to a report of a person shot in the 3500 block of McGehee Road. Sgt. Tina McGriff said first responders arrived and found 34-year-old Marcus Henderson dead on the scene. Another man and two women were injured. They were taken to area hospitals with non-life-threatening injuries. No additional details about the shooting have been released. Robkywel Prevo, 29, was quickly identified as a suspect, McGriff said. He was taken into custody and charged with capital murder. Prevo is undergoing booking at the Montgomery County Detention Facility where he will be held without bond.

[2/23/2024] A 4-year-old Richland County girl has died and her parents have been charged after the girl was allegedly abused, including being placed in scalding hot water as a form of punishment, officials say. Richland County Sheriff Leon Lott said Friday morning that Wilbur W. Fields, 34, and Fifi Hill, 32, have each been charged with homicide by child abuse and two counts of neglect by a legal guardian. Fields and Hill were being held in the Alvin S. Glenn Detention Center as of Friday. Richland County Coroner Naida Rutherford said the victim in the case was 4-year-old Hope Fields. Rutherford said Fields died just after 11 a.m. on Feb. 18. The coroner said the child was initially brought to the hospital on the evening of Feb. 16. Noting that child abuse incidents are some of the “toughest cases we have to deal with” and at times speaking in a voice dripping with emotion, Lott said at a Friday news conference that there is a “special place in Heaven” for young Hope Fields, and a “special place in hell” for her parents. “Last Friday (Feb. 16) Prisma Hospital notified us that a 4-year-old had been brought into the hospital with severe burns, broken bones, and cardiac arrest a couple times on the way to the hospital,” Lott said. “She was placed on life support, and at that time we started an investigation.” Lott alleges that the day before, on Feb. 15, Wilbur Fields put Hope in scalding water as a form of punishment. The sheriff alleged that Hill “stood by and watched” as the child was placed in the scalding water. Other children, siblings of Hope Fields, were present in the home while the incident was occurring, the sheriff said. Those children have been placed in protective custody, Lott said.

A 10-year-old girl was injured when suspects fired into the car in which she was a passenger, Mobile police said. The incident happened Sunday just after 1 p.m. Officers responded to the location at the intersection of St. Stephens Road and Jones Street. Police learned a vehicle with four people inside, including the 10-year-old. The four were at that location when unknown suspects in another vehicle opened fire, with one vehicle apparently grazing the child, who was taken to a local hospital for treatment. No other injuries were reported and police have released no other details.

A man was shot and killed by deputies in Union County Sunday, according to a recent release from authorities in the area. At this time, the Georgia Bureau of Investigation is being brought in to investigate the incident, as is customary. The shooting itself happened at a home on Wesley Mountain Road in Blairsville. Union County deputies were originally sent out over a "domestic dispute with a gun" around 3:20 p.m. There, they claim they attempted to negotiate with 85-year-old Wendall Cross. However, deputies said he ended up firing his gun in their direction. The deputies shot back and hit Cross, who was later taken to a hospital and died from his injuries. The sheriff's office said the GBI will conduct an independent investigation. Once finished, the agency will turn its findings over to the Union County District Attorney's Office for review.

A 17-year-old male intentionally pushed a 6-year-old girl into a fire Sunday afternoon, causing the girl and her mother to suffer significant injuries, according to the Baldwin County Sheriff's Office. Deputies were called to Claremont Drive in unincorporated Foley around 4:30 p.m. to investigate a domestic incident. Deputies found the girl and her mother across the street at a neighbor's house. "Both were suffering from significant burns and were taken to a local hospital for treatment. They are in stable condition currently," a sheriff's office statement reads. The teen, who lives at the incident location, intentionally pushed the child into the fire, the sheriff's office said. Her mother suffered burns while rescuing her daughter from the flames. The sheriff's office said it is unclear what led to the incident. "Our investigators are actively following leads to determine exactly what occurred," the statement continued. The teen has been charged with attempted murder and assault and is in custody. "There are no other threats in that area," the sheriff's office said. Additional information was not immediately available.

Bond for all 14 charges totals $405,000.

From the West Alabama Newsroom – A Dallas County man is behind bars facing multiple charges — including burglary — and attempted rape. Sheriff Mike Granthum say 25 year old Kelvante Spicer — is accused of two burglaries — in addition to trying to rape a woman at gunpoint. Deputies investigating a burglary on the 200 block of County Road 189 in the Beloit community Monday evening — got a call about a burglary in progress — at another house down the road. Granthum says when deputies arrived at that house — they found the door kicked in — and Kelvante Spicer inside the house — armed with a gun. “While he was at the residence, he climbed in the resident’s bed. So, he was in that house armed and he was naked from the waist down.” Granthum says while Spicer was being arrested — a woman drove up and told deputies that Spicer had flagged her down and tried to rape her at gunpoint. However, after several minutes of fighting him off — the woman was able to get away. “He wanted some action. That was his words,” said Granthum. “My hat’s off to the female that was able to fight him off. Luckily she didn’t get shot.” Granthum says earlier that same day — Spicer was accused of groping young women at two Selma businesses. “Not only was he a dangerous person before he armed himself, but once he armed himself in a burglary, he took it to a whole ‘nother level. I mean, he was looking for prey,” Granthum said. “He was looking for somebody to pounce on, somebody to take advantage of. Then when he armed himself, I mean, he’s even that much more dangerous.” Spicer is being held in the Perry County Correctional Facility on $750,000 dollars bail.

[2/27/2024] Atlanta police are searching for two separate groups of suspects accused of burglarizing fashion boutiques in the busy neighborhoods of West Midtown and Virginia-Highland. The first incident took place Feb. 19 at A Ma Maniere on Marietta Street just west of the Georgia Tech campus, Atlanta police said. Two suspects forced their way into the upscale streetwear boutique and stole boxes of clothing worth about $15,000. Video of the burglary shows the black-clad suspects grabbing large plastic bins of clothing from a gated storeroom as an alarm wails in the background. Another video shows one of the suspects easily breaching one of the store's doors with a crowbar. Police believe the same suspects burglarized A Ma Maniere a second time four nights later. The brand is known for luxury clothing like letterman-style jackets that cost more than $1,300. Early Tuesday morning, a sneaker and streetwear boutique called Ecstatic on St. Charles Avenue was hit in a chaotic smash-and-grab-style burglary. At least six suspects forced their way through the front door and ran inside, grabbing sneakers and stuffing them into trash bags as alarms screeched. A light-colored SUV waited for them outside with the door open. Investigators are asking for the public's help as they work to identify the suspects.

Authorities have released the name of a man who was shot to death by a Hueytown homeowner. The Jefferson County Coroner's Office identified the slain man as Contravia Lamond Jackson. He was 43 and lived in Birmingham. Hueytown police were dispatched at 2 a.m. Monday to a home in the 200 block of June Avenue on a report of a person shot. Officers arrived to find Jackson shot in the front seat of a vehicle. He was pronounced dead on the scene at 2:30 a.m. Police said the initial investigation indicates the sister of the resident of the home arrived at the house with Jackson and another man. Jackson brandished a gun and was shot by the homeowner. No charges have been filed at this point. Once the investigation is completed, detectives will present the case to the Jefferson County Bessemer Cutoff District Attorney's Office for consideration of charges. Police said Monday they were still trying to identify the second man who was involved. The deadly shooting was Hueytown's first homicide this year. In all of Jefferson County, there have been 20 homicides in 2024.

Authorities are asking for the public's help in identify two suspects who stole an ATM with a stolen City of Birmingham garbage truck. Jefferson County sheriff's deputies were dispatched just before 4 a.m. Monday, Feb. 12, to the 1600 block of Forestdale Plaza on a report of the stolen ATM. Lt. Joni Money said investigators determined that the thieves used the garbage truck and a chain to uproot the ATM from its base. The machine was quickly recovered in the 1300 block of Heflin Avenue after deputies followed the trail of debris. The thieves failed in getting any money out of the ATM, Money said. The garbage truck was stolen earlier that same morning from a parking lot in west Birmingham. It was recovered later that afternoon. Birmingham police Sgt. LaQuitta Wade said no arrests have been made in the theft of the truck. Money said video footage shows two suspects dressed in all black, with their faces covered, connecting the chain with a tow hook to the ATM.

A suspect in a shooting at a Waffle House in DeKalb County on Monday morning remains at large after an employee suffered a non-life-threatening injury, authorities said. Officers responded to the restaurant at 2963 Lawrenceville Highway at about 5:45 a.m. after getting reports of a man shot, DeKalb police said. The Waffle House employee was considered stable when he was taken to the hospital and is expected to survive. The suspected shooter, who has not been publicly identified, left before police arrived. The restaurant is located near Tucker at the interchange between Lawrenceville Highway and I-285. According to the initial investigation, police said the suspected shooter and victim got into an argument outside the restaurant. It escalated until the suspect pulled a gun and shot the employee, authorities said. No further information has been released, and police did not say if the two people knew each other prior to the argument. Officials did not share details about the extent of the victim's injuries.

A drive-by shooting in an east Birmingham neighborhood sent one man to the hospital. Birmingham police East Precinct officers were dispatched about 1 p.m. Monday to a shooting call in the 4100 block of 51st Avenue North. They arrived to find an adult male with a gunshot wound. Police radio communications indicated the victim was shot in the abdomen. Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service transported the victim to UAB Hospital. The severity of his injuries was not immediately known. Sgt. LaQuitta Wade said the preliminary investigation indicates the victim was struck in a drive-by. This story will be updated if more information becomes available.

A 3-year-old was struck by a stray bullet while outside an apartment building at one of southwest Atlanta's troubled complexes late Monday afternoon, according to officials. Atlanta police got a call around 5:30 p.m. about a child shot at the Ashley Cascade apartments along Kimberly Way. It is located outside I-285, not far from Niskey Lake. When officers arrived, they found the child with a gunshot wound. The toddler was alert and was taken to a hospital by ambulance, authorities said. Investigators said they believe the child was outside when gunfire was heard. It's not clear from where the shots were fired. The apartment complex is among 272 of the metro area's persistently dangerous complexes, according to The Atlanta Journal-Constitution's "Dangerous Dwellings" investigation that looked into serious crimes, lax maintenance and other hazards in Atlanta neighborhoods. It encompasses both 1381 and 1371 Kimberly Way, and between 2017 and mid-2023, police recorded 248 crimes there. They include three homicides, 44 aggravated assaults, six robberies, a child molestation case and four rapes. In May 2022, a man died there after being shot multiple times. Two months later, a shooting left a woman dead and two others injured. That same month, Atlanta put the complex on a list of properties to be targeted for crackdowns because of chronic crime and problems with poor living conditions.

Four males were hospitalized late Monday night after they were found scattered following a shooting and a crash, according to the Aiken County Sheriff's Office. Three of the males were involved in the shooting, and the fourth victim was injured when his vehicle was hit by a car fleeing the gunfire at a gas station, the sheriff's office said Tuesday in a news release. At about 11:20 p.m. on Monday, deputies responded to a 911 call about a shooting at the EnMarket gas station/convenience store on Edgefield Highway, according to the sheriff's office. That's about 1.5 miles from Aiken High School. At the scene deputies found one male near the gas pumps who had been shot in the chest and arms. Deputies also found a black car in front of the gas station at the intersection of Edgefield Highway and Croft Mill Road. The black car had collided with another vehicle, the sheriff's office said. Witnesses said the occupants of the black car were involved in the shooting and the car sped away after the gunshots. One person in the black car ran from the crash, leaving the driver who was injured in the collision and had also been shot in his leg. The male who ran was later found, and had been shot in his chest. Another male who was in the vehicle that collided with the black car also was injured. The South Carolina Highway Patrol is leading the investigation into the crash.

[2/24/2024] Auburn Police say two men face a long list of charges following a police chase and crash on Interstate 85. Police say they've arrested 30-year-old Damien Dean Waller and 24-year-old Cedric Antonio Paige, Jr., who are both from Fort Lauderdale, Florida. Police say they received several auto burglary reports that happened near the 2300 block of Wire Road between 6PM and 7PM on Wednesday. That location is near the Wire Road Soccer Complex. Investigators say a witness gave them a description of the suspects' vehicle. Officers say they spotted the vehicle near the 1700 block of South College Street, close to the Walmart Supercenter. Police say they saw one of the men who appeared to be concealing his identity exit a business and get into the vehicle. Police units followed the vehicle as it exited a parking lot onto South College Street at a high rate of speed, investigators say. The pursuit continued as the vehicle turned on the northbound entrance onto Interstate 85. Opelika police joined the chase as the vehicle entered their city heading north. The suspects' vehicle continued speeding until it crashed into another vehicle near Exit 62. No one was injured, police say. The suspects got out and police continued to chase them on foot until the arrests were made, investigators say. Waller was arrested on warrants charging him with three counts of breaking and entering into a vehicle, two counts of trafficking in stolen identities, four counts of fraudulent use of a debit/credit card, two counts of theft of property third degree, possession of burglary tools, felony attempting to elude and theft of property fourth degree. Paige was arrested on warrants charging him with three counts of breaking and entering into a vehicle, two counts of trafficking in stolen identities, five counts of fraudulent use of a debit/credit card. Gwinnett County police are investigating Wednesday after two people were found dead inside a home near Lawrenceville, authorities said. Details are limited, but homicide investigators were en route around 1 p.m. to the house on Sterling Drive near Milo Court. The residential neighborhood is a short distance from Collins Hill Park. "This appears to be an isolated incident involving the two deceased individuals," police spokesperson Sgt. Michele Pihera said. We are working to learn more.

An investigation is underway following a deadly shooting on Thursday morning, according to the Atlanta Police Department. Police were dispatched to Troy Street in northwest Atlanta regarding a person down around 8 a.m. near a possibly abandoned apartment complex. Once officers arrived, they found a 40-year-old man shot to death in the street. Atlanta Homicide Commander Andrew Smith said they have spoken with several neighbors, and homicide investigators are on the scene. Smith added that they are working to identify the victim. Not much information has been released about what led up to the shooting, and police haven't identified anyone involved at this time.

A female nursing student, reported missing after a friend said she went for a morning run and never returned home, was found dead Thursday near the University of Georgia's intramural fields. University officials said police suspect foul play. A UGA spokesman said in an email late Thursday that the woman "was an undergraduate student at the University of Georgia until the spring of 2023, and then she became a nursing student at the Augusta University nursing program in Athens." She also was a member of a UGA sorority. "At this time we do not have a suspect, but we are actively investigating," Jeffrey Clark, chief of UGA's police department, told reporters at a press conference on Thursday night in Athens. "When you have a suspect that's on the loose, there's always a danger. But there's no immediate danger," Clark added. Authorities said the student had "visible injuries." In an email to students, UGA President Jere Morehead said that both the GBI and Athens-Clarke County police were assisting university police with the investigation. Morehead said classes were canceled for Thursday evening and Friday. Some other campus events, including a performance by the UGA Symphony Orchestra scheduled for Thursday night, were also canceled. Classes are expected to resume Monday. It all started when police received a call just after noon Thursday from a person "concerned for the welfare of a friend" who had not returned from a morning run at the intramural fields. UGA investigators began searching the area at 12:20 p.m., and the woman's body was discovered at approximately 12:38 p.m. She was found in the woods behind Lake Herrick. Officers immediately began rendering medical aid. When emergency responders arrived, they determined the student was dead,

DeKalb County police are searching for a vehicle they believe hit and killed a motorcyclist along I-85 North just outside I-285 on Thursday night. Officers responded to the crash around 8 p.m. and found a man who had been thrown from a motorcycle, police said. He died at the scene, Channel 2 Action News reported. His name has not been released. Investigators said they believe a vehicle struck the motorcycle and didn't stop. No vehicle description was provided by police. Officials have not released any additional information.

DeKalb Police are investigating after a double shooting at a Decatur apartment complex Thursday night. It happened around 10:37 p.m. at the Aspen Woods Apartments on Flat Shoals Road. When officers arrived, they found a 20-year-old man and a 22-year-old woman who was shot. They were both taken to nearby hospitals and are expected to survive, according to police. Police said in their preliminary investigation that someone shot at their apartment from outside, striking them. No other details were released as detectives investigate the circumstances surrounding the shooting.

A woman was able to get away late Thursday night before being sexually assaulted, Carrboro police said. Now they want to talk with anyone who may have seen the attack or have information about the suspect. The woman was walking alone between the parking deck at 300 East Main Street and Cat's Cradle around 11:28 p.m. when a stranger approached her, police said in a news release. The man tried to sexually assault her, but she ran and got away, police said. They are recommending, based on the suspect's actions, that people remain aware of their surroundings while walking in the area and walk in groups if possible, the release said. Anyone who feels unsafe should also call 911 immediately, police said.

An armed robbery suspect held up a clerk at gunpoint and was fatally shot Friday morning by a Rome police officer after fleeing the crime scene, officials said. The GBI identified the man as Kelvin Gerard Jackson, 34, of Augusta. No officers were injured. Surveillance footage showed the suspect enter the Hi-Tech convenience store in the 400 block of South Broad Street in Rome and force the clerk to place money in a bag at gunpoint, the GBI said. Jackson ran after police arrived and an officer fired during the pursuit. The GBI said Jackson was pronounced dead and that a gun was found next to him but did not say if he fired at police. The officer is on administrative leave while the GBI investigates. “The Rome Police Department understands the value of every human life and will work diligently to maintain transparency throughout this investigation,” Rome Police Chief Denise Downer-McKinney said. The incident marks 10th officer-involved shooting the GBI has been asked to investigate this year.

A person is dead after being shot by police in Rome, according to authorities on Friday. Officials with the Georgia Bureau of Investigation said the Rome Police Department was called to 401 South Broad St. regarding a reported armed robbery around 11 a.m. When officers arrived, they said the person began running up the street. That's when an officer chased after them on foot. The police department said the suspect pulled a gun on the officer, who then shot them. Police said the person died. The GBI now has agents on the scene to lead the investigation, the Rome police department said. Meanwhile, the officer who fired the shots will be placed on administrative leave while the case is being investigated, according to officials. “The Rome Police Department understands the value of every human life and will work diligently to maintain transparency throughout this investigation,” Rome Police Department Chief Denise Downer-McKinney said. No other information, including the name of the person, was provided about the incident. Google maps information shows the area as several blocks of businesses just off the Oostanaula River. It's unclear which business may have been involved and whether anything was taken in the reported robbery.

A man was shot and killed Friday afternoon at an apartment complex near the Lindbergh MARTA station, police said. Officers were called to the Ibex at Uptown apartments in the 2400 block of Camellia Lane around 4:20 p.m. regarding the shooting. At the scene, police said a 31-year-old man was located suffering from a gunshot wound and in critical condition. About an hour later, authorities confirmed the victim had died. No details were released about what led to the shooting or where in the complex it occurred. The apartments are a short walk from the Lindbergh MARTA station in southeast Buckhead. In July 2022, a man was shot at the complex after two men attempted to rob him, police said. Two years earlier, a 42-year-old man was shot in the head and killed following a drive-by shooting along Camellia Lane. Authorities previously said the suspect and victim knew each other.

A man was fatally shot Friday evening near the Trap Music Museum in northwest Atlanta, and another man was arrested, police said. The victim was found shot multiple times in a parking lot in the 600 block of Travis Street off Northside Drive around 8 p.m., according to authorities. He was pronounced dead at the scene. The victim was not publicly identified but was said to be in his late 30s. Atlanta police Homicide Commander Lt. Andrew Smith said during a press conference that the gunfire erupted after a verbal dispute. “We do have an individual detained who is a security guard in the parking lot,” Smith said, adding that the person was privately hired and not affiliated with Atlanta police. On Saturday afternoon, police announced an arrest in the case but did not say whether the person they arrested is the security guard. Jacquez Whitfield, 27, is facing charges of murder, aggravated assault and possession of a firearm during the commission of a felony.

Three South Carolina residents, including a teenager, were killed Friday in what the Berkeley County Coroner's Office called a double murder-suicide. Tracy McEvoy, 43, and her son William Allen McEvoy, 15, were killed, Coroner Darnell Hartwell said Sunday in a news release. Their bodies were found at a Goose Creek home along with the body of 43-year-old Nicholas Hegwein, who Hartwell identified as the suspect. Shooting was the cause of death for all three, Hartwell said. All three were Goose Creek residents. No other injuries were reported. At around 9:45 p.m. Friday, the Goose Creek Police Department received a call about a man with a gun at a Water Oak Drive home, WCBD reported. That's near the Naval Weapons Station at Joint Base Charleston, about 20 miles north of Charleston. Police said the caller told them that the man was "intoxicated and holding hostages at gunpoint," WCSC reported. Police said officers surrounded the home. Hostage negotiators were called to the scene, but they weren't able to make contact with anyone inside, according to WCBD. Police said officers found the three bodies when they entered the home, WCIV reported. At about 11:15 p.m., the coroner's office was called to the scene. The double murder-suicide continues to be investigated by the coroner's office and police department. On Nov. 26, 2023, Hegwein was arrested on a second-degree domestic violence charge, Berkeley County court records show. Although a $10,000 bond was set and posted on Nov. 27, 2023, the charge ultimately was dismissed and Hegwein was not indicted, according to court records. Information about that prior incident, and why the charge was dismissed on Dec. 27, 2023, was not available.

[4/10/2024] An Irondele man is facing federal charges that he detonated an explosive device in downtown Montgomery outside the office of the Attorney General. Today, law enforcement arrested 26-year-old Kyle Benjamin Douglas Calvert on charges of malicious use of an explosive and possession of an unregistered destructive device. As Action 8 News has reported, the device was detonated on Feb. 24 at approximately 3:42AM near the intersection of Washington Avenue and South Bainbridge Street. No injuries or major damage to nearby buildings were reported. Agents and state troopers with the Alabama Law Enforcement Agency, along with special agents from the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives and officers from the Montgomery Police Department responded to the scene when remnants of the device were discovered. According to court documents from the U.S. District Court, Middle District of Alabama, obtained by Action 8 News, his arrest was partially traced to suspicious stickers that were placed on several state office buildings. Those stickers contained graphics, some with references to Antifa. Investigators say Antifa doesn't describe a particular group, but people who hold "anti-fascist beliefs." The documents say Antifa is often connected to anarchist, violent extremists, who oppose capitalism and the U.S. government. Investigators say the device was a coffee-container type vessel that contained insulation material that was soaked in flammable liquid, as well as a mortar, firecrackers and nails. The FBI has classified it as an Improvised Explosive Device (IED). Investigators say surveillance video, interviews with employers, social media posts and photos of Calvert's car helped lead to the arrest. If convicted, Calvert faces a

An Uber driver and his 17-year-old passenger were struck by gunfire early Sunday during a trip in DeKalb County, authorities said. DeKalb police responded around 12:20 a.m. to the 4000 block of Glenwood Road for a person shot. At the scene, officers found the 31-year-old driver and teenage girl suffering from gunshot wounds inside a vehicle. They were taken to area hospitals with non-life-threatening injuries. According to authorities, the Uber driver's vehicle was shot several times while he was transporting three female passengers in the 2300 block of Emerald Falls Drive, about two miles away from where the victims were found. "Their vehicle was caught in the crossfire of two parties shooting at each other," police said. Authorities have not yet provided more details on the shooting, which remains under investigation. No arrests have been made.

Monroe County authorities are asking for the public's help in an investigation into a shooting that left multiple people injured early Saturday during a bonfire in Frisco City. Sheriff Tom Boatwright, in a Facebook post, said the incident occurred around 12:30 a.m. at a bonfire on Snyder Avenue. Six people were shot with two listed in serious condition, according to authorities. Boatwright said that his office is actively assisting Frisco City police at the scene, gathering evidence and conducting an investigation into the circumstances surrounding the shooting. They are also requesting anyone with information to contact them immediately. All information provided will be treated confidentially, the sheriff's department says.

A man was killed Sunday in a shooting at an apartment complex, according to the Richland County Sheriff's Department. At about 12:30 p.m., deputies responded to a report of a shooting in the 700 block of Mallet Hill Road, the sheriff's department said Monday in a news release. The shooting was at the Carrington Place apartment complex in the Columbia area, near Exit 80 on Interstate 20. The resident who reported the shooting told law enforcement officers about hearing four to five gunshots around one of the buildings at the complex. When deputies arrived at the scene they found the apartment complex's courtesy officer attempting to provide life-saving care to the man who had been shot multiple times. The victim was unconscious, lying in a breezeway outside one of the apartment complex buildings. The 35-year-old victim was taken by EMS to an area hospital where he later died. The sheriff's department said the suspect fled the scene before deputies arrived. No arrests have been reported by the sheriff's department, which is continuing to investigate the shooting.

A 21-year-old man died Sunday after being shot near Georgia State University's campus in downtown Atlanta, authorities said. Atlanta police were called just before 12:45 p.m. to 120 Piedmont Ave., an address listed for the Mix Apartments, an off-campus student housing center for GSU. After being dispatched, officers arrived within three minutes and found a man suffering from several gunshot wounds. The victim, who was not breathing, was pronounced dead at the scene, police said. It was unclear if he was a student. "At this time, it does not appear that this incident occurred on the GSU campus," police said. The shooting happened less than 500 feet from a RaceTrac gas station on Piedmont Avenue. GSU President M. Brian Blake said in a written statement that no one involved has been identified as students or staff of the university. Atlanta police are investigating a fight between two groups that escalated into gunfire, according to Blake. "While the individuals involved were not affiliated with the university, we know these acts of violence affect us all, especially those that happen in close proximity to our campus facilities," Blake said in the statement. He said after the incident that he "debriefed with leadership at the RaceTrac and with city leadership, and our GSU Chief of Police maintains close contact with the Atlanta Police Department." According to Blake, the university had added more officer monitoring and cameras, trained staff and adjusted building entrances "and we will assess this incident to make more impactful changes."

Montgomery County Judge Johnny Hardwick is in serious condition after he was shot Saturday. Authorities have taken his son into custody. Hardwick, the presiding judge of Montgomery County's Fifteenth Judicial Circuit, underwent surgery following the shooting, according to Montgomery County Sheriff Derrick Cunningham. "I am just asking that we continue to pray for the judge," Cunningham said earlier Saturday. Hardwick, a circuit judge since 2001, is the current president of the Alabama Association of Circuit Court Judges. The incident occurred around 1 p.m. at Hardwick's home, according to the Montgomery County Sheriff's Department. When deputies arrived, they found that the judge had been assaulted, shot and seriously injured by his 36-year-old son, Khalfani Hardwick, law enforcement said. Deputies immediately saturated the area and located Khalfani Hardwick's abandoned vehicle on Trotman Road. A short time later, deputies located him on U.S. 231, and he was arrested without incident. Khalfani Hardwick has been charged with domestic violence first degree, a Class A felony that is punishable by up to a life sentence in prison. He was also charged with certain persons forbidden to possess a firearm. Khalfani Hardwick is being held at the Montgomery County Detention facility without bond, and the investigation continues. Montgomery Mayor Steven L. Reed is among those praying for Judge Hardwick's recovery. "Tamika and I are saddened by the news that Judge Johnny Hardwick has been shot," Reed said in a statement. "He has honorably served our community on the Circuit Court for decades, helping spearhead numerous reforms to make the court system more equitable and fair. Most recently, he worked to eliminate bond requirements for more non-violent

Police are investigating a second fatal Saturday shooting after they found a 28-year-old man shot at a southeast Raleigh Dollar General, according to police and other reports. Police responded to a reported shooting at 1:11 p.m. in the 5400 block of Rock Quarry Road and found Steven Andrea Jones II with a single gunshot wound, according to a news release. Jones later died at the hospital. ABC11, The News & Observer's news partner, reported the man walked into the Dollar General after being shot nearby. The store is an a small shopping strip surrounded by other businesses. About eight hours earlier, police found another man with multiple gunshot wounds. Police found Jose Ignacio Marquez-Diaz, 23, in the 3300 block of Quail Hollow Drive at 4:43 a.m. That's in north Raleigh near Interstate 440. No one has been charged in the shootings, which were about 9 miles apart. Police didn't immediately respond to questions about whether the two killings are connected and for additional information.

Canton Police are searching for a man they say robbed a Waffle House with a gun. The incident happened at the store on Northside Highway on Feb. 26. Police said the suspect entered the restaurant through the back door armed with a gun and then sped away from the scene in a black sedan. The suspect is described as being between 40 and 60 years old. He wore a surgical mask during the robbery. It's unclear if he was able to get away with anything. Anyone with information is asked to contact the Canton Police Department.

[3/4/2024] A woman is behind bars after officials say she killed her twin four-year-old sons. Cherokee County, North Carolina sheriff officials said on Saturday deputies received a 911 call from a home at Gooseberry Road in Murphy, North Carolina. According to the investigation, a man arrived at the home of his separated wife, Genevieve Ellen Springer, to get custody of his four-year-old twin sons around 10 a.m. Saturday. When he went inside the home, officials said he found the bodies of his twin sons. At the time, Springer, the twin's mother, was hospitalized in Union County, Georgia. Officials did not say why she was in the hospital. Springer was charged with two counts of first-degree murder and taken into custody after she was discharged from the hospital. She was taken to Cherokee County, North Carolina to answer for her charges. Investigators determined that since the last time the father saw the twin boys alive was Feb. 26, the time of death would have taken place between then and Saturday. Officials added that autopsies would be performed to help narrow down the date and time of the twins' death. The cause and circumstances surrounding the death are still under investigation.

A young woman reported missing Sunday after messaging her family for help has been found dead on a southwest Birmingham roadside, police and family said. The discovery was made at 2:19 a.m. Monday when a passerby called Birmingham 911 to report a body on the side of the road at 17th Street S.W. and Laurel Avenue. Birmingham police and Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service responded. Mahogany Jackson was pronounced dead on the scene from a gunshot wound. Her mother, Gail Maddox, posted this on Facebook about 6:30 a.m. : “They killed my child.” Sgt. LaQuitta Wade confirmed the victim’s identity and said the family had been notified. The ordeal began early Sunday when family members say Jackson texted them. She said she was being held hostage, and to send police. She shared her location with them on her cell phone. Maddox previously told AL.com she was on her way to pick up her son, daughter-in-law, and granddaughter from the airport in Atlanta when her other daughter called her and said she’d received a disturbing message from Jackson. Maddox looked at her phone – it was 7:46 a.m. – and she, too, had missed calls through Facebook messenger, but Maddox was on the phone, so she didn’t receive the notification. Family members rushed to that location, as did Birmingham police. A search for Jackson set for 9 a.m. was called off. No arrests have been made.

Investigations are underway after two people were injured in separate shootings Monday afternoon in Birmingham. The first happened at 2:30 p.m. outside the BP gas station in the 5100 block of Richard Arrington Jr. Boulevard. Sgt. LaQuitta Wade said a woman sustained a gunshot wound to the leg. Her injuries are nothapp life-threatening. It appears the woman’s boyfriend and another man got into an argument outside the store. One of them pulled a gun and fired a shot. Both men fled the scene before police arrived. The second shooting happened at 3:11 p.m. in the 4700 block of Second Avenue South. Wade said that appeared to be a drive-by shooting. A man was wounded but his injuries also are not believed to be life-threatening.

A 40-year-old woman was shot to death inside a Sylacauga home, the second homicide at the residence in two years. The victim has been identified Tamekia Tana Fluker. Investigators do not believe she was the intended target. Fluker is Sylacauga's first homicide this year. Her brother was killed at the same home two years ago. Police Chief Kelley Johnson said officers responded to a shooting at 4 p.m. Monday to 306 South Main Avenue. They arrived to find Fluker dead inside her home. She had been shot at least once. Investigators worked throughout the night taking statements from witnesses and collecting evidence from the crime scene. Johnson said several rounds had been fired into the home, striking Fluker. The chief said Fluker's death is the second murder that has happened at or near the residence involving a member of the Fluker family. On July 1, 2022, 22-year-old, Nartavius Cortez Fluker-Smith was shot and killed while sitting in his vehicle in front of this residence. He was Fluker's brother. In the earlier case, 19-year-old Sheridan Rashon Clark is awaiting trial for capital murder and remains held without bond. No arrests have been made in Fluker's slaying. "The Sylacauga Police Department wants to extend its deepest sympathies to the Fluker family, and we want to let the family and the community know that we will continue to work tirelessly to locate those responsible for her death," Johnson said.

Shots rang out near a southwest Birmingham apartment complex Monday night, leaving one person dead in the city's second homicide probe of the day. Birmingham police and Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service were dispatched shortly before 10 p.m. to the 200 block of Third Avenue S.W. That location is the University Crossings apartments, formerly known as Montello Gardens, in the Titusville community. Sgt. LaQuitta Wade said Shot Spotter – the city's gunfire detection system – alerted police to gunfire. While officers were en route, dispatchers were notified that someone had been shot. Once on the scene, police found the wounded victim on the sidewalk near the road. He was rushed to UAB Hospital where he was quickly pronounced dead. Wade said the victim has not yet been identified but appeared to be in his late teens or early 20s. "The only thing the citizens reported was seeing the victim lying on the sidewalk," she said. Shot Spotter registered two different alerts – one with two shots, and the second with three shots.

An argument between family members ended with one person in the hospital on Tuesday morning, according to the Atlanta Police Department. Police said officers were called around 1:30 a.m. to Beechwood Boulevard in the southwest part of the city, where a man had been shot in the stomach. One person was taken into custody, and the person shot was taken to Grady Memorial Hospital and is expected to be ok. Police said the incident stemmed from an argument between two cousins. No other information was released about the shooting.

Montgomery police launched a homicide investigation after a 34-year-old man was shot dead Tuesday night. Officers and fire medics responded to the 3800 block of South Cour Street around 7:15 p.m. Tuesday on a report of a person shot, Maj. Saba Coleman said Wednesday. At the scene, authorities found 34-year-old Montgomery resident Cortavious McLean with a fatal gunshot wound, Coleman said.

A man died Wednesday after being shot by a relative in the front yard of his East Point home, authorities said. Details are limited, but East Point police responded to a shooting call at the residence on Connally Drive, a road that cuts through the northern part of the city south of Langford Parkway. At the scene, officers found a man suffering from several gunshot wounds, police said. The victim, who was not publicly identified, was taken to Grady Memorial Hospital, where he died. A motive is unclear, and police have not said how the suspected shooter was related to the victim, or if any arrests have been made.

Florence Police Chief Ron Tyler was punched in the face while trying to arrest a man wanted in connection with a stolen vehicle, police said Thursday. “I never liked being punched in the face when I was younger. I was quickly reminded again of why I was never too fond of it,” Tyler said. “I was literally emailing HR earlier today with some preliminary retirement questions. I never imagined I would wind up in a fistfight before the day was out.” The incident happened during the arrest Wednesday of Justin Heath Terry, 42, of Florence. Terry was charged with third degree robbery, first degree property theft, disorderly conduct, resisting arrest and third degree criminal mischief. He is being held on a $33,500 bond at the Lauderdale County Detention Center. According to police, officers received a report of a robbery and vehicle theft when they discovered the vehicle, driven by Terry, near headquarters. Tyler and Officer Robert Oliver attempted to arrest Terry, but the situation “escalated into a scuffle in the lobby of the Police Department,” according to a news release. Tyler, hearing a scuffle, rushed to assist Oliver when Terry ran inside the lobby of the police department. Once inside, Terry allegedly punched Tyler and was taken into custody shortly after. No one was injured. Tyler said his sport coat and shirt were “a little bloody.” “While my title may be Chief of Police, above all else, I am a police officer. When I see a fellow officer needing help, rest assured, they can count on me jumping in to assist no matter the circumstances,” Tyler said.

A confrontation between a school bus driver and another woman in front of students onboard a bus could have become violent, according to the Sumter County Sheriff's Office. Both women were arrested, but a threat to use firearms was not carried out. Early Wednesday morning, the Sumter County Dispatch received a report of someone boarding a school bus without permission and confronting the driver while students were on board, officials said. They said Shapoleon Sheqveia Hayward, 29, of Sumter refused to get off the bus after being asked to leave several times. Hayward was allegedly shouting at the bus driver, Janaya Mitchell, 27, of Sumter. Witnesses told investigators that Hayward "manipulated the controls of the bus" and removed the keys from the ignition before throwing them into a vacant lot. Mitchell was also shouting threats while standing outside of the bus, officials said. Witnesses overheard Hayward and Mitchell each calling someone on the phone and inviting them to come "discharge their firearms into the bus." By the time deputies responded to the call, Hayward and Mitchell had walked away from the bus. Warrants were obtained for Hayward and Mitchell and both surrendered to investigators Thursday. The pair were arrested and charged with interfering with the operation of a school bus and aggravated breach of peace. They were both taken to the Sumter County Sheriff's Office Detention Center and released after posting a $10,000 bond. It is unclear if and how Hayward and Mitchell knew each other prior to the incident. The Sumter County Sheriff's Office is still investigating.

An exchange of hand gestures between a 57-year-old man and a 18-year-old driver allegedly set off a chain events that ended in a brutal assault, police said. According to the Gwinnett County Police Department, two drivers encountered each other last Wednesday along Peachtree Industrial Boulevard near R.H. Smith Boulevard in the Sugar Hill area. Police said the drivers were 57-year-old Duane Sudderth of Flowery Branch and an 18-year-old who had his 15-year-old sister with him. An investigation revealed that at some point during the encounter, the two drivers allegedly made hand gestures at one another, which they say led Sudderth to chase the 18-year-old driver. The pursuit went down Peachtree Industrial Boulevard until police said the teenager turned onto Little Mill Road and then onto Buford Dam Road. Police said Sudderth is accused of attempting to run the two teenagers off the road before the teen pulled into a driveway near Marina Way. Police said Sudderth is accused of blocking the teens in, getting out of his vehicle and punching the victim through the window. The 18-year-old was then knocked out during the fight, law enforcement stated. Police said Sudderth allegedly punched the teenager multiple times. During the assault, police said Sudderth also allegedly made the threat that he would "sexually assault his girlfriend in the passenger seat," who was actually the driver's sister. Once the victim regained consciousness, police said the 18-year-old drove home with his sister, where they called 911. According to law enforcement, detectives used a number of investigative tools including their FLOCK camera system to track down the suspect's vehicle at his home in neighboring Hall County. The Gwinnett County Police Department then arrested and charged Sudderth on the following charges on Sunday. Arrested

[6/20/2024] An Albertville man has been charged with murder in connection with a fatal February 28 two-vehicle crash. Armando Juan Sebastian, 24, is being held in the Marshall County Jail without bond. Sebastian was involved in the crash that happened on Baltimore Avenue, between the intersections of Textile Avenue and Saratoga Street. Phillip McBay, 71, of Boaz, was driving another vehicle when he collided with Sebastian’s vehicle. He was taken to Marshall Medical Center South, where he later died of his injuries. Jorge Lopez, a passenger in Sebastian’s vehicle, was also injured and transported to Huntsville Hospital. Officers investigating the crash determined that Sebastian was under the influence, according to Albertville police. Sebastian was originally charged with first degree assault related to driving under the influence.

One person is in custody after authorities said he admitted to starting a fire at a Pizza Hut early Wednesday morning, according to DeKalb County Fire Rescue. Crews responded at around 4:30 a.m. to the Pizza Hut on Evans Mill Road in Stonecrest. The restaurant was closed at the time and no one was injured in the fire, said Battalion Chief Kimani Heath. Firefighters saw flames going through the roof and were able to quickly extinguish the fire, Heath said. Crews “saw one man right in front of the structure,” Heath said. “They detained him and he admitted to setting the blaze.” The man has not been publicly identified and authorities have not released other details on the investigation.

A man was shot to death Wednesday morning inside an east Birmingham home. Officers were dispatched shortly before 8:30 a.m. to house in the 7800 block of Seventh Court South on a report of a person shot. Officer Truman Fitzgerald said they arrived to find the shooting victim unresponsive inside the home. Birmingham Fire and Rescue Serviced pronounced the man dead on the scene. There were at least two young children in the home when deadly shooting took place. Investigators believe there was a domestic argument between two people at the residence. After that argument, the victim went to the home and he was then involved in another argument with a man who police describe as the suspect. It was during the second argument that victim was shot. He fled the scene. The suspect is not in custody but police know his identity. All involved knew each other. “Our detectives are going to speak to those witnesses and we hope to uncover more facts surrounding this investigation,” Fitzgerald said. Police brought out a car seat to transport one of the children to police headquarters while the parents are questioned as witnesses. “It speaks to the sad reality that these children were present when someone lost their life,” Fitzgerald said.

A man was shot and killed on Wednesday afternoon in DeKalb County, according to police. DeKalb County Police said that just before 2:50 p.m., officers responded to the 100 block of Camellia Lane in Lithonia to a person shot. When officers showed up, they said they found a 25-year-old man dead from a gunshot wound. Shortly after this, police said a 47-year-old man arrived at a nearby hospital with non-life-threatening injuries from a gunshot wound. The shooting happened just off DeKalb Medical Parkway, which is just down the street from Emory Hillandale Hospital. Initial information shows the two knew each other and were involved in a fight that led to the shooting, police said. 11Alive is working to learn more about the shooting.

A 36-year-old man is dead after he was shot and killed inside of a Decatur neighborhood on Wednesday night, according to police. DeKalb County Police said that officers responded to the 4600 block of Jakes Trail around 9:20 p.m. for a person shot call. They found the man dead from a gunshot wound when they got there. The neighborhood is just off Snapfinger Road and Thompson Mill Road. Police said the victim knew the suspect and was shot after a dispute between several parties escalated at the location. Detectives are currently interviewing the other parties involved and gathering information.

A student at Brookwood High School in Snellville was taken to the hospital on Thursday after an "incident" in a school bathroom, according to the principal. In a letter sent to parents, Brookwood High Principal Brett Savage said, "A student was found injured in a school bathroom and transported to the hospital by car." Savage noted that officials have now started an investigation. "We understand this situation may be unsettling, and we want to assure you that the safety and security of our students and staff is our top priority," the letter said. Brookwood High School "remains safe" and is operating on its normal schedule, the principal added. 11Alive has a crew at the school working to learn more about what happened. We reached out to the Gwinnett County school district to get more details about what happened and to clarify the extent of the student's injuries, including whether any students were being investigated or if anyone was in custody. The district has not yet followed up. We will add more information from the district if we receive it.

Two Richland County school resource officers were sent to a hospital after they were assaulted while trying to break up a fight at Lower Richland High School. According to the Richland County Sheriff's Department, a 16-year-old student attempted rob another student and a fight ensued. They were found fighting outside of the cafeteria during lunchtime on Friday around noon, and the two deputies intervened. The 16-year-old struck one deputy in the face and, while resisting being detained, caused the other deputy to dislocate his shoulder. The teen was subdued with a taser, arrested and charged with armed robbery and two counts of assault of a police officer while resisting arrest. He is being held at Alvin S. Glenn Detention Center in the juvenile wing. "This will not be tolerated," Sheriff Leon Lott said in a statement. "Our SROs are in school to protect the students, teachers and staff. This is not what school is about. We will hold those accountable who assault other students and our SROs." As of Friday evening, one of the injured deputies had been released from the hospital and one was still being treated, officials said. The high school was placed on lockdown during the incident, according to Richland 1. As a precaution, the school was on a "hold" status at about 3 p.m., which means students had to stay where they were at the time of the incident. The Richland County Sheriff's Department is still investigating the incident.

A search is underway for a hit-and-run driver after a South Carolina man's body was found in an alley, according to the Fairfield County Coroner's Office. The deadly collision happened March 1 in Winnsboro, Coroner Chris Hill said Monday in a news release. The body of 56-year-old Winnsboro resident Brian Kennedy, Sr., was found in an alley off of South Zion Street, according to the release. Kennedy had been hit by an unknown vehicle, the coroner's office said. Hill said an autopsy is scheduled to determine Kennedy's cause of death. No other injuries were reported. In addition to the coroner's office, the crash is being investigated by Winnsboro Public Safety and the South Carolina Highway Patrol.

[3/7/2024] An Orangeburg County man has been charged in the death of his 3-month-old son, according to the South Carolina Law Enforcement Division. Anthony Lamont Simpson, 25, has been charged with homicide by child abuse after investigators determined that his infant child died following trauma to the brain, skull and jaw, SLED said. “Those injuries occurred under circumstances manifesting in an extreme indifference to human life,” according to a warrant released Thursday. Simpson, a resident of Chicquita Street in Cordova, a small town located southwest of Orangeburg, was arrested and charged March 1, according to court records. Deputies responded to reports of an unresponsive child on Aug. 28, 2023, according to the warrant. The infant was transported to a hospital, where he was pronounced dead. An autopsy concluded that the 3-month-old had suffered “inflicted head trauma” resulting in bleeding between his brain and skull, and evidence was found of bruising along his jaw and a healing fractured rib. The Orangeburg County Sheriff’s Office requested the SLED Special Victims Unit Department of Child Fatalities conduct the investigation. Simpson was interviewed by law enforcement, who made the decision to charge him in his son’s death after speaking with witnesses and reviewing medical records and documents from the Department of Social Services. The case will be prosecuted by the 1st Circuit Solicitor’s Office. “Homicide by child abuse carries a minimum penalty of 20 years without parole and up to life without parole,” said First Circuit Solicitor David Pascoe. Simpson was booked at the Orangeburg County Detention Center. Court records do not indicate that bond has been set. Simpson’s first appearance date is set for May 8.

Huntsville police found a suspect dead following an investigation into a shooting that sent a woman to the hospital on Saturday night, the HPD said in a statement to AL.com. Police were dispatched around 10 p.m. Saturday and arrived at 1010 Healthland Dr. to find a woman in stable condition after suffering a gunshot wound. She was later transported to a local hospital for treatment. Police located the suspected shooter’s vehicle in the area of Memorial Parkway and University Drive. The suspect fled from police and stopped in a parking lot at 4710 University Dr., where the police found the suspect dead. HPD did not provide cause of death. Huntsville Police are still investigating the incident.

Gunfire and fighting near Six Flags Over Georgia during the park's opening day resulted in an officer-involved shooting that left a 15-year-old hospitalized, Atlanta-based WANF reports. Cobb County police officers responded to the park entrance where hundreds of people were engaged in multiple fights. Police said "an unknown number of suspects" fired at the officers, as police followed them onto Six Flags Parkway. Police said one person was hit when officers returned fire. The Atlanta Journal-Constitution reports the person, a 15-year-old boy, is in "critical condition." Six Flags told WANF the shooting happened on nearby South Service Road, which is neither owned nor operated by the park. "It is incredibly disappointing that our community is disrupted at public events throughout the region by groups of underaged youth," Six Flags Over Georgia management said in a statement to WANF. The Georgia Bureau of Investigation is probing the incident.

[6/12/2024] search is underway for a woman who is charged in the abuse/neglect death of her young special needs son. Birmingham police are searching for Serena Starkey. She is a 43-year-old white female. The investigation began March 2 when Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service was dispatched to a person down call at the Extended Stay America on Cahaba Park Circle off U.S. 280. It was about 7:30 a.m. that Saturday. Aston Starkey, a 13-year-old boy with Down's Syndrome, was rushed to Grandview Medical Center where he was pronounced dead. Sgt. LaQuitta Wade said South Precinct officers, as well as homicide detectives, responded to the hospital and launched an unclassified death investigation. Shelby County DHR also launched an investigation. The preliminary investigation revealed Aston died under suspicious circumstances, Wade said. On June 6, Shelby County Coroner Lina Evans notified Birmingham police that Aston's autopsy showed he died as result of malnutrition and dehydration complicated by neglect. The medical examiner's office ruled the manner of death a homicide. The murder warrant against Starkey was issued June 7 by the Shelby County District Attorney's Office. Authorities have been searching for the mother since then. Aston was originally born in Florida. He and his mother moved around frequently, authorities said, and had been living in Birmingham for about a year. Aston was not in school and was rarely, if ever, taken to the doctor, authorities said. They may have previously lived in Montgomery. Aston is Birmingham's 67th homicide this year. Of those, seven have been ruled justified.

A woman has been charged with murder in her boyfriend's shooting death, according to Mobile police. Officers at approximately 11:25 a.m. Sunday responded to the 4000 block of Seabreeze Road North in reference to a 21-year-old male shot. JaCurtis Robinson was found dead at the scene. The victim's girlfriend, 23-year-old Desiree Holiday, was arrested and charged with murder.

An armed South Carolina man who barricaded himself inside his Midlands home during an hours-long standoff was arrested early Sunday morning, according to the Richland County Sheriff's Department. Bryce Locklear, 30, was charged with aggravated breach of peace after law enforcement used gas to force him out of his Richland County home. The incident began at about 5 p.m. Saturday, when deputies responded to a report of a shooting in the 100 block of Sunderland Drive. That's in Elgin, near the intersection with U.S. 1/Two Notch Road. Locklear lives at a home in the 100 block of Sunderland Drive, Richland County court records show. When deputies arrived they saw Locklear on his porch, before he retreated inside as they approached. Locklear refused to come out. Deputies saw multiple fired rifle rounds in front of the home, and the department's special response team was called. Law enforcement officers made contact with Locklear and continued to communicate with him for hours. During this time, Locklear threatened to shoot the deputies. By early Sunday morning Locklear had gone silent, and deputies believed he had fallen asleep. As deputies began to leave, Locklear came out of the house with a high powered rifle and fired a round before returning back inside. There was no word if the shot was fired at law enforcement officers or in another direction. The special response team then deployed gas in an effort to have him peacefully exit the home. It flushed Locklear outside into the backyard, still armed with the rifle, where deputies were able to take him into custody. No one else was inside the home, the sheriff's department said. Deputies said that Locklear was taken to an area hospital, but no other injuries were reported. Locklear was

Two men were shot Saturday night in separate incidents, according to the Columbia Police Department. The victims of the unrelated shootings were taken to an area hospital, police said on social media. At about 10:30 p.m., police said officers were investigating a shooting at the Colony Apartments. That's in the 6400 block of Bailey Street. The victim was shot in the upper body and was in critical condition, police said. Officers collected ballistic evidence from the scene and planned to watch surveillance footage from the area. At about 11 p.m., officers responded to a shooting in the 4000 block of Plowden Road. That's by the Rosewood area, near the South Carolina State Fairgrounds, and about 6 miles from the Colony Apartments. The victim in that incident suffered significant injuries after being shot in the upper body. Officers said the victim was in stable condition at a hospital. There is no information connecting the shootings. There was no word about who pulled the triggers or anyone else involved in the shootings. No arrests have been reported by police, who said they are continuing to investigate both shootings.

An exchange of gunfire during a home invasion robbery in western Orange County early Sunday left one resident dead and one of the intruders injured, according to the sheriff's department. Three armed men broke into a home on U.S. 70 near Buckhorn Road at about 12:30 a.m. and demanded money, according to the Orange County Sheriff's Office. Three people were in the house at the time, and one of them fired a shotgun at the intruders, hitting one of them. One of the intruders returned fire, hitting the resident, before all three fled. The resident was taken to Duke University Hospital, where he died during surgery. The sheriff's office identified him as Jerry Lee Driggers, 58. The two other residents of the home reported being held at gunpoint but were not physically harmed. Deputies arrived at the home about 12:40 a.m. The sheriff's office says its deputies found one of the intruders in the parking lot of a business nearby. They say Clarence Brandon Hayes, 28, of Durham had a gunshot wound to the abdomen and underwent surgery at a nearby hospital. Hayes was charged with first-degree murder, first-degree burglary, first-degree kidnapping, felony conspiracy and injury to real property. He was still hospitalized Sunday, according to the sheriff's office. A K9 unit tried to locate the other two intruders but concluded they were no longer around. The residents of the home described them as men wearing masks and all black clothing. Sheriff Charles Blackwood said Sunday afternoon that the crime was "an isolated incident" and that deputies had no reason to think the two other men were still in the immediate area. "We will continue to investigate, seeking to determine their identities and take them into custody," Blackwood said in a statement.

[3/6/2024] A body found in northeast Jefferson County is believed to be a Birmingham man missing since the weekend. Jefferson County sheriff's deputies were called shortly after 4 p.m. Tuesday to the 5200 block of Dewey Heights Road on a report of an abandoned vehicle. Lt. Joni Money said vehicle appeared to have been intentionally covered to conceal it. There was also evidence of the possibility of someone deceased in the area. Detectives and a cadaver dog were called to the location to further the investigation. Human remains were located. Investigators with the Jefferson County Coroner's Office were called to the location Wednesday morning to collect the remains for identification and notification of the family. Money said the body has not been identified, but the found car matched the description of the Honda Civic belonging to 38-year-old Jewel Jones Bendolph. Family said Bendolph's car was a 1999 silver, four-door Honda Civic with Alabama license plate number 1FB8610. There was evidence of foul play, Money said, and the death is being investigated as a homicide. Family said they were notified midday of his death. Bendolph was last seen alive about 4 a.m. Sunday at the BP gas station in Birmingham's Mason City which is near Ishkooda Road. He called his grandmother's phone at 5:07 a.m. Sunday but he said nothing. Instead, family said, his grandmother could hear a struggle and Bendolph saying, "Get off me. Don't touch me." Bendolph had not been heard from since then. Money said the body has been taken to the Jefferson County Coroner's Office for identification, as well as to determine the cause and manner of death. Sheriff's investigators and Birmingham police will work together to investigate.

[4/14/2024] A 20-year-old South Carolina man faces multiple charges a month after a shooting, the Lexington County Sheriff's Department said. West Columbia resident Korey Muller was taken into custody after shooting at a woman following an argument, the sheriff's department said Thursday in a news release. Muller is charged with attempted murder, possession of a weapon during a violent crime, possession with intent to distribute marijuana and possession with intent to distribute methamphetamine. He was arrested April 2, and remains in the Lexington County Detention Center after his bond was denied, jail records show. "Based on the information detectives have gathered, Muller grabbed a gun out of his car and fired one shot at the victim after an argument March 4," Lexington County Sheriff Jay Koon said in the release. "The woman was not hit by the gunfire." No injuries were reported by the sheriff's department, which did not say where the shooting happened. There was no word if Muller and the victim knew each other prior to the shooting, and information about why they were arguing was not available. When Muller, who the sheriff's department said is a documented gang member, was arrested, he was in possession of more than 2 pounds of marijuana, meth and a loaded handgun, Koon said. Information about how Muller was connected to gang activity was not available.

A 28-year-old man was charged with murder early Monday after a shooting outside a Hooters restaurant in Newnan, according to police. Officers were called at about 12:15 a.m. to the Bullsboro Drive restaurant, Newnan police said in a news release. They arrived to find a man in the parking lot with a gunshot wound. The victim, whose name was not released, was taken to an Atlanta-area hospital but died from his injuries shortly after 6 a.m. His name was withheld pending notification of family members. A second man, Jacob Lee Vandiver, was taken into custody at the scene. "Based upon the investigation, it appears the victim and suspect were at the restaurant together before the shooting occurred," Newnan police said. "The shooting is believed to be the result of a verbal disagreement between the two men, which escalated into the physical altercation." Vandiver, of Fayetteville, was arrested and charged with murder, aggravated assault and possession of a firearm during the commission of a felony. He was being held Monday in the Coweta County jail.

Gunfire inside a Birmingham warehouse Monday morning left one person critically injured. Just before 8:50 a.m. Monday, officers were dispatched to Dawson Tarpaulins Inc. at 2617 24th Street North on a report of a shooting. The business manufactures tarps for 18-wheelers. Officer Truman Fitzgerald said they arrived to find the victim – an adult male employee– shot multiple times. Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service rushed him to UAB Hospital with critical injuries. The preliminary investigation shows the victim was working when the suspect, who has not yet been identified, entered the warehouse, and fired shots. There are reports the shooter may also be an employee, Fitzgerald said. No arrests have been made. “We have a man that was working hard this morning that was shot in his workplace and he’s fighting for his life,” Fitzgerald said. Fitzgerald said it appears the victim was targeted. “The suspect walks in the door, shoots the victim, and leaves the scene,” he said. “It’s upsetting because so many of our shootings stem from suspect knows victim, victim knows suspect, they have some sort of relationship,” he said. “This is another shooting we’ve had where we believe the victim and suspect know one another.” Investigators believe other employees may know the identity of the suspect but are afraid to come forward.

The South Carolina Law Enforcement Division said it's investigating a shooting that involved an armed woman and Laurens County Sheriff's deputies. The shooting happened Monday. No one was injured in the shooting, according to Wednesday's release. Deputies got involved at about 9:50 p.m. Monday, when they responded to a Mountain Creek Road home where there was a report about a domestic dispute, the sheriff's office said. That's in the Gray Court area of Laurens County. Deputies tried to speak with the person who was believed to be the aggressor in the domestic incident, according to the sheriff's office. That person was later identified as 50-year-old Mollie Mischelle Shephard, and she was armed, SLED said. As deputies tried to make contact, Shephard fired at least one shot, and one deputy returned fire. At that point, deputies were able to safely assist the other resident out of the home, while Shephard barricaded herself inside, officials said. The deputies made more attempts to communicate with Shephard, but when there was no progress both the sheriff's office's SWAT team and SLED's SWAT team were called to the scene, according to the sheriff's office. Following negotiations with both SWAT teams, Shephard eventually exited the home and was arrested without incident, SLED said. When she was taken into custody at about 12:10 a.m. Tuesday, Shephard was charged with two counts of attempted murder and a single count of breach of peace. Shephard was taken to the Laurens County Detention Center, SLED said. She remains behind bars after her bond was denied on both attempted murder charges, jail records show.

A South Carolina man with a history of domestic violence was charged with murder after his girlfriend died in a hospital, the Richland County Sheriff's Department said Wednesday. Nathan McLaughlin, 41, was originally charged with attempted murder in his girlfriend's assault, but that charge was upgraded following his girlfriend's death. The Richland County Coroner's Office identified the victim as Theresa Stenger, 43. Deputies became involved at about 4 p.m. Tuesday when they responded to a local hospital where Stenger was being treated. Hospital staff told the deputies that EMS had responded to the 1300 block of Marley Drive and taken the victim to the emergency room. Marley Drive is in Columbia, near Exit 65 on Interstate 20, which is the junction with Broad River Road. Hospital staff had told the deputies that "she would not recover," the sheriff's department said. McLaughlin, who was the victim's boyfriend, was arrested and booked at the Alvin S. Glenn Detention Center. He was behind bars when the victim died, and his charge was upgraded to murder. Information about what led to the attack was not available. No bond was set for McLaughlin, who remains locked up at the detention center, jail records show. He's scheduled to return to court on May 31, according to Richland County judicial records. In 2022, McLaughlin pleaded guilty to a third-degree domestic violence charge, and was sentenced to 90 days behind bars, court records show. A background check by the South Carolina Law Enforcement Division showed that McLaughlin was charged and convicted of a first offense of domestic violence by the South Congaree Police Department in 2000. In 2016, McLaughlin was charged with third degree domestic violence in Florence County. He pleaded guilty the next year

Two people are dead following a possible murder-suicide midday Wednesday at a Dothan home. Police Lt. Scott Owens said officers were dispatched just before noon to a report of someone shot in the 900 block of East Bunche Street. When they arrived, they found a woman in the front yard. She had been shot multiple times and was pronounced dead on the scene. Owens said they received reports that the suspect had gone either into the residence, or around the back. Multiple attempts to contact him by phone and loudspeaker were unsuccessful. Officers forcefully entered the front door of the home and sent in the bomb robot. The robot picked up footage of a man wearing clothing that matched that of the suspect. He was dead on the scene from what appeared to be a self-inflicted gunshot wound, Owens said. The investigation is ongoing. “We’re still looking for witnesses,” Owens said. “We have identified some but we don’t want to identify what they saw until investigators work that out.”

One person is injured after a shooting at the College Park MARTA Station on Wednesday, according to MARTA Police. Right now, there is very little additional information. However, we know from the police that a suspect is in custody. Officers add that rail service has not been affected at this time.

Three teens were arrested in connection with an armed robbery and shooting near Swansea, the Lexington County Sheriff’s Department said Friday. Lexington County Sheriff Jay Koon said that after investigators spoke with witnesses and victims, they determined one of the teens stole a gun out of a gas station on Edmund Highway on Wednesday. “Later that night the teens were at a home off Redmond Mill Road and shot in the direction of three other people following an argument,” Koon said. “Following the shooting, the three teens ran away.” They were caught Thursday night. All three were charged with three assault and battery in the first degree and one count of pointing and presenting a firearm, according to investigators. One has been charged with one count of armed robbery and possession of a weapon during a violent crime. Further charges may come as the sheriff’s department continues to investigate the incident. The suspects were transported to the South Carolina Department of Juvenile Justice. The sheriff’s department is not releasing their names because they are under the age of 18, Koon said.

[4/5/2024] The ongoing cyberattack on the City of Birmingham is causing a shortfall in public safety. Officer Deangelo Hall, president of the state's largest Fraternal Order of Police, penned a letter to Mayor Randall Woodfin to address the massive hack that has disrupted the city's network. Hall said there are multiple complaints by employees that they are not being fully compensated or, in some cases, not being paid at all. Additionally, the lack of pay stubs has added to the frustration and distrust among employees who simply want proper compensation and assurance that their benefits have been paid and will not be interrupted. "These issues have contributed to low morale among city employees, especially within the police force, exacerbating the current difficulty in hiring and retaining officers," Hall wrote. City officials have stressed that the 911 system has not been affected. Emergency operations remain functional. However, the computer hack has caused some problems for law enforcement with police facing limitations on checking to see if a vehicle has been reported stolen or if a person has outstanding warrants. "This ongoing issue has negatively affected essential services due to the police department's disruption of internal resources that has made officers' jobs increasingly more difficult," Hall wrote. "As a result, the city has suffered a shortfall in public safety." In a memo sent to city employees Wednesday, Woodfin's office provided a brief update on the network disruption, and acknowledged for the first time that hackers accessed the city's computer systems. "This process is ongoing; however, based on the investigation thus far, we understand that an unknown third party gained access to our systems for a period of time," according to the memo sent to employees by Dick Lammert, the mayor's

One person was injured and another jailed following gunfire outside a Hoover home. Police responded about 1:15 a.m. Tuesday to a 911 call of a shooting in the 2100 block of Kelly Lane. Officers arrived to find an adult male in the backyard of the residence. He has been shot several times, said Lt. Daniel Lowe. The victim's identity has not been released. He was taken to UAB Hospital with life-threatening injuries. The suspect, who lives at the home, was taken into custody at the scene. Lowe said detectives he and the victim are acquaintances. Additional details surrounding what led to the shooting have been released. The suspect is being held in the Hoover City Jail. His name, authorities said, will be released once formal charges are filed.

A Mobile County man was stabbed and set on fire Wednesday afternoon, with the primary suspect a teenager who had been living with the victim. The Mobile County Sheriff's Office responded to a report of a residential fire on Army Road just before 5 p.m. Wednesday. The person who called in the fire said a man had been stabbed and set on fire. Deputies arrived to find the victim, 70-year-old Neulan Sims, still alive. He was transported to an area hospital, where he died Thursday, according to the sheriff's office. Initial investigation indicates Sims was stabbed by a juvenile who had been living with Sims. The teenager fled the scene on foot, but was later apprehended and taken to Strickland Youth Center. The juvenile is charged with attempted murder. The sheriff's office continues to investigate the incident.

A 13-year-old Mobile boy was shot and killed Wednesday night, according to police. Mobile police responded to a report of a shooting on Mack Street about 11:42 p.m. Wednesday. At the scene, they found the 13-year-old suffering from an apparent gunshot wound in a front yard. He died at a local hospital. "This is an active homicide investigation, and no further details will be disclosed at this time to maintain the integrity of the investigation," police said.

Madison County investigators have charged a man with murder following a death Thursday. According to the sheriff's office, deputies received a call reporting a dead man at 1790 Capshaw Road in the Harvest community. The man, later identified as Derek Franklin Walls, 54, of Harvest, was found inside a residence. Detectives have arrested and charged Kyle Hayden Lewter, 36, with murder. Investigators believe a physical altercation between the two, who knew each other, led to Walls' death. Lewter was taken to Madison County Jail to be held without bond until an Aniah's Law hearing.

Montgomery police are investigating a shooting that happened last night in the Carriage Hills neighborhood. Police told Action 8 News that at about 6:50PM, they and fire medics were called to the 3200 block of Covered Bridge Drive. That's where they found a woman suffering from a gunshot wound. She was taken to a hospital with injuries that are not believed to be life-threatening. Police have released no other information.

A man was shot and killed during a Thursday evening standoff at a Troup County home where several people had to be evacuated, the GBI said. Russell Jason Heiser, 52, of West Point, was fatally shot during the incident. No Troup sheriff's office deputies were injured. Deputies said they were called to the home on Shoemaker Road around 9:30 p.m. regarding an armed man who was making threats to shoot himself and possibly harm others in the home, including a child. The GBI said deputies encountered Heiser waving a gun and tried negotiating with him to put down the weapon. Several family members were in the house with Heiser at the time and deputies said they were able to safely escort everyone out. It was at that point that a standoff between deputies and Heiser began, according to the GBI. At around 11:45 p.m., the sheriff's office said Heiser came out of the home, placed a handgun on a porch railing and spoke with deputies. About 15 minutes later, a deputy deployed their Taser after Heiser allegedly attempted to run toward the gun he had previously put down, officials added. Heiser was able to retrieve the gun and point it at deputies before two deputies shot in his direction as he retreated into the home, the GBI said. Officials then heard a gunshot from inside the home and Heiser was later found suffering from a single gunshot wound, the state agency said. Heiser was taken to a nearby hospital, where he eventually died. The GBI did not say if the gunshot wound that killed Heiser was self-inflicted or if it was a result of when deputies shot at him. The GBI was asked to investigate the incident and will turn over all findings to the Coweta County Judicial Circuit District Attorney's Office. It marked the 12th officer-involved shooting the state agency has been asked to investigate this year.

A man was shot and is in critical condition after an argument in Downtown Atlanta near the Five Points MARTA station, police told 11Alive on Friday morning. The victim was shot in the face, police said, and APD said they are still looking for the suspect, checking surveillance cameras to see if they can get an identity on him. Police activity in the area had a portion of Alabama street closed and Broad Street blocked off across from the station. APD told 11Alive one man shot another as their argument continued while they got off the MARTA bus at that intersection. The MARTA Police Department said in an email to 11Alive that their dispatch reported the "incident happened across the street from the station." The MARTA Service X account posted: "Route 21: EB & WB trips from Alabama St & Broad St (Five Points) are Blocked, and re-routed due to Police activity. We apologize for the inconvenience. Thank you for riding Marta."

A Tuscaloosa woman is under arrest after authorities say she posted a Facebook Live video laced with threats of violence at a middle school. Ebony Sierra Patrick, 32, was charged Friday with first-degree making terroristic threats. Tuscaloosa police supervisors, the department's Threat Assessment Team and School Resource Officers were made aware of the video Thursday, shortly after it was posted to social media, said police spokeswoman Stephanie Taylor. The video included threats of violence toward Northridge Middle School. According to the video, Patrick said was upset that her 15-year-old daughter, a member of the show choir, was left behind from a school event. Statements made by Patrick in the video included: – “When it comes down to my kids, anybody can die. Anybody.” – “I’m gonna wake that mother (expletive) school up tomorrow” – “On my mama (expletive) grave, (expletive), you was gonna die. If I had to come to the school and kill you.” Patrick, in tears, said she knew she would probably be going to jail. Officers immediately coordinated with Tuscaloosa City Schools officials to ensure increased security at the school Friday morning. “Our dispatchers and officers received dozens of calls from parents who were worried about sending their children to school today,” Chief Brent Blankley. “That should never happen.” “Threats of any kind, especially those directed at our schools, are completely unacceptable,” Blankley said. “They cause fear and alarm, disrupt the learning environment and put our children’s safety at risk.” The chief said police take all threats seriously.

[3/18/2024] A Charlotte woman and her two young children were found dead more than a week after they were reported missing, according to the Charlotte–Mecklenburg Police Department. Police charged Benjamin Joseph Taylor, 35, with 3 counts of murder and one count of concealment of death. Taylor was found on Saturday and arrested in Imperial County, California. He will be held in the Imperial County jail, awaiting extradition to North Carolina. On Friday, CMPD shared a post on X, the social media platform formerly known as Twitter, that said officers were investigating an apartment complex along Orchard Trace Lane near the Interstate–85 Connector and U.S. Highway 29. The department said at the time that human remains were found in the area. Officers discovered the remains around 1:45 p.m. that day. On Saturday, CMPD said they had presumptively identified the remains as 22–year–old Markayla Johnson and her children: 4–year–old Miracle Johnson and 7–month–old Messiah Johnson. All three had been reported missing on March 8. Chief Jennings said in a news conference Saturday afternoon they believed a person of interest to be at large somewhere in the Carolinas. However, he also said the department wouldn’t hesitate to launch a nationwide manhunt. Jennings said the person they were looking for was in a relationship with Johnson. On Sunday, CMPD announced Taylor’s arrest in connection to the case.

A man has died after he was shot early Friday inside a west Birmingham apartment. The Jefferson County Coroner’s Office identified the victim as Roderick Walker. He was 47. Authorities said the shooting happened at 12:42 a.m. Friday in the 4200 block of Avenue U. No additional details were immediately released. Walker was taken to UAB Hospital where he was pronounced dead at 3:20 a.m. He is Birmingham’s 20th homicide this year. Of those, two have been ruled justifiable and therefore aren’t deemed criminal. In all of Jefferson County, there have been 26 homicides, including the 20 in Birmingham.

A 33-year-old man was shot to death Friday morning when authorities say he broke into a McCalla home. Jefferson County sheriff's deputies were dispatched at 4:25 a.m. to a report of a person shot at a house in the 6600 block of Newbridge Drive. They arrived to find the intruder dead. Lt. Joni Money said it appears the man broke into the home and got into a physical altercation with the residents once inside. The intruder did know at least one of the people who live there. During that fight, one of the residents pulled a gun and fired shots. The name of the slain man has not yet been released. The investigation is ongoing. The man is the 27th homicide so far this year in all of Jefferson County.

Montgomery police are investigating a shooting near downtown that left a woman injured. Police told Action 8 News that at about 4:30AM today, they and fire medics were called to the 900 block of South Union Street, which is just south of Interstate 85. They say they found the woman, who was taken to a hospital with what are believed to be non-life threatening injuries. Police have released no other information.

Law enforcement agencies in metro Atlanta are searching for suspects after an armed robbery at a Coweta County pharmacy lead to a chase and wreck in East Point on Friday morning. Newnan Police officers said that a man entered Thompsons' Pharmacy on Millard Farmer Industrial Boulevard just around 9:49 a.m. He then pulled a handgun and allegedly stole several controlled substances. Police then said the man got into a silver passenger car with two other people and drove away from the scene. The police department added the Coweta County Sheriff's Office then found the vehicle that was used in the getaway on I-85 South and attempted to pursue the vehicle. Law enforcement later found the vehicle wrecked on I-285 and said the suspects ran away after the car crashed. GDOT cameras show several patrol cars near I-85 and I-285. The cameras do not indicate a significant traffic impact. Several agencies are searching the area for the suspects in the I-285 area in East Point. A description of the suspects was not released.

Gwinnett County police recently used their aviation unit to track a suspect in a stolen vehicle “safely and unobstructed” to a school, where he was arrested. Shiheen Junnelle Russell, 18, of Duluth, faces several charges, including two counts of kidnapping, four counts of theft by receiving stolen property and fleeing or attempting to elude police. The vehicle was spotted by license plate-reader cameras near Peachtree Parkway and Spalding Drive in Peachtree Corners around 3:30 p.m. Friday, authorities said. Officers tried to stop the vehicle, but Russell, who was allegedly driving, accelerated and began making evasive maneuvers in traffic, police said. While video from the aviation unit initially shows the vehicle moving with the flow of traffic, it then improperly passes other vehicles by crossing over double yellow lines into the opposite lanes of travel. Law enforcement experts warn that a high-speed pursuit amid heavy traffic is often riskier than apprehending a suspect by other means. Police continued tracking the vehicle from the air while relaying its location to officers on the ground until the driver pulled into the back of a school, which was not named. Three people got out of the car, two of whom willingly met with responding officers, authorities said. Investigators determined they had not participated in any crimes and were released. Russell was subsequently located and arrested. The kidnapping charges stem from the two occupants who were not involved, officials said. No other details have been released by police.

A man was shot by a DeKalb County deputy over the weekend after he was allegedly caught dropping off contraband outside the jail, officials said Wednesday. The suspect, 25-year-old Deontre' Thomas, ditched his still-running car after he was spotted around 1:15 a.m. Saturday leaving the undisclosed items, according to the GBI. Law enforcement chased the man along Memorial Drive, the main road just northwest of the jail, but eventually lost sight of him. A short time later, Thomas came back for his vehicle and was spotted by a deputy. "The deputy fired his weapon, and Thomas drove away from the scene in his car," the GBI stated. "Officers chased the car but lost sight of it." At around 2:30 a.m., DeKalb police got a call about a person who was at a home on Emerald Drive in Atlanta after being shot, officials said. When officers arrived, they found Thomas, along with the vehicle that had been seen outside the jail, according to the GBI. Thomas was taken to the hospital and is said to be stable. It's unclear what charges he will face. No officers were injured during the incident. The GBI was asked to investigate and will turn over all findings to the DeKalb District Attorney's Office for review. It marked the 13th officer-involved shooting the state agency has been asked to investigate this year.

Four masked thieves made off with four vehicles valued at nearly $300,000 from a Daphne dealership Saturday, police said Monday. Terry Thompson Chevrolet was burglarized during the early morning hours Saturday, according to police. The four suspects — seen on surveillance video wearing masks and black clothing — forced entry into the building through a window in the service department and then located the key fobs to the vehicles. The suspects were dropped off at the dealership in a dark, four-door sedan about 2 a.m., police said. The vehicles stolen were: 2024 Chevrolet Suburban Z71, gray, valued at $75,690 — 2024 Chevrolet Silverado 2500HD LT, white, valued at $60,000 — 2024 Chevrolet Silverado 2500HD High Country, white, valued at $77,440 — 2022 Dodge Charger SRT Hellcat, black, a 717-horsepower sedan which originally stickered at $77,345. Daphne police located one of the trucks via its on-board GPS system traveling north on Interstate 65 near Prichard shortly after the theft, but then lost track of the vehicle. Police believe the suspects disabled the vehicles' GPS systems.

An investigation is underway after a man was fatally shot early Saturday in Birmingham. Birmingham police Saturday evening identified the victim as Lamar King. He was 41. West Precinct officers were dispatched at 2:20 a.m. to Princeton Baptist Medical Center. Hospital staff told police someone dropped off the victim. King was pronounced dead a short time later. Sgt. LaQuitta Wade said officers and detectives are still trying to determine where the shooting happened. King is Birmingham's 21st homicide this year. Of those, three have been ruled justifiable and therefore aren't deemed criminal. In all of Jefferson County, there have been 28 homicides including the 21 in Birmingham.

Police are investigating after four people were struck by gunfire in two separate shootings across downtown Atlanta on Saturday night. The shootings occurred over a span of four hours, leaving two teenagers and a female bystander injured in the Hotel District. Later that evening, about a half mile away, a man approached and attempted to steal the Taser from a Georgia State University officer near campus after being shot in an undisclosed location. Officers were called just after 6 p.m. to the first shooting in the 200 block of Peachtree Street. At the scene, they found a 15-year-old, a 16-year-old and a female bystander each suffering from a gunshot wound. The victims, whose names were not released, were alert and breathing when taken to the hospital, police said. A motive is unclear and no arrests have been made. At about 10 p.m., a 25-year-old man was found shot near GSU's campus, more than a week after students and officials spoke out over frustrations about recurring violence in the downtown Atlanta area. Atlanta police say the victim was struck by gunfire in an unknown location and walked over to a GSU officer situated in the parking lot of a RaceTrac gas station on Piedmont Avenue that closed last month due to safety and financial reasons. The officer had been posted there to help with the recent violence near campus, Georgia State University police Chief Anthony Coleman said. After banging on the patrol vehicle, police said the injured man, who was not a student, got into scuffle with the officer and tried to take his Taser. "The officer was able to subdue him, put him in handcuffs. Then at that point, (the man) said he was shot," Coleman told The Atlanta Journal-Constitution. The victim had been struck in the buttocks and was found just before 10 p.m., Atlanta police said. He was

A search is underway in South Carolina for a man who tried to kidnap a minor Saturday, the Richland County Sheriff's Department said. At about 8 p.m., deputies responded to a report of an attempted abduction in the 200 block of Baysdale Drive, the sheriff's department said Sunday in a news release. That's in an area of Columbia between Hard Scrabble Road and Kelly Mill Road, not far from Lake Carolina. At the scene, deputies met with the victim and their family, according to the release. The victim was not hurt and no injuries were reported. The man tried to grab the minor, but the child was able to run away, according to the release. The sheriff's department described the would-be kidnapper as a man with facial hair who was wearing all black clothing. Further information on the man, and a motive for the attempted kidnapping, was not available. Authorities did not say how old the victim is.

A man was arrested Friday and accused of driving over 100 mph before a Gwinnett County crash that killed three people, including his own daughter, officials said. Aaron Vaughn, 30, of Lawrenceville, is facing several charges including second-degree murder, three counts of first-degree vehicular homicide, two counts of second-degree cruelty to children and speeding. He was booked into the Gwinnett jail Friday afternoon. On March 10, officers responded to the wreck at the intersection of Peachtree Corners Circle and Elmside Village Lane. Police said Vaughn was driving a yellow Chevrolet Camaro south on Peachtree Corners Circle when the driver of a dark blue BMW attempted to turn left onto Peachtree Corners Circle from Elmside Village. The BMW struck the driver's-side door of the Camaro, officials confirmed. The speed limit along Peachtree Corners Circle is 45 mph, but police said Vaughn was driving "in excess of 100 mph just prior to the collision." The driver of the BMW, 46-year-old Armas Harding, and the passenger, 46-year-old Laura Rueda, both died at the scene. In addition to Vaughn, there were three other people inside his Camaro, including his 5- and 6-year-old daughters, who were only restrained using the car's seatbelt, police said. Georgia law requires all children under 8 years old to be restrained in a child safety seat. Aura Camarono, 5, was pronounced dead at the hospital. Vaughn's other daughter was taken to Children's Healthcare of Atlanta at Scottish Rite. The front passenger, a 28-year-old woman, remained at the hospital as of Friday afternoon. Vaughn is facing additional charges of serious injury by vehicle, two counts of transporting a child without proper restraint, reckless driving and not wearing a seatbelt.

[3/29/2024] Two teenagers are facing charges in Richland County are facing charges after a shooting earlier this month left a child injured. The Richland County Sheriff's Department announced Friday that Jamal Eichelberger, 17, and Jaylen Perry, 19, have been charged with three counts each of attempted murder, along with various weapons-related charges in relation to a shooting March 10 on the 500 block of Summit Terrace Court. That shooting injured an 11-year-old boy, WLTX reported. The boy and his 12-year-old sister were home alone when a bullet passed through their door and struck the boy, who survived the shooting, WACH FOX reported.

Charges have been filed against a 57-year-old man in connection with the disappearance of a 10-year-old Blount County girl earlier this week. Johnny Ray Chandler is charged with first-degree rape, first-degree kidnapping, two counts of sexual abuse of a child under the age of 12, unlawful imprisonment and obstructing government operations, according to Blount County District Attorney Pamela Casey and Blountsville Police Chief Shane Best. Chandler was taken into custody Tuesday after the victim was found his Smoke Rise home. Authorities are not releasing any additional information, including Chandler's relationship to the victim. He remains in the Blount County Jail. Casey said she is asking that he remain held without bond. The girl was last known to be at her Blountsville home on Joy Road between 1:30 a.m. and 2 a.m. Sunday. Officials on Monday said she left a note but did not releasing specifics of what was contained in that letter. The Alabama Law Enforcement Agency on Monday issued an Emergency Missing Alert. According to Blount County EMA, authorities were alerted to the girl's disappearance at about 3 a.m. Sunday, after family conducted an initial search for an unknown amount of time and then contacted 911. The Blountsville Police Department immediately initiated a search operation in the surrounding areas. Despite efforts, the situation did not meet the criteria for an Amber Alert; however, notifications were disseminated via the NIXLE alert system. The Blountsville Police Department, the FBI, the Blount County Sheriff's Office, Blount County EMA, the Blountsville Fire Department, and other agencies worked together in the search. The investigation is ongoing.

A man killed during an argument inside a northeast Birmingham apartment Sunday morning has now been identified. Derrick Devell Keith II, 30, was shot just before 9 a.m. in the 2300 block of Seventh Way N.W. at Madison Park apartments. He was pronounced dead at UAB Hospital at 9:38 a.m., according to the Jefferson County Coroner's Office. Sgt. LaQuitta Wade said Keith and the suspect were involved in a verbal dispute inside one of the units. Shots were then fired, hitting the victim. Keith ran outside of the apartment and collapsed on a sidewalk. Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service rushed him to UAB where he was pronounced dead. Wade said the suspect is in custody. No formal charges have been announced. Keith is Birmingham's 22nd homicide this year. Of those, three have been ruled justifiable and therefore aren't deemed criminal. In all of Jefferson County, there have been 29 homicides, including the 22 in Birmingham.

A man was shot outside Arbor Place Mall in Douglasville Sunday, according to police. Authorities said it happened in the parking lot a little after 12 p.m. on Sunday. Douglasville Police said the 32-year-old man has multiple gunshot wounds and is still receiving medical treatment in the hospital. A 41-year-old woman was arrested and charged with aggravated assault and aggravated battery, according to police. Officers said the two were involved in a relationship and added that the incident was "not a random act of violence."

[4/9/2024] An 18-year-old driver will, in fact, face charges after hitting and killing a 4-year-old girl, injuring her sister and father in the Mall of Georgia's parking lot back in March, according to the Gwinnett DA. District Attorney Patsy Austin-Gatson announced Tuesday that based on evidence she has seen, her office will now be bringing misdemeanor charges against the 18-year-old driver in the death last month of Abigail Hernandez. However, she didn't specify which charges would be filed and didn't detail the evidence that led to the charges. "The Hernandezes need us all now as a community to come together and do what justice requires," Austin-Gatson said. "...As I indicated we have been looking at this file for several weeks now and I just want the family to know that we fully intend to pursue justice on this case to the full constraints of the law." The Gwinnett County Police Department previously said the driver who hit the three people "was not deemed to be driving recklessly as it pertains to Georgia Law." However, the DA has now indicated there are grounds for charges. At the time of the crash, investigators said the family was crossing Mall of Georgia Drive in front of Dick's Sporting Goods and Von Maur when authorities said an 18-year-old driver of a 2004 White Chevrolet Silverado pickup truck was turning left and hit them. An online fundraiser was set up for the 4-year-old, Abigail Hernandez, following the fatal crash to raise funds for the family.

A teenager has been arrested and two others remain at large after a 3-year-old boy was shot and killed while watching television in his home in Athens over the weekend, authorities said Saturday. Athens-Clarke County police responded around 5:30 p.m. Friday to the Hallmark Mobile Home Park on Spring Valley Road, about five miles northeast of Oconee Forest Park. When officers arrived at the residence, they found two children shot, one of whom died at the scene. The 3-year-old was identified as Kyron Zarco by police. Zarco's older brother, and a man who police said was not shot, were both taken to a hospital with non-life-threatening injuries. "He was just watching television. His brother held him while he took his last breath," Zarco's mother Shanita Smith told Channel 2 Action News. "That was my miracle baby. That was my COVID baby. He beat all the odds. Just for somebody to take him away from me in seconds." According to police, the gunfire came from outside the home and appeared to be gang-related, though a motive is still unclear. Zarco was shot in the chest and his autopsy will be performed at the GBI Crime Lab, said Athens-Clarke Coroner Sonny Wilson. About an hour after the shooting, police said they arrested 17-year-old Julian Cubillos of Lawrenceville with assistance from Jackson County deputies and the GBI. Cubillos has been charged with felony murder, malice murder, four counts of aggravated assault and violation of the Street Gang Terrorism and Prevention Act. He is being held without bond, online records showed. Following an investigation, police also obtained arrest warrants for Jayden Brown, 16, and Dakious Echols, 18. Both teenagers are from Athens and face the same charges as Cubillos.

[3/19/2024] A week after four people were injured in a shooting and melee at a South Carolina bar, multiple arrests were made, including members of the security team, the Sumter Police Department said Tuesday. Two patrons and six members of the company hired to provide security at the Backyard Bar & Grill were charged with various crimes, police said in a news release. The venue is on Rast Street, in an area of Sumter between U.S. 378 and U.S. 76. The shooting happened March 10, according to the release. At about 6 p.m., officers were heading to the bar in response to a call about a fight when they learned about the gunfire. At the scene, and through the course of an investigation, officers discovered that a “disagreement or fight” — involving individuals attending a brunch and music performance — began inside the club and spilled outside into the parking lot where shots were fired. Officers recovered multiple shell casings from both handguns and long guns outside of the bar. Three victims — a 29-year-old Columbia woman, a 26-year-old Bethune woman, and a 21-year-old Sumter man — were shot before being taken by private vehicles to Prisma Health Tuomey. Another victim, a 31-year-old Columbia woman, fell and was run over by a car leaving the parking lot, according to the release. She was later transferred to a hospital in Columbia. All four victims were treated for their injuries and have since been released. As of Tuesday, 22-year-old Gable resident Myzariah Lucas and 27-year-old Sumter resident Aaliyah I. Blanding are the patrons who have been arrested, according to the release.

[4/2/2024] An arrest has been made following a drag race crash that killed two people and seriously injured three others in March. The Troup County Sheriff's Office announced on Monday that 45-year-old Willie Rhodes Jr. of LaGrange was booked into the Troup County Jail in connection to this case. Georgia State Patrol troopers were dispatched to a crash along Antioch Road on March 10 at 8:56 p.m. When they arrived, it was determined that a Chevrolet S-10 was drag-racing with another vehicle. Authorities said they believe the driver of the S-10 lost control of the car and hit a Chevrolet Trailblazer that was parked on the shoulder of the roadway along with four spectators. The driver of the S-10 was pronounced dead at the hospital, along with one of the spectators. The three others were severely hurt. GSP said in March that the second vehicle in the drag race had left the location. Since then, GSP and the Troup County Sheriff's Office have been working to identify the driver who left the scene. Now, on Monday, the sheriff's office said Rhodes is the alleged driver and is being charged with vehicular homicide, serious injury by vehicle, reckless driving, laying drag, racing on highways or streets, failure to remain in the right lane and leaving the scene of an accident.

A suspected drunk driver allegedly ran away after crashing into an Atlanta police patrol vehicle, sending the officer to a hospital late Sunday night, according to Channel 2 Action News. The crash happened around 11:40 p.m. along Lakewood Avenue, the news station reported. It's not clear what precipitated the crash, but when other officers arrived, they found their fellow officer who had been hit while in his vehicle. The injured officer was taken to a hospital with minor injuries. Officials told Channel 2 the alleged drunk driver hit the patrol car and then got out and ran away without being taken into custody. Authorities have not said if they have since found the suspect. Two other people were in the vehicle at the time of the crash, Channel 2 reported. One stayed inside the vehicle while the other ran into the woods, where he was apprehended. No other details about the crash have been released.

[4/9/2024] A man accused of sexually assaulting a ride-share driver in Alpharetta was arrested Friday, police said. Demarcus Johnson, 32, is facing charges of rape, kidnapping, aggravated assault and theft by taking in the March 11 incident. The victim, a woman who was driving for Lyft, told police she picked up Johnson and he stole her vehicle and then kidnapped and raped her, according to authorities. The investigation revealed that the victim was also “given a sedative” during the alleged attack, detectives said. A spokesperson for Lyft told The Atlanta Journal-Constitution in a statement that they have reached out to the driver offering support. The company has also permanently removed the suspect’s account from their platform and are assisting law enforcement with the investigation. “Safety is fundamental to Lyft, and the behavior described is reprehensible and has no place in our community or anywhere in society,” the corporation stated. The location where Johnson was picked up and where the alleged assault happened were not provided.

A 50-year-old man is now behind bars after turning himself in for a deadly Cobb County stabbing on Monday, according to the police department. It happened on the 2600 block of Windy Hill Road around 3:25 p.m. when police were called following reports of a stabbing. When officers arrived, they found 40-year-old Herman Robinson from Marietta with stab wounds. He was taken to hospital, where he later died. It was later revealed Randy Graham, 50, was the alleged suspect who stabbed Robinson before running away from the scene. Hours later, Randy Graham called 911 and expressed his intent to surrender to authorities. According to Cobb County Jail records, Graham is charged with murder in the commission of felony, possession of knife during commission of a crime and aggravated assault.

A masked gunman opened fire on a small group of people standing in field in a southwest Birmingham neighborhood, leaving one person dead. The shots rang out just before 5 p.m. Monday in the 100 block of First Avenue S.W. in the Titusville community. Sgt. LaQuitta Wade said officers arrived on the scene to find a man unresponsive outside a shed in a small field where people are known to gather. Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service pronounced the victim dead on the scene. No one else was injured. The victim, who has not yet been identified, was talking with other people when the shooter, wearing a ski mask, approached them on foot and fired multiple shots. At least a handful of shell casings were marked as evidence. The shooter then fled the scene. The investigation is in its early stages.

A 5-year-old girl and a 16-year-old boy were shot Tuesday afternoon in the Braggtown neighborhood area north of downtown Durham. Police responded to a report of a gunshot wound in the 3800 block of Dearborn Drive around 2:52 p.m., according to a news release. Emergency Medical Services workers took the two children to the hospital with non-life threatening injuries, the release stated. Police say the shots were fired from a passing car. Police announced no arrests or suspect information and did not say whether the two children were the intended targets.

A man is accused of brutally attacking two people during an hour-long rampage last week in Duluth, authorities said. Warren Crayton, 37, is facing an assault charge in connection with the separate and “disturbing” attacks that left a 16-year-old reportedly bloodied outside a Kroger store and a man partially paralyzed after being beaten and stabbed inside a nearby Shell gas station, according to Duluth police. Crayton was arrested Friday, three days after the chaos near the intersection of Peachtree Industrial Boulevard and Pleasant Hill Road, police said. The teenage victim told police that a stranger, later identified as Crayton, punched him in the face around 4 p.m. Tuesday as he was leaving the Kroger in the Peachtree Hill Shopping Center, according to Channel 2 Action News. “I look up and next thing I know he punched me and I’ m just bloody in my face,” the teen, who was not identified, told the news station. “I couldn’ t really see anything because there was a lot of blood in my face.” About an hour later, authorities said Crayton was captured on surveillance video chasing after two men in the parking lot of the gas station and following one inside. Police released footage of the attack, which showed the victim running in fear and tripping over a counter near the entrance, causing him to fall. Soon after, Crayton, who police said was holding a knife in his right hand, placed the man in a headlock, threw him to the ground and kicked him several times, according to the footage. Crayton also stabbed the victim in the back, causing him to suffer a broken vertebrae and “partial paralysis on both legs,” according to arrest warrants. Channel 2 reported that the victim worked at the gas station car wash. Police said Crayton attacked him after some type of argument. After getting tips from the public,

[4/12/2024] A Kennesaw woman who was a teacher at a Woodstock day care was arrested late last month on child cruelty charges after authorities said she was seen physically abusing a boy on security camera footage. Ashley Marie O' Connor, 28, was fired from her position at the Sunshine House and later arrested after the alleged abuse was brought to light, according to a spokeswoman for the day care company. The suspected assault took place March 13 and was discovered during a routine review of security footage the next day. The footage was also reviewed by Cherokee County sheriff's deputies, who used the evidence to take out arrest warrants against O' Connor. She was taken into custody March 28 on counts of first-degree cruelty to children and aggravated assault. O' Connor was released from the Cherokee jail the same day on $15,000 bond. According to the arrest warrant, O' Connor pinned the boy to the ground with her body weight, dragged him across the floor by his neck and picked him up by his left arm and leg before dropping him on his head. She is also accused of grabbing the boy by his neck and shaking his head so that it struck the ground, as well as slapping him and strangling him with a blanket. His age was not provided. The spokeswoman for the Sunshine House said the day care company terminated O' Connor immediately and contacted the child's parents and authorities. In addition to the sheriff's office, Sunshine House informed the Georgia Department of Early Care and Learning (Bright from the Start) about the incident. O' Connor "was not present in a classroom at any time after reporting of this incident," the Sunshine House spokeswoman said. According to the spokeswoman, O' Connor passed a state and national background check

[4/9/2024] It had to have been greasy, but not enough for a suspected burglar to slide through the vent and into a Cobb County restaurant. When employees at Los Bravos Mexican Restaurant on Roswell Road arrived for work shortly after 9 a.m. March 13, they found the man dangling above the stove in the kitchen and called police. Security camera video appears to show Mauricio Serrano-Jimenez enter the restaurant around 1:30 a.m. The video shows first responders pull Serrano-Jimenez from the vent and carry him out of the kitchen, Channel 2 Action News reported. The burglary and the process of freeing the suspect caused about $4,000 of damage to the vent, according to police. "I see a guy. The guy's legs are hanging from the hood of the kitchen," restaurant manager Julio Angel told Channel 2. "I can see from his waist to the bottom. He's pleading for help and he's thirsty. He wants water and I'm telling him, 'Why did you do this?' On top of the hood, there's like a little opening. This guy probably thought he was slim enough to come through. He removed a couple of the filters so he could make it through." Serrano-Jimenez, of Marietta, previously worked at a different Los Bravos restaurant but was fired in 2015 for stealing, according to an arrest warrant. Investigators said they believe he was involved in similar crimes at two other restaurants in the area. "Said accused is missing three fingers on his right hand, a physical detail seen in (security camera) video," an arrest warrant states. On March 5, Serrano-Jimenez allegedly entered the Laredos Taqueria & Grill on Cobb Parkway in Kennesaw through a vent. Once inside, he's accused of stealing three bottles of tequila and about $180 while doing $3,700 in damages, an arrest warrant states. On Feb. 16, he was caught on video

[4/2/2024] Authorities are asking for the public's help identifying the suspects in a Birmingham store robbery. The robbery happened at 2:40 a.m. Wednesday, March 13, at the Sunoco gas station. The business is located at 6805 First Ave. North. Officer Truman Fitzgerald said the holdup was carried out by three men. One of the suspects fired shots at another man, but no one was injured. Police on Tuesday released a photo of one of the suspects, and the getaway vehicle.

A family barbecue in southwest Birmingham turned into a crime scene Wednesday. Birmingham police Sgt. LaQuitta Wade said the gathering was taking place Wednesday night at a home in the 1100 block of Cotton Avenue S.W. About 7:45 p.m., she said, West Precinct officers were dispatched to a report of a person shot. Officers arrived on the scene and went inside the house. They found the adult male victim dead, Investigators believe the family dinner was taking place when one of the attendees became angry and started firing shots at the victim. It was not immediately clear, she said, if the two were related. The nature of the dispute also was not yet made public. The suspect fled the scene and, as of 9:30 p.m., remained at large. “We are currently searching the area,” Wade said. The victim is Birmingham’s 24th homicide so far this year. Of those, three have been ruled justifiable and therefore are not deemed criminal. In all of Jefferson County there have been 31 homicides, including the 24 in Birmingham.

Three men were shot outside a Henry County shopping center Wednesday night, according to authorities. One of the men then ran to a nearby Popeyes looking for help, Stockbridge police said. Officials said they got a call around 9 p.m. about shots fired in the parking lot of a Dollar General store on North Henry Boulevard near the intersection with Lake Spivey Parkway. The area is near I-675. When officers arrived, they found two men sitting in a Pontiac with gunshot wounds, police spokesperson Maj. Ron Momon said. Moments later, they got a report of a third man who had crossed Lake Spivey Parkway to get to the fast-food restaurant. All of the men were described as alert and taken to Grady Memorial Hospital, where they “are being watched closely by officers,” Momon said. The men’s relationship to each other is not clear. Details about what led to the shooting have not been released.

[3/27/2024] The mother of a teenager who is accused of opening fire on sheriff's deputies and wounding a K-9 has been charged with obstruction of justice, according to the Richland County Sheriff's Department. Iesha Danielle Taylor was arrested Wednesday by Richland County sheriff's deputies. Taylor, 33, allegedly told investigators that she did not know that her 17-year-old son, Jeremy Taylor, and a 14-year-old were involved in the shooting. "Investigators were able to corroborate that she did in fact know they were involved at the time she spoke with investigators," according to the sheriff's department. In the early morning hours of March 14, deputies attempted to stop the two teens who were in a truck that had been stolen from the South Kilbourne neighborhood. The teens fled, resulting in a car chase before the teens abandoned the truck near Valencia Park and took off on foot. Deputies released K-9 Kobe to subdue Jeremy Taylor after the teen did not respond to orders to stop, according to Richland County Sheriff Leon Lott. Taylor then allegedly shot at Kobe and the deputies, striking the dog. Deputies then returned fire, and Jeremy Taylor was shot multiple times. He was released from the hospital Friday, March 22, and transferred to the juvenile wing of the Alvin S. Glenn Detention Center. It was the Richland County Sheriff's Department's first officer involved shooting of the year. Iesha Taylor was arrested at her home "without incident" according to deputies. Court records do not indicate whether bond has been set.

[4/3/2024] A Cartersville High School teacher is now behind bars after he was accused of sexual assault. On Thursday, March 14, Cartersville Police received reports that John Paul Snead possibly had an alleged inappropriate relationship with a student. Snead was then arrested on Tuesday and charged with sexual assault and sexual battery. According to a statement from the school, Snead is no longer employed with Cartersville City Schools. Warrants state the teacher had sexual contact with a student without their consent. Police are holding the teacher at the Bartow County Jail until he receives a bond hearing. Authorities are still investigating the incident. 11Alive reached out to Cartersville City Schools for a statement. It released the following statement:

A 72-year-old man was arrested Friday after he allegedly posed as a police officer and conducted traffic stops in Trussville, authorities said. State troopers with the Alabama Law Enforcement Agency's Highway Patrol Division and special agents with the State Bureau of Investigation received information Tuesday about a man impersonating a police officer and pulling over vehicles in Trussville, ALEA said. The agency conducted an investigation that led to 72-year-old Springville resident John Milhorn being identified as a suspect in the case. Milhorn was arrested Friday and charged with impersonating a peace officer. He was booked into the Jefferson County jail on $100,000 bond. Further information was unavailable.

An Alabama man is in jail after authorities say a missing Georgia girl was found with him in Shelby County. Rafael Paredes Panameno, 22, is charged with two counts of second-degree rape, traveling to meet a child for an unlawful sex act, one count of second-degree, unlawful possession of marijuana, unlawful possession of a pistol and unlawful possession of drug paraphernalia. Alabaster police said detectives received information about a missing juvenile from Georgia who was believed to be in the area. They located Panameno, who lives in Alabaster, and then the girl. Investigators said the situation stemmed from an inappropriate relationship that began on social media. The victim's age was not released. "It's extremely important to monitor your children's online activities and contacts," said Det. Charles Brower. "We are beyond grateful to have located this juvenile and returned (her) to (her) family." If convicted, Panameno could face a maximum sentence of life in prison for traveling to meet a child for an unlawful sex act. The crimes of second-degree rape and second-degree sodomy carry a prison range of up to 20 years. Panameno was booked into the Shelby County Jail on Thursday. His bonds total $173,000 bond.

A security guard and a man who held him at gunpoint in a southwest Atlanta convenience store were both injured after multiple gunshots were fired in a struggle over the weapon, authorities said. Officers were first called to the Discount Food Mart at 3208 Martin Luther King Jr. Drive around 6 a.m. for a person shot, Atlanta police said. At the scene, they found the store's security guard suffering from a gunshot wound to the knee. He was taken to the hospital. Shortly after the initial 911 call, police responded to a second call at a home on Napoleon Drive SW, a cul-de-sac about four miles away. Police said they found a man at the house with a gunshot wound to the head, and he was taken to the hospital. Investigators quickly determined that the two calls were connected and that both men were injured in the same incident. According to police, the suspect came into the Discount Food Mart and pointed a gun at the security guard. The guard tried to disarm the man and as they struggled, the guard was shot in the knee. However, the security guard gained control of the gun and shot at the suspect, hitting him in the head. Investigators believe the man who entered the store with the gun was the aggressor, police said. The man was arrested in the hospital and is being treated in Grady Detention. Officials have not publicly identified the suspect or the victim in this incident, and the charges against the suspect were not specified. The investigation remains open.

Authorities are asking for the public's help finding a suspect in a weekend hit-and-run that injured a child. The crash happened Saturday in the 2500 block of McDaniel Drive in Anniston. A 4-year-old was hurt, but the extent of the injuries was not released. Police officials said the suspect vehicle has been described as a blue, two-door Hyundai coupe driven by a heavy-set Black female.

Auburn police have arrested five teenagers and charged them with various offenses, including unlawful breaking and entering into a vehicle. Police say 18-year-old Clayton McMillan, of Smiths, a 13-year-old juvenile from Columbus, Georgia, a 14-year-old juvenile from Colquitt, Georgia, a 16-year-old from Phenix City and a 17-year-old juvenile from Waverly Hall, Georgia, have been charged with five counts of unlawfully breaking and entering into a vehicle, theft of property second degree, theft of property third degree, and three counts of theft of property fourth degree. McMillan, the 13-year-old juvenile and the 16-year-old juvenile were also charged with possession of marijuana second degree. The 14-year-old juvenile and the 17-year-old juvenile were both charged with attempting to elude a police officer. The arrests come after Auburn PD received a call reporting a vehicle burglary involving multiple suspects near the 300 block of East Thach Avenue on March 16. Responding officers arrested the five suspects in the area a short time after the crime occurred. During the investigation, police discovered evidence linking the suspects to multiple auto burglaries that occurred between Feb. 24 to March 9, 2024, resulting in additional charges. McMillan was transported to the Lee County Jail and held on a $13,500 bond. The Lee County Juvenile Probation Office was contacted regarding detention of the juveniles. The Auburn Police Department encourages citizens to lock car doors and to not store valuables inside vehicles.

Shots rang out in a west Birmingham neighborhood Saturday afternoon, leaving one man dead. Birmingham police identified the victim as Keenetheen Royall. He was 24 and lived in Birmingham. West Precinct officers were dispatched shortly after 2 p.m. to the 1200 block of Fourth Avenue West in Birmingham's Bush Hills community. They arrived to find Royall unresponsive in the roadway close to the intersection of 12th Street and Fourth Avenue West. Birmingham firefighters pronounced the victim dead on the scene. The city's gunfire detection system – Shot Spotter – registered 15 to 20 rounds in the 1200 block. "Calls started coming of shots being heard," said Officer Truman Fitzgerald. Witnesses reported hearing the gunfire and said it appears a Glock switch was used, which police said is consistent with what they heard. Fitzgerald said Shot Spotter picked up shots fired along a couple of blocks. No arrests have been made. Fitzgerald said investigators believe the victim was targeted.

Multiple law enforcement agencies are investigating a sexual assault that happened Saturday afternoon in Columbia, the University of South Carolina Police Department said. The Columbia Police Department is also investigating the sex crime that happened on a moving golf cart, USC police said in a news release. The crime happened at about 4:30 p.m. near, but not on, the USC campus, according to the release. After leaving an event, the victim accepted a ride from a black-colored golf cart offering shuttle services that was occupied by two males, USC police said. During the ride, on South Assembly Street — between Rosewood Drive and Whaley Street — one of the men sexually assaulted the victim, according to the release. Police said one of the men on the golf cart was last seen wearing a black T-shirt with a Carolina logo, and the second was wearing a Chicago Bears jersey.

A 70-year-old grandmother was injured when she was caught in crossfire of a shootout in northeast Birmingham. At least 40 to 50 shots rang out just before 9 p.m. Saturday at Magnolia Court apartments on Westchester Court. That location is across from Monarch Ridge Apartments, formerly known as Valley Brook Apartments. When the shooting stopped, officers learned the woman had been struck in the leg while inside her apartment with her grandchildren. Police reported that at least one of the woman's grandsons was on his PlayStation when the bullets entered the home and that the gaming console was also hit. The woman was taken to the hospital with non-life-threatening injuries. No one else inside the apartment was injured. Officer Truman Fitzgerald said another apartment took gunfire as well as multiple vehicles. "No one who was the intended target was struck," he said. The shootout appears to have started in a breezeway at Magnolia Court. No arrests have been made.

Montgomery police are investigating a shooting that injured a woman Saturday night. Sgt. Tina McGriff tells Action 8 News that officers were called around 9:30 p.m. to a local hospital concerning a victim arriving with a gunshot wound. Once they arrived, they made contact with an adult female victim with non-life threatening injuries. It was later determined that the shooting occurred in the area of Whiting Avenue at Ridgecrest Street. No word on any suspects at this time.

A man was shot late Saturday night and a search is underway for who pulled the trigger, the Columbia Police Department said. The shooting happened in the Five Points area hours after an annual St. Patrick's Day celebration was held and thousands of people attended. Police have not released any information that connects the shooting to the celebration. At about 10 p.m., officers responded to the 1000 block of Harden Street and found a man who had been shot in the lower body, according to police. That's near the intersection with Gervais Street. Information about the victim's condition was not available. No other injuries were reported. Police said that officers in the area heard gunfire before additional officers were dispatched to the scene. There was no word about a shooter, or shooters, or anyone else involved in the gunfire. Information about a motive for the shooting was not available. No arrests have been reported by police, who said they are continuing to investigate the shooting.

One man was killed, and three others injured in a Saturday-night shooting in Montgomery. Police have identified the slain man as Quinton Harris. He was 36. Sgt. Tina McGriff said officers and fire medics were dispatched at 11:45 p.m. to a report of a person shot in the 3700 block of Woodley Road. They arrived to find Harris dead on the scene. McGriff said investigators then learned three more men had shown up at the hospital. All three had been wounded by gunfire but their injuries are not life-threatening. Those victims also were shot on Woodley Road. No additional details have been released, and no arrests have been announced.

A Columbus, Georgia man is in custody after kidnapping his ex-girlfriend in Lee County. The Lee County Sheriff's Office tells Action 8 News that deputies received a call around 10:22 p.m. on March 16 regarding a kidnapping in the 100 block of Lee Road 2063 in the Salem community. A BOLO was immediately sent out to surrounding agencies giving the vehicle description and the name of the suspect. Deputies with the Russell County Sheriff's Office observed the vehicle on U.S. Highway 80 in Phenix City and attempted to stop the vehicle. A high-speed chase ensued and the suspect was eventually wrecked in Columbus, Georgia. Lee County officials say that's where 28-year-old Eric Deyon Shorter was taken into custody. The investigation revealed that Shorter kidnapped his ex-girlfriend at gunpoint and threatened to kill her and another man if she did not comply with his demands. Deputies say Shorter then forced the woman into the vehicle and drove away. The woman was able to bail out on U.S. Highway 80 East in Russell County as the vehicle was speeding away. Officials say the victim suffered from severe road rash, cuts and bruises. She was taken to East Alabama Medical Center for treatment. Shorter remains in custody in the Muscogee County Jail and is waiting extradition to Lee and Russell counties where he will be charged with multiple felonies including kidnapping 1st degree, menacing, felony attempting to elude and various other charges to be determined.

Police responded to a hotel in Henry County on Sunday after a man was shot. Police said the man was taken to an area hospital. His condition was not immediately available. According to officials, Henry County Police Department officers responded just before midnight to a hotel on the 900 block of Hwy. 155 South in McDonough. 11Alive crews at the scene observed police activity around the Quality Inn & Suites, which is located on the 900 block of Hwy. 155 South. [4/27/2024] Investigators believe that a 23-year-old Clayton County woman reported missing earlier this month is no longer alive, but police said late Friday that they do not know where her body may be. “To date, Briana Winston has not been located but all points of evidence indicate that she is deceased and detectives will proceed with the case as a homicide investigation,” Clayton County police said in a media release. Winston’s family reported her missing on April 1 after going to her Garden Walk Boulevard apartment and finding it cleaned out by the father of her child, police said. After finding the apartment empty, Winston’s family found out from an employer that she was scheduled to work on March 17 but never arrived. Investigators now believe Winston disappeared during the early-morning hours March 17 and that “she was the victim of a crime that left her incapacitated in some way.” Winston is the mother of a 4-year-old, her cousin told Channel 2 Action News. Jasmine Walker said she believes Winston is in danger. “She has a daughter that she would never leave,” Walker said, days after Winston was reported missing. The child was with her father, the family said earlier this month. Winston’s uncle, Kendrick Langford, told Channel 2 that while he was searching behind her apartment building, he found a bag with bleach and shoes inside it. Langford said the police took the bag as evidence.

A man was struck by gunfire Sunday morning after a robbery attempt led to a shootout near a couple of popular West Midtown restaurants, authorities said. Atlanta police responded around 4 a.m. to reports of a person shot in the 900 block of Howell Mill Road near Hattie B's Hot Chicken and Snooze West Midtown. The area is less than a half-mile from Georgia Tech's campus and a short distance from Northside Drive. Officers met with the victim at Grady Memorial Hospital after learning he had been taken there in a private vehicle. Investigators believe the man, who was not publicly identified, was approached in a parking lot by a group of people wearing ski masks. After they demanded his items, police said the victim pulled out a gun and shot at the suspects. They returned fire and drove away in a silver sedan, authorities said. The victim is said to be stable at the hospital. No arrests have been made, and police have not provided any additional details on the shooting. Hattie B's 5,600-square-foot West Midtown eatery opened in Aug. 2022 and was the second Atlanta location of the Nashville-based hot chicken restaurant chain. The first Atlanta Hattie B's opened in 2018 on Moreland Avenue in Little Five Points. Snooze announced it had opened its West Midtown location in Sept. 2021. Both restaurants were closed at the time of the gunfire.

A woman was killed and two men were injured Sunday in an early-morning shooting at a club in Columbia, according to the Richland County Sheriff's Department. At about 5 a.m., deputies responded to report of a fight involving a weapon at Vegas Knights club/restaurant at 3722 River Drive. That's near the Broad River, in the area between Interstate 20 and North Main Street. The fight was over when the deputies arrived at Vegas Knights, but they learned that three victims left for an area hospital. A woman was shot in the upper body and died. Destiny Jones, a 24-year-old Columbia resident, was identified as the victim who died, Richland County Coroner Naida Rutherford said Monday. Two men also were hurt, with one getting shot in the upper body and the other in the lower body. The sheriff's department said both men are being treated at a local hospital. There was no word about a motive for the fight that led to the shooting, or details about the number of people involved. At about 5 p.m. Sunday, deputies said they searched a home in the 5000 block of Farrow Road in connection to the shooting, and a person of interest was detained and taken to the sheriff's department headquarters. No arrests have been reported by the sheriff's department, which said it's continuing to investigate the shooting. "There is no current threat to the community," the sheriff's department said.

A man is in the Marshall County jail on charges of kidnapping for sexual assault, according to jail records. Christopher Lee Gamel, 35, of Joppa, was arrested early Tuesday. He is being held on $100,000 bond. Arab Police Chief Shane Washburn said Gamel was arrested in connection with an incident early Sunday morning in Arab. According to police, a female victim was jogging on Second Avenue Northwest at about 5:15 a.m. when a man pulled over, got out of his white Toyota Camry, and brandished a gun. According to the woman, the man said, "I have a gun, get in the car." The woman was able to escape and identified the vehicle. Security footage from a nearby church helped identify the vehicle, Washburn said. Gamel was arrested in Albertville. According to court records, Gamel was indicted last year in Cullman County for first degree sexual abuse. A motion has been filed to revoke his bond.

A violent week in Birmingham continued early Sunday morning when two men were gunned down on a southwest Birmingham street. Shortly after 6 a.m., the city's West Precinct officers received a Shot Spotter alert in the 3400 block of Boise Avenue, in Birmingham's Green Acres community. Officers then learned at least two people were down in the road. The victims, Kartece Perkins and Leon Wyatt Jr., both 24 of Birmingham, were found on the ground, just a short distance from each other. Both were pronounced dead on the scene. Officer Truman Fitzgerald said there were multiple shots fired in that area. "There's shell casings everywhere on Boise Avenue," he said. "Our officers were getting reports there was a third victim," he said. "However, we've not been able to locate a third victim." More than 15 to 20 shots were fired, Fitzgerald said. Several homes were damaged by the gunfire. Some of those homes had young children inside. Detectives were canvassing the neighborhood to try to determine what happened. Dozens of family members and friends flocked to the location, visibly distraught. Multiple fights broke out among the crowd that gathered at the scene. Ultimately, police had to make everyone leave because of the hostile environment. "This is a tight-knit community and word has already traveled fast," Fitzgerald said. "We're just working to learn what took place that led to these two men losing their lives."

A man was found slain Sunday morning outside a small business off Bessemer Super Highway in Birmingham's fifth homicide in 24 hours. Birmingham police identified the victim as Eliazin Dominguez-Solis. He was 37. A passerby made the discovery shortly after 10 a.m. at 6233 Blocton Ave., an area in Birmingham near Bessemer, Brighton, Midfield and Lipscomb. Officer Truman Fitzgerald said officers received a call of a person down outside a place that appears to be a restaurant or a club. The name on the door says El Rincon, but it wasn't immediately clear if that is the current name of the business. Dominguez-Solis sustained obvious trauma, but Fitzgerald said it was too soon to tell if he had been shot, stabbed or beaten. He was on a walkway near the entrance to the business. Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service pronounced him dead on the scene. "We believe someone who was driving by saw the victim lying unresponsive and called 911," Fitzgerald said. No arrests have been made in the latest Birmingham homicide of the weekend. On Saturday afternoon, a man was shot to death on Fourth Avenue West in the Bush Hills community. Later that night, another man was found fatally shot on Vassar Avenue on the east side. On Sunday morning, two men were gunned down on Boise Avenue. In all, 10 people have been killed in nine days.

A 24-year-old South Carolina man was killed Sunday night in a shooting at a home near a major shopping mall in Columbia, according to officials. Columbia resident Nigel McFarland was identified as the shooting victim, Richland County Coroner Naida Rutherford said Monday. The shooting happened at about 7 p.m. Sunday at the Harbison Gardens development at 401 Columbiana Drive, according to the Columbia Police Department. That's about a mile from Columbiana Centre, a popular shopping mall in the busy Harbison Boulevard district. McFarland died at the scene, police said. No other injuries were reported. There was no word about a shooter, or shooters, or anyone else involved in the gunfire. Information about a motive for the shooting was not available. No arrests have been reported by police, who said they are continuing to investigate the shooting, which they called an isolated incident.

Johnston County authorities have charged a man with murder in a Sunday night shooting in Smithfield. Sheriff's deputies sent to a home on Bear Oak Drive at 9:23 p.m. found 44-year-old Emily Christine Steinhoff fatally shot, the Johnston County Sheriff's Office said in a news release. Dorian Thomas, 50, was arrested and charged with murder at the scene. Steinhoff had come to the home with her sister to pick up her sister's 14-month-old child, who had spent the weekend with Thomas, his father, the release stated. During a custody exchange, Thomas produced a firearm and fired a single shot at Steinhoff, the Sheriff's Office said. He is being held in the Johnston County Detention Center without bail. The investigation remains ongoing with no additional details released. The N.C. Coalition Against Domestic Violence has recorded 14 homicides related to domestic violence in 2024, according to its website.

A Lexington County woman has been charged with conspiring with an inmate to convince a guard to smuggle an iPhone into the the Lexington County jail. Skyy La’ Tasia Glover, 22, was charged by the South Carolina Law Enforcement Division with criminal conspiracy on Friday, March 15. Also charged was the Lexington County Detention Center officer, James Anthony Johnson, who delivered the iPhone 7 Plus and a charger concealed in a food tray, according to SLED. Johnson, 49, was charged with criminal conspiracy and furnishing contraband on Monday, March 18, 2024. The press release from SLED describes Johnson as a “former” officer. Both were booked at the Lexington County Detention Center. Warrants released by SLED say that after a review of phone and video calls made from the jail, investigators determined that the unnamed inmate conspired with Glover to convince Johnson to deliver the phone. The inmate confessed that he persuaded Johnson to “bring him an iPhone in return for setting him up with Glover,” warrants said. The warrant also alleged that that Johnson admitted to communicating with Glover over text message. The case will be prosecuted by the 11th Circuit Solicitor’s Office, according to SLED. Cellphones are a persistent problem inside of jails and prisons across South Carolina. Since the beginning of the year, 10 employees of the Alvin S. Glenn Detention Center in Richland County have been arrested, the majority for bringing in contraband or having inappropriate relationships with inmates.

A man is in the hospital fighting for his life and a suspect is now in custody after a shooting at a Chamblee QuickTrip on Monday afternoon, according to officials with the City of Chamblee. The shooting happened around 12:35 p.m. at the gas station on Chamblee Tucker Road where police said a man was shot near a pump. According to authorities, witnesses said the victim was asking different people for money at the pump when he walked up to the suspect's vehicle where he was shot. Police said the man was taken to the hospital in "critical condition." Chamblee Police tracked down the suspect's vehicle in East Point an hour after the incident happened. The suspect was then taken into custody, according to authorities. The identity of the suspect or the victim has not been released. Police are still investigating the incident.

A male was found shot to death early Monday evening in the middle of a street in Ensley, police said. The homicide is the sixth in Birmingham since Saturday. West Precinct officers were dispatched on a ShotSpotter alert -- indicating that shots had been fired -- in the 1600 block of 27th Street Ensley around 5:20 p.m. Monday, said Officer Truman Fitzgerald. Officers at the scene found a male lying unresponsive in the roadway in the 2700 block of Avenue P, said Fitzgerald. The victim, only identified by police as a "young male" -- they have yet to identify him and were unsure whether he was a juvenile or an adult -- was suffering from a gunshot wound. Birmingham Fire Rescue Service pronounced the victim dead at the scene. Police have few leads in the homicide case, and no suspects were in custody as of early Monday evening. "Currently, our officers are working to piece together what took place that led to the victim being shot," Fitzgerald said. "From what we observed at the scene, we believe the shooting took place near where the victim was located, and that's based on shell casings in the roadway."

A Brighton man died Tuesday following a shooting in Lipscomb. The Jefferson County Coroner's Office identified the victim as Reginald Johnson. He was 50. The bloodshed in Birmingham continued Tuesday afternoon when a man was found shot death in the middle of a city street. Birmingham police late Tuesday night identified the victim as Byron McNeal Jr. He was 28 and lived in Bessemer. Birmingham 911 received a call just before 4 p.m. that someone had been shot near the intersection of Second Street North and Sixth Avenue North. "Officers were here quickly, they were already in the area," said Officer Truman Fitzgerald. Once on the scene, they found the victim unresponsive in the road. Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service rushed McNeal to UAB Hospital where he was pronounced dead. Fitzgerald said officers patrolling the area heard the shots and that's why they were able to get on the scene so fast. Police radio communications indicated the man was shot in the head. "Right now, we're working what took place that led to the victim being shot," Fitzgerald said. McNeal's death marked the city's seventh homicide between Saturday and Monday and the 12th in 11 days.

Authorities have released the name of a man struck and killed when he exited his disabled vehicle. The Jefferson County Coroner's Office identified fatality victim as Corey James Terrell. He was 34 and lived in Birmingham. The crash happened at 9:12 p.m. Tuesday on 18th Street North at the I-59/20 exit ramp. Terrell's vehicle had broken down in the road. He was hit when he got out to attend to his vehicle, which had mechanical issues. The victim was taken to UAB Medical West where he was pronounced dead at 10:03 p.m. Bessemer police Det. Jusin Burmeister said the driver of the vehicle who struck Terrell initially stopped but then left before police arrived. They are working to find the man and the vehicle he was driving.

Two people were shot Tuesday evening after they found themselves in the middle of a shootout at a DeKalb County shopping center, authorities said. Police were called at around 9:40 p.m. to the gunfire at the Covington Square center in the 6100 block of Covington Highway. At the scene, officers came across the two victims, one of whom was in critical condition, while the other was suffering from non-life-threatening injuries, police said. Investigators believe the shootout was prompted by a dispute between two groups. The two victims, who were not publicly identified, were struck during the crossfire, police said. No other details, including the identity of the suspects, have been released. The shopping center is near Panola Road and home to several restaurants and businesses, including a Planet Fitness.

The Atlanta Police Department is investigating the death of a 6-year-old. Police said that on Tuesday, March 19, after 11 p.m., officers went to Fire Station 14 at 1203 Lee St. S.W. in reference to an unresponsive six-year-old who was brought to the location. The child was sent to the hospital and later died. When APD's Homicide Unit began an investigation into the circumstances surrounding the death, information led police to obtain warrants charging 24-year-old Dashon Jones with murder and cruelty to children in relation to this case. The warrants were provided to the Fulton County Jail, where Jones was already being held on unrelated charges, police said. The family identified the child who died as Tobias Perkins, Jr. Tobias' father, of the same name, started an online fundraiser to raise money for his funeral expenses. Tobias Jr.'s cousin Cedric Perkins said Tobias Jr. was happy, sweet, caring, sharing, energetic and full of life. He expressed how the family is feeling. "Devastated; this sudden tragedy hit our family," Cedric said. "And two years ago, I lost my mom which was his sister--my uncle's sister. And now, he's having to face another tragedy by losing his son that's named after him."

Two people were shot at a Cobb County apartment complex in the Cumberland area late Tuesday, according to officials. Cobb police said officers were called to the Gables Mills Apartments off of Akers Mill Road around 11:30 p.m. When officers arrived, they found two victims with gunshot wounds, spokesperson Sgt. Eric Smith said. Their conditions were not disclosed. "There is no danger to the public regarding this incident," Smith said. Investigators were still at the scene early Wednesday.

Two people have been charged following a road-rage shooting in Chilton County that wounded another motorist. Gary Ledlow, 47, and Ashley Ledlow, 43, are charged with aggravated assault and shooting into an occupied vehicle. Additionally, Gary Ledlow is charged with possession of dangerous drugs and Ashley Ledlow is charged with possession of methamphetamine, jail records show. Deputies and Clanton police were dispatched shortly after 2 p.m. Wednesday to the area of Interstate 65 southbound and the 212 exit, which is for the rest area, on a report of shots fired. The victim, said Sheriff John Shearon, made the 911 call. The suspects and the victim both took the 212 exit, turning southbound on Highway 45 and then onto Bell Lane Road. Shearon said the victim sought medical treatment at St. Vincent's Chilton for a gunshot wound/graze to the neck and chin area. The victim's injury is not life-threatening. The Ledlows are being held in the Chilton County Jail. "It is unfortunate that individuals resort to firearm use in moments of anger, resulting in someone being shot," Shearon said. "Once a bullet is fired, its impact cannot be undone, affecting lives irreversibly."

[3/25/2024] Nearly a dozen men were arrested on a combined 37 felony crimes in a two-day law enforcement operation aimed at child predators. The Dothan Police Department, in a joint effort with Covenant Rescue Group, carried out the initiative Thursday and Friday. Investigators from the Criminal Investigations Division and Covenant Rescue Group had online chats with people looking for illicit sexual activities, said Lt. Scott Owens. Covenant Rescue Group is an organization that supports law enforcement agencies in the investigation and prosecution of child exploitation/human trafficking cases at both the state and federal levels. During the operation, several conversations took place, which led to suspects attempting to meet the underage juveniles for the purpose of unlawful sexual contact. In all, eleven men agreed to meet. The suspects were taken into custody once they arrived at the undisclosed location in Dothan. Homeland Security Investigations, the U.S. Marshals Service and the district attorney's offices in Houston and Henry counties assisted. Owens said more charges are pending.

A Montgomery man has been charged with attempted murder after being accused of shooting at police officers during a chase. According to court records, 37-year-old Lorenzo Anterrio Monta is accused of firing several shots at officers from the passenger window of a car yesterday at around 6:35PM, which was caught on police dashcam video. Records show Monta was a passenger in a stolen car that was involved in a chase. Montgomery Police Maj. Saba Coleman told Action 8 News that officers had tried to conduct a traffic stop in the area of Atlanta Highway and Eastdale Road South on the stolen vehicle. Coleman said the driver refused to stop, which is how the pursuit started. Coleman said there were no injuries or reports of property damage in the chase or from the gunshots. The shots were fired around Lagoon Park Drive. The chase ended at Glade Park Drive and Hilda Drive, where Monta and the driver bailed out of the car. Records show Monta was arrested after a short foot pursuit, and officers found a stolen gun in his right pocket. The driver made a successful getaway from police, according to Coleman. Officers recovered shell casings at Lagoon Park Drive. The shell casings along with the gun were turned over to the National Integrated Ballistic Information Network (NIBIN) which were tested. Records show the shell casings recovered matched the gun recovered in Monta's pocket. Monta faces three counts of attempted murder and one count of receiving stolen property. The total bond amount for all charges is $195,000.

A 30-year-old woman is dead and a 42-year-old man in jail after a hit-and-run incident in Foley Thursday night. Foley police said Friday officers responded to a report of a pedestrian struck by a vehicle about 8:30 p.m. Thursday near the intersection of County Road 65 and Airport Road. The vehicle involved had fled the scene. Police and fire personnel along with Baldwin County deputies arrived at the scene to find a female, later identified as 30-year-old Nycole Tasheena Tate of Foley, dead at the scene. Investigators began working the case and, about 11 p.m., 42-year-old Kaleb Ryan Owens, called 911 to report he had been involved in a collision and thought he had struck a deer. Investigators went to Owens' home to interview him and to examine his 2008 BMW. The damages found on the vehicle were determined to be consistent with the nature of the collision and the evidence found at the scene. Owens was initially cooperative, police said, but ultimately requested an attorney. Investigators determined there was enough evidence to support probable cause and Owens was taken into custody. As of Friday afternoon, Owens remained in the Baldwin County Jail, charged with felony leaving the scene of an accident causing death, with bond set at $20,000. If convicted, Owens faces a jail sentence of up to 10 years and a fine of up to $15,000.

A teenager was charged with multiple crimes, including attempted murder, following a recent shooting, according to the Lexington County Sheriff's Department. The 15-year-old girl, who is not being publicly identified because she is a minor, was also charged with possession of a weapon during a violent crime and unlawful possession of a handgun (by a person under the age of 18), the sheriff's department said Monday in a news release. The shooting happened Friday night in West Columbia, according to the release. Information about when and where in West Columbia, and the number of people involved, was not available. "After watching surveillance footage at the scene, investigators determined this (shooting) stemmed from a fight that started between two teens earlier in the night," Sheriff Jay Koon said in the release. "Footage showed multiple people, including the suspect and the victim, got involved once the fight began." After the fight ended, the suspect ran at the victim and shot them twice, according to Koon. The sheriff's department did not provide information about the victim's condition. No other injuries were reported from the shooting. There was no word about what led to the fight, or if anyone will face any criminal charges from that incident. The 15-year-old girl was arrested and taken to the South Carolina Department of Juvenile Justice, according to the release.

Police are gathering evidence at an apartment in Midtown after a car breaking turned into a shooting on Friday morning. According to the Atlanta Police Department, officers received a call shortly after midnight stating that a man had been shot in The Dagny Apartment complex parking lot. That's located in northeast Atlanta on Juniper Street. Officers said a man saw several others in ski masks breaking into his car in the parking lot. He confronted them and the suspects jumped in a car, driving away. APD said that's when one of them fired a gun at the man, hitting him in the stomach. He was able to tell the apartment concierge he'd been shot and was taken to Grady Memorial Hospital, where he underwent surgery. Police said the man is expected to be ok, adding that residents in this position should not confront suspects but always call 911. APD is working to gather video surveillance of the parking garage from the complex and determine what the suspects were driving. No other information was released.

A man is dead and another is injured after gunfire broke out early Friday morning in a parking lot at a busy northeast Atlanta intersection, according to officials. Atlanta police said they got the call about a person shot shortly before 5 a.m. It happened in the parking lot of the old Rhodes Bakery building, which has since been closed, at the corner of Cheshire Bridge Road and Windemere Drive in the Morningside-Lenox Park neighborhood. Authorities said the injured man was shot multiple times in the leg and was undergoing surgery at Grady Memorial Hospital. He is expected to survive, but the other man died at the scene, officials said. Details are limited, but investigators said they believe a “narcotics transaction” is what precipitated the shooting, and it appears both men shot each other. Officers and crime scene investigators were still at the scene around 7 a.m. looking for and documenting evidence.

A 12-year-old Birmingham boy was shot while playing with friends outside his apartment Friday afternoon. Police and Birmingham firefighters responded about 3:15 p.m. Friday to a small apartment complex in the 1800 block of Carson Road. Sgt. LaQuitta Wade said they arrived to find the young victim inside an apartment on the floor. Police radio communications indicated the boy had been shot in the back. He was taken by Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service to Children’s of Alabama. The boy responsive when he left the scene, but authorities said he is in critical condition. Wade said the boy was in the grassy courtyard area of his home when they were approached by a group of males and one of the suspects began firing a gun. The victim was running away from the gunfire when he was struck. The suspects are possibly juveniles or in their late teens.

Ronald Butler is used to driving through Atlanta in his big rig but says he's always on guard as he travels through the city. That caution was warranted last Saturday. Butler said he was driving south on Interstate 285 when two vehicles came flying around either side of him, firing bullets at each other. In a video recorded on his dashcam, a black sedan and a black SUV pass either side of the semi-truck Butler is driving. He said he and his wife were startled just to see the cars going so fast and then terrified once people inside started shooting. "I heard and felt the first few shots come out of the SUV," he described. "Immediately, the black car started to return fire. I have seen that video about 50 or 60 times because I was able to zoom in and look more carefully. You can see the rounds bouncing off the wall on the left side." Butler said there were a number of cars on the road when the shooting happened, and everyone slowed way down, hoping to escape the fire. "It's amazing that nobody else called in to report an injury or bullet holes," Butler added. "It's incredible that no one was killed. These guys were absolutely reckless and dangerous. It angers me and saddens me for Atlanta that something like that even happened." His dash camera recorded a number of shots being fired in both directions before both cars exited 285 at Exit 36 for Northlake Parkway at a high rate of speed. Butler called 911 minutes later to report what happened, telling the operator, "that was the craziest thing I have ever seen in Georgia." "I'm sure," the operator replied with a chuckle. "They were flying through the traffic light when they got up to the end of that ramp," he added. "They didn't even stop, they just kept chasing each other." A man is in critical condition after being shot by a police officer early Saturday morning at a Roswell sports bar, officials said. Shortly after 1 a.m., multiple 911 calls were made by staff and customers at Mazzy's Sports Bar and Grill along Alpharetta Highway in the Brannon Square shopping complex. Callers reported there was an "unruly patron" who was pointing a firearm at people, police said. Officers found 34-year-old Martin Candelas Ponce sitting at the bar with a handgun and ordered him to drop his weapon, the GBI said. He did not comply and instead raised the weapon, the agency added. A Roswell police officer then fired his weapon, striking Ponce, according to the GBI. Medical aid was provided by police until the man was taken to the hospital. Officials said that no officers were injured during the incident. It marked the 14th officer-involved shooting the GBI has been asked to investigate this year.

A call of shots fired at a Hoover apartment complex early Saturday launched a police chase with shots fired along the way that traveled into Georgia and ended with a shootout there that wounded the suspect. The Georgia Bureau of Investigation identified the injured suspect as Marcus Andrew Eaddy. The 29-year-old Lithonia, Ga. man is in critical condition at a Georgia hospital. Hoover police Capt. Keith Czeskleba said officers responded to the complex on Wisteria Drive about 2 a.m. Authorities said a man – later identified as Eaddy – was shooting an AR-style gun. They did not find anyone injured, and no property damage. Vestavia police officers spotted the suspect vehicle – a Chrysler 200 – and gave chase. They continued the high-speed pursuit along Interstate 65 to Interstate 20, heading eastbound. They dropped off when the St. Clair County Sheriff's Office picked up the pursuit. St. Clair Sheriff Billy Murray said they entered the pursuit and continued eastbound on I-20. St. Clair County deputies, Oxford police officers, Heflin police officers, the Cleburne County Sheriff's Office and the Haralson County Sheriff's Office in Georgia all took part in the chase. During the pursuit, deputies took gunfire from the suspect and subsequently returned fire, Murray said. Cleburne County sheriff's officials said they were advised that the driver had been firing shots at law enforcement officers during the pursuit. As the chase continued, Eaddy's vehicle was traveling at extremely high speeds and was spiked by a Cleburne County deputy and a Heflin police officer. The Chrysler continued into Georgia where it became disabled and crashed between Exit 3 and Exit 5, just over the state line. A shootout ensued between Eaddy and deputies from Haralson and St. Clair counties,

A man was killed Saturday morning after being pulled over by police in Snellville, officials said. The Hyundai Tucson was stopped along West Main Street near Fountain Drive around 4 a.m. due to the driver, identified as 36-year-old Rashawn Johnson, not having his headlights on, the GBI stated. During the traffic stop, the man rolled down his window “slightly” and repeated to the officer that he wanted to call his mother, according to the agency. The officer was able to get Johnson’s identification, return to his patrol car and call for additional officers to respond to the scene. When the officer returned to the Hyundai, the GBI said Johnson refused to roll down the window and comply with the officer’s commands to get out of the vehicle. The officer then told Johnson he was under arrest for obstruction after refusing to get out of the car, the agency confirmed. When the officer opened the car door, he noticed a weapon in Johnson’s hand and proceeded to tell him to drop the weapon, according to the GBI. “Johnson fired his weapon and officers returned fire, hitting Johnson and killing him,” the GBI said. The state agency did not say if Johnson fired the weapon at officers. Snellville police previously said Johnson pointed the firearm at his head. No officers were injured during the encounter. It was one of three officer-involved shootings the GBI was asked to investigate Saturday morning and the 16th this year. At around 1 a.m., the GBI said a man, identified as 34-year-old Martin Candelas Ponce, was shot by police at a Roswell sports bar after multiple 911 calls were made about him pointing a firearm. Ponce remains in critical condition. About two hours later, officials said Marcus Andrew Eaddy, 29, was injured in a shootout with Haralson County and St. Clair County (Ala.) Sheriff’s

A pregnant woman was killed Saturday in a shooting that left both her newborn baby and another person hospitalized, according to the Sumter County Sheriff's Office, which is leading a manhunt for the gunman. Jennifer Marie Cruz, a 33-year-old Sumter resident, was taken to Prisma Health Tuomey where she died, Sumter County Coroner Robbie Baker said. Cruz, who died of multiple gunshot wounds, was reportedly 35 weeks pregnant, according to Sheriff Anthony Dennis, who called the shooting "a heinous crime." The fetus survived and was delivered, the sheriff's office said. The newborn was taken to a hospital in Columbia where it was reported to be in critical condition. In addition to Cruz and the newborn, another person was shot. That victim's injury is not believed to be life threatening. The shooting victims arrived at the Sumter hospital at about 6 a.m. Saturday, and deputies were notified. Deputies learned the shooting happened in the 1700 block of North Main Street. Witnesses told deputies that the shooter was Troy Wells, an acquaintance of the victims. Deputies said that Wells was waiting for the victims at a motel where they were staying. When the victims arrived at the motel at 5:42 a.m., Wells fired numerous rounds into their vehicle, the sheriff's office said. Both Cruz and the other victim were hit by gunfire. There was no word about a motive for the shooting. "We have reason to believe the suspect, Troy Wells, knew that Ms. Cruz was pregnant," Dennis said. "This attack was callous and cold-blooded." Wells, who is facing charges of murder and attempted murder, should be considered armed and dangerous, according to the sheriff's office.

A 63-year-old man was found slain Saturday morning in Birmingham's Elyton Village community. North Precinct officers were dispatched at 8:19 a.m. to a report of a person down in the 400 block of First Street West. They arrived to find Roderick Levann Davis unresponsive on the ground. He had apparent facial abrasions, said Sgt. LaQuitta Wade. Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service responded to the scene and pronounced Davis dead. Wade said a passerby made the initial 911 call. It was initially believed that he had died from natural causes and that the abrasions were caused when he fell to the ground. The Jefferson County Coroner's Office notified investigators shortly before 10:30 a.m. that Davis had been physically assaulted and was the victim of a homicide. No arrests have been made. There have been 14 homicides in Birmingham so far this month, including seven homicides between Saturday, March 16, and Tuesday, March 19, and 12 over an 11-day stretch.

In an unusual police pursuit, Gwinnett County officers arrested a man accused of stealing a large construction vehicle and driving it on several roads. The 38-year-old man is facing charges of criminal trespass, theft by taking, fleeing or attempting to elude, reckless driving, criminal damage to property and obstruction of a law enforcement officer. Officers were called to a waste management business on Corley Road around 11 a.m. Saturday. According to police, the responding officer learned that a former worker had stolen a yellow front loader and was driving the 75,000-pound equipment on the property. In the video police released, the officer can be heard yelling for the driver to stop multiple times. Officer: Stop, stop, stop! Hey! Stop! He calls it in on his radio, giving an update on what was happening. Officer: I have no way of stopping this vehicle. The driver eventually left the property and headed down Corley Road, and the chase was on. Sirens could be heard as officers traveled the streets following behind the front loader. Gwinnett County Police called the man's driving erratic, saying "his movements were unpredictable as he navigated heavy traffic." Even as the pursuit is underway, you can hear an officer say, "This is unbelievable." Gwinnett Police said that other agencies got involved in trying to stop the fleeing driver. Police also returned to the business to get another construction vehicle that could help disable By the time the driver made it to Singleton Road near Robin Hill, police said the pursuing front loader was able to flip the fleeing vehicle onto its side. This is about five miles from the original location, police said. After the man was arrested, he was evaluated at a hospital and then placed in the Gwinnett County Jail.

Montgomery. Around 9:30 Saturday evening, officers from the Montgomery Police Department responded to a local hospital and found two people who were receiving treatment after a shooting. One adult male victim had a non-life-threatening gunshot wound, and a second adult male had a more serious life-threatening gunshot wound. Officers determined that the shooting happened in the 900 block of West South Boulevard.

A female was shot and killed early Monday by Tuscaloosa police. The shooting happened about 4:30 a.m. in the 700 building of Aspen Village Apartments, which is off Skyland Boulevard. No other details have been released. The Tuscaloosa Violent Crimes Unit is leading the investigation.

A man is dead following an early morning shooting near a Decatur church on Sunday, according to DeKalb County Police. Right now, very little information has been provided by officers. However, we do know the incident unfolded on South Rainbow Drive just before 6 a.m., right near the Spirit of Glory Worship Center. One churchgoer that we spoke to said those in the area are concerned, adding, "Knowing that something like that happens just across the street from the church is crazy. It should be secure; it should be safe for us to go out to our vehicles." The church has told us they are beefing up security in the area as a result of the shooting. At this time, there is no word on if there are any suspects.

Huntsville police are investigating after officers discovered the body of a dead man in a roadway on Sunday morning. According to police, officers were responding to a shooting-in-progress at about 10:45 a.m. In the 4400 block of Lakeview Drive, they found the man's body. He was dead at the scene. The man's name has not yet been released.

Andalusia police say one person has been arrested as they seek four others after a fight that involved shots being fired. Police say the fight happened at around 12:30AM Sunday in a parking lot on South Cotton Street. Two people were injured. Investigators say the fight started after a disagreement inside a bar escalated outside. Police say 40-year-old Christina Laorraine Johnson of Andalusia was charged with assault and disorderly conduct and has been released on a $20,500 bond. Police say they have misdemeanor arrest warrants for the following people: Takia Jolie Stoudemire, 19, of Andalusia, charged with assault and will have a $1,000 cash bond. Kalesha Aledonya Hill, 47, of Andalusia, charged with assault and disorderly conduct, and will have a $2,000 cash bond. Annette Star Moody, 38, of Opp, charged with assault and disorderly conduct, and will have a $2,000 cash bond. Courtney Pierre Hill, 37, of Andalusia, charged with assault, inciting a riot and disorderly conduct, and will have a $3,000 cash bond. Police say the four have been notified of the outstanding warrants are expected to turn themselves in. Andalusia Police Chief Paul Hudson said there were dozens of people at the scene when officers arrived, which is one reason the arrests took so long. "We had to interview a number of witnesses and reconcile their stories with video evidence of the altercation," Hudson said. "That took time." Hudson said the APD will not tolerate this behavior. "We will be patrolling the area to make sure we don't continue to have these kinds of problems." Hudson expressed his appreciation to Off the Trax owner Seth Stewart, the Covington County Sheriff's Office and the Covington County E911 for their assistance in the response and investigation.

Gunfire rang out Sunday afternoon in a Birmingham neighborhood, leaving a man seriously wounded. The shooting happened about 3 p.m. in the 900 block of Eighth Avenue West. Sgt. LaQuitta Wade said the victim was taken to the hospital with life-threatening injuries. Details surrounding the shooting are still under investigation, but Wade said a potential suspect is in custody.

A search is underway for vandals who caused more than $100,000 in damage to a South Carolina athletic complex, the Sumter Police Department said Wednesday. Officers were called to Patriot Park sports complex after 7:30 a.m. Monday when a walker discovered a possible break-in at the facility, police said in a news release. The complex is about 7 miles from Shaw Air Force Base. Officers discovered graffiti in black paint that was taken from the storage area of the park, according to the release. There was also damage to equipment and electronics, including the heating and air conditioning units, computers, and the camera/security system, police said. Damage also was found in the concession stand, restrooms and to various supplies, according to the release. The vandalism happened sometime after the complex closed at 8 p.m. Sunday and when the damage was discovered Monday morning, police said. Police ask anyone who saw or heard anything in the area of the complex between those hours to contact the department immediately.

A 23-year-old man is in jail Monday after he allegedly shot his grandmother, Dunwoody police said. Erick Beasley faces a charge of aggravated assault associated with family violence and possession of a firearm during the commission of a felony. Police were called about a person shot at the Drexel Collective apartments off Perimeter Center, not far from Ashford Dunwoody Road, shortly before 10 p.m. Sunday. There, they found the 62-year-old victim with a gunshot wound to her upper chest, authorities said. She was taken to a hospital, where she was described as stable. Investigators determined Beasley shot his grandmother following “a brief verbal altercation,” police said in a statement. He left the apartment after firing the shot, authorities said. Within about an hour, officers found Beasley in the area. He was arrested and taken to the DeKalb County jail.

A 33-year-old Foley man is in the Baldwin County Jail, charged with stabbing his brother to death during an altercation Sunday night. Foley police were called to a residence on Park Avenue in Foley just before 11 p.m. Sunday on a report of a disturbance. Arriving at the scene, officers learned 29-year-old James Ryan Vaughn had been stabbed and a witness told police Vaughn's brother, 33-year-old Wesley Nathanael Nance, had stabbed Vaughn during an altercation between the two. Nance fled the scene on foot just prior to police arrival. Lifesaving measures were instigated on Vaughn at the scene and he was transported to the South Baldwin Regional Medical Center, where he died of his injuries. Nance was later located not far from the residence where the incident occurred and was taken into custody. According to Foley police, the information and evidence gathered at the scene was handed over to the Baldwin County District Attorney's Office, which has charged Nance with manslaughter. As of Tuesday morning, Nance remained held without bond in the Baldwin County Jail.

Police are investigating a bank robbery that happened Monday morning in Brookhaven, with a search ongoing for the suspect. There were no injuries in the incident. Police did not immediately have details available about how exactly the robbery went down. The robbery occurred at a Wells Fargo branch on Peachtree Road. "It is still under investigation," a Brookhaven Police Department statement said. "We are actively searching for the suspect. No one is hurt. More information will be released at a later date."

A man is in the hospital after a stabbing Monday afternoon in Raleigh. According to the Raleigh Police Department, two men got into a fight after a car accident on the 1300 block of New Bern Avenue. During the fight, police say one of the men pulled out a knife and stabbed the other man in the arm and thigh. The victim went to the hospital with non-life-threatening injuries. No one is in custody, and police say the investigation is ongoing.

A 22-year-old man is behind bars after fires were recently set at multiple Walmart stores, according to the Columbia Police Department. Hunter A. Laycock was charged with two counts of second-degree arson, jail records show. One of the counts is a City of Columbia charge, while the other is a Richland County charge, according to jail records. Laycock was arrested Monday following a fire at the Walmart at 7520 Garners Ferry Road, police said in a news release. At about 11 p.m. Monday, both police and members of the Columbia Fire Department responded to the Walmart, where there was a fire inside the retail store. Walmart employees were able to contain and extinguish the flames using fire extinguishers as firefighters headed to the scene, police said. No injuries were reported. But Walmart officials told police that the fire caused approximately $30,000 in damages to miscellaneous merchandise in the store. An officer met with Walmart employees, and they viewed surveillance footage of Laycock allegedly setting fire to a Walmart store on Two Notch Road the evening before. That's near Exit 80 on Interstate 20, about 14 miles from the Walmart on Garners Ferry Road, and is in the jurisdiction of the Richland County Sheriff's Department. During a search of the Garners Ferry Walmart on Monday, the officer recognized Laycock from the footage, according to the release. As the officer tried to detain Laycock, the 22-year-old ran out of the store and hid in a nearby wood line, police said. More officers and a police dog assisted in the search for Laycock, who was tracked down in the woods near the store and arrested. Laycock was taken to Alvin S. Glenn Detention Center, where he remains locked up after his bond was set at $75,000 on the combined charges. Laycock is scheduled to return to court on the [3/29/2024] A day care worker has been charged with murder in the death of an infant found unresponsive earlier this week at an Alabama day care. Versa Mae Simmons, 68, of Demopolis, was arrested on murder charges after the police investigation at the Tender Years day care on Maria Avenue in Demopolis, where the infant was found unresponsive on Monday, Police Chief Rex Flowers told WSFA. The baby’s body was sent for an autopsy; authorities have not cited a cause of death or other information related to the case, citing the ongoing investigation. The state’s court records system did not contain Simmons’ case as of Friday afternoon. WSFA reported the day care employee is being held in the Marengo County jail pending a bail hearing.

A 30-year-old mother was fatally shot outside her workplace at Beaver Creek Crossings in Apex on Monday morning, and the suspect is on the run. The woman, whose name has not been released, was shot before 10 a.m. near the office of Molly Maid where she worked, according to the Apex Police Department. She had two children, according to ABC11, The News & Observer’s news-gathering partner. The suspect was identified as Tevin Montrell Leach, 30, who remains at large, the Police Department said on Facebook. He was last seen wearing black clothing and had a handgun. He is considered armed and dangerous. Police shared Leach’s headshot online, along with a photo of the 2008 Ford Fusion with the license plate tag HMY-7617 that he was driving. Investigators told ABC11 that Leach is the woman’s ex-boyfriend. “The thing with domestic violence is, you know, it doesn’t matter how nice an area is or anything,” Police Chief Jason Armstrong told ABC11. “Where people are, and then when individuals are committed to violence, violence can happen anywhere,” he said.

Police in one Eastern Carolina city say a teenager stole a vehicle from a shopping center with a child in the backseat. Ahkean Curry is charged with 1st-degree kidnapping, theft of a motor vehicle, felony larceny, driving while impaired, open container, damage to property, and no operator's license. Police say it happened at the Cherry Plaza Shopping Center on East Main Street around 5:15 p.m. The child was found unharmed after Curry let the 6-year-old out of the vehicle at another location, according to police. Police say they saturated the area for the vehicle and quickly found Curry. The 18-year-old from Havelock is being held in jail without bond.

A Theodore man is charged with attempting to blow up his grandmother's vehicle by putting a combustible material in her gas tank, WALA has reported. Mobile police responded to a residence on Mounthill Court in Theodore about 6:41 p.m. Monday on a report of a domestic incident. Officers learned the victim's grandson — identified as 26-year-old Clifton Devon Whitfield — had broken into her vehicle, removed some belongings and then "attempted to ignite it by putting combustible material in the gas tank," according to the report. No one was injured in the incident. Whitfield has been charged with making a terrorist threat and breaking and entering. He remained in Mobile Metro Jail as of Tuesday morning, held without bond pending a Wednesday morning hearing. Jail records show Whitfield has prior arrests for domestic violence/harassment; contempt of court; harassment and assault.

Investigators have begun investigating the shooting death of a male whose body was found in Mobile County Tuesday morning. According to the Mobile County Sheriff's Office, deputies located the body near the intersection of Chieftain Way and Iroquois Street, not far from Chickasaw High School. There were several apparent gunshot wounds on the body. The man had no identification on him and as of Tuesday afternoon investigators still did not know his identity. The sheriff's office said residents in the area told investigators they heard multiple gunshots around 9:30 p.m. Monday night, but no one alerted law enforcement.

The Dallas County Sheriff’s Office has arrested a suspect after a rash of 18–wheeler break–ins. Sheriff Mike Granthum told Action 8 News that an undercover officer witnessed 37–year–old Roderick Blue of Selma break into the trailer of an 18–wheeler during a sting operation. Granthum says Blue fled the scene, but was later arrested. Granthum says the sting was set up in response to a rash of about a dozen truck break–ins at two convenience stores. Blue is charged with breaking and entering of a vehicle and attempting to elude.

A Moore County man is charged with 10 counts of child sex exploitation. Erick Ivan Lopez–Cruz, age 21, of Eagle Springs, was arrested Tuesday. The Moore County Sheriff’s Office charged Lopez–Cruz with five counts of felony second–degree sexual exploitation of a minor and five counts of felony third–degree sexual exploitation of a minor. Sheriff Ronnie Fields announces an arrest following an investigation in the Eagle Springs area of Moore County. On March 26, 2024 the Moore County Sheriff’s Office made an arrest resulting from an investigation into possible internet–based child sexually explicit material in Moore County following a report received from the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children. Lopez–Cruz was being held in the Moore County Detention Center under a $250,000 secured bond.

[4/2/2024] Formal charges have been filed against a 49–year–old man in a deadly shooting in Carbon Hill. Lonny Paul Tatum is charged with felony murder in the March 26 killing of 58–year–old Stanley Jay Webb, according to court records made public Tuesday. The charges come one week after Webb was found shot to death at his Mays Road home. Charging documents against Tatum say Webb was killed while Tatum was breaking in to the victim’s home. While committing that burglary, Tatum shot and killed Webb, according to the criminal complaint. Tatum was taken into custody one day later by U.S. Marshals, Carbon Hill police and Walker County sheriff’s deputies. The arrest was made at a Nauvoo home. Tatum is also charged with burglary. Tatum remains held in the Walker County Jail. He is expected to make his first court appearance on Wednesday.

An investigation is underway after a man was killed in a hit-and-run in Hueytown. Officers responded about 6 a.m. Tuesday to a report of a person down near the intersection of Hueytown Road and Walker Avenue. They arrived to find the man dead on the side of the road. Investigators believe the man was struck by a vehicle that fled the scene. Evidence indicates the crash happened about 11:30 p.m. Monday. The victim's name has not yet been released.

One teenager was taken to an area hospital and another to jail Tuesday following an assault at a high school in Columbia, according to the Richland County Sheriff's Department. The violent incident happened at W.J. Keenan High School. Keenan High is off Wilson Boulevard, in the area between Interstate 20 and Interstate 77. At about 11 a.m., school resource officers at Keenan High were told by staff about an assault inside one of the classrooms at the Richland 1 school. The assault involved a 15-year-old victim and a 17-year-old who would be arrested. Once they got to the classroom, deputies removed the 17-year-old male. But it was not without incident. After being told several times to stop resisting, the 17-year-old was detained by deputies. At that point, the 17-year-old spat on a school administrator, prompting school officials to remove all the other students from the classroom and immediate area. Deputies learned there was a brief verbal dispute followed by the older student punching the 15-year-old several times, the sheriff's department said. The school nurse treated the victim inside the classroom and EMS took the 15-year-old to a local hospital with serious injuries. The 17-year-old was charged with assault and battery of a high and aggravated nature and was booked into the juvenile wing of Alvin S. Glenn Detention Center without further incident. If convicted on the felony charge, the 17-year-old faces a maximum punishment of 20 years in prison, according to South Carolina law.

A man who said his dog was disrespected by a construction crew was arrested Tuesday after a shooting, according to the Richland County Sheriff's Department. At about 2:45 p.m., deputies responded to a call about a shooting in the 1000 block of Rockyknoll Drive. That's in Columbia, not far from the intersection of Fairfield Road and Crane Church Road. The deputies made contact with the victims, at a different location near where the shots were fired. The victims were working construction by the road when 25-year-old Deontra Jones engaged one of the victims in a verbal altercation. Jones felt a member of the construction crew had disrespected his dog. Following the verbal spat, Jones went into his nearby home and reappeared with a gun and fired off a shot from the front porch. Jones returned inside the home and went to a window that was facing the workers and fired another round from inside the residence. The victims left the area to seek safety. At the scene, deputies negotiated with Jones and got him to come out of the home, where he was arrested, according to the release. No one was injured in the shooting. Jones was charged with pointing and presenting a weapon in addition to breach of peace of a high and aggravated nature. Jones was taken to the Alvin S. Glenn Detention Center. No bond has been set and Jones remains behind bars, jail records show. After his bond hearing, Jones is scheduled to next appear in court on May 31. Jones was out on bond when Tuesday's shooting happened, according to court records. He was charged with malicious injury to animals, personal property, and injury (value $2,000 or less) when arrested Nov. 11, 2023. His bond was set at $2,125 and posted the following day, and the charge is pending, according to court records.

A dispute led to gunfire at tire shop on busy Crestwood Boulevard Tuesday afternoon. Irondale police Det. Sgt. Mike Flippo said officers responded shortly before 4 p.m. to T.J. Tires on a report of a shooting. It appears, Flippo said, that two males who are related got into some type of disagreement which led to multiple shots fired. Both men were armed and exchanged gunfire. “We’re not sure what the altercation was about but we do have one male shot and transported to the hospital,” he said. At least three bullets hit the business’s front windows. After the shooting, Flippo said, one of the men involved ran across the street to a strip of stores that houses Dollar General and O’Reilly Auto Parts where he encountered police. A potential suspect has been detained. Flippo said detectives are in the early stages of the investigation. He noted that the shooting happened during a busy traffic time on Crestwood Boulevard. “It’s not advisable to discharge a firearm and not be accountable for where that projectile is going, especially on a busy highway like this,” he said. “There’s a ton of traffic. It could be a very dangerous situation.”

A search is underway for the suspect in the death of another man in Carbon Hill. Lonny Paul Tatum, 49, is sought in the Tuesday slaying of 58-year-old Stanley Webb. Few details have been released surrounding the killing. Authorities flocked to the crime scene midday Tuesday in the 500 block of Mays Road. No details have been released, and repeated efforts to obtain information from Carbon Hill police since Tuesday have been unsuccessful. Police on Wednesday said in a Facebook post that Tatum should be considered armed and dangerous.

Decatur police say one man is dead following a shooting Wednesday afternoon. According to police, the incident happened at about 2:16 p.m. in the 900 block of 10th Avenue N.E. Officers responding to a shooting call located a man, later identified as Jared Bolden, 23, suffering from gunshot wounds. He was transported to Decatur–Morgan Hospital, where he later died. Investigators say two individuals came forward and provided information about a vehicle involved, which was later located off of Cedar Lake Road at Summer Key Apartments. Police believe the shooting was an isolated incident. No arrests have been made.

Authorities have released the name of a man killed in a shootout outside an Ensley convenience store. The Jefferson County Coroner's Office and Birmingham police identified the slain man as Quintez Deshawn Ladd. He was 25. The shooting happened just before 4:30 p.m. Wednesday in the parking lot of the Smart Food Mart in the 900 block of 20th Street in Ensley. Sgt. LaQuitta Wade said investigators believe an altercation led to an exchange of gunfire between the two men, injuring both of them. When officers arrived at the store, they found Ladd unresponsive on the ground. Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service rushed him to UAB Hospital where he was pronounced dead at 8:18 p.m. Investigators learned the second man arrived at the hospital by private vehicle. His injuries are not life-threatening. It wasn't immediately clear how many shots were fired, but crime scene technicians put out at least 28 evidence markers. Wade said once the investigation is complete, the evidence will be presented to the Jefferson County District Attorney's Office for review. Ladd is Birmingham's 33rd homicide so far this year. Of those, three have been ruled justifiable and therefore aren't deemed criminal.

A Fairfield man is behind bars, accused in the sexual assault and robbery of two women at a Vestavia Hills motel. William Charles Wright, 23, is charged with two counts of first-degree sodomy, two counts of rape by force and two counts of robbery. The assaults happened between 2:30 p.m. and 4:30 p.m. Wednesday in the 1400 block of Montgomery Highway. That location is the Red Roof Inn. Vestavia Hills police Capt. Mike Keller said Wright entered the victims' room and used the threat of a gun to sexually assault and rob them. It was not immediately clear if the women knew Wright. After he fled the scene, investigators received a description of the suspect's vehicle. Detectives later identified Wright as the suspect. Wright was booked into the Jefferson County Jail Saturday morning and remains held without bond. Keller said the investigation is ongoing.

A South Carolina man was shot and killed Wednesday and a search is underway for two people facing murder charges, according to the Aiken County Sheriff's Office. Stephon Xzavier Dunbar, 23, and Shirlette Dainelle Hayes, 29, are the wanted man and woman, the sheriff's office said Thursday in a news release. They're wanted in connection to the death of a North Augusta man, according to Aiken County Coroner Darryl Ables. At about 5:20 p.m. Wednesday, deputies responded to a home in the 900 block of Old Aiken Road, the sheriff's office said. That's in North Augusta, in the area between Interstate 520 and U.S. 78. At the scene, deputies found a man lying face down next to a car. Deputies attempted to provide the man aid until Aiken County EMS arrived on scene. The man, who had been shot and suffered multiple injuries, died at the scene, according to Ables. He was later identified as 32-year-old Tavaris Burley. An autopsy has been scheduled for Friday in Newberry. Witnesses told deputies that Dunbar exited a home and started shooting at the victim before he and Hayes left the scene. The sheriff's office said Dunbar and Hayes drove away from the scene. There was no word on a motive for the shooting, or information about a previous connection between the victim and Dunbar and Hayes. The sheriff's office described Dunbar as a 6-foot tall, 130-pound man with black hair and brown eyes, while it said Hayes is a 5-8, 120-pound woman with black hair and brown eyes. Both Dunbar and Hayes should be considered armed, according to the sheriff's office, which is continuing to investigate the death along with the coroner's office.

[4/3/2024] A teenage suspect was arrested and charged with assault in connection with the shooting that injured a juvenile during spring break in Gulf Shores, police said Wednesday. Gregory D. Tate, III, 18, of Bay Minette, was arrested on assault charges, Gulf Shores police said. Police received reports of shots fired about 8:40 p.m. March 27 in the 100 block of Gulf Shores Parkway near the intersection of Highway 59 and East Beach Boulevard. A juvenile male victim was found shot at the scene, police said. Gulf Shores police detectives, the Baldwin County Sheriff’s Office, the Baldwin County District Attorney’s Office and Bay Minette police worked to identify the suspect responsible for the shooting. An arrest warrant was issued for Tate on Tuesday. He was charged with assault for his role in the shooting. “The City of Gulf Shores is a family-oriented beach community focused on providing a safe and positive environment for everyone to enjoy,” the department said on social media. “The Mayor, City Council and the residents of Gulf Shores have empowered the police department to aggressively use all law enforcement resources at their disposal to identify, apprehend and seek prosecution for persons who have no regard for the sanctity of life and through their callous actions create a risk injury or death to others within our city,” the statement continued. “We will continue to focus additional resources at the beachfront and to take pro-active measures to emphasize safety for our residents and visitors.” Police said earlier that Tate tried to flee from officers by attempting to break into cars. The shooting occurred exactly a year after a similar incident during spring break 2023 in Gulf Shores that also injured a juvenile.

A security guard at a popular East Atlanta Village bar was shot while trying to break up a group of unruly men Wednesday night, according to officials. Atlanta police said they got the 911 call about a person shot at The EARL on Flat Shoals Avenue around 11:30 p.m. When officers arrived, they found the victim with a gunshot wound. The man, whose name was not released, was described as alert when he was taken to a hospital. Investigators believe the victim asked the group to leave when an altercation broke out between them. One of the men pulled out a handgun and fired at the guard, police said. The suspects fled in what appeared to be a rideshare vehicle. Police have not released any other details.

A man was shot Thursday night outside of the Sanderford Road Community Center in Southeast Raleigh, and police are investigating how it happened. The victim, unidentified, drove himself to the hospital with serious injuries, police told ABC11, The News & Observer’s newsgathering partner. No suspect has been detained, but police are investigating the driver of a vehicle that drove off at a high speed from the scene of the shooting. Police followed the driver until he crashed into a pole on Evers Drive, a nearby residential street. The connection of the driver to the shooting is “undetermined.” The driver, unidentified by police, was hospitalized with serious injuries. The News & Observer sent questions to the Raleigh Police Department seeking additional information.

[4/11/2024] An 18-year-old was arrested Wednesday, accused of killing a man with whom he had a “longstanding feud” that began in high school, according to the DeKalb County Sheriff’s Office. Robin Alvin Carmichael was taken into custody at his Stone Mountain home by DeKalb deputies and a Georgia State Patrol SWAT unit, sheriff’s office spokeswoman Cynthia Williams said. He is charged with shooting and killing 22-year-old Deonta Walker on March 28. Officials said Carmichael is suspected of shooting Walker on Muirforest Drive, a street in a Stone Mountain neighborhood just around the corner from Redan High School. According to Walker’s obituary, he graduated from Redan in 2021. Carmichael and Walker were involved in a dispute that began in high school, Williams said, although officials did not describe the nature of the feud. Carmichael was booked into the DeKalb jail, where he remains without bond. Walker is survived by his parents and eight siblings, his obituary said. He worked for a lawn care service and loved cars and music. Walker was buried in Stone Mountain on Saturday.

[5/3/2024] Singer and Atlanta native Mariah the Scientist was arrested on Wednesday after a woman claimed she attacked her at a bar back in March. In addition to being a singer, Mariah the Scientist is also known for her relationship with Atlanta rapper Young Thug who is currently on trial in the ongoing YSL RICO case. Police said the arrest stemmed from an incident on March 28 at Cavo Kitchen Cocktails, an Atlanta lounge located at 3186 Roswell Rd. NW. A video report obtained from the Atlanta Police Department showed that a woman arrived at the police precinct on March 29 and told officers that Mariah the Scientist, whose real name is Mariah Buckles, had attacked her the night before while at the bar. The victim told police she was unable to get a good look at the person since she did not have on her glasses, but later found out it was Buckles. She also said she never interacted with the singer and didn't know why she assaulted her. According to the witness' statement, the victim claimed Mariah forcibly removed her wig and dragged her across the room, causing minor scratches to her feet. Mariah the Scientist was booked into the Fulton County Jail on May 1 and charged with battery and simple battery. She was released on the same day. Despite the arrest, she is scheduled to perform Friday and Saturday in Atlanta at the Tabernacle as part of her "To Be Eaten Alive" tour.

A Durham neighborhood woke up to flashing lights early Thursday morning, while police were on the scene for hours investigating a shooting that left a man dead. Officers responded to a reported gunshot wound around 1:33 a.m. to a home in the 3400 block of Old Chapel Hill Road, where they found a man suffering from a gunshot wound. The victim was pronounced deceased at the scene. Investigators were on the scene overnight determining the circumstances surrounding this incident. This is an ongoing investigation, and it appears to be an isolated incident. Additional information will be released at the appropriate time.

Two women were carjacked and abducted Thursday morning from western Jefferson County. The suspects, authorities say, were later involved in a jewelry store robbery in Guntersville where the manager shot at them. The suspects remain at large. Brighton police Lt. Kenneth Hooten, who also is assistant fire chief, said the ordeal began shortly before 5:30 a.m. The two victims, 33-year-old Alma Nestor and 29-year-old Rosaneli Castro, were parked in the 4500 block of Bessemer Super Highway where they sell water to workers headed out to jobs in the early-morning hours. Two men approached the van, forced the women inside and left with them in their van. "They took them and the van and fled northeast on Bessemer Super Highway," Hooten said. Hooten said the victims do not know their abductors. About 11 a.m., he said, family members of the victims called Hooten and said they had been in contact with them. "According to the victims' families, they had been dropped off in a wooded area and they walked to a Lowes in Guntersville," Hooten said. Guntersville Police Chief Ryan Darnell said police there responded at 10:23 a.m. to an armed robbery call at Griffin's Jewelers. Three people entered the store in a holdup attempt. The manager fired shots at them and they fled in a white van. A short time later, Darnell said, Guntersville police said received a call two missing women who were at Lowes. The van – a 2020 Dodge Grand Caravan with Alabama license plate A0BUUP – was at Lowes with the women. It matched the van used in the jewelry store robbery. The suspects remain at large. The investigation is ongoing by the Marshall County Major Crimes Unit.

A man suspected of a sexual assault was shot and killed by police in Clayton County on Thursday afternoon after he opened fire on them, officials said. An armed man was arrested Thursday after being rescued from a burning Cherokee County home following a SWAT standoff, authorities said. It all began when the man's father called 911 saying he was concerned about his son. He reported that the 36-year-old was inside their home off Kellogg Creek Road and the windows of the front of the house had been shot from the inside, sheriff's spokesman Capt. Jay Baker said. When deputies arrived at around 3:20 p.m., Baker said the father advised that his son was still inside with a rifle. The SWAT team was called after deputies were not able to make contact with the man. Negotiators continued trying to talk to the man until deputies observed him pointing a rifle at them, officials said. He is also accused of firing several rounds at law enforcement from inside the home, Baker said. "Less-lethal gas munitions" were then thrown inside the home by SWAT members. At some point, Baker said officials believe the man covered a gas canister with fabric and it caught on fire. The blaze quickly spread throughout the home. SWAT members eventually entered the home and extricated the man, who was not publicly identified. He suffered minor injuries and was taken to a hospital, Baker said. Authorities did not say what charges he is facing but confirmed arrest warrants were obtained. Two SWAT members were also injured.

Durham police are investigating after two 13-year-old boys were injured in a shooting Thursday. Police responded to calls about a walk-in gunshot wound at a local hospital at 4:38 p.m., according to police. The boys had what police described as non-life-threatening injuries. "Based on preliminary investigation, it is believed the shooting occurred in the area of Ridgeway Avenue and Lakeland Street," police said in an email Friday morning. The N&O has asked police for an update on the boys' condition and more details and will update this story when we get more information.

Rock Hill police are investigating after a bicyclist was shot in the street during an argument with a car driver who allegedly ran the cyclist off the road. Officers found the victim, a 29-year-old man, shot in the leg on Lucas Street Friday night around 8:45 p.m., said Lt. Michael Chavis of the Rock Hill Police Department. Lucas Street is a block west of Glencairn Garden, north of College Avenue. The bicyclist told police he was heading home from work when a dark colored sedan ran the bicycle off the road, leading to an argument between the two men, according to a written statement from the police department. The victim told police the car driver shot him before driving off, police said. The victim was treated at Piedmont Medical Center hospital and released. Detectives are working the case but no arrests had been made as of Monday, Chavis said.

A 19-year-old remains at large Saturday morning after being accused in a fatal shooting inside a Fayetteville Walmart just hours earlier, police said. Adrian Jelks is wanted for murder and aggravated assault in the incident that occurred just inside the entryway of the grocery store along Pavilion Parkway. Fayetteville police continue to search for him and are asking anyone who comes into contact with him to call 911. Authorities said Jelks is believed to be armed. Officials told Channel 2 Action News that the suspect was a Walmart employee. A surveillance photo of him wearing a Walmart vest was released early Saturday. At around 10 p.m. on Friday, officers responded to the Walmart on reports of a shooting. The suspect had already fled the scene by the time police arrived, and his vehicle was located abandoned nearby, officials said. “The shooting incident was not an active-shooter situation, nor is it believed to be random,” police stated.

A Sylacauga man is under arrest after authorities say he threatened his girlfriend with a wrench and then set a bedroom on fire as police closed in on him. Cortney Dequan Speer, 44, is charged with first-degree arson, third-degree domestic violence, resisting arrest and violation of condition of bond, police announced Wednesday. The investigation began Saturday when a woman flagged down a Sylacauga police officer in the area of North Norton Avenue and Curren street, said Lt. Willis Whatley. She told the officers her boyfriend – Speer – was threatening her with a wrench. Officers went to the apartment and tried to talk with Speer. He then ran into a bedroom carrying a gasoline can. Speer made several threats to set the room on fire, and then did so, Whatley said. He then ran out of the bedroom and was taken into custody. Firefighters extinguished the small blaze. No one was injured. Speer was booked into jail with bond set at $30,000.

The Richland County Sheriff's Department is investigating after a teenager was shot outside of Columbia Saturday. At about 5:15 p.m., deputies responded to a report of a shooting in the 800 block of Setter Lane, the sheriff's department said in a Sunday news release. That's in Hopkins off Lower Richland Boulevard. At the scene, deputies learned a juvenile had been shot, according to the release. The teen was taken to an area hospital, the sheriff's department said. Information on the teen's condition was not available Sunday. No other injuries were reported. There was no word about a shooter or shooters, or anyone else involved in the gunfire. Information about a motive for the shooting was not available. A 13-year-old boy was critically injured when he was shot while riding in a vehicle through Midfield Saturday night. Corey Young, a student at Fultondale Elementary School, had spent an evening with his parents and siblings. They had gone to Urban Air Trampoline and Adventure Park in Homewood and then McDonald's and were on their way home when the unthinkable happened. "We were just having family bonding time because they go back to school Monday," said Corey's mother, Shalanda Lawrence. Lawrence said they were crossing over the railroad tracks near Midfield High School about 11 p.m. when someone they know drove up alongside them and opened fire. Corey then tried to crawl into the front seat, collapsing between his parents. The family stopped the car at the Circle K and Lawrence was yelling for someone to call 911. Midfield police received the call, and it was then transferred to dispatchers at the Jefferson County Sheriff's Office. They decided to drive Corey to Princeton Baptist Medical Center because it was the closest hospital. Lawrence called 911 on the way and asked that deputies meet them there. The medical staff at Princeton stabilized Corey and gave him some blood transfusions. Corey was shot in the side and sustained six broke ribs as well as internal damage to his liver and colon. She said Jefferson County sheriff's investigators are diligently working to find the suspect. Lawrence said there has been an ongoing feud with the suspect for several years.

The Atlanta Police Department is investigating after one person was killed and another injured after being shot on Sunday evening. Police responded to the 800 block of James Jackson Pkwy NW and found a person with a gunshot wound in critical condition. That person was then sent to the hospital and later died, police said. Another person was then found with a gunshot wound after walking into a fire station on Hollywood Road NE. That person was alert and breathing. Preliminary information revealed that this is related to the James Jackson Pkwy shooting, police said. Investigators with APD's homicide unit are working to determine the circumstances surrounding this incident. It is an active investigation.

Two people were killed and five others were injured in a drive-by shooting early Sunday in a Laurens County neighborhood, officials said. The shooting happened around 2 a.m. in the 500 block of West Avenue in Dublin, according to the GBI. Dublin police were called to the scene after several suspects opened fire from a vehicle that briefly stopped on the small residential street, which is comprised of single-story homes, the state agency said. Seven people were shot, including Dublin residents 23-year-old Miyori Ellington and 24-year-old Sacred Brown, who both died at the scene, the GBI stated. Five others were taken to separate hospitals, officials said, four of whom were still being treated on Sunday evening. Laurens County Coroner Richard Stanley said two of the victims were taken to a hospital in Macon, while the others were taken to a hospital in Dublin. No arrests have been made and officials have not yet provided additional details about the shooting. Dublin police Chief Keith Moon said the GBI is taking the lead in the investigation, but he declined to comment further. The police department asked the state agency to investigate about 15 minutes after officers responded to the scene.

A man was found shot to death Easter Sunday inside his Birmingham home. A family member made the discovery about 6:30 p.m. at the residence in the 10 block of 15th Avenue West in the city's East Thomas neighborhood. North Precinct officers responded, entered the house, and found the victim unresponsive inside. Initially the case was being investigated as an unclassified death, said Officer Truman Fitzgerald. "We just didn't have a lot to go on until our officers began canvassing the scene, and that's when we observed shell casings in the roadway," he said. Detectives determined the man was a victim of homicide. Police marked several shell casings on 15th Avenue West in front of the victim's house. Further investigation showed there was substantial bullet damage to the residence. Police had responded early Sunday to a shooting on the same street, in which a victim sustained a non-life-threatening injury. It was not immediately clear if the homicide victim was killed in that shooting and not discovered until four hours later, or if he was killed by separate gunfire. One resident at the scene said he heard about 25 shots while he was working on his car between 2 p.m. and 3 p.m. "Officers and detectives are working to learn if the incidents are connected," Fitzgerald said. Fitzgerald said investigators are hoping neighbors may have captured something on home surveillance cameras. "Maybe there is footage of the shooter standing in the roadway firing shots," he said.

A shooting at a northwest Atlanta convenience store left a man dead and a teenage girl injured late Sunday night, according to officials. Atlanta police got a report around 9 p.m. of a person shot at the Buy Low Super Market on James Jackson Parkway near Donald Lee Hollowell Parkway. When officers arrived, they found a 33-year-old man with a gunshot wound. He was rushed to a hospital, where he died. While at the scene, police were notified of another victim — a 16-year-old girl — who had arrived at fire station on Hollywood Road. She had been shot multiple times. Officials said she was alert when she was taken to a hospital, but an update on her condition has not been provided. Police have not released any additional details, including whether a suspect has been identified.

An Easter party turned deadly in Woodbury on Sunday night. The small town is in Meriwether County, which is about an hour from Atlanta, and has a population of just under 1,000 people. However, the party which was advertised on social media as an 'Easter Day Hangout' on Sunday brought in an additional 300–400 people according to Woodbury Police Chief Richard Wolverton. The party was being hosted at a local venue along Highway 85 near Tulip Road from 3 p.m. to 9 p.m. According to Chief Richard Wolverton, his sole officer on duty that night received a call from dispatch of shots being fired just after 9 p.m. He said as his officer was heading to the scene from the police station, which is less than a mile away from the party, the officer could actually hear shots being fired. "He came up to a crowd of 300–400 people; it was very chaotic," Chief Wolverton explained. In the middle of the chaos was a gunshot victim. Wolverton said his officer immediately called for backup from surrounding agencies. At the location, the officer found a 22-year-old with a gunshot wound to the chest. Wolverton said his officer and a Meriwether County Deputy administered CPR until EMS could get to the scene. The 22-year-old victim, identified as Jaylen McGruder by the coroner, was rushed to the hospital but later died. McGruder was from Pine Mountain, which is about 20 minutes away from the party. Wolverton said a majority of the people at the party were also from outside of Woodbury. He said cars and people were parked not only at the venue but also in front and behind a neighboring liquor store, which was closed at the time, and even across Tulip Street in another grassy parking lot. Wolverton said due to the fact he only has six sworn officers full-time and ten additional part-time officers, he requested the Georgia Bureau of Investigation to take Guilford County Sheriff's investigators charged a man with second-degree murder on Monday after finding his wife dead from apparent trauma in the couple's home, according to a news release from the sheriff's office. Deputies, along with emergency medical personnel, arrived at 7504 Trowbridge Drive around 6:35 a.m. for what was initially reported as a medical emergency, the release said. They found Linda Harper, 73, deceased, which prompted sheriff's detectives with the Major Crimes Investigative Unit to arrest and charge her husband, Michael Ray Harper, 73, with second-degree murder. Officials did not describe the type of trauma injuries Linda Harper sustained or any weapon used. Harper is being held at the Greensboro Detention Center without bond. No court date has been announced. Sheriff's officials said the investigation is ongoing, according to the release.

A person shot by a Florence police officer on Monday has died of wounds from the incident. Lauderdale County Sheriff Joe Hamilton gave more details about the shooting that happened at about 10:52 a.m. in Florence on Monday. The sheriff's office is handling the investigation of the incident. Police Chief Ron Tyler said in a press conference that the incident happened in the backyard of a property in the 200 block of North Walnut Street. Tyler said police received information about a person in the area with "violent felony warrants from out-of-state." According to Hamilton, the person, whose name has not been released, had a felony warrant for rape. Police attempted to take the person into custody, but Tyler said the man resisted and "posed a lethal threat." "Our guys attempted to deescalate the situation," he said. "We did attempt to use less lethal force in the process of apprehending him." According to Hamilton, the person had two knives – one in each hand – at the time of the incident. Hamilton said body cam footage exists of the encounter. The Lauderdale County Sheriff's Office will turn over any findings from its investigation to a grand jury. "There is no set time frame as to when the investigation will be concluded," Hamilton said in a news release.

A Cobb County day care worker was arrested on multiple counts of child cruelty after she was seen on security camera footage repeatedly hitting a child and forcing her onto a cot earlier this month, according to her arrest warrant. Misty Brealynn Lanier, 23, of Cartersville, was booked into the Cobb County Adult Detention Center on April 17 on four felony counts of first-degree cruelty to children, online jail records show. Lanier is accused of physically abusing a girl at a Childtime day care location on Cobb Parkway in Kennesaw on April 1. Lanier remains in jail without bond. A Childtime spokeswoman said Lanier is no longer employed at the company. According to court documents, the alleged incident began at about 11:30 a.m. and lasted just less than 10 minutes. Lanier can be seen on video dropping the girl onto a cot, causing the child to hit her head, the warrant said. It also contends that Lanier flipped the girl onto her stomach and hit her “excessively” before walking away. The warrant describes Lanier returning to the cot and holding the girl’s head down while hitting her in the back again. Lanier is then accused of picking the girl up and slamming her into the wall in a corner of the room before again forcing her into the cot and hitting her in the back. The pattern continues as the girl tries to get up from the cot and Lanier keeps forcing her back and hitting her, causing the girl’s head to hit the wall multiple times, the warrant said. Lanier was arrested by Cobb police more than two weeks after the incident. The Childtime spokeswoman said the day care would continue to assist in the investigation.

An apparent domestic dispute ended in fatal gunfire at an east Birmingham home. Irondale police initially responded to a report of shots fired in the 900 block of Navarro Lane. The call went out about 10:57 a.m. Tuesday. They arrived to find a man dead inside a home. Officers quickly determined the crime scene was actually in Birmingham's city limits, so Birmingham police and detectives flocked to the scene. Officer Truman Fitzgerald said they learned a domestic disturbance had taken place, and escalated to the point where the victim was shot. A woman was taken into custody at the scene. They appeared to be in some sort of romantic relationship, Fitzgerald said. "Irondale's quick response and the actions they took on the scene have helped us tremendously," Fitzgerald said. Animal control was called to the scene to round up multiple cats and at least one dog from the house. The victim's identity has not yet been released.

The Durham Police Department is investigating a second fatal shooting on Chapel Hill Road in the past week. Officers responded to gunshots in the 2800 block of Chapel Hill Road at at 1:06 p.m. Tuesday, according to a news release. They found a man who had been shot. He was pronounced dead at the scene. On Thursday, police responded to a shooting on the 3400 block of Old Chapel Hill Road, just north of Martin Luther King Jr. Parkway. They found 43-year-old Samuel Carr of Durham suffering from a gunshot wound. He too was pronounced dead at the scene. Police have not announced any suspects or descriptions of suspects in either case. The News & Observer has contacted police with follow-up questions and will update this story as more information becomes available.

A man was critically wounded after he was shot Tuesday afternoon in Montgomery, police said. Officers and fire medics responded to the 1200 block of Eastdale Circle around 4:40 p.m. Tuesday on a report of a person shot, said Montgomery police Maj. Saba Coleman. Authorities found a man who sustained a life-threatening gunshot wound, said Coleman. The man was taken to a local hospital for treatment. Further information was unavailable as the investigation remained ongoing.

A man has been taken into custody after a police officer was shot during a standoff Tuesday in Greenville. Police said Jonas Facito will be charged with attempted murder, in addition to other charges. A 9-month-old child who was inside the home with him has been rescued and was unharmed. According to the Greenville Police Department, officers received a 911 call, believed to be a domestic dispute, around 8:30 p.m. from an apartment in the 600 block of Glendale Drive. When an officer arrived at the scene, someone shot through the door with a shotgun, injuring the officer. It is unclear if shotgun pellets or shrapnel from the door injured the officer, according to police. Emergency crews took the officer to the hospital, and police expect the officer to recover. Facito barricaded himself inside the apartment for more than five hours. Police have evacuated the area and asked anyone in the area to shelter in place. Police said all nearby residents who were evacuated may return home at this time. There is no ongoing threat, according to police.

A student was shot Tuesday night at North Carolina Central University in Durham, and suspects have been identified, the school confirmed. According to N.C. Central police, officers around 10:15 p.m. responded to gunshots at Lawson Residence Hall, located at 609 E. Lawson St. A student with non-life-threatening gunshot wounds was transported to Duke University Hospital. It is unclear what led to the student being shot, but the university said suspects have been identified. No one involved in the shooting was named, and it was not clear how many suspects there were. The university put the campus on lockdown around 10:20 p.m. and lifted it around 12:20 a.m. Wednesday, stating there was no danger to the public or campus community. The Durham Police Department closed Lawson Street from Lincoln Street to Fayetteville Street while authorities investigated. One student told WRAL News a student shot another student, but police have not confirmed that information. According to N.C. Central police, officers were already conducting safety checks at Lawson Residence Hall when shots were fired, and Durham EMS were at the dorm for an unrelated medical call. During a press briefing around 12:50 a.m., the police chief for the University Police Department declined to say if the victim was a student or if they've identified any suspect(s). Police said there is no ongoing threat to the campus, and a criminal investigation is underway. The university will have counseling available at the residence hall for students and residents beginning at 8:30 a.m. Wednesday.

Burlington officers are searching for a man accused of firing a gun in an apartment on Tuesday, according to a Burlington Police Department news release. At 11:13 p.m., Burlington officers responded to a reported shooting at an apartment on Moran Street. Officers on the scene determined no one was hurt but found evidence of a shooting inside the apartment. During the investigation, the BPD identified 51-year-old Orlando Sentoris Hatfield as the suspect.

A man has been charged with his girlfriend’s murder after she was found unresponsive in a tent off Fayetteville Road, the Wake County Sheriff’s Office said Wednesday night. The Sheriff’s Office reported that Joe Anthony Jr., 57, has been charged with murder and assault inflicting serious bodily injury in connection with the death of Dorothy Smith, 50. On Tuesday night, deputies responded to a report of a woman’s overdose in the woods in the 7100 block of Fayetteville Road. There, they found Smith, who was unresponsive, and attempted life-saving measures. She was pronounced dead at the scene. Anthony was arrested Tuesday and charged with assault inflicting serious bodily injury. Authorities said that the charges were upgraded Wednesday to murder “after further investigation and consultation with the Wake County District Attorney’s Office.” The Sheriff’s Office did not provide additional details. He is being held without bail at the Wake County Detention Center. Fayetteville Road runs south of Raleigh. The location where Smith was found is southwest of Garner.

A man was discovered dead inside a submerged vehicle in a Walker County, and authorities said they suspect foul play. The Walker County Sheriff’s Office received a call early Wednesday afternoon about a suspicious vehicle off Homestead Road in the Dogtown area. The vehicle, authorities said, was partially submerged in a pond. The victim was dead inside. Detectives determined foul play was likely involved in the death. Further investigation showed the death happened in Winston County. No additional details have been released. The Wintson County Sheriff’s Office will now take over as the lead investigative agency.

The Cary Police Department asked for public assistance on Wednesday for a string of residential break-ins. According to the police department, the break-ins have occurred since January at various properties throughout the northwest district of Cary along N.C.55 and Davis Drive. "It's an invasion," Vikash Rakecha said. Rakecha said his home was one of the 12 break-ins reported, saying it happened when he went on Spring Break. Police believe the suspects targeted homes during the daytime and evening hours when residents are not home. "I know one or two pieces of jewelry that we keep [and I] noticed one was gone," Racehka said, adding they entered the home through the back door. Niveditha Sankaran, another victim, said the burglars took her car and jewelry inside her home. "Before we get in the driveway, we noticed the car was missing," she said. Police provided a photo of the three suspects in the break-ins, seen below.

A fight turned deadly at a Gwinnett County home on Wednesday, according to police. Gwinnett County Police Department was called to a home on Ivy Birch Branch around 1:45 a.m., where the caller stated that she heard loud noises and a person "grunting for help." When officers arrived, they looked around until they noticed lights on at a home and approached it. When the door was answered, police said one person looked like he'd been in a fight. That's when Gwinnett Police said they checked the home and found a man dead. Officers did not state how the man died, but detectives believe that the incident started as an argument and escalated from there. The believed suspect was detained and being interviewed by detectives, police said. Detectives believe this was a domestic incident and are currently not looking for any additional suspects. The victim's name will be released once the family is notified.

One man is dead after a double shooting at a northwest Atlanta home that also grazed another man on Thursday, police said. Atlanta Police said the shooting happened at a home along Westchester Boulevard NW. The home is close to the Center Hill neighborhood and is near More Cash for Junk Cars Atlanta. The home is just off Detroit Avenue NW and Chicago Avenue NW. Police said the man who sustained the graze wound is "alert, conscious, and breathing." 11Alive is working to learn more about what led up to the shooting and if anyone is in custody at this time.

A student was flown to hospital after they were stabbed Thursday by a classmate at a southwest Alabama high school. The student was stabbed at Jackson High School in Clarke County, WKRG reported. The student suspected of stabbing the classmate is in custody, according to the station. The injured student was flown to University Hospital in Mobile. Clarke County Schools did not mention a stabbing in a Facebook post, instead referring to “an isolated violent incident.” The district said counseling and support services are available to anyone who needs them. “We regret to inform you of an isolated violent incident that occurred earlier today at Jackson High School involving two students. We understand the concern and alarm this may cause, but we want to assure you that the threat has been swiftly removed and the situation is under control,” the district announced early Thursday afternoon. “At this moment, the details surrounding the incident are still unfolding. As expected, we are fully cooperating with law enforcement and school officials as they conduct their thorough investigation into this matter,” the statement went on to say.

A man who told Atlanta police that his girlfriend shot herself Thursday morning has now been charged with her murder, officials said. Dontavious Wright, 38, pulled into a BP gas station on Cleveland Avenue at around 12:30 a.m. and flagged down officers, according to police. They said they found a woman in the SUV’s passenger seat with a gunshot wound to the head. The woman, identified by the Fulton County Medical Examiner’s Office as 42-year-old Vermeka Williams, died at the scene from her injuries. Wright initially police that Williams shot herself as he was driving in the Browns Mill Park neighborhood. Police announced Thursday afternoon that Wright had been arrested. “After further investigation, Atlanta police homicide detectives found probable cause to secure arrest warrants for Dontavious Wright for the charges of murder, aggravated assault and possession of a firearm during the commission of a crime,” police said. “Wright was placed into custody and transported to the Fulton County jail without further incident.”

A man shot by two officers early Thursday outside a closed Target store had reached into his clothing and shown a gun, the Holly Springs Police Department said. The man, Tripp Walker Sheckells, 23, of Apex, was taken to a hospital, where he was in stable condition Thursday afternoon, police said. A store employee letting workers in for the morning called 911 shortly before 4 a.m. about a “strange person sitting on the ground” outside the closed entrance of the store at 100 Grand Hill Place, according to a copy of the 911 call requested by The News & Observer. Soon after two officers found him, Sheckells “reached into his clothing and presented a handgun,” police said in an update Thursday afternoon. Both officers then fired their weapons, striking Sheckells. The officers were not injured, and it does not appear that Sheckells fired his weapon, the release stated. The officers began providing first aid, while emergency medical services and additional officers were called. Sheckells faces two counts of assault with a deadly weapon on a government officer and one count of carrying a concealed gun, police said. He had a 9 mm Beretta according to police radio traffic released upon a public-records request from The N&O. Sheckells had just been arrested on Tuesday by the Wake County Sheriff’s Office and charged with carrying a concealed gun, police said. The officers — Officer Cozy Jackson and Cpl. Anthony Minchella — have been placed on administrative leave, while the N.C. State Bureau of Investigation reviews the incident, which is standard procedure in all shootings by police. Jackson transferred into the Holly Springs Police Department in January 2024 after 2 ½ years with another North Carolina law enforcement agency, and Minchella has worked for the department since August 2014, police said. “Our thoughts

A woman was found slain inside her Mulga home Thursday and the suspect in her death was shot by police after a chase through Adamsville ended in gunfire in Graysville. The discovery was made about 10:30 a.m. after family became concerned because they had not heard from the 46-year-old woman since at least Wednesday. The victim lived in the 200 block of Second Avenue. Jefferson County Sheriff's Office spokesman Henry Irby said forced entry was made into the home and the victim was found unresponsive inside. She was pronounced dead at the scene. Irby said the victim appears to have been shot. Multiple grieving family members have been at the crime scene for most of the day. A lookout bulletin for a potential suspect in a white Cadillac was broadcast about 1:30 p.m. on area law enforcement police radios. Adamsville police spotted the suspect and a chase began through the city. Spike strips were used to stop the vehicle and officials say the suspect fired at police. Officers returned fire, striking the suspect, at the corner of Cherry Avenue and Glasgow Hollow Road in Graysville. That location is just off Interstate 22. The suspect was taken to UAB Hospital. His condition wasn't immediately known.

One man was killed and another was injured Thursday afternoon in a shooting at a home in northwest Atlanta, police said. The incident happened at a residence in the 400 block of Westchester Boulevard, just north of Joseph E. Boone Boulevard. A 911 call reporting that someone had been shot was made shortly before 4 p.m. Atlanta police spokesman John Predmore confirmed that one man was pronounced dead at the scene and the other man was grazed by a bullet. No other details were released about the shooting or a suspect. Predmore said homicide investigators are at the scene trying to determine what led to the shooting. The Alabama Law Enforcement Agency is investigating the officer-involved shooting.

An armed carjacking led into a police pursuit Thursday night in DeKalb County, according to officers. A 29-year-old woman and a juvenile were involved in the incident. Police called them both suspects. Authorities first received a call about the armed carjacking around 8:20 p.m. Thursday near the intersection of Glenwood Road and Austin Drive. According to a news release, officers then issued a "be on the lookout" alert for the vehicle they believed the suspects were in. Once DeKalb County Police spotted the vehicle, they conducted a traffic stop that went awry. The driver ended up hitting a police vehicle, officers said. After the suspect hit the patrol car, an officer then fired shots. A news release stated the suspect then drove away from the scene, leading to a police pursuit. Police said the suspects were involved in a crash ultimately ending the pursuit. The 29-year-old suspect told police she was not feeling well. Emergency crews then took her to the hospital, while the juvenile was taken into custody. Police said the 29-year-old woman remains at the hospital but, once released, will go to jail. Law enforcement officers later searched the vehicle and found two weapons. Authorities said they are still working to get warrants for the juvenile driver. Police have not announced the charges for the suspects.

Police are searching for three people following an alleged drug deal that turned into a deadly shooting in DeKalb County, according to police. Around 10:30 p.m. on Thursday, police responded to a report of a person dead near Flat Shoals Parkway and Snapfinger Road. When officers arrived, they found a 27-year-old man dead inside a vehicle. Police said the victim was parked at a Chevron gas station when the shooting unfolded. Detectives believe the man was trying to buy drugs and tried to quickly take off during the exchange. When the driver hit the gas, investigators believe the person outside the car pulled out a gun and shot the driver in the neck. The victim's foot was still on the gas, causing the car to roll across the street, hitting multiple objects before coming to rest. The medical examiner identified the victim as 27-year-old Nicolas Grierson. The investigation remains ongoing, and police are searching for three people believed to be involved, with one person being the alleged shooter. DeKalb County leaders are trying to curb this type of crime after passing a list of security ordinances businesses must follow. Former DeKalb County Commissioner Lorraine Cochran-Johnson helped create the ordinance. "We immediately began to see a difference in our ability to utilize footage as a tool for law enforcement to apprehend people who tend to break the law," Cochran-Johnson said. Amendments were made to give businesses more flexibility. "The provision requiring that each gas pump have a dedicated camera was removed," Cochran-Johnson added. She said that's because many of the businesses have aerial cameras of the gas station. "The second area that proved problematic was the storing of footage for 60 days. So immediately when we reduced the 60-day requirement

A man and woman were found dead inside a Marietta home Saturday night as an hours-long standoff with a barricaded suspect came to a tragic end, police said. The standoff centered around a suspect believed to be linked to several crimes who had barricaded themselves inside of a home in Marietta Saturday night, police said. It all started around 3:50 p.m. Saturday, when Marietta Police officers notified Cobb County 911 dispatch that they had located a car with a stolen license plate parked on Amy Drive through a Flock camera alert. When officers approached the car, police said the driver ran away inside a home on the same street. Through further investigation, Marietta Police discovered the suspect was a person of interest in a case where a large amount of guns and cash were stolen from a residence in Paulding County. Police tried to get the man, 38-year-old Michael Reno, to come outside, but police said he refused, and MPD's SWAT team was activated. SWAT requested deputies from the Cobb County Sheriff's Office for assistance, and they worked to negotiate a peaceful surrender. The Paulding County Sheriff's Office said Reno was accused of taking over $18,000 in cash and roughly $20,000 in handguns and rifles from his brother's house. As law enforcement tried to talk to Reno, police said they saw at least one rifle inside the house. Marietta Police closed down Amy Drive for several hours as they worked to talk the suspect out. Around 10:15, police said they got inside the home with a drone, and at 10:40, officers broke into a back room where they found the two bodies. Reno was found dead with several weapons around him, and a woman's body was also found in the room lying near him, according to police. They did not say how they died. The neighborhood is just off North Marietta Parkway and is just over a mile from

According to authorities, no suspect is in custody and the investigation is ongoing.

A woman was stabbed and killed Monday, according to the Columbia Police Department. At about 6 p.m., officers responded to the incident at Devine Street and Abelia Road, police said. That's near the Piggly Wiggly grocery store in the area between Beltline Boulevard and Kilbourne Road. The victim was taken to an area hospital where she died, according to police. A man, called a "person of interest," was detained for questioning, police said. No arrests have been reported by police, who are continuing to investigate the death. There was no word on a motive for the stabbing, or if any other people were involved in the incident.

A man was shot to death Monday night near northwest Atlanta's Bankhead neighborhood, not far from where two other men were shot the previous day. Atlanta police got a call just before 10 p.m. about a person shot near the intersection of Cameron Madison Alexander Boulevard and Vine Street. When police arrived, they found a man with gunshot wounds in critical condition. He died at the scene. His name has not been released. The scene is east of Bankhead and north of Vine City, and it's just a few blocks from where 44-year-old Loquez Bell was killed and a 31-year-old man was injured in a shooting Sunday evening. It is not clear if there is any connection between the two incidents. Police have not released any other details.

Gwinnett County Police are looking to identify a road rage shooting suspect who managed to jump out of a moving vehicle. Earlier Tuesday, officers said they got a call about the shooting on Amwiler Road and Buford Highway. Thankfully, they said no one was injured. Using Flock cameras, officers identified the suspect, who was spotted jumping out of a moving vehicle and running away.

The former City of Homewood finance director was arrested Tuesday morning on a felony charge. Robert Burgett, 63, is charged with aggravated theft by deception, which is a Class A felony, according to announcements Tuesday by Homewood Police and the City of Homewood. Burgett worked for the city for 13 years prior to his retirement on March 31. He was taken into custody about 10 a.m. Tuesday in Helena and booked into the Homewood City Jail. He will be transferred to the Jefferson County Jail with bond set at $500,000. Police said the investigation began April 3 when they were made aware of irregularities in the movement of city funds by Burgett in the days leading up to his retirement. No additional details were released, including the dollar amount of money in question. Homewood police were assisted in the probe by the FBI and Jefferson County District Attorney's Office. "Allegations of the misuse of city funds are always disturbing," said Homewood Mayor Patrick McClusky. "When suspicious transactions were noticed, we quickly and appropriately notified authorities of what we found and took appropriate steps to freeze any questionable disbursements." "We will closely examine how the misappropriations occurred," said Homewood City Council President Alex Wyatt. "We are making every effort to recover the funds that were part of any fraud that was committed."

Police said a man fatally shot himself Tuesday after being involved in another shooting in northeast Atlanta earlier in the day. Shortly before 1 p.m., officers were called to an appliance store in the 2100 block of Piedmont Road, in the Lindridge–Martin Manor neighborhood right outside of Buckhead. A man was found with multiple gunshot wounds and taken to Grady Memorial Hospital in critical condition, authorities stated. Investigators said they obtained a description of the suspect’s SUV and began searching for the accused shooter. Atlanta police officers and Georgia State Patrol troopers eventually found the man on Jonesboro Road near Midway Street in southeast Atlanta. The area is about 12 miles south of the original crime scene. Law enforcement approached the vehicle to initiate a traffic stop and discovered the man “appeared to have sustained a self-inflicted gunshot wound,” police said. The suspect, who was not publicly identified, was pronounced dead at the scene. A motive in the initial shooting was not provided.

Gunfire erupted in the parking lot of a Birmingham UPS facility, leaving one person dead. The shots rang out about 6:15 p.m. Tuesday at a distribution warehouse that also houses offices on Inglenook Lane. Few details have been released. The victim is dead in the parking lot. Multiple UPS drivers rushed to the scene. Several people are hugging and crying just outside the crime scene tape.

A suspect has been charged in a Tuesday–night deadly shooting in Pell City. Jacob Callahan, 29, is charged with murder, St. Clair County Sheriff Billy Murray announced Wednesday. The name of the 45–year–old victim has not yet been released, but he was Callahan’s uncle. Deputies responded to Florida Road around 6:43 p.m. Tuesday on a report of theft of property, Murray said. At the scene, witnesses told deputies of an incident in progress around the 500 block of Florida Road. Deputies opened the door to a home on the block, where they found the victim suffering from a gunshot wound to the chest. He was taken to St. Vincent’s St. Clair, where he was pronounced dead a short time later. Callahan was taken into custody at the home where the victim was found. Authorities said there had been an ongoing dispute between the two. Callahan is being held in the St. Clair County Jail on $100,000 bond.

Authorities have released the name of a young teen gunned down after an argument at a neighborhood store. The Jefferson County Coroner's Office identified the victim Jaylin Lee Jenkins. He was 16 and lived in Birmingham. Police saturated the Inglenook area for parts of the day Wednesday and, on Wednesday evening, announced a juvenile was taken into custody. Birmingham police officers were dispatched shortly before 8:30 p.m. Tuesday a report of a person shot in the 4200 block of Jackson Street. They arrived to find Jaylin unresponsive inside of a vehicle. He was pronounced dead on the scene at 8:40 p.m. Sgt. LaQuitta Wade said the preliminary investigation indicates the victim asked his parents if he could go to the neighborhood convenience store. "While at the store, a verbal altercation ensued," Wade said. "The victim did get back inside his vehicle and attempted to leave the location." Jaylin was shot as he drove away. His vehicle came to a stop in someone's front yard, about four blocks away from the store. Jaylin was the city's second homicide in under three hours Tuesday. Shortly after 6 p.m., UPS driver Anthony Lamar Love Jr. was killed in a targeted attack at the Customer Care facility on Inglenook Lane. The two killings, though not related, took place in Birmingham's Inglenook area. Jaylin is Birmingham's 37th homicide so far this year. Of those, four have been ruled justifiable and therefore are not deemed criminal.

A woman is now behind bars after a deadly shooting, according to DeKalb County Police. Police said the shooting occurred on Apr. 10 near the 3800 block of Waldrop Lane. Officers responded to a crash scene and found a woman shot inside a vehicle. The victim was taken to the hospital, where she later died from her injuries. The woman, police said, was able to tell officers on the scene who shot her before succumbing to her injuries, leading police to identify the suspect as DeLana Young. Officers were able to find Young, and she was later arrested for murder and remains in the DeKalb County Jail.

[4/14/2024] A capital murder warrant has now been issued for the boyfriend of a Birmingham mother of four who was kidnapped early Thursday and found shot to death the following day. The warrant was issued Sunday for Cedric Dewayne Robertson, 37. Killed was 40-year-old Nakita Chantryce “Kita” Davidson. Robertson, a convicted felon, was initially charged with first-degree kidnapping. Court records indicate he deliberately crashed into Davidson’s vehicle, shot her, and then drove away in her vehicle after putting her into the trunk. Records also state Robertson’s own vehicle, as well as his cell phone, were found at the crash site, which was near Elmwood Cemetery. Robertson also has other prior felony convictions and an extensive arrest history dating back to 2004. He taken into custody about 6 p.m. Friday by the U.S. Marshals Gulf Coast Regional Fugitive Task Force, the Birmingham Police Department’s Crime Reduction Team, and Jefferson County sheriff’s deputies. His arrest ended a manhunt that began roughly 36 hours earlier. The investigation began when South Precinct officers were dispatched at 2:11 a.m. Thursday on a report of a two-vehicle wreck at Sixth Avenue S.W. and Martin Luther King Jr. Drive. Wade said officers arrived to find evidence of a possible shooting. Police earlier released a photo of a pink Nike sneaker, and that photo helped to quickly identify Davidson, whose family recognized the shoe and contacted Birmingham police. Davidson’s vehicle – a 2008 burgundy Saturn Outlook – was driven away from the scene. She was found in that vehicle Friday afternoon in a heavily wooded area off of 18th Place S.W. The discovery was made by the U.S. Marshals Gulf Coast Regional Fugitive Task Force and Birmingham Police Department’s Crime Reduction Team. Deputies of Davidson’s family members

A woman is in critical condition after being shot Wednesday morning in southwest Atlanta, authorities said. Police were called just before 9:20 a.m. to the 400 block of Cooper Street in the Mechanicsville neighborhood for a person shot. At the scene, located near Eugenia Street, officers found a woman with a gunshot wound. The victim, who was not publicly identified, was taken to the hospital in critical condition, police said. Carlos Neal, who lives in the area, said he heard a gunshot and saw the woman fall on Cooper Street, about 50 feet from a homeless encampment. He said the woman was awake, but she appeared critically injured. Neal said she came to the encampment every night, and was likely not the intended target. "It was very upsetting," Neal said. "Normally there don't be no gunfire over here." Police said detectives are investigating the shooting, which happened about a half-mile southwest of where the Downtown Connector meets I-20.

A man was shot and killed Wednesday morning at a troubled apartment complex in northwest Atlanta, police said. At about 9:30 a.m., Atlanta officers responded to the Vue at Harwell on Harwell Road, located near I-285 and Martin Luther King Jr. Drive. A caller reported that a person was shot, and when officers arrived they found a man suffering from a gunshot wound. The victim, identified as 29-year-old Zakee Freeman, was pronounced dead at the scene by medical crews, police said. The Vue at Harwell, formerly known as Daron Village, is among 272 of the metro area's persistently dangerous complexes, according to an investigation by The Atlanta Journal-Constitution that looked into serious crimes, lax maintenance and other hazards in Atlanta neighborhoods. Since 2017, the complex has been the site of five homicides, seven robberies and 38 aggravated assaults, along with sex crimes and other felonies. It has also racked up more than 150 code complaints, and in July 2022 the city announced the complex was placed on a list of properties to be targeted for chronic crime and condition problems. In late January, gunfire again erupted at the complex, leaving a man dead. Vaughn Leard, 33, was shot at least once and died at the scene, according to authorities. A motive is unclear in both recent shootings. Police have not said what led to the gunfire or if any arrests have been made.

A 15-year-old was shot in the groin Wednesday afternoon at a southwest Atlanta apartment complex, according to police. The shooting happened at around 1:15 p.m. in the 3900 block of Campbellton Road, Atlanta police said. The teenager was alert while being taken to the hospital. No additional details about the incident were released. The shooting remained under investigation late Wednesday. The complex, the Reserve at Birch Creek, was the scene of at least two other shootings in recent months.

A man was killed Wednesday night after a shooting in the parking lot of a Sumter convenience store, according to a Sumter Police Department news release. Police responded to a shots-fired call after 9:50 p.m. and found that Ray' Quan Dontrell Lamont Durant, 20, had been shot outside of the Red Bay Grocery on Boulevard Road. Durant was taken to Prisma Health Tuomey hospital where he later died. Durant's family was notified by the Sumter County Coroner's Office, according to the news release. An autopsy is scheduled for Friday. Sumter police said they are still working to determine the cause of the incident and to identify the shooter.

State law enforcement is investigating after shots were fired at the home of an Elba City School Board member Thursday night. The Coffee County District Attorney's Office asked the Alabama Law Enforcement Agency to investigate the incident, the agency said Friday. No one was injured by the shooting, according to ALEA. The agency did not immediately say whether law enforcement believes the shots fired were related to the board member's position, but WTVY reported that the gunfire erupted at the home of Johnny Senn right after the board chose not to renew the superintendent's contract.

Five people were shot in Durham late Thursday afternoon, including a 16-year-old boy shot on Truman Street who died at the hospital. At a news conference, Police Chief Patrice Andrews said it was a “very tragic loss” and that the teen’s brother had been shot on the same street less than a week ago, though that boy survived. Officers responded to the first shooting around 4 p.m. in the 1200 block of Truman Street, a short residential street just outside the Hayti District south of downtown, according to a news release. They found the 16-year-old bleeding from a gunshot wound in his chest and began CPR, Andrews said. The boy died in the hospital a couple of hours later. Police said they will not provide the boy’s name since he was underage. Andrews said a Black male with a handgun was spotted running from the scene and getting into a red Chrysler Sebring. Police began a brief chase, but stopped after determining it was unsafe. Police later recovered the vehicle, which was stolen, on Hardee Street about 3.4 miles away, Andrews said. Shortly before 5 p.m., police responded to a second shooting near the intersection of Fayetteville Street and Linwood Avenue. Officers did not find any victims there, but soon afterward a man and a boy who had both been shot arrived at a local hospital with what were believed to be non-life-threatening injuries. Another man with a non-life-threatening gunshot wound arrived at a hospital around the same time, police said. Investigators determined all three were shot at that scene. One of the victims, 31-year-old Javonte Patterson, was charged with possession of a firearm by a felon. Shortly after 6 p.m., police responded to gunshots in the 300 block of West Pettigrew Street, just north of the American Tobacco Campus. A short time later, a man who had been shot walked into the nearby bus station. He was

The case of the woman whose body was discovered inside a garbage can at a convenience store near the Prisma Health Richland hospital complex in Colonial Heights is being treated as a possible murder. “This is a tragedy and it is being investigated as a homicide,” said Richland County Coroner Naida Rutherford Friday morning. Rutherford identified the deceased as Domonique M. Palmero-Pohl, 32, of Columbia. “We will continue working with the Columbia Police Department to fully investigate this incident,” Rutherford said. There was no word on the cause of death, how long the body had been there or how officials identified the body. The woman’s body was found shortly before 10 a.m. Thursday behind the Q-Mart at the intersection of Academy Street and Colonial Drive. That’s a few blocks north of Farrow Road and two blocks east of Prisma Health Richland Hospital. The Columbia Police Department posted a short video on X, formerly known as Twitter, of its crime scene van parked on the curb beside a parking lot surrounded by police tape.

A Hoover High School student has been charged following an incident on campus Thursday that led to a lockdown and large police response. Just before 2 p.m., Hoover High School officials and Hoover Police Department school resource officers at the school were notified by students of a suspicious person on campus who was making threats of violence. A lockdown of the school was initiated while police investigated the complaint. Officers located the person, who was identified as a juvenile student and quickly detained him, said Lt. Daniel Lowe. A search of the campus was conducted, and no weapons were found. Once the campus was determined to be safe, the lockdown was lifted, and students were dismissed. The investigation showed that a 17-year-old boy was wearing a mask and got into a verbal altercation with a group of students in the courtyard. During the altercation, the teen made gestures to make the other students believe he was armed with a weapon, and he made verbal statements making the students believe he intended to harm them, Lowe said. The threats were subsequently reported to faculty and a lockdown was initiated. School resource officers worked to identify the student and took him into custody within minutes and without incident. The student was not armed when he was taken into custody, and there has been no evidence discovered indicating he was ever armed with a weapon at any point, Lowe said. Lowe said the incident was isolated, and there is no ongoing threat at Hoover High School. The 17-year-old is charged with first-degree making a terrorist threat.

Because of his age, no additional information is being released.

A teenager and an adult were shot to death on Thursday night just outside Columbia, the Richland County Sheriff's Department said Friday. The 16-year-old and a 36-year-old adult were pronounced dead at the scene, and a 14-year-old was transported to a local hospital after being shot. The deceased adult was identified as Marvin D. Archie, and the deceased teen as Jayden Scales-Amiker, by the Richland County coroner's office. "This is still an ongoing investigation and the Richland County Sheriff's Department will continue to update as more information becomes available," said a press release by Master Deputy Allie Salrin. Salrin said deputies responded around 7 p.m. Thursday to the 100 block of Angel Garden Way to a call of shots being fired. When they arrived, deputies found people with gunshot wounds. The area is a housing community behind a complex that includes Richland County Central Court on Decker Boulevard and less than a half mile from Richland Northeast High School. "This is still a very active scene and investigation. Right now, it is believed to be an isolated incident," Salrin said in a press release. Anyone with information regarding this incident is asked to please submit a tip, anonymously, through Crime Stoppers.

An overnight shooting in Tuscaloosa left a teen dead, and a suspect in custody. The shooting happened about 9:15 p.m. in the 3100 block of Second Avenue. The victim was taken to DCH Regional Medical Center where he was pronounced dead a short time later. Authorities are not releasing his name because he is under the age of 18, said Tuscaloosa Violent Crimes Unit Capt. Jack Kennedy. Mikal Rashaun Kirkman, 20, is charged with murder. He is being held without bond in the Tuscaloosa County Jail. Kennedy said the motive remains under investigation.

A 59-year-old suspect has been charged in the beating death of his roommate over an alleged Pop-Tart theft. Ozark police announced a manslaughter charged against Daryl Miley. He was booked into the Dale County Jail early Friday and remains held without bond. Miley is charged in the slaying of 63-year-old Billy Joe Maynard. According to police, an ambulance was called April 4 to Maynard's home on Walton Street. He was taken to the hospital for treatment. Maynard was able to tell investigators that the assault had happened days earlier. He later died. The autopsy showed that Maynard died from blunt force trauma. He sustained three broken ribs and ruptured spleen. During an interview with investigators, police said, Miley confessed to hitting Maynard with a metal pipe in the stomach area. He told them they were in a heated argument over the reported Pop-Tart theft.

A teenager who was shot by police while fleeing arrest Friday was later found hiding in a shed in a South Georgia yard, the GBI said. The incident began after Quitman police officers were notified about a shooting along North Quincy Street. The GBI said someone shot at a vehicle multiple times while several people were inside. Police eventually spotted a vehicle tied to the shooting driving through Quitman, a small city near Valdosta with a population of about 4,000, and attempted to pull it over. The driver continued on their route for a short distance before a front-seat passenger, identified as 18-year-old Brian Williams jumped out and ran off, the GBI said. An officer also jumped out of their patrol vehicle and chased the suspect while attempting to arrest him. "Initial reports are the suspect dropped an item on two separate occasions while running and stopped to retrieve it and appeared to hide it in his waistband and then kept running," the GBI stated, but did not confirm if the suspect was armed during the pursuit. Witnesses told officials that the officer gave Williams commands to stop and get down, but the GBI said he did not obey. At some point, the agency said an officer shot at the suspect several times, striking him at least once. Williams continued to flee and was later found hiding in a shed. He was arrested, but the GBI did not say what charges he is facing. The suspect was taken to the hospital with injuries not considered life-threatening. No officers were injured during the incident. It was the 18th officer-involved shooting the GBI has been asked to investigate this year. At this time last year, the state agency had investigated 29 such shootings.

Two tractor-trailers had their windows shattered after they were hit by gunfire in an "ambush-style shooting" early Friday morning near Tuskegee. The cabs of both 18-wheelers were struck by bullets by the drivers were not hurt, Macon County Sheriff André Brunson told WRBL. The incident occurred around 3 a.m. Friday on I-85 North near Exit 32, near Tuskegee. The drivers described the incident as an "ambush-style shooting," WRBL reported. A pickup truck and a mid-sized vehicle were parked near each other on the side of the interstate. When the 18-wheelers passed those vehicles, shots were fired from the vehicles' location, Brunson said. Authorities searched for the suspected vehicles but no suspects have been apprehended.

A woman was injured after being shot on Atlanta Highway Friday afternoon. Capt. Raymond Carson with the Montgomery Police Department confirmed to Action 8 News that the woman was shot at around 1PM in the 5500 block of Atlanta Highway. That is near the intersection of Eastern Boulevard. Action 8 News spoke to an eyewitness who did not want to be identified, but he says his truck now has a bullet hole in the back of it. He's just thankful that bullet hit his truck instead of his head or body. The eyewitness tells us he was stopped at the light in front of Eastdale Mall near Red Lobster on the Atlanta Highway when he heard something hit his car. He then saw two vehicles speeding away in opposite directions. A man in a car in front of him jumped out of his car and yelled that he thought a person – who was also stopped at the light – had been hit. MPD confirmed to us that an adult female victim sustained a non-life threatening gunshot wound, and she was taken to a hospital for treatment. So we know at least two cars were hit with bullets while stopped at that light. No other information has been released.

Montgomery police are investigating a shooting that left a man injured. Capt. Raymond Carson of the Montgomery Police Department told Action 8 News that around 4:38PM, they were called to the 1900 block of Cherry Street, where they found the victim. They determined that he had been shot in the 2700 block of Highland Avenue, which is not far from the Ann Street intersection. Carson said the man was taken to a hospital with injuries that are not believed to be life-threatening. No other information has been released.

A man and a woman were found shot early Friday evening in Brighton, the Jefferson County Sheriff's Office said. Sheriff's deputies responded to the 3800 block of Banks Street in Brighton around 5:25 p.m. Friday on a report of a person down, the office said. Deputies found a woman lying in the street and suffering from apparent gunshot wounds. The injured man was found suffering from an apparent gunshot wound in a room of a nearby house, the sheriff's office said. Birmingham Fire & Rescue Service personnel and Advantage EMS transported the victims to local hospitals. The severity of their injuries was not immediately known. The case remained under investigation Friday evening.

Atlanta Police are looking into a shooting that happened in West Midtown Friday night. APD said a 20-year-old man was shot on West Marietta Street NW around 8:40 p.m., just minutes from the Georgia Tech campus. Video shows police tape and police cruisers blocking the area as the investigation takes place. Police said the victim was unable to tell officers about what led up to the shooting. However, officers said the man injured was alert and conscious when he was taken to the hospital.

A second teen has died following a shooting Friday night in Tuscaloosa. Tuscaloosa police responded about 11 p.m. to a report of a shooting and a car crash in the 2200 block of Reece Boulevard. They arrived to find a vehicle had crashed into a house. Tuscaloosa Violent Crimes Unit Capt. Jack Kennedy said one of the victims inside the vehicle was pronounced dead on the scene. The second was taken to DCH Regional Medical where he has since died, Kennedy announced Sunday. Investigators determined that the shooting and subsequent crash resulted from a robbery attempt. The young driver was shot, which caused the crash. Another teen has been charged with felony murder and first-degree robbery. He is now charged with a second count of felony murder. The names of the victims and the suspect are not being released because of their ages. The young victims are the second and third teens killed in Tuscaloosa since Wednesday.

A Mobile priest has turned himself in on charges of sexual misconduct and harassment, according to the Mobile Metro Jail log. Rev. David Joseph Tokarz was taken into custody after turning himself in late Saturday morning, according to jail records, and released on $1,500 bond just before 2:30 p.m. Tokarz, 73, is the pastor at Our Savior Church in Mobile, according to the Archdiocese of Mobile. The Archdiocese provided a statement to WALA, saying the charges were levied by an adult female. "The Archdiocese of Mobile is aware that misdemeanor charges have been brought against Fr. David Tokarz, Pastor of Our Savior Church in Mobile, by an adult woman. Since this is an active legal matter, questions about the charges should be referred to Fr. Tokarz's attorney. We ask for your prayers for all affected by this situation."

A Rock Hill man charged with murder in the weekend stabbing death of a family member is in Mecklenburg County jail after he was caught north of Charlotte Sunday, police said. Shawn Marion Love, 27, is charged with murder and possession of a weapon during a violent crime after Carol Love, 60, died Saturday afternoon at a house on Brunswick Drive, according to the Rock Hill Police Department and York County Coroner. The suspect and victim are related, but Rock Hill police Lt. Michael Chavis refused Monday to disclose the exact relationship. No motive for the crime has been released. No one else was hurt, Chavis said. Love was arrested Sunday in Huntersville, N.C., north of Charlotte after an attempted robbery, according to the Mecklenburg County Sheriff's Office web site. Love faces North Carolina charges of attempted robbery with a weapon and breaking and entering of a vehicle, and also is being held on a South Carolina fugitive warrant, the Mecklenburg County Sheriff's Office web site shows. Huntersville police told law enforcement in Rock Hill that Love was in custody, Chavis said. Because Love is in North Carolina, the Rock Hill murder warrant remains pending, Chavis said. South Carolina police are expected to start extradition proceedings that would bring Love to York County to be served the South Carolina warrant for murder.

[5/17/2024] A suspect has been charged in the April shooting death of a man found slain in the front yard of an east Birmingham home. Ledarrius Jones, 32, of Tarrant, is charged with murder in the April 12 killing of 26-year-old Jeffry Padilla. A 27-year-old woman, Arkeria Rogers, is charged with hindering prosecution in connection with the same case, Officer Truman Fitzgerald said Friday. Police were dispatched at midnight that Friday to the 500 block of 81st Street South after receiving a Shot Spotter alert of one round fired in the area. While they were on the way, the call was updated to a person shot. Padilla was found face down in the front yard of a residence. Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service pronounced him dead on the scene. Investigators said there was a verbal altercation prior to the shots being fired. Homicide detectives identified Jones as a suspect in the investigation. He was taken into custody by the police department's Crime Reduction Team. At that time, he had an outstanding warrant for first-degree robbery for the armed robbery of another man that happened March 13, according to court records. Jones remains held without bond in the Jefferson County Jail. Rogers was booked into the county lockup at 1:29 p.m. Thursday and released at 7:41 p.m. after posting $15,000 bond.

The Columbia Police Department fired an officer after he was charged Saturday with a domestic violence crime in Richland County. Around 7:30 a.m. Saturday, Richland County sheriff's deputies responded to a domestic incident at apartments located at 131 Roper Pond in Columbia, where they talked to a man and a woman who were residents. An investigation found that the man, 30-year-old Columbia police officer Efrain Galdamez, attempted to choke the woman following a verbal altercation, the sheriff's department said. The assault left minor injuries around her neck. Galdamez faces a charge of domestic violence in the third degree, a misdemeanor. He was transported to Alvin S. Glenn Detention Center. The sheriff's department did not indicate whether he was on or off duty at the time of the incident. According to the Columbia Police Department, Galdamez had been employed there since January 2023. He was fired following the incident. The Columbia Police Department otherwise declined to comment.

Montgomery police are investigating a shooting on Perry Hill Road that left a man injured. Police Capt. Raymond Carson told Action 8 News that the victim was found in the 3800 block of Harrison Road on Saturday at around 11:02AM. Investigators determined the shooting happened in the 1200 block of Perry Hill Road. That is near the Offices at Midtown office park. Police say the man's injuries were life threatening. He was taken to a hospital for treatment. No other information was released.

A Forsyth County man has been charged with DUI after authorities said he struck a bicyclist over the weekend, killing him. Matthew Holbrook, 48, of Cumming, was at the intersection of Castleberry Road and Kings Common Way at about 4:20 p.m. Saturday when he allegedly hit 71-year-old Victor Godyn, according to a Forsyth sheriff's office news release. Holbrook was traveling north on Castleberry Road, driving a 1994 Chevrolet C1500 pickup truck. Godyn was traveling west from Kings Common Way. The bicyclist was pronounced dead at the scene, the release said. According to investigators, a deputy conducted an impairment investigation and determined Holbrook was driving under the influence of drugs. He was charged with vehicular homicide and DUI. The case remains under investigation.

Two men were arrested over the weekend after a man allegedly told dispatchers by text message that he had been kidnapped. WHNT is reporting that Jessie Ryan Fain Jr., 21, and Clayton Ty Calahan, 18, have been charged with second degree kidnapping, and are being held at the Marshall County Jail on a bond of $15,000 each. According to police, the incident began around 5:40 p.m. Saturday. Morgan County 911 received a text message that a man had been kidnapped from his home in Decatur and taken to a residence in Arab on Second Street. The man was able to text after he retrieved his phone, because the men responsible had handcuffed him in front of his body, according to WAAY. Officers arriving at the Arab address found the victim still handcuffed, sitting in the living room. There were two other men in the home, police said, later identified as Fain and Calahan. The unnamed victim told police that Fain and Calahan said they were going to take him to his girlfriend's house so they could "work their relationship out." He was handcuffed to keep him from attacking them, they said. The men appeared armed with a gun, which was later determined to be an air pistol, according to police. When they arrived in Arab, the victim realized they were going in the opposite direction of his girlfriend's house. He then texted dispatchers, asking for help.

A woman was arrested after a 9-year-old boy found her gun and shot himself in the hand Saturday evening, according to Atlanta police. Miuana Fair is accused of leaving her unsecured firearm in a drawer at a home on Hutchens Road in southeast Atlanta's South River Gardens neighborhood, where the boy found it and began playing with it, police said. He was described as alert when he was taken to a hospital around 7 p.m. The boy's grandmother was home and preparing food at the time the shot was fired, officials said. She was interviewed and then cleared after telling police she was unaware that the gun was inside the home. Fair appeared to be a relative of the child, according to police. She faces a charge of reckless conduct.

Two men were killed Saturday in separate Montgomery shootings. Police on Monday identified the victims as Ronel Gomez, 26, and John Moore, 56, both of Montgomery. Authorities were dispatched at 9:42 p.m. to the 3600 block of Gas Light Curve on a report of a person shot. Capt. Raymond Carson said the wounded Gomez was taken to the hospital where he was pronounced dead. Less than two hours later – at 11 p.m. – officers and fire medics responded to the 3600 block of Kelly Lane. They arrived to find Moore dead on the scene. Additional circumstances surrounding the shootings have not been released, and no arrests have been made. The men are among three people killed in the city over the weekend. Summer Blackmon died early Sunday after, according to court records, after she was hit in the head with a dumbbell. A suspect has been charged.

A Birmingham man is facing multiple charges after authorities say he shot at a Brighton police officer over the weekend in western Jefferson County. Willie Dave Williams, 47, is charged with attempted murder, discharging a firearm into an occupied dwelling, certain persons forbidden to possess a pistol and unlawful possession of marijuana. Midfield police Chief Jesse Bell said the ordeal began about 9:45 p.m. Saturday when his officers were dispatched to the 10 block of Hoadley Street on a report of shots fired into a home. The homeowner told police a relative had fired the shots following a disagreement. Officers were not able to find the suspect and cleared the area. At 10:10 p.m., Bell said, officers were called back to the residence when the homeowner called 911 to report the suspect had returned. They arrived to find the suspect running from the back yard into a nearby wooded area. Brighton police and Jefferson County sheriff's deputies responded to the call for assistance and set up a perimeter. A Brighton officer heard movement in the woods near where the suspect had entered and turned on his spotlight, Bell said. He then encountered Williams and ordered him to show his hands. The suspect fired multiple rounds at the officer, and the officer returned fire. Star 1 helicopter arrived, and Williams was taken into custody a short time later. He was hiding under a vehicle in the back yard of a nearby home. Bell said fortunately no one was injured. Williams is in the Midfield City Jail awaiting transfer to the Jefferson County bond. His bond is set at $73,000.

Montgomery police are investigating a homicide following the death of a Montgomery man. Capt. Raymond Carson tells Action 8 News that the shooting happened Saturday around 11:00 p.m. in the 3600 block of Kelly Lane. Once officers and Fire Medics arrived, they found 56-year-old John Moore with a fatal gunshot wound. Moore was pronounced dead on the scene. No arrests have been made at this time.

Authorities have released the name of a man found shot to death outside his tow truck late Saturday night in southwest Birmingham. Birmingham police identified the city's 40th homicide victim as Christopher Deandre Coleman. He was 41 and lived in Birmingham. Coleman was the owner of Coleman's Towing. He was a father, a grandfather and described by friends as a family man. West Precinct officers were dispatched at 11:10 p.m. Saturday to the 1700 block of Maple Avenue S.W. after someone called 911 about a tow truck that was backed onto the property of a vacant house. Officers arrived to find the tow truck was still running. As they walked around the truck, they found Coleman dead on the ground. Sgt. LaQuitta Wade said one of the residents in the neighborhood did hear gunshots but did not go outside to investigate. Coleman was Birmingham's third homicide in less than 72 hours. On Thursday, a 40-year-old woman, Nakita Chantryce "Kita" Davidson, was shot and abducted by her boyfriend. Her body was found Friday. Early Saturday morning, a 26-year-old man was killed on the city's east side. No arrests have been made.

A Wake County man faces first-degree kidnapping and statutory rape charges after a traffic stop Saturday afternoon. When Wake County Sheriff's deputies stopped a vehicle on I-40 near Jones Sausage Road in Raleigh, they found a juvenile in the car who was reported as a runaway in Durham. The man, 22-year-old Preston Malachi Baker, was charged after an investigation and consultation with the Wake County District Attorney's office. The sheriff's office said this remains an ongoing investigation. No further information was released.

A woman died Sunday after she was hit in the head with a dumbbell in Montgomery. The victim has been identified as 37-year-old Summer Blackmon. Police and fire medics responded at 12:05 a.m. Sunday on a general medical call in the 600 block of Community Street, said police Capt. Raymond Carson. Blackmon was dead on the scene. Initially, Carson said, the circumstances surrounding Blackmon's death were unknown. Further investigation turned up evidence of a homicide. Charging documents against 41-year-old Darrick Onel Wilson state Blackmon's blunt force trauma death resulted from a blow to the head with a dumbbell. Wilson, charged with murder, was booked into the Montgomery County Detention Center at 9:33 a.m. Sunday and remains held without bond. A possible motive has not yet been disclosed.

An 18-year-old was shot while confronting alleged car burglars at a prom after-party in southwest Atlanta early Sunday, according to authorities. Atlanta police were called at around 12:30 a.m. to a home in the 900 block of Moreland Drive. The residence is near McDonough Boulevard and Moreland Avenue in the Custer/McDonough/Guice neighborhood. Officers met with the victim at Grady Memorial Hospital after learning he had been taken there in a private vehicle. The teenager told investigators he saw three men wearing ski masks who were breaking into vehicles during the party, which was being held at an Airbnb. "The male stated he was shot after confronting them," police said. No other details were provided about the three suspects, who remain at large. The identity of the injured teen was not released.

A man was shot and killed early Sunday when he got involved in a dispute between a former couple in northwest Atlanta, leading to a shootout, authorities said. Atlanta police were called just before 2 a.m. to Simpson Plaza in the 700 block of Joseph E. Boone Boulevard. The plaza is home to a grocery store, a Chinese restaurant and a laundry service business. When officers arrived, they found the man suffering from several gunshot wounds. Medical crews took him to the hospital, where he died, police said. He was identified as 43-year-old Harry Ponder by the Fulton County Medical Examiner's Office. According to investigators, Ponder, of Atlanta, had noticed two people, a former couple, getting into a dispute at the plaza. After he got involved, police said, "gunfire erupted between the individuals," and he was shot. On Monday, police classified the shooting as a homicide, though it's still unclear if Ponder opened fire. "The homicide detectives are still trying to determine the ballistics before confirming at this time," police spokesman Officer Anthony Grant told The Atlanta Journal-Constitution. The area is a short distance from Rodney Cook Sr. Park in Vine City, a neighborhood that, along with English Avenue, has experienced a series of shootings in recent weeks. On Wednesday, Atlanta City Council members and neighborhood leaders gathered to demand change. "The list goes on and on," Shadé Yvonne Jones, chair of the local Neighborhood Planning Unit, said of the violence. "This is a daily problem."

Police are investigating after a man was fatally shot at a Brookhaven apartment complex Sunday morning. The shooting happened around 4:28 a.m. at the Villas at Druid Hills apartment complex on Buford Highway. Police said they found a man with a single gunshot wound to the chest. The man later died of his injuries, according to the police department. Brookhaven Police said the investigation into the shooting remains ongoing.

A man was found shot to death late Monday behind a north Birmingham church, just one block from Legion Field. The city's gunfire detection system – Shot Spotter – registered 13 rounds near Center Street and Sixth Avenue West. While they were en route, the call was updated to a report of a person shot. Officers arrived to find the victim unresponsive on the ground. Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service pronounced him dead on the scene in a grassy area behind Tabernacle Baptist Church. Sgt. LaQuitta Wade said evidence indicates the shooting started at Graymont Avenue and Center Street. "It appears the victim ran one block, to Sixth Avenue West and Center Street and collapsed there," she said. It's possible the fatal shots were fired from a vehicle. No arrests have been made. The victim is Birmingham's sixth homicide in six days.

A central Alabama gunshot victim was flown to the hospital Monday in serious condition, police said. A suspect in the shooting, which occurred Monday in Tallassee, is in custody, said Tallassee Police Chief N. Todd Bruce. Officers responded to the area of 3rd Avenue and Cherry Street on a report of a person shot, Bruce said. The victim, only identified as a male, was contacted by police at Tallassee Community Hospital. The victim identified LaJonathan Kennebrew, 39, as the alleged gunman, said Bruce. The victim was later taken to Baptist Hospital in Montgomery via LifeFlight helicopter in serious condition, the chief said. Kennebrew turned himself in to Tallassee police and was in custody as of late Monday afternoon. Kennebrew was charged with first-degree assault.

A Tuscaloosa County High School teacher was taken into custody Monday, accused of being sexually involved with a student. Lorenza Freeman Jr., 25, is charged with one count of school employee having sexual contact with a student under the age of 19. Tuscaloosa Violent Crimes Unit Capt. Jack Kennedy said the victim is a minor student. No additional information is being released about the victim or the circumstances surrounding the alleged crime. Freeman was undergoing booking Monday afternoon. His bond is set at $30,000. The school's website does not list any information on Freeman's employment.

Huntsville police investigators are attempting to find the driver of a vehicle involved in a fatal hit-and-run crash early Monday morning. The incident happened at about 1:30 a.m. on Memorial Parkway, just north of Mastin Lake Road, according to police. Marquez Williams was attempting to cross Memorial Parkway on foot, outside of a crosswalk, when he was struck. He later died at Huntsville Hospital. Police, in a statement, said “investigators are actively utilizing all resources to locate the person who left the scene.”

Carrboro police have charged a Hillsborough man after an April 15 crash victim died at the hospital. Matthew Harr, 32, was charged Monday with felony hit and run in connection with the crash, which happened shortly before 2 a.m. in the parking lot of 602 Jones Ferry Road, police said in reports and a news release. Harr was already being held in the Orange County jail without bond on a charge he received Saturday related to possession of a Schedule II controlled substance, according to Orange County Sheriff’s Office records. Carrboro Police Chief Chris Attack said Zachary Peebles, 29, was “interacting” with people inside a vehicle in the Willow Creek shopping center parking lot. A police report described the vehicle involved in an incident at that location as a 2003 Dodge Ram 2500 truck. Attack did not elaborate on the type of interaction that took place before Peebles was struck, leaving him with life-threatening injuries. Harr is accused of fleeing the scene. Peebles was taken to UNC Hospital, where he died from his injuries, police said. Carrboro police investigators found evidence at the scene that helped identify the car and the driver involved as Harr, they said. The case is still being investigated.

Tallassee police have charged a man in a shooting that occurred Monday morning. The shooting happened around 8:30 a.m. in the area of 3rd Avenue and Cherry Street. Tallassee Police Chief Todd Buce tells Action 8 News that it started with an argument between two men. The victim was taken to Baptist Medical Center South in Montgomery with a single gunshot wound. Police have charged 39-year-old LaJonathan Kennebrew with 1st degree Assault after the victim identified him as the shooter. The Tallassee Police Department says it believes this to be an isolated incident and there is no immediate danger to the community at this time.

Multiple shots rang out at an east Birmingham gas station Monday afternoon, leaving one man seriously injured. The shooting happened about 2:30 p.m. outside Eastlake Chevron on Oporto-Madrid Boulevard South, between First and Second avenues. Officer responded to the area after Shot Spotter registered 10 rounds fired in the area. The victim showed up in a private vehicle a short time later at Birmingham Fire and Rescue Station 12 on First Avenue North. Police radio communications indicated the victim was shot in the face. Sgt. LaQuitta Wade said he was taken to UAB Hospital with life-threatening wounds. `Police marked 11 shell casings in the parking lot of the Chevron. It appears the shooting was captured on store surveillance video. No arrests have been announced.

Homicide investigators were called to a shooting scene in southwest Atlanta on Monday afternoon after three people were shot, including one who was critically injured. Few details have been released, but Atlanta police confirmed that the shooting took place in the 2000 block of Briar Ridge Way just after 4:30 p.m. The area is a residential neighborhood just outside I-285, less than a mile from Therrell High School and Kimberly Elementary School. One victim was rushed to the hospital with critical injuries, but two others spoke to officers at the scene before being taken for medical care, police said. Officials have not said if anyone was killed, but homicide detectives were called out to investigate. Police have not shared any further information about the shooting, including the circumstances around the incident or if anyone has been arrested. None of the victims has been publicly identified.

Eight people have been arrested after as many as 10 people attacked a store clerk in Tuscaloosa County earlier this week. The incident happened at 5:45 p.m. Monday at the Fosters Chevron on Highway 11 south. Sheriff's deputies were dispatched to the store on a fight call, said sheriff's spokeswoman Inv. Jessica McDaniel. The nature of the initial dispute was not immediately clear. Video posted to social media showed the female clerk talking with the suspects. The group then attacked her, taking her to the ground. The clerk's shirt was ripped and her face bloodied, video showed, but authorities said she was not seriously injured. Those charged with third-degree assault are: Zy' Nyiaha Smith, 18; Azaria Clark, 19; Christian Hill, 22; Maya Patterson, 18; Nievia Washington, 19; Quantrese Washington, 18; Shakyiah Clark, 21, and Tanaiya Brown, 18. Two other suspects are believed to be juveniles.

A drive-by shooting at a park in southeast Atlanta injured a man and a pregnant 17-year-old who were attending a family gathering Monday night, officials said. Officers were called to South Bend Park at 1935 Compton Drive just after 11 p.m. after getting reports of the shooting, Atlanta police said. At the scene, they found a 51-year-old man suffering from multiple gunshot wounds. Grady Emergency Medical Services responded and took him to the hospital. Officers also learned that a teenage victim had been taken to the hospital in a private car before they arrived, police said. Investigators were then sent to the hospital, where they confirmed the 17-year-old had been injured in the same shooting. Police did not provide any further information about the condition of the victims, and they were not publicly identified. According to the initial investigation, both victims were attending a family event when a car pulled up to the park's entrance, police said. Multiple suspects inside began shooting, firing at the gathered crowd and hitting both victims. The park is in the Lakewood Heights neighborhood about a mile from the Lakewood Amphitheatre.

LaGrange Police are asking for the public's help in finding a man they believe is accused of raping and sexually assaulting three children. Authorities are searching for Jeremy Powell. Investigators believe the crimes have been happening for several years. "We have reason to believe that he found out the police are investigating so that he took flight before we're able to locate him and apprehend him," LaGrange Police Detective David Horseman said. Detectives also believe Powell knew the family of the children -- who were all siblings -- that he's accused of sexually assaulting. "We respond to a call from a school counselor at a local elementary school. There's a student who came forward saying that she was sexually assaulted and then went on to report that her siblings were also assaulted as well," Horseman said. According to the initial police report, it happened last Friday. Powell now faces three counts of felony sexual battery, two counts of child molestation and one count of rape. "He doesn't have a license. And from what we're told, he doesn't drive. His only vehicles that he used were his mother's and his girlfriend's. And both of which they have cut ties with," Horseman said. Horseman said Powell does have a criminal history but would not elaborate on the previous crimes. However, Horseman added there is no reason to believe Powell is a danger to the community.

Raleigh police have charged a 17-year-old with murder after a man stabbed on New Bern Avenue on Tuesday afternoon died. Police have not released the juvenile suspect's name and said they are withholding the name of the person killed until they can notify his relatives. What police say happened: Officers responded around 3:15 p.m. to a reported stabbing in the 4400 block of New Bern Avenue. A man found stabbed was taken to a hospital, and a suspect was taken into custody. Media outlets reported the stabbing happened at or outside a Walmart. The News & Observer has requested any 911 calls in this case and will update this story as we get more information.

A would-burglar was shot dead by a resident at a Mobile apartment complex Tuesday, Mobile police said Wednesday morning. Police responded to Ashford Place Apartments on Grelot Road just before 1:30 p.m. Tuesday on a call of a burglary in progress. Arriving at the scene, officers found a 23-year-old male dead from an apparent gunshot wound. Initial investigation indicates the dead suspect and another suspect, 22-year-old Okoye Jabrayll Day of Mobile, were attempting to break into an apartment when the resident fired at least one shot, killing the first suspect, whose identity is being withheld pending notification of next of kin. Day was taken into custody and charged with 1st-degree burglary and possession of a firearm by a convicted felon. He remained in Mobile Metro Jail as of Wednesday morning, held without bond pending an initial court appearance.

A shootout in a DeKalb County parking lot left three bystanders injured Tuesday evening, police said. The gunfire occurred in the 2000 block of Candler Road near a Circle K gas station around 8:20 p.m. At the scene, officers said they found two men, ages 32 and 44, suffering from gunshot wounds. They were taken to a hospital with injuries not considered life-threatening. A 39-year-old man was also grazed by a bullet, but was not taken to a hospital, police added. The incident began after two groups of people opened fire in a parking lot, officials confirmed. "All three victims appear not to be related to either of the two groups involved," according to police. Surveillance footage obtained by Channel 2 Action News showed several people discharging their firearms at the gas station. It also appears to show at least three people shooting from a black car. Several vehicles were hit in the process, and bystanders could be seen attempting to take cover, the video reveals. No information was provided on what led to the shooting or if anyone was taken into custody.

Huntsville police have arrested a man and charged him with attempted murder in connection with a shooting Tuesday. The incident happened at about 9 p.m. near the 3100 block of Hillandale Road. The victim was taken to Huntsville Hospital where he remains in critical condition. Jametric Bernard Collier, 38, was located in a vehicle on Meridian Street Wednesday, according to police. After being interviewed by investigators, he was arrested and charged with the shooting. He is currently being held at the Madison County Metro jail without bond.

The GBI is investigating a shooting that injured both a South Georgia police officer and a man accused of breaking into vehicles, according to investigators. Shortly before 10 p.m. Tuesday, Statesboro officers were called to the Cooper Beach Townhomes on a report that a man was entering cars in the parking lot. In the complex, Officer Joey Deloach saw a man matching the suspect's description inside a parked vehicle. Deloach approached the man, later identified as 19-year-old Anthony De' Jarion Kent of Vidalia, and ordered him out of the vehicle, Statesboro police said. That's when Kent began shooting, according to the GBI. "During the encounter, there was an exchange of gunfire," the GBI said in a news release. "Kent ran away from the scene but was subsequently apprehended by law enforcement." Deloach was taken first to East Georgia Regional Medical Center and then flown to Memorial University Medical Center in Savannah, where he underwent emergency surgery, according to officials. "SPD asks for the public's prayers for his swift recovery," Statesboro police said in a Facebook post. An update on his condition was not provided. Meanwhile, Kent ran into a wooded area but was soon taken into custody, police said. Kent, who was also injured, was taken to a local hospital for treatment before being booked into the Bulloch County jail. He faces a charge of aggravated assault on a public safety officer. At the time of his arrest, Kent also had an active felony warrant in Treutlen County, police said. The charge was not specified.

A caregiver at a Shelby County nursing home is accused of stealing more than $16,000 from a resident. Louise Smith Bradley, 63, is charged with financial exploitation of the elderly, Alabaster police announced Wednesday. The investigation began when the victim's family reported some discrepancies in financial records and some concerns about staff at Healthcare Center at Buck Creek where Bradley was employed at the time. Charging documents against Bradley state $16,705.35 was stolen from the 75-year-old woman. "No matter your situation or financial needs, it's pretty despicable to steal from those who depend on you for their health and well-being," said Alabaster Police Chief Curtis Rigney. Efforts to reach officials at the nursing home for comment were not immediately successful. The status of Bradley's employment is unknown. Bradley was booked into the Shelby County Jail Friday and has since been released after posting $30,000 bond. The charge is a Class B felony, punishable by up to 20 years in prison and up to $30,000 in fines. Bradley has a court date set for May.

A man was arrested Wednesday afternoon after a chase involving a stolen ambulance and multiple law enforcement agencies that ended when the vehicle crashed into a utility pole in Clayton County. Ladarius Williams was being treated at Piedmont Henry Hospital in Stockbridge before he stole a private Amerimed ambulance from the facility and drove away, Channel 2 Action News reported. A Georgia State Patrol spokeswoman confirmed that state troopers pursued the ambulance but did not provide additional details. According to Channel 2, paramedics were still in the ambulance when it was taken and chose to bail out of the moving vehicle. The driver led officers on a chase into Clayton, where a state trooper performed a PIT maneuver, causing the ambulance to crash into a concrete utility pole on Tara Boulevard near Dixon Road. The pursuit ended nearly 10 miles from the hospital. After the crash, Williams allegedly continued to flee on foot before he was stopped with a Taser, Channel 2 reported. Police officers from Atlanta, Clayton, Jonesboro and Stockbridge, as well as Clayton deputies, assisted state troopers in the chase. No details have been released about what charges Williams might face. He has not been booked into either the Clayton or Henry County jails, online records show.

The South Carolina Law Enforcement Division has announced the arrests of three people after a woman was found bound and unconscious on a river bank in Jasper County. The woman, whose name has not been released by law enforcement, was found injured and restrained around 3 p.m. near Corner Lake boat landing in an isolated part of rural Jasper County on Wednesday, April 3, 2024. Deputies performed CPR on her on the way to the hospital. That same day, three kidnapping warrants were obtained by the Barnwell County Sheriff's Office for Adrienne Burgen Ginn, 31, Kaila Terria Bostick, 34, and Jamaal Terrell Riley, 30, according to SLED. Investigators determined that the woman was kidnapped in Barnwell County, according to SLED. Ginn was arrested April 6, 2024, in Hampton County by the South Carolina Highway Patrol for driving with a suspended license. Bostick and Riley were arrested by the U.S. Marshals Great Lakes Fugitive Task Force in Indiana on Thursday, April 11. In a statement, SLED confirmed that they will be extradited back to South Carolina. Investigators have not yet released warrants for the three suspects, or given information about what may have led up to the kidnapping. On April 8, the Jasper County Sheriff's Office and the Hampton County Sheriff's Office requested SLED lead the investigation. That day, the state law enforcement agency put out a public appeal for surveillance video of vehicles from surrounding roads in the hours leading up to the woman's discovery.

Raleigh police have arrested a man they say killed his younger brother. Justin Verderber, 43, is charged with murder after 38-year-old Ryan Verderber died Monday. The Police Department said in a news release Wednesday. What police say happened: Officers responded April 17 to a reported assault at a home on St. Augustine Ave., off New Bern Avenue east of downtown Raleigh. They found Ryan Verderber suffering from injuries in the assault. He was treated at a hospital and released. On Friday, he was found unresponsive at the home and taken back to the hospital, where he died Monday. He is survived by two siblings, according to an online obituary.

[4/30/2024] GAINESVILLE, Ga. — Georgia State Patrol and the Hall County Sheriff's Office are both investigating the death of 37-year-old Teresa Bruce. Her sister, Natasha Cantrell, said someone found Bruce dead along Skelton Road in Gainesville after she was struck by a car on the evening of April 18. "They just left her there on the side of the road, and I don't know how long she was laying there," Cantrell explained. Cantrell said they had no idea her sister was hurt. She said Bruce had been missing for several days leading up to that Thursday night when she was hit. Cantrell said she had called around but couldn't find anyone who had seen or heard from her sister. It wasn't until April 24 that she found out she was in the hospital on life-support. At this point, she still had no clue her sister was involved in a hit-and-run. However, she soon found out just how bad it really was when Bruce was taken off life-support later that same day. "I want to know what happened to her from the 13th to the 18th," Cantrell said. The Hall County Sheriff's Office is looking into allegations Bruce may have been assaulted in the days prior to being hit on Skelton Road. Georgia State Patrol said their investigation into the hit-and-run is active and ongoing.

[5/9/2024] A teacher at Loachapoka Elementary School in Lee County has been charged with hitting a student. Lee County Sheriff Jay Jones says on April 18, deputies got a report from the school principal, who said that first grade teacher, 32-year-old Brittney Denise Buford of Auburn, hit a seven-year-old student in the face with her forearm. Jones says investigators have evidence, including video from the classroom. Jones says today, Buford was arrested for assault in the third degree. She has been released from jail on a $1,000 bond. Action 8 News is working to find out Buford's status with the school.

Durham police are investigating a reported shootout near downtown on Thursday morning. Officers responded just before 10 a.m. to reported gunshots in the 600 block of Jackie Robinson Drive near a parking deck, according to a Durham Police department news release. ABC11, The News & Observer's media partner, said the incident happened outside the parking deck at the corner of Jackie Robinson Drive and Julian Carr Street. That's at the American Tobacco Campus a block away from the Durham Bulls Athletic Park. Witnesses reported two people were shooting at each other near the parking deck, according to the release. Officers found shell casings and one unoccupied vehicle had been struck. No injuries had been reported as of noon. Shortly before 11 a.m., officers responded to a report of an active shooter in the area but found no evidence of one. Preliminary investigation indicates the American Tobacco Campus had sent out an email to staff and tenants about the shooting, prompting a second 911 call. Cristo Rey Research Triangle High School self-evacuated when officers arrived. They have since returned to the building.

An afternoon argument in a west Birmingham neighborhood left one man dead. Multiple shots rang out about 4:20 p.m. in the 5700 block of Court I in Ensley. That is off Vinesville Road, near Fairfield and Miles College. Shot Spotter alert authorities to shots fired and then police received a call reporting a person was unresponsive near the road, said Officer Truman Fitzgerald. The victim was found unresponsive in the front yard of a home in the 900 block of 58th Street. Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service pronounced him dead on the scene. His identity has not yet been released. Several grieving family members, however, rushed to the crime. Fitzgerald said some sort of argument took place between the victim and one or more suspects. The nature of the argument was not immediately known. As detectives and officers were investigating, 911 dispatchers said of the police radio that a person of interest in the shooting wanted to surrender. A relative of that person was talking with police at the scene, helping to coordinate that surrender. "We have not made contact with that person yet," Fitzgerald said about 5:45 p.m. "However, we are thankful that person has come forward and is at least willing to himself in." Fitzgerald said as many as 10 shots were fired. It wasn't immediately clear if there was an exchange of gunfire. "The shots were fired in a residential neighborhood and we're thankful no one else got struck by gunfire," he said. Witnesses told police there could more than shooter.

A man was killed Thursday evening following a shootout with officers after he tried to flee a traffic stop in Gwinnett County, police said. The man, who was not publicly identified, had outstanding warrants out of Hall County and was believed to be a suspect in a Gwinnett robbery, police spokeswoman Michele Pihera confirmed. He died at the scene of the officer-involved shooting that came to an end on Jimmy Carter Boulevard near the intersection of Peachtree Industrial Boulevard. No officers were injured. The incident began shortly before 6:30 p.m. when an officer tried to pull over the driver of a red SUV in the parking lot of a Waffle House on Jimmy Carter Boulevard. Pihera said the driver was tied to the Gwinnett robbery, but no other details were provided on the theft. The driver initially pulled over, but officials said he then drove off while shooting at the officer. At least one bullet struck the window of the Waffle House. A nearby detective in an unmarked red police car observed the incident and activated his lights as the suspect's vehicle approached him, Pihera stated. The suspect is accused of firing at the unmarked vehicle and authorities said a bullet became lodged in the driver's seat where the officer was sitting. An officer in a marked patrol SUV then initiated a pursuit and followed the suspect until he lost control while turning, Pihera said. Because the man was speeding during the turn, his vehicle began to spin on two wheels, authorities explained. "The suspect immediately began firing at the officer through his windshield and passenger side window just prior to the officer's patrol SUV colliding with the suspect's vehicle. The officer immediately exited his patrol SUV and returned fire, striking the suspect at least once," Pihera confirmed. Officers provided the man

[6/7/2024] A woman is in serious condition after a Montgomery man was accused of shooting into an apartment, hitting her. According to court records obtained by Action 8 News, 19-year-old Keith Martin is charged with firing a gun into an apartment in the 1400 block of Stonehenge Road. That is just off Woodmere Boulevard. The shooting happened in the afternoon of April 19. Police say the bullet he fired traveled inside the apartment and hit a woman in the stomach as she was in bed. She was taken to Baptist Medical Center South in serious condition. Martin is charged with shooting into an occupied building and first-degree assault.

Durham police are investigating a homicide after a man shot at a Miami Boulevard strip mall Friday morning died at the hospital. Officers responded around 10 a.m. to a reported gunshot wound in the 1000 block of Miami Boulevard in the eastern part of the city, according to a news release. Emergency Medical Service personnel took the man who had been shot to a hospital, where he died. Police have not released the man's name or announced any arrests or possible suspect information. WRAL reported the shooting occurred at the same shopping center where five people were injured in a drive-by shooting on New Year's Day 2023. Friday's fatal shooting also follows a reported shoot-out at the American Tobacco Campus on Thursday. No arrests have been announced in that case.

A man was killed, and another is in critical condition after a Friday evening shooting in southwest Atlanta, police said. Officers responded to the 2800 block of Greenbriar Parkway near Greenbriar Mall around 8:30 p.m. At the scene, authorities said they found a 31-year-old man fatally shot. Another man, who had been shot multiple times, was also located at the scene, officials stated. He was taken to a hospital in critical condition. Neither victim was publicly identified, but police told Channel 2 Action News that they were brothers. The shooting allegedly stemmed from a verbal fight between the brothers and another group, Channel 2 reported. No other details were released on the incident or the suspected shooter.

A Statesboro Police officer remains in the hospital nearly a week after he was shot in the line of duty at an off-campus apartment complex roughly a mile away from Georgia Southern University, police said on social media. Officers were dispatched to Copper Beech Townhomes around 10 p.m. on April 16 for a report of a man breaking into cars in the parking lot. Officers arrived and walked into the complex to try and detain the suspect. Advanced Patrol Officer Joey DeLoach, a seven-year veteran with the department, spotted a description of the suspect inside a parked car, police said. DeLoach ordered the man to get out of the vehicle, and when the man got out, he started shooting at DeLoach. DeLoach was hit by gunfire but was able to call for backup from other officers in the complex. Officers rendered first aid to DeLoach and rushed him to East Georgia Medical Center. The 19-year-old suspect ran away from the scene but was later tracked down by police and Bulloch County Sheriff's Office deputies in a wooded area near Brampton Avenue. He appeared to also have a gunshot wound from the incident with DeLoach, police said. The teen was arrested and charged with aggravated assault upon a public safety officer. He is being held at the Bulloch County Jail, police said. DeLoach was life-flighted to Memorial University Medical Center in Savannah, where he underwent surgery for his injuries. DeLoach is still resting at Memorial University Medical Center with family by his side, police said.

According to a police report from Columbus, Georgia, officers responded to Macon Road on Saturday concerning "shots fired." There, officers found two vehicles with bullet holes and two people suffering from gunshot wounds. Both victims were transported to the hospital. It was there that Bryant succumbed to his injuries and was pronounced dead. The other victim, Clarence Flavors, was rushed into surgery, according to the report. Bryant's family posted photos of him heading to prom earlier that day. School officials said there would be on-campus resources for students and noted that a second student, unnamed, was injured in the same incident. 11Alive is working to confirm whether that second student was Flavors. The district's statement concluded, "Our heartfelt condolences go out to the Bryant family, and we wish them peace during this difficult time." 11Alive is working to gather details on just what exactly happened with Bryant. The district noted that the Columbus Police Department is handling the investigation into Bryant's death. They noted any questions about the incident should be directed to the Violent Crimes Unit of the Columbus Police Department at 706-225-3161. This marks the second student at Manchester High School to have died in the last four months. Last December, Brandon Smith, 17, a player on Manchester High's football team, was found shot and killed on the eve of his high school's state title championship game.

One man was killed and another was charged with murder following a shooting over the weekend, South Carolina officials said. Josheul Allen, a 30-year-old Smoaks resident, was identified as the shooting victim, Berkeley County Coroner Darnell Hartwell said. At about 9 p.m. Saturday, the Berkeley County Sheriff's Office said deputies responded to a shooting at a home in the 100 block of Newell Drive in the Goose Creek area. That's about 20 miles north of Charleston. Deputies found a man at the home, later identified as Allen, who had been shot multiple times, according to the sheriff's department. Efforts to provide medical aid were unsuccessful, and Allen died at the scene, the sheriff's office said. No other injuries were reported. Nicholas Jermaine Thorn, 44, was arrested and charged with murder, according to the sheriff's office. Information about how deputies connected Thorn to the shooting was not available. There was no word on a motive for the shooting, or if there was a previous connection between Allen and Thorn. No bond was set for Thorn, who remains behind bars in the Berkeley County Detention Center, jail records show.

A South Carolina man was killed over the weekend in a shooting that left two other people injured, according to the Newberry County Coroner's Office. Troy Leonard Sims, a 53-year-old Newberry resident, died at the scene of the Saturday night shooting, Coroner Laura Kneece said in a news release. At about 9:30 p.m., Newberry Police Department officers responded to a shooting that happened on Emory Street, near the intersection with Hunt Street, according to the release. That's in Newberry, about a mile from the Newberry College campus. At the scene, officers found three victims who had been shot, Kneece said. In addition to Sims, one of the victims was taken to Prisma Health Richland hospital in Columbia and another was treated at the scene after suffering non-life-threatening injuries. Kneece called Sims' death a homicide, and said it is being investigated by police, the coroner's office and the South Carolina Law Enforcement Division. There was no word about a shooter or shooters, or anyone else involved in the gunfire. No arrests have been reported by police, who are asking for the public's help with information about the shooting.

Four people were shot, including one who was critically injured, in Atlanta in separate and apparently unrelated incidents during a 3 ½-hour period that began late Saturday night. Two people were taken into custody in connection with separate shootings, one of whom was injured when security guards returned fire and he was hit, Atlanta police said. Officers were first called to a parking lot in the South Downtown neighborhood at 248 Trinity Avenue for a person shot just after 10:30 p.m., police said. At the scene, officers found a 47-year-old man suffering from a gunshot wound. He was taken to the hospital and was considered stable. Investigators believe the man was shot in the course of being robbed by multiple suspects, according to police. Two more shootings were reported at 11:45 p.m. Officers were called to a house on Sims Street SW in Atlanta's Pittsburgh neighborhood where they found a 20-year-old woman suffering from a gunshot wound, police said. The woman was taken to the hospital and considered stable, but no other details were released. Officers simultaneously responded to another home in southeast Atlanta's South River Gardens neighborhood. At the scene, they found a critically injured 34-year-old man. The man was taken to the hospital and a suspect was taken into custody. According to police, the suspect and victim knew each other and the shooting was the result of an argument. No other details were released, and police did not provide an update on the victim's condition. The final shooting was reported just across the street from the first incident of the night. Officers were called to the Monaco Hookah Lounge at 255 Trinity Avenue just before 2 a.m. for a person shot. They found a man at the scene suffering from a gunshot wound who investigators determined to be the instigator, according to police. Police

A traffic stop Saturday in Madison County led to an investigation of a Madison County Schools employee who was then charged with sex crimes against a 15-year-old student who was in the car with her. Deputies conducted a traffic stop of Makayla Ann Anderton, 26, on Highway 72 and Shields Road, on Saturday at about 11:45 p.m., the Madison County Sheriff's Office said. The minor, a student in Madison County schools, was a passenger in the vehicle. The Sheriff's Office said Anderton was charged with numerous sex crimes against the juvenile that took place over the past two months. Anderton began engaging the victim in conversations that became sexual in nature, the sheriff's office said. The victim and suspect then exchanged numerous photographs, videos and explicit text messages, the sheriff's office said. Anderton also met the victim several times and engaged in various sex acts, the sheriff's office said. On April 20, Major Crimes detectives for the sheriff's office arrested Anderton and booked her into the Madison County Jail Facility. Anderton was charged with the following charges: School employee distributing obscene material to a student, rape, 2nd degree statutory; sodomy, second degree; and school employee engaged in a sex act or deviant sexual intercourse with a student under the age of 19.

Atlanta Police responded to gunfire at a bar in the Sylvan Hills neighborhood early Monday morning where thankfully no one was injured. APD said patrons at the establishment on Metropolitan Parkway, Lacua Bar & Bistro, were upset when they were told to leave and fired shots at the building once they were outside. While no one was hurt, police did report damage to at least one car. APD said they're looking for a newer model silver Ford sedan in connection to the incident.

A man was found fatally shot in the yard of a west Birmingham home early Sunday morning, according to police. At about 2:15 a.m., West Precinct officers were dispatched in the Pratt community on a report of shots fired. A man was found unresponsive in the yard, suffering from an apparent gunshot wound. Birmingham firefighters pronounced him dead on the scene. No one is in custody and few details, including the victim's identity, were immediately available. "We believe a community member heard shots being fired in the 10 block of Holt Avenue and dialed 911," said Officer Truman Fitzgerald.

South Carolina police are investigating a shooting involving York County deputies near Rock Hill on Sunday morning. The shooting happened after deputies went to Ellis Pond Drive for a domestic violence incident, according to social media postings from the York County Sheriff's Office. No deputies were hurt, the sheriff's office said. Deputies alerted the public through social media to police presence in the residential area after 3:30 a.m. Law enforcement remained through the morning. Efforts to reach a sheriff's office spokesman Sunday morning were unsuccessful. The South Carolina State Law Enforcement Division is investigating, spokesperson Renee Wunderlich confirmed to The Herald on Sunday morning. The sheriff's office called SLED to conduct an external investigation because of the officer involved shooting, Wunderlich said. The area is close to the eastern city limits of Rock Hill. Lt. Michael Chavis, spokesman for the Rock Hill Police Department, said he has not been advised that Rock Hill police were involved.

A 10-year-old girl was stabbed at a troubled southeast Atlanta apartment complex Sunday evening, according to authorities. Police were called about a stabbing around 7 p.m. to the Fairway Gardens apartments on Cleveland Avenue in the Rosedale Heights neighborhood. When they arrived, they found the child with a stab wound. She was described as alert. It was not clear if she required hospitalization. Officials said a woman was detained, but they did not describe her relationship to the child or say if she had been charged. Fairway Gardens is among 272 of the metro area's persistently dangerous complexes, according to an investigation by The Atlanta Journal-Constitution that looked into serious crimes, lax maintenance and other hazards in Atlanta neighborhoods. From 2017 through July 2023, police reported 122 crimes at the complex, including 27 aggravated assaults, two robberies, a rape and a child molestation.

Rapper and songwriter T-Pain, whose real name is Faheem Najm, was the victim of an early morning hit-and-run crash at a Roswell intersection on Monday, according to police. "I know people are struggling, things are hard, and times are rough these days," Najm said in an Instagram video. "But whoever just hit me, my wife, my road manager and my driver and drove off ... life's about to get so much worse for you." Around 1 a.m., Roswell Police officers responded to a vehicle crash with injuries at Highway 92 and King Road. According to the Roswell Police Department, the driver reported back injuries and difficulties breathing. Fortunately, aside from the driver's injuries, no other injuries were reported from this crash. The early morning scene showed EMS treating T-Pain's driver, with doors to their 2023 Chevy Suburban thrown open in addition to the grill from the suspect's car lying in the street. However, the suspect did not make a clean getaway. Police were able to locate the suspect vehicle shortly after the crash with the use of FLOCK cameras. According to a police report obtained by 11Alive, "the vehicle had heavy damage to the front and had airbag deployment. The odor of alcohol was coming from within the vehicle. There was two full bottles of corona extra in the passenger side floor board along with an empty bottle of corona extra. There was 9 additional full bottles of corona extra found within the middle console." Investigating officers found multiple receipts in the car, which led them to a Woodstock home on Arnold Mill Road. Roswell Police officers then reached out for assistance from Cherokee County deputies to check the residence. Deputies located the suspect, who admitted to having multiple beers that night, with the keys to the suspect vehicle in his pocket. "Officer [redacted] with (the suspect) [redacted] that he

[5/2/2024] The Atmore Police Department has provided an update on the investigation of a stabbing at a local Tractor Supply that injured two people. According to a news release, the lead investigator and Escambia County district attorney reviewed the evidence, discussed video and statements made, and determined the man stabbed and found in the Tractor Supply will be charged with first-degree assault once he can walk. Atmore police officers responded to a reported stabbing on April 23 around 12:20 p.m. at the Tractor Supply on 161 Lindberg Ave. Officers reportedly found a male bleeding out inside the Tractor Supply entry doors, and another male was seriously injured in the parking lot. Officers and employees provided first aid to both of the males stabbed to slow the blood loss, according to reports. The two injured were then taken by ambulance to Atmore Community Hospital and then flown to separate trauma centers. Police saw two males in the parking lot with a lot of blood on their clothing but not injured. Officers detained them and questioned them before releasing them. Investigators did not speak with the two people stabbed because of their medical conditions, News 5 has learned. The male found injured in the store parking lot suffered a punctured lung, bruising across his eyes and cheeks and is paralyzed below the waist. He's had several surgeries. The man found injured inside the store has also had several surgeries, police said. He will be charged with first-degree assault once ambulatory. The police department will not release his identity at this time.

Sandy Springs police released video footage Monday of a dramatic arrest at a popular hiking destination after a kidnapping suspect and victim were located by license plate readers. The rescue took place Wednesday afternoon after officers were alerted of a suspected kidnapping in another jurisdiction when the car involved was detected by license plate-reading devices in Sandy Springs, police said. The devices pointed officers to the parking lot for the East Palisades Trail, part of the Chattahoochee River National Recreation Area. The protected area along the Chattahoochee is located inside I-285, just west of the junction with I-75. Video footage from the arresting officer's dashboard camera shows the patrol car speeding into rough dirt parking lot by the East Palisades trailhead and blocking in a dark hatchback. Additional footage from the officer's body-worn camera shows him putting the suspect, a man wearing a red button-up shirt, in handcuffs on the ground. The man can be heard calmly asking, "I just want to know what's going on, please?" The officer instead asks an unseen woman in the car if she's OK. The woman can be heard responding "no" in a trembling voice. The woman continues to speak inaudibly and the officer responds, "You're going to be fine. You'll be just fine."

An investigation is underway after stabbing in Birmingham. The incident happened about 2:30 p.m. Wednesday in the 600 block of Brussels Circle. A 66-year-old woman is under arrest after authorities say she tried to run over pedestrians, crashed into a house and then kicked a nurse at a Dothan hospital. Robin Osborne Morse is charged with one count of second-degree assault for the alleged assault on a healthcare worker and two counts of harassment of police officers. The ordeal began at 4:30 p.m. Wednesday when Dothan police were dispatched to the 800 block of Memphis Street after they received reports that a woman with white hair in an SUV was trying to hit people with her vehicle, said police Lt. Scott Owens. After she missed the pedestrians, Owens said, Morse stopped her vehicle and began yelling at the pedestrians. Once past the vehicle, the pedestrians reported the woman accelerated her vehicle towards them a second time. While trying to assault the pedestrians with her vehicle, the suspect crashed into a residence after driving over the curb. One of the pedestrians recorded the encounter using a cell phone, which was shown to officers at the scene. After crashing into the home, the woman left the scene. No pedestrians or residents on Memphis Street were injured. Soon after officers arrived on Memphis Street, Dothan Communications Center received another report of a crash near the intersection of Third Avenue and Pleasant Drive that involved a gray SUV. Officers, recognizing the description of the vehicle, immediately responded to the scene. However, Owens said, the woman left the scene of the crash prior to the officers' arrival. A short time later, another crash was reported at the intersection of Haven Drive and Ross Clark Circle involving, also involving the gray SUV. Officers responded to the scene and found the vehicle with the driver, Morse, at the scene. The vehicle had been disabled from the third crash.

A 34-year-old Sheffield woman has been charged with aggravated child abuse after police say she tried to drown her son. Ashley Elizabeth Jones was released from the Colbert County Jail on $50,000 bond, according to records. The arrest came after a 10-year-old boy told his father that his mother had been physically abusing him for the last week. The couple share joint custody. According to court records, the boy told an investigator that his mother had bit him, struck him, locked him in a closet and thrown bleach on him. He then said the mother had attempted to drown him in the bathtub. According to the child, he told the mother he would rather live with his father. She then threw bleach on him. When he went to take a bath to clean off the bleach, he said she jumped into the tub with him, grabbed his head, and held it underwater for roughly 45 seconds. To get her to stop, he lay still and “played dead.” She then locked him in a closet for three hours. The boy also showed bruises and cuts he said were given to him by his mother. Jones denied the allegation to investigators, according to court records.

[4/28/2024] A man accused of murdering his grandmother at her home was arrested in North Carolina, the Clayton County Sheriff’s Office said. According to the sheriff’s office, Clayton County Police responded to a welfare check at a home on Clearview Circle in Riverdale on Thursday. When they got there, officers found an elderly woman who was dead, lying on the living room floor with blunt force trauma to her face, neck and body. The police later identified the woman’s grandson, Takeem Moore, as the suspect in the case, according to a release by the sheriff’s office. There were warrants out for his arrest charging him with malice murder, aggravated battery–family violence and aggravated assault–family violence. The sheriff’s office put Moore on its Top Ten Most Wanted List. The search led fugitive investigators across state lines into Bencome County, North Carolina, according to a release. The U.S. Marshal’s Service was contacted along with the Bencome County Sheriff’s Office, and Moore was taken into custody. He’s currently being held at the Bencome County Jail on no bond while he waits to be taken to Clayton County, the sheriff’s office said.

An investigation is underway after a man was shot and critically injured in Dothan. The shooting happened shortly before 8 p.m. Thursday at an apartment complex in the 2200 block Westgate Parkway. Lt. Scott Owens said police arrived to find the victim suffering from a gunshot wound to the upper body. They applied a “chest seal” to the victim to stabilize his injuries until paramedics arrived. The victim was taken to the hospital and is in stable condition, Owens said Friday. Dothan police and forensic investigators processed the scene. Owens said the victim was unable to give many details of the crime. The search for a suspect continues.

An overnight attempted traffic stop in Tuscaloosa County ended in Greene County with the driver fatally shot by law enforcement officers, according to officials. The ordeal began about 11:15 p.m. Thursday when Northport police conducted a traffic stop in the 4000 block of McFarland Boulevard, near Highway 43 and Main Avenue, said Tuscaloosa Violent Crimes Unit Capt. Jack Kennedy. Shots were reportedly fired, and the vehicle fled the scene. A chase ensued, which eventually involved multiple law enforcement agencies. The pursuit crossed into Greene County, where the suspect crashed on Interstate 20/59. Kennedy said officers and deputies from several jurisdictions, including the Northport Police Department, the Tuscaloosa County Sheriff’s Office, ALEA, and from within Greene County, approached the vehicle and reported that the suspect was armed with a firearm. Shots were fired from several officers and the suspect was hit. He was taken to a hospital and pronounced dead. The Violent Crimes Unit is investigating the initial officer-involved shooting that happened in Northport. Kennedy said no investigators affiliated with the Northport Police Department will be involved with that investigation. “This investigation is just beginning,” he said, “and it will be some time before any other statements or information will be released.” The investigation into the officer involved shooting that occurred in Greene County is being investigated by the State Bureau of Investigation.

A north Alabama man was charged Friday with sexually abusing a boy and girl who were both under 12 years old over a nearly two-year period, according to court records. Homer Keith Hovis, 33, of Toney in Madison County, was charged with rape, two counts of sexual abuse of a child under 12 and two counts of first-degree sodomy, according to Limestone County court records. Four of the five counts stemmed from alleged abuse of the girl under 12 years old. One of the sexual abuse counts allegedly involved the boy, who was under 12 years old at the time. The complaints against Hovis alleged the incidents occurred between January 2022 and November 2023. Limestone County Circuit Court Judge B. Chadwick Wise ordered Hovis held without bond until a pretrial hearing scheduled for Monday.

Morgan County authorities arrested three men after an operation focusing on child sex trafficking last Friday. The Morgan County Sheriff's Office Criminal Investigations Division, with its drug enforcement unit, Morgan County District Attorney's Office, U.S. Army Cyber Special Agents and the Limestone County Sheriff's Office participated in the operation, with stems from an ongoing partnership with Covenant Rescue Group. According to the sheriff's office, investigators arrested Drayton Shawn Tolliver, 37, of Decatur; Corey DeWayne Wynn Sr., 49, of Decatur, and Jeremy Scott Peek, 31, of Danville. All three were charged with electronic solicitation of a child, and traveling to meet a child for an unlawful sex act. Bond was set at $250,000. Court documents reveal how two of the men were arrested. The operation was conducted at a Decatur hotel. Peek, according to authorities, arrived after text messages and phone calls, believing he would meet a 15-year-old for sex in exchange for $150. Wynn arrived after text messages and phone calls with $50 in exchange for sex from what he believed was a 15-year-old. More charges could follow, the sheriff's office said.

[10/23/2024] Cary police are investigating what they believe is a targeted home break-in. Police believe the April break-in at a home in Cary's Windermere neighborhood is part of a South American gang targeting wealthier homes. On the afternoon of April 26, a woman went to pick up her daughter from school. She told police that she was gone for about 45 minutes when someone broke into her home, stealing $18,000 in cash and $33,000 in jewelry. She came back to find her home ransacked and police found a crumpled map with a star in the backyard, marking the victim's home. "I had no idea that had happened," resident Kathy Wright said. "When you see on the news regularly about foreign gangs coming in, that's typically in big cities with more population, but you haven't seen that in a community yet." Neighbors told police before the break-in, they saw two men near the home who were wearing reflective vests and appeared to be Hispanic. All of these details are why Cary police believe the suspects are with what they call South American Theft Groups (SATGs). WRAL News asked Wright how she would balance having honest workers come through compared to what happened earlier this year. "Like I said, if someone comes to my house and knocks on my door, if you're ringing [the] doorbell and opened the door and something doesn't feel right to me, I will let my neighbors know," Wright said. Wright said most of her neighbors have some type of home surveillance in the neighborhood. In this case, police say no one's cameras caught what happened.

Two weekend shootings involving juveniles — cause two Selma schools to transition to virtual learning. Selma City School Superintendent Dr. Zickeyous Byrd says — the decision for the schools to go virtual — was made out of an abundance of caution. “Due to multiple shootings over the weekend that included one of our scholars that was severely injured, we decided to transition to virtual learning for Selma High School and our alternative school,” said Byrd. Two teens were shot over the weekend in Selma — on the 1500 block of Marie Foster Street. A 17 year old teen was critically injured in a shooting Friday evening. Then an 18 year old was shot in the foot — on the same block — the very next day. Police believe the shootings stemmed from a fight at school. Chief Kenta Fulford says police are beefing up patrols at the schools — to address any safety concerns. “They will see an increase of walk-throughs and patrols around our schools,” Fulford said. “We just want them to know that the police department is here and we’re going to do everything that we can to make sure everyone is safe.” And we’re definitely thankful for any cooperation that the police department is able to lend to us,” said Byrd. “We believe that the increase in police presence will definitely deter future violence from occurring.” Still, Byrd is requesting that an officer be placed at each school for the remainder of the school year. “To make sure that our scholars are safe. And to make sure of course that our staff is safe as well.” Byrd said the schools will remain on virtual learning until an officer is placed at each school — or the shooting suspects have been arrested.

A shooting at a Mobile strip mall injured five people on Saturday afternoon, authorities said. A city spokesman, Blake Brown, told AL.com that the injuries are not life-threatening. According to multiple local news reports, there was a shootout at a strip mall on Cottage Hill Road and Pleasant Valley Circle. It started with an argument between two customers at a barbershop, according to WKRK News. WKRK reported that the two men who pulled guns were injured, as well as another person in the barbershop. A woman across the street also was struck in the leg by stray gunfire, according to multiple stations. All were reportedly taken to the hospital. Brown confirmed the afternoon shooting but did not provide any further details. "Since there are a lot of moving parts to this, I don't expect any other updates to be released at this time," Brown wrote in an email.

Two men were shot and injured late Saturday night after a "physical dispute" along Martin Luther King Jr. Drive, Atlanta police said. When officers arrived on scene, they found a 26-year-old man with gunshot wounds to his head, chest, and leg. They also found a 33-year-old man who was shot in the groin. Neither of the men were conscious, according to police, but were breathing and transported to the hospital. Officers believe the physical dispute with several other males led to the gunfire. The investigation is still ongoing.

A Gwinnett County teen is critically injured after a shooting at an apartment complex in Gainesville on Saturday afternoon, police said. According to the Gainesville Police Department, officers responded to a shooting at Ridgecrest Apartments. Police said that a 16-year-old from Gwinnett County allegedly traveled to the area for what investigators have described as criminal activity. During this, police said that the teenager was shot in the head by an unknown suspect or suspects. The 16-year-old was taken to the hospital, where he is in critical condition, police said. It is currently unknown what the alleged criminal activity was or how many people may have been involved. Police are asking that if anyone has any information about this incident, to please come forward.

An investigation is underway after a 54-year-old man died following a weekend assault in eastern Jefferson County. The Jefferson County Coroner's Office identified the victim as Gemar Demetrice Hubbard. He lived in Center Point. Chief Deputy Coroner Bill Yates said Hubbard sustained blunt force injuries during an attack at 9:43 p.m. Saturday. The assault happened in the 1500 block of Charter East Circle. Hubbard was taken to UAB Hospital where he was pronounced dead at 10:16 p.m. Sunday. Yates said Hubbard's death is being investigated as a homicide. The Jefferson County Sheriff's Office is investigating. No additional details have been released. Hubbard is the 65th homicide in all of Jefferson County so far in 2024.

A 16-year-old boy has died after being shot in the head at an apartment complex in Gainesville over the weekend, authorities said Tuesday. Jaishawn Overstreet, from Gwinnett County, had traveled to the Ridgecrest Apartments on Roper Hill Road for "alleged criminal activity" Saturday afternoon when he was shot, according to Gainesville police. The teenager was taken to Northeast Georgia Medical Center in critical condition, but died Monday. "Unfortunately, we are not able to release the details of the alleged criminal activity at this time, as it is pertinent to the ongoing criminal investigation," Gainesville police spokesman Lt. Kevin Holbrook told The Atlanta Journal-Constitution. "However, we did want the public to know this was not a random crime." Witnesses worked with a Gainesville police sketch artist who drew a composite of a person considered a suspect in the case, authorities said. "If you can help ID this person or have any information that may assist in this case, please call 911," police added. No other details were released, including what led to the shooting.

A 33-year-old man was fatally struck in a hit-and-run in Northeast Raleigh early Saturday, police said. Jamel Williams was crossing Louisburg Road near the intersection of Dansey Drive when he was struck by a vehicle, Raleigh police said in a news release Saturday afternoon. Officers responded to a report of "a person down" at approximately 12:55 a.m. and found Williams dead at the scene. Police said they have no information on any suspects or the vehicle involved, and said an investigation is ongoing.

[5/4/2024] Three people have been arrested in connection with a post-prom shooting that killed one person and injured several more, the Orangeburg County Sheriff's Office announced. Deputies were called to a home at 824 Antioch Road in Santee for a report of a shooting on April 27 around 1 a.m., where high school students, some from Lake Marion High School, had gathered for a prom after party. As the party was breaking up, a shooting killed 19-year-old Harrison Rollins and injured several others. One victim was taken to a local hospital, Sheriff Leroy Ravenell said at a press conference on Friday, but others had already left the scene when deputies arrived. The sheriff's office charged 19-year-old Deon Gaddist, 17-year-old Montrell White and a 16-year-old juvenile with murder. The juvenile was not publicly released because they are a minor. The three were also charged with possession of a firearm during the commission of a violent crime and breach of peace, aggravated in nature. "There's a miracle and a blessing that so many others didn't get shot," Ravenell said. "It could have easily been 20 or 30 kids." The sheriff's office is continuing to investigate the shooting. Ravenell said he had "no doubt" that there would be more arrests. "This is time right now for justice and for getting these thugs off the street," Ravenell said. "That's what we intend to do."

A woman was shot and killed inside a home in Troup County early Saturday morning, the sheriff's office said. According to the Troup County Sheriff's Office, deputies went to a home on the 600 block of Teaver Road shortly after 2 a.m. regarding a person who had been shot and was not breathing. When they arrived, they found an adult woman suffering from a gunshot wound. Lifesaving measures were used, and the woman was sent to the hospital, where she later died, the sheriff's office said. The victim has since been identified as 41-year-old Taneshia Bridges. The sheriff's office said that multiple shell casings were found outside the home -- indicating a person or persons shot from the outside -- striking the woman who was inside. In addition, at the time of the shooting, another adult woman and a small child were also inside the home.

Cobb County police are searching for a hit-and-run driver who struck a woman as she crossed Austell Road early Saturday morning. Around 5:30 a.m., the woman, who police have been unable to identify, was crossing the road outside of a crosswalk near the intersection with Hicks Road, not far from Windy Hill Road. At the same time, two vehicles were headed north on Austell Road, Cobb police said. First, a white 2014 Ford Econoline struck the woman with its driver's-side mirror but did not stop. She was then hit again by a Chrysler 200. That driver stopped and notified authorities. He was not injured. The woman died at the scene. She was described as in her late 20s to early 40s.

Another violent weekend in Montgomery, as one man was shot and another man injured during an incident downtown on Saturday. Around 12:30pm Saturday, MPD and Fire Medics were called to the 1400 block of Adams Avenue which is near Ross-Clayton Funeral home. They found a man suffering from a non-life-threatening gunshot wound. A second adult male victim also had non-life-threatening injuries, but police say his injuries were not caused by gunfire. Both men were transported to a local hospital for treatment. MPD has not released any additional information.

A woman was killed and two men injured in a triple shooting Saturday night at a small Gwinnett County food mart, according to Lilburn police. Investigators believe a man shot two employees inside the Tana Food Mart on Lawrenceville Highway before turning the gun on himself at around 6 p.m., Capt. Scott Bennett said. A 57-year-old woman died at the scene and two men were taken to Northside Hospital Gwinnett for treatment of gunshot wounds, Bennett said. The woman's 62-year-old husband was shot in the leg by another 62-year-old man, believed to be the woman's ex-husband, who then shot himself in the head, police said. The names of those involved were not released late Saturday, pending notification of family members. Investigators said the shooting was a domestic violence incident and the public was not at danger. The investigation continued late Saturday. Tana Food Mart, located at 4485 Lawrenceville Highway, is an Ethiopian convenience store, according to the company website.

A Saturday night shooting in a Jefferson County neighborhood left one man dead. Sheriff's deputies were dispatched just before 7 p.m. to a report of a person down in the 400 block of 16th Court N.W. in the Center Point area. They arrived to find a 36-year-old man wounded by gunfire, according to sheriff's officials. Center Point Fire and Rescue responded to the scene and pronounced the victim dead. No additional details surrounding the fatal shooting have been released, and no arrests have been made.

A Montgomery teenager was held at gunpoint Saturday night and robbed of his car. They were heart pounding moments for a family that's relatively new to Montgomery. The Phelps family moved here from Missouri a little over a year ago because of a job with the military. Their oldest son Dock is studying to be an electrician, and they never imagined that he would come face to face with the barrel of a gun when he left to run an errand just before 9pm Saturday evening on the Eastern Boulevard. What started out as a quick trip to the gas station to grab sodas for his dad and brothers turned into a life-changing moment for 18 year old Dock Phelps. Dock Phelps says, "I walked in got my stuff and then I saw him out of the corner of my eye so I hesitated a little bit." As Dock walked out of the convenience store, a man with a blue bag over his head started yelling at the teenager. Dock says he was just trying to stay calm so the robber would not shoot him. "(I was thinking) just give him the keys and slowly walk away and try not to provoke anything, because some people are just trigger happy out there," Dock said. According to the Montgomery County Sheriff's Office and the Montgomery Police Department, the man who stole Dock's 2004 Buick LeSabre crashed it less than an hour later around Highway 80 and Cantelou Road, then robbed a man of his 2016 Chevrolet Colorado truck at gunpoint. The second victim's truck was found Sunday morning in Wilcox County. Update: The Montgomery County Sheriff's Office charged a black male juvenile with Robbery 1st in reference to this case; he is currently being held in Wilcox County Jail.

A 61-year-old man was fatally shot in a northwest Atlanta neighborhood late Saturday night, according to police. Atlanta officers got a call about a shooting in the 2100 block of Ajax Drive in the Carver Hills neighborhood shortly after 10:30 p.m. When they arrived, they found the victim with a gunshot wound. He was declared dead at the scene. The man was not publicly identified. Police did not release any other details, including what led to the shooting and if there are any suspects.

Prichard and Mobile County authorities are investigating three homicides in the last 24 hours. WKRG is reporting that one man was killed in the 200 block of Telegraph Road a little before 10 p.m. Saturday. This morning at about 11:30, one man was killed in the 1000 block of West Main Street. The station also reported that Prichard mayor Jimmie Gardner confirmed a third homicide Sunday on Main Street.

A four-year-old child was shot to death Sunday morning in Huntsville. Madison County Coroner Tyler Berryhill said the child was pronounced dead shortly after 8 a.m. Sunday at Huntsville Hospital after suffering a gunshot wound at a residence. Berryhill referred any further questions to Huntsville police. A police spokesman said the shooting appears to be accidental, and charges could be filed. An autopsy has been ordered and will be performed this week. "At this time, the investigation is ongoing into the circumstances surrounding this incident and how these events transpired," Berryhill said in a statement.

Huntsville police were on the scene of a shooting Sunday of a shooting where one person was wounded. Huntsville police said officers responded to Huntsville Place Apartments, on Century Street Northwest, to investigate a shots fired call. One victim was transported to the hospital with non-life threatening injuries. The victim was transported to the hospital in a friend's vehicle.

A Dothan man is under arrest after authorities say he torched a truck parked inside the garage of his ex-girlfriend's home. Keith Jamer Cleveland, 61, is charged with two counts of attempted murder. Dothan police and firefighters responded early Sunday to a home in the 100 block of Rosewood Drive. Initial reports were that a vehicle and a residence were fully engulfed by fire, said police Lt. Scott Owens. A woman and man inside the home were able to escape unharmed. Owens said Cleveland slashed the tires on the truck that was in the garage and then used an accelerant to start the fire. The blaze spread to the home. Investigators learned that Cleveland had threatened one of the victims with violence prior to the fire starting. Cleveland is in the Houston County Jail on bonds totaling $120,000.

FITZGERALD, Georgia — A quadruple shooting at a south Georgia after-prom party left a 15-year-old high school cheerleader dead and three others injured over the weekend, according to the Georgia Bureau of Investigation. Chyell Paulk, 15, and three others were found shot at the party on East Pine Street early Sunday morning, a GBI news release stated. Paulk and the other people injured were taken to the hospital, where the GBI said Paulk later died. The conditions of the three injured are currently unknown. NBC affiliate WALB obtained a statement from the high school Paulk attended. Irwin County High School Principal Jared Luke said Paulk had a "loving spirit and always had a smile on her face." A news release from the GBI stated that a 17-year-old was arrested and charged with felony murder, three counts of aggravated assault and gun possession. After the shooting, the Fitzgerald Police Department asked the GBI to help with the investigation. Although the GBI has made an arrest, they are still investigating the incident.

A 5-year-old child was struck by a stray bullet after two men engaged in a shootout Sunday in Semmes, with police now searching for the two suspects. Semmes police said Tuesday officers were called to a trailer park on Denmark Road on a report of two subjects exchanging gunshots. When police arrived, the shooters had left the scene, but within moments a second call was received saying a young child had been hit by a bullet inside a nearby trailer. Officers found the child, a 5-year-old boy, who had been hit by a bullet fragment after a bullet entered the trailer. The fragment caused injuries to the left side of the child's face and eye area, police said, although they described the injuries as non-life-threatening. He was transported to University Hospital for treatment and later transferred to the University of Alabama-Birmingham Medical Center for what was termed a secondary evaluation of his injuries. Investigators, meanwhile, determined two vehicles had been struck by gunfire, as well as the trailer. Evidence led them to another trailer, where a search warrant was executed and additional evidence gathered. By Tuesday, police had identified the two suspects as 21-year-old Antony Josue Mena Moron and 27-year-old Jesus Manuel Venegas Rodriguez. Moron is believed to drive a white 2016 Chrysler 200 with an Alabama tag. Rodriguez is driving a black Kia sedan. Both suspects are considered armed and dangerous.

Authorities are asking for the public's help identifying two women who robbed three men at gunpoint in Birmingham. The robbery happened Sunday, April 28, in the 1900 block of Finley Boulevard, said Officer Truman Fitzgerald. The suspects stole undisclosed valuables from the victims. No one was injured.

[5/3/2024] Birmingham police on Friday asked the public's help in identifying a suspect they say helped assault and rob a man at gunpoint over the weekend. The victim was injured in the gunpoint robbery perpetrated by three suspects Sunday in the 1100 Block of 3rd Avenue West. Valuables were also stolen from the victim. Police released photos of the suspects' vehicle along with two images of one of the suspects.

Shots that were fired near Atlanta Highway in Montgomery have caused damage to cars and businesses. Montgomery Police Dept. Maj. Saba Coleman told Action 8 News that officers were called to the 3500 block of Eastdale Circle at about 1:44AM Sunday. That is where Planet Fitness, the Velvet Room and other businesses are located. Coleman says five people reported damage to their vehicles and at least five businesses received damage. She says no injuries were reported. The investigation into what brought the gunfire is continuing.

One person was shot early Sunday morning at Rodney Cook Sr. Park on Joseph E. Boone Boulevard, Atlanta police said. When police arrived close to 2 a.m., they found a 22-year-old man with gunshot wounds to the left arm and abdomen. He was not alert, police said, but was conscious and transported to a hospital. Police believe the suspect fled the scene immediately after the shooting. This investigation is ongoing.

Police have identified a young man fatally shot near downtown Durham on Sunday as 19-year-old Ashir Harrington. Officers responded to “a report of a gunshot wound” in the parking lot at West Morgan and Watts streets just after 2 a.m., and found a man suffering from a gunshot wound, the Durham Police Department said in a news release. Harrington was taken to a hospital, where he was pronounced dead. Police released no other information.

[5/16/2024] Despite explicit warnings from Atlanta police, partiers in Buckhead continue to fall victim to costly schemes and robberies. In one of the latest cases, a man accepted a ride from a woman he met at Johnny’s Hideaway and was robbed of his $40,000 Audemars Piguet watch after being dropped off at the Ritz-Carlton Residences, police said. The victim, a man with a Florida address, “appeared to be very intoxicated” when officers responded to the robbery call April 28 around 2:30 a.m., according to the incident report. The man told police he’d gone to Johnny’s Hideaway on Roswell Road around 1 a.m., where he met a woman who eventually offered him a ride home, the report said. The man got into the woman’s car, a dark-colored Tesla, which was already occupied by another man, the report said. When they arrived at the condominium building at 3630 Peachtree Road, all three of them exited the car and the unknown man and woman demanded the victim’s watch, according to police. When the victim refused, the suspects assaulted him and took the watch by force, then drove away, police said. Officers confirmed his account by getting security video stills from the building’s surveillance system. Based on partial information about the suspects’ car, police used traffic cameras to try to track it down. They determined three possible tag numbers, all of which were registered to Hertz Car Rental. The case echoes many others in Buckhead in recent years, according to a raft of police reports obtained by The Atlanta Journal-Constitution earlier this year. In most instances, a drunken victim is taken advantage of by suspects who offer them a ride home or who pose as rideshare drivers. The AJC reviewed at least 10 similar cases originating at Johnny’s Hideaway and many others mentioning nearby Buckhead

A man is dead and there's a search for his killer following a shooting outside of a South Carolina bar, according to the Lexington County Sheriff's Department. Rodney McKensey James Jr., a 23-year-old Wagener resident, died early Sunday morning, Lexington County Coroner Margaret Fisher said. James was shot multiple times outside of Amici Tavern, which is in the 1000 block of Savannah Highway. That's in the Swansea area of Lexington County. At about 3:20 a.m. Sunday, deputies responded to a report of a shooting at the bar. Witnesses told investigators that James was one of two men who were arguing in the bar before going outside. "Based on what we've gathered, one man shot another man in the parking lot," Sheriff Jay Koon said in a news release. "The shooter drove away in an unknown car while the victim was driven by friends down the road a short distance where they met EMS." James was then taken to an area hospital where he was pronounced dead due to multiple gunshot wounds, according to Fisher. No arrests have been reported by the sheriff's department, which is continuing to investigate the death along with the coroner's office.

A Millbrook woman says her home was shot into at least 11 times on Sunday. Vallory Franklin says she wasn't home at the time, but her son and nine-year-old grandson were inside at the time. She says it happened at about 4:45AM Sunday. Franklin showed Action 8 News her cellphone video of Millbrook police investigators on the scene counting the shell casings. She also pointed out bullet holes outside and inside of her home. No one was hurt, but she says things could've been much worse. Franklin says she's asking for help from the police department about guns being fired into their homes. Franklin said she believe it's a retaliatory act connected to a homicide that happened two years ago. Millbrook Police Chief P.K. Johnson says that officers found two homes had been hit. He says so far, investigators haven't found any suspects. The scene was turned over to detectives with the department's Criminal Investigations Unit, who processed the scene and collected physical evidence. "This case is being given the upmost priority," Johnson said. "This is a case of senseless gun violence, most probably resulting from 'perceived retaliation' from a previous incident that occurred in the past. While we are extremely fortunate that no one was injured, as a result of this senseless act, absolutely nothing justifies this. At that time of morning, most people are asleep in their beds. Those bullets could have gone anywhere in either residence, both of which were occupied, one having a 9-year-old child present." Johnson says patrols will be stepped up in that area. He says should a suspect be identified they will face, at the very least, two counts of firing a gun into an occupied dwelling. Johnson says in speaking with detectives, he understands that there may be a witness or witnesses that

A Sunday afternoon argument in Ensley left one man dead. Birmingham police Sunday night identified the victim as Terry Dewayne Hinson. He was 50. Shots rang out about 3:30 p.m. on Avenue I in a neighborhood just off 18th Street in Ensley, Police said Hinson was hanging out with several people when a dispute broke out. An unidentified suspect fired at least nine shots and fled. Hinson collapsed on Avenue I, in front of a house and some vehicles. A citizen was rendering aid to him when police arrived, but Hinson was pronounced dead on the scene. Authorities said it's possible the dispute stemmed from a dice game. Hinson is Birmingham's 44th homicide this year. Of those, four have been ruled justifiable and therefore aren't deemed criminal. In all of Jefferson County, there have been 64 homicides, including the 44 in Birmingham.

A Fairhope man unsuccessfully tried to rob a Gulf Shores Arby and two of its customers with a BB gun Sunday, according to Gulf Shores police. Officers responded to the restaurant on Gulf Shores Parkway just after 3:30 p.m. Sunday. Witnesses told police a man had entered the restaurant, pointed a pistol at an employee, demanding cash and money. The clerk, however, ran to the rear of the store to tell her manager what was happening. Failing to rob the business, the suspect fled the store, but once outside he attempted to rob two Arby's customers. They, too, refused to comply with his demands and the suspect ultimately fled the scene on foot and empty-handed. Minutes later, the suspect -- identified as 23-year-old Preston Hope Northan -- was taken into custody. He has been charged with two counts of 1st-degree robbery. Northan discarded the weapon he brandished at the restaurant, but it was located during a search of the area by a K9 unit. The weapon was BB gun which resembles a semi-automatic handgun, police said. According to court records, Northan was charged in 2021 with robbery, burglary, assault and reckless endangerment in Baldwin County. He ultimately entered a guilty plea to the burglary charge in a plea deal with prosecutors. Northan was sentenced to 20 years in state prison, with 15 years suspended. Information on when he was released from prison wasn't immediately available.

The Richland County Sheriff's Department said it has launched an investigation after some deputies shot a juvenile who was armed with a handgun, and two other minors were bitten by police dogs. The shooting happened Sunday. At about 5 p.m., deputies saw a vehicle that was reported stolen in Lexington. The deputies tried pulling over the vehicle near Penn Ridge Court, but the driver refused to obey the traffic stop and initiated a short chase. The vehicle stopped when it crashed into a traffic sign near Oak Manor Drive in the Carriage Oaks subdivision, and the three juveniles ran from it, according to the release. That's in Columbia, about a mile from where the pursuit began, in the area near Summit Parkway and Clemson Road. The driver was captured by K9 Jax and one passenger was captured by K9 Nevada. The third minor jumped over a fence and when told to stop pulled out a handgun and was shot multiple times, the sheriff's department said. All three juveniles were taken to the hospital with injuries — two for dog bites and one for gunshot wounds. A pistol was recovered at the scene, and all three will face multiple charges, the sheriff's department said. The sheriff's department said more information will be made available when a news conference is held by Sheriff Leon Lott at noon Monday.

A body was found lying in a roadway Sunday and a search is underway for the man's killer, the Sumter Police Department said. The Sumter County Coroner's Office identified 25-year-old Sumter resident Tijah Mauron Clarkson as the man who died following a shooting, police said in a news release. At about 5 p.m., officers responded to calls about a shooting on Carver Street, according to the release. That's near the intersection with South Guignard Drive, not far from Sumter's downtown area. At the scene, officers found Clarkson lying in the road, and he died at the scene, police said. Clarkson's residence was less than a mile from where his body was discovered, according to police. An autopsy has been scheduled, according to the release. No other injuries were reported. There was no word about a shooter or shooters, or anyone else involved in the gunfire. Information about a motive for the shooting was not available. No arrests have been reported by police, who are asking for the public's help with information about the shooting.

A man was arrested Monday, less than 24 hours after a fatal shooting in a Cobb County neighborhood, authorities said Tuesday. Bobby Pegues, 40, is facing charges of murder and aggravated assault in connection with the death of 48-year-old Travis Johnson at a home near Austell Road on Sunday night, according to Cobb police. Officers responded just after 7:30 p.m. to the shooting in the 400 block of Lorene Drive, where Johnson, of Marietta, was found suffering from several gunshot wounds. He was taken to Wellstar Kennestone Hospital, where he died, police said. County jail records show Pegues, of Smyrna, was arrested just after 3:30 p.m. Monday. He is also facing a charge of possession or transfer of a firearm by a convicted felon or felony first offender and is being held without bond. An investigation is ongoing. Pegues was previously arrested in DeKalb and Fulton counties on charges that included criminal attempt, aggravated assault and gun possession, according to online records. He didn't appear to have any open cases or incidents over the past decade.

A teenager was shot at a residence in southeast Atlanta on Sunday evening, police said. According to the Atlanta Police Department, officers responded to a location on Oak Knoll Terrace SE in reference to a person shot after 9 p.m. When they arrived, they found a 16-year-old who had an apparent gunshot wound to the head. Police said he was not alert but was breathing and was taken to the hospital for treatment. It is currently unknown what led up to this shooting. It is an active investigation, police said.

Four law enforcement officers were killed and four others were injured Monday when members of a U.S. Marshals Service task force tried to serve a warrant in the Shannon Park area of east Charlotte. At least one shooting suspect died in the front yard after CMPD cleared the scene, the department said, and two other occupants of the home were being questioned. The U.S. Marshals service and the Charlotte-Mecklenburg Police Department said the U.S. Marshals Fugitive Task Force, made up of multiple agencies, was attempting to serve a warrant in the area when it engaged in gunfire with a subject. Three on the task force and one CMPD officer who responded to the situation were killed. Four others, including three CMPD officers, were shot and injured. CMPD Police Chief Johnny Jennings said it was the worst shooting of law enforcement officers in his memory over more than 30 years with the department. Two of the victims were members of the North Carolina Department of Adult Correction while the other victim was a U.S. Marshal. The two victims from the Department of Adult Correction were identified as Sam Poloche and Alden Elliott, 14-year veterans of the department. Poloche leaves behind a wife and two children, and Elliott was married with one child. At 9:30 p.m. on Monday, CMPD announced that Officer Joshua Eyer, who responded to the situation, had succumbed to his injuries and passed away. The U.S. Marshals Service did not immediately identify the victims. The deceased suspect was identified as Terry Clark Hughes, Jr, 39. He was wanted for possession of a firearm by a felon and felony flee to elude, two counts, out of Lincoln County, CMPD said. He died in the front yard of a home on the 5000 block of Galway Drive in east Charlotte after being shot by

A 3-year-old boy is among four people wounded in two linked shootings in Anniston over the past couple of days. The first shooting happened at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the 3300 block of Eulaton Road. Sgt. Jason Hawkins said police were dispatched to the scene on a report of multiple people shot. They arrived to find the child, as well as two adults – a 28-year-old woman and a 23-year-old man – injured. The man was shot in the foot and treated at Northeast Alabama Regional Medical Center. The woman was shot in the inner thigh. She was airlifted to UAB Hospital in Birmingham. The child sustained a gunshot wound to the thigh, and two bullet graze wounds to the abdomen. He also was flown to Birmingham – Children’s of Alabama – for treatment. All three are in stable condition, Hawkins said. Then, about 12:20 a.m. Wednesday, officers responded to a report of gunshot victim at the intersection of Brown Avenue and West 15th Street. A 20-year-old man was found with wounds to the shoulder and chest. He was taken to Grady Hospital in Atlanta. Hawkins said he is expected to recover. Investigators processed both scenes and canvassed the areas for witnesses and video. “We have received very little cooperation from the victims,” Hawkins said. He said the two shootings are believed to be connected to each other and were not random. He did not elaborate. No arrests have been made.

Gunfire erupted in a Bessemer neighborhood Monday, sending two victims to the hospital. The shooting happened at 6:05 p.m. outside of a home in the 500 block of 10th Street North. Det. Justin Burmeister said both men sustained non-life-threatening injuries. Multiple people have been taken into custody for questioning. No arrests have yet been made.

A teenage boy was shot and killed Monday night at a home in Paulding County, authorities said. At about 11:15 p.m., Paulding deputies got a call about an assault with a firearm at a residence off Ruth Way, a residential neighborhood near Ga. 92. When deputies arrived, they provided medical aid to the teen, but he later died from his injuries, according to the sheriff’s office. A motive is unclear, and no information was provided by deputies about possible suspects. “The investigation is in the early stages and Paulding County detectives are currently in the process of developing leads,” the sheriff’s office said.

A South Carolina man has been charged in the death of Megan Bodiford, 25-year-old a mother of three who was found shot in a burned out car. On Friday, the South Carolina Law Enforcement Division charged Jarrett Haskell Davis, 28, with murder, arson, and desecration of human remains. He was also charged with possession of a weapon during a violent crime and unlawful possession of a firearm by a felon, according to warrants released by SLED. Bodiford's body was discovered on Tuesday, April 30, off of of Turn Ray Road near the city of Denmark in Bamberg County. Davis is accused of shooting Bodiford and then setting fire to her car with her inside, according to SLED. Accusations and anger surfaced online after Bodiford's disappearance was reported as being connected to Davis. While he was not initially named as a suspect, media reports and social media posts described Bodiford and Davis as being in a relationship. The Bamberg County Sheriff's Office said Bodiford was last heard from on Thursday, April 25, when she told a friend she was worried her boyfriend was going to kill her, according to WIS-TV. The friend told deputies that Bodiford reached out to her on April 25 around 9:48 p.m., saying if she didn't hear from her within 30 minutes to call law enforcement, according to media reports. The friend did not contact law enforcement until the next day, according to reports. On April 27, the Bamberg County Sheriff's Office issued a missing person advisory for Bodiford. Deputies were dispatched to a residence Ghents Branch Road for a welfare check. Bamberg County deputies tracked a cell phone belonging to Bodiford's to that address. On April 27, Davis was arrested on an outstanding warrant for second degree domestic violence. His address in court records is listed as 1755 Ghents Branch Road, Denmark, WIS-TV Bodiford's 4

The Durham Police Department is investigating two shootings Tuesday night that left a 17-year-old boy and a man dead. All told five people were shot, with two of the remaining three people suffering life-threatening injuries, police said in a news release. The first incident happened just before 10 p.m. in the area of West Umstead and South streets. Officers found the 17-year-old boy and a woman with gunshot wounds, police said. They were taken to a hospital where the teen died. The woman had non-life-threatening injuries. About two hours later police responded to a shooting in the 400 block of West Club Boulevard and found three men with gunshot wounds. One victim was dead, and first responders took the other two to a hospital, both with life-threatening injuries, according to police. Wednesday morning, police identified the man who was killed as 51-year-old Thomas Holloway Jr. of Durham. Police released no other information about the two incidents such as the age of the juvenile or the names of those who were killed. "Both shootings remain under investigation, but at this time it does not appear that the two shootings are related," police said in an email to The News & Observer Wednesday morning.

A domestic dispute inside an east Birmingham home left one person dead and another detained for questioning. Authorities identified the slain man as Andre Derrel Perry. He was 38. Birmingham's East Precinct officers were dispatched shortly after 10 p.m. Tuesday to a reported domestic disturbance in the 1500 block of Cedargate Circle. That is near the Spring Lake area. Sgt. LaQuitta Wade said while officers were en route, they received another call reporting someone had been shot. Police entered the home and found Perry unresponsive on the floor. He was pronounced dead at 10:24 p.m. by Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service. Wade said the couple who lived at the home got into a verbal argument which led to the fatal shots being fired. The wife remained on the scene and was taken into custody for questioning by detectives. She remains held. Once the investigation is complete, Wade said, the case will be presented to the Jefferson County District Attorney's Office to determine if criminal charges are warrant.

A man died Wednesday after he was found lying on a Coosa County road with gunshot wounds, authorities said. Tyrell Benson, 27, of Cottage Grove, died at a local hospital after he was found shot Wednesday on Coosa County Road 93 by sheriff's deputies, according to the Coosa County Sheriff's Office. Dispatchers received a 911 call of shots fired, prompting a sergeant and a deputy with the sheriff's office to respond to County Road 93. That's where Benson was found lying on the road suffering from gunshot wounds.

Huntsville police were at the scene of a standoff Wednesday morning after the bodies of two people were discovered in a home shortly after midnight. According to Deputy Chief Michael Johnson, officers were originally called to a home in the 12000 block of Mt. Charron Drive at around 12:30 a.m. to investigate shots being fired. As officers arrived, they saw a person walking away from the home. "This person feigned compliance momentarily, then ran from officers as they approached him and is now barricaded in a neighboring home from the original call," Johnson said. Once officers entered the home where the call originated, they found the bodies of two people. Police have not yet publicly identified the people or given a cause of death. According to Johnson, surrounding homeowners have chosen to remain in their homes as police attempt to get the man out of the nearby home. Johnson said police have "attempted several tactical methods to get him to come out" and have used phone negotiators. "More tactical decisions are being made at the moment to bring this to as a safe ending as possible," Johnson said.

Five people were fortunately not injured early Wednesday morning when shots were fired into a home in LaGrange, entering at least four rooms police said. The LaGrange Police Department said it happened just before 2:30 a.m. at a home on Thornton Street. Officers were called after the gunfire was reported and the department said an investigation "determined that unknown suspects fired multiple rounds" at the home. "The home was occupied by five people and several bullets entered four different rooms," a LaGrange Police statement said. "There were no reported injuries as a result of the shooting."

A teenager was fatally shot Wednesday evening near a southwest Atlanta home, police said. Officers were called to the 100 block of Judy Lane off Old Hapeville Road shortly after 7 p.m. regarding the shooting. At the scene, officers said they found a 17-year-old man suffering from a gunshot wound. The victim, who was not publicly identified, was pronounced dead at the scene by medical personnel. No other details were released on the shooting or a suspect. The incident location is just east of I-75 and near Cleveland Avenue Elementary School in the Browns Mill Park neighborhood.

An investigation is underway after a shooting in Bessemer sent one man to the hospital. Witnesses report the incident was a shooting that involved law enforcement, but police have not confirmed that report. Bessemer police Det. Justin Burmeister said only that the State Bureau of Investigation has taken over the probe. Burmeister said the shooting took place about 7:40 p.m. Tuesday in the 500 block of Fourth Avenue North. He said it happened while officers were responding to a call of a car break-in. The injured man was taken to the hospital in stable condition. No additional information is being released at this time.

One person was killed Wednesday night in a shooting, and a search is underway for the killer, according to the Richland County Sheriff's Department. At about 9 p.m., deputies responded to a report of a shooting in the 100 block of Cottage Court. That's in the Eastover area, between Bluff Road and Congaree Road. At the scene, deputies found a person who appeared to have been shot in the head, lying outside near a driveway. Deputies and EMS tried to save the victim's life, the sheriff's department said. The sheriff's department said someone in a dark-colored sedan might have been involved in the shooting. No arrests have been reported by the sheriff's department, which is asking for the public's help with information about the shooting.

The Marietta Fire Museum was closed Thursday after someone broke in and vandalized several of its antique items overnight, authorities said. A man entered the museum, located at Marietta Fire Station 51 on Haynes Street, early Thursday morning and spent several hours inside as firefighters were sleeping, Steve Dau, spokesperson for the Marietta Fire Marshal's Office, told The Atlanta Journal-Constitution. The suspect damaged several items, but the most notable damage was to an antique coin-operated children's ride that had been working, Dau said. The six antique vehicles were not damaged. In photos shared with the AJC, the suspect can be seen using a fire extinguisher and spraying a mannequin dressed in firefighter gear. In another photo, he is holding a fire ax. The museum, which opened in the late 1990s, features a collection of historic items like fire vehicles, tools and other gear dating to 1854, the museum's website said. Some of the vehicles displayed include: an 1879 Silsby Steamer, a 1921 American LaFrance Pumper, a 1929 Seagrave Pumper, a 1949 Pirsch Ladder Truck and a 1952 Chevrolet Panel Truck. The suspect was taken into custody by Marietta police after city employees arrived for work and noticed the damage. Officials spent Thursday cleaning and removing the damaged items. The museum, which is free to visit, will be open during its normal hours Friday.

An early-morning shooting in Tuscaloosa left one person dead. The shooting happened shortly before 3 a.m. Thursday at Interstate 359 and 15th Street, said Tuscaloosa Violent Crimes Unit Capt. Marty Sellers. A woman was killed in the shooting. Officers initially responded to a report of a crash at that location. When they arrived, they found a car had crashed into a street sign and found the victim inside the car. Police initially shut down both lanes of 15th Street but as of 7:45 a.m., the eastbound lane had reopened. The westbound lane remains closed between Greensboro Avenue and the Lurleen Wallace Boulevard overpass bridges as investigators continue to process the vehicle connected to the deadly shooting. No additional information has yet been released.

A Montgomery police officer has shot a suspect on Troy Highway. Montgomery Police Maj. Saba Coleman told Action 8 News the shooting happened at about 2:31PM in the 4100 block of Troy Highway, which is near the intersection of Park Towne Way. Coleman said while conducting an investigation, an MPD SWAT member was involved in a shooting. The circumstances leading up to the shooting have not been released. The man who was shot suffered a life-threatening injury, according to Coleman. He was taken to a hospital for treatment. The officer wasn't hurt. Coleman says the case has been turned over to the State Bureau of Investigation.

One man is dead and another in custody after a Thursday afternoon shooting in Mobile, according to police. Police were called at approximately 4:12 p.m. to the 4800 block of Dan Williams Road on a report of a shooting. Officers found, Jerry Frison, 52, in the front yard of a home. Frison was pronounced dead. Police found the suspect, Ervin Payne, 58, at a nearby residence. Payne was arrested and taken to Metro Jail. Additional information was not immediately available. This post will be updated as more information is released.

A juvenile was shot and killed in Brookhaven on Thursday evening, police said, and another juvenile was arrested in connection to the incident. The Brookhaven Police Department said it happened around 5:30 p.m. in the area of the 3500 block of Buford Highway. A statement Friday morning did not provide the ages of either the victim or the other juvenile who was arrested. Police indicated the victim was a male. The department said officers responded to a person shot call and that they "located a juvenile with an apparent gunshot wound." Officers and DeKalb County Fire Rescue personnel who also responded "began life-saving measures but unfortunately the victim succumbed to his injuries." It was unclear if the juvenile arrested in the incident was suspected as the shooter or if there was some other connection to the case that caused the arrest. "BPD investigators responded to the scene and interviewed potential witnesses to determine what occurred," the Brookhaven Police statement said.

A northeast Georgia man ran from Athens–Clarke County officers, then got into a vehicle and fired a gun toward police Friday night, according to investigators. At least one officer returned fire toward 25–year–old Walter McGuire, who then led officers on a pursuit before being arrested. The Colbert man was charged with two counts of aggravated assault on law enforcement officers, attempting to elude and obstruction, in addition to numerous traffic–related offenses, Clarke County jail records show. No injuries were reported due to the gunfire. But McGuire was treated for unknown injuries at a local hospital before being booked into jail, where he was being held without bond Saturday afternoon. The incident began while officers were patrolling Bethel Midtown Village apartments in the 100 block of Hickman Drive, about a half–mile from the University of Georgia campus, according to police. The GBI was asked to conduct the investigation into the shooting, which is typical of those involving law enforcement officers.

North Carolina police arrested a husband and wife more than 100 miles away from the scene of a Clover shooting that claimed the life of their neighbor, York County sheriff officials said. Mitchell Strickland, 38, and his wife, Shelby Jeannette Strickland, 32, are in the Randolph County, N.C. jail awaiting extradition after the Friday shooting death of Stephen Stowe, 51, the sheriff’s office said. Randolph County is northeast of Charlotte and south of Greensboro. Deputies said they have arrest warrants against Mitchell Strickland for murder and possession of a weapon during a violent crime. Shelby Strickland is charged with accessory to murder after the fact, the sheriff’s office said. The N.C. Highway Patrol arrested the couple after a traffic stop on Saturday, York County Sheriff’s Office spokesman Trent Faris said. Stowe was killed Friday night at a property on Enon Church Road west of Clover, according to deputies and the York County Coroner. The suspects and victim were acquaintances who lived in separate dwellings on the same York County property where the shooting happened, Faris said. The shooting happened after an argument escalated between the victim and suspects, the sheriff’s office said.

A 14-year-old boy suspected of shooting another teen in Decatur is now facing manslaughter charges after the victim died of his injuries Sunday, police said Wednesday. The suspected gunman was among four arrested in connection with the Friday shooting in the 1100 block of 7th Ave. SE, police said. The 17-year-old victim was taken in a private vehicle to Huntsville Hospital, where he died of his injuries Sunday. The 14-year-old boy was initially charged with assault. The charge was upgraded to manslaughter on Monday. Further investigation revealed that the car that transported the victim to the hospital had been reported stolen in February. Officers executing a search warrant at a residence in southwest Decatur also found several stolen guns from a burglary at Bama Pawn on April 30. Police charged 18-year-old Kaleb Kirk with receiving stolen property and held him at the Morgan County Jail on $7,500 bond. Two 17-year-old suspects also were charged with receiving stolen property and transported to the Tennessee Valley Juvenile Detention Facility in Tuscumbia.

Selma Police are investigating the city's second homicide of the year — following a fatal shooting in the city Friday night. "I just can't believe it." Pauline Chaney of Selma — is a mother who's making funeral arrangements — to bury her son. Thirty-seven year old Titus Chaney was shot Friday night — on the 100 block of Alabama Avenue — and later died. "I can't eat, I can't sleep, I can't rest," sobbed Chaney. Brittney Morton and Danny Jackson, Jr. say they were there and saw the shooting incident unfold. They say it started when an argument between Titus and his ex-girlfriend — escalated — and turned physical. "They was just tussling you know, they weren't really fighting. And she dropped her purse," said Morton. "And when she dropped her purse, the gun fell out of it... Then we just seen her just raising on up and just firing at him," said Jackson. "And she stood over him and fired some more." Selma Police have confirmed that they do have a suspect in case — but Chaney's family want police to do more. "We need her captured," said Pauline Chaney. "She's from Selma. And she's running. I don't feel the police is doing enough. Her face should be all over the news cause this is a murder," said Morton. "This not just a shooting, this a murder. He died. He lost his life." A second person who was shot in that shooting — was taken to the hospital — treated and released.

From late Friday until early Saturday, Atlanta officers investigated five separate shootings and a stabbing that left three dead and several others injured across the city. The nine hours of violence began Friday night, when a 17-year-old and 20-year-old were injured in separate shootings in southwest Atlanta, according to police. By 5 a.m., three men were dead and another person injured in two other shootings, and within an hour, a person was stabbed multiple times. On Saturday, all of the incidents remained under investigation, and no arrests had been announced. At 8:25 p.m. Friday, officers were flagged down on Stanton Road in southwest Atlanta, where they found a 20-year-old man who had been shot in the face. He was alert while taken to the hospital, according to police. Investigators believe the man was shot about a mile away on Plaza Lane. About five miles away, a 17-year-old was shot multiple times on Maple Walk Circle in southwest Atlanta shortly before midnight, police said. The teenager was in a verbal dispute that led to gunfire, but was alert when taken by ambulance to the hospital. Within an hour, the violence turned deadly when two men were shot to death early Saturday in northwest Atlanta, according to police. But so far, investigators have few clues to what led to the shooting. Officers were called to the 700 block of Joseph E. Boone Boulevard near the Simpson Plaza shopping center around 12:45 a.m. on a report of gunshots, police said. One 51-year-old man died at the scene and a second man, a 49-year-old, died from his injuries at Grady Memorial Hospital, police said. Capt. Joshua Holt told the news station. There was an argument before the shooting, but no other details were released about a possible motive. Just before 4 a.m. Saturday, investigators were called to the Marietta City Center hotel

A Richland County Sheriff's department cruiser sped through the hot Columbia afternoon, lights and sirens blaring, as a deputy in the back seat attempted revive 3-year-old Armani Shoemaker. Armani had been found inside of a car moments earlier after a missing child was reported to authorities. But the deputy's efforts were in vain: the child was pronounced dead at a local hospital. New details released in an incident report by the Richland County Sheriff's Department describe the fearful and confused scene on Friday when deputies arrived in the northeast Columbia subdivision of Windsor Estates. Around 1 p.m., deputies arrived at the home on the 1000 block of Parliament Lake Drive following two calls about a missing person. The callers told the 911 dispatch that the 3-year-old had been left at the house. Many of the names, including who made the 911 calls, are redacted from the incident report. Armani was last seen around 11:30 that morning. She was wearing Pampers diapers, according to the incident report. By 1 p.m., the sky above Columbia was clear and the temperature was 85 degrees Fahrenheit and rising. When Deputy Eric Lewis arrived at the scene, he reported seeing a "visibly distressed and crying" woman standing outside of her car parked in the street with the doors open, who was screaming over him about the whereabouts of her child. Once he was able to get the woman to the front yard, Lewis wrote that he asked her to take deep breaths and help him determine "the absolute last known location of the child." Another individual then approached Lewis and showed him that the front door of the home was slightly open. As a Richland County K9 Specialist arrived, Lewis reported that an unnamed person began "screaming at deputies on scene

A Dallas County man is dead — following a Saturday night shootout — in the Pine Glenn subdivision of the Selmont community. Sheriff Mike Granthum says the investigation into the shooting remains ongoing — and investigators are pursuing every lead in the case. “It was just like a wild, wild west,” said Granthum. “I mean bullets flying everywhere.” Granthum says a drive-by shooting at a memorial gathering Saturday night — quickly escalated into a full blown shootout. “There were over 100 shell casings picked up at that scene, over 100 from several different caliber weapons. Several cars were struck. Several residents were struck. And the subject was struck in the back of the head was a 20 year old male by the name of Chico Madison. After the shots were fired, they actually exited the car and they took off running in between the houses,” said Granthum. When deputies arrived on the scene — Madison was already being driven to the hospital by personally owned vehicle. Granthum says Madison died before making it to the hospital. He was found dead in an abandoned vehicle later that night. “He was alive when he left the scene by all accounts of what witnesses were saying. But when he got to Broad Street he succumbed to his injuries. He was in the passenger seat. So somebody had to be driving the car. Some witnesses that we found stated that a black male subject exited the car, that was actually the driver, and left. He has since been identified and being talked to.” Granthum says evidence recovered from the crime scene — has been sent to forensics.

A suspect is in custody in connection with a shooting last Saturday in which a 13-year-old was struck in the head by gunfire. Mobile police said 22-year-old Trey Anthony Williams of Theodore was taken into custody Wednesday and charged with 1st-degree assault, 2nd-degree assault, four counts of reckless endangerment and one count of shooting into an occupied vehicle or building. As of Thursday afternoon, Williams remained in Mobile Metro Jail, held in lieu of bond totaling $77,376. Police said Williams initially assaulted an adult male victim at one location before police were called regarding a shooting at a convenience store on Rangeline Road Saturday. After the initial assault, police say Williams followed the victim in his vehicle and fired shots in his direction. At least one of those shots, however, struck a 13-year-old who was a passenger in a different vehicle, with a bullet striking the juvenile in the head, although it did not penetrate the skull, according to police investigators. The boy was also grazed on the side of the head, although police say it may have been by the same bullet. Both the 13-year-old and the adult assault victim were treated at a local hospital, according to police. "I thought I was going to die," the teenager told WALA in Mobile. "I was scared and I thought I was going to die." The boy's mother told the outlet her son was fine and noted that her 6-year-old son was riding in the same vehicle at the time of the shooting. She said they had attempted to flee the scene after initially hearing the gunfire, but not before the two bullets entered her vehicle.

An Auburn High School senior died after he was shot in a CVS parking lot early Saturday morning, just 19 days before graduation, police said. Delvin Tarver, 18, was in a SUV when he was struck by gunfire in the parking lot of the CVS on Baskin Street in Union Springs around 12:43 a.m. Saturday, where Bullock County High School prom attendees were congregating just a mile away from the school's prom, said Union Springs police Lt. Gary Lewis. Lewis said Tarver did not attend the Bullock County High School prom. Tarver was taken to Baptist South Hospital, where he died of his injuries. Auburn High School is holding graduation ceremonies on May 23. It was not immediately clear whether the school will honor Tarver at the commencement. Police do not have a motive for the shooting and no suspects were in custody as of late Monday afternoon, said Lewis. Auburn City Schools said Tarver was a "cherished member" of the school and district in a statement sent to AL.com. "It is with heavy hearts that we mourn the untimely passing of a cherished member of our Auburn High School community," the statement read. Our thoughts and deepest condolences are with the family and friends during this difficult time.

An investigation is ongoing after a deadly shooting in Walker County early Saturday morning. Walker County Sheriff's Office officials said deputies were dispatched at 12:48 a.m. to a report of a vehicle crash at a home on Wolf Road in Parrish. Investigators learned the crash victim had been shot. The victim, whose identity has not been released, later died. One person has been taken into custody. Additional details and the suspect's name are not being released until formal charges are filed.

A suspect has been charged in connection with a weekend shooting in Montgomery that left a woman dead, and two men injured. Zykesse Boyd, 20, is charged with murder in the Saturday slaying of 28-year-old Daneshia McMillan. He is also charged with two counts of attempted murder. Maj. Saba Coleman said officers and fire medics were dispatched at 3:10 a.m. Saturday to the 5100 block of Loblolly Pine Drive on a report of a person shot. They arrived to find three victims wounded. McMillan was pronounced dead on the scene. Two additional male victims were taken to the hospital. Coleman said one sustained life-threatening injuries and the other had non-life-threatening injuries. No other details have been released and a motive has not been disclosed. Boyd is being held without bond in the Montgomery County Detention Facility.

A fight in Tuscaloosa left a teen boy with a gunshot wound to the chest, and two other teens under arrest. Tuscaloosa police responded at 11:29 a.m. Saturday to a report of a shooting at Rosedale Court. When officers arrived, they found a 16-year-old boy shot in the chest. He was taken to the hospital in critical condition. Authorities said investigators learned two teen boys got into a fight. During the altercation, a teen girl pulled a gun and shot the victim. The victim was not able to speak with detectives, but witnesses and the suspect provided details about the incident, said Tuscaloosa Violent Crimes Unit Capt. Marty Sellers. The teen girl, 15, is charged with attempted murder and certain persons forbidden to possess a firearm. The 16-year-boy with whom the victim was fighting is charged with certain persons forbidden to possess a firearm. Both teen suspects are in Juvenile Detention. Sellers said the victim stable. Because of the ages of all involved, Sellers said, no additional information is being released.

Durham police have charged two drivers in separate, hit-and-run crashes that killed pedestrians the first weekend of May, police announced Tuesday. Investigators have charged Joshua Antoine Alston, 38, of Durham with a May 4 crash that killed 35-year-old Timothy Wayne Wright. Wright was crossing North Miami Boulevard near Raynor Street shortly after 9 p.m. when he was struck by a dark blue Jeep Grand Cherokee, according to a news release. The SUV then struck a pole before the driver backed up and fled. Wright was taken to a hospital where he died. Shortly after this crash, police think the same SUV was involved in another crash on Holloway Street near Herbert Street, the release stated. The suspect in that crash got out of the SUV briefly before fleeing. Alston has been charged with involuntary manslaughter, misdemeanor death by vehicle, felony hit-and-run resulting in death, reckless driving, driving while license revoked for impaired revocation, and exceeding a safe speed. He was being held on those charges without bail in the Durham County jail Tuesday.

Investigators have charged Nicole Lee, 22, of Durham with a May 5 crash that killed 28-year-old Phillip Farrington. Farrington was struck in the 2400 block of North Roxboro Street just after 5 a.m. by a northbound 2014 Lexus sedan, according to the news release.. The driver fled the scene. Farrington was taken to a local hospital where he died. Lee has been charged with felony hit-and-run resulting in death, no operator's license, and operating a motor vehicle with no insurance, the release stated. She was released on a $6,500 unsecured bond. Both crashes remain under investigation and could result in more charges, police said.

York police are investigating a homicide after Saturday night shooting. The homicide is the first one in the city of York since 2022, according to police. The York County Coroner's Office identified the victim just before noon Monday at Jai' Shaun Young, 21, of Gastonia, North Carolina. Autopsy and toxicology reports should be completed this week, according to a release from the coroner's office. Police received a call about shots fired a little after 9:30 p.m. Officers responded to an address at the 200 block of Galilean Road, according to police. They found the man with a gunshot wound and he was pronounced dead at the scene by medical responders, according to police. No charges have been filed and no police report is available, as of about 11:15 a.m. Monday when the police department issued a news release.

Police are searching for a 19-year-old accused of killing a man at an apartment complex in Gwinnett County on Saturday night, authorities said Sunday. Gwinnett police responded just before 10:30 p.m. to the shooting at the Herrington Mill Apartments on Herrington Road near Lawrenceville. When officers arrived, they found a man dead outside near the parking lot of one of the apartment buildings. He was identified by police as 20-year-old Timothy Henderson, a resident of the complex. Detectives said they believe the killing was the result of a robbery. During the investigation, officers quickly identified 19-year-old Raheem Whiteside, of Dacula, as the suspected shooter. Police said warrants have been issued for his arrest. According to authorities, he is facing charges of malice murder, felony murder, aggravated assault and possession of a firearm during the commission of certain felonies. His location remains unknown.

A Florence man has been charged with aggravated animal abuse after police say they found a dog dead in a creek. According to police, the incident happened Sunday when officers responded to an animal welfare check at the bridge near the 300 block of Minniehaha Street. A witness told police that he heard an animal in what sounded like distress and saw a man physically abusing a dog. When officers arrived, they found a small white dog dead in the creek. The witness described the suspect. Kevin Bruce, 33, was later questioned and arrested. His bond at the Lauderdale County Detention Center was set at $2,500.

[5/25/2024] A Charlotte man fatally shot a man he'd been in a new relationship with, dumped the body in woods near Mountain Island Lake and killed himself, police said Friday. After "an exhaustive search," police on Tuesday found 21-year-old Samuel Haugh dead off River Circle, according to a Charlotte-Mecklenburg Police Department news release. On Friday, the North Carolina Medical Examiner's Office positively identified Haugh, determined that he died from a gunshot wound and ruled his death a homicide, police said. On May 5, 32-year-old Michael Olarte was found dead of a self-inflicted gunshot wound in east Charlotte, according to the police statement. Shortly after police found Olarte, Haugh's family reported Haugh missing and said he was in a new relationship with Olarte, police said. "The investigation into this case is active and ongoing," according to CMPD. "As additional information develops, it will be released by the CMPD's Public Affairs Office."

Authorities are investigating a Tuscaloosa County shooting early Sunday that killed one man and injured three other people. Tuscaloosa Violent Crimes Unit Capt. Jack Kennedy said the shooting happened about 1 a.m. at a home in the 1300 block of 58th Street East. Kennedy said the gunfire stemmed from an altercation. No additional information has yet been released. The three surviving victims' injuries are not life-threatening, he said. The incident was one of two Alabama shootings in Sunday's predawn hours that end in death and multiple injuries. Shortly after 2 a.m., one person was killed and five others wounded outside the Shell gas station on Birmingham's busy Third Avenue West.

The Montgomery County Sheriff's Office has confirmed to Action 8 News that the Dollar General store in Pike Road was burglarized overnight. Capt. Randy Pollard told Action 8 News the burglary happened at around 1:30 this morning at the store located at 9711 Vaughn Road. Pollard said the burglar broke in through the front door before stealing a variety of merchandise. He says investigators are still developing information on the suspect. Stay with Action 8 News for updates.

The barrage of gunfire that left one man dead and six others wounded in the parking lot of a Birmingham gas station appeared to be indiscriminate gunfire likely not meant for any one person. At least 150 shots rang out just after 2 a.m. Sunday. Birmingham police began receiving Shot Spotter alerts in the 700 and 800 blocks of Third Avenue West. The location is the always-busy area surrounding Shell, Burger King, Auto Zone and Express Oil Change and Tire Engineers. When the shooting stopped, 24-year-old David Isaiah Westbrook of Wartrace, Tennessee, was dead. He was found inside a vehicle that crashed into a utility pole and Birmingham Police Chief Scott Thurmond said Monday he is believed to have been an innocent bystander. Six other men were injured, ages 24, 22, 26, and two 19-year-olds. The age of the most seriously injured victim – who remains hospitalized – has not been determined. That Shell station is a popular hang out on the weekends, and has long been a trouble spot, Thurmond said. One YouTube video from a different weekend shows numerous people packed in the parking lot, listening to music and waving around guns. Thurmond on Monday said detectives reviewed video surveillance footage from there during the shooting and it showed multiple people with guns shooting. “A review of the video surveillance showed numerous individuals shooting randomly as if they were just firing their guns. Most did not know who or what they were shooting at, which caused the victims to be shot,” Thurmond said. No charges have yet been announced. “Detectives are diligently working to determine what started the shooting and who is responsible,” Thurmond said. Officers with the department’s Operation Knight Rider – an ongoing effort to [5/13/2024] A ride-share driver was arrested last week, a day after he allegedly broke into a woman's home and raped her after dropping her off, Sandy Springs police said Monday. Le' Myrious Monaye Dawson faces charges of rape, battery, burglary and theft by taking. Police said he gave the victim a ride home around 2:30 a.m. May 5 and then broke in and sexually assaulted her. The following day, detectives found him at the West End MARTA station on Lee Street in southwest Atlanta. A warrant was obtained for his vehicle and home, where investigators found several items belonging to the victim, officials said. No other details were released by police. "The men and women of the Sandy Springs Police Department worked diligently to identify, locate and bring Mr. Dawson to justice," police said in a statement.

A man was killed in a shooting Sunday at a troubled apartment complex in southwest Atlanta, according to authorities. Atlanta police responded around 12:45 p.m. to the Hidden Village Apartments on Landrum Drive after getting a call about a person shot. The complex is near Childress Drive and a short distance from Langford Parkway. At the scene, officers found an adult man with several gunshot wounds, police said. The victim, who was not publicly identified, was pronounced dead by medical crews. Hidden Village Apartments, formerly known as the Villages of Cascade is among 272 of the metro area's persistently dangerous complexes, according to an investigation by The Atlanta Journal-Constitution that looked into serious crimes, lax maintenance and other hazards in Atlanta neighborhoods. From 2017 to July 2023, police reported more than 120 crimes at the complex, including two homicides, two rapes, 37 aggravated assaults, five robberies, and two child molestations. In July 2022 and January 2023, it was named in a list of apartment complexes that Atlanta officials and Fulton County prosecutors announced would be targeted for crackdowns because of chronic crime or housing code violations. A motive is unclear, and no other details were released by police about what led up to Sunday's shooting. An investigation is ongoing.

No additional details have been released. The investigation is ongoing.

The Montgomery Police Department is conducting a death investigation following the death of a shooting victim. Police say 37-year-old Katorri Martin of Montgomery has died in a hospital after he was shot Sunday night. Police say they and fire medics were called to the 700 block of Woodrow Street at about 10:51PM. That is near Rosa Parks Avenue. Martin was found with a gunshot wound and taken to a hospital. No other information has been released.

Huntsville police are looking for the person responsible for a late Sunday shooting that left five men wounded. According to police, the shooting happened at 708 Bar and Grille, at 708 Poplar Ave., at around 11:30 p.m. Police say five victims were taken to the hospital, ranging in ages from 29 to 40. All were patrons of the business. "Everyone that was contacted by officers or investigators at the scene last night said they 'didn't see anything' or were not forthcoming with information, however our investigators are still working hard to get answers," Deputy Chief Michael Johnson said. Out of all five victims, only one remains critical but stable since an overnight surgery, and is expected to survive, police said. The other four are in the process or will be released from the hospital soon.

An arrest warrant has been issued for a 56-year-old Florida man after he allegedly stole a medical stretcher from a Paulding County funeral home. Michael Christopher Johnson is now charged with entering an automobile with intent to commit theft. On May 6, Dallas Police responded to a vehicle break-in at Benson's Funeral Home and found that a medical stretcher had been stolen from one of the funeral home's vehicles. Detectives collected evidence and connected the theft to several other incidents in the metro area, according to a press release. They identified Johnson as the suspect and obtained the warrant for his arrest. Johnson has an "extensive history of theft," the release said. He is currently wanted in at least two metro Atlanta counties for similar incidents.

Durham police are still looking for the drivers of vehicles that hit two pedestrians over the weekend and then drove off. One of the pedestrians died shortly after the crash; the other was hospitalized with serious injuries and died later. The first was hit shortly after 9 p.m. Saturday. Timothy Wright, 35, was crossing North Miami Boulevard near Raynor Street when he was hit by what witnesses described as an SUV. He was taken to the hospital in critical condition. Police announced Tuesday morning that Wright had died. The vehicle that hit Wright also hit a pole before driving off. Police believe it was involved in another crash a short time later on Holloway Street near Herbert Street and Interstate 885. Witnesses said the SUV was dark blue and likely a Jeep Grand Cherokee with North Carolina plates. Police say the vehicle was damaged, particularly in the front right corner, the hood area and the back, and that several parts, including a bumper, may be missing. The second pedestrian was hit shortly after 5 a.m. on North Roxboro Street, between Club Boulevard and Ellerbe Street, by a small car that was going north. The man was taken to a hospital where he died. Police have not released his name. A witness told police that the car may have been a light gray or light blue Chevy Sonic or something similar. Police say it's also possible the man had been hit by another car first. They say that car may have been a 2014 to 2016 Lexus or Toyota sport sedan that likely has damage to its driver-side headlight and is missing a black front bumper hole plug.

Police are investigating after masked burglars broke into a popular Atlanta strip club through the roof and allegedly stole hundreds of thousands of dollars during the heist. APD said the theft happened around 4:16 a.m. Monday at Onyx Gentleman's Club on Cheshire Bridge Road. Investigators said two suspects, wearing ski masks and gloves, entered the building through the ceiling and crawled to the club's safes. The police narrative didn't explain how the suspects broke in through the roof, but they did mention the perpetrators appeared to have used power tools to gain access to the safes. They made off with around $250,000 in cash without triggering any alarms. According to police, the ATMs in the club were facing down, but none of them had been broken into or damaged. The brazen bandits were seen leaving the business nearly two hours after they broke in, authorities said. The investigation into the theft remains active and ongoing. If you have any information, contact the Atlanta Police Department.

Montgomery police are investigating a shooting on East Patton Avenue that left a man with a life-threatening gunshot wound. Montgomery Police Dept. Maj. Saba Coleman told Action 8 News that the shooting happened at around 6:11AM Monday. Police found the man in the area of East Patton Avenue and Norman Bridge Road. They determined that he had been shot in the 500 block of East Patton Avenue, which is near the Normandale Shopping Center. The man was taken to a hospital for treatment. No other information has been released.

A man is dead after being shot Monday afternoon near a library in southwest Atlanta, police said. The shooting happened just before 4:30 p.m. at 47 Cleveland Avenue, an address that corresponds to the Cleveland Avenue Library in the Browns Mill Park neighborhood. At the scene, officers found the victim, who was not publicly identified, suffering from several gunshot wounds. He was taken to the hospital in critical condition, but died from his injuries, police said. No other details were released on the shooting or a suspect. The incident location is just east of I-75 near the Brown's Mill Golf Course. According to the county website, the library had been temporarily closed for repairs and was expected to reopen in March. An investigation into the shooting is ongoing.

A man has been charged in a shooting in Montgomery. Montgomery Police Department Maj. Saba Coleman told Action 8 News that 25-year-old Curtis Fountain has been charged with second-degree assault. The shooting happened Monday night at around 9:15PM in the 2000 block of East South Boulevard. According to court records, the shooting involved an AK-47 style weapon. The victim was a male who has not been identified.

A young man was found shot to death Tuesday lying in the front yard of a home in East Lake, police said. East Precinct officers responded to the 6800 block of 1st Avenue South on multiple calls of a person shot, said Sgt. LaQuitta Wade. Officers found the victim lying in the front yard unresponsive and suffering from an apparent gunshot wound, Wade said. Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service personnel arrived on the scene and pronounced the man dead. Nine shell casings were found at the scene, Wade said, but it was not immediately clear how many bullets struck the victim. The man's age was not immediately known, but Wade described the victim as a "young adult male." The preliminary investigation revealed motorists passing by spotted the unresponsive victim and called 911. Police have not identified any witnesses that observed the shooting.

A father was arrested in north Alabama on aggravated child abuse charges after his 3-month-old child had to be helicoptered to Children's Hospital in Birmingham after being revived, authorities said Tuesday. Bobby Mason Honeycutt's 3-month-old child was not breathing when the child was taken to Atrium Health Floyd Cherokee in Centre on May 7, Cedar Hill Police Chief Jeremy Stepps said in a statement. The staff at the hospital revived the child, who was then helicoptered to Children's, the chief said. Doctors told investigators the child "has severe trauma due to the extent of the injuries that were observed." Honeycutt was arrested on aggravated child abuse of a child less than 6 years old, police said. He was taken to the Cherokee County Jail, where he remains in custody. Further information was unavailable.

A woman was killed and a male was hospitalized Sunday following a family dispute that turned into a shooting, South Carolina officials said. Diamond Kennedy, a 24-year-old Newberry resident, was the homicide victim, Newberry County Coroner Laura Kneece said in a joint statement released Monday from her office and the Newberry Police Department. At about 2:45 a.m. Sunday, officers responded to report of a shooting at the Nance Forest Complex, according to the release. That's about a mile from the Newberry College campus. Officers found that Kennedy appeared to have been shot and she died at the scene, officials said. Kennedy was a 2019 graduate of Newberry High School, records show. A second person involved in the shooting was found there bleeding profusely from the face/mouth area, according to the release. Emergency responders took that person to Newberry County Memorial Hospital where he is being treated for his injuries, officials said. Further information on his condition was not available. Officials said that the shooting stemmed from a family dispute, but did not provide any information about the dispute or how it escalated. Information on the shooter was not available, and no arrests have been reported by police. There was no word if the shooting was considered self defense. Officials did say "there was no immediate danger to the public," because the shooting was domestic violence related. The shooting continues to be investigated by police, the coroner's office and the South Carolina Law Enforcement Division.

Police in Mobile are investigating a homicide after a man was found dead from an apparent gunshot wound early Tuesday. Officers responded to a residence on Darwood Drive just after 3:30 a.m. Tuesday after a report of a shooting. Arriving at the scene, they located a vehicle resting against the residence, with the body nearby in the front yard. The victim's identity is being withheld pending notification of next of kin. No other details were released "to protect the integrity of the investigation," according to Mobile police.

The search for the South Carolina man who fatally shot another man in the head Tuesday is over, according to the Aiken County Sheriff's Department. Jonathan Daquan Staley, 22, was arrested late Tuesday night. Staley was taken to the Aiken County Detention Center where he's expected to be charged with murder and possession of a weapon during a violent crime. No bond has been set for the Wagener resident, jail records show. Deputies got involved at about 7:30 p.m., when they responded to a shooting in the 200 block of Jeffcoat Road. That's in Wagener, near the intersection with S.C. 39/Festival Trail Road. The deputies found a male with a gunshot wound to the head, according to the release. He was identified as 53-year-old Wagener resident Timothy Davenport, Aiken County Coroner Darryl Ables said Wednesday. Davenport was taken to Lexington Medical Center where he died, according to the coroner's office. A witness said the suspected shooter was a man who ran from the home before deputies arrived. The sheriff's office later identified Staley as the suspected shooter. At about 11:15 p.m., deputies found Staley on S.C. 302 where he was taken into custody without incident. He was located after people saw Staley walking on the road, about 3 miles from the crime scene, and reported it to the sheriff's office. An autopsy will be performed in Newberry, Ables said.

[5/17/2024] A search is underway for a man and woman accused in the Dothan killing of a 54-year-old man. Courtney Ingram, 33, and Richard Bishop Jr., 31, are charged with murder in the death Patrick Parrish. They are considered armed and dangerous. Dothan police Lt. Scott Owens said officers and investigators discovered Parrish's body after a welfare check was conducted May 8 at his home the 1300 block of Coe Dairy Road. An unusual amount of time had passed without anyone hearing from Parrish. When officers arrived on scene, they noticed a foul odor coming from the area of the home, Owens said. Officers tried to make contact by knocking on the door but there was no answer. A short time later, officers located Parrish's body under the home. The positioning of the body was indicative of foul play, and investigators were called to the scene. A cause of death has not yet been determined. While processing the crime scene, Owens said, investigators noticed the victim's pick-up truck was missing. They learned that Parrish had last been seen with Ingram and Bishop before his death and were seen leaving in the victim's vehicle. The truck was later found in Eufaula. Bishop is 6-feet, 2-inches tall and weighs 165 pounds. He is bald with brown eyes. Ingram is 5-feet, 7-inches tall and weighs 150 pounds. She has blonde hair and green eyes. Both were last seen in Eufaula and could be in Georgia. "Our thoughts are with the family of Patrick Parrish as they begin to cope with this family loss," Owens said.

A man and three children were found dead in a car at a Gwinnett County park shortly after midnight Wednesday, according to authorities, who believe the incident may have been a murder-suicide. It was about 1 a.m. when a Gwinnett officer was patrolling Lucky Shoals Park on Britt Road just outside Tucker and found a suspicious vehicle parked on a pedestrian trail, police said. The officer called out to the occupants of the vehicle, but there was no response. That's when he approached and found the bodies of the man and the children, two girls and a boy, police spokesperson Sgt. Michele Pihera told reporters at the scene. The man was in the driver's seat, and they all appeared to have been shot. "At this time, detectives are investigating this case as a possible murder-suicide, but (a) final determination will be made by the medical examiner's office," Pihera said. The man's relationship with the children was not confirmed, but Pihera said he appears to be their father. Investigators are awaiting a confirmation of identities by the medical examiner. Detectives were still at the scene around 6:30 a.m. and were focusing their investigation around a silver Honda sedan. Police have not said if they know what may have led to the shooting.

A man rode his bicycle to the Brighton Police Department seeking help after he was shot midday Wednesday. Just after noon, the victim showed up at police headquarters with a gunshot wound to the leg. The dispatcher called Assistant Fire Chief Kenneth Hooten who responded to the scene to treat the victim. The bullet entered and exited the man's leg, and he is expected to be OK. Hooten, also a police lieutenant, then took over the criminal investigation. He said it appears an argument over $20 broke out between the suspect and the victim in the 3900 block of Main Street. After the shooting, the suspect fled the scene also on a bicycle. Hooten said no arrests have been made.

A "dangerous" father is now in custody, and his 3-year-old son is fighting for his life after the man allegedly kidnapped his child Wednesday, led deputies on a chase into Georgia, and set the car on fire with his child still inside, according to Georgia State Patrol. Anderson County Sheriff's Deputies said it started at a home on Harris Avenue in Anderson County, South Carolina. The father, whom GSP Troopers identified as 32-year-old Joshua Bennett Dornellas, allegedly violently assaulted the mother of their son. He then allegedly kidnapped his son, which led to a chase down Interstate 85 across the Georgia state line around 1 p.m., where Georgia State Patrol became involved. Family members who set up an online fundraising campaign identified the 3-year-old boy as Bennett. GSP issued a news release on Thursday where it said that Hart County Deputies attempted to stop the vehicle when it first entered state lines. That's when a pursuit ensued, and GSP Troopers became the primary agency involved. Troopers also tried a box-in maneuver to stop the man's car but were unsuccessful. GSP also explained that Dornellas threatened to kill the child. The Georgia agency stated that the suspect intentionally set his car on fire with the child still inside and jumped out of the driver's window while traveling 55 mph. The car then crashed into an embankment fully engulfed in flames near mile marker 166, according to GSP. "Following terrible and unfortunate events, Bennett has suffered 3rd-degree burns throughout 90% of his little body," the family said in an online fundraiser. GSP Troopers and other law enforcement agencies were able to extinguish the fire and rescue the 3-year-old boy who had severe burns. Troopers added the child was then airlifted to a nearby trauma center in "critical condition." The family stated in the G-FundMe

A Powder Springs teenager was arrested Wednesday evening after police said he shot and killed another teen during a fight involving several others. Coledye Warnock, 18, was initially charged with felony involuntary manslaughter, according to his arrest warrant, but Powder Springs police later announced the charge was upgraded to murder. The victim, 19-year-old Fabrice Robelin, died from a gunshot wound to his head and neck, police said. Officers were called to the Lost Mountain Lake neighborhood pool on Coolwood Cove around 7:30 p.m. after getting multiple reports of shots fired and a person down, police said. Warnock's arrest warrant said several men had been fighting in the area but dispersed when a shot was fired. According to the arresting officer's affidavit, Warnock described the incident to investigators. He told police that during the fight, Robelin fell in a grassy area in a way that concealed his right hand, the warrant said. Warnock explained that he thought Robelin had a gun, so he pulled his own gun when they made contact, according to the warrant. Warnock told investigators that when he used his gun to hit Robelin, it fired a shot, the warrant said. After the gunshot, the fighting stopped and Warnock fled, the warrant said. According to the affidavit, he threw his gun's magazine into the woods as he ran away, then accidentally fired it a second time into the ground while he tried to eject the round in the gun's chamber. Warnock was booked into the Cobb County jail just after midnight Thursday on felony counts of involuntary manslaughter, aggravated assault, tampering with evidence and criminal use of a firearm with an altered ID mark, jail records show. He remains in jail without bond.

One man is dead and a woman has life-threatening injuries after a shooting at an apartment complex on South LaSalle Street in Durham on Wednesday night. Two other men also shot suffered non-life-threatening injuries, police said. Officers were dispatched at 10:13 p.m. to Duke University Hospital after four people came in with gunshot wounds, according to a Durham Police Department news release. One of the men was pronounced dead soon after he arrived. Investigators later determined the shooting occurred in the 300 block of South LaSalle Street, just south of the Durham Freeway and close to the hospital. Media outlets reported the shooting took place at Duke Manor Apartments.

A South Carolina woman and her 9-month-old baby were hospitalized following a recent drive-by shooting, the Lee County Sheriff's Office said. The shooting happened at night May 9. A woman and four children were inside a residence hit by gunfire at H&B Mobile Home Park on Herbert Lane, according to the release. After the shooting, the woman and children left the mobile home and saw that it was on fire, the sheriff's office said. That's when she called 911 and reported that both she and the baby boy had been shot. Sheriff's deputies as well as members of Lee County Fire-Rescue responded to the scene. The woman was taken to a hospital in Florence after suffering non-life-threatening injuries. A medical helicopter was dispatched and the baby, who was in critical condition, was airlifted to a hospital in Columbia. No arrests have been reported by the sheriff's office, which is continuing to investigate the shooting, with assistance from the South Carolina Law Enforcement Division's crime scene and arson unit, according to the release.

[5/14/2024] A man was arrested last week in Gwinnett County after allegedly returning to the scene of the carjacking he had just committed while officers were still there. On May 9, Gwinnett County Police said officers responded to a carjacking at an assisted living facility on Grayson Highway. The victim said she was approached by a man with a gun while walking from her car to her apartment, and he stole her purse along with the keys to her vehicle. While on the scene, officers said they noticed another vehicle that was suspiciously parked next to where the victim's car had been sitting. Inside that car were things such as latex gloves and tools police said were commonly associated with carjackings. Furthermore, the vehicle's owner had an active warrant for his arrest. Luckily for police, the suspect wound up returning to the scene of the crime in an Uber. Then he was arrested. After talking with the Uber driver, police determined where the suspect was picked up and found the victim's stolen car a few houses away. The suspect has been charged with carjacking, armed robbery, aggravated assault, possession of a firearm during the commission of a felony, and possession of a firearm by a convicted felon.

[5/24/2024] A Montgomery Police Department chaplain has died after his vehicle was hit by a man fleeing Greenville police. Alabama State Troopers on Friday identified the fatality victim as Antonio L. Seales. He was 51. The wreck happened May 10 on Norman Bridge Road near East Delano Avenue in Montgomery, said Trooper Sgt. Jeremy Burkett. Seales was critically injured when his Chrysler 300 was struck from the rear by a Chevrolet Traverse driven by Ashton T. Ford, 26, also of Montgomery. Burkett said before the crash occurred, Ford was eluding law enforcement and was involved in a pursuit. Seales was taken to Baptist Medical Center South where he was pronounced dead at 5:31 p.m. on May 21. Ford was also injured and taken to the same hospital. Greenville Police Chief Justin Lovvorn told the Greenville Advocate that officers that day had responded to a call from a Greenville business in reference to a felony theft in progress. Police tried to pull over the vehicle as it was leaving the area but the driver, later identified as Ford, refused to stop. The pursuit traveled northbound along Interstate 65, ending with the crash on Norman Bridge Road. Court records show Ford was charged with attempting to elude, third-degree theft of property and reckless endangerment. He is out of jail on bond.

[5/29/2024] A Satsuma man is in Mobile Metro Jail, charged with the armed robbery of two Mobile massage parlors. Mobile police said 27-year-old Coby Lee Malone was taken into custody Wednesday morning. He was booked into Mobile Metro Jail, charged with two counts of 1st-degree burglary and one count of 4th-degree theft of services. He is being held without bond pending a Friday court appearance. Police responded to the first of the two burglaries on May 10 at Aroma Massage on Azalea Road in Mobile. Officers learned the suspect, later identified as Malone, brandished a handgun and demanded money after he had asked for, but was denied, a sexual favor. Two weeks later, on May 24, officers were again called to a massage parlor, this time Yu Ying Massage and Foot Care on Cottage Hill Road. Once again, officers were told the suspect had produced a handgun, pointed it at an employee and demanded money after again being denied a sexual favor. Court records show Malone pleaded guilty in July 2023 to 1st-degree burglary with injury for a September 2020 incident in which he broke into a woman's apartment, struck her in the face, choked her and hit her on the head with a phone. Malone was given a one-year suspended jail sentence and placed on two years probation.

[7/23/2024] Atlanta police on Tuesday released video that shows officers chasing and arresting a bicyclist accused of attacking someone with a machete. Police said they spotted a suspect in “an aggravated assault involving a machete” near 2610 Metropolitan Pkwy. SW on Thursday, July 18. They said the suspect, identified as 25-year-old Damion Davenport, is believed to have attacked someone with a machete on May 10. Bodycam and dashcam video of the chase shows the suspect weaving in and out of traffic, narrowly avoiding cars, and at one point dropping a machete in the road. “He just dropped a machete at the intersection back there,” the officer wearing the body camera says before stopping his car to retrieve the weapon. The officer then resumes the chase. Davenport continues swerving away from pursuing patrol cars, but soon ditches his bike and runs away. Officers run after Davenport and quickly arrest him. Police said Davenport was charged with riding a bicycle on the right side of the roadway, second-degree criminal damage to property, giving false information to a law enforcement officer, two counts of willful obstruction of law enforcement officers, and multiple outstanding warrants.

Two people were killed and another person was injured Friday in an alleged murder-suicide at a Barrow County home, officials said. Sheriff’s deputies were called to the house in the 700 block of Ga. 82 sometime before 10 p.m. due to a report of gunfire. Two people were found dead in the front yard, and the third victim was located with injuries not considered life-threatening, the sheriff’s office said. The coroner’s office identified the victims killed as 22-year-old Bradley Messer and 58-year-old Jeffery Orr. Authorities said the injured victim is expected to make a full recovery. It was determined that Messer shot Orr, shot at the surviving victim and then shot himself, investigators said. A motive was not provided. “We ask the public to keep the family in your prayers,” the sheriff’s office said.

Three people were killed as 18 people were shot at a May Day party with at least 1,000 people in attendance in south Alabama Saturday night, according to the Baldwin County Sheriff's Office. "According to witnesses, the event was peaceful until an argument took place, which led to at least one subject shooting multiple rounds into the large crowd," said Capt. Andre Reid of the Baldwin County Sheriff's Office. "We do believe that there may have been more shooters, and we are following up on those leads," Reid said. Reid said the victims were primarily "younger people," according to the Associated Press. "This is a tragic event that touches many lives in our community. We are working very hard to bring this case to a resolution, but we cannot make arrests or successfully prosecute the offenders without help," Reid said. Anyone with information or video of the event, or willing to identify the offenders, are asked to contact the Baldwin County Sheriff's Office at 251-972-8589, option 7. Stockton, where the shooting occurred, is a community of about 420 people, located about 30 miles northeast of Mobile. Reid said no officers were involved in the shooting.

Three juveniles are in custody following a weekend attack of a 58-year-old man at a rest area in Ashville. The young suspects – all teens – are charged with second-degree assault and second-degree robbery. They were taken into custody Wednesday. The assault happened Saturday evening at the Interstate 59 rest area near mile marker 167 in St. Clair County, according to Investigator Lamar Lackey. The victim, Lackey said, was “sucker-punched” and knocked to the ground by one of the suspects. Once on the ground, all three continued to hit and kick the victim until he was unconscious. The victim sustained cracked ribs, a cracked sternum, a puncture lung, and multiple jaw fractures. The victim’s gun was stolen and found the following day in the woods by the Ashville police officers. Police said the victim, who lives in Blount County, did not know any of the suspects, who live in St. Clair County. Lackey said a video of the attack was shared on social media which prompted a flood of concerned calls to police, Crime Stoppers, and other law enforcement agencies which helped identify the suspects. “The safety of our community is our top priority and due to the response from the public as well as other law enforcement agencies, we were able to quickly identify these three individuals,” said Ashville Chief Ed Hampton. “I am very thankful to the public for their support and information which led to these three individuals being identified and charged.” Charges were filed after the case was presented to the Saint Clair County District Attorney’s Office.

[5/29/2024] A second suspect in a shooting and robbery at a Mobile Walmart in mid-May has been taken into custody. Mobile police said 20-year-old Ja’ Shawn Jacobie Thomas was arrested Tuesday and taken to Mobile Metro Jail, where he remains held without bond pending an initial court appearance. Thomas is charged with 1st-degree robbery and 1st-degree assault. Police say he and another suspect shot and robbed a man in the parking lot of the Walmart on Schillinger Road in Mobile on May 11. The other suspect, 19-year-old Jabarrion Williams, was arrested two days after the incident. In 2022, Thomas was convicted of 2nd-degree robbery. While the judge suspended a five-year prison sentence, he ordered Thomas to be placed on three years probation, which he is still serving and is now charged with violating. If found guilty of the new charges, the five-year suspended sentence could be imposed, along with possible sentences of 20 years to life for the robbery charge and two to 20 years for the assault.

Two burglary suspects are behind bars after police found them hiding under the HVAC system inside a Tarrant pharmacy. Police responded to a burglary alarm at 12:44 a.m. Sunday at Kessler’s Pharmacy on East Lake Boulevard. They canvassed the area and determined at least one suspect was still inside. Mutual aid was requested from neighboring agencies and a Fultondale police officer responded to help, said Sgt. Derrick Williamson. Two men were found below the HVAC system. Police said they had caused significant damage by smashing through a wall to enter. Officers also found a duffle bag filled with prescription drugs and Hydrocodone. The drugs had been taken from the pharmacy’s shelves, Williamson said. Multiple areas inside the business, as well as an AC unit, were destroyed. Williamson said the suspects confessed to burglarizing an adjacent building and Kessler’s Pharmacy by using a crowbar with the intent to steal copper. Xavier Deangelo Catlin, 41, and Cardall Lamar Tolbert, 33, are charged with attempted trafficking of a controlled substance, first-degree criminal mischief, two counts of third-degree burglary, possession of burglar’s tools, and second-degree theft of property. The two Birmingham men were booked into the Jefferson County Jail Monday with bond set at $575,000 each. Both remain held.

A 25-year-old man was shot to death early Saturday in Montgomery. Police identified the victim as Tracy Cloud Jr. He lived in Montgomery. Capt. Raymond Carson said officers and fire medics responded at 1:30 a.m. to a report of a person shot in the 3900 block of Eastern Boulevard. They arrived to find Cloud unresponsive, and he was pronounced dead on the scene. Carson said no arrests have been made, and no additional details are being released at this time.

A North Carolina State Highway Patrol trooper shot a Virginia driver on Saturday who pointed a handgun at the officer after a pursuit that ended in Farmville, Highway Patrol Sgt. Chris Knox said. Knox identified the driver as 35-year-old Virginia Beach resident Kenneth Charles Kinard. The Highway Patrol said the officer wasn't hurt during the encounter. The trooper shot Kinard "multiple times in the leg" after Kinard, who was running from the trooper, "stopped, turned and pointed a handgun," Knox said. Pitt County EMS took Kinard to ECU Health Medical Center. The pursuit started just after 7 a.m. on Interstate 587 near the Wilson and Greene county line. The trooper was conducting a speed enforcement when radar clocked an eastbound driver of a burgundy 2023 Kia Carnival at 90 mph in a 70-mph zone, Knox said. The driver ignored the trooper's flashing lights and continued on I-587 until exiting onto U.S. 258 and heading south into Farmville. The pursuit ended when the driver stopped and ran from the minivan at the Bynum Drive intersection. The trooper followed the man as he ran through a residential area and into an open field, Knox said. That's when the man turned and pointed the gun, Knox said. A female passenger in the minivan surrendered without incident and wasn't hurt. Charges are pending against Kinard, Knox said. Kinard had multiple Virginia warrants for his arrest, Knox said, including contempt of court for probation violation; drug and drug paraphernalia possession; and felony grand larceny. The Highway Patrol seized a firearm and illegal drugs and drug paraphernalia during the encounter Saturday. Per Highway Patrol protocol, the trooper was placed on administrative duty pending an investigation of the shooting by the North Carolina State Bureau of Investigation, Knox said.

Two fatal shootings within minutes of each other in Durham on Saturday morning may be related, and a suspect was arrested, police said. At 11:12 a.m., police found a woman with gunshot wounds in a vehicle in the northbound right turn lane on Southwest Durham Drive, near the intersection with Durham–Chapel Hill Boulevard, according to a police department news release. The woman, identified as Jennifer Faith Eno, 32, was pronounced dead at a hospital. Eight minutes later, an off-duty Durham Police officer heard gunshots in the parking lot of a business in the 3700 block of Mount Moriah Road and found a man with a gunshot wound. The man — Scott Edward Snyder Jr., 31 — also died at a hospital. The shootings “appear to be related ... and an isolated incident,” according to the police statement. A suspect who was taken into custody is believed to have known at least one of the victims. Police charged Brandon Julius Eno, 32, with two counts of first-degree murder. He is being held in the Durham County Jail without bond. Police didn’t say if they know what prompted the shootings.

A man was found dead from a gunshot wound on Wenonah Road in Birmingham’s New Hill community late Saturday morning. Birmingham police received a call about 11:15 a.m. of a person down near Carroll Street, said Officer Truman Fitzgerald. When they arrived, they found a young adult male on the ground outside of the driver’s side of a vehicle. Patrol officers summoned homicide investigators to the scene, as well as the Jefferson County Coroner’s Office. “From the evidence we observed, we believe this may have been a self-inflicted wound,” Fitzgerald said. Though the death appears to be a suicide, detectives are going to investigate the death as a homicide until authorities can prove otherwise.

Three police officers were recovering Sunday after being injured in a Saturday shootout with an armed suspect in southwest Atlanta. One was released from the hospital. The officers were shot around 5:25 p.m. Saturday after struggling with a suspect wielding a knife and handgun in the 1400 block of Desoto Avenue in the Capitol View neighborhood, authorities said. The suspect was killed and the three officers, two of whom are 31 and one 28, were rushed to Grady Memorial Hospital. The Fulton County Medical Examiner's Office had not released the suspect's name as of Sunday afternoon, pending notification of kin. The officers also had not been identified. One of the officers who remains hospitalized has gone through surgery and faces an additional one Monday, the Atlanta Police Department said. The other went through surgery Sunday morning. All three officers have been with the department at least four years, with the youngest being there for about five months, Atlanta police Chief Darin Schierbaum said at a news conference outside Grady Memorial Hospital. One had a shoulder wound, another had a leg wound while the third had a graze wound, authorities said. During the press conference, Dickens said he and the chief had spoken with the families of the officers. "Once again you can see that guns are causing harm in our community and unfortunately APD officers were hit," the mayor added. According to the GBI, officers responded around 5:15 p.m. Saturday to Genessee Avenue and Fairbanks Street after a caller reported a man pointing a gun who the caller believed was a danger to the community. Officers found him near the intersection of Desoto Avenue and Genessee Avenue. After the man pulled out a handgun, officials said, one of the officers tackled and wrestled him to the ground. "While on the ground, what sounded like a

An investigation is underway after a volunteer was reportedly attacked outside the Limestone County GOP Trump Headquarters over the weekend in north Alabama. The Alabama Republican Party on Monday said Tara Johnson was attacked Saturday afternoon while leaving the headquarters at 1117 U.S. Highway 72 East in Athens. Athens police, however, said the only altercation they are investigating from Saturday stemmed from a road rage incident. ALGOP Communications Director Jeannie Negrón Burniston said Johnson serves as the lead volunteer, despite facing physical mobility challenges due to health issues. Johnson was in her vehicle, Burniston said, when the attacker grabbed her by the hair, repeatedly punched her in the face and slammed her head against the door of her truck. Asked about the incident, Athens police Chief Anthony Pressnell said the department is investigating what appears to be a road rage incident that occurred on Saturday, May 11, at 5:50 p.m. as two vehicles met at the entrance of Lowe's at U.S. 72. One driver was at a stop sign on a side street that parallels U.S. 72, and a second driver was turning from U.S. 72 into Lowe's at that intersection. The altercation ended in the Lowe's parking lot. The investigation is ongoing, the chief said.

A teenager was killed in a shooting at a racetrack in South Carolina Saturday night, officials said. At about 8:30 p.m., the Laurens County Sheriff's Office said there was "a heavy law enforcement presence" at Ware Shoals Dragway following a shooting. That's at 16924 U.S. 25 in Ware Shoals. According to the Laurens County Coroner's Office, 17-year-old Greenwood resident Calvin Lamont Parker Jr. died from the injuries he suffered "as a result of this incident," the sheriff's office said in a news release. An autopsy has been scheduled for Monday, WSPA reported. No other injuries were reported. Although the sheriff's office said it believed the shooting was an isolated incident, and there was not a threat to the community, it did ask people to avoid the area following Saturday night's gunfire. The Best of Both Worlds car & bike show was being held at Ware Shoals Dragway on Saturday, according to the venue's Facebook page. There was no word about a shooter or shooters, or anyone else involved in the gunfire. Information about a motive for the shooting was not available. No arrests have been reported by the sheriff's office, which is continuing to investigate the shooting.

[5/21/2024] Two men injured in Montgomery shootings more than a week ago have now died. The victims were among at least a dozen people wounded in Montgomery gunfire between Friday, May 10, and Monday, May 13. Police on Tuesday identified the slain men as Jeffrey Williams, 34, and Demtrius Porter, 39. Maj. Saba Coleman said officers and medics responded at 1:14 a.m. Sunday, May 12, to the 1100 block of Oak Street on a report of a person shot. Williams was taken to the hospital where he died on Saturday, May 18. Less than two hours later, first responders were dispatched at 2:54 a.m. to the 500 block of East Patton Avenue on another report of a shooting. Porter was found wounded and taken to the hospital, where was pronounced dead on Monday, May 20. Also that Sunday, 64-year-old Gloria Crews was shot to death while hosting a Mother's Day gathering at her south Montgomery home. There is a $20,000 reward for information leading to an arrest in that case. Coleman confirmed there were multiple separate shootings that weekend including two on Friday and three on Saturday, one of which was self-inflicted. On the Sunday that Crews, Porter, and Williams were killed, police also responded to a hospital after learning that six people had been shot – a man, a juvenile boy, and four women. One of the women sustained life-threatening injuries. Investigators determined that shooting happened in the 2400 block of Eastern Boulevard. Another shooting happened on Monday, May 13. No arrests have been announced in any of the slayings.

Two people are dead and four others wounded after a shooting at an Atlanta lounge early Sunday morning, according to Atlanta Police. Officers said they received a call about a person shot at Elleven45 Lounge around 2:35 a.m. The lounge sits at the corner of Peachtree Road and Bennett Street in Buckhead. It released a statement stating its doors will be closed on Sunday. "We at Elleven 45 are profoundly affected by the recent tragic events. Our hearts go out to all those impacted, and we extend our deepest sympathies to the individuals and families who have suffered loss and injury. The safety and well-being of our patrons and staff have always been our paramount concern. To ensure a thorough investigation in cooperation with local law enforcement, we will be closing our doors today," the statement read. The club also said that its commitment to security and safety has only strengthened and that it is dedicated to maintaining a safe environment. At this time, officers said they believed the shooting stemmed from an argument and "physical altercation" inside the club that escalated. The victims, according to police, are believed to be three men and three women, all between 20 and 30 years old. Authorities have not specified which victims are among the deceased. There is no word on a suspect right now as police continue to review video from inside the club. Night scene patrons on social media are now calling for Elleven45 to be shut down, citing a history of violence. On APD's crime index, the last incident was an aggravated assault in Nov. 2023. 11Alive covered a shooting back in 2020. Shortly after, this petition was created to close the lounge, with over 4,000 signatures.

A 31-year-old man is dead after a shooting in a DeKalb County neighborhood Sunday morning, according to police. The deadly shooting happened on the 4000 block of Redan Road when officers responded to a person shot call around 6 a.m. When officers arrived, they found the man shot multiple times. He was then taken to the hospital, where he later died. DeKalb County Police said that it appears two men approached the victim and shot him, driving away in the victim's vehicle. The identity of the victim has not been released. No other information was released about the suspects.

Sunday afternoon gunfire in west Birmingham left two people injured, including a young child. West Precinct officers were dispatched at 1:58 p.m. to a Shot Spotter call in the 1500 block of Cullman Avenue. While en route, they were told someone had been shot. They arrived to find a man wounded. He was taken to UAB Hospital with life-threatening injuries. Minutes later -- at 2:08 p.m. -- a second victim showed up at Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service Station 16 on Avenue I in Ensley. That victim -- believed to be a young boy about 11 or 12-years-old -- also sustained serious injuries. He was taken to Childrens of Alabama. Officer Truman Fitzgerald said at least 25 shots were fired. The victims were either in a vehicle or had just arrived in a vehicle when the suspect or suspects opened fire on them. "We believe one of the victims was targeted," Fitzgerald said. No arrests have been made. "We're asking anyone in the neighborhood to come forward because we believe these victims may be father and son," Fitzgerald said. "Someone shot a father and son on Mother's Day." "Please, we need the information," he said. Fitzgerald said the latest update is that though the injuries are serious, doctors are hopeful both will survive.

Authorities are asking for the public's help in identifying the suspect in a Sunday shooting in Birmingham. The shooting happened before 7 p.m. in the 6800 block of First Avenue North, at or near the Sunoco gas station. The male victim was shot multiple times. He was taken to UAB Hospital with life-threatening injuries.

An 8-year-old girl was shot several times when at least 70 rounds were fired in Birmingham's Gate City community Sunday night. Birmingham police about 9 p.m. began receiving multiple Shot Spotter alerts from Marks Village public housing community. Those shots included nine rounds fired at 68th Street and Kimberly Avenue, 16 rounds at 67th Street and Joppa Avenue, three rounds at 68th Street and Oporto-Madrid Boulevard, four rounds at 68th Street and Joppa Avenue, 20 rounds at 67th Street and Kimberly Avenue, and nine rounds in the 400 block of Interlaken Court. Investigators believe a shootout was taking place when the 8-year-old was caught in the crossfire while in a vehicle with one of her parents. Fitzgerald said 60 to 70 people were gathered outside in the public housing community at numerous Mother's Day or family gatherings. "We have a suspect or suspects who chose to fire up to 70 rounds with this many people around," he said. Fitzgerald described the scene as traumatic for many. "Pure panic," he said. "Anytime you have that many rounds fired, bullets do not have a name." "We've got multiple officers here from different precincts to help us out with crowd control and to help preserve the scene," he said. No arrests have been made. Police are asking anyone with information to come forward. Fitzgerald said the young victim is expected to survive but said she was shot at least twice. According to the initial dispatch of the shooting, the child was shot in the head, but Fitzgerald did not confirm the location of her wounds.

A Mobile man suspected in a rash of auto burglaries in the area was arrested Monday, but not before leading police on a chase in which the suspect crashed into a police car and three other vehicles. Mobile police said officers were investigating the auto burglaries in west Mobile Monday afternoon when they spotted a vehicle involved in one of the incidents. Officers attempted to initiate a traffic stop, but the vehicle fled the scene, crashing into a police patrol car. Three more vehicles were struck before the suspect wrecked at the intersection of Three Notch Road and Highway 90. One person was taken to a local hospital for treatment. The suspect, identified as 24-year-old Vincent Parnell Sandifer, has been charged with 30 counts of auto burglary, two counts of criminal mischief, possession of marijuana, possession of a controlled substance, reckless endangerment and attempting to elude police. Court records show Sandifer is a convicted felon, having pleaded guilty in 2018 burglary and animal cruelty after breaking into a man's home, armed with a handgun, and shooting the man's dog in the head. He was sentenced to 10 years in prison, but only served six months.

The South Carolina Law Enforcement Division is investigating a shooting involving a police officer in the Upstate, the agency announced Friday. The Greenville County Sheriff's Office and agents with the Department of Homeland Security were attempting to apprehend James Edgar Hopkins, 51, for outstanding warrants on Monday in Greenville County. Officers located Hopkins outside a hotel on Wade Hampton Boulevard in Greenville, officials said. Hopkins was armed with a knife. According to SLED, officers used tasers and a bean bag gun on Hopkins, who stabbed a sheriff's office K9 and ran into a nearby Bank of America parking lot. Deputies shot him. Hopkins was taken to Greenville Memorial Hospital for treatment, and the K9 was taken to an animal hospital. There was no word on the state of their injuries. No officers were injured in the incident. Because of an ongoing investigation, SLED said that no other information will be disclosed at this time.

A 25-year-old pregnant mother of two children was recently shot and killed, according to the Sumter Police Department. A family member found Keyirra Tatyana Walker's body inside her Carrol Drive home, police said Monday in a news release. That's in Sumter, in the area between U.S. 378 and U.S. 15. The relative called police after finding the unresponsive pregnant South Carolina woman at about 7:45 a.m. Monday, according to the release. The Sumter County Coroner's Office has scheduled an autopsy for this week, according to the release. There was no word if anyone, other than the suspected killer or killers, was in the home with Walker when she died. No other injuries were reported. There was no word about a shooter or shooters, or anyone else involved in the gunfire. Information about a motive for the shooting was not available. Police said the shooting is considered to be an isolated incident that most likely was carried out during the early morning hours by someone who knew Walker. No arrests have been reported by police, who are continuing to investigate the shooting.

A man is being charged with shooting into a Montgomery city garbage truck as a crew was out to pick up trash. According to court records obtained by Action 8 News, it happened at around 1:30PM Monday in the area of Woodmere Boulevard and Limestone Court, not far from the Alabama Shakespeare Festival. As the crew was picking up trash, a worker said a man came up to ask why the truck was late and why he was being recorded. Court records show that the man pulled out a gun and banged on the driver's door. As the truck was driving off, the man shot into the driver's side door, with a bullet hitting the driver's seat. No one was hurt. According to court records, the man, identified as 40-year-old Crandall Hall, has been charged with firing a gun into an occupied vehicle.

Two suspects were arrested after one person was injured in a shooting at MARTA's East Point station Tuesday morning, the second incident of serious gun violence on the train system in less than a week. The victim was taken to the hospital with injuries not considered life-threatening, MARTA police spokeswoman Sgt. Deneya Littles said. Photos from the scene showed at least 10 MARTA police vehicles outside the East Point station and sections of the bus depot roped off by yellow caution tape. MARTA operations were running as usual Tuesday morning, Littles confirmed. MARTA police are continuing to investigate the shooting. Since 2018, there have been 11 homicides on MARTA property, the agency reported, with five of those recorded last year.

Authorities are asking for the public's help identifying the suspect in a Birmingham store robbery. The holdup happened Tuesday at Gallery Smoke at 9121 Parkway East. Officer Truman Fitzgerald said the suspect robbed the clerk at gunpoint. The victim was not injured. Anyone with information is asked to call Crime Stoppers at 205-254-7777. Tipsters can remain anonymous and are eligible for a cash reward.

A man found dead in an Alcoholic Anonymous building in Tuscaloosa was the victim of a homicide, investigators announced Thursday. Russell Thomas Andrews, 62, was discovered Tuesday morning at the AA building on Jack Warner Parkway. Tuscaloosa police and the Tuscaloosa Violent Crimes Unit responded to the scene. Capt. Jack Kennedy said Andrews' death is now deemed to be criminal, but he said he does not believe there is any danger to the public. Investigators are still searching for a person of interest that was last seen last night around 10 p.m. Monday, Kennedy said. The man sought is reportedly homeless and has been in the Tuscaloosa area for several weeks. He is described as a white male, about 50 years old, with dark hair and eyes. He is believed to be 5-feet, 11-inches tall, weighing about 180 pounds. Kennedy said the man wears glasses and often wears a soft hat of some sort. He may be missing toes on one or both feet and walks with a limp. The only name for the subject known so far is "J.P." His last name could be "Patrick"

A South Carolina man was killed in a shooting and a search is underway for the person who pulled the trigger, according to the Easley Police Department. At about 5:30 a.m. Tuesday, officers responded to an Upstate home after being called about a suspicious person, officials said. Officers discovered a man's body in the yard, police said in a news release. The man was not a resident of the West B Avenue home where he was found, according to the release. After arriving, officers called both emergency medical services and ultimately the Pickens County Coroner's Office, police said. Kavyza Brown, 24, was identified as the homicide victim who was pronounced dead at the scene, according to the coroner's office. Brown had been shot in the chest, police said. No other injuries were reported. The coroner's office said Brown lived in an apartment in the 100 block of North 3rd Street, which is less than a quarter mile from where his body was found. Information about where the shooting happened was not available. There was no word about a shooter or shooters, or anyone else involved in the gunfire. Information about a motive for the shooting was not available. No arrests have been reported by police, who are continuing to investigate the shooting, along with the coroner's office and the South Carolina Law Enforcement Division. An autopsy will be scheduled, according to the coroner's office.

A 62-year-old man sitting in a wheelchair was shot to death Tuesday afternoon just off 1st Ave. N. in east Birmingham. The shooting happened just before 3 p.m. near 59th Street North, between 1st and 2nd Avenues North. The man was still in his wheelchair, with grieving family members gathered nearby, as he was pronounced dead on the scene. Police came to the scene after receiving Shot Spotter alerts and a call from someone who said a person had been shot at the location. According to Birmingham police radio communications, four suspects fled in a Chrysler 300. License plate reading cameras picked up the vehicle in downtown and then Inglenook. No arrests had been made as of 3:10 p.m. This is a developing story and will be updated.

A state trooper fatally shot a man during a car chase on a rural highway in Carroll County on Tuesday afternoon, according to the GBI. Jason Scott Fletcher, 51, of Hogansville, was identified by the state agency as the man killed during the officer-involved shooting. No law enforcement officers were injured. The incident began with Carroll sheriff's deputies investigating complaints of mail theft near the 500 block of Little New York Road in Carrollton around 3 p.m. Deputies encountered Fletcher driving and attempted to stop him, but the GBI said he refused to pull over and a chase ensued. As the chase continued toward Roopville, which is about 10 miles south of Carrollton, deputies asked the Georgia State Patrol for assistance. A GSP trooper attempted to stop Fletcher by using stop sticks, a tire deflation device, at the intersection of Ga. 5 and Banks Circle, the GBI explained. Fletcher is accused of swerving his vehicle and attempting to hit the trooper, according to the GBI. That's when the trooper fired his handgun at Fletcher, striking him, the agency said. Fletcher was taken to Tanner Medical Center in Carrollton, where he later died. This is the 25th shooting involving law enforcement the GBI has been asked to investigate so far this year and the fourth this month.

Multiple people were shot Tuesday afternoon near a northwest Atlanta shopping complex during the filming of a video, police said. At around 4:45 p.m., gunshots rang out near the 2100 block of Verbena Street. The incident location, which is just north of I-20, is across the street from an apartment complex and near KIPP Atlanta Collegiate High School in the Dixie Hills neighborhood. Police said they located a 24-year-old man with a gunshot wound to his arm and a 27-year-old man with one to his back. Both were taken to a hospital. The third victim, a 23-year-old man, had already been taken to a hospital by the time officers arrived. He had been shot in the neck, officials said. Investigators confirmed that the gunfire occurred during a video shoot. Police did not say what type of video was being filmed. All three victims were said to be alert. No other details about the incident or the alleged suspect were released. In December 2020 near the area, police said one person was injured in a shooting following an argument outside of a business. A father and son were subsequently identified as suspects and arrested. About two years prior, 30-year-old Deonta Wallace was found shot and lying between two cars in a parking lot at a apartment complex nearby, authorities said.

A man was found shot to death inside his running vehicle just off Interstate 20/59 in Bessemer Wednesday morning. A Bessemer police officer on patrol spotted the white Ford SUV in the middle of the road on the Alabama Adventure Parkway exit about 6 a.m., said Bessemer Det. Justin Burmeister. The victim was pronounced dead on the scene. Burmeister said investigators believe the shooting happened on the northbound interstate, somewhere between Interstate 459 and Alabama Adventure Parkway. The victim is Bessemer's fourth homicide this year. In all of Jefferson County, there have been 71 homicides including the four in Bessemer.

A man was shot and killed Wednesday night at a home in northwest Atlanta, police said. Atlanta Police were called out to a home along Westmoor Drive NW in the city's Washington Park neighborhood. When officers arrived, they found a man who had been shot several times. He was pronounced dead on the scene. It's unclear at this time what led up to the shooting and if there are any suspects in custody. 11Alive will update this story when we learn more about the incident.

[7/10/2024] Two children are facing charges in connection with the death of 8-year-old Noah Bush, according to Wayne County Sheriff's Office. A 10-year-old and 11-year-old will be charged "for their part" in Noah's death, Sheriff Robert Moseley said in a news release shared with First Coast News Wednesday. Noah was reported missing on May 15. About 11 hours later, police said his body was found in a pit of water in a Jesup construction area. On Monday, a "long-awaited" autopsy report revealed Noah's cause of death was drowning and there was no evidence that was consistent with a fight, the sheriff's office said. However, the sheriff's office said "due to information discovered" throughout its investigation, Noah's death was ruled a homicide. "This finding was based on the fact that one of the two juveniles whom were with Noah pushed him into the deep portion of the borrow pit they were wading in," the release states. Both children will face charges of concealing the death of another person and criminal trespassing in connection to Noah's death. The 11-year-old child will face additional charges of involuntary manslaughter and simple battery, according to the sheriff's office. Noah's family held a press conference Wednesday alongside their attorneys after meeting with the Brunswick district attorney, saying they want "adults involved" in his death to be held accountable. "I'm grateful for the arrests that were made today, but we still have a long road," said Demetrice Bush, Noah's mother. "There will be no peace until justice is served." The family hired the Davis Bozeman Johnson law firm in June to help with their own investigation. The Wayne County Sheriff's Office initially did not suspect foul play was involved, but Noah's family did not agree since he was afraid of water.

A now-former Atlanta Police Department officer allegedly shot and killed his Lyft driver overnight, police said. APD said it learned Officer Koby Minor had been arrested by the Union City Police Department on Wednesday. Later that same day, he submitted his resignation to the department, effective immediately. APD said he was already on leave due to a separate case. According to Union City Police, officers were sent to South Fulton Parkway at the intersection of Stonewall Tell Road before 1 a.m. in reference to a man being shot. When they arrived, they found the man had died from his injuries. Another man, later identified as Minor, was still at the scene. Police said the victim was giving Minor a Lyft ride to his residence when he allegedly shot the driver. Minor has been charged with murder and aggravated assault, Union City Police said. The Fulton County Medical Examiner's Office later identified the man who died as 35-year-old Reginald Folks of Atlanta. Lyft told 11Alive that they have reached out to Folks' loved ones to offer support during this time. "We stand ready to assist law enforcement with any investigation and have permanently banned the rider's account from the Lyft community," a Lyft spokesperson said. Police said that Minor was hired by the Atlanta Police Department in July 2018. At the time of his arrest, he was on unpaid administrative leave after being arrested in Milton in December 2023, an APD news release said. Jail records show those charges were for having drugs that were not in an original container and for purchasing, possessing, or having control of any controlled substance in schedule III, IV or V. APD said Minor was relieved of his department-issued firearm when he was placed on unpaid administrative leave last year. The deadly shooting is still under investigation, police said.

A Sandy Springs man walked into the city's police headquarters Wednesday afternoon and told officers he was turning himself in because he had assaulted his girlfriend and she was unresponsive, officials said. Mamadi Tambajang surrendered at about 12:45 p.m., Sandy Springs police said. Patrol units then went to Tambajang's apartment, where officers found a woman dead, according to police. No information was released about how or when the woman died, and she has not been publicly identified. Jail records indicate the fatal incident may have taken place Monday. Detectives executed search warrants at Tambajang's apartment as well as his mother's apartment, police said. No other details were released, but police said the investigation remains open. Tambajang was taken into custody on charges of murder and aggravated assault. He was booked into the Fulton County Jail on Wednesday and remains there without bond.

An officer reportedly shot and killed a gun-toting suspect after the suspect pointed the weapon at police while being tased Wednesday night in north Alabama. Athens police responded to a call of a suspect threatening a homeowner with a gun around 5:30 p.m. on Songbird Drive, the department told WHNT. Efforts by AL.com to reach Athens police and the Limestone County coroner were not immediately successful. A spokesman for the Alabama Law Enforcement Agency, which investigates instances where police officers shoot a suspect, told AL.com he had no information to confirm. The suspect discharged the gun and fled the area when officers attempted to convince him to surrender the weapon. Officers then tased the suspect, who was pointing the gun at officers while he was tased. He was then shot and killed around 7:20 p.m. Wednesday, Athens Police Chief Anthony Pressnell told WHNT. Limestone County Coroner Mike West told the station the suspect, who was not immediately publicly identified, died of multiple gunshot wounds.

Police are investigating after a man was found shot to death inside a northwest Atlanta home Wednesday night. Officers were called just before 9:30 p.m. to the 1000 block of Westmoor Drive in the Washington Park neighborhood. There, they found a man dead inside the home with several gunshot wounds. The residence is near Ollie Street and the Washington Park Natatorium, where a 17-year-old Decatur boy was found shot outside last May. The teenager died nine days later, police said. No other details were provided about what led to Wednesday's shooting or if any suspects have been identified.

A teen was found shot to death in a wooded area near his west Birmingham home late Wednesday night. West Precinct officers responded to the Ensley Highlands neighborhood at 11:23 p.m. after dispatchers received two Shot Spotter alerts in the area, one registering 18 rounds and the other indicating six rounds. The location was in the 2400 block of Avenue W. Sgt. LaQuitta Wade said when officers arrived, they encountered two people who lived in that area. They told police they had just arrived home and didn't see anything unusual or hear any shots fired. However, they reported that another family member had called them saying shots were fired outside the home. Wade said officers canvassed the area but did not find any houses or cars that appeared to be damaged by bullets. "They didn't see anything unusual," Wade said, "and they left the location." At 11:53 p.m., police were called back to the home. Wade said after officers left the first time, the family continued to investigate the area and that's when they found the victim about 15 feet into a wooded area near their house. He was unresponsive on the ground and pronounced dead by Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service. Family on the scene said the victim was 18-years-old. Wade said investigators learned a family member heard the victim on the phone engaged in an argument with someone. Soon after, shots were fired, and she did not see the victim after that. No one is in custody.

A 29-year-old man died early Thursday following an overnight shooting in Birmingham. The Jefferson County Coroner's Office identified the victim as Douglas Fitzgerald Youngblood Jr. He lived in Fairfield. The shooting happened at 11:57 p.m. Wednesday in the 5500 block of First Avenue South. Youngblood was taken to UAB Hospital where he was pronounced dead at 1:14 a.m. Circumstances surrounding the deadly shooting have not yet been made public. Youngblood was one of two people killed in the city Wednesday night, and one of three countywide on Wednesday. He is Birmingham's 50th homicide this year. Of those, five have been ruled justifiable and therefore aren't deemed criminal. In all of Jefferson County, there have been 73 homicides including the 50 in Birmingham.

An argument that started at a Midfield Family Dollar ended with shots fired at a nearby location and one woman injured. Midfield police officers were dispatched to the business in the 1000 block of Woodward Road on a shooting call, said Sgt. Michael Jeffries. They arrived to find several spent shell casings on the ground. While at that scene, officers were dispatched to a second location on a report of a person shot. They located a woman who had sustained non-life-threatening injuries. Jeffries said several people were detained and questioned at both scenes. No formal charges have been announced.

A Montgomery massage therapist was arrested Thursday and charged with two counts of sexual misconduct, announced the Alabama Board of Massage Therapy. Nicholas Vines, a licensed massage therapist and the former owner of Therapeutic Touches Massage in Montgomery, was taken into custody following an investigation into complaints sent to the board, the panel said. The board did not detail the allegations but it said the investigation revealed "Vines and his actions were considered to be a danger to public health and safety of the general public. "Resulting from those actions, an order of the board was drawn up for an emergency suspension of his licensing." Vines was taken into custody by Montgomery police, who charged him with two counts of sexual misconduct. Vines and his business were served with the suspension order April 4, which meant he could not not continue the business until a hearing is held. He surrendered his licenses temporarily on April 4 pending the board's final decision.

Two people were found shot to death Thursday inside a vehicle in Coweta County, officials said. Sheriff's deputies were called to a residential area near Hayward Bishop Court and Hayward Bishop Way regarding a man and woman unconscious in a vehicle. Investigators said they eventually determined the two were dead with apparent gunshot wounds. "At this time, it is not believed that there is further danger to the public," the sheriff's office said. No other details were provided on the shooting or an alleged suspect. The incident location is near East Coweta Middle School and about a 10-minute drive from Senoia.

DeKalb County authorities have arrested a Valley Head woman after they say she was caught in the act of stealing handmade floral arrangements from a gravesite. Sheriff Nick Welden said the 69-year-old woman has been charged with fourth degree property theft and desecration of a gravesite, both misdemeanors. She also had two outstanding failure to appear warrants, according to Welden. "It is sad that we even have laws on the books relating to this type of disgraceful act, but even worse that we have someone actually committing them," Welden said. According to the sheriff's office, authorities received a report on Thursday of a theft of Decoration Day flowers from the Painter Cemetery at the intersection of County Roads 179 and 24. The victim told authorities of an earlier theft at the same grave and had installed cameras, which captured images of a woman taking two sets of flowers early that morning, according to authorities. "An investigation by the DeKalb County Criminal Investigation Division was then opened due to the callous and heinous nature of the act," the sheriff's office said in a statement. During the investigation, a large amount of other decoration-style floral arrangements were also found at the woman's residence. According to Welden, the woman was arrested Saturday in Fort Payne without incident after she had already told investigators she was out of the state until Wednesday. Pictures of the flowers found at the woman's residence can be seen at the DeKalb County Sheriff's Office website.

A seventeen year old juvenile is charged with murder — following a shooting in Wilcox County. Authorities say 21 year old Jashawn Dickerson was found shot to death Thursday afternoon — on the 600 block of Union Grove Road. Breon Ellis has been arrested and charged in the case. Dickerson’s body has been sent to forensics for an autopsy. And the investigation into the cause of the shooting remains ongoing. “Right now it’s still pending what really took place. It’s something involving guns as far as we know so far,” said Investigator Patrick Champion. Ellis is being held in the Prince Arnold Detention Center without bond.

A suspect is in custody in a Thursday morning shooting at a Tuscaloosa apartment complex that left one person dead and another injured. Tuscaloosa police responded to a shooting about 1:30 a.m. in the 1300 block of Jame I. Harrison Parkway. That location is Brookhaven Apartments. Officers arrived to find 41-year-old Travaris Keandre Banks dead on the scene. A second victim sustained non-life-threatening injuries. Tuscaloosa Violent Crimes Capt. Jack Kennedy said Aaron Reshad Smith, 37, is charged with murder and attempted murder. Smith is being held without bond in the Tuscaloosa County Jail.

Atlanta police are trying to identify a woman who was found shot to death near an elementary school in northwest Atlanta early Thursday morning, according to authorities. Homicide commander Lt. Andrew Smith said officers were called around 5:30 a.m. to the Collier Drive and Harwell Road intersection in the Collier Heights neighborhood. The intersection is a stone’s throw from an I-285 overpass and just a quarter-mile from Usher-Collier Elementary School, where parents said graduation was happening. The woman had been shot at least three times, Smith said. “What we know right now is there was an altercation at the bus stop that resulted in her death,” he said. Investigators are still working to identify her, so it’s unclear how old she was or if she was from the area. Officials have not released any information about any suspects. “We’re going to canvass and try to solicit witnesses,” Smith said. “If anybody does have anything, call Crime Stoppers.”

A Gastonia police officer shot and injured a woman outside a Walmart Supercenter after she crashed her car into a tree, then got out and fired a gun, the city police spokesman said. The woman drove onto a median near the store on East Franklin Boulevard about 6:45 a.m. Thursday, hit the small tree, then tried to put her car into reverse, police spokesman Bill McGinty said. Someone who saw it tried to help her, and she got out of her car and fired a gun, McGinty said. It was not immediately clear if she was aiming at anything or if she fired into the air. Three children, ages 10, 7 and 1, were in her car, he said. A police officer who arrived shot the woman once, and her injuries are not believed to be life-threatening, McGinty said. The North Carolina State Bureau of Investigation is investigating. The names of the officer and the woman were not released.

An Indiana man was detained for allegedly sexually assaulting his co-worker Thursday night at a traveling fair near Fultondale Elementary School, police said Friday. While detaining Michael Wiley, 34, of Evansville, Indiana, Fultondale police learned Wiley had outstanding warrants out of Gallatin County, Illinois for two counts of predatory criminal sexual assault of a child and 13 counts of aggravated criminal sexual abuse. Officers were dispatched to the Ultimate Fair in front of Fultondale Elementary School at 11:53 p.m. Thursday on an alleged sexual assault. Wiley and the victim were employees of the fair, police said. Fultondale detectives obtained a fugitive from justice warrant for Wiley, who is being held pending extradition.

At least one person was injured Friday during a shooting involving police in Cobb County, officials said. Few details were immediately available, but police spokesman Eric Smith confirmed gunfire occurred along Old Floyd Road near Fontaine Road. The area is just north of Veterans Memorial Highway in Mableton. The incident has been classified as an officer-involved shooting. Smith did not say if the person injured was an officer or someone police had encountered. Their condition was also not provided. According to Channel 2 Action News, at least two patrol cars appeared to have crashed into a charred box truck. Officer-involved shooting is a term used by the GBI and can be broadly applied in any number of situations. The Atlanta Journal-Constitution will update this language as more details emerge. A passenger in a vehicle was killed early Saturday after several men opened fire in northwest Atlanta, authorities said. The shooting happened near a store and an apartment complex off Center Street shortly after 2 a.m. A 21-year-old woman was pronounced dead near the original crime scene after the driver called 911 from a nearby location, police said. A toddler belonging to the woman was also inside the vehicle at the time and was not injured, officials stated. The driver was said to be unharmed. Surveillance footage from the store near the incident location appeared to show the gunfire. "From the surveillance video that we viewed, the vehicle was traveling down Center Street and three males opened fire as the vehicle drives by, striking the vehicle," police spokesman Lt. Andrew Smith told Channel 2 Action News. Police confirmed the shooting was targeted but did not say if the bullets were intended for the woman. No other details were provided.

An early morning stabbing in the Midlands left a South Carolina man dead, the Sumter Police Department said. Officers were responding to a domestic-related stabbing just before 3 a.m. Friday when they found a man dead in the road on Broad Street and Broad Court near a residential area in Sumter. A 34-year-old woman who police said was involved in the stabbing approached officers as they arrived at the scene. She was treated for minor injuries and is being interviewed by detectives. The man was identified as 52-year-old Joseph Marion Croft of Camden Highway. His next of kin was notified by the Sumter County Coroner's Office. An autopsy is scheduled for Tuesday. Police are continuing to investigate the stabbing.

An investigation is underway after a man was found dead Friday evening in Birmingham. The victim was found in the 1500 block of Vanderbilt Road at 5:14 p.m. Initially the death was unclassified, but the Jefferson County Coroner's Office deemed it a homicide. Chief Deputy Coroner Bill Yates said the victim had been shot. He was an adult Black male, but authorities have not yet identified him. The man is Birmingham's 50th homicide this year. Of those, five have been ruled justifiable and therefore aren't deemed criminal.

Mobile police identified Saturday the victim of a fatal Friday night shooting at a Mobile barbershop and are investigating whether the shooter may have acted in self-defense. According to police, 24-year-old Alfred Hector was shot and killed sometime around 5:35 p.m. inside Baggz on Da Fade at 2300 St. Stephens Road. Hector was inside the business at the time he was shot and was then transported to a local hospital where he was pronounced dead. Police say they identified the suspected shooter who was still at the barbershop when they arrived. The subject “may have acted in self-defense when he shot” Hector, according to police, who are not releasing the shooter’s name. The investigation is ongoing.

A 12-year-old boy was shot multiple times in northwest Atlanta on Friday, police said. Officers were called to an area near Martin Luther King Jr. and Hamilton E. Holmes drives shortly after 6 p.m. regarding a person shot. At the scene, officers said they found the boy with multiple gunshot wounds to the abdomen and arm. The boy was said to be alert and taken to a hospital. Investigators said they later learned that the shooting happened in the 2200 block of Martin Luther King Jr. Drive, but no other details were released. There are two gas stations and a smoke shop in the area.

Authorities have released the name of a man who was killed in a shooting that also sent a woman and an infant girl to the hospital Friday night in Birmingham. The Jefferson County Coroner's Office on Monday identified the victim as Gabriel Deamontae Bester. He was 25. The investigation began at 6:10 p.m. when South Precinct officers were dispatched to a report of a person shot at Glenwood Park near the 1500 block of Coosa Street. Police and Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service arrived to be told that someone was shot inside a vehicle that had crashed into a pond. They were alerted to the vehicle by community members. Officer Truman Fitzgerald said investigators believe the three were traveling on Interstate 59 southbound near the Tallapoosa Street exit when their vehicle left the roadway. Officers entered the pond and made their way to a Red Dodge Charger that was partially submerged in water. "Our officers then had to tread water to get into that vehicle," Fitzgerald said. They found the victims still inside the car. Bester was pronounced dead on the scene at 7:09 p.m. The woman was taken to UAB hospital with life-threatening injuries. Authorities on Monday said she is conscious and in stable condition. The infant sustained trauma from the crash but was not shot. She was taken to Children's of Alabama and is expected to be released from the hospital today. "Her main concern was her baby, just like you would expect from a mother," Fitzgerald said of the second injured victim. It was unknown whether the victims were targeted or were innocent bystanders. As of Monday, authorities had not yet confirmed where the shots were fired.

A South Carolina teen died Friday and a juvenile received non-life-threatening injuries in a shooting in Chester, officials said. DeMarcus J. Sanders, 19, was shot Friday before 7 p.m. at a park on Odom Street, said William Petty, Chester Police Department chief. He died later at Piedmont Medical Center in Rock Hill, according to Petty and Chester County Coroner Terry Tinker. A 17-year-old male who has not been identified also was shot in the leg, Petty said. That juvenile's injuries are not believed to be life-threatening, Petty said. No arrests have been made, Petty said Monday. Chester police and the State Law Enforcement Division are investigating. A Chester police incident report stated a person who called 911 told officials the shots came from a car. No other details about the shooting have been released.

Mobile police are investigating the shooting death of a 19-year-old man Friday at an apartment complex. According to police, Tramell Williams was found suffering from a gunshot wound inside a parked vehicle around 10:55 p.m. at 3125 Government Boulevard. Another man, who remains unidentified, was also found suffering from a gunshot wound while seated in the same vehicle. Both victims were transported to a local hospital for their injuries. Williams was eventually pronounced dead. The other victim's condition is unknown. Mobile police determined that the shooting occurred earlier in the night at an apartment complex at 601 Village Green Drive E.

The Lexington County Sheriff's Department investigated a shooting at a home in Columbia on Saturday afternoon. Someone called 911 to report that a woman shot a man she knew at a home in the 100 block of Leslie Loch Lane, the sheriff's department said. That's in an area of Lexington County where Columbia and Irmo border each other. The caller said the shooting victim was on the way to the hospital. As of late Saturday night, the victim was still hospitalized, according to the sheriff's department. Chrystal Gordon, 20, was charged with domestic violence of a high and aggravated nature, and possession of a weapon during a violent crime, the sheriff's department said. No bond has been set for Gordon, who's being held in the Lexington County Detention Center, jail records show. Deputies investigated the scene where they interviewed witnesses in addition to going to the hospital to find out more about the shooting.

A mother was shot dead in front of her child on Saturday morning in Atlanta's Carey Park neighborhood, according to the Atlanta Police Department. It happened around 2 a.m., and police officers were called to Hollywood Road Northwest. When they arrived, officers reported that 21-year-old Nejha Cox was found shot around the corner. A crime scene was later located on the 2500 block of Center St. NW. Officers initially said surveillance video showed that people inside another car shot the woman who was sitting in the passenger seat. APD said later they were searching for 3 men who were on foot while she was in the passenger seat. Police added that her child was also in the car during the shooting and that they believe the shooting was targeted. APD is still reviewing the video and looking for other evidence. According to Atlanta Police crime mapping data, the Carey Park neighborhood has been the scene of five aggravated assaults since March of this year. One resident who did not want to be identified told 11Alive that after living in the neighborhood for about 10 years, violence is a way of life in the area. "Killing, shooting, stabbing a lot. Children not even safe to play in the street they barely have a playground because guess what? The adults take over the playground and want to shoot in broad daylight," the resident said.

Kennesaw State University is offering counseling resources after a student was fatally shot Saturday, briefly sending the campus into a lockdown Saturday. “Please reach out,” KSU Student Affairs said in a social media post. An “armed intruder” was reported on the Kennesaw campus shortly after 4 p.m., authorities stated. Less than an hour later, school officials gave the all-clear. The lockdown came to an end after a woman was shot near the South Campus housing area. The victim was identified as a student, but her name was not released. “There is no threat to the campus community,” college spokesperson Tammy DeMel said. A suspect was detained. The GBI confirmed to The Atlanta Journal-Constitution that they were asked to respond to the campus but did not provide additional information.

An investigation is ongoing after a man was shot and seriously injured in Birmingham Saturday night. The shooting happened about 7:45 p.m. in the 600 block of 10th Street S.W. That is near Princeton Baptist Medical Center. Officers Truman Fitzgerald said the victim suffered life-threatening injuries. A suspect is in custody. No additional information has been released.

Two people were wounded when gunfire erupted Saturday night in Tuscaloosa. The shooting happened at Brookhaven Apartments on James I. Harrison Parkway where a double shooting happened just three days ago, leaving one man dead. Tuscaloosa police responded at 9:30 p.m. Saturday to the complex after they received information that two shooting victims showed up at the hospital, said Tuscaloosa Violent Crimes Unit Capt. Jack Kennedy. The initial investigation showed one person was the initial aggressor and shot the other person. Gunfire was exchanged, and the aggressor was also injured at some point. Both sustained non-life-threatening injuries. Kennedy said the investigation is ongoing. On Thursday, police were dispatched to Brookhaven about 1:30 a.m. They arrived to find 41-year-old Travaris Keandre Banks dead on the scene. A second victim sustained non-life-threatening injuries. Aaron Reshad Smith, 37, is charged with murder and attempted murder in that case. Kennedy on Sunday said there is no indication the that two shootings are linked in anyway.

Raleigh police said Sunday they're investigating two shootings — one of the fatal — that happened about an hour apart not far from N.C. State University's McKimmon Center. Each shooting resulted in a male victim being taken to the hospital with serious injuries. The first happened at approximately 11:49 p.m. Saturday, where Sherman Avenue and Clanton Street intersect. The victim of that shooting, Joris Cooper, 22, later died from his injuries and the death is being investigated as a homicide, police said Sunday afternoon. Raleigh police responded to the second shooting at Sherman Avenue and Gorman Street, an intersection two blocks away, at 12:50 a.m. Sunday. Police initially said the shooting happened at 1:50 a.m. Sherman Avenue runs parallel to Western Boulevard, a busy thoroughfare with restaurants and retail stores. Police said in a news release "it is unknown if the two incidents are related." N.C. State police are assisting with the investigation into both shootings.

A 46-year-old man was shot and killed overnight at a convenience store and another man is in jail, the Columbia Police Department said Sunday. Joseph Kennedy, 35, was charged with murder and possession of a weapon during a violent crime, according to police. Columbia resident Jevon Belton was identified as the victim, Richland County Coroner Naida Rutherford said. At about 12:30 a.m., officers responded to the EZ Spot convenience store/gas station at 3213 Farrow Road, police said. That's near the intersection with West Beltline Boulevard in the Colonial Heights area. Belton was taken to an area hospital where he was pronounced dead, according to police. No other injuries were reported. Police did not say if the shooting happened inside of the store or elsewhere on the property. At 11:50 p.m., police said they arrested Kennedy, who was taken to the Alvin S. Glenn Detention Center. No bond has been set and Kennedy remains behind bars, jail records show. Officers said they believe the shooting stemmed from an isolated argument, according to police. Information about why Belton and Kennedy were arguing, or if they knew each other prior to the shooting, was not available.

Two teenagers are recovering after being shot at a party in DeKalb County overnight, police said. According to the DeKalb County Police Department, officers responded to the 400 block of Aberdeen Drive in reference to a person shot shortly after 12:40 a.m. When they arrived, they found a 16-year-old girl with a gunshot wound to the leg. She was sent to the hospital with non-life-threatening injuries. Shortly after, police were notified of a 15-year-old boy who arrived at a local hospital with a non-life-threatening gunshot wound to his leg. He was confirmed to have left the same location. Preliminary information indicates there was a party with numerous people present when a dispute happened. This led to shots fired by several subjects -- resulting in the injuries, police said. This is an active investigation.

A man was found shot to death inside a parked vehicle at a Gwinnett County strip mall early Sunday morning, according to authorities. Gwinnett County police responded around 3:15 a.m. to the shooting at the Indian Trail Court plaza, where officers came across the victim inside a parked vehicle. The strip mall, located in the 800 block of Indian Trail Lilburn Road near Burns Road, is home to several restaurants and stores. Police said the incident began on Indian Trail between Burns and Dickens Roads and ended in the parking lot of the strip mall. Because the victim's family has not been notified, police did not release his name. No other details were shared by police on what led up to the shooting, or if any arrests had been made. Authorities said a motive for the shooting is still under investigation. "The detectives are working to put the incident together to know when and how the incident took place," a Gwinnett police spokesperson told The Atlanta Journal-Constitution. "I do not know if the vehicle sustained damage from penetrating bullets or not."

A woman was shot and killed on I-20 near Atlanta's Downtown Connector on Sunday morning, police said. According to the Atlanta Police Department, officers responded to a person shot call at a local hospital before 6 a.m. When they arrived, officers were advised that a 34-year-old woman had arrived at the hospital suffering from several gunshot wounds. Despite life-saving efforts, she was pronounced dead by medical personnel. The woman has yet to be identified. The incident occurred on the I-20 eastbound expressway at the I-75/85 Downtown Connector, police said. This is an active investigation, and 11Alive will update this story once we receive more information.

A 41-year-old Rogersville man is being held in the Lauderdale County Detention Center on multiple charges of child sexual abuse. Lauderdale County deputies on Monday arrested Wesley Allen Parker after a Lauderdale County grand jury returned an indictment, according to Sheriff Joe Hamilton. Parker faces two counts of first degree rape, two counts of incest, three counts of first degree sodomy and two counts of sexual abuse of a child under the age of 12. According to court records, the offenses involve two victims. Parker is currently being held on $430,000 bond.

City of South Fulton Police are looking for burglary suspects after they allegedly cut a hole in the wall and stole $15,000 worth of wigs and other items from a beauty supply store. It happened on Monday at the Beauty Master store located on Old National Highway. Police said the suspects allegedly cut the hole in the wall from a vacant neighboring suite. Authorities added that they stole wigs, lashes, and suitcases. Law enforcement describes the suspects as two men, one of whom is wearing a black Wilson hoodie, orange mask, black pants, and blue shoes. The other man was seen wearing black pants, a black long-sleeve shirt, and a white mask with the 8-ball symbol. Police released surveillance footage of the suspects, which shows the two enter into a supply closet. The video stops right before the alleged theft.

A murder investigation is underway in Dallas County — following a shooting early Monday morning in Valley Grande. Sheriff Mike Granthum says the shooting happened after midnight at a house on the 3700 block of Hilandale Drive. Granthum says 21 year old Genesis Barnett of Selma was shot and killed. And 19 year old — Remarion Coleman of Selma — has been arrested and charged in the case. “All indications lead there was some kind of argument. There’s a small, little party going on at the house. One subject kind of strayed away from the area and the next thing you know gunshots. Over 20 gunshots were fired. It’s crazy. In a neighborhood,” said Granthum. The investigation remains ongoing — and more arrests in the case — are possible.

A man is now in custody and is facing multiple charges after police responded to an hours-long hostage situation at the Alta Ridgewalk Apartments in Woodstock early Monday morning. In an afternoon update, Woodstock Police said they received a call from a woman stating that her boyfriend was armed with a gun and holding her inside their apartment. According to police, the situation happened near the outlet mall off I-575, in the area of Brandon Street and Ridge Trail. The situation happened from about 1 a.m. until 9:30 a.m., holding up traffic and restricting access to the area. In addition, neighbors who spoke to 11Alive described hearing noises starting around 1 a.m. on Monday before looking outside to notice officials in SWAT gear. An ambulance and a tactile vehicle were also seen at the complex. The suspect refused to speak with negotiators, leading SWAT members to enter the apartment. Officers stated there was no active threat to the public and that no one was hurt in the incident. 11Alive’s Skytracker flew over the scene, where officers with Woodstock Police and members of the Cherokee County Sheriff’s Office were spotted. One resident 11Alive spoke with described the shock of seeing officers swarm the complex over the course of the morning. “As a parent, it’s very frightening. I’m glad to see there were no children involved in the situation,” he added. The whole situation came to an end around 9:30 a.m. “The Woodstock Police Department acted quickly and decisively to resolve this volatile situation,” stated Woodstock Police Chief Robert Jones. “Working with the Cherokee County Sheriff’s Office, we were able to expediently bring this to a peaceful end.” Police said the suspect is being charged with kidnapping, aggravated assault and false imprisonment.

Haynes Bridge Middle School is on lockdown as police search for two home invasion suspects on Monday afternoon, according to police. Authorities added that the school is only on lockdown as a precaution and suspects are not on the school's property. Meanwhile, residents are being asked to avoid the Big Creek Greenway area, and those who live near the area are asked to stay indoors while police conduct their search. Alpharetta police said the search stems from the incident, which happened earlier in the day. Early information shows that police got a call around 11:40 Monday morning about a burglary in process at a home off Highgrove Club Drive in Milton. Police said the suspects drove off from the home in one of the victim's vehicles. Police later found that stolen vehicle abandoned in Alpharetta, near North Point Parkway and the school. Police said the suspects got out of the car and headed in the direction toward Big Creek Greenway, prompting the lockdowns. Authorities with Alpharetta and Milton police are now searching for the suspects on the ground and in the air with helicopters. Few details about the suspects have been released, however police said one of the men was not wearing a shirt, had tattoos on his chest, and was wearing wet black pants. No other details were released.

A man who was the unintended target of a shooting was caught in a crossfire and killed, the Sumter Police Department said. Now a search is underway for the shooters that opened fire from two separate vehicles. The shooting happened Monday afternoon, police said in a news release. At about 12:30 p.m., officers responded to calls about gunfire from two cars driving on North Purdy Street, near Broad Street. As officers made their way to the downtown area of Sumter, police said they also learned of a nearby vehicle that veered off the road but was not involved in firing shots. Officers found the driver of that vehicle, learned he had been shot and provided care at the scene. The driver was taken to a local hospital, where he died Tuesday, police said. The Sumter County Coroner's Office has not publicly identified the victim, but an autopsy has been scheduled, according to the release. No other injuries were reported. There was no word about the shooters, or who pulled a trigger that killed the victim. Information about a motive for the shooting was not available. No arrests have been reported, but police are continuing to investigate. Police are asking the public for any information describing the vehicles and those involved in the shooting.

One brother is dead, and another in custody following a dispute Monday in Birmingham's Norwood community. Birmingham police Monday night identified the victim as Demarcus Moore. He was 37. North Precinct officers were dispatched just before 5 p.m. to the 3400 block of 17th Avenue North on a trespassing call. Once they arrived in the area, they found out it was much more. Moore was unresponsive in the yard of a house. Officer Truman Fitzgerald said it was immediately apparent he had been shot. Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service pronounced him dead on the scene. Moore was found several houses away from the initial trespass call. Fitzgerald said the shots may have been fired where the victim was found. "We believe there was a domestic disturbance at a residence between a brother and another brother," Fitzgerald said. "Some sort of argument took place and a brother shot and killed his brother." The shooter remained on the scene and was detained for questioning. He is being held in the Birmingham City Jail on a 48-hour hold while the probe continues. Once the investigation is finished, the evidence will then be presented to the Jefferson County District Attorney's Office to determine if criminal charges will be filed. "From speaking to our patrol officers on the scene, they are familiar with the family, familiar with the victim," Fitzgerald said. "It's unknown what possibly could have led to this brother killing his own brother."

Police are searching for a homicide suspect more than a week after a man was found with a fatal gunshot wound in a residential area of Forest Park, officials said. Officers responded to a shooting call in the 4700 block of Burks Road just after 10:15 p.m. May 20, Forest Park police said. They found an unresponsive man, later identified as John Donahue, suffering from a gunshot wound. An investigator with the Clayton County Medical Examiner's Office pronounced Donahue dead soon after arriving, police said. No further information about the shooting was released, but the investigation remains active. Investigators have asked for help from the public as they work to identify a suspect.

Four people were shot overnight, leaving one dead, on Auburn Avenue, just a few blocks away from Grady Hospital. This happened just before midnight Monday, according to Atlanta Police. Thus far, we've learned this happened outside a business that had not yet opened. 11Alive crews spotted a sign indicating a club or lounge would be coming soon, and people were there for a pre-opening meeting. Atlanta Police have told us that a man associated with the business came out to walk to his car and found three others trying to break into it. When he tried confronting that group, they started shooting. Officers have also told us that the person killed was one of the suspects trying to break into the car. The other three victims are apparently at Grady in stable condition. At this time, no one's identity has been revealed by police.

The Irmo Police Department said one of its officers was fired after he was arrested on a domestic violence charge. Officer Brandon McLaurin was arrested Tuesday following an altercation at his home in the New Friarsgate subdivision, police said in a news release. As of 10 a.m., McLaurin was not listed on the Alvin S. Glenn Detention Center's inmate roster, and there was no word about his bond status. McLaurin was off-duty at the time of the assault, according to the release. After learning about the domestic violence incident, McLaurin was "immediately terminated," police said. He had been with the Irmo Police Department since May 2019, according to the release. "We hold our officers to the highest standards of conduct, both on- and off-duty," Police Chief Bobby Dale said in the release. "The alleged actions of Officer McLaurin are deeply concerning and do not reflect the values of our department." Information about the assault, and the number of people involved, was not available. No injuries were reported by police. There was no word about how police learned of the assault. The Richland County Sheriff's Department is leading the investigation. Irmo police said they are "fully cooperating with the ongoing investigation." "The Irmo Police Department remains dedicated to serving and protecting the community, and it is committed to maintaining transparency and accountability in all its operations," police said.

A woman was found slain on the front porch of an Inglenook home. The discovery was made about 2 p.m. Tuesday in the 4400 block of 44th Avenue North. A nearby resident spotted the woman unresponsive on the porch and called 911. East Precinct officers and Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service responded, and the woman was pronounced dead. “Our officers observed signs of trauma on the victim that led us to believe this is a homicide investigation,” said Officer Truman Fitzgerald. The Jefferson County Coroner’s Office will perform an autopsy to determine the cause of the woman’s death. Authorities have not said when they believe the killing happened but said the victim could have been on the front porch for a couple of days. “This did not just happen,” Fitzgerald said. “We do not think this was a random incident,” Fitzgerald said. “We think it’s isolated and our detectives are working to get the person responsible for this into custody.” Fitzgerald said he wasn’t yet sure if the woman lived at the home where she was found.

[5/25/2024] A Columbia man was arrested and charged with murder in connection with a fatal shooting earlier in the week, the Lexington County Sheriff’s Department said. Johnnie Quawnetel Mack, 34, was charged with murder, possession of a weapon during a violent crime and possession of a firearm by a convicted felon, according to arrest warrants. He turned himself in Thursday night. Based on interviews with witnesses, the shooting happened following an “incident” between Mack and the victim on Tuesday evening at a residential area in the 2400 block of Glenn Road in Gaston, Sheriff Jay Koon said. Mack then returned to the home on Glen Road later that evening and fired multiple shots at the victim. Lexington County Coroner Margaret Fisher identified the victim as 53-year-old John Darrick Rumph. Rumph was pronounced dead at the scene. He was shot once in the upper body. Mack is being held at the Lexington County Detention Center. A magistrate judge denied him bond Friday.

Fort Mill police charged two women with animal cruelty after a complaint about dogs fighting led police to malnourished animals. Police responded to 400 Unity St. a little after noon Tuesday, according to a police report. A witness told them dogs were fighting in the backyard and that one dog bit a puppy in the neck, the report states. Officers found multiple dogs, including what appeared to be a dead puppy in the middle of the yard. Multiple animals appeared to be malnourished and living in “deplorable living conditions,” according to the report. York County Animal Control came to take custody of what police described as a large number of dogs and other animals. The two women at the residence, Bianca Derboghosian, 34, and Megan Elizabeth Kerr, 26, face two counts of animal cruelty. Both were arrested Wednesday. The case remains under investigation.

A man has been charged with breaking into a Montgomery Dollar Tree store and stealing items. Court records say 43-year-old Timothy James Carroll of Ramer is charged with third-degree burglary. He is being held on $5,000 bond. Court records show Carroll broke into the Dollar Tree in the 400 block of East South Boulevard at around 12:21 this morning. That location is near Norman Bridge Road. Those records indicate Carroll was caught on video inside the store stealing several items. Officers later found him wearing the same clothes as the person in the video. They have recovered the stolen items.

A Montgomery man has been arrested after a robbery at a fast food restaurant. Court records show 21-year-old Quadarius Bailey has been charged with first-degree robbery. He is being held without bond. According to those court records, at about 12:41AM today, Bailey walked up to the drive-through window at the Checkers on Coliseum Boulevard, pulled out a gun and demanded money. Court records show the victim gave him about $60 before Bailey left on foot.

A South Carolina man faces attempted murder and assault charges for allegedly shooting two people in a car during Tuesday's afternoon commute in Rock Hill, police said. The shooting happened around 5 p.m. in the 100 block of Herlong Avenue, according to the Rock Hill Police Department. The area is a commercial strip close to the intersection of Ebenezer Road. Lamarius Devon Howze, 22, of Rock Hill, is charged with attempted murder, assault and battery of a high and aggravated nature, shooting into an occupied vehicle and possession of a weapon during a violent crime, according to police and court records. A different 22-year-old man whose name hasn't been released suffered serious injuries when he was shot in the mouth, police said. A 20-year-old woman in the same car was grazed by the gunfire. No one else was hurt, Rock Hill police Lt. Michael Chavis said Wednesday morning. Howze and the man knew each other and argued in a parking lot before the other man pulled out a gun, police said in a statement. Howze took the gun from the other man, then fired at the car as it drove away, police said. Officers arrested Howze afterward on South Cherry Road, Chavis said. Police recovered the pistol used in the shooting, Chavis said. The shooting remains under investigation.

An investigation is underway after a child and an adult were injured when a vehicle was shot into Tuesday night. Few details are available, but police said the incident involved shots fired into an occupied vehicle. Officer Truman Fitzgerald said a 4-year-old was shot, but the injury was not life-threatening. It wasn't immediately confirmed where the shooting took place. Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service transported the victim from Princeton Baptist Medical to Children's of Alabama at 6:53 p.m. An adult was also injured, possibly by glass breakage in the vehicle.

Durham police are investigating after a man was found shot to death Tuesday night in a parking lot on Guess Road. The killing comes as shootings this year in Durham are up sharply compared to 2023, though not as high as in 2022. Officers responded shortly after 8:30 p.m. Tuesday to the shooting in the 1500 block of Guess Road in the Walltown neighborhood and found the man outside a local business. He was pronounced dead at the scene. His name has not been released. As of May 18, the most recent statistics available, there had been 17 reported homicides in Durham this year. That was down from 19 homicides by the same time last year and up from 16 homicides the year before that.

Montgomery police are investigating a shooting near Taylor Road that left a man injured. Police Maj. Saba Coleman told Action 8 News that officers were called to the 3400 block of Malcolm Drive last night at about 10:20PM. That location is behind Tipico De Mexico and Max Credit Union. Coleman said officers found a man with what police call a non-life threatening gunshot wound. Police say the man told them that the shooter demanded money from him, and when he refused, he was shot. The man was taken to a hospital for treatment. Police have released no other information.

A man and a woman were shot while driving on I-20 West near the start of Wednesday morning's commute, according to Atlanta police. Officers got the call just after 5 a.m. It happened at exit 54 for Langhorn Street between the West End and Westview neighborhoods near downtown Atlanta. When police arrived, they found a 39-year-old man and a 34-year-old woman. They were described as stable and taken to a hospital by ambulance.

A person is now dead, and the alleged shooter has been detained after a shooting at a Fairburn subdivision on Wednesday afternoon, according to police. The Fairburn Police Department called the Georgia Bureau of Investigation to investigate the incident. GBI agents contacted 11Alive, confirming they were processing a scene, but they did not release any other details at this time. Fairburn Police said that the deadly incident happened at the Fairways at Durham Lakes subdivision on Castle Rock starting at 4:30 a.m. Authorities are still on the scene. Authorities added that it was an isolated incident and that they do not believe the community is under any immediate threat. 11Alive SkyTracker flew over the scene where multiple patrol cars and a GBI truck surrounded what appeared to be a van. Crime scene tape is also set up around the van. Police did not release any information on the suspect or the person who died.

A woman was arrested Wednesday, a week after her boyfriend was killed in DeKalb County, police said. Trenisia Perry, 22, was spotted driving a silver Chrysler 200 down Panola Road and then stopping in a residential area on Marbut Forest Drive. She was taken into custody without incident and booked into the DeKalb jail on a charge of murder, authorities stated. After her arrest, officials said she confessed to killing 23-year-old Cortez Roberson on May 22. Police said the two were dating at the time of the stabbing. The incident took place shortly after 1 p.m. in the 1700 block of South Deshon Road, about four miles from where Perry was arrested. Police said they responded to the scene and located Roberson with a stab wound to his back. Roberson was taken to a hospital, where he later died. Officials did not say what led to the stabbing.

Several individuals have shown up to their storage units at Extra Space Storage in Northwest Atlanta to find their units ransacked and many of their belongings missing. Atlanta Police said officers responded to the facility on Bishop Street recently for several burglaries. The break-ins happened towards the end of April and the first week of May. Police have released pictures and video taken from the surveillance system inside the building. The men can be seen using the elevator and then loading the stolen items into a black BMW SUV. One of their victims, Adam Horne, reached out to 11Alive looking for help in possibly getting some of his things back including thousands of dollars in DJ equipment and his collection of Jordan tennis shoes. "This is affecting my business; I worked hard," Horne explained. He's better known around the city as DJ Blak Magic, a celebrity DJ who has spent years purchasing his equipment. "I've been doing this for over 15 years," he said. Horne added, "Man equipment is expensive, like one turn table costs about $2000, the speakers are about $2000 as well." Horne said he had no idea his unit was burglarized until he showed up before a gig to pick up his equipment. When he showed up, he noticed a lock on his storage unit, but it wasn't his lock. "I went to the front desk. That conversation was just, oh, we just noticed there wasn't a lock on there, and we put it on there," Horne said. However, he asked, "If you put the lock on there, why wasn't I notified?" He said they really had no answer for him, and he has yet to receive a response from the company. On Wednesday, Horne met us at the storage facility, where he pointed out that the doors at both loading bays were propped open. He said anyone off the street could walk through the doors and have immediate access to the storage units. He said he didn't know the other victims. "We're off on [6/21/2024] The Colbert County Sheriff's Office is looking for a man who they say broke into a waterfront house and apparently made off with items he crammed into a kayak. According to the sheriff's office, deputies received a call of burglary on May 23 in the Riverton Rose Trail community. They arrived on the scene to find that the residence had been broken into and several items taken. Home surveillance video captured several images of the suspect involved, they said. The images show a blonde man with a slim build and arm tattoos, wearing in a red hoodie with multicolored stripes down the left sleeve. Once the man was confronted, he fled on a yellow kayak down the Tennessee River with the stolen items visible from shore, his leg keeping them secured inside. According to investigators, the man is believed to be staying in the Waterloo area of Lauderdale County.

The Gwinnett County Police Department is asking for the public's help with identifying an armed robbery suspect. Officers say on May 23, the suspect entered the Lucky Lotto Food Plus at 4142 Jimmy Carter Boulevard in unincorporated Norcross. They say the suspect ordered the victim to lock the door and that's when he began striking the man multiple times with a stun gun. The victim was also thrown to the ground and kicked in the head, which caused the victim to lose consciousness, according to the department. Police say the suspect took $1,000 in cash and then ran off toward the city of Lilburn. Anyone with information on this case is asked to contact GCPD detectives at 770.513.5300. To remain anonymous, tipsters should contact Crime Stoppers at 404.577.TIPS (8477) or visit www.stopcrimeATL.com. Crime Stoppers tipsters can receive a cash reward for information leading to an arrest and indictment in this case.

An investigation is underway after a shooting in Bessemer left a man and woman injured early Thursday. The initial call to 911 also reported that the woman's child had been kidnapped, but the 7-year-old was found unharmed nearby. Investigators don't know if the child was taken or just ran from the home when gunfire erupted. The shooting happened at 5:54 a.m. at a home in the 1300 block of Fairfax Avenue. Bessemer police Det. Justin Burmeister said officers arrived to find the two victims wounded. Both were able to talk to police on the scene before they were transported to the hospital. While officers were at scene, a citizen found the child two blocks away. The child was brought back to the residence and is with other family members. Burmeister said investigators know the identity of the shooter and are searching for him. The suspect and the female victim know each other, but he wasn't yet sure of the possible relationship between the suspect and the victims.

A 10-year-old boy was taken to the hospital after he was shot Wednesday night in East Lake Park, police said. Just after 6:10 p.m. Wednesday, Birmingham police officers with the department's East Precinct were dispatched to a call of a juvenile shot in the 8100 block of 4th Avenue North, said Officer Truman Fitzgerald. Officers arrived in the 100 block of 84th Street North, which is connected to the park. Officers found a 10-year-old boy suffering from a gunshot wound to his arm, said Fitzgerald. Birmingham Fire & Rescue Service personnel took the boy to Children's Hospital. "We believe he has a non-life-threatening injury," Fitzgerald said. The preliminary investigation revealed the boy and his mother were walking inside the park, possibly near the walking track, when the child felt pain and his mother realized he had been shot, Fitzgerald said. "We are extremely thankful the mom and the child went over to where there was either football or cheerleading practice taking place, and the parents there immediately rendered aid to the child," Fitzgerald said, "and they consoled the mom and they consoled the child until police and fire got here." Those parents "played a tremendous part" in giving aid to the victim, Fitzgerald said. Police do not believe the boy or his mom were targeted. "We think this possibly could have been the child was caught in the crossfire," Fitzgerald said. Anyone who was in the park who heard gunshots was asked to come forward with information.

[5/31/2024] The Rabun County Sheriff is now facing sexual battery and other charges, the Georgia Bureau of Investigation said in a news release Friday. Chad Nichols, 45, faces public indecency, sexual battery and violation of oath by a public officer, which is a felony According to the GBI, on Friday, May 24, the Mountain Judicial Circuit District Attorney asked the agency to investigate an incident involving Nichols. He turned himself in and was booked into the Rabun County Detention Center on Friday. The Mountain Judicial Circuit District Attorney said that Nichols was granted a $32,500 bond with conditions. The conditions of his bond are that he not be involved in any law enforcement activity in his capacity as sheriff. According to jail records, he is no longer an active inmate in the detention center. Details on the specific incident have not yet been released. J. Terry Norris is the executive director of the Georgia Sheriffs' Association. The Sheriffs' Association sent a letter to Governor Brian Kemp Friday, asking him to form a panel of two sheriffs and the state attorney general. That panel would investigate any potential wrongdoing and make a recommendation to the governor. "This person has to have their day in court, but obviously there was probable cause to make an arrest. So we're acting on that at this point," Norris said. "It lessens the public's confidence in law enforcement in general and the office of sheriff specifically. There's another dent in that public's trust of our profession." According to the Georgia Peace Officer Standards and Training Council, also known as POST, Nichols, the GBI and the Rabun County Sheriff's Office have 15 days to report his arrest. If the governor rules to suspend Nichols, then POST could choose to revoke any certifications. His POST record shows he's had more than 2,700 hours of training in subjects

[7/12/2024] A woman is facing a murder charge after allegedly selling drugs laced with fentanyl to a man who died of an overdose, Gwinnett County police said. On May 24, officers were called to a home on Clear View Drive just outside Snellville. There, they found Jaspen Screws unresponsive and rushed him to a hospital, officials said. He died a short time later. “My heart is shattered,” his mother wrote in a public Facebook post. “This pain is something I’ve never experienced before. I don’t have the words for anyone else right now. This time I can’t make it better for anyone else because I’m ... devastated. Your dad is broken and your siblings will never be the same. I don’t want my son on a T-shirt. I want my son to come home and I want someone to stop the pain in my chest.” His funeral was held June 1 in Columbus, according to his obituary. “Rest in heaven, Jaspen, you made the sky pretty today,” his mother wrote alongside a photo of a beautiful golden sky as sunrays pierced through thick clouds. As police continued their investigation, they determined Screws died of a fentanyl overdose and that Cara Edelkind had sold him the drugs, authorities said. Edelkind was arrested and booked into the Gwinnett jail Wednesday. She faces one charge of murder and aggravated involuntary manslaughter, as well as the sale of a controlled substance. The manslaughter charge was applied under Austin’s Law, which was signed by Gov. Brian Kemp this year. It states that a person commits the offense when they illegally manufacture or sell a controlled substance, that substance contains fentanyl and then the person to whom they sold it dies as a result of the fentanyl. Police did not disclose what substance Screws thought he was buying or if he was aware that it contained fentanyl.

Insults fired across social media led to groups of teens meeting to fight and ended with one teen shooting another, Daphne police said Friday. Just after 1 a.m. Friday, officers were alerted to a juvenile arriving via private vehicle at Thomas Hospital, suffering from a gunshot wound to the arm. Initial investigation revealed two groups of juveniles had agreed to meet at the Montclair Loop pool to fight over insults traded on social media. During the fight, a 17-year-old produced a handgun and fired, striking a 16-year-old in the arm. The 17-year-old has been identified and taken into custody, charged with 1st-degree assault, police said. Two other juveniles were arrested on drug possession charges.

Two people were shot, one of them fatally, Friday morning inside The Quest nightclub in Birmingham's Southside. Police were called to the club at 416 24th Street South just before 6:30 a.m. Few details were immediately available. This is Birmingham's 53rd homicide of 2024 and the 76th in all of Jefferson County. The club has been a popular dance club since the 1970s. In 2022, Michael David Lyle, 45, of Blount County, was an innocent bystander when an argument inside the club led to shots fired. Lyle was pronounced dead on the scene. Months before Lyle was shot, a Birmingham police officer was shot during a struggle with an armed man at the Southside club. This is a developing story and will be updated as more is known.

A woman was found shot to death Friday morning in a car just outside a Walmart parking lot near the Mall at Stonecrest. DeKalb County police said they received a call at around 7:30 a.m. about a crash in the 8400 block of Mall Parkway. When officers arrived, they saw the vehicle, a champagne-colored Nissan Altima, that had collided with a light pole and power box, police said. The car came to a stop on the sidewalk and curb after cutting the light pole in half. The woman, who was driving, had been shot multiple times and was declared dead at the scene, officials said. Her name was not released. "A witness reported seeing a male run from the vehicle after the collision," police spokesperson Lt. Shane Smith told The Atlanta Journal-Constitution. No other details have been shared by police.

A woman was fatally shot Friday during a repast at a DeKalb County home, police said. A large crowd had gathered at a house in the 2000 block of Chestnut Hill Circle off Snapfinger Road when gunshots were heard around 7 p.m. Authorities said the group was attending a repast for a family member. According to attendees, gunshots came from several houses down. The victim, who was standing with the crowd, was then struck, police stated. The 30-year-old woman was taken to a hospital by her friends and eventually died. Her name was not provided. Officials did not release information on a suspected shooter.

A man was arrested after shooting his fiancée multiple times, the Richland County Sheriff's Department said Sunday. Braden Robinson, 39, was charged with attempted murder and possession of a weapon during a violent crime when he was arrested Saturday, the sheriff's department said in a news release. The shooting happened Friday night, according to the release. At about 8 p.m., deputies responded to a call about a shooting in the 5400 block of Bluff Road, the sheriff's department said. That's in Columbia, not far from Exit 5 off Interstate 77. Deputies found a woman who had been shot multiple times in the lower body, and she was taken to an area hospital, according to the release. Further information on her condition was not available. Deputies determined that the victim was shot by Robinson, her fiancé, who had left the scene before they arrived, the sheriff's department said. Robinson was located later that night and taken to the Alvin S. Glenn Detention Center, according to the release. There was no word about where deputies found Robinson when he was arrested. Bond was denied on both charges, and Robinson remains locked up, jail records show. The sheriff's department said it's still investigating a motive for the shooting and the events that led to the gunfire.

One person working in the kitchen of a well-known South Carolina restaurant shot and wounded another employee, according to the Charleston Police Department. The shooting happened Friday at California Dreaming, at 1 Ashley Point Drive, police said in a news release. That's a popular waterfront restaurant on the Ashley River. At about 8:30 p.m., police said an altercation between the co-workers in the kitchen of the restaurant led to one employee shooting another. Information about the nature of the dispute was not available. The victim was taken to the Medical University of South Carolina hospital in Charleston with what police called "non-life-threatening injuries." Further information on the victim's condition was not available. Police said there were customers inside the restaurant at the time of the shooting. None were involved in the gunfire, and no other injuries were reported. California Dreaming was closed for the rest of Friday night while officers investigated, according to the release. There was no word if the restaurant reopened for business Saturday. No arrests have been reported by police, who did not say if they have been in contact with the shooter or if there is an ongoing search.

The Richland County Sheriff's Department said it's searching for three men who were involved in a recent home invasion. At about 11 p.m. May 24, deputies responded to a call about a home invasion in 200 block of Moss Field Road, the sheriff's department said Wednesday in a news release. That's in Columbia, in the area between Clemson Road and Hard Scrabble Road. Deputies met with the residents and learned that three men who were wearing masks forced their way inside the home through a window and "confronted the victims with a firearm," the sheriff's department said. The men demanded money and ultimately took several personal items from the home, according to the release. No injuries were reported by the sheriff's department. The sheriff's department offered a limited description of the men, saying one had a slender build and was about 5-foot-10, another who was about 5' 8" had short dread-locked hair and wore a camouflaged jacket, and the third suspect had a heavy build and was also about 5' 8". There was no word if the three men suspected in the home invasion previously knew the victims, or if it was a random attack. The sheriff's department said the incident remains under investigation.

Their injuries are said to be non-life threatening. Police have not said if there's been an arrest.

A Rome man was arrested and charged with murder Saturday after officials say he intentionally set fire to a home in Floyd County, killing his stepmother and pets. Timothy Edward Lary, 26, was charged with murder, two counts of aggravated assault, three counts of cruelty to animals, three counts of arson, neglect to a disabled adult or elderly person, and criminal damage to property. Rome police were called to a house fire on Addington Court Saturday night where they found a woman trapped inside with flames coming out the roof and around the front door. Officers found Lary outside, shirtless. According to police, Lary and Lary's father both told officers Lary had set the fire. The father told officials that he and his wife rented the lot from Lary's mother. The father said Lary believed the property should belong to him and wanted his mother to sell it so he could have the money, according to police. Lary allegedly threaten to burn the house down while his father and stepmother were at work, but his father said Lary grabbed a bunch of papers, lit them on fire and threw them onto the mattress in his room. Once the fire was extinguished, the body of a 70-year-old was found along with two cats and a dog, according to police. Lary is being held at the Floyd County Jail without bond.

A man was shot and killed early Saturday at an apartment complex with a history of gun violence, according to the Columbia Police Department. The Richland County Coroner's Office identified the victim as Marquicas D. Taylor, 23, of Columbia. He was taken to an area hospital where he died, Columbia Police said. The shooting happened at about 1:30 a.m. at the Colony Apartments, police said. That's in the 6400 block of Bailey Street, by the intersection of West Beltline Boulevard and Farrow Road, not far from the intersection of Harden Street and Colonial Drive. Officers went to the apartments after receiving a Shotspotter alert, police said. ShotSpotter is a technology that uses acoustic monitors to detect a sound like gunfire. The system sends the gunfire's location to Columbia police within 45 seconds. No other injuries were reported. There was no word about a shooter or shooters, or anyone else involved in the gunfire. Information about a possible motive for the shooting was not available. No arrests have been reported, but police and the coroner's office are continuing to investigate and collected evidence from the apartment complex.

Three people were injured early Saturday in a Birmingham shooting. The gunfire erupted about 4 a.m. in the 100 block of Third Avenue North. Officer Truman Fitzgerald said the shooting stemmed from a fight between women that happened inside a nearby nightclub and then continued outside the club. Police did not identify the club because the shooting didn't happen on the property. The three victims – all males – sustained injuries that aren't life-threatening. No arrests have been announced, and the investigation is ongoing.

Action 8 News has confirmed that shots were fired inside Eastdale Mall on Saturday afternoon. We have spoken with mall General Manager Richard Holman. He told us the shots were fired at around 4PM near the barber shop and Gold Valley Jewelry. That's on the side of the mall with the movie theatres. Holman said that no one was hurt, but there is broken glass, including inside the jewelry store. The mall has been shut down for the rest of the night. Holman said there is video of the shots being fired, which has been turned over to Montgomery police. He said police are trying to match up the video to a possible suspect. Action 8 News has contacted Montgomery police to get more on the investigation. Sgt. Tina McGriff said that there is no further information available at this time. We will update this story when more information comes out.

Durham police say they're looking for those involved in a drive-by shooting Saturday evening that left a man dead and his companion on the run. Police say Ricky Orlando Nichols Jr. of Durham was riding in a white sedan near the intersection of Dearborn Drive and Old Oxford Road at about 5 p.m. when another vehicle pulled up beside him. Someone in the other vehicle fired several shots into the passenger side of the sedan, hitting Nichols, before it drove off. The man driving the sedan continued west on Dearborn Drive, then turned right onto Keystone Place in the Oxford Manor housing complex. The driver parked and took off on foot, leaving the wounded Nichols in the car, where police found him. Nichols, 20, was taken to a hospital where he was pronounced dead. Police have not said whether they know who was driving. They have also not released the names of any potential suspects or said what kind of vehicle they were in. Police have not said whether the occupants of the two vehicles might have known each other or what led to the gunfire. But they say the shooting "appears to be an isolated incident."

[8/22/2024] A former Florence County Sheriff's deputy accused of fatally shooting a speeding driver and whose police dog mauled an innocent civilian has been charged with manslaughter, according to the South Carolina State Law Enforcement Division. Florence County deputy Treyvon Jonathan Sellers, 29, was charged Wednesday with voluntary manslaughter, assault and battery of a high and aggravated nature, and misconduct in office, according to a SLED press release, affidavits and warrants in the case. The events that led to Wednesday's charges took place on May 26 and began with a high speed pursuit several miles east of Florence by Sellers of a fleeing driver identified as Dewayne Rankin, according to SLED. After four minutes, Rankin's vehicle struck a tree in front of a residence. Rankin jumped out and ran inside, followed quickly by Sellers and his unleashed police dog, Ikar. The dog quickly "apprehended" the homeowner and began "actively mauling" him, according to warrants. Then, "Sellers encountered Rankin, who was unarmed and lying on a couch... (and) discharged his department-issued handgun five times, unlawfully killing Rankin...", a warrant charging Sellers with voluntary manslaughter said. Another warrant, charging Sellers with assault and battery of a high and aggravated nature, said the deputy took Ikar off his leash without knowing who might be in the house and gave him the "apprehend command" with "reckless disregard to the risk of great bodily injury to another person." "Sellers gave K9 Ikar incorrect commands and did not use available resources to remove K9 Ikar," the warrant said, adding the dog mauled the homeowner for 87 seconds. The homeowner sustained "permanent disfigurement to his left arm and left shoulder," the warrant said. The entire incident was recorded on video at the moment

Two teens were wounded – one of them critically – in separate Birmingham shootings early Sunday – one near Railroad Park and the other during a party at an Airbnb on the city’s east side. Those two shootings were in addition to another in which one woman was killed and a second woman was injured. About 12:30 a.m., East Precinct officers were dispatched to a disturbance call at a house in the 1300 Block of Springville Road. Officer Truman Fitzgerald said they learned a man who had shown up by private vehicle at a hospital with a gunshot wound was shot at that house. That house appeared to be an Airbnb. “There was possibly a high school graduation party being held at the Airbnb when a fight between females broke out that led to shots being fired,” Fitzgerald said. The victim’s injuries were not life-threatening.

One woman was killed and another injured in a shooting Sunday in Birmingham. Birmingham police identified the victim as Mya Parker. She was 19 and lived in Birmingham. Parker was one of at least three teens shot in the city early Sunday. West Precinct officers were dispatched at 4:30 a.m. to a report of a person shot at 10th Street West and Graymont Avenue. Officer Truman Fitzgerald said police got on the scene and located a vehicle off the road. Inside they found two women wounded. Both women were taken to area hospitals. Parker was pronounced dead at UAB Hospital. The second woman sustained non-life-threatening injuries. Fitzgerald said details are limited in the investigation. Parker is Birmingham’s 56th homicide of 2024. Of those, five have been ruled justifiable and therefore aren’t deemed criminal. There were 51 homicides as of May 26, 2023, in Birmingham.

Raleigh police are investigating a homicide after they found a 31-year-old man dead from gunshot wounds Sunday morning. Police responded to the 5200 block of Deep Channel Drive, off Buffaloe Road in the northeast corner of the city, around 5:30 a.m. after receiving a call about a deceased person in the area, according to a news release early Sunday. Officers located the dead man in a townhouse complex. Upon further investigation, police identified the man as Jeremiah Frazier, 31, and determined that he had been shot, according to an updated news release Sunday afternoon. The incident remains under investigation, and additional information “will be released at the appropriate time,” the news releases said.

A South Carolina man was charged with murder after he called law enforcement officers and told them he shot and killed his wife, according to the the Sumter County Sheriff's Office. Fred Falls, a 61-year-old Sumter resident, was also charged with possession of a weapon during a violent crime, the sheriff's office said Tuesday in a news release. At about 6:30 a.m. Sunday, Falls called Sumter County dispatch and said that he'd shot his wife the night before, according to the release. The first deputy to arrive to the North Saint Paul Church Road home found Falls sitting on the porch and held him at gunpoint until more deputies showed up and then Falls was detained, the sheriff's office said. Inside the home, deputies found the victim, according to the release. She was "lying motionless on the floor" after suffering a fatal gunshot wound, the sheriff's office said. No other injuries were reported. Deputies collected evidence, including a spent shell casing as well as two firearms and investigators are trying to determine if one of the guns was the weapon used, according to the release. Despite the arrest and Falls' confession, the death continues to be investigated. Deputies said they're trying to determine a motive for the shooting, which they called an isolated incident and added that Falls does not have a prior criminal record. Falls was taken to the Sumter County Sheriff's Office Detention Center where he remains behind bars after his bond was denied, the sheriff's office said.

A 61-year-old woman died Sunday of an apparent gunshot wound, the Sumter County Coroner's Office said. Joan L. Mogensen was found unresponsive at her home on North St. Paul Road, near Shaw Air Force Base, and pronounced dead at 8 a.m., Coroner Robert Baker said. The Sumter County Sheriff's Office is investigating Mogensen's death. Mogensen is originally from Tennessee, Baker said. An autopsy on Morgensen is scheduled for Thursday at the Medical University of South Carolina in Charleston.

A man was found dead with gunshot wounds in the parking lot of the Trap Music Museum in northwest Atlanta on Sunday night. According to Atlanta police, officers arrived at the museum on Travis Street around 8 p.m. Sunday and found a man in the parking lot who had been shot multiple times. He was pronounced dead at the scene. According to Channel 2 Action News, investigators said an argument led up to the shooting. “The male arrived at the parking lot, engaged in a physical dispute with another male, that male brandished a firearm, shooting and killing (the man),” Atlanta Police Lt. Andrew Smith told Channel 2. The victim is believed to have worked to keep the parking lot clean and helped out with parking, Channel 2 reported. The death is the second time a man has been shot and killed near the museum this year. In February, Christopher Campbell, 38, was shot multiple times in a parking lot on the same block of Travis Street around 8 p.m. Feb. 23. Similar to Sunday’s shooting, Campbell’s death was preceded by a verbal dispute, officials said. Atlanta police arrested Jacques Whitfield, 27, and charged him with murder, aggravated assault and possession of a firearm during the commission of a felony in Campbell’s death. In May 2021, three men and a woman were taken to hospitals after being shot in a parking lot near the museum. Atlanta police determined the victims were leaving the Trap Music Museum and going back to their cars when someone in a black Dodge Charger began shooting.

[5/29/2024] A body found Sunday in an abandoned house is now the subject of a homicide investigation after an autopsy revealed the male victim had died from a gunshot wound, Mobile police said Wednesday. Officers responded to an abandoned house on Duncan Street about 8:30 p.m. Sunday after someone reported the body inside. The victim had no ID, but was later identified as 21-year-old Jermont Lamar. No other details were immediately available.

A woman and a juvenile male have been injured in a shooting in Montgomery. Montgomery Police Department Sgt. Ernestina McGriff told Action 8 News that officers were called to a hospital at about 9:30PM last night. That’s where they found the victims receiving treatment for what are believed to be non-life threatening gunshot wounds. McGriff said that investigators determined the shooting happened in the 2500 block of Lower Wetumpka Road. No other information has been released.

Atlanta Police are now searching for a driver in a deadly hit-and-run on the I-75/I-85 connector Sunday night. It happened around 11:50 p.m. when officers responded to a report of a car accident on I-85 northbound near 17th Street. When they arrived on the scene, they found the driver of a Kia Optima critically injured. The driver was taken to the hospital, where they later died. The Fulton County Medical Examiner identified the driver who died as Abari J. Meade, 27. After investigating, police said that a driver of a Chevrolet Suburban was traveling at the I-75/I-85 northbound split when they cut across the gore and entered into I-85. When the Chevrolet Suburban driver cut into the gore, they hit the Kia Optima, which was parked on the right shoulder. The driver of the Chevrolet Suburban left the scene, and police are now searching for them. Police are still investigating and trying to determine the circumstances surrounding the incident.

One person was seriously wounded Monday night in a shooting at a Huntsville apartment complex. Capt. Jesse Sumlin said the incident happened at 5771 Oakwood Rd. at Ariza Oakwood Apartments. Police arrived to find a victim, whose name was not released, with a gunshot wound. The victim was transported to Huntsville Hospital with serious injuries, Sumlin said. No arrest has been made. Police are investigating.

A 3-year-old is in critical condition after being hit by gunfire which erupted at a birthday party in Prichard Monday. Prichard police Sgt. Bart Andrews told AL.com Tuesday investigators are getting conflicting information from witnesses which doesn't match the physical evidence. Thus far, no one has been charged with the shooting, although Andrews said he expected to be able to release additional details "within a couple of days." Andrews confirmed the child was not an intended target in the shooting. At least one bullet "struck major internal organs," Andrews said. The child's father, 27-year-old Jahahreeh Navar Crenshaw of Whistler, was arrested and charged with obstructing government operations, resisting arrest, disorderly conduct and tampering with physical evidence. Crenshaw posted $2,000 bond and was released Tuesday. This story will be updated as more information becomes available.

Three men are facing charges after a man was stabbed to death, and another was hospitalized near a Chamblee shopping center on Memorial Day, according to police. Authorities said the incident started out as a verbal argument between two groups, a total of seven men, that escalated to a fight and stabbing. It happened around 6:35 p.m. on Monday at the plaza located at 3160 Chamblee Dunwoody Road on the sidewalk. Chamblee Police said one of the suspects came up behind one of the victims, stabbing him twice. The police department said the 24-year-old victim is critically hurt and remains hospitalized at Grady. Another victim, police identified as 29-year-old Delmar Gerardo Hernandez-Perez, was stabbed in the chest and died while at the hospital. Investigators believe after the stabbing, three of the suspects got into a taxi. That's when police said another taxi driver saw what had happened and stopped the taxi, with the suspects in it, from leaving. The suspects then got out of the car and ran to the Farmer's Market, where they got into another taxi, according to authorities. A Chamblee Police Officer who was working at the Farmers Market was alerted by the taxi driver who had stopped the other taxi that the suspects were involved in the deadly altercation, police said. Adrian Sanchez Ayuzo, 37, is facing murder and aggravated assault charges, and the other two are charged with party to a crime in relation to the incident, according to police. Authorities are still looking for a fourth suspect in the deadly altercation.

Durham police are looking for the driver they say fatally struck a 53-year-old man on a bicycle Monday night on Ellis Road. It was the city's third fatal hit-and-run collision this month. Frederick Howell of Durham was riding his bicycle south in the 800 block of Ellis Road around 9:51 p.m. when he was struck from behind by an unidentified vehicle, police said in a news release. The driver fled the scene. Emergency Medical Services workers took Howell to the hospital, where he was later pronounced dead. Witnesses described the suspect vehicle as a dark or black Polaris Razor or similar off road "side-by-side" vehicle with reflective wording on the back of it. It was last seen traveling south on Ellis Road near Riddle Road. Speed appears to be a factor in this crash, according to the news release.

Huntsville police have charged a man in connection with a bank robbery on May 28. Justin Lee Tielking, 36, was arrested late Tuesday by the department's Anti-Crime Team. Tielking has been charged with third degree robbery-banking institution-strong arm. The charge comes in connection the robbery of CB&S Bank on Madison Street on May 28. According to police, at 3:30 p.m., a man walked into the bank and asked to borrow a pen from a teller. He then wrote a note "implying he was robbing the bank." "Out of fear for her safety and others in the bank, the teller complied by providing a small amount of cash from her drawer," police said. Huntsville Police Violent Crime's investigators worked with the Federal Bureau of Investigation on the case.

A 16-year-old was injured and two people have been arrested after at least 75 gunshots were fired in a northeast Columbia neighborhood Tuesday night, Richland County Sheriff Leon Lott said Thursday. Approximately 80 juveniles met in parking lots near a community pool in the Villages at Lakeshore community before multiple shooters "indiscriminately" fired guns that included automatic weapons, Lott said in a press conference providing updates on the shooting that was first reported Wednesday. The shooting was planned, but a motive has not been made public, according to Lott. When deputies responded to calls from residents around 8 p.m. Tuesday, several vehicles were speeding away and individuals were running on foot. Deputies named 17-year-old Treshawn Keller as a person they saw running with a gun. Deputies chased Keller on foot and arrested him. The charges against Keller include assault and battery of a high and aggravated nature, unlawful possession of a machine gun and possession of a stolen pistol, according to the Richland County Sheriff's Department. The sheriff's department made another arrest Thursday morning. Deputies also recovered three guns, including a stolen gun that had been modified with a Glock switch, an illegal device that can turn a pistol into an automatic weapon. The sheriff's department plans to make more arrests as the investigation continues. Lott said the juveniles will be charged as adults. He asked community members who live on Hardwood Drive, Lakevillage Drive, Longtown Road, or Killian Green Drive to help identify the suspects by sharing videos from doorbell cameras or other cameras with the sheriff's department.

One South Carolina man was killed and another was injured Tuesday night in a shooting, according to the Forest Acres Police Department. The Richland County Coroner's Office said 22-year-old Columbia resident Mekhi Courtney is the victim who died, police said Wednesday in a news release. Forest Acres police were notified at about 8 p.m. Tuesday by the Columbia Police Department that two men who had been shot were taken to an area hospital, according to the release. Columbia police said the victims had been shot in the parking lot of The Landings apartment complex — which is in the jurisdiction of the Forest Acres Police Department. Courtney died in the hospital, according to the release. The other victim, a Lexington resident, is still in the hospital recovering, Forest Acres police said. Officers with both Forest Acres and Columbia police responded to The Landings and found evidence of a shooting in a parking lot, according to the release. The complex is at 3431 Covenant Road in the Forest Acres area of Columbia. Neighbors told officers they heard a disturbance shortly after 7 p.m., but the Forest Acres police said that they did not receive any 911 calls about the incident from neighbors, witnesses or the two victims. Neither of the men lived at the complex or in Forest Acres, according to the release. No arrests have been reported, but police are continuing to investigate.

One person was shot Tuesday night, and a juvenile was arrested, according to the Richland County Sheriff's Department. As of 9:20 a.m. Wednesday, the victim was alive, the sheriff's department said. Further information on the victim's condition was not available. At about 8 p.m. Tuesday, deputies responded to a report of a shooting in the 400 block of Fresh Water Drive, according to the release. That's in Columbia's Lake Village neighborhood, near the intersection of Farrow Road and Longtown Road, not far from Interstate 77's junction with Killian Road. The deputies found the victim and arrested one juvenile, the sheriff's department said. Information about the charges the juvenile is facing was not available. There was no word if anyone else was involved in the shooting, or if the victim is a minor. Information about a motive for the shooting was not available, but the sheriff's department said it's still investigating what led to the gunfire. The Lake Village neighborhood was temporarily blocked off as deputies investigated the scene.

[6/2/2024] A South Carolina woman is being held at an Upstate jail following an attack inside a hospital that left a victim with multiple injuries, according to the South Carolina Law Enforcement Division. Bryana Alexis Oliver, a 28-year-old Lee County resident, was charged with assault and battery of a high and aggravated nature, SLED said in a news release. The attack happened Wednesday, May 29, at Spartanburg Medical Center, according to an arrest warrant. Oliver was unprovoked when she punched the victim in the face multiple times, the arrest warrant shows. The victim suffered a right orbital bone fracture, a bilateral fracture to both sides of her nose and a cornea abrasion to the right eye, according to the arrest warrant. The injuries could cause “permanent disfigurement to her face,” the arrest warrant said. Oliver was arrested following SLED’s investigation that included statements from the victim and witnesses, video surveillance and other physical evidence, according to the arrest warrant. The Spartanburg Police Department asked SLED to lead the investigation, but there was no word why that request was made. Oliver was booked into the Spartanburg County Detention Center, SLED said. No bond had been set and the Bishopville woman remained behind bars as of Sunday morning, Spartanburg County court records show. The 7th Circuit Solicitor’s Office will prosecute the case, according to SLED. If convicted on the felony charge, Oliver faces a maximum sentence of 20 years in prison, according to South Carolina law. Including this incident, Oliver has been arrested four times since March on assault charges, court records show.

[6/4/2024] A man was arrested on multiple charges Tuesday, about a week after a bank in Columbia was robbed, according to the Richland County Sheriff's Department. Joshua Green, 21, was charged with two counts armed robbery and kidnapping, the sheriff's department said Wednesday in a news release. Green was also charged with possession of a weapon during a violent crime, jail records show. The charges were connected to the May 29 robbery of the TD Bank on Two Notch Road. That's near the intersection with Brickyard Road, in the area between Interstate 20 and Interstate 77. On May 29, deputies responded to a robbery at the bank and employees told law enforcement officers that an unknown suspect had robbed the bank minutes before their arrival and taken several hundred dollars in cash. At about noon Tuesday, Green was taken into custody on Helton Drive in northeast Richland County. That's about 7 miles from the bank. There was a large sheriff's department presence on hand when Green was arrested. The scene was cleared and there is no danger to the public, the sheriff's department said. The sheriff's department did not report any injuries during either the bank robbery or Green's arrest. Information about how deputies connected Green to the robbery was not available. There was no word if the stolen money was recovered. Green was taken to the Alvin S. Glenn Detention Center, according to the release. No bond has been set and Green remains behind bars, jail records show.

A juvenile male is recovering from a gunshot wound after being shot in Montgomery. Montgomery Police Department Maj. Saba Coleman told Action 8 News that officers were called to a hospital at around midnight this morning where the juvenile was receiving treatment. Police determined that the shooting happened in the 1900 block of Rigby Street, which is between Lower Wetumpka Road and Fairground Road. Coleman said the juvenile's injuries are not believed to be life-threatening. No other information has been released.

An argument between two men led to a morning shooting outside a Bessemer home. Officers were dispatched to a neighborhood in the 700 block of Ninth Street North about 8 a.m. Wednesday. They arrived to find a man bleeding heavily from a gunshot wound to the leg, said Det. Justin Burmeister. Officers applied a tourniquet to the victim's leg and then medics transported him to the hospital. Burmeister said the victim was able to talk with officers and tell them what happened. The two men know each other and got into an argument. Police initially believed the suspect was still on the scene and holed up inside a family member's home. They used a loudspeaker to try to communicate with him for about an hour but eventually learned he had fled. Burmeister said they are actively searching for him.

South Carolina police are investigating after the staff lawyer and public information officer at the Lancaster County Sheriff's Office was shot Wednesday night. Doug Barfield told The Herald in a message Thursday morning he was shot in the arm but is recovering. Officials haven't said whether Barfield's shooting is tied to his job at the sheriff's office. "I'm good," Barfield said in the message. The shooting happened after 8 p.m. on North Matson Street in the Lancaster County town of Kershaw, Lancaster County Sheriff Barry Faile said. Barfield was found in the parking lot of a convenience store after several calls were made to 911, Faile said. Barfield was not working at the time, Faile said. The sheriff's office requested the State Law Enforcement Division to handle the investigation, SLED spokesperson Renee Wunderlich said.

A man was gunned down in Birmingham's Norwood community Wednesday night. Authorities have not yet positively identified the victim, but multiple family members on the scene feared the victim is the brother of another man fatally shot just one year ago. North Precinct officers responded about 10:10 p.m. to calls of shots fired in and around the 3200 block of 13th Avenue North. Once in the neighborhood, police found multiple shell casings in the area. They continued to investigate, and a short time later found a man unresponsive in the yard of a home. Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service pronounced him dead. Officer Truman Fitzgerald said details are limited. "What our patrol officers and detectives know at this time is that neighbors called in reporting the shots fired," he said. "They canvassed the area and that's when they found the victim." "We do have family on scene and the family is extremely emotional," Fitzgerald said. "We understand, and we're hoping to learn more about the victim so we can pinpoint possibly what led to him being shot." Investigators place 20 to 30 evidence markers on the ground. It wasn't immediately clear how many guns were fired. "We do believe the victim was the target," he said.

Montgomery Police are investigating a Wednesday night triple shooting that left a man dead. According to Major Saba Coleman, on Wednesday, May 29, 2024, at about 11:30 p.m., MPD and Fire Medics responded to the 1000 block of Ann Street in reference to subjects shot. An adult male victim was located who sustained a fatal gunshot wound and was pronounced deceased. An adult male victim, who sustained a life-threatening gunshot wound and an adult male victim, who sustained a non-life threatening gunshot wound, was transported to a local hospital for treatment. MPD is conducting a Homicide Investigation. There is no additional information available for release in connection to this continuing investigation.

[8/13/2024] A former Calhoun County Jail accounts clerk has been charged in the theft of more than $47,000 from the east Alabama facility. Allyson Christine Smith, 38, is charged with first-degree theft, Sheriff Matthew Wade announced Thursday. The missing money was discovered through an audit. Her immediate supervisor – the jail captain – was fired for failure to supervise. Court records show the Ranburne woman was arrested on the felony charge May 30, and released the same day after posting $20,000 bond. The case has been forwarded to a grand jury for indictment consideration. Earlier this year, the Calhoun County Sheriff's Office was being audited by the Alabama Examiners of Public Accounts Office as required by law. The audit uncovered a delay in deposits that yielded a 'caution' notation on the audit exit report, Wade said. Shortly thereafter a vendor reported a delay in payment that furthered concern and prompted an investigation. The investigation showed that some deposits were being made several weeks late and outside time frame established by commonly accepted accounting standards and that the account balances were insufficient in order to cover the liabilities. A supplemental audit of the account led by the Examiners' office over the following weeks showed an account deficiency of $47,036.20. The sheriff said Smith admitted to stealing a portion of the cash deposit each week. Wade said a claim was made on the bond, an insurance policy maintained on all sheriff's office employees, to recoup the loss and been subsequently paid making the account whole. Restitution will be sought as part of the ongoing criminal process, he said. With the arrest and the account made whole, the Examiners of Public Accounts

A portion of a road in northwest Atlanta is closed while police continue investigating a shooting that happened overnight into Thursday. Atlanta Police Department said the shooting happened on Camrose Way NW near Harper Archer Elementary School and that two people were hurt. The call came in around 1:30 a.m. Officers said the two people shot were taken to the hospital and are expected to be ok. Not much information was released about the shooting, but the focus of the investigation is being centered around a car that has its windows shot out. Police have not said if there are any suspects in the case but did say they believe it was a targeted incident. Officers have blocked off part of Camrose Way while they continue to search for more information related to the case.

More than 100 evidence markers covered the ground after gunfire erupted early Thursday in a northwest Atlanta neighborhood, leaving two people shot, authorities said. Atlanta police responded around 1:40 a.m. to the 400 block of Camrose Way, where officers found a man and a woman each suffering from gunshot wounds. The area is located just north of I-20, and a stone's throw from Collier Park in the Fairburn Heights neighborhood. According to investigators, the victims were driving in the area when they heard gunshots. The man told police he stopped nearby after escaping the gunfire but later noticed he and the woman had been shot. They were taken to the hospital but are expected to survive, police said. Local resident Edgar Dawson said he woke up to the tail end of the gunfire and heard the sounds of about eight bullets being fired. He jumped out of bed and peered out his window, but noticed the street was clear. At first, he didn't realize someone was shot. He said officers later came to his home to tell him a woman had been found shot in his driveway. "I thought my car would be shot up or something, but it wasn't," he said, assuming that she had been shot nearby and went to his home afterward. Police did not say where exactly the victims were shot, but a woman's clothing was seen on Dawson's driveway, while latex gloves were found in front of his property. Evidence markers littered the ground nearby, and neighbors were seen covering up bullet holes at their home, photos showed. Over the past several months, Dawson said he had experienced about three shooting incidents in his neighborhood. He said things had been quiet until an apparent Airbnb next door started attracting traffic to the street. "When I initially came here, it was so different (with) older people that stay here. ~~So the street was quiet and this just started happening."~~

Six men were shot Thursday night after a fight between two groups ended in gunfire, according to DeKalb County police. Shortly after 9 p.m., officers were called to the 2300 block of Greenway Drive near Decatur, where they found all six with gunshot wounds, police said. All of the injured were taken to local hospitals for treatment of injuries, but none were believed to be life-threatening. "Initial information indicates two groups of males were involved in a verbal altercation that quickly led to gunfire," Lt. Shane Smith said in an emailed statement late Thursday. An 18-year-old was among those shot, Channel 2 Action News reported. No additional details were released. The shooting remains under investigation and no arrests were announced late Thursday.

Officials are investigating after a doorbell camera captured a person appearing to firebomb a home overnight in DeKalb County. The fire occurred in the 3400 block of Springside Drive in the Candler-McAfee neighborhood. Surveillance video shows a large flash of fire near the back of the home and a person appearing to run away.

A Limestone County man has been arrested on three charges of aggravated child abuse. John Christopher Cordle II, 27, was arrested on Tuesday. He is being held in the Limestone County jail without bond. According to court records, the incident happened sometime before May 31. Cordle is accused of violently shaking a baby. Court documents say the baby has a broken collarbone, a broken femur and a brain injury.

Montgomery police need your help finding the suspect wanted in the felony theft of a commercial vehicle and the items it was carrying. Police say sometime between May 31 and June 1, the person stole the vehicle that contained items of value from the 5400 block of Atlanta Highway. That is near the Carol Villa Shopping Center at the intersection of Eastern Boulevard. Police say the vehicle has since been recovered in the area of Alabama River Parkway and Jackson Ferry Road. But they say the suspect stole property from the commercial vehicle and left the scene. Investigators released a video of the suspect seen stealing the vehicle and attempting to remove the security surveillance camera from the vehicle. There are no other details available for release at this time.

Montgomery police are investigating a shooting that critically injured a child. Police and fire medics were called around 2:29 a.m. Friday to the 4100 block of Keating Drive on a person shot. Keating Drive is just off Lower Wetumpka Road near the Montgomery Zoo. Once they arrived, they found a juvenile female victim with a life-threatening gunshot wound. The unidentified victim was taken to a local hospital for treatment. No word on any suspects at this time.

A boy was fatally shot early Friday morning while breaking into vehicles with a group in DeKalb County, police said. The victim, who police only identified as a “juvenile male,” was rushed to a hospital and later died. He was found in the 6100 block of Covington Highway after a person flagged down an officer in the area around 3:30 a.m. According to police, the boy and several other “juveniles” were breaking into vehicles and were surprised to find one of the vehicles occupied. They began to flee the area when one of the suspects shot in the direction of the occupied vehicle, officials added. It was then that the victim was struck. At least one of the suspects was detained for questioning, and police said they are working to identify additional suspects. 6 men shot in DeKalb after fight ends in gunfire, police say.

Cayce Police are searching for a gunman who attempted to assault a woman. Police responded about 7:15 a.m. Friday to Guignard Park on Knox Abbott Drive for a report of a man wearing all black clothing with a gun who attempted to assault a woman, according to a news release. The man fled the scene and police used K9s to try to track him. Police continue to heavily patrol the area, the news release said. People said people should not try to approach the man.

An investigation is underway after a 17-year-old boy was found shot to death in the Old Fourth Ward neighborhood, according to police. The Fulton County Medical Examiner’s Office identified the teen as Malik Heard. It happened on Friday around 6 p.m. when officers got a person shot call. They responded to 375 Boulevard NE near Wabash Avenue, which appears to be near a convenience store. When police arrived on the scene, they found Heard shot to death. Atlanta Police said that Homicide Unit investigators responded to the scene to determine the circumstances surrounding the incident. No information on suspects has been released at this time.

A suspected shootout in west Birmingham Friday night left one man with serious injuries. The gunfire erupted about 9:40 p.m. The city's West Precinct officers were then dispatched to a report of a person shot in the 2400 block of Avenue D in Ensley. Police arrived to find a wounded man inside a vehicle. He was taken to UAB Hospital with life-threatening injuries. Area residents reported hearing multiple shots fired. Officer Truman Fitzgerald said the preliminary investigation indicates the victim may have been traveling in a vehicle that was seen in the area with the occupants of the vehicle exchanging shots with the occupants of a separate vehicle. The investigation is ongoing, and no arrests have been made.

A woman is critically hurt after being shot multiple times in DeKalb County Friday night, according to the police department. Authorities responded to the shooting at 10:16 p.m. at the 4800 block of Memorial Drive. When officers arrived, they found the woman with multiple gunshot wounds. She was taken to the hospital by EMS with life-threatening injuries, the police department said. DeKalb Police said they have a possible suspect in custody in a nearby motel but did not specify which one. "Our SWAT Team has been requested to the scene to assist with securing the location. Detectives have been notified and are responding as well," the police department added. No other details have been released from authorities at this time.

Eight people were injured Saturday night when shots rang out at a Decatur strip club on East Ponce de Leon Avenue, according to DeKalb County Police. Officers said they were called out to the location, which, based on the address given, appears to be the club Pin Up's. Once on the scene, police said they found three people suffering from gunshot wounds and transported them to the hospital. Five other people were then found at various hospitals, having been transported by others. Police said two of the people in the hospital were identified as the suspects and are currently in custody.

A man was shot and killed Saturday night at a home in southeast Atlanta, police said. Atlanta Police were called out to the 300 block of Lydia Drive SE, which is in the city's Browns Mill Park neighborhood and is directly next to Browns Mill Park Golf Course. When police arrived, they noticed a man who had sustained a gunshot wound. He was pronounced dead on scene by medical personnel.

An early-morning shooting in Birmingham's Tom Brown Village housing community left one man dead. Police identified the victim as Brandon Wilson. He was 31. South Precinct officers were dispatched at 1:30 a.m. Saturday to the 500 block of 41st Street North after the city's gunfire detection system – Shot Spotter – indicated shots fired in that location. Officers were then updated that a person was down, said Officer Truman Fitzgerald. Wilson was found wounded in the intersection of 41st Street and 5th Court North. Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service rushed him to UAB Hospital where he was later pronounced dead. Fitzgerald said details are limited and no one is in custody. Wilson is Birmingham's 59th homicide of 2024. Of those, five have been ruled justifiable and therefore aren't deemed criminal. In all of Jefferson County, there have been 82 homicides including the 59 in Birmingham.

A 61-year-old woman is being sought after “intentionally” setting fire to two Gwinnett County homes Saturday morning, authorities said. Within a span of around 20 minutes, Hong Huynh ignited homes about three miles apart, officials announced Wednesday. Multiple warrants have been issued for the Norcross woman, the fire department confirmed, but the charges she is facing have not been disclosed. Around 5:45 a.m. Saturday, a 911 caller reported that her neighbor’s garage was ablaze. Within minutes, firefighters arrived at the two-story home in the 6000 block of Buckingham Court and located a victim. A man who lived there was taken to a hospital with serious injuries sustained during the blaze, officials said. The fire was extinguished at 6:13 a.m., and by that time, crews had already been called to another house fire in the 1300 block of Turners Ridge Drive. That fire was reported at 6:04 a.m. by one of the residents, who told dispatchers the flames were spreading to a vehicle in her driveway. Officials said they confirmed the fire appeared to have started in the exterior of the two-story home. The blaze was extinguished by 6:20 a.m. One person sustained injuries not considered life-threatening. Ten people were displaced, including two children, between the two fires. Investigators said they determined both fires were “set intentionally and were connected,” but did not explain why the homes were targeted.

A man was injured outside a Gwinnett County home Saturday when he refused to drop his gun and was shot by an officer, according to police. The shooting happened in the 300 block of Foxcroft Road, near Buford Drive and Lawrenceville. At approximately 10:21 a.m., a teenager called 911 to report that her mother and stepfather were arguing at their home, police said. “The teenager told dispatchers that her stepfather armed himself with a gun during the argument with her mother,” Gwinnett police said in an emailed statement. An officer arrived at the home minutes later and could hear arguing in the backyard, police said. As the officer walked up the drive, he heard a gunshot and then saw a man holding a gun. “The officer gave commands to the suspect to drop the gun,” police said. “The suspect confronted the officer with the gun. The officer fired his service weapon at the suspect, striking him in the leg.” Officers rendered aid to the man who was shot before he was taken to the hospital for treatment. His injuries were not life-threatening, police said. No other injuries were reported, according to police. The incident remains under investigation.

A 28-year-old woman has been charged in the Saturday-night shooting death of her boyfriend. Jamela Melton, 28, is charged with capital murder in the slaying of 32-year-old Jerry Bailey. The charge is capital, said Officer Truman Fitzgerald, because Melton was inside a vehicle when police say she fatally shot Bailey. Warrants against Melton were obtained Sunday. She is awaiting transfer to the Jefferson County Jail. The city’s North Precinct officers were dispatched just before 7:30 p.m. Saturday to a call of a person shot in the 3500 block of Richard Arrington Jr. Boulevard North. Once on the scene, they found Bailey in a grassy field just off the roadway and adjacent to a trucking company. He was dead on the scene. It appears Bailey was outside of the vehicle when Melton allegedly shot him from inside the car. Bailey was found unresponsive just feet from car. Fitzgerald said Melton remained on the scene, and police believe she was the one who called 911. Bailey is Birmingham’s 60th homicide of 2024. Of those, five have been ruled justifiable and therefore aren’t deemed criminal. In all of Jefferson County, there have been 83 homicides including the 60 in Birmingham.

Two people have died and two others were hurt after a shooting at a neighborhood block party in Rock Hill Saturday night, police said. Police responded after 10 p.m. to the shooting in the 900 block of Southland Drive, Rock Hill Police Department Lt. Michael Chavis said Sunday morning. No arrests have been made, Chavis said. A woman, 44, and a man, 21, died at the scene, police said in a statement. The identities of the two people killed have not been released by the York County Coroner. Police found a 25-year-old woman shot in the arm, officials said. A fourth victim, a 24-year-old man, suffered a graze gunshot wound, according to police. No other information about how the shooting happened or what led to the gunfire has been released. The residential area is in the southern part of the city near where Mount Holly Road and Saluda Road intersect.

[10/31/2024] Fayetteville police are still trying to find the driver who hit a woman crossing the road on an electric mobility scooter in June. Around 10 p.m. on June 1, officers with the Fayetteville Police Department responded to a crash near Cliffdale Road and Seaford Drive. Police said Rebecca Dunbenit, 63, of Fayetteville, was attempting to cross Cliffdale Road on an electric mobility scooter when an unknown vehicle hit her and fled the area. No car parts or evidence were found at the scene to help police identify the driver. On Thursday, nearly five months after the deadly crash, the lead investigator there are no active leads, a suspect vehicle or a suspect in mind. "We want to find them so we can hold them accountable," said Chris Biggerstaff with the Fayetteville Police Department. Dunbenit's mother, MOM, spoke extensively about her daughter. MOM said Dunbenit, who was originally from Portland, Oregon, "always had a compliment" for people and will be missed by many. When asked about the search for the hit-and-run driver, MOM said, "I have forgiven them ... what happened was certainly not planned, it wasn't malicious. I know it is causing a lot of pain for them. I hope they can accept the forgiveness that is there." It wasn't until the next morning MOM learned about her daughter's death. "Whoever it was didn't stop ... the next car was the one that called for 911," MOM described. She described Dunbenit as "the most loving person you could imagine," adding she would make lifelong friends in the grocery store. Her mother said Dunbenit worked as a nursing assistant and loved her rescue dogs. MOM said she isn't necessarily hoping the driver goes to jail if he or she comes forward.

One woman is dead and another jailed following an argument and gunfire at a Tuscaloosa County gas station. Tuscaloosa police and sheriff's deputies responded at 10:40 p.m. Saturday to the Shell station at 1300 Crescent Ridge N.E. Two women had been shot and were taken to the hospital. Lashonda Leigh Street, 46, was pronounced dead there a short time later. The Tuscaloosa Violent Crime Unit took over the investigation. Capt. Jack Kennedy said investigators interviewed witnesses and reviewed video footage and determined that the two women had gotten into an altercation with each other in the parking lot. The other woman – 43-year-old Rosanna Latrice Wilson – then shot Street. Kennedy said Wilson was also struck, but said her injuries were minor. Wilson is charged with murder in Street's death. She is being held without bond in the Tuscaloosa County Jail.

One person is dead after a shooting overnight in unincorporated Lilburn, according to Gwinnett County Police. Right now, we know officers were called out around 11:30 p.m. on Saturday after reports of gunshots and screaming on Gwens Trail. Once on the scene, police said they found a man in his 20s who had been shot and killed on Betty Jean Court. As of this time, the investigation is still ongoing, and officers have not released the victim's name.

A man was killed in an overnight shooting, the Columbia Police Department said Sunday. The shooting happened at about 12:30 a.m. in the 1400 block of Colonial Life Boulevard, according to police. That's near the intersection with Bush River Road, not far from Exit 107 on Interstate 26. It was about 4 hours after a shooting was first reported that police confirmed a male died. The Richland County Coroner's Office has not publicly identified the victim. No other injuries were reported. There was no word about a shooter or shooters, or anyone else involved in the gunfire. Information about a possible motive for the shooting was not available. No arrests have been reported, but police have been following leads as they continue to investigate the shooting.

Two people were shot in separate incidents this weekend at OnPoint gun range, police said. Police said the latest incident, reported at 3:31 p.m. Sunday, was accidental and does not require a criminal investigation. A man with a gunshot wound was taken to the hospital for treatment, a news release from the Raleigh Police Department said. The shooting range said on social media that he is an employee who “sustained a minor training injury.” “Per our protocol we notified 911,” the business wrote, adding that the employee was expected to fully recover. Another man was taken to the hospital in serious condition Friday afternoon with a gunshot wound, according to police, who would not say anything further about the incident Sunday. The business shared on social media they were “all deeply saddened” by the Friday shooting. “Our hearts go out to the family of the individual involved and to everyone affected by this unfortunate event,” the statement continued. “We want to assure everyone that this was an isolated incident involving a single person. At no time were any other customers or employees in danger.” The range had a shooting death last summer, on July 5, according to WRAL. OnPoint is in northeast Raleigh at 3501 Spring Forest Road.

[6/25/2024] An Anniston man has died following a shooting earlier this month, and a suspect has been charged. The shooting happened about 7:30 p.m. on June 2 in the 300 block of Palmetto Avenue. Anniston police Sgt. Shawn Morehead said the victim – 50-year-old Dalriko Blake – was taken to Northeast Alabama Regional Medical Center and then transferred to another hospital. He died on June 20. Police have charged 27-year-old Raekwon Blake with murder. He was taken into custody June 21 by Anniston police, the 7th Judicial Major Crimes Unit and U.S. Marshals. Morehead said they are not releasing the relationship between the suspect and the victim.

[6/9/2024] Some scary moments for people hanging out near the pool at the Sturbridge Commons Apartment Complex last Monday night (6/3/24) as they had to duck for cover when shots were fired. A man who wishes to remain anonymous talked exclusively to Action 8 News. He told us he came to the apartments to grill out burgers with friends in the pavilion area when a guy started shooting a handgun. He and the three other people he was with had to jump over fences and hedges to get away from the gunfire. The witness said, “Everyone just kind of scattered, even me and my wife. We kind of almost ran in separate directions because of the sheer panic. The guy, from what I could tell because I was kind of watching him, I saw him fire off the rounds and the smoke go up and he ran around the office building and turned corner chasing the other guy.” He says two men were shooting back and forth at each other, and then one of the men jumped into a vehicle and fled the scene. He says the police came about 15 minutes later. MPD tells us that no one was injured in the shooting, and there were no reports of property damage. A spokesperson for MPD says they are investigating the incident.

A Florida man was arrested on multiple charges Monday after leading officers on a chase that began at a popular Columbia-area shopping center, according to the Forest Acres Police Department. Bernard Nobles — a 30-year-old Lauderdale Lakes, Florida, resident — was charged with shoplifting (enhanced) and is also being held on two fugitive from justice warrants, police said in a news release. Nobles was also charged with burglary, jail records show. At about 2 p.m. Monday, police were called about a man — later identified as Nobles — and woman who were reportedly shoplifting inside a business at the Trenholm Plaza shopping center, police said in the release. Police did not identify the store where the incident began. Officers saw a man and woman matching the description leave the store, according to the release. When officers approached, Nobles and the woman ran away, police said. After a foot chase, both were detained, according to the release. Information about how long the chase lasted, or where Nobles and the woman were taken into custody, was not available. Nobles had 74 bottles of travel-size perfume concealed in his clothing, police said. The stolen items were valued at $2,923.48, according to the release.

Chapel Hill police are investigating after a man and woman were found shot on Homestead Road on Monday afternoon. The Chapel Hill Police Department responded at 2:20 p.m. to a report of a shooting at Chapel View apartments, at 2701 Homestead Road. Inside a residence, officers discovered a man and a woman deceased with apparent gunshot wounds, according to a town news release. It appears to be a murder-suicide, a police spokesperson said, and there is no threat to the community. Police are withholding the names of those shot until their relatives are notified, the spokesperson said. Police are asking anyone with information to call 911 or the Police Department at 919-968-2760 (8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday).

An investigation is underway after someone opened fire on a U.S. Postal Service truck in Birmingham midday Monday. The shooting is believed to have happened in the Inglenook community in the 4200 block of 40th Court North. Postal officials said the incident happened at 12:15 p.m. Shots were fired at all sides of the vehicle, said USPS spokeswoman Debra Jean Fetterly. A large bullet hole could be seen in the front windshield. The mail carrier returned to the post office on Elizabeth Avenue to meet with Birmingham police. Authorities said the carrier was going to the hospital to be checked out. Fetterly said they were checking for glass fragments. It was not immediately clear if the mail carrier was the target of the shooting.

A 15-year-old girl is fighting for her life after she and a teen boy were wounded in a targeted shooting at a west Birmingham gas station. At least 10 shots rang out about 9:40 p.m. Monday at Gas Land on Bessemer Road in the Belview Heights neighborhood. Officer Truman Fitzgerald said officers arrived at the gas station and found the two teens on the ground in the parking lot. Both had been shot. The teen girl was unresponsive. Fitzgerald said the two teens are possibly siblings but that had not yet been confirmed. Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service transported the victims to Children's of Alabama. The girl is in critical condition. "She is hanging on for her life right now," he said. The boy suffered non-life-threatening wounds. Investigators said the victims were at the gas station with an adult. There were multiple people hanging out in the parking lot at the time of the shooting. "The unknown suspect or suspects drove by and fired shots at the juveniles," Fitzgerald said. "From everything I'm being told from our patrol officers and detectives, we are investigating this as a targeted shooting." "The question is why were these juveniles targeted," he said. "It's important for us to get some information from anyone that was here." "Apparently there was a ton of people hanging out in the parking lot," he said. "We have to find out what happened before these two juveniles were shot." The teens are believed to have arrived in an East Lake Moving and Storage rented van. The van was struck by bullets, as was the business. Fortunately, Fitzgerald said, no bullets actually penetrated the store, but they did damage the exterior walls. No arrests have been made. Detectives are working with the business as part of the investigation.

Durham police are investigating a fatal shooting Monday night on Fayetteville Street south of the Durham Freeway and downtown. Officers responded to a report of a shooting around 9:40 p.m. near Fayetteville Street and Linwood Avenue, on the same block as the W.D. Hill Recreation Center in the historic Hayti district. They found a man, whose name and age have not been released, who had been shot. He was taken to the hospital, where he died. Police provided no other information. It is the second homicide announced this week and at least the 21st homicide in the city this year after a woman who was shot last week died.

A South Carolina teenager faces multiple charges after a road rage incident escalated into a shooting, according to the Lexington County Sheriff's Department. Logan Nathaniel Cason, an 18-year-old Lexington resident, was charged with three counts of first-degree assault and battery and one count of pointing a firearm at a person, the sheriff's department said in a Wednesday night news release. The shooting happened Tuesday night on U.S. 378, near Lake Murray, according to the release. "Deputies interviewed a group of witnesses right after this happened, which we believe started as a road rage incident," Sheriff Jay Koon said in the release. "The witnesses all told deputies Cason fired a handgun into the air as he drove (an SUV), then pointed it toward the car beside him and fired more shots." Information about how the incident started, and if Cason knew anyone in the other car prior to the shooting, was not available. Beer bottles and cans were thrown from Cason's vehicle toward the other car before the shots were fired, according to Koon. "Deputies collected evidence, including multiple shell casings, from the road," Koon said. "The location of these items was consistent with the information witnesses shared with deputies." Koon said deputies identified Cason as the shooter during their interviews with witnesses. Deputies eventually located him at a home near Lake Murray, where he was arrested and taken to the Lexington County Detention Center, the sheriff's department said. Information about Cason's bond was not available, but as of Thursday morning he was not listed on the jail's inmate roster.

[6/8/2024] A Hapeville police officer was arrested Friday after a use-of-force investigation that began earlier this week, the GBI said. Officer Shevoy Brown, 29, was booked into the Fulton County Jail on charges of battery and violation of oath of office. Police Chief Bruce Hedley confirmed Brown was hired by the department in January 2022 and he was previously employed by Clayton County police. The investigation into Brown began June 4, when the Hapeville Police Department asked the GBI to investigate a use-of-force incident. According to the state agency, Brown responded to a 911 call June 3 and arrested a man, whom he then took to the police department for processing. Brown is accused of “repeatedly” using a Taser on the man in a “manner that was not consistent with the training and policy of the police department,” the GBI stated. The man was medically evaluated and booked into the Fulton jail on misdemeanor charges. Officials did not provide the extent of his injuries. “The use of force by this officer was clearly outside of the guidelines of departmental Standard Operating Procedures. Brown operated alone during this incident and must be held accountable for his actions,” Hapeville police said in a press release. Hedley confirmed Brown was placed on administrative leave.

Three men were shot to death Tuesday night in Montgomery, according to police. At about 8:55 p.m., police and firefighters were called to the 4100 block of Troy Highway on a report of multiple people shot, Major Saba Coleman said. Two men were pronounced dead on the scene. A third male, who suffered a life-threatening gunshot wound, was taken to a hospital where he was pronounced dead. Police did not immediately release additional information, citing the ongoing investigation. The shooting happened in the area of a grocery store called Tienda Los Hermanos, according to a WSFA report.

Montgomery police are investigating a shooting that left 3 people dead. Maj. Saba Coleman tells Action 8 News that the shooting happened just before 9 p.m. Tuesday in the 4100 block of Troy Hwy. Once officers and fire medics arrived, they found two adult males with fatal gunshot wounds. Both were pronounced dead on the scene. Another adult male victim was taken to a local hospital for a life-threatening gunshot wound. That victim later died from his injuries.

Two men are in critical condition after authorities said they shot each other at a chicken wing restaurant in DeKalb County early Wednesday. DeKalb police responded around 2 a.m. to Atlanta's Best Wings in the 6600 block of Covington Highway, where officers found two people suffering from gunshot wounds. The Stonecrest establishment is near DeKalb Medical Parkway and within feet of a BP gas station. Investigators said they believe the two men shot each other during an argument at the restaurant, which is listed as being open daily until 3 a.m. Employees told Channel 2 Action News that the shooters were regular customers, and the argument stemmed from a $1 bill one of them had dropped. Soon after, one of the men went outside and then returned to demand a $5 tip he had just given an employee. The argument continued and at least 10 shots were fired, the news station reported. The men were both taken to the hospital. Police have not said what charges they might face. While other patrons and employees were inside during the gunfire, no one else was hurt, according to Channel 2. After the shooting, another customer said they arrived to buy some hot wings and saw a man lying on the ground. "Next thing I know, police are swarming the place," the customer, who did not want to be identified, told the news station. An investigation is ongoing.

Anniston police are looking for a Talladega man in connection with a fatal shooting Wednesday. The incident happened Wednesday just after 3 a.m., according to Capt. Emily McCullars. Officers and investigators were called to the 1700 block of Electronics Drive in reference to a gunshot victim. They found a man, later identified as Jonathan Carter, 44, of Anniston, lying in his vehicle. It appeared that Carter had been shot. He was transported to Northeast Alabama Regional Medical Center, where he later died. Keeon Chatman, 30, of Talladega, turned himself in to Anniston police at about 1:30 p.m. Thursday.

A man shot to death in North Titusville Wednesday afternoon while riding a motorcycle has been identified. The Jefferson County Coroner's Office said Thursday that Obray Carter, 39, of Birmingham, was shot to death in an incident at about 12:30 p.m. in the area of First Avenue South and Center Street South. Officer Truman Fitzgerald with Birmingham police said officers arrived at the scene to find an unresponsive man slumped over on a motorcycle. Carter was pronounced dead at the scene. Investigators believe the man either stopped in the area, or was riding his motorcycle, when someone fired shots at him. "We are treated this incident as a targeted shooting," Fitzgerald said.

A 15-year-old boy was shot to death late Wednesday and a second teenager was charged with his murder, Griffin police said Thursday. Officers were called shortly after 10:30 p.m. to the Appleton Apartments at 1110 West Poplar Street, according to a police spokesperson. There, they found a teenager who had been shot. The teen, whose name was not released, was taken first to Wellstar Spalding Medical Center and then to Grady Memorial Hospital, where he died from his injuries, police said. A 16-year-old suspect was arrested and charged with felony murder, aggravated assault, possession of a firearm by a person under 18 and possession of a firearm during the commission of a crime, police said. His name was not released, though investigators said he was charged as an adult. The investigation continued Thursday.

Rock Hill police arrested a South Carolina woman Thursday after video showed her pouring degreaser into a co-worker's iced tea before the victim drank it and became sick, according to police and court documents. Tina Michelle Burch, 57, of York, is charged with felony illegal tampering with drugs or food, according to an arrest warrant obtained by The Herald. Burch and the victim worked together at a company on Galleria Boulevard, a police incident report stated. The name of the business and the identity of the victim were not released by police. Officers say security video from the workplace shows Burch pour the cleaner into the victim's bottle of iced tea after the victim had walked away from her post around 12:45 a.m. Thursday. Burch then put the cap back on the tea bottle, police said. The victim returned and took a drink, then vomited and had facial numbness before requiring medical treatment, according to the warrant and police report. Police talked to the victim at a medical facility after the incident but her condition was not released. Authorities did not disclose what might have sparked the incident. The tea bottle was seized as evidence, according to the report and Rock Hill police Capt. Brent Allmon. Burch was arrested at work Thursday but denied involvement, according to the police report. It remains unclear if she has a lawyer. The charge against Burch can carry up to 20 years in prison for a conviction, South Carolina law shows. Burch remained at the York County jail Friday under a $35,000 bond, according to the York County Sheriff's Office jail web site.

[6/10/2024] A man arrested on a murder charge in Atlanta last week is accused of stabbing an acquaintance to death after the two got into an argument about the sale price of a cellphone, according to his arrest warrants. Darrell Burnette, 53, was taken into custody at the scene of the stabbing in the 200 block of Ted Turner Drive, a Fulton County arrest warrant showed. Burnette told officers he had stabbed 33-year-old Mario Jordan, a father of three, because of a dispute over the price a cellphone he'd agreed to buy from Jordan, the warrant said. When officers arrived at the scene Thursday just after 12:45 a.m., Jordan was suffering from a stab wound to the chest, Atlanta police said. Jordan was taken to the hospital where he was later pronounced dead. In addition to Burnette's confession, an officer wrote in his arrest affidavit that investigators were able to get video footage of the incident from a security camera in the area. According to the warrant, the video evidence showed Burnette chasing Jordan around his car and stabbing him multiple times. Burnette also had blood on his clothes and hands, and a knife was recovered at the crime scene, the warrant said. Burnette was taken to Atlanta police headquarters to be interviewed, according to his warrants, then booked into the Fulton County Jail. He remains in jail without bond on charges of murder, aggravated assault and possession of a knife during the commission of a felony, jail records show. Jordan had celebrated his 33rd birthday less than a week earlier and had three children, his mother-in-law Stacy Wright told The Atlanta Journal-Constitution. At the time, Wright told the AJC she wasn't sure if the killing was over money, but said, "It wasn't enough to take somebody's life regardless."

Montgomery police say they have made an arrest in a burglary and theft investigation at Country Club Shopping Center. The shopping center, in the 1700 block of Carter Hill Road, is the well-known home of Martin's Restaurant, Winn-Dixie and several other businesses. Maj. Saba Coleman told Action 8 News that at about 1:47AM today, officers were called to the shopping center to investigate a burglary. Contact was made with several complainants, who told officers that a burglary occurred and property was taken. Police have charged 19-year-old Traychristion Sankey of Montgomery, with four counts of third-degree burglary and one count of second-degree theft of property. Photos shared on social media show broken glass at the businesses. The shopping center is not far away from The Locker Room and Baker's Framing and Art Supplies, which were recently the targets of burglars, as Action 8 News has reported. Sankey was taken into custody near the scene and placed in the Montgomery County Detention Facility. Court records show Sankey was out on bond for a 3rd degree burglary charge after he broke into the Dollar Tree at 414 South Boulevard on April 8 with the intent to commit a crime. Judge Tiffany McCord has since revoked his bond.

Two people are dead in what the Mobile County Sheriff's Office suspects is a murder-suicide in Chickasaw, a city of about 6,100 people north of Mobile. Chickasaw police were called to a residence on Ryan Street just before 5:30 a.m. Thursday on a report of two people being shot. Police in turn contacted the sheriff's office for assistance. When detectives arrived at the scene, they found 27-year-old Tracus Wiggins and his girlfriend, 25-year-old Haley Sharpe, each dead with an apparent gunshot wound to the head. Wiggins was found on the floor of the carport at the residence where the two resided, while Sharpe was found inside her vehicle. Investigators believe the deaths to be a murder-suicide, but a determination will be made once toxicology and autopsy reports are received.

Multiple media reports say Birmingham police are on the scene of a shooting incident at Jefferson County Family Court. The incident happened at 120 2nd Ct. N. in Birmingham. Police were on the scene just after 9 a.m., according to WBRC. WVTM-13 reported that one shot was apparently from outside, as it shattered the glass of the front door. There is no word on injuries.

A woman was hurt when gunfire shattered the windows of the Jefferson County Family Court building Thursday morning in Birmingham, authorities said. Officers from the Birmingham Police Department's North Precinct were dispatched to the building around 9:10 a.m. Thursday on a report of shots fired, said Officer Truman Fitzgerald. Officers found the front door of the court building was damaged by gunfire and several windows were shattered from the shots. A woman inside the building was wounded by shattered glass, Fitzgerald said. She sustained non-life-threatening injuries. The preliminary investigation suggested an unknown suspect or suspects fired shots at someone, possibly from the courthouse parking lot. Police believe the gunfire was an isolated incident and is not believed to be connected to any courthouse official or matters being considered in the court. No suspects were in custody as of 11:40 a.m. Thursday.

Atlanta Police are looking into what may have prompted a shooting Thursday afternoon, leading to injuries. Atlanta Police were called to the 2600 block of Campbellton Rd. SW just before 3:20 p.m. Police said a 20-year-old man had a gunshot wound in the leg. Officers also found a 36-year-old man at a nearby location who was injured by shattered glass. Both men, police said, were taken to the hospital to be treated for their injuries. The preliminary investigation determined someone fired shots while the men were standing outside 2640 Campbellton Rd. SW. Investigators are looking into the circumstances surrounding the gunfire.

A 40-year-old man is in a Georgia hospital in critical condition after he was allegedly pistol-whipped by his uncle until he lost consciousness early Friday morning in Alabama, authorities said. Lee County sheriff's deputies responded to a 911 call of gunshots and an unresponsive man around 12:19 a.m. Friday in the 15000 block of U.S. Highway 280 East in Smiths Station, WRBL reported. Efforts by AL.com to reach the sheriff's office were unsuccessful. Deputies found a 40-year-old man unconscious at the scene. The victim was taken to Piedmont Hospital in Columbus, Georgia, where he was listed in critical condition as of Friday afternoon. Witnesses told authorities the victim was in an argument with his uncle when his uncle pulled out a gun and pistol-whipped the victim until the victim lost consciousness. Jamey Dillard, 46, of Smiths Station was arrested and charged with first-degree assault. He was taken to the Lee County jail, where he remains held on $50,000 bond.

Authorities have released the name of a man shot to death Friday outside a west Birmingham convenience store. The Jefferson County Coroner's Office on Monday identified the victim as Willie Lee Dorsey Jr. He was 55 and lived in Birmingham. West Precinct officers responded to the 5 Points West Food Mart at 2258 Bessemer Rd. around 3:22 p.m. Friday on a call of a person shot. Several Shot Spotter alerts, which indicate when gunfire may have erupted at a scene, were also activated, said Officer Truman Fitzgerald. Police found Dorsey unresponsive in the parking lot. Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service pronounced him dead on the scene at 3:40 p.m. Police said the suspect went to the location, shot Dorsey and then fled. The department's Real Time Crime Center helped patrol officers locate the suspect. He was taken into custody for questioning. "Our patrol officers immediately began investigating this call," Fitzgerald said. "They were able to gain a description of the suspect with the help of the BPD Real Time Crime Center, we were able to track not only the suspect's vehicle but the suspect himself at a nearby location." Police have not yet announced any formal charges.

A suspect has been charged in the shooting death of a man found slain inside a car earlier this month. O’ Nandas Carmece Beard, 26, is charged with murder in the June 7 shooting death of 35-year-old Demarco Cortez Thomas. Beard was taken into custody by the Birmingham Police Department’s Crime Reduction Team at a home in west Birmingham. Officer Truman Fitzgerald said detectives also recovered a “Glock Switch” at the home. He was booked into the Jefferson County Jail at 6:08 p.m. Tuesday and remains held without bond. Thomas, also known as Jeremy Demarco Sistrunk, was shot and killed about 3:30 p.m. that Friday. West Precinct officers were dispatched to a report of shots fired in the 400 Block of 9th Street West. Officers were then received an update that a black SUV had crashed near the intersection. When officers arrived on the scene, they saw the wrecked vehicle. Thomas was found dead inside. A motive has not been disclosed.

The suspect in an alleged murder-suicide in DeKalb County on Friday night has been identified as a police sergeant in Georgia, authorities said Sunday. Michael Durieux, 38, a reserve sergeant with the Fort Valley Police Department, is accused of killing 37-year-old Christian Chestnut in Panthersville following an argument. He then allegedly fled the scene and took his own life after crashing near I-20, DeKalb police said. Their bodies were found about a half-mile apart. “(Durieux) was off duty at the time of the incident and was operating his personal vehicle,” DeKalb police spokesman Lt. Shane Smith told The Atlanta Journal-Constitution. On Friday, officers were called around 7:20 p.m. to the 3000 block of Rainbow Drive, where they found Chestnut dead from multiple gunshot wounds. Witnesses told police that a man involved in the incident left the scene. The driver was then involved in a wreck on Candler Road near I-20 and “took his own life with a self-inflicted gunshot wound,” officers stated. According to police, Chestnut was targeted by Durieux, and a verbal fight led to the shooting. Fort Valley police did not respond to requests for more information. The incident remains under investigation.

An man was shot and killed Saturday on a road in front of a residential area, according to the Aiken County Sheriff's Office. Deputies responded to Wellstar MCG Health, a hospital in Augusta, after a report that a man was brought to the emergency room with a gunshot wound to the body. The sheriff's office said the shooting occurred early Saturday at the intersection of Sage Creek Boulevard and Bettis Academy Road in Graniteville in front of a residential area — not far from Graniteville Community Bible Church and Leavelle McCampbell Middle School. Aiken County Coroner Darryl Ables identified the man as 23-year-old Richard Carroll. Carroll was pronounced dead by doctors at hospital just after 2:30 a.m. His autopsy will be conducted in Newberry. Information is limited at this time, officials said. The Aiken County Coroner's Office, Richmond County Sheriff's Office in Georgia and the Augusta University Police Department are aiding in the sheriff's investigation.

Two Richmond County deputies shot a man who opened fire outside an Augusta restaurant shortly after midnight Saturday, the GBI said. According to authorities, three deputies were working off-duty jobs at the Sole’ restaurant on Broad Street, which has heavy pedestrian traffic due to the many bars and restaurants in the area. About 1:15 a.m., the deputies heard multiple gunshots and followed the sound. They found a man standing outside the restaurant “holding an assault pistol,” officials said. Two of the three deputies shot at the suspect, hitting the man at least once, the GBI said. Two bystanders were also wounded, but the GBI did not clarify if they were struck by gunfire from the suspect or the deputies. All three were taken to the hospital, but their conditions were not released. No officers were injured. The suspect, whose name was not released, faces multiple charges, including two counts of aggravated assault and possession of a firearm during the commission of a crime. Investigators later determined that the suspect had been in a gunfight with multiple other people, the GBI said. “This gunfight covered an area of two to three blocks,” according to the GBI. It’s not clear what started the shootout. Several weapons were recovered at the scene, and seven vehicles were hit by gunfire, the GBI said. Some businesses also sustained damage from stray bullets. The GBI will conduct its independent investigation, and once complete, the case file will be given to the Augusta District Attorney’s Office for review.

Human remains were found inside the trunk of a burned vehicle at a vacant house in west Birmingham. The discovery was made at 2:40 a.m. Saturday in the 300 block of Barbee Street, authorities announced Monday. According to the Jefferson County Coroner’s Office, Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service responded to the scene on a report of a house fire. Once they extinguished the blaze, said Chief Deputy Coroner Bill Yates, they found human remains in the trunk of a burned vehicle in the carport. The victim was pronounced dead on the scene at 2:46 a.m. Yates said the victim was a man, but his race and age have not yet been determined. The death is being investigated as a homicide. The victim is the city’s 65th homicide this year. Of those, five have been ruled justifiable and therefore aren’t deemed criminal.

A weekend shooting at an east Birmingham apartment complex that left one person dead, and two others injured has been ruled justifiable. Birmingham police on Wednesday said no criminal charges will be filed in Saturday's slaying of 23-year-old Zetarius Free. The shooting happened about 10:45 a.m. at Carson Crest Apartments on Carson Road. Officer Truman Fitzgerald said a conflict between two men led to the gunfire that killed Free, and wounded others – including a woman who was caught in the crossfire. Free and the other male victim were taken by private vehicle to St. Vincent's East where Free was pronounced dead at 11:24 p.m. A woman who was at a nearby church was taken by emergency responders to a hospital with non-life-threatening gunshot injuries. "When officers began investigating, they found out the two males had been involved in an argument and one of the males pulled out a gun and the two got into a shootout with one another," Fitzgerald said. "We think the female was just caught in the crossfire." Detectives presented their evidence to the Jefferson County District Attorney's Office, which deemed no charges would be filed. Six people have been killed in Birmingham over the past week. Of those, two have been ruled justified. There have been 66 homicides in the city this year. Seven of those have now been ruled justified and therefore are not considered criminal.

One man was killed Saturday and another is wanted on a murder charge, South Carolina officials said. Tarrence Eugene Robinson, a 36-year-old Greenwood resident, died after being shot in the head, the Greenwood County Coroner's Office said. A search is underway for 40-year-old Tony Matthew Landron, who was called "armed and dangerous," by the Greenwood Police Department. In addition to murder, Landron is also facing a charge for possession of a weapon during the commission of a violent crime, according to police. Landron and Robinson knew each other prior to the shooting, police said. There was no word on a motive for the shooting. At about 1:30 p.m. Saturday, officers responded to the shooting at 125 Oakhill Avenue and found a shooting victim, police said. EMS took Robinson to an area hospital, where he died at about 2:30 p.m., according to the coroner's office. No other injuries were reported in the shooting that continues to be investigated by police and the coroner's office. An autopsy is scheduled for next week. Police warned anyone who sees Landron to stay away from him and call 911.

A Henry County police officer shot at a man who allegedly stole a truck and used it to ram a patrol vehicle Saturday afternoon near Stockbridge, officials said. At about 4:35 p.m., officers said they spotted a stolen truck on Business Center Drive near Piedmont Henry Hospital and I-75. As the officers tried to conduct a traffic stop, the driver, identified as 31-year-old Daniel Jay Waldrop, drove toward the patrol vehicle and rammed into it, according to the GBI. “The officer shot at Waldrop, but Waldrop was not hit by the gunfire,” the state agency said. Waldrop then led the officers on a lengthy chase, according to the GBI. He was taken into custody after several metro Atlanta agencies helped to stop the truck during the pursuit. The state agency said an officer was hurt during the incident, but did not share the extent of their injuries. It’s unclear if they were injured during the chase or when the patrol vehicle was struck. Once the investigation is complete, the GBI will turn over its findings to the Henry County District Attorney’s Office for review. It marked the 28th officer-involved shooting the state agency has been asked to investigate this year and the second Saturday. Earlier that day, Richmond County deputies shot a gunman near an Augusta restaurant after shots had been fired in the area, leaving two bystanders hurt, the GBI stated. The suspect, who was not publicly identified, was arrested and charged with two counts of aggravated assault and possession of a firearm during the commission of a crime, officials said.

A woman was allegedly shot and killed by her ex-husband during a graduation party in Gwinnett County on Saturday night, according to authorities. The gunfire erupted just before 7:30 p.m. inside an event venue at the strip mall on Stone Mountain Highway, where responding officers found a woman dead from a gunshot wound, police said. Authorities said the suspect was subdued by bystanders and taken into custody. The incident was domestic-related, Gwinnett police spokesperson Officer Mark Meyers said, adding that investigators were speaking with witnesses and looking at evidence to determine a motive. “There was a graduation party occurring at the venue,” Meyers said. “The victim and suspect were formerly married.” Their names will be released after next of kin has been notified, according to police. On Sunday, The Atlanta Journal-Constitution reached out to the venue, which declined to comment. No other details were shared by police about what led to the incident.

An investigation is ongoing after gunfire at a weekend block party in Eufaula left four people injured. Police responded at 10:25 p.m. Saturday to shots fired in the 900 block of Jackson Street. Chief Danny Christ said four victims were transported to Medical Center Barbour. Their wounds were not life-threatening. The chief said the shooting happened during a small block party. “At this time, it appears to be an isolated incident,” Christ said. No arrests have been announced.

ACTION 8 UPDATE: Alexander City have made an arrest in a fatal shooting at Benson’s Community Center. As Action 8 News has reported, police were called to the community center on North Central Avenue at around 12:30AM on Sunday, June 9. They found 19-year-old Jay’z’ion Strong of Goodwater dead of a gunshot wound. Two other people were found at a hospital where they were being treated for non-life threatening gunshot wounds. Investigators say 18-year-old Latavian Brownfield of Sylacauga, who was previously identified as a victim, was determined to be the shooter responsible for the fatal shooting and the assault of another. He has been charged with murder and assault.

A Sunday shooting in Montgomery left one man dead and a teen in custody. Police and fire medics responded at 2:30 a.m. to the 2100 block of Eastern Boulevard on a report of shots fired. Maj. Saba Coleman said officers arrived to find 22-year-old Noel Avido Lopez dead on the scene from a gunshot wound. Investigators quickly identified the suspect as 18-year-old Yesman Bardales-Antunez. He was taken into custody early Monday by the Jefferson County Sheriff's Office. Bardales-Antunez is charged with capital murder. The charge is capital because the victim was in a vehicle when he was fatally shot. A motive has not been disclosed. Both the suspect and the victim lived in Montgomery. Bardales-Antunez is being held without bond in the Montgomery County Detention Center.

An officer is recovering from minor injuries after being hurt during a scuffle with a burglary suspect on Sunday morning. According to the Atlanta Police Department, officers responded to a Dollar Tree on Ralph D Abernathy Blvd SW around 4 a.m. Upon arrival, an officer saw a male suspect leaving the location carrying a book bag. The officer then attempted to detain the suspect, but the suspect physically resisted. Police said this resulted in a scuffle, which led to the officer using his Taser. The officer then successfully detained the suspect. Police said the officer sustained minor non-life-threatening injuries. A witness gave other responding officers a description of a second male suspect, and officers were able to detain a second suspect at a nearby gas station. Both suspects were in possession of stolen merchandise from the business and are facing charges, police stated.

[6/18/2024] Prattville police are searching for suspects who they say stole a pickup truck before attempting to steal money from an ATM. Police need your help identifying the suspects who they say are wanted on felony theft charges. Police say the suspects stole a 2003 white Ford F-350 pickup truck in the area of Highland Lakes Apartments. They say they drove to the Guardian Credit Union at 1794 East Main Street and tried to steal money from the ATM between the hours of 4:40AM and 5:30AM on Sunday, June 9. Investigators say they fled from the credit union and abandoned the pickup truck, which police have recovered.

[6/25/2024] Three teenagers and a 20-year-old were arrested on multiple charges following a recent crime spree, the Columbia Police Department said Monday night. The crimes include three armed robberies and carjackings in June, including one incident where a child was held at gunpoint. Michael Jyrel Davis, 19, was charged with armed robbery, criminal conspiracy, and possession of a weapon during a violent crime. Davis' bond was set at $75,000, but he remains behind bars at the Alvin S. Glenn Detention Center. The other men were denied bond, police said. Jayden Ny'heim Rainey, 18, was charged with two counts of armed robbery, carjacking, two counts of possession of a weapon during a violent crime, and criminal conspiracy. His brother, 20-year-old Je' Korey Demond Rainey-Smith, was arrested on the same charges. Rainey-Smith is on probation for previous weapons charges. Lamar Donelle Wilson, 18, was charged with two counts of armed robbery, carjacking, and criminal conspiracy. Davis, Rainey, Rainey-Smith, and Wilson are "accused of stealing vehicles at gunpoint from unsuspecting victims," police said. No injuries were reported by police, who said the victims did not resist demands issued by Davis, Rainey, Rainey-Smith, and Wilson. One incident happened shortly before midnight on June 9. In the 4200 block of Grand Street, the four men demanded keys to a 2020 Chevrolet Equinox from a male victim, police said. Officers recovered the stolen SUV a short time later in the 3400 block of West Avenue. Another incident happened at about 2 a.m. on June 16, police said. In the 1400 block of Grand Street, the men demanded keys to a 2024 Toyota Camry from a male victim. The car, which was a rental vehicle, was recovered a short time later by officers in the 1500 block of Lewis Avenue. The most recent incident

A Bessemer man is under arrest, accused of pistol-whipping a woman who was giving him a ride, stealing her car and then leading police on a chase through multiple cities. Michael King, 30, is charged with first-degree robbery, second-degree assault, criminal mischief, attempting to elude, and unlawful possession of a pistol. Alabaster police responded at 5:30 a.m. to a call for service at a closed gas station. The initial information indicated a car had been stolen from that location. Det. Andrew Rowan said when officers arrived, they found a woman who had been struck repeatedly in the head with a gun. She told police she had met King that night and was giving him a ride home when the assault took place. She said King then took her car and left, heading northbound on Interstate 65. Pelham officers then spotted the vehicle still northbound on I-65 and tried to stop the driver. Officers from Hoover and Vestavia Hills joined in the pursuit. Homewood police also assisted. Rowan said King was finally taken into custody on Oxmoor Road in Birmingham. King remains held without bond in the Shelby County Jail.

A Johnston County deputy fatally shot a man who tried to take his gun Monday morning outside the UNC Health Johnston hospital in Clayton, the Sheriff's Office said. The deputy was trying to leave the hospital parking lot in his patrol car at 5:46 a.m. when the man confronted him, the Johnston County Sheriff's Office said in a news release. "During the encounter, the suspect attempted to gain control of the deputy's firearm," the release stated. "A struggle ensued into the parking lot where the deputy was able to regain control of his firearm, and shots were fired resulting in the death of the suspect." The Sheriff's Office is not currently releasing the names of the deputy or the man killed. The Sheriff's Office also did not say why the deputy was at the hospital Monday morning. Alan Wolf, director of news and media relations for UNC Health, said he did not know why the deputy was there but that, in general, deputies sometimes are escorting people in custody or patients. No hospital employees were injured in the incident, he said. No body camera: The Sheriff's Office does not have body-worn or in-car cameras, spokesman Maj. Jeff Caldwell told The News & Observer by email Monday. Local law enforcement agencies that do have cameras sometimes ask a judge for permission to release footage to show what happened in shooting incidents. Sheriff Steve Bizzell and Johnston County District Attorney Susan Doyle have asked the State Bureau of Investigation to investigate the incident, which is normal procedure when an officer shoots someone. The SBI typically reports its findings to the local district attorney. The deputy in Monday's shooting has been placed on administrative leave with pay, which is also typical after such incidents.

A suspect has been arrested in a Montgomery bank robbery. According to court records, 29-year-old Lane Blatchford, of Prattville, walked into the Liberty Bank on Carmichael Road around 10:00 a.m. Monday. Blatchford gave the cashier a check that said "I have a gun, smile and give me a stack of hundred dollar bills or I start shooting." Police say Blatchford then placed his hand in his front pockets to fashion as if he had a weapon, then later fled on foot. No one was injured in the incident. Blatchford is charged with 1st degree Robbery and is currently in the Montgomery County Detention Facility.

A juvenile was killed in an afternoon shooting in Eufaula on Monday. Eufaula police were dispatched just before 2:30 p.m. to a report of shots fired in the area of Spruce Circle, said Chief Danny Christ. The young victim was taken to Medical Center Barbour and was pronounced dead shortly after arrival. The juvenile's name, age and gender has not yet been released. Christ said the shooting appears to be an isolated incident.

A 3-year-old boy has life-threatening injuries after he and a man were injured in a drive-by shooting on Fayetteville Street Monday afternoon, the Durham Police Department said. Officers responded at 4:46 p.m. to a reported gunshot wound in a parking lot behind a Walgreens in the 700 block of Fayetteville Street, just south of the Durham Freeway and downtown. Based on a preliminary investigation, the shooter drove through the parking lot and fired on a car the man and the young child were sitting in. The man was taken to the hospital with non-life-threatening injuries, police said in a news release. The 3-year-old was taken to the hospital with more severe injuries. MAYOR SPEAKS OUT: At a City Council meeting last month, Mayor Leonardo Williams said some Durham neighborhoods are "getting sprayed" with gunfire. He gave ABC11, The News & Observer's news partner, this statement Monday evening: "As mayor of one of the coolest cities in America, best places to live, best business establishments, etc, none of that matters until we make the safety of our communities, especially our children, the No. 1 priority in this city," Williams said. "It won't happen until we treat our children with the same outrage we have over street safety, clear-cutting trees, and ceasefires in the Middle East," he continued. "That starts with community members demanding accountability from themselves and ALL of their government bodies."

A juvenile male was injured in a shooting that happened late Monday afternoon. Police and fire medics were called just before 5:00 p.m. to the 4000 block of Samantha Drive after receiving a call that a person had been shot. Samantha Drive is in the Dalraida area. Once they arrived, they found the unidentified victim with a non-life threatening gunshot wound. The victim was taken to a local hospital for treatment. No word on any suspects at this time.

A woman riding a bicycle was killed Monday night after she was struck by a vehicle on Dauphin Island Parkway. The victim, only described as a woman in her late 30s, was struck around 8:30 p.m. on the parkway by Sand Island Road in Belle Fontaine, Fowl River Volunteer Fire Chief John Corideo told Fox 10. The bicyclist was riding north in the southbound lanes and in the middle of the road when she was struck, the chief said. He said the driver of the vehicle fled the scene. An Alabama Law Enforcement Agency trooper told AL.com that ALEA is investigating the incident but could not provide other information because the probe was ongoing.

An off-duty Mobile police officer was shot at while walking in an apartment complex Monday night, according to officials. Few details were immediately available. The incident happened at around 9:25 p.m. in the Woodside Apartments at 5089 Government Boulevard. Officers called to the scene on a report of a shooting learned the officer was walking in the complex when someone in a vehicle fired a shot in his direction. No injuries were reported. The officer was wearing civilian clothing at the time of the incident, police said. This is an active investigation, police said. There has been no word on arrests and police said they will not be giving interviews to the media about the incident at this time.

Atlanta Police are investigating after four people were shot at a food court in downtown Atlanta on Tuesday. The incident occurred at The Hub at Peachtree Center, located in the 200 block of Peachtree Road NE. At this time, details are very limited. We are still working to gather information on the details surrounding the incident and if the suspect is in custody. Atlanta Mayor Andre Dickens said that the building is currently on lockdown. For now, authorities are referring to this as an "open and active" scene.

South Carolina deputies arrested a 70-year-old man for murder Tuesday after finding the body of a woman missing since May, officials said. Thomas W. Glenn, 70, is in the Chester County jail without bail, the Chester County Sheriff's Office said in a statement and a news conference. Early Tuesday, officials found the body of Donna Lynn Coley, 56, of Chester, in an abandoned mobile home off Cradle Street, said Chester County Coroner Terry Tinker. Officials did not say how Coley died. Tinker said the coroner's office believes Coley was dead for several days before being found. Coley was last seen May 30 and reported missing to law enforcement the next day, deputies said. Her body was found near where U.S. 321 and S.C. 9 intersect in Chester. Deputies and State Law Enforcement Division agents are still investigating.

A chaotic chase involving a hijacked transit bus that spanned Fulton, Gwinnett and DeKalb counties ended Tuesday afternoon with a person shot to death and a felon arrested, officials said. Joseph Grier, 39, was taken into custody at about 5:15 p.m. after the Gwinnett bus was stopped on Hugh Howell Road near Tucker, Atlanta police Chief Darin Schierbaum said during a news conference near the bus. When officers cleared the bus, they found one person suffering from a gunshot wound, police said. The person was taken to the hospital but later died from their wounds. Their name was not released. Police said 17 people, including the driver, were on the bus, but there were no other injuries. Atlanta Mayor Andre Dickens confirmed that the driver was held at gunpoint during the ordeal. "My heart goes out to the family of the one individual that is deceased at this time. My heart also goes out to the individuals that had to endure this frightening journey across multiple jurisdictions," Dickens said. The bus began its wild ride after a fight broke out on the vehicle while it was in downtown Atlanta at 45 Ivan Allen Jr. Boulevard, police said. Dispatchers received their first call around 4:30 p.m. about a gunman who was holding people hostage and that a firearm had potentially been discharged. An officer arrived a minute later and confronted Grier, who then forced the bus driver to drive off, officials said. A second 911 caller reported they were receiving text messages from a family member inside the bus saying it had been hijacked. A final call came from a person who was inside the bus, and that caller remained on the line until the vehicle was finally stopped in DeKalb. Atlanta police began to pursue the bus on I-85 near Spaghetti Junction, following it into Gwinnett. The bus exited

[6/22/2024] A Prosperity man was arrested and charged in a fatal shooting of a police dog last week, according to the Lexington County Sheriff's Department. James Robert Peterson, 37, was charged with cruelty to a police dog, breach of peace, possession of a weapon by a person convicted of certain crimes, resisting arrest with a deadly weapon and four counts of pointing and presenting a firearm at a person, according to arrest warrants. Peterson is being held at the Newberry County Detention Center. "We've determined these charges are warranted based on Peterson's actions during the encounter with Newberry County deputies and SLED (South Carolina Law Enforcement Division) agents," Lexington County Sheriff Jay Koon said in the statement. On June 11, Newberry County deputies and SLED agents went to serve a felony fugitive warrant near Gravel Road in the Prosperity area. Peterson reportedly was found hiding inside the home of a relative, the sheriff's office said. He failed to follow commands and fired shots at officers, striking K9 Coba, a Belgian Malinois mix who joined the SLED in 2021, as the dog tried to apprehend him. The Eighth Judicial Circuit Solicitor's Office will prosecute the case. "Today is a somber day, but it's also a day of celebration for a server and partner," SLED Chief Mark Keel said at a funeral service. "Coba will be remembered for his dedication to SLED and his partner (Cole Powell). "No human counterpart ... goes home with their partner, shares their family with their partner and becomes part of the family. Because of the ultimate sacrifice Coba made, the family was preserved" as Powell and other officers involved in Peterson's arrest went home to their families.

The GBI is investigating after a man was shot to death by U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration agents in Clayton County on Tuesday morning. The agents were serving search and arrest warrants at a house in the 1600 block of Bag Pipe Place in Conley around 6 a.m. When they entered the home, they saw a man run into one of the rooms. “He later appeared with a gun and shot at the agents,” the GBI said. “Agents returned fire and took cover inside the home.” More shots were heard coming from the suspect’s last known location, but agents did not continue firing back, the state agency said. After hearing one last shot, they found the man with a gunshot wound. The GBI did not specify if investigators believe it was a self-inflicted wound or if he was struck by the agents’ gunfire. The man was pronounced dead at the scene. He will be identified once agents have notified his next of kin, the GBI said. The agency will conduct an independent investigation. Once complete, the case file will be given to the Clayton County District Attorney’s Office for review. The incident was the 29th officer-involved shooting the GBI has been asked to investigate this year. By this time last year, there had been 45.

A Luverne man is charged with attempted murder after a juvenile was shot in Brantley. The Crenshaw County Sheriff’s Office says 20-year-old Shawn Garner was arrested by Brantley police. He is also charged with burglary and certain persons forbidden from having a gun. The shooting happened at about 2PM Tuesday on Maple Street in Brantley. Investigators say the juvenile was found inside a vehicle suffering from several gunshot wounds. The juvenile was flown to a hospital in Montgomery for treatment.

A person reportedly armed with a knife was shot to death by Opelika police on Interstate 85 Tuesday afternoon. Officers responded at 2:35 p.m. to a report of a traffic crash involving an 18-wheeler and a car, authorities said. When they arrived, they were confronted by a person with a knife. “The incident ultimately led to an officer-involved shooting,” according to an OPD press release. The person was pronounced dead on the scene. No additional details have been released. As is standard procedure, the Alabama Law Enforcement Agency/State Bureau of Investigation was called in to lead the probe. Once SBI agents have completed a full and thorough investigation, authorities said, the results will be turned over to the Lee County District Attorney’s Office to present to a grand jury.

[6/17/2024] A second person was arrested following the recent shooting death of a tow truck driver, according to the Richland County Sheriff’s Department. Essence Jackson, 19, was charged with murder Monday, the sheriff’s department said in a news release. Her brother, 20-year-old Raheem Jackson, was also charged with murder when he was arrested June 12. That’s the same day that 46-year-old Lexington resident Steven Hughes was killed in an early morning shooting, the Richland County Coroner’s Office said. The shooting happened in the 7200 block of Fairmont Road. That’s in Columbia, near the intersection with Leesburg Road, not far from Exit 9 on Interstate 77. The shooting was as a result of a towing company repossessing a vehicle. Raheem Jackson was also charged with possession of a firearm during a violent crime. Members of the sheriff’s department attempted to serve a search warrant and arrest warrant at Essence Jackson’s residence on Monday morning, but she was not home, according to the release. She was located at a secondary location a short time later and was taken into custody without further incident. No bond has been set for either Essence or Raheem Jackson, and both are being held at the Alvin S. Glenn Detention Center, jail records show. Despite the arrests, the sheriff’s department is continuing to investigate the shooting.

A man was found shot to death in the parking of a small strip mall on Birmingham's west side early Wednesday morning. An unknown person called 911 to report the shooting shortly before 12:30 a.m. When officers arrived in the 1400 block of Third Avenue West, they found the victim face down on the pavement. Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service pronounced him dead on the scene. The victim was later identified as Ta' Darrius Omar Debodre Jones, 30, of Birmingham. Sgt. LaQuitta Wade said there were multiple people in the parking when police first arrived, but they quickly scattered. A running vehicle was about 50 feet away from Jones. Wade said Shot Spotter, the city's gunfire detection system, alerted police at 12:08 a.m. to about 20 rounds fired a block away from where the victim was eventually found. Officers responding to the Shot Spotter alert did not initially find anything at the location they were first given. There were at least 30 shell casing markers surrounding Jones' body. Wade said investigators believe he was targeted. No one is in custody. Jones, whose family members were at the scene, is the city's 66th homicide this year. Of those, six have been ruled justifiable and therefore aren't deemed criminal.

A South Carolina woman's body was recently found on the side of a road and a search is underway for her killer, according to Greenwood County officials. At about 9:15 p.m. on June 12, the Greenwood County Coroner said members of his office responded to Wilson Creek Road where the body of 38-year-old Simpsonville resident Kasia Dierra Simmons was discovered. Simmons appeared to have been shot and her death is being investigated as a homicide, according to the coroner's office. Her body was found by deputies who were responding to a report of a shooting in the Pinehurst subdivision, the Greenwood County Sheriff's Office said. Deputies learned that Simmons and an unknown man were together prior to the shooting, according to the sheriff's office. There was no word if the man is the suspected killer. In addition to interviewing Simmons' family and friends, deputies are asking for information about anyone who was with her prior to the shooting. Additionally, anyone who was in the Pinehurst subdivision between 7-9 p.m. June 12 is asked to call the sheriff's office if they saw or heard anything suspicious.

A woman is in stable but critical condition after an overnight shooting in Tuscaloosa. Tuscaloosa police responded at 10 p.m. Wednesday to The Lofts at City Center apartments on a disturbance call. They arrived to find the 22-year-old victim had been shot multiple times, said Tuscaloosa Violent Crimes Unit Capt. Marty Sellers. The investigation showed that the victim and several other people were at the apartment, including Larry Jones Jr. An argument began during which Jones became aggressive toward the victim and began a physical altercation, Sellers said. The two did not know each other. "The victim was ultimately shot during the scuffle and suffered life-threatening injuries," Sellers said. Jones is charged with attempted murder. He is being held in the Tuscaloosa County Jail. Sellers said more charges could be filed.

An investigation is underway after a pedestrian was killed in a suspected hit-and-run in east Birmingham. East Precinct officers and Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service were dispatched at 4:49 a.m. Thursday to a report of a person down in the 8300 block of First Avenue North. An adult male was found dead at the scene. Sgt. LaQuitta Wade said investigators believe the victim was hit by a vehicle that left the scene. It was not immediately clear when he had been struck. The investigation is in its early stages.

An investigation is underway after woman was killed in a Tuscaloosa hit-and-run Thursday night. Another driver called 911 at 9:32 p.m. after he saw the woman in the roadway, said police spokeswoman Stephanie Taylor. Paramedics attempted life-saving measures, but the woman's injuries were too severe. She was pronounced deceased at the scene. Officers identified the victim as a 58-year-old woman who lived nearby. Her name is being withheld at this time, police said. They spoke with family members and learned that she suffers from a medical condition that could have caused her to collapse while walking, before she was struck by the vehicle, Taylor said. TPD's Traffic Homicide Unit responded and is working to locate the driver who left the scene. Leaving the scene of an accident with injuries or a fatality is a Class C felony.

A teenager who was shot multiple times Thursday evening in a Lawrenceville neighborhood later died from his injuries, officials said. Lawrenceville police said they arrived at a home on Memorial Court at about 10 p.m. and discovered a 17-year-old in the front yard suffering from several gunshot wounds. Officers communicated with the semi-conscious victim, who “was able to provide limited information” before being taken to the hospital. The teen, whose name was not released, was later pronounced dead. Uriah Sincere Hall, 19, was identified as the suspect and charged with felony murder, aggravated assault and possession of a firearm, officials said. During the investigation, police said they located the gun used in the shooting and discovered that Hall knew the victim’s girlfriend. Investigators did not provide a motive.

One person was taken into custody following a shooting Friday that injured a Milton officer and another person near a Walmart, police said. The shooting happened shortly after noon in the parking lot of the store at 5200 Windward Parkway off Alpharetta Highway. The officer was taken to a hospital with minor injuries, while one of the suspects was taken to Wellstar North Fulton Medical Center with serious injuries, according to officials. Another suspect was taken into custody. No other details were released on the officer-involved shooting, and the suspects were not publicly identified. The GBI has been asked to investigate the incident.

A man was shot multiple times as he left a Buckhead movie theater early Friday, officials said. Upon arriving at the scene, officers discovered a 26-year-old man who had been shot several times in the Phipps Plaza parking lot just before 2 a.m., Atlanta police said. The victim was transported to Grady Memorial Hospital and was described as stable, according to Channel 2 Action News. Two men became engaged in a conflict that resulted in the shots fired, the news station reported. Officials said that an investigation is ongoing surrounding the circumstances of the gunfire.

A morning shooting in a west Birmingham neighborhood sent a man to a hospital with serious injuries. The shooting happened at 9:35 a.m. Friday at a residence in the 900 block of Buffalo Street. That is in the Wylam community. The victim was taken to UAB Hospital with life-threatening injuries. Officer Truman Fitzgerald said police initially responded to a Shot Spotter call of shots fired in the area. Police cordoned off a block along Buffalo Street and appeared to be focusing some of their investigative efforts at the rear of a home there. Fitzgerald said the victim was targeted. No additional details have been released. No one is in custody.

A woman shot by a Milton Police officer in the parking lot of a Walmart after allegedly hitting the officer with a stolen vehicle trying to get away has died of her injuries at the hospital on Friday, the Georgia Bureau of Investigation said. The woman was identified by the GBI as 31-year-old Shantidra Harris of Atlanta. The police officer was released from North Fulton Hospital in Alpharetta, where the department said he was treated for minor injuries. The incident all unfolded Friday afternoon around 12:15 p.m. in the parking lot at the Walmart store located at 5200 Windward Parkway, police said. In a Friday afternoon press conference, Milton Police Lieutenant Andrew Noble said officers responded to a Kohl's just down the street from the Walmart on Highway 9 for a reported shoplifting. The three suspects left the scene in a red Dodge Journey SUV with a temporary license plate, Noble said. When officers responded, they found the suspect's vehicle. The suspect hit another car, and then officers lost sight of the SUV for a moment but saw it again in the Walmart parking lot. When officers pulled up, only one person was inside the suspect's vehicle. Police said a woman was taken into custody in the parking lot. A second suspect, identified as Harris, allegedly got out of the Dodge SUV and carjacked another driver's vehicle in the parking lot, a white Toyota Corolla. The GBI said that a Milton Police officer was in front of the vehicle when Harris "quickly accelerated" the stolen car and hit the officer head-on. The GBI said the officer fired his weapon after he was hit, hitting Harris with gunfire. Harris was taken to North Fulton Hospital, where she died from her injuries on Friday night. A third suspect remains at large, but Noble said they are not a danger to the community. An employee at a nearby McDonald's told 11Alive she saw a driver hit

Two people were shot at an apartment complex close to downtown Athens on Friday afternoon, police said. Athens–Clarke County Police said officers responded to the Bethel Homes apartment complex on Hickman Drive off College Avenue in Athens around 1:50 p.m. When officers got there, they found two people shot. Both victims were taken to the hospital with non–life–threatening injuries. It’s unclear whether someone is in custody, according to Athens–Clarke County Police Department Lieutenant Jody Thompson. The apartment complex is just north of downtown Athens, right next door to Hotel Indigo Athens Downtown and less than half a mile from the downtown Athens–Clarke County Police precinct.

A man has died after he was shot at a Phenix City apartment complex Friday. Christopher Womack, 52, was shot and killed around 2:43 p.m. Friday at The District at Phenix City complex at 2700 College Dr., Russell County Coroner Arthur Sumbry Jr. told WTVM. Womack’s body is being sent to the Alabama Department of Forensic Sciences for an autopsy. Further information was unavailable.

One person was shot and stabbed Saturday during a fight at a park near Lake Murray, according to the Newberry County Sheriff’s Office. The shooting happened at Sunset Boat Ramp and Park near Holland’s Landing Road, the sheriff’s office said in a news release. The park in Newberry County is owned by Dominion Energy. Several people at the South Carolina park got in an argument, which led to a fight. One person was stabbed and shot, according to the release. The victim was airlifted by helicopter to a hospital. The first deputy who responded to the park called for additional back up because the crowd was “excited,” according to the release. At about 8 p.m., the sheriff’s office said deputies had control of the scene, where they held interviews. Information about why the people were arguing, and the exact number of those involved, was not available. There was no word about a shooter or shooters, or anyone else involved in the gunfire. No arrests have been reported, but the shooting is being investigated by the sheriff’s office. In addition to the sheriff’s office both Lake Murray Rescue and EMS responded to the park, according to the release.

[6/21/2024] A 19-year-old man has been charged with murder after a fatal shooting in Huntsville. According to court documents, John Albert Torres was arrested on June 15. Police said the arrest stemmed from a shooting following a verbal argument at an apartment pool. A family member was called and came to the pool, and the argument escalated to a physical altercation, which led to the shooting. The victim, Jose Federico Hernandez, 23, was shot to death with a 9 mm handgun, according to court documents. A preliminary hearing is set for July 3 at 1:30 p.m.

[6/20/2024] Five men have been charged following a shootout last weekend in a rural neighborhood in Lexington County, deputies say. On Saturday, five Leesville men — Austin Michael Easterling, 27, Brendon Charles Parcell, 20, Garvin Parcell III, 24, Damon Smith, 21, and Keeley Edward Smith, 23 — traveled to a residence in the 400 block of Otis Road in Pelion armed with handguns, Lexington County Sheriff Jay Koon said in a news release. “Some of the suspects opened a closed gate before walking toward the home, while some of them stayed in their car,” Koon said. “The victims were leaving the home in a car when the suspects started shooting at them and the home.” Koon said the victims’ car hit one of the suspects and another victim returned fire from the home. No one was seriously injured. “Everyone is very fortunate to have no serious injuries as no one was hit by the gunfire,” Koon said. “Four of the suspects were arrested shortly after the shooting. Easterling was arrested Wednesday.” All five suspects have been charged with four counts of first-degree assault and battery, discharging a firearm into a dwelling and criminal conspiracy, according to arrest warrants. The news release didn’t identify a motive for the shooting. The Parcels and Smiths have been released from the Lexington County Detention Center after posting bond. Easterling has a bond hearing scheduled for Thursday, the release said.

Tuskegee police have identified the victim killed in a shooting that left one dead and three others injured. Tuskegee Police Chief Jennifer Jordan tells Action 8 News that 26-year-old Kendarius Beason, of Tuskegee, was fatally injured in a shooting around 1 a.m. Saturday at a gas station on East Martin Luther King Highway. District Attorney for the Fifth Judicial Circuit Mike Segrest identified the gas station as Josh's Store. Chief Jordan said 3 other males were also wounded. Two of the victims were taken to the hospital from life-threatening injuries. Action 8 has learned that the third shooting victim is a fire marshal with the City of Tuskegee. Chief Jordan said he was taken to the hospital with non-life threatening injuries and has since been released. No arrests have been made yet.

A 15-year-old male shot Saturday by Athens police has died, according to local media reports. The incident began around 2:15 p.m. Saturday, when Athens police responded to Elles Drive in Athens after receiving reports of a teenager acting out of control and threatening family members with weapons, according to WHNT TV in Huntsville. Police said the teen threw knives at police as he went to different rooms in the house and was shot when he allegedly pointed a rifle at officers. Athens Police Chief Anthony Pressnell told WHNT that an officer fired one shot after the teenager pointed a rifle at police officers. Pressnell said police administered first aid on the scene until emergency medical personnel arrived and that the teen received medical treatment but later died. Athens Police say the investigation has been turned over to the Alabama Law Enforcement Agency's State Bureau of Investigation.

A Bessemer man is behind bars, accused in a traffic crash that led to the death of an unborn child. Pedro Reina Rodriguez, 39, is charged with reckless manslaughter, according to newly released court records. The wreck happened about 9 p.m. on June 15 in the 1000 block of Ninth Avenue S.W. in Bessemer. Det. Justin Burmeister said officers responded to the two-vehicle accident, and arrested Rodriguez on the scene for driving under the influence. The driver of the second vehicle was a pregnant woman whose unborn child died from injuries sustained in the crash, Burmeister said. Charging document against Rodriguez state the unborn baby had a due date of Aug. 30. Rodriguez was booked into the Jefferson County Jail on June 17. He remains held without bond.

A 42-year-old woman was found stabbed to death inside her Marietta apartment on Sunday morning, according to authorities. Marietta police were called early Sunday to the Lakeside at Town Center on Williams Drive, where the woman's body was found by her coworkers after she didn't show up for work, police spokesperson Officer Chuck McPhilamy said. "She had visible cuts, was unresponsive and appeared deceased," McPhilamy said. According to investigators, the woman had been attacked sometime overnight and was already dead by the time her concerned coworkers arrived at the complex. Police said the front door to her apartment was closed but unlocked. A cause of death has yet to be determined. The woman's name will be released after her family members have been notified, police said. "Like you, we have more questions than answers," McPhilamy said. "Detectives are working now to collect statements and gather evidence. At this time, we do not have a suspect identified." The investigation is ongoing and anyone with more information about the suspect is asked to call Marietta police.

[6/29/2024] After a 22-year-old man charged in a June rape and murder walked free Friday on $50,000 bail, Charlotte Police Chief Johnny Jennings said the bond was too low for the charge. “Disappointed doesn’t begin to describe how I feel in the decision to set a bond that low for a suspect charged with such serious violent felonies,” Jennings said in a statement Friday. Raphael Omar Wright was charged with raping and shooting Michelle Lynn Schechter, 27, on June 16. His bond amount was set by Mecklenburg County Judge Jennifer Fleet, court documents show. The incident took place at an Econo Lodge in west Charlotte. Schechter later died from her injuries after being transported to a hospital, CMPD said. Officers responded to a call at the Econo Lodge on Glenwood Drive about an assault with a deadly weapon around 10:21 p.m. Officers found Schechter with a gunshot wound. The Charlotte Fire Department already was there treating her. Schechter told police she’d been raped before being taken to the hospital, the affidavit said. Detectives reviewed surveillance footage and saw Wright park a black Ford Fusion at the hotel. He was seen using his phone, the affidavit said, before going into Schechter’s room. About 10 minutes later, Schechter ran out of her room while holding her back. Not long after that, Wright exited the room, returned to his vehicle and sped away. The Ford Fusion was registered to Wright, who also matched the description on the surveillance footage. Wright was arrested last week in Rock Hill, S.C., and charged with first-degree murder and first-degree forcible rape. Court documents show Wright posted bail using Chad Lewis Bonding, a bond insurance company with a location in Monroe. “This type of bond amount for murder is exactly

Muscle Shoals police say a 15-year-old boy was shot to death Sunday morning at a motel. The incident happened at about 7:28 a.m. at the Red Roof Inn on Woodward Avenue, according to police. First responders arrived at the motel to find the juvenile, from Tusculumbia, with a gunshot wound. The 15-year-old was taken to Helen Keller Hospital in Sheffield where he died from his injuries. Police said a 16-year-old from Florence, whose name was not released, has been taken into custody. Criminal charges are expected to follow. “MSPD would like to extend our prayers and condolences to the family of the deceased,” police said in an announcement. Deshler High School Principal Jessica Byrd, on social media, said Demarion Richardson, who had recently completed his freshman year at the school, died Sunday. Grief counselors for students and faculty members were on the campus of Deshler High School Monday morning until noon, and will be available this week. Byrd said Richardson’s death “has affected us deeply.” “He was well known throughout the community and by the student body,” Byrd wrote. “Students will have varied reactions to the death of a peer. Any reaction is normal in the grief process. Students may withdraw, cry, or exhibit anger. I encourage you to openly discuss with your child their reactions and feelings regarding the death of Demarion.”

[7/26/2024] A suspect has been charged in a hit-and-run that killed an 84-year-old Birmingham man who was in his wheelchair and on his way home from church. Sammus Hikeem Strickland, 27, is charged with leaving the scene of an accident resulting in death or injury. Killed was Erwin Ellis Curtis. The crash happened at 10:58 a.m. Sunday, June 16, on Messer Airport Highway at Georgia Road. That was Father's Day. Curtis was crossing the street when a vehicle struck him. The driver – identified in court documents as Strickland – fled the scene. Curtis was taken by ambulance to UAB Hospital where he died at 8:15 a.m. Friday, July 5. “At 84 years old, Uncle Erwin was a pillar of strength, love, and wisdom for us all,” said his niece, Ilsa Curtis. “His presence filled our lives with joy, guidance, and cherished memories.” Strickland was booked into the Jefferson County Jail at 2:41 p.m. Thursday and released at 4:58 p.m. after posting a $15,000 bond. His first court date is set for August. Erwin called Ilsa from the scene of the wreck that Sunday. He didn't want to go to the hospital, but she insisted. Erwin had sustained bleeding on the brain and was put into a medically-induced coma. Before the crash, the uncle and niece spoke every Sunday by phone – Ilsa lives in New Jersey – and that was the last day they ever talked. “He was a family-oriented man – everyone in the family catered to him because he was our patriarch,” Ilsa said. “He was our legacy.” Erwin worked all his life and retired from Coca-Cola. “You don't just throw someone like away,” she said of the hit-and-run. “Though we grieve his loss deeply, we find solace in knowing that Uncle Erwin is now in the arms of the Lord,” she said. “His spirit will live on in each of us, guiding us with his wisdom and love. We trust in God's plan, even when it's hard to understand and

A 39-year-old man is fighting for his life after a shooting at the Sweetwater Campground Day Use Area on Father's Day, according to Cherokee County deputies. The shooting happened around 6 p.m. on Fields Chapel Road after an altercation happened between the 39-year-old victim and a 42-year-old man. Deputies added that the two men did not know each other. Witnesses told 911 dispatchers that a suspect had run away after the shooting, and they gave a description of the man's vehicle. A Cherokee County Sheriff's deputy saw a vehicle matching the description traveling west on Knox Bridge Highway towards Bartow County. The deputy stopped the driver and arrested him. The victim was shot three times and remains in critical condition at Wellstar Kennestone Hospital, according to authorities. Deputies charged the 42-year-old suspect with aggravated assault, aggravated battery, possession of a firearm by a convicted felon and commission of a crime. Deputies said in a news release that the suspect is in custody at the Cherokee Adult Detention Center without bond.

A shootout on Birmingham's busy First Avenue North in front of East Lake Park left one person dead and two others seriously injured. Birmingham police Sunday identified the slain man as Martavius Williams. He was 19 and lived in Birmingham. The gunfire erupted about 7:40 p.m. Saturday in the 8200 block of First Avenue North, just off Interstate 59. East Precinct officers started receiving multiple Shot Spotter alerts about that time, said Officer Truman Fitzgerald. Shot Spotter alone registered more than 50 rounds fired. Police arrived on the scene to find four vehicles wrecked along First Avenue North. Two of those vehicles were empty, and third was found near the Shell gas station. The fourth vehicle had crashed through the fence of the park, coming to a rest about 20 feet inside the park. Inside were three gunshot victims – two men and a woman. Williams was pronounced dead on the scene. The other two victims were rushed to UAB Hospital with life-threatening injuries. "We believe a shootout happened on the roadway involving at least three vehicles," Fitzgerald said. "We even suspect the victims may have been involved in the shootout based on the evidence we observed." The vehicle found at the nearby gas station was believed to have wrecked trying to escape the chaos, and investigators don't believe those in that vehicle had anything to do with the shooting. The occupants of that vehicle were not injured. Police have shut down First Avenue North between 80th Street and 83rd Street.

One person was killed Sunday when an incident in a pool turned into a shooting that involved law enforcement officers, according to the Spartanburg County Sheriff's Office. At about 7:45 p.m., deputies responded to a report of a fight in a swimming pool between drunk people, the sheriff's office said Monday in a news release. The incident happened in the Pacolet area of Upstate South Carolina, according to the release. Information about the number of people involved and why they were fighting was not available. As deputies got to the scene they were told that shots had been fired, the sheriff's office said. The deputies took cover in the wood line, where they saw shots fired inside the residence, according to the release. More law enforcement officers, including negotiators, were called to the scene where a perimeter was set up and deputies and tried to make contact with the armed person in the home, the sheriff's office said. The sheriff's office attempted to negotiate with the individual for approximately two hours, but those attempts failed as an armed person fired several shots in the direction of officers, according to the release. It was then that the person, still armed with a loaded weapon, charged into the road "in a very aggressive manner," and the deputies on the scene opened fire "in response to the actions of the suspect," the sheriff's office said. The armed person died, according to the release. The Spartanburg County Coroner's Office has not publicly identified the person. The South Carolina Law Enforcement Division will lead the investigation into the shooting, the sheriff's office said.

Montgomery police are investigating a business robbery and need your help identifying the suspects. Investigators released photos of two suspects. They say the robbery happened on Monday, June 17, in the 4900 block of Atlanta Highway, which is near Faulkner University. The business was not named. Investigators say the suspect identified as a black male wearing a red shirt and face covering entered the business, produced a gun and demanded money. The business locked the suspect inside while waiting for police. Police say the suspect shot out the glass door to exit the business. Police say he then entered an older model white Chevy Suburban, driven by the pictured white male who was seen entering the business and purchasing gas before the robbery. Police say the two suspects drove off in an unknown direction.

A shooting in a northwest Atlanta neighborhood left one man dead early Monday morning, according to police. The incident unfolded in the 800 block of Thurmond Street in the Vine City neighborhood around 4:30 a.m. Police told The Atlanta Journal-Constitution that responding officers forced entry into a home when they saw the victim lying on the floor inside the house that had been shot up. The victim’s name has not been released, but Atlanta police homicide commander Lt. Andrew Smith described him as in his 30s. “At this point, from what we’ve seen, this appears to be a drug-related homicide,” he said. After the shots were fired, at least two people were seen running away from the scene, officials said. Smith said that surveillance footage shows that additional shots were fired after the house had been shot. “We’re obviously still working through that video to try to determine who’s who,” he said. The additional shots appeared to have come from surrounding residences, he added. No other information has been released by police.

[7/13/2024] A suspect was arrested Thursday after a man was found dead last month in a wooded area in DeKalb County, police said. Gregory Burnside, 39, is facing a charge of murder in the June 17 shooting death of Jacquis Miller, authorities confirmed. Miller’s body was discovered around 3:15 p.m. in the woods near the 6500 block of Old Hampton Drive, off Memorial Drive. Officers said the 30-year-old had been shot and the suspect had “attempted to conceal the body.” A motive in the killing was not provided. According to Miller’s obituary, he leaves behind a toddler. “Jacquis’s legacy lives on through his beloved 3-year-old son, Elias — the light of his life,” the obituary states. Miller attended West Georgia University in Carrollton to pursue a career as an auto mechanic. At the time of his death, he was working at Firestone in Stone Mountain, the family wrote. He was described as a lover of the outdoors and a calming presence for those around him, including his twin, with whom he shared an “unbreakable bond.” “Jacquis was a remarkable soul who touched the lives of everyone he encountered,” the obituary details.

Deputies and South Carolina police are investigating the fatal shooting of a 29-year-old man in Chester. It is the second death investigation in a week in a neighborhood west of downtown. Chester County Sheriff's Office deputies said in a statement Monday's night's shooting happened around 7 p.m. at an apartment on Flint Street. The victim died after being transported to a hospital in Chester, the sheriff's office said. Neither the sheriff's office nor the Chester County Coroner have released the victim's identity. A sheriff's office incident report says someone called 911 after hearing shots fired. Deputies found the victim with gunshot wounds, the report said. Flint Street is in a neighborhood near where U.S. 321 and S.C. 9 intersect. On June 11, a Chester man was charged with murder after a missing woman's body was found off Cradle Street, Sheriff Max Dorsey said. Flint Street and Cradle Street are about a block from each other. Officials have not said if there is believed to be any connection between the cases.

A 29-year-old man accused of stealing from a CBD dispensary was hit in a shootout with Savannah police on Monday night, officials said. Officers were called around 7:20 p.m. to Mary Jane's CBD Dispensary on Ogeechee Road, where the suspect, Quayshon Whitehurst, allegedly stole a bookbag from an employee, according to the GBI. After searching the dispensary, officers found Whitehurst across the street behind a Circle K convenience store. An officer told him to stop, but officials said Whitehurst pulled his gun out and fired at the officer. "The officer returned fire, hitting Whitehurst," the GBI stated. No officers were injured. Whitehurst, of Hinesville, was given medical aid at the scene and taken to a local hospital, where he is said to be stable, according to the state agency. He is facing charges of aggravated assault, possession of a firearm during the commission of a crime, possession of a firearm by a convicted felon, and felony obstruction, the GBI stated. Savannah police are looking into the alleged theft, while the GBI said it is conducting an independent investigation into the shooting. Once the GBI investigation is complete, it will turn over its findings to the Eastern Judicial Circuit District Attorney's Office for review.

Officers found the man at a hospital where he was being treated for what she called a non-life threatening gunshot wound. He had been taken to the hospital in a personal vehicle. Coleman said the shooting happened in the 3400 block of Atlanta Highway, which is near the intersection of Forest Hills Drive, not far from the Coliseum Boulevard intersection.

Montgomery police have opened a homicide investigation after a man was found shot to death Monday night. A spokesperson for MPD says on Monday, June 17, 2024, at about 11:57 p.m., MPD and Fire Medics responded to the 1000 block of Eastern Boulevard in reference to a subject shot. 27 year old Darius Gunn, of Montgomery was pronounced dead on the scene. There is no additional information available for release in connection to this continuing investigation.

A Selma shooting suspect is in custody after leading police on a high-speed chase. Jason Craig, 38, of Orville, was taken into custody Thursday afternoon after a chase from Dallas County into Perry County. Police initially announced the end of the pursuit with a Facebook post that simply read: "We got him!" The investigation began Tuesday when Selma officers were dispatched to the 2400 block of North Lauderdale Street on a report of someone shot. They arrived to find the victim suffering from gunshot wounds. The victim, whose identity has not been released, remains in critical condition. Authorities identified Craig as the suspect. On Thursday, officers responded to a harassment call in the area of Old Montgomery Road, and quickly learned Craig was the reported offender. Police spotted Craig's vehicle and attempted to stop him, but he fled. The chase exceeded speeds of 100 mph, police said. It ended when officers boxed in Craig's vehicle. Craig is charged with attempted murder, felony attempting to elude, resisting arrest, reckless driving, driving without a license, DUI, duty upon striking fixture and driving on the opposite side of the highway.

A man was found beaten to death in downtown Atlanta early Tuesday, according to police. Officers got the call about a person down around 6 a.m. at the intersection of Peters Street and Ted Turner Drive. When they arrived, they found a man already dead, Atlanta police homicide commander Lt. Andrew Smith said. The victim's name has not been released, but he was described as being 40 to 50 years old. "Upon reviewing camera, we learned that there was a physical altercation between a Black male, dressed in all black with a white bag, and the decedent, which led to his death," Smith said. The altercation "lasted for a pretty lengthy time," he added. It occurred on some stair steps that connect the Peters Street and Ted Turner Drive sidewalks, which are on a downward slope coming off of a railroad overpass. No other details were released.

A homicide investigation is underway after a person was found dead in Downtown Atlanta early Tuesday morning, according to Atlanta Police. Police responded to 125 Ted Turner Drive for a person down call around 6:18 a.m. When they arrived, they found a male dead at the base of the stairway of the building. After investigating and checking video footage, officers found that a physical dispute might have led to the death of the victim. However, it's unclear exactly how the person died. Homicide investigators responded to the scene and are working to determine the circumstances surrounding the incident. Police did not identify the victim or announce any suspects in the case.

A man was taken to the hospital Tuesday evening after he was shot by a Wake County Sheriff's deputy, but his condition is unknown, according to the Sheriff's Office. The man's injuries are reported to be "serious," according to ABC11, The News & Observer's newsgathering partner. The shooting happened around 5:30 p.m. following a nearly seven-hour standoff with the man. Earlier Tuesday, about 10:45 a.m., a deputy tried to fulfill a court-ordered eviction at The Oaks Apartments. The man who lived at an apartment on Water Oaks Drive refused to leave, according to a news release. Wake County Sheriff's deputies "communicated with him by various means." About 5:30 p.m., members of the Sheriff's Office went into the apartment to try to remove the man. At that time, one deputy fired his weapon, according to a news release. The Sheriff's Office did not say what circumstances prompted the deputy to fire his weapon. The State Bureau of Investigation will conduct an investigation, which is standard when an officer fires a weapon. Residents in the complex were asked to evacuate while the man barricaded himself. The complex is in the northeast part of the county, off New Hope Road and near Louisburg Road.

South Fulton Police are investigating after an argument turned into one person shot around a Waffle House on Tuesday evening. According to police, officers responded to a person shot call at 5310 Campbellton Fairburn Road, which is a location of a Waffle House, shortly before 8 p.m. It is unknown if the shooting actually happened inside the restaurant. Police said initial information suggests that a fight broke out between two people — resulting in one person being shot, police said. That person was rushed to a hospital, and their condition is currently unknown. The suspect left the area — running into the woodline behind a Publix in the area, police said. South Fulton Police officers, along with Union City Police Officers, are actively searching the area to find the suspect.

A man was gunned down inside his vehicle in Birmingham's College Hills neighborhood. North Precinct officers were dispatched about 9 p.m. Tuesday to shots fired in the 700 block of Eighth Terrace West, just off Arkadelphia Road. When police arrived, they were led to the parking lot of a small apartment building, said Officer Truman Fitzgerald. The victim, 28-year-old Jonathan Terrance Wynn, was pronounced dead by Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service. Investigators believe the victim was targeted. He either lived in the area or had family or friends there that he was visiting. "We believe whoever did this knew who they were looking for and exactly what they wanted to do," Fitzgerald said. A small crowd of family and friends quickly arrived at the crime scene awaiting word about their loved one. The Jefferson County Coroner's Office was en route to the scene, and would "make that horrible notification," Fitzgerald said. No arrests have been made and a motive was not yet uncovered.

Rock Hill police on Thursday charged a South Carolina woman with murder after a fatal shooting — even though the woman did not fire a gun. Brittney Reed, 32 is charged in connection with the death of her girlfriend, 39-year-old Samarian Lindsay, of Rock Hill, police said. Reed allegedly provided the gun to her girlfriend before a man shot and killed Lindsay in self-defense on Wednesday, according to a Rock Hill Police Department written statement. The man and Lindsay had an altercation at a nearby business earlier where they were co-workers, police said. Reed allegedly brought the gun to Lindsay knowing it was going to be used to confront the man, Rock Hill police said. She also drove a car that blocked the man's car in traffic before the shooting, police said. "Reed was aware at the time of doing this that a felony act would likely be committed that could result in the death of another person," Rock Hill police said in a news release. The man involved has not been identified. And he faces no charges because police said he acted in self-defense. Reed also faces an assault and battery charge for allegedly punching the man in the face after the shooting, police said.

A man killed in a Birmingham hit-and-run on the city's east side has now been identified. The Jefferson County Coroner's Office identified the victim as Ricky Dyon Latham. He was 41 and lived in Birmingham. Latham's body was discovered at 3:43 a.m. Wednesday in the 10 block of Medical Park Drive East. It wasn't immediately clear when the pedestrian had been struck, said Chief Deputy Coroner Bill Yates. No arrests have been announced.

Authorities in Richland County say they plan to arrest a person suspected of homicide after discovering a woman dead Wednesday morning in a home in the northeast area of the county. Richland County deputies found the woman about 11 a.m. while making a check at a home on Northfield Court., according to a sheriff's department Facebook post. Upon arrival, the deputies saw a woman, unresponsive inside and forced entry into the home. The woman, whose name was not released, had suffered "significant trauma to her head," the sheriff's department said. She was pronounced dead by emergency services personnel. Richland County Coroner Naida Rutherford said she will release the victim's name after notifying relatives. The sheriff's department says it has identified a man suspected in the death and plans to charge him with murder. The Facebook post said the suspect is now "in a secure facility" and will be taken into custody once he is released. Officials said they could not confirm the method that caused the woman's head injuries, but said there is no danger of the community. The department did not provide further details, but said the investigation is continuing. Northfield Court is in a neighborhood near the intersection of Longtown and Clemson roads.

Authorities have released the name of a 15-year-old girl killed in an apparent domestic shooting that also wounded her young brother. Birmingham police identified the teen victim as Cornelia Rose Lathan. “A young innocent life is lost,” said Birmingham Police Chief Scott Thurmond, “and it’s absolutely ridiculous.” The deadly shooting happened before 12:30 p.m. Wednesday in the 500 block of 25th Street North at Park Place apartments. Officers were called to the apartment earlier Wednesday, Chief Scott Thurmond confirmed. They responded to a domestic disturbance, which was verbal not physical. Thurmond said there have been previous domestic calls at the apartment. Hours later, sometime before 12:30 p.m., police said the ex-boyfriend of the woman who lived in the apartment returned. He stood in the parking lot and opened fire. Witnesses said they heard three to four shots and then saw the suspect running away. Cornelia was pronounced dead on the scene at 12:25 p.m. Her 5-year-old brother was shot in the leg and transported to Children’s of Alabama. His injuries aren’t life-threatening. The children’s mother, who is pregnant, was later transported by Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service to an area hospital for observation. The suspect, whose identity is being withheld pending formal charges, was taken into custody Wednesday afternoon after a brief manhunt in Woodlawn. The arrest was made in the 6000 block of First Avenue North. He is being held in the Birmingham City Jail awaiting formal charges.

A man who shot and killed his co-worker Wednesday will not be charged because the woman pulled a gun on him before he shot her in self-defense, Rock Hill police said. The shooting happened after 3 p.m. at Riverwalk Parkway near Cel-River Road after an altercation between the two at work, according to police. Neither the woman who died nor the man who fired the gun have been identified by the Rock Hill Police Department. Police declined to name the business where the two worked, or what the initial argument was about. The police investigation showed the man was stopped in traffic after work when the woman got out of another car and pointed a gun at him, according to a news release and Rock Hill police Lt. Michael Chavis. The woman was a passenger in the second car that blocked the man in, police said. The female driver of the car that blocked in the man then punched the man in the face, police said. The female driver who allegedly threw the punch has been charged with assault and battery, police said. Two guns were recovered at the scene, police said. The investigation remains ongoing.

A woman was shot and killed at a Rockdale County home early Thursday, according to her family. Sheriff's office deputies were called to the house on Golfview Terrace near Conyers. When they arrived, they found the victim. Her family told The Atlanta Journal-Constitution that the woman was a 24-year-old mother of two. Officials have not released any information about the incident or what led to it. Several crime scene investigators were collecting evidence at the home, which had been taped off, as investigators spoke to any potential witnesses. A man was shot to death late Thursday morning in Birmingham's Fountain Heights community. Jefferson County sheriff's deputies were in the area possibly serving an eviction notice when, about 11:20 a.m., they were flagged down and told someone had been shot. The location was the 1500 block of 18th Street North. Deputies quickly responded, and notified Birmingham police, said Officer Truman Fitzgerald. The victim was found unresponsive on a sidewalk. Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service pronounced him dead on the scene. According to police radio communications, the suspect ran away on foot. No arrests have been made. Fitzgerald said multiple shots were fired. The deadly shooting happened across the street from Uptown Lofts, and detectives are hoping residents there may have seen something that could help in the investigation.

Durham police are investigating two overnight shootings that injured six people, including a 2-year-old girl and a woman who both have "life-threatening injuries." In the first shooting, officers responded at 8:14 p.m. Thursday to a report of a gunshot wound in the 1400 block of East Cornwallis Road. They found a man, woman and a 2-year old girl who had been shot. The three were taken to the hospital. The girl had life-threatening injuries, according to police. The adults had less severe injuries. The woman is the girl's 19-year-old mother, and the pair were visiting the teen's boyfriend at Campus Crossings at Durham Apartments when someone fired into their car, according to ABC11. The second shooting, about 3 miles away, occurred at the intersection of Fayetteville Street and Linwood Avenue early Friday morning. Officers responded at 3:27 a.m. to a reported gunshot wound and found two men and a woman who had been shot. The three were taken to the hospital, the woman with life-threatening injuries and the men with less severe injuries.

A 34-year-old man was killed in an overnight shooting in Tuscaloosa. Authorities on Friday identified the victim as Christopher Shobe. Tuscaloosa police and fire medic were dispatched at 10 p.m. Thursday to a shooting in the 800 block of 33rd Avenue in Tuscaloosa, said Tuscaloosa Violent Crimes Unit Capt. Jack Kennedy. They treated Shobe on the scene and then took him to the hospital where he was later pronounced dead. Kennedy said the investigation is ongoing.

An argument at a west Birmingham home led to shots fired and ended with a woman dead. The shooting happened about 10:15 p.m. Thursday at a residence in the 700 block of New Hill Court. Officer Truman Fitzgerald said West Precinct officers responded to the scene and found the victim – 26-year-old Nakita Nicole Walker – unresponsive on a set of exterior stairs outside the home. Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service pronounced her dead on the scene. Investigators believe Walker was at a friend's house when the suspect got into an argument with her. The suspect, Fitzgerald said, is the boyfriend or acquaintance of the victim's friend. "He was here causing a disturbance with everybody," Fitzgerald said. "Somehow he and the victim got into an argument, and he shot the victim." "He did target the victim," he said. The suspect fled the scene after the shooting, but Fitzgerald said they know who he is and are actively searching for him. Walker's mother quickly arrived at the location, falling to the ground in tears at the loss of her only daughter. She told police her daughter was five months pregnant. Chief Deputy Coroner Bill Yates said an autopsy did not immediately confirm a pregnancy, but said additional laboratory testing is being done. "It's a heartbreaking scene," Fitzgerald said. "We've lost another community member to violence." "You never get used to that," he said. "It's important that our officers never become desensitized to it." "We have had 70 plus homicides already, but we have to individualize each one so that mother over there gets the one on one attention she deserves," he said. "We're going to do whatever we can to get this person in custody," Fitzgerald said, "as we have done in so many cases recently."

Montgomery police are investigating a shooting in a neighborhood just off Atlanta Highway and it's all caught on camera. In this video provided by Action 8 viewer who wanted to remain anonymous, you can hear several rounds of gunshots. Major Saba Coleman tells Action 8 News that officers responded Thursday just before midnight to the 500 block of County Downs Road after receiving a call of a shooting. Once officers arrived, they made contact with a homeowner who said there was damage to her residence as a result of gunfire. Thankfully, no one was injured. No word on any suspects at this time.

A bicyclist was killed early Friday in a hit-and-run in Talladega. Police were dispatched to a report of an injured person at 4:58 a.m. The location was the intersection of Stephen J. White Boulevard and North Street East. Officers arrived to find the victim and his bicycle in the road. Investigators determine he had been hit by a vehicle. Pierre Remayne Whitson, 37, of Talladega, was pronounced dead on the scene.

Atlanta Police said a suspect in a Friday afternoon shooting has surrendered at one of its precincts. It happened in the Oakhurst neighborhood outside the BB Salon on College Avenue. Police said a 32-year-old man was shot and was taken to the hospital. The investigation by officers showed that the suspect and victim knew each other, and shots were fired due to an "escalating dispute," police said. Authorities added the man who was shot was "alert, conscious, and breathing." APD said they recovered what they believe to be the suspect's gun at the scene. On Friday evening, police initially asked people to avoid several nearby streets while they canvassed the area for a potential suspect. Officers also said law enforcement was in the 1400 block of Commerce Drive area as a part of the ongoing investigation. Police said in a later update that the suspect voluntarily surrendered at the Atlanta Police Zone 6 Precinct.

A homicide investigation is underway after a woman was found dead in Montgomery. Police identified the victim as Amanda Warmack. She was 39 and lived in Montgomery. Police Maj. Saba Coleman said first responders were dispatched at 7:21 a.m. Friday to the 900 block of Green Ridge Court on a report of a dead person. Coleman said Warmack had sustained fatal injuries but did not elaborate. No additional information was released.

A shooting in south Birmingham left two people dead, and at least one other injured. Multiple shots rang out about 11 a.m. Friday in the 4400 block of Fifth Avenue South. That location is the Oak Tree Apartments. One man was pronounced dead in the parking lot. He was on the ground next to a work van, still wearing a black mask. Two others were rushed to UAB Hospital where a second man was pronounced dead. A third person sustained non-life-threatening injuries. Both men who were killed were wearing black nylon face masks, similar to the mask often worn by rapper Pooh Sheisty. “We believe all of this stemmed from a robbery gone wrong,” said Officer Truman Fitzgerald. “Two of the victims both have ski masks on, the Pooh Sheisty mask.” “We believe the third non-life-threatening victim may have shot them in attempted robbery,” he said. He said detectives don’t believe Friday’s robbery attempt was a crime of opportunity – the person being robbed was likely targeted. At least 13 shots were fired.

[7/6/2024] The Richland County Sheriff’s Department arrested three people in connection to a shooting behind a Midlands elementary school last month. Deputies went to a local hospital at 6 p.m. on June 21 in response to a reported gunshot victim. The victim told the deputies the shooting occurred in the 100 block of Bombing Range Road in Elgin, SC, behind Bridge Creek Elementary School. Additional deputies went to the scene and found shell casings. According to the sheriff’s department, the victim and others were playing with water guns when a fight broke out between the victim and two teens. The sheriff’s department said 21-year-old Kiante Siller then got a gun from the trunk of a car and shot the victim. Siller was arrested Tuesday and charged with four counts of attempted murder and possession of a weapon during a violent crime. He was booked at Alvin S. Glenn Detention Center. The teens, both 16, were arrested on June 24. They were charged with assault and battery in the third degree. The sheriff’s department did not release their names.

Decatur police say a man who left a hospital refusing medical treatment apparently stole a vehicle and struck a police patrol cruiser with it. Police said officers were called to the area of Decatur Morgan Hospital Saturday in search of a man who had apparently left the hospital, still with medical devices and equipment attached to his body. Hospital staff were concerned for the man's welfare, but officers did not locate him immediately. Ten minutes later, Central Dispatch received a call in reference to a reckless driver who matched the man's description. Officers located the man driving recklessly and attempted a vehicle stop. He failed to yield and led multiple officers on a vehicle pursuit. During the pursuit, the man struck a Decatur police officer's patrol vehicle. Police said the man fled on foot from the vehicle before he was taken into custody, arrested for multiple traffic violations and felony attempting to flee and elude. Several hours later, police said the owner of the vehicle used in the pursuit discovered her vehicle had been stolen. Shane Lee Lepre was subsequently charged with first degree theft of property and booked into the Morgan County Jail on a $6,900 bond.

The Gwinnett County Police Department is searching for two suspects who are accused of shoplifting from nine stores at the Mall of Georgia. Offices said in a news release they have secured 54 warrants for Nakenda Janea Thompson Fevrier, 27, of Pooler and Shacarrie Deasia Heyward, 29 of Savannah. Both have been charged with five counts of felony theft by shoplifting, nine counts of possession of tools for the commission of a crime, nine counts of loitering and prowling and four counts of misdemeanor shoplifting. The current whereabouts of both women are unknown. On June 22, officers responded to the Dick's Sporting Goods at the Mall of Georgia. A store representative called 911 and reported witnessing two suspects shoplifting large quantities of merchandise, according to GCPD. The suspects, later identified as Fevrier and Heyward, left the store and approached a white vehicle parked outside. Police said when the store representative confronted them, the women dropped the merchandise and ran, leaving the vehicle behind. Officers obtained a search warrant for the vehicle and said they discovered six large trash bags filled with merchandise, totaling about $8,000 in value, from nine stores throughout the mall.

A person was robbed by a masked individual in a white pickup truck near the University of South Carolina, the USC Police Department reported. The incident happened at about 2 a.m. Saturday at the intersection of Blossom and Sumter streets. The person was walking on the sidewalk around the campus when approached by a white pickup truck. The driver and passenger — one who wore a mask — came out the truck, approached the person and “forcefully” removed items from the person’s pockets. The pair then drove away in the vehicle, the person told campus police. It’s not clear if the person robbed was a student. Campus police did not share which items were stolen. USC police is assisting the Columbia Police Department in the investigation and are looking for any information regarding the incident.

Florence police say a man broke into a home Saturday and injured two elderly women who needed hospitalization. Michael Kirkland Jr., 34, of Florence, has been charged with burglary, sodomy, robbery and assault, all in the first degree. He is being held in the Lauderdale County Detention Center without bail, pending an Aniah’s Law hearing. According to police, officers were called to a home in the 400 block of Howell Street at about 5:30 p.m. Saturday. Inside the home were two people with multiple injuries. A 79-year-old female was transported to UAB Hospital by AirEvac, and a 76-year-old female was taken to North Alabama Medical Center. Both victims remain hospitalized. Police said Kirkland was arrested after officers reviewed video from a doorbell camera of a suspect leaving the home. They also recovered evidence connecting Kirkland to the incident. This is still an ongoing investigation, and additional charges are pending.

A suspect was arrested late Saturday, hours after he allegedly shot and killed an extended family member during a dispute over money at a DeKalb County apartment complex, authorities said. DeKalb police responded around 6 p.m. after gunfire was reported at the ARIUM Peachtree Creek complex on Peachtree Creek Circle. When officers arrived, they found a man dead in the pool area with several gunshot wounds. He was identified by police as 50-year-old Cedric Maxwell. According to an arrest warrant obtained Sunday, 31-year-old Dario Howell is accused of shooting Maxwell in the back with a handgun during a family gathering at the complex, which is located near Shallowford Road and I-85. Howell was quickly detained without incident after the shooting. Police said both men knew each other. "This was a large family gathering and they are extended family," DeKalb police spokesman Lt. Shane Smith told The Atlanta Journal-Constitution on Sunday. "I do not have the exact relationship." Howell was later booked into the DeKalb County Jail on charges of felony murder and aggravated assault, according to online records. He is being held without bond. Police said an investigation into the shooting is ongoing.

Montgomery police are investigating a shooting that injured a man. Maj. Saba Coleman tells Action 8 News that it happened around 6:51 p.m. Saturday in the 1000 block of Early Street. Once officers and Fire Medics arrived, they found an adult male with a non-life threatening gunshot wound. The victim was taken to a local hospital for treatment. [6/25/2024] A South Carolina man was arrested after shots were fired from a vehicle and hit another, according to the Fairfield County Sheriff's Office. Taures Price, a 40-year-old Chester resident, was charged with two counts of attempted murder, possession of a weapon during a violent crime, unlawful possession of a firearm, and assault and battery of a high and aggravated nature, the sheriff's office said in a news release. The shooting happened last Saturday. At about 10 p.m., deputies responded to a report of a shooting in the Peay Ridge community of Fairfield County. Shots were fired from one vehicle toward another. There were two people inside one vehicle that was hit by gunfire, but no one was injured in the shooting. Price was "quickly identified ... as a shooter involved in this incident," the sheriff's office said. He was arrested Sunday, Fairfield County court records show. Price was taken to the Fairfield County Detention Center. No bond was set and Price remains locked up at the jail, court records show. Despite the arrest, the shooting continues to be investigated by the sheriff's office. In 2004, Price was arrested on a murder charge but eventually pleaded guilty to a manslaughter charge, as well as two counts of assault and battery with intent to kill in 2005. He was sentenced to serve 18 years in prison, followed by five years of probation, for the manslaughter charge, in addition to 10 year sentences for the assault charges, court records show.

A 56-year-old cyclist was seriously injured over the weekend after a car hit him and drove off in Cobb County, police said Monday. The incident happened shortly after 11:45 p.m. Saturday on Cobb Parkway near Progressive Way. Cobb police said the man was riding a blue bicycle north on the edge of the right lane, when a vehicle rear-ended him. According to authorities, the impact sent the cyclist forward until he came to a rest in the dedicated right turn lane to 1520 Cobb Parkway. He was rushed to WellStar Kennestone Hospital, police said. Investigators believe the driver who fled the scene was traveling in a gray Toyota Tundra. The crash remains under investigation. Anyone with more information is asked to contact Cobb police at 770-499-3987.

Nine people were shot, and four others injured, in a mass shooting early Sunday in Montgomery. Police and fire medics were dispatched at 1:46 a.m. to the area of North Pass Road and Alabama River Parkway regarding reports of gunshot victims, according to Montgomery Mayor Steven Reed. First responders found one adult female and one juvenile male, both with non-life-threatening gunshot wounds. Later, three adult males, two adult females, and two juvenile males with non-life-threatening gunshot wounds arrived at a local hospital on their own. Additionally, Reed said, one adult female and two adult males with non-life-threatening injuries occurred from a vehicle vs. pedestrian collision and one adult female with minor injuries from broken glass showed up to an emergency room for treatment. “This morning, more than 362 rounds were fired at a crowded party in the North Pass area,” said Reed said. “Nine were wounded, and at least four more were injured in the chaos that followed.” Officers from the Montgomery Police Department, ATF, and FBI are currently interviewing witnesses and suspects. “We are working tirelessly to identify those involved, and we urge anyone with information to come forward to help us put a stop to this sort of senseless, violent activity,” he said. Authorities said more information will be released as it becomes available.

A man accused of kidnapping and aggravated assault led officers on a chase that ended in an attempted carjacking and a 5-year-old girl being shot on Monday morning, authorities said. According to the GBI, the Dallas Police Department arrested 25-year-old Mike Palmer on Sunday on charges of aggravated assault and kidnapping stemming from an incident that happened Sunday night. The GBI said Palmer was handcuffed and placed in the back seat of a patrol vehicle. However, while he was in custody, he found a way to escape the vehicle. He then ran to his Dodge Charger and drove away, a release said. Police then released a BOLO for him and a Douglas County Sheriff's Office deputy subsequently located that car driving on I-20 East. The deputy attempted to stop him, but Palmer allegedly did not stop his car. The deputy then performed a pit maneuver on the Dodge Charger, but the GBI said Palmer continued driving until it hit a tractor-trailer and came to a stop at the bottom of the Fulton Industrial Blvd.exit ramp. An active investigation is currently underway at a BP gas station on Fulton Industrial Boulevard in South Fulton. According to the GBI, Palmer then ran to a nearby BP gas station on Fulton Industrial Blvd, where he allegedly attempted to carjack a BMW at the gas pumps. The deputy then fired at the BMW, the GBI said. There were two adults and a child in the car. The GBI said the child sitting in the backseat of the car was hit. The child's mother told 11Alive that her daughter, Skylar, is 5 years old. The Douglas County Sheriff's Office said she was hit by "what appeared to be a small ricocheting fragment from the officer's rounds." She was taken to a hospital and is being treated for her injuries. Her injuries were non-life-threatening, according to the sheriff's office.

Palmer was taken into custody by the Douglas County

An 18-year-old was killed after refusing to follow the commands of Clayton County police officers while running from a vacant home in Rex on Monday afternoon, authorities said. The GBI said Hakim Al-Nas, was carrying a weapon when he fled from the vacant house. Al-Nas did not drop the weapon as he “ran toward officers who were searching for other individuals,” and the officer giving the commands shot and killed him, Clayton police said. Officers had been called to the vacant home on Chippewa Drive on a report of several people seen entering the house, police said. Officers surrounded the home and told the suspects to exit the building. Police said Al-Nas left through the back of the house and ran towards some of the officers at the scene before he was shot. Three other suspects were found inside the home, Clayton police said: two 18-year-olds and a 16-year-old. The armed suspect’s gun was found at the scene, according to officials. The officer who shot the teenager has been placed on paid administrative leave, and the GBI is investigating the deadly use of force. Once the investigation is complete, the case file will be given to the Clayton County District Attorney’s Office for review, the GBI said.

A shooting in Montgomery on Monday left one man dead and another behind bars. Police and fire medics were dispatched at 12:50 p.m. to a report of a body found in the 2100 block of Plum Street. They arrived to find a man who had been shot already dead on the scene. The victim’s name is being withheld pending notification of his family. Maj. Saba Coleman said 65-year-old Kevin Chase was quickly identified as a suspect. She did not say what led authorities to Chase, or the potential connection between the suspect and the victim. Chase is charged with murder. He is being held without bond in the Montgomery County Detention Facility. The victim is Montgomery’s 36th homicide this year.

Montgomery police are investigating a shooting that critically injured a man. The shooting happened around 7:15 p.m. in the 3400 block of Woodley Road. Once officers and fire medics arrived, they found an adult male with a life-threatening gunshot wound. The unidentified victim was transported to a local hospital for treatment. No word on any suspects at this time.

A man was shot to death by a Birmingham police officer during a disturbance call Monday night in Birmingham's Forest Park neighborhood. A South Precinct officer was dispatched shortly after 8:30 p.m. to the 700 block of 34th Street South on a call of disorderly person. That location is just off Clairmont Avenue, in the parking lot of an apartment building. Chief Scott Thurmond said when the officer arrived on the scene, an altercation ensued and the officer fired an undisclosed number of shots, critically wounding the man. The man was taken to UAB Hospital where he was pronounced dead a short time later. Thurmond said investigators are still trying to determine the man's identity. No officers were injured in the incident. Asked if the man was armed, the chief said, "That is one thing we are looking into. There is a possibility that is the case – it is one of the things that we have heard so far." The chief said authorities are still trying to piece together the circumstances that led to police being called. "It's very early in this investigation," he said, "so it's hard for us to have all the facts." Three young men sat on a curb outside the 700 Apartments as officers brought them water. Thurmond said there were several civilian witnesses to the deadly shooting. He said officers were also canvassing the area to see if any nearby residents also witnessed the incident. It appears, Thurmond said, that only one officer fired shots. That officer, who will be placed on leave as part of department policy, was wearing a working body camera. The State Bureau of Investigation will lead the shooting probe, which is standard procedure for officer-involved shootings.

A suspect wanted in another state is in the hospital after a shooting in DeKalb County involving the U.S. Marshals Service, officials said Tuesday. The shooting happened while U.S. marshals were trying to arrest a wanted homicide suspect, agency spokesman Eric Heinze confirmed. Officials were seen investigating near the intersection of Rockbridge Road and Memorial Drive, just east of I-285. No law enforcement officers were injured and the suspect was taken to Grady Memorial Hospital. The GBI has been asked to investigate the shooting. We're working to learn more.

One man was killed and another was injured Tuesday in a shooting that has left a third man in jail, according to the Lexington County Sheriff's Department. Robert Todd Bailey, a 60-year-old Swansea resident, died in the shooting that Lexington County Coroner Margaret Fisher called a homicide. Another Swansea resident, 29-year-old Joey Len Inabinet Jr., was charged with murder, attempted murder, possession of a weapon during a violent crime and possession of a weapon by a convicted felon. The shooting happened outside of Bailey's home in the 1000 block of Calvary Church Road, Fisher said. That's in the Swansea area of Lexington County, between Interstate 26 and U.S. 321. "A deputy responded to a call about a shooting at a home on Calvary Church Road before daybreak Tuesday morning," Lexington County Sheriff Jay Koon said in a news release. "He found a man who had been shot but was conscious and breathing, then a witness told him someone else was shot down the road. The deputy performed CPR on the second shooting victim until EMS arrived." The second victim, later identified as Bailey, had been shot in the upper body and died at the scene, according to Fisher. The other man who was shot was taken to an area hospital with what Fisher called "critical injuries." The sheriff's department said the shooting happened days after one of the victims was involved in a fight with Inabinet. Inabinet was arrested later Tuesday morning. "We found shell casings at the scene consistent with a gun we know has been in Inabinet's possession," Koon said. Fisher said the coroner's office is also continuing to investigate the shooting. Inabinet was taken to the Lexington County Detention Center, the sheriff's department said. No bond has been set and he

A Valley Head man has been charged with murder in connection with the death of a Collinsville woman. DeKalb County Sheriff Nick Welden said James Michael Howard Jr., 27, has been charged with murder and public intoxication. According to Welden, deputies and police from Collinsville and Crossville responded to an address on County Road 221 Tuesday on reports of an unconscious woman. The woman, whose name was not released, was pronounced dead from a gunshot wound. Welden said Howard was spotted in the area by neighbors of the victim a short time after law enforcement arrived on scene. After an interview, investigators determined Howard was at the victim's residence earlier. Howard was booked into the Dekalb County Detention Center and is being held without bond. "This is such a tragic and senseless act of violence, and our thoughts and prayers are with the friends and family of the victim," Welden said.

A Texas man was arrested after speeding in a stolen pickup truck on a South Carolina highway before the engine burst into flames, the Sumter County Sheriff's Office said Friday. A deputy who was patrolling Interstate 95 in the morning of June 25 noticed a pickup truck driving above the speed limit heading north. The deputy's radar registered his speed at 94 mph, the sheriff's office said. The deputy pursued the truck whose driver was "driving recklessly," including passing other vehicles on the shoulder of the road. During the chase, the truck's engine burst into flames and sprayed fuel on the deputy's car. The truck then drove off the road near mile marker 140 and crashed into a fence line beside the interstate. The deputy ran to the vehicle to rescue the man and take him into custody, but another deputy who had arrived at the scene saw the man running away along the fence line, then darting across the highway and into a wooded area. More deputies and K-9 teams arrived and began searching for the man. They found him hiding in a ditch, where he was taken into custody. Donald Edward Reed Jr., 33, of Prairie Grove, Texas, was charged with failure to stop for a blue light, speeding 30 mph over the speed limit and striking fixtures on or near the highway. The Sumter sheriff's office identified him as a "violent offender" and a "threat to law enforcement." Further investigation revealed that the truck had been stolen from a Colleton County resident. Reed refused emergency medical services on the scene but was taken to the hospital to be examined. He was then taken to the Sumter County Sheriff's Office Detention Center, where he is being held for the Colleton County Sheriff's Office.

An early-morning shooting at a Hoover left one man with a non-life-threatening injury. Police were dispatched at 3:04 a.m. Tuesday to a call of a person shot at a house in the 4500 block of High Court Circle. The victim was found with a gunshot wound to the arm, said Lt. Daniel Lowe. He was treated on the scene by Hoover fire medics and then taken to Grandview Medical Center. Lowe said the victim's brother was taken into custody at the home for questioning. "Detectives began an investigation and determined the shooting victim likely experienced a severe mental health crisis during which his brother fired one round," Lowe said. Investigators presented the case to the Shelby County District Attorney's Office and have released the shooter pending further investigation. The case may be presented to a Shelby County grand jury at a later date to determine if any criminal charges are warranted against either individual involved, Lowe said. Because there have been no criminal charges filed, the names of those involved are not being released.

An investigation is underway after a woman was shot Tuesday morning in west Birmingham. The shooting happened just before 6:30 a.m. in the 900 block of Pike Road. Additional details surrounding the circumstances have not yet been released. Sgt. LaQuitta Wade said the woman was taken to the hospital with life-threatening injuries. No one is in custody.

Montgomery police are investigating a shooting Tuesday morning that critically injured a man. Police and fire medics responded around 7:55 a.m. to the area of McGehee Road and Oxford Drive after receiving a report that a person had been shot. Once they arrived, they found an adult male victim with a life-threatening gunshot wound. The unidentified victim was taken to a local hospital for treatment. No word on any suspects at this time.

[7/4/2024] A 17-year-old has been arrested and charged for a June 25 murder in DeKalb County, according to local police. Jaylen Bailey was arrested for the shooting death of 19-year-old Kendarrius Spear. DeKalb County Police Department officers responded to the 5900 block of Sutcliffe Square at about 10:30 p.m. on June 25 and reported finding Spear dead on the sidewalk from multiple gunshot wounds. Bailey has been charged with homicide and is at the DeKalb County Jail. The investigation remains active, according to DeKalb police.

[12/7/2024] A local woman on Friday was charged with first-degree murder of a 2-month-old child this summer. Court records show that a Wake County grand jury on Monday indicted Davonna Parsons, 31, for the murder of Seven Montrell Richardson on June 26. Additional records show that the Wake County Sheriff's Office arrested Parsons on Friday. CBS17 reported that the victim was Parsons' son. A spokesperson for the Raleigh Police Department did not confirm their relation to The News & Observer, but an online obituary for the infant lists Parsons as his mother. Civil court records filed in August, in which a relative petitioned for custody of Parsons' other children, stated that Parsons "is currently incarcerated due to [the] death of her youngest child." Records show Parsons is being held at the Wake County Detention Center. The Raleigh police spokesperson said in an email Saturday that no additional information about the case was immediately available.

A teenager is wanted for questioning in the fatal shooting of a 20-year-old man early Wednesday morning in southeast Alabama, authorities said. Javiontay Brown, 17, is sought in connection with the shooting death of Eufaula resident William Antwone Tharp Jr., according to Eufaula police. Tharp was shot four times around 12:30 a.m. Wednesday in the 500 block of Gammage Rd. in Eufaula, said Chief Danny Christ. Tharp was taken via private vehicle to Medical Center Barbour, where he died of his injuries shortly after his arrival at the hospital. A confrontation led to the shooting, according to Christ.

A police officer for a town in north Alabama was arrested Wednesday morning on a domestic violence charge. Mark Whalen, 37, of Moulton, was booked into the Lawrence County jail 10:30 a.m. Wednesday, jail records showed. The charge was not listed in jail records, which only indicated that Whalen was being held for another law enforcement agency, but Lawrence County Sheriff Shannon Oliver said Whalen was charged with third-degree domestic violence, according to WAFF. Oliver identified Whalen as an officer with the North Courtland Police Department. He is being held on $1,000 bond, Moulton police Cpt. Russell Graham told WAFF.

One man is dead, and another man is facing murder charges after a deadly shooting in Troup County on Wednesday. Around 5 p.m., deputies with the Troup County Sheriff's Office responded to a shooting in the 3800 block of Hogansville Road and located a man, later identified as 51-year-old Clayton Bartlett, who had been shot to death. A woman was also at the scene, attempting to render aid to the victim. The initial investigation showed that the male shooter had fled the scene in a truck with another woman. Shortly after, the truck returned to the crime scene and the occupants were quickly arrested by police. Investigators determined that Timothy Dewayne Burns, 53, and Bartlett had a verbal altercation in the carport area of the residence. During the argument, Burns shot Bartlett in the torso with a shotgun. Burns and Cynthia Vayda, 56, then left the scene but returned shortly after. Burns has been charged with murder and possession of a firearm during the commission of a crime. Vayda faces charges of false statements and writings and tampering with evidence. Deputies said the investigation is ongoing.

A Charlotte woman was arrested and is facing felony charges following the death of her 8-year-old daughter, who died Wednesday after being left in a car while her mother was at work. Ashlee Stallings, 36, was charged with involuntary manslaughter and child abuse by willful act causing serious injury, Charlotte-Mecklenburg police said in a press release Thursday. According to the police, officers were called to assist MEDIC on Wednesday around 6:30 p.m. at the 4100 block of Wilkinson Boulevard. Upon arrival, police found the girl in critical condition from the hot weather. An arrest warrant said temperatures reached 94 degrees that day. She was transported to a hospital where she was pronounced dead. Kids and Car Safety, a nonprofit focused on advocating for keeping kids safe from vehicle-related accidents, tracks hot-car related deaths on its website. Its tracker dates back to 1990. On average, the organization's website said, 38 kids across the country die each year in hot cars. From 1990 to 2023, there have been a total of 45 hot car deaths in North Carolina. And so far in 2024, the organization has reported four deaths — in South Carolina, Florida, West Virginia, and California. About 88% of children who died in hot cars are age 3 and under. Stallings was being held in the Mecklenburg County Jail with bond set at $250,000.

A 15-year-old boy was injured Wednesday evening in DeKalb County when a woman fired shots during a dispute, according to Channel 2 Action News. Shortly before 9 p.m., officers received a call about the fight in the 100 block of Leslie Oaks Drive, DeKalb police said. No one had been shot, but authorities confirmed there was a “discharging of a firearm by the suspect.” Police described the dispute as domestic but not elaborate about their relationship. Authorities told Channel 2 that the teenager injured his ankle while trying to run away from the location and was later taken to a hospital. The woman, whose name was not released, was arrested at the scene and booked into the DeKalb jail, police said. The 50-year-old faces a charge of aggravated assault, according to the news station.

A Lawrenceville woman is in jail after she allegedly shot a man in the knee during a road rage incident Thursday evening while she had a toddler in her car, authorities said. Yaqarah Bennett, 26, was arrested Friday on charges of aggravated assault, possession of a firearm during the commission of a crime and second-degree cruelty to children, Lawrenceville police said. She is accused of shooting a 28-year-old man in the right knee near the intersection of West Pike and Culver streets, authorities said in a statement Monday. Though few details were available, an 8-month-old was in the suspected shooter's vehicle during the incident, leading to the child cruelty charge, police said. Officers first responded to a 911 call reporting that someone had been shot near the intersection of West Pike Street and Old Norcross Road, police said. At that scene, they found the victim in his car suffering from a gunshot wound. The man was able to share several important pieces of information, including where the initial shooting took place and a description of the suspect. Officers then went to the other shooting scene less than a mile away, where they found two shell casings, police said. Using information from the scene and the victim's description of the suspect, which included specifics about the woman's tattoos, investigators identified Bennett as the alleged shooter. She was arrested the following day and booked into the Gwinnett County Jail just before 7:30 p.m., online records show. Police said the victim's wounds were considered minor and that he was treated and released.

A man was found shot to death along a sidewalk near Bankhead in northwest Atlanta on Thursday morning. Officers got a call shortly before 2:30 a.m. about a shooting in the 700 block of Jett Street, Atlanta police homicide commander Lt. Andrew Smith said. When they got there, they found the victim, who was described as a man in his late 40s. He died at the scene, Smith said. The victim's name has not been released. Smith said investigators are reviewing security footage and are interviewing at least one witness. Based on the information they've gathered, he said it appears the shooting stemmed from a theft that took place at a separate time.

A robbery suspect who drove a truck toward law enforcement after a pursuit in Bulloch County was fatally shot Thursday, the GBI said. It all began shortly before 10 p.m. when dispatchers were notified about an armed robbery at a Marathon gas station on Highway 80, about 10 minutes east of Statesboro, the state agency said. The suspect was described as a man driving a U-Haul truck. Sheriff's deputies spotted a man matching that description and tried to pull him over, but the GBI said he refused. A chase was initiated, and Georgia State Patrol troopers were asked to assist as the man traveled through Statesboro and parts of the county, authorities stated. Multiple attempts to stop the driver were made, including a PIT maneuver that resulted in the truck leaving the road near the intersection of Highway 301 and Brooks Hendrix Road, more than 10 miles from the robbery location, according to the GBI. The driver struck a utility pole upon leaving the road, and deputies and troopers approached the vehicle while telling the man to get out, the state agency detailed. The man, who was not publicly identified, is accused of instead driving the truck toward deputies. Multiple deputies and a trooper fired at the man, who was struck and then pronounced dead at the scene, the GBI said. The GBI was asked to investigate the shooting at the request of the Bulloch County Sheriff's Office and the GSP. All findings will be given to the Ogeechee Judicial Circuit District Attorney's Office.

[7/5/2024] UPDATE (3:42 p.m.): News 5 is learning new details about the four people arrested in connection with a homicide in Clarke County over the weekend. 20-year-old Santaevius McWilliams, a 15-year-old, and two 14-year-olds were arrested and charged with capital murder-burglary and capital murder-robbery. All of the suspects are males and deputies are anticipating more charges to come.

ORIGINAL STORY: THOMASVILLE, Ala. (WKRG) — A man and three juveniles were arrested in connection with a homicide that happened over the weekend, according to the Clarke County Sheriff's Office. 20-year-old Santaevius McWilliams and the juveniles were arrested after Esaw Wood's body was found on Monday, July 1. CCSO deputies were called on Sunday, June 30, for a welfare check on Wood at his home on Pleasant Hill Road. When they arrived, deputies found a trail of blood and drag marks leading from the home to where it is believed Wood's vehicle had been parked near the house, according to officials. Deputies said Wood's vehicle was missing, so they put out a nationwide "Be On the Lookout" notice for the vehicle. Sheriff DeWayne Smith said with the help of other agencies, including the Mobile County and Baldwin County Sheriff's Offices, they were able to locate the vehicle Monday morning about 10 miles from Wood's home. Wood's body was not with the vehicle; however, deputies did find Wood's body in a different area on Monday evening. Smith told News 5 that they believe Wood was shot and killed late Friday evening, June 28.

A South Carolina man was charged with three counts of attempted murder for setting fire to a home with two children and a woman inside, according to the Lexington County Sheriff's Department. Tracy Chad Russell Jr., 31, was also charged with second-degree arson when he was arrested Wednesday, jail records show. "The Lexington County Fire Service responded to a structure fire in the 100 block of Addie Lucas Road (in Lexington) during the afternoon of June 28," Lexington County Sheriff Jay Koon said Wednesday night in a news release. "They let us know the fire looked suspicious so, with the assistance of the LCFS Fire Marshals Division, we started an investigation." Investigators determined Russell knew three people were inside the house when he intentionally set fire to it using torch fuel canisters, according to Koon. "We talked with witnesses, and those involved, to confirm a timeline that is supported by when smoke was seen and the evidence recovered from the scene," Koon said. "Russell left the home after the fire and didn't return to the property." There was no word if any of the three people in the home required medical treatment, and information on their conditions was not available. Information about a motive for setting the fire was not available, and there was no word if Russell had a prior relationship with the woman and children inside the home. Deputies arrested Russell on Wednesday in Orangeburg County and he was taken to the Lexington County Detention Center, according to the sheriff's department. No bond was set and Russell remains behind bars, jail records show.

Two teens have been arrested on animal cruelty charges after they were allegedly recorded shooting at a restrained dog. The Etowah County Sheriff's Office on Saturday was notified about the video, said Sheriff Jonathon Horton. The video showed the dog – whose name is Bullet – tied to a tree in the woods. He was running in a circle around the tree as he was shot at with a long gun. By Saturday afternoon, the sheriff said, all involved had been identified and a weapon recovered. Trenton Dewayne Sudberry, 18, of Gadsden, is charged with animal cruelty. He is being held in the Etowah County Detention Center. The second suspect, whose name is not being released, is also charged with animal cruelty through the juvenile court system. Nicholas Jared Wayne, one of Bullet's owners, shared a post on Facebook Saturday by a female who said she had found the dog and was looking for its owners. He said they messaged her and showed proof that it was their dog, but to no avail. He also shared a video of someone shooting at Bullet, saying he feared his dog was dead. Bullet, who had run away, was returned to his family late Sunday. Wayne said he does not know the suspects. "Bullet will be receiving a full examination and seems to be in good spirits being back with his family and should make a good recovery," Horton said. Wayne said Bullet will receive a full checkup because he returned home with a noticeable limp.

Multiple bodies were discovered at a Coweta County home early Saturday morning after a suspected murder-suicide, the sheriff's office said. Dispatchers were flooded with 911 calls shortly after 1 a.m. about a situation at a home on Crabapple Court, about 4 miles north of Highway 34. Sheriff's office spokesman Toby Nix said deputies located two bodies in the driveway and one in the doorway upon arrival. At some point after deputies arrived, officials said a man ran into the home and a gunshot was heard. The county's SWAT team was subsequently asked to respond to the scene to help secure the area. A fourth body was eventually found inside the home, Nix stated. Investigators said the fatal incident appears to have been a murder-suicide. A motive was not provided. The names of those killed were not released, and authorities did not elaborate on their relation to each other.

A man was found shot to death early Saturday morning at an apartment complex in southwest Atlanta, police said. The man was discovered inside an apartment on Peyton Place near Martin Luther King Jr. Drive around 3 a.m. The victim was not publicly identified, but officials said he was 31 years old. While the gunfire is suspected to have come from outside the complex, police told Channel 2 Action News they remain uncertain whether the shooter was on foot or in a vehicle. A description of the suspect was not provided, and police did not say what may have led to the shooting.

A 51-year-old man was shot to death early Saturday after he shot someone else, authorities said. The Tuscaloosa Violent Crimes Unit identified the slain man as Reggie Coverson. He lived in Tuscaloosa. Sheriff's deputies received a 911 call at 3:14 a.m. regarding a shooting at a home in the 2000 block of Stardust Drive. They arrived to find Coverson dead on the scene and a 23-year-old man wounded. The surviving victim was taken to the hospital with non-life-threatening injuries, said TVCU Capt. Marty Sellers. He is in stable condition. A 36-year-old man who was on the scene told deputies he shot Coverson. He was taken in for questioning. Sellers said multiple witnesses were also interviewed. The case was presented to the Tuscaloosa County District Attorney's Office and the shooter was released with no immediate charges filed. Seller said the incident stemmed from a verbal argument. All those involved lived at the home, but were not related. "It was determined that Mr. Coverson appeared to be the aggressor in the incident and that he was shot in self-defense," Sellers said. The case will be presented to a grand jury.

[7/5/2024] An arrest has been made after a triple shooting that killed a man in Paulding County last Saturday, according to the sheriff's office. Investigators were called to the shooting at a home at the 1700 block of Crossroads Church Road in Rockmart, Georgia, just after 3:30 a.m. on Saturday, June 29. The home is down the road from Crossroads Memorial Church. When deputies arrived, they said they found three men who had been shot and one of them was dead. Investigators said it all began when a 38-year-old man was asleep in his car in the driveway -- that's when Troy Sparks, 34, and Brandon Stephens, 35, broke out the window of his vehicle and allegedly started hitting him with a "blunt object." Gunfire erupted as Stephens exchanged shots with the 38-year-old man, the sheriff's office said. Investigators said the incident ended with the 38-year-old man shot while Stephens was fatally shot and Sparks as shot as well. The sheriff's office said the three men knew each other and that Sparks and Stephens had previous issues with the 38-year-old man. Paulding County Sheriff's deputies and Georgia Bureau of Investigation's agents determined the 38-year-old man had shot back in self-defense. Investigators said Sparks was arrested and he faces murder and aggravated assault charges. "Detectives and Agents want to make sure that the community is aware that this is an open and active investigation," the sheriff's office wrote in a news release.

A 58-year-old pedestrian was killed in a weekend hit-and-run in Birmingham. Milton Earl Davis, of Birmingham, was walking in a business parking lot in Saturday's predawn hours when he was fatally struck, according to the Jefferson County Coroner's Office. The location was the 400 block of Fourth Avenue North. It has not yet been determined when Davis was struck. Authorities said the unknown vehicle left the road, hit Davis, and then drove off. Davis was pronounced dead on the scene at 5:33 a.m. Birmingham police are investigating.

A 52-year-old man was shot and killed in Mobile on Saturday evening after a young person "acted in self-defense," police say. Around 8:58 pm on Saturday, the Mobile Police Department says officers responded to a call about a shooting in the 450 block of Driver Street. There, they found Cornell Ross, 52, dead in the driveway of the home. Officials say that the incident is an active investigation, and will be presented to a grand jury.

A shooting on Interstate 59 southbound in Birmingham left one person dead. Birmingham police on Sunday identified the victim as Javonte McDonald. He was 25 and lived in Birmingham. Birmingham police were dispatched just after 10 p.m. Saturday to I-59 near the First Avenue North exit ramp. Officers arrived to find a vehicle – a light pink Dodge Challenger – down an embankment off the interstate. McDonald was pronounced dead on the scene. A second male victim sustained non-life-threatening injuries. Officer Truman Fitzgerald said one vehicle opened fire on another. Investigators believe the shooting was targeted. McDonald's car came to a stop between the interstate and the 8500 block of First Avenue South. Investigators shut down the southbound lanes from Roebuck Parkway to Fourth Avenue South to look for shell casings. Shortly before 11:30 p.m., they reopened one lane of southbound traffic, but then had to stop it again for two trucks to pull the car up the embankment. Police also set up a large scene along First Avenue South. McDonald is Birmingham's 75th homicide this year. Of those, seven have been ruled justifiable and therefore aren't deemed criminal.

A man suspected in a Chatham County homicide was injured Sunday night when he was shot by Savannah police after firing his own gun at them as he fled on foot, the GBI said. Gregory Eugene Griffin, 31, was injured during the exchange of gunfire, the GBI said. No officers were hurt during the chase. Griffin had been identified as a homicide suspect by Chatham police, who shared a description of Griffin's car with other agencies Sunday night, the GBI said. Savannah police located Griffin's car in their city and tried to pull him over. According to the state agency, Griffin drove away from the officers and led them on a brief pursuit. He drove in the wrong lane on East Victory Drive, the GBI said, before he hit another car, then abandoned his car and ran away. When the pursuing officers began chasing Griffin on foot, he pulled out a gun and shot at them, the GBI said. Three officers returned fire and hit Griffin near the entrance of The Home Depot at 1907 East Victory Drive, per the state agency. The officers provided first aid until Griffin could be taken to the Memorial Health University Medical Center. The GBI did not share the extent of Griffin's injuries or any updates on his medical condition, but he was not killed in the initial shooting. The GBI did not provide any details about the homicide case in which Griffin a suspect.

[7/2/2024] The Tienda Los Hermanos grocery store where three men were killed earlier this month was burglarized on Sunday. Montgomery police tell Action 8 News that it happened just before 5 a.m. at the store located in the 4100 block of Troy Highway. Upon their officers, officers made contact with the complainant who told them that a burglary had occurred and property taken. MPD has not released any additional information regarding the incident. On June 4, three man were killed during a robbery at that store. No arrests have been made in that case.

Two men are recovering after a shooting Sunday afternoon. Around 4:30 p.m., MPD and Fire Medics found an adult male with a non-life threatening gunshot wound in the 5800 block of Hyde Park Drive. The victim was transported to a local hospital for treatment. While on the scene, MPD responded to a local hospital where they found a second adult male victim who also had a non-life threatening gunshot wound. Officers determined that both of these shootings happened in the 5800 block of Hyde Park Drive.

A 24-year-old woman shot Sunday night near Wendell has died. Serenity Spencer was found with a gunshot wound when sheriff's deputies responded to a shooting report in the 7000 block of Hodge Road in eastern Wake County at about 10:40 p.m. She was taken to the hospital, where she died of her injuries, the Wake County Sheriff's Office said Monday morning. Sheriff's deputies are investigating the shooting as a homicide.

Spanish Fort police are investigating why a 48-year-old border patrol agent shot and killed his ex-wife and then himself Sunday during a horrific case of domestic violence. According to Police Chief John Barber, Michael Settle shot and killed his ex-wife, 48-year-old Kerri Settle, following an argument that occurred sometime around 10 p.m. at 10 Sailors Cove. "He came over and there was a confrontation that occurred at the house," Barber said. "She tried to lock herself in the bedroom. She exited the house where she tried to get away." Michael Settle then shot and killed her in the front yard before shooting and killing himself, Barber said. The couple, Barber said, had been divorced since January. Kerri Settle was a career educator and former assistant principal within the Mobile County Public School System. "We don't know what snapped on him last night," Barber said, indicating there had been no prior calls of police assistance at the house involving the Michael or Kerri Settle. However, a relative of Kerri Settles told AL.com that police went to the home on at least one previous occasion because of Michael Settles' "outbursts" and that Kerri Settles' mother accompanied Kerri to the police department "for a similar reason." When asked by AL.com, Barber said that when the department ran a report for their address, there were no previous calls for domestic violence there.

[8/13/2024] A suspect has been arrested in connection with the death of a Gwinnett County man who police believe was killed in a fight over land in Mexico, officials announced Tuesday. Mario Rene Lopez-Jolon, 38, faces a murder charge in the death of Guadalupe Garcia Rodriguez, 40. Officers discovered Rodriguez's body inside his truck July 1, two days after he'd been reported missing. The truck had been abandoned in a neighborhood off Lawrenceville Highway, and Rodriguez had been shot twice, Gwinnett police said. Authorities said they received new information last week that Rodriguez had been in a dispute over land with the father of his ex-girlfriend. Detectives conducted interviews with the woman at her home in Lawrenceville and were able to identify Lopez-Jolon as the suspect. Details were not released about how they made that determination or how Lopez-Jolon was connected to Rodriguez. Investigators also learned that Lopez-Jolon was in Huntsville, Alabama. They enlisted the help of the Huntsville Police Department, and Lopez-Jolon was arrested at a hotel. He is awaiting extradition to Georgia. The day Rodriguez had been reported missing by his wife, she told officers she last saw him as he left in his truck. She later told Univision Atlanta that July 1 was their 10th wedding anniversary. Rodriguez's white Chevrolet Silverado was found parked halfway onto a curb just inside the entrance to the Paden Cove neighborhood. In addition to malice murder and felony murder, Lopez-Jolon was charged with aggravated assault and possession of a firearm during the commission of a felony.

A person was injured in a road rage shooting in Brookhaven early Monday morning, according to authorities. Around 4:30 a.m., Atlanta police notified Brookhaven officers about a victim who had been shot within the city limits moments earlier, police spokesperson Lt. Moises Vargas said. Two vehicles were traveling on North Druid Hills Road near I-85 when an argument erupted that escalated to gunfire, officials said. Vargas said the wounded person, a passenger, was then driven to a Shell gas station on Plaster Avenue in northeast Atlanta's Armour Yards neighborhood, where police were called. No other details, including a description of the suspect, have been released by police.

[7/31/2024] A month ago, a Chick-fil-A delivery driver successfully fought off an armed would-be robber. Now, a suspect has been arrested, according to Gwinnett County police. Tommie Lee Williams, 51, is accused of breaking into the fast-food restaurant at 5075 Stone Mountain Highway shortly before 4:30 a.m. July 1. According to a police report, he smashed through the drive-thru window with a rock, climbed inside and made his way to the kitchen area. He then pulled out a handgun and pointed it at the driver, demanding to be taken to the safe, the report states. “The suspect told the victim that he (the victim) was going to die if he didn’t open the safe and pointed a handgun at him,” police said in a statement. Security footage shared by police shows the confrontation. Initially, the suspect holds the employee at gunpoint and makes him open the manager’s office door. Less than a minute later, the employee engages the suspect in a fight over the gun. At one point, the suspect loses his grip on the gun and it falls to the ground for several seconds, the video shows. Another bout of wrestling ensues before the suspect grabs the weapon again but eventually leaves without firing any shots. He was already gone by the time police arrived. During the altercation, the victim managed to pull off the suspect’s mask, sunglasses and hat. The hat and sunglasses were collected by crime scene investigators, police said. “Investigators were assigned the case and immediately began canvassing the area for evidence related to the suspect’s identity,” officials said. Detectives eventually identified a vehicle they believed the suspect used to get to the location, which they said then led them to Williams. He was arrested Wednesday and faces several charges,

Raleigh police have identified and are looking for a suspect in a fatal stabbing last month on Calvary Drive. Ernesto Torres-Torres, 37, is wanted in connection with the death of 32-year-old Aaron Malik Heath, who was found stabbed just after 6 a.m. June 20 at 3132 Calvary Drive, the Raleigh Police Department said in a news release Tuesday. Heath died at the hospital from his injuries three days later. Police are asking for the public’s help in finding Torres-Torres, who is about 5 feet 10 inches tall and 150 pounds. The News & Observer has left a message for the department, asking what what charges he faces when arrested. A reward is being offered for information leading to his arrest.

A man was shot in front of a Goodwill hiring center in DeKalb County after he allegedly spat on someone Monday morning, according to officials. DeKalb police got to the location just before 9 a.m. and found the victim seriously injured. The scene is in the Avondale Crossing shopping center along Columbia Drive in the Belvedere Park neighborhood. Officers told The Atlanta Journal-Constitution that the man had been shot in the chest and was being taken to Grady Memorial Hospital. "The victim refused to provide any information to officers, but witnesses advised the victim spat on another male, who then shot the victim," police spokesperson Lt. Shane Smith said. The suspect then ran away. It's not clear if the victim was going to the hiring center, which opens at 9 a.m., when he was shot. No other details have been released by police.

An armed suspect remains at large in the northeast Georgia town of Toccoa after exchanging gunfire with police Monday afternoon, according to the GBI. Multiple law enforcement agencies are seeking 37-year-old Montavious Cantrell Winkfield in the mountainous area around Toccoa, the GBI said. Police pulled over Winkfield near Diagonal Street just after 2 p.m., the state agency said. Few details have been released about the incident, but the GBI said Winkfield exited his car and began shooting at the officers performing the traffic stop. An officer fired back at Winkfield, and he ran away, the GBI said. No one was injured in the exchange of gunfire. The short Diagonal Street is located in a residential area near the center of Toccoa, though the area is still heavily wooded. The town has a population of less than 10,000 and is known as the location of the first training base for paratroopers in the U.S. Army's 101st Airborne Division; The rural base featured heavily in the book "Band of Brothers" and the HBO miniseries of the same name. Toccoa police took out arrest warrants charging Winkfield with two counts of aggravated assault against law enforcement officers, GBI said. Authorities are still working to find him. A manhunt for Winkfield is ongoing, the GBI said, and law enforcement officers are asking for help from the public as they search for him.

Authorities have released the name of a man fatally shot in East Lake Monday night. The Jefferson County Coroner's Office Tuesday identified the victim as Kameron Connell. He was 30 and lived in Birmingham. Connell's brother, Keleen Connell, was shot to death by Birmingham police on Feb. 23, 2022. Another brother, Kerry Connell, 18, was fatally shot in 2011 in the parking lot of a convenience store at 36 South Park Road. East Precinct Officers were dispatched just after 8 p.m. to a report of a person shot in the parking lot of an apartment building in the 7700 block of First Avenue South. Officers arrived to find Connell unresponsive. Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service rushed the victim to UAB Hospital, where he was pronounced dead at 8:37 p.m. Officer Truman Fitzgerald said Connell was found near where people were hanging out and shooting dice. "We don't know if the shooting is connected to the dice game," Fitzgerald said. "However, we can point out when our officers observed the victim he was in an area where dice is still on the ground." No arrests have been announced. Fitzgerald said the participants in the dice game were reluctant to talk to police.

Montgomery police have launched a homicide investigation following a man's shooting death. Police say 46-year-old Karimi Seabrooks of Montgomery was shot at about 11:30PM on July 1 in the 1200 block of Townplace Drive. Seabrooks was taken to a hospital where he was pronounced dead yesterday. Police have released no other information about the fatal shooting.

A South Carolina man was recently killed and a woman was taken into custody, according to the Clarendon County Sheriff's Office. The shooting was the result of a domestic violence related incident, the sheriff's office said in a news release. On July 2, deputies responded to a call about a shooting victim at the Quality Inn on Paxville Highway, according to the release. That's near Exit 119 on Interstate 95. At the motel, deputies discovered a man lying on the upper landing of the second-floor stairwell, the sheriff's office said. The Clarendon County Coroner's Office said the man, identified 28-year-old Sumter resident Abram Bernardo Walker Jr., died at the scene, according to the release. Carrie Anastasia Woodberry, a 27-year-old Sumter resident, was in possession of a handgun, the sheriff's office said. She was taken into custody and was held at the Clarendon County Detention Center where she was awaiting charges, according to the sheriff's office. Information about what led to the shooting was not available, but the sheriff's office said "this appears to be a domestic violence related incident between Woodberry and Walker." The sheriff's office did not immediately respond to messages seeking more information.

A man has been arrested in Michigan in connection with a fatal shooting in Madison County earlier this month. The Madison County Sheriff's Office said Renardo May, 43, is being held in Michigan pending extradition back to Alabama. He has been charged with capital murder. The victim, Jonathan Parcus, died from injuries he received in an incident July 2. Detectives with the Madison County Sheriff's Office Major Crimes Unit were called following a shooting that day in the 100 block of Swancott Road. May was arrested with the cooperation of local, federal, and state agencies.

Two 13-year-old boys were killed in a shooting outside a troubled southwest Atlanta apartment complex shortly after midnight Tuesday, according to authorities. A 12-year-old was also injured. Atlanta police said they got a call around 12:30 a.m. about the shooting at the West End Apartments near Dimmock and Peebles streets in the Oakland City neighborhood. One of the victims turned 13 Tuesday, his family told reporters at the scene. He was identified as Lamont Freeman by his family and officials. "Literally, today's his birthday, and it's not good at all," his cousin Tiwana McCoy said. "He's supposed to be here with us celebrating, doing what we do as a celebration for his birthday." The teenager died at the scene, she said. The other two victims were rushed to a hospital, where the second 13-year-old died. He was identified as Jakoby Davis by the Fulton County Medical Examiner's Office. The 12-year-old was described as stable, police said. According to McCoy, her cousin had been sitting on the steps of one of the buildings with his best friend just moments before the shooting. "Hanging out, that's what they do every day," she told The Atlanta Journal-Constitution. Only this time, someone opened fire. The first bullet struck a boy who was sitting on the steps, and the second boy was hit as he walked out of the house, McCoy said. Police have not released additional details, and officers eventually asked news reporters to leave the scene due to what they called gang activity in the area. The apartment complex, which occupies multiple blocks in the Oakland City neighborhood, is among 272 of the metro area's persistently dangerous complexes, according to the AJC's "Dangerous Dwellings" investigation that looked into serious crimes, lax

An exchange of gunfire at an east Birmingham home left one man dead. The shooting happened at 8:04 p.m. Tuesday in the 7800 block of Third Avenue South. The victim was taken to UAB Hospital where he was pronounced dead at 9:54 p.m. The Jefferson County Coroner's Office said the victim was a 33-year-old Black male. They are withholding his name pending notification of his family. Officer Truman Fitzgerald said detectives are working to confirm what led to the shootout and who fired first. The shooter has been fully cooperative during the investigation, he said.

Sheffield Police are investigating an apparent murder–suicide that happened Tuesday night. Colbert County Coroner Justin Gasque said the incident happened on Wilson Dam Avenue in Sheffield at about 10:07 p.m. Tommy Ray Burcham, 43, was found dead in in a field near a residence. Nearby, the body of Raleigh Lemaster, 34, was discovered, dead from an apparently self–inflicted gunshot wound. Gasque said it appeared the two had been involved in an argument just prior to the altercation.

Police are investigating after a man was found dead after a hit–and–run in DeKalb County late Tuesday night. Around 11:17 p.m., officers responded to North Hairston Road and Trace Terrace after reports of a person struck by a vehicle. The intersection is not far from Stone Mountain High School. Upon arrival, police said they found a 30–year–old man dead on the road. Authorities said the vehicle involved left the scene before investigators showed up. The identity of the victim has not yet been released. There is no word on a possible suspect at this time. In an update, DeKalb Police said the medical examiner’s office advised investigators that the man had also been shot. The police department’s homicide detectives are still investigating the circumstances surrounding the shooting and hit–and–run.

Madison police have charged an 18–year–old with murder following a fatal shooting last week. Christopher Saam of Madison has been charged in connection with the death of Brian Wiggins Jr., 18, of Decatur. According to police the shooting happened July 3. Saam was arrested Saturday. The arrest came after police executed search and arrest warrants at a house in Madison. Saam was taken to the Madison County Jail. The investigation is continuing, according to police.

[7/17/2024] A Gwinnett County man was arrested in connection with the “disappearance” of a North Carolina teen, according to police. Police said Kevin Carcamo–Garcia was in a relationship with the 14–year–old girl and took the girl from North Carolina to his home in Gwinnett County. He was arrested July 3 and the teen was returned to her mother. Carcamo–Garcia has been charged with statutory rape and child molestation.

Gwinnett County Police are investigating a homicide after they found the body of a missing 40-year-old man early Wednesday morning. Officers responded to the 200 block of Paden Cove Trail to check on a parked truck around 12:30 a.m. When police looked into the truck, they found Guadalupe Garcia Rodriguez's body. He was previously reported missing by his wife a couple of days before, on Monday, July 1. His wife told officers that the 40-year-old never came home that afternoon and was last seen leaving in the truck on Monday. While it's unclear what happened to Rodriguez, police are investigating the motive of the incident. Authorities are asking anyone with information on the case to contact the department at 770-513-5300.

A woman found nude and fatally shot outside an Avondale apartment has now been identified, and a suspect has been charged in her death. The Jefferson County Coroner's Office identified the victim as Dianisleidy Rodriguez-Hernandez. She was 34 and from Cuba. South Precinct officers about 4:40 p.m. Wednesday were notified of shots fired and then a person shot in the 4200 block of Fifth Avenue South. That location is directly across the street from Avondale Park. Police found Rodriguez-Hernandez unresponsive just outside a unit. She was pronounced dead on the scene at 5:10 p.m. Johnny Ray Sears Jr., 44, of Birmingham, is charged with murder in the woman's death, according to court and jail records. Charging documents list his address as the apartment building where the killing happened. Birmingham Mayor Randall Woodfin on Friday said the two "were together to conduct an illegal transaction." He did not elaborate. Ray was taken into custody at the scene and held at the Birmingham City Jail pending formal charges. The murder warrant was issued Friday morning. Ray was booked into the Jefferson County Jail at noon Friday and is being held without bond.

Montgomery police are investigating a shooting outside of Eastdale Mall earlier Wednesday. Maj. Saba Coleman tells Action 8 News that the incident took place in the parking lot around 5:35 p.m. in the 1000 block of Eastdale Mall. Once officers arrived, contact was made with multiple people who said their vehicles were damaged as a result of gunfire. No one was injured in the incident. No word on any suspects at this time.

Authorities on Friday identified the Etowah County homeowner shot to death inside his residence Thursday and the suspect charged with killing him. Tyler Golden, 35, of Altoona, was the resident of the home in the 2000 block of Self Street who was found by Etowah County sheriff's deputies shot to death around 1 a.m. Thursday, the sheriff's office said Friday. "It's a senseless act. It's an act of aggression that was unnecessary, it has permanent left consequences," said Sheriff Jonathan Horton. Jason Paul Souza, 38, of Albertville, has been charged with murder in connection with Golden's death. He is being held in the Etowah County jail without bond. Souza and a woman were detained for questioning.

A teenager faces a murder charge following a July 4 shooting where a male was killed, according to the Columbia Police Department. In addition to murder, the 16-year-old also will be charged with possession of a weapon during a violent crime and possession of a weapon by a person under 18, police said Saturday. The name of the teenager has not been released because he's a minor. The teen will be charged when he's extradited from Georgia to South Carolina, according to police. He surrendered to law enforcement officers Friday in Bibb County, in the Macon area, police said. There was no word what the teen was doing in Georgia or how he got there. When the teen returns to South Carolina, he'll be held in the custody of the Department of Juvenile Justice. The shooting happened Thursday at Woodland Terrace Apartments, according to police. That's at 320 South Beltline Blvd., just south of Rosewood Drive, not far the Midlands Technical College Beltline campus. The shooting stemmed from an argument between acquaintances, according to police. Information about why they were arguing was not available. Officers found an injured male when they arrived, and he was taken to an area hospital where he died, police said. The Richland County Coroner's Office has not released the name or age of the victim. No other injuries were reported in what police called an "isolated" shooting.

A woman was found dead with a severe wound in northwest Atlanta on Thursday morning, officials said. Just before noon on the 4th of July, a 911 call came in about a person who was not responsive in the 2100 block of Martin Luther King, Jr. Drive in the Mozley Park neighborhood, according to the Atlanta Police Department. The area is a stone's throw from an I-20 exit ramp and between two gas stations. Officers discovered a woman with an "apparent life-threatening wound" who was unconscious and not breathing, police said. The identity of the victim or possible suspects, as well as the circumstances of her death were not publicly released. Police are treating the case as a homicide, officials said.

[7/12/2024] On Friday morning, DeKalb County officials identified a man killed in a suspected road rage shooting that happened just after midnight on the Fourth of July. Officers were called to Colony East Drive just after the shooting and found a man injured at the scene, DeKalb police said. He was taken to the hospital but later died from his injuries. He was identified as 37-year-old Torean Adams of Decatur, the DeKalb Medical Examiner's Office said. According to police, investigators believe Adams was involved in a road rage incident with the suspect, Ahmunet Shabazz. She was taken into custody the following day after she was pulled over in the area of South Hairston and Rockbridge roads. Shabazz was booked into the DeKalb jail on counts of felony murder and aggravated assault, online records show. She remains in jail without bond. A funeral for Adams will be held July 18 at Harvest Tabernacle Church in Lithonia, according to his obituary.

An early-morning shooting at an Etowah County home left one man dead and two people in custody. Sheriff's deputies were dispatched at 1 a.m. Thursday to a residence in the 2000 block of Self Street in Altoona. They arrived to find 35-year-old Tyler Golden dead. He lived at the Self Street home, said Sheriff Jonathon Horton. A male and a female were taken into custody at the home. Horton said the investigation is ongoing, and charges are expected. Additional details were not yet released. Attalla police, Altoona Fire, Amed Ambulance Service and the Jacksonville State Center for Applied Forensics assisted in the investigation.

A man gunned down in a massive shootout at a downtown Birmingham intersection lost his son to violence in the city six years ago. The Jefferson County Coroner's Office on Friday identified the slain man as Dietrich Lamont Boone. He was 45 and lived in Birmingham. His son, Dietrich Lamont Boone Jr., was fatally stabbed in 2018 during a dispute over a woman. The suspect in that case was acquitted. Boone Sr. was killed in a hail of gunfire about 2:15 p.m. Thursday at 25th Street and Seventh Avenue North. North Precinct officers responded to a call of a person shot. When they arrived, they found a grey Chrysler 300 that had crashed into a tree and a utility pole. Boone Sr. was located about 15 yards away in a grassy area outside of an apartment building. He was rushed to UAB Hospital where he was pronounced dead at 2:36 p.m. Officer Truman Fitzgerald said investigators believe a shootout happened at the intersection. The victim, he said, was targeted. Crime scene investigators placed more than 50 evidence marks along Seventh Avenue North. Evidence markers don't necessarily indicate just one shell casing – a marker can be used to mark multiple shell casings in one spot. "We have at least 50 shell casings near where kids play, families gather all the time," Fitzgerald said. "Anytime you have this many rounds being fired, we are extremely lucky no one else was hit." A woman who posted a Facebook Live video of the aftermath reported seeing at least one of the shooters – wearing a ski mask – hanging out a window firing the gun. It appears the victim was able to return fire before he collapsed. A gun was found near the victim.

Mobile police continue to investigate a shooting outside a sporting goods store on Thursday that resulted in the death of a 22-year-old man. Police identified the victim as DeShaun Bonner. He was shot and killed during an incident in the parking lot near Academy Sports + Outdoors at 3725 Airport Blvd. at the Festival Centre. The shooting occurred around 4:54 p.m. Bonner was transported to a hospital with a gunshot wound and later died as a result of his injuries. No arrests have been made, and police continue with their investigation.

A Lowcountry man was killed July 4 at a boat landing, and a search is underway for who pulled the trigger, South Carolina officials said. The shooting victim was 31-year-old St. Stephen resident Jonah Price, Berkeley County Coroner Darnell Hartwell said. At about 9:30 p.m., deputies responded to a report of a fight where shots were fired at the St. Stephen Boat Landing at 1148 Arrowhead Road, according to the Berkeley County Sheriff's Office. That's near the Santee River. Deputies were told the victim — later identified as Price — had been shot multiple times, the sheriff's office said. When they arrived, deputies discovered Price had died at the scene, according to the sheriff's office. No other injuries were reported. There was no word about a shooter or shooters, or anyone else involved in the gunfire. Information about a motive for the shooting, or if the people involved knew each other, was not available. No arrests have been reported, but the death continues to be investigated by the sheriff's office and coroner's office.

[7/8/2024] The death of an Atlanta doctorate student found Saturday in Birmingham, two days after he disappeared from a family holiday gathering, has been ruled a homicide by the Jefferson County Coroner/Medical Examiner's Office. Birmingham police announced the determination Sunday. Authorities have not said how 31-year-old Deundray Cottrell was killed. The search continues for 31-year-old Julian Taylor Morris, who authorities and family have said had a romantic relationship with Cottrell. Fitzgerald called Morris a person of interest. Morris has not been seen since Friday morning. Cottrell was last seen about 10 p.m. Thursday in the 7000 block of Fourth Avenue South. His sister, Angelica Harris, said Cottrell and Morris got to Birmingham about 6 p.m. Thursday to celebrate the holiday. It was her brother's first time seeing the new home she shares with her husband and children. Cottrell lived in Atlanta where he worked in marketing and was working toward his doctorate degree. About 10 p.m., Cottrell said he was going upstairs to check on his dog, because of the fireworks. "He went and checked on the dog and I never saw him again," Harris said. Morris also was in the house and told family they had a conversation and the Cottrell had left and took off running through the backyard. Family members found Cottrell's sunglasses, cell phone and one of his shoes when they began their search for him. Morris, family said, was acting erratically and not like they've known him to act for the past three years. The family immediately began a search and eventually called police to file a missing person's report. Harris said they later learned he wasn't actually entered into the system as missing until Friday morning. Cottrell's family searched for him throughout Friday and

A Clover man accused of firing a shotgun at officers Friday before a standoff with York County SWAT faces charges of attempted murder, police said. William Dean Jefferis, 57, was arrested Friday morning on three counts of attempted murder after the standoff on Stanton Street ended, according to Clover Police Department Chief Randy Grice and Sgt. Tracy Reid. No Clover officers or SWAT members were hurt. Jefferis was taken into custody without injury, Grice said. Clover police did not return fire at the suspect, Grice said. Jefferis allegedly fired from the house outside toward Clover officers who arrived after midnight, Reid said. York County SWAT then responded, and homes around the house were cleared, Reid said. Police initially went to the house because of a reported domestic disturbance, and a news release said gunshots were heard inside the house. The standoff went on for about five hours until SWAT took Jefferis into custody before 6 a.m., Reid said. Jefferis has not yet had an initial court appearance, according to police and York County online court records. Attempted murder carries up to 30 years in prison for each conviction in South Carolina. Jefferis is an employee of the town of Clover, police said. His specific job has not been released, but he is not a police officer, Grice said. Clover has around 8,000 residents. It is located northwest of Rock Hill, and west of Lake Wylie and Charlotte.

Two teens died early Friday in an apparent murder-suicide. Montgomery police responded at 4:14 a.m. to the 3900 block of Marie Cook Drive. That location is a residential area. The teens – both age 17 – were found dead from gunshot wounds. Maj. Saba Coleman said the teen girl had been fatally shot. The teen boy, she said, died from a self-inflicted gunshot wound. The deadly shooting was domestic-related. No additional details were released.

Formal charges have been filed against the suspect in the Friday shooting death of a 55-year-old man in southwest Birmingham. Kishande Jamarrius Huckabee, 24, is charged with murder in killing of Renard “Keith” West. Huckabee was taken into custody within minutes of West’s slaying, and still had a gun on him, police said. He was held in the Birmingham City Jail until the warrant was obtained. He was then transferred to the Jefferson County Jail Saturday afternoon. Shortly after 4:30 a.m., the city’s gunfire detection system – Shot Spotter – indicated several rounds fired in the 1000 block of Cotton Avenue. Police then received a call that someone had been shot. Officers arrived to find the victim in the front yard of a home. Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service pronounced him dead on the scene. Officer Truman Fitzgerald said community members were able to provide a description of the suspect. Police found Huckabee walking not far from the crime scene and took him into custody without incident. He was armed at the time of his capture, Fitzgerald said.

A man is recovering after being shot on Woodley Road in Montgomery. Montgomery Police Department Lt. David Wise told Action 8 News that the shooting happened at about 1:58PM Friday. Officers were called to the 3600 block of Woodley Road, which is south of the bypass and not far from Peter Crump Elementary School. Wise says that’s where officers found the man, who suffered what he called a non-life threatening gunshot wound. The man was taken to a hospital for treatment. No other information has been released.

The East Point Police Department is investigating after two people were shot on Saturday. According to police, officers responded to a shots fired call in the area of Cedar Avenue and Harlan Drive. When they arrived, officers found several shell casings along with several vehicles being damaged. They also found two people shot in the area and sent them to the hospital, police said. Their conditions are currently unknown. The circumstances of what led up to the shooting are also unknown at this time. This is an active investigation.

[10/22/2024] Two teenagers were recently charged for shooting at a South Carolina home over the summer, according to the Sumter County Sheriff's Office. On Oct. 15, both 19-year-old Dreyfus Dre' son Wells and a 17-year-old were each charged with discharging firearms into a dwelling, the sheriff's office said Monday in a news release. The 17-year-old was not publicly identified because they are a minor, according to the release. The shooting happened July 6 at a home on Hilldale Drive, the sheriff's office said. That's about 1.5 miles from Sumter High School. At about 1:30 a.m., deputies responded to a report of a shooting and found numerous bullet holes in the home that had been hit with gunfire. The sheriff's office said a resident had been sleeping inside at the time of the shooting, but no injuries were reported. There was no word on a motive for the shooting. Information about how the teens were connected to the gunfire three months after the shooting was not available. The 17-year-old was petitioned to family court, the sheriff's office said. After being arrested, Wells was booked into the Sumter County Sheriff's Office Detention Center on the weapons charge and was released after posting a $12,500 bond, according to the release.

A man who escaped a corrections facility has been charged in a Friday evening fatal stabbing on the Beltline in northeast Atlanta, police said. William Tyler Coleman, 27, is facing charges of murder, aggravated assault and possession of a knife during the commission of a felony. According to Atlanta police, he was wanted by the Georgia Department of Corrections for escape. Around 8 p.m., officers were called to the 200 block of Montgomery Ferry Drive, off Monroe Drive. The victim was located with multiple stab wounds on the Beltline's northeast trail, authorities confirmed. He was pronounced dead at the scene. An empty shopping cart and an umbrella were found near the victim's body. Several officers, including at least one K-9, responded to the area, which is near the Ansley Golf Club and just south of I-85. The escape happened June 22 while Coleman was being housed at the Atlanta Transitional Center on Ponce de Leon Avenue, which is nearly three miles from where the stabbing took place. He had been there since October 2021 on charges of simple battery, robbery and obstruction of law enforcement, online records show. "ATL TC is unlike a prison in that it functions as a community-based program/work-release facility and is not secured by fencing. Coleman walked out of the facility," GDC spokesperson Joan Heath told The Atlanta Journal-Constitution.

Two people were injured over the weekend in a drive-by shooting, according to the Richland County Sheriff's Department. At about 11 p.m. Saturday, deputies responded to a hospital in South Carolina where two shooting victims were being treated, the sheriff's department said Monday in a news release. Information on the victims' conditions was not available. The victims said the shooting happened after they had left a party in the area near the intersection of Briercliff Drive and Hardscrabble Road. That's in the Columbia area, between Interstate 77 and Farrow Road. The victims told deputies that they were in a vehicle driving on S.C. 277 when they were shot at by individuals in another car. The sheriff's department said it has not been able to confirm the exact location of the shooting. No other injuries were reported. There was no word about a shooter or shooters, or anyone else involved in the gunfire. Information about a motive for the shooting was not available. No arrests have been reported, and the shooting continues to be investigated by the sheriff's department.

One man is dead — another man is hurt — and another is behind bars following a shooting at a lounge in the Dallas County town of Orrville. Chief Deputy John Hatfield says 19 year old Jeremy Bryant of Orrville was killed in the shooting — and another man was shot in the leg. It happened at Shop Boyz Lounge at around 2:30 Sunday morning. The incident stemmed from an argument between two females — that escalated into a shootout after several males got involved. “During the course of the investigation we was able to identify five suspects that were shooting at the club,” said Hatfield. Twenty-seven year old Tremark Atkins of Selma has been arrested in the case. “Charged him with one count of felony murder, one count of assault second and one count of shooting into an occupied building.”

A man is dead after being shot multiple times on Sunday morning in DeKalb County, police said. According to the DeKalb County Police Department, officers responded to the 2300 block of Woodcrest Walk in reference to a person shot at 6:45 a.m. When they arrived, officers found a deceased 25-year-old man who had multiple gunshot wounds inside a residence, police said. Detectives responded to the scene to further the investigation. It is currently unknown what led to the shooting.

[7/15/2024] A former Georgia high school football standout was found shot to death in a hotel room on the evening of Sunday, July 7. The Braselton Police Department said officers were dispatched at 5:15 p.m. to The LaQuinta Inn & Suites at 200 Kaival Lane in Braselton, Jackson County, Georgia. When officers arrived, they said they found a man in a hotel room with a gunshot wound to his head. Braselton Police identified the victim as 20-year-old Ashton Bonner. According to a social media post from Heard County High School's sports team page, The Heard County Brave Nation, Bonner graduated from Heard County High in 2021. During his senior year, the social media post said he was the football team's MVP and was "electrifying every time he toed the field." The team shared football highlights from Bonner's senior year online here. Braselton Police said Qualiss Simmons Jr. was taken into custody in connection to Bonner's death. According to jail records, Simmons was arrested the same day Bonner was killed. Simmons faces one count of murder and one count of aggravated assault, according to the police department. Detectives with Braselton Police Department's Criminal Investigations Division are still looking into the circumstances surrounding Bonner's death.

Decatur police say they are investigating a shooting Sunday night at a gas station that left two people wounded. The incident happened at about 8:43 p.m. at a Chevron station at 1029 Danville Rd. S.W., according to police. Officers responding at the scene found two people had been shot. Both were taken to Huntsville Hospital to receive treatment for non-life-threatening injuries. [7/14/2024] In the past week, officers from the same South Carolina police department have shot and killed men in separate incidents, according to the Pickens County Coroner's Office. The South Carolina Law Enforcement Division is leading the investigations into the fatal shootings involving the Easley Police Department. The first shooting happened July 8, when 26-year-old Greer resident Nicholas Elias Fernandez died, according to the coroner's office. Easley police responded to multiple 911 calls about a man armed with a baseball bat, who was making threats and shoplifting before leaving a Tractor Supply Company store, SLED said. He was later identified as Fernandez. An officer encountered Fernandez outside a nearby home, who was then armed with an ax, according to SLED. During an altercation, the officer shot Fernandez, who died at the scene, SLED said. Fernandez was shot multiple times at 752 Rolling Hills Circle, according to the coroner's office. That's about a mile from the Tractor Supply store. No law enforcement officers were injured, SLED said. Easley police said they were involved in another shooting Saturday. At about 1:30 p.m., officers responded to a call about a domestic violence incident where a man shoved a woman, causing her to hit her head, at 117 Scott Ave., according to police. At the home, officers saw a woman and child standing outside and also saw a man go inside the home, police said. Some officers began speaking to the woman and child, while other officers tried to make contact with the man — who barricaded himself in the home — according to police. A short time later, the man opened a door and pointed a weapon at officers, prompting at least one to fire their duty weapon, police said. Daniel Scott McGoldrick, a 35-year-old

A 6-year-old child died after the SUV they were riding in left the road and overturned early Monday morning in Baldwin County, authorities said Tuesday. Meanwhile, the driver of the vehicle was arrested and charged with manslaughter in connection with the incident, said Alabama Law Enforcement Agency Senior Trooper Joshua Thompson. The child was a passenger in a 2003 GMC Yukon around 3:08 a.m. Monday when the vehicle left Baldwin County Road 28 and overturned, Thompson said. The 6-year-old child was taken to a local hospital where they died of their injuries. The driver, identified as 25-year-old Summerdale resident Zelvin G. Pavon-Gomez, was injured and taken to South Baldwin Medical Center in Foley. Pavon-Gomez was later arrested and taken to the Baldwin County jail on a charge of manslaughter. The wreck occurred near George Younce Road, about five miles south of Robertsdale. Further information was unavailable as state troopers continued investigating the single-vehicle wreck.

A man described by investigators as mentally ill was shot by officers after they say he pointed a gun at them at the Selma Walmart. Chief Deputy John Hatfield of the Dallas County Sheriff's Office told Action 8 News that officers had been called early Monday morning to the man's house because he had threatened to hurt people. Hatfield said that at about 4AM Monday, the man was seen coming out of the Walmart with a gun in his hand. When Hatfield said that the man pointed the gun at officers, he said a Selma police officer and a Dallas County Sheriff's deputy shot him in the leg. The man was taken to a hospital for treatment. His name hasn't been released. The State Bureau of Investigation is now looking into the case, which is standard when an officer is involved in a shooting.

A 19-year-old alleged kidnapping and statutory rape suspect is in custody following a series of hit-and-run accidents in Athens, police said. According to the Athens-Clarke County Police Department, officers responded to the 200 block of Highland Park Drive regarding a minor being kidnapped shortly before 5 a.m. on Monday. During the investigation, officers found the suspect's vehicle on Westchester Drive after a series of hit-and-run accidents. Police found the minor, and they were taken to the hospital. After a preliminary investigation, officers took the suspect, 19-year-old Jehron Keys of Lawrenceville, into custody. Police said that Keys is being charged with kidnapping, child molestation, statutory rape, reckless driving, three counts of hit and run, failure to maintain lane and unsafe tires. Police said this is an ongoing investigation.

A man accused of crashing a stolen vehicle Tuesday night was shot by Fulton County deputies after allegedly aiming a gun at them, officials said. The incident unfolded in the Adamsville neighborhood of northwest Atlanta after a deputy spotted an SUV that had been reported stolen out of Decatur, Fulton County Sheriff Pat Labat told Channel 2 Action News near the scene. The deputy attempted to pull the vehicle over, but "it turned into a short chase" Labat said. The pursuit ended with a crash into a power pole at the intersection of Delmar Lane and Harwell Road, he said. Authorities said the suspect, identified as Travan Yarborough, 20, brandished a gun and aimed it at deputies, who then opened fire, Channel 2 reported. Yarborough ran and hid behind a house but was apprehended a short time later, according to the news station. His injuries were not considered life-threatening. A woman who was a passenger in the vehicle was taken to a hospital for observation, according to Channel 2. The GBI has been asked to handle the investigation into the use of force by deputies.

Montgomery police are investigating a shooting that critically injured a man. Maj. Saba Coleman tells Action 8 News that officers and fire medics responded around 9:10 p.m. Tuesday to the 3800 block of Eastern Boulevard on a person shot. This is near the intersection at Troy Highway. Once they arrived, they found an adult male victim with a life-threatening gunshot wound. The unidentified victim was taken to a local hospital for treatment. No word on suspects at this time.

Two people were killed and another was injured Tuesday night in a shooting, according to the Richland County Sheriff's Department. At about 10 p.m., deputies responded to a report of a shooting in the 300 block of Hickory Ridge Drive, the sheriff's department said Wednesday in a news release. That's in the Columbia area, between Garners Ferry Road and Leesburg Road. Deputies found a vehicle in a yard with two unresponsive victims inside. Both EMS and the Columbia Fire Department also responded and it was determined that the people in the car were dead, the sheriff's department said. A third shooting victim was located inside the home and taken to an area hospital, according to the release. The sheriff's department said that person suffered non-life-threatening injuries, but further information on their condition was not available. The sheriff's department called Tuesday's gunfire a double homicide and said it's "related to a possible drive-by shooting." It was not clear if Tuesday's shooting was considered a drive-by, and information about when a previous shooting happened was not available. The sheriff's department previously said two people were injured in a drive-by shooting that happened after they left a party in the area near the intersection of Briercliff Drive and Hardscrabble Road on Saturday night, but did not say that incident was connected to Tuesday's shooting. There was no word about a shooter or shooters, or anyone else involved in the Tuesday night gunfire. No arrests have been reported, and the shooting continues to be investigated by the sheriff's department.

A Morrow police officer was shot Wednesday night while trying to break up a fight outside a Mexican restaurant, according to Channel 2 Action News. The suspected shooter was also struck, the news station reported. Both the officer and the suspect are expected to survive. The incident unfolded in the parking lot of Las Trojas Cantina on Mt. Zion Road. A fight had broken out, and officers were trying to deescalate the situation when a person shot an officer in the chest, according to Channel 2. The officer's bulletproof vest stopped the bullet. Another officer chased after the suspect and returned fire in front of a nearby store, the station reported. Both the officer and suspect were taken to a hospital, and the officer has since been released, according to Channel 2. The GBI was called in to handle the investigation. The agency has not released any information, but agents were at the scene collecting evidence, including a firearm that was lying on the ground.

A 16-year-old is dead after a shooting at a northwest Atlanta apartment complex Wednesday, according to the police department. The teen was originally identified as an adult man, but in an updated statement early Thursday morning his age was clarified as 16. Atlanta Police said the shooting happened at 1634 Hollywood Road NW, which is the address of the Reserve at Hollywood Apartments. The apartment complex is near Springfield Missionary Baptist Church and down the road from Scott Elementary School in Atlanta's Scott Crossing neighborhood. When officers arrived on the scene, the police department said they found the teen with gunshot wounds. Investigators said he had been taken to the hospital for medical treatment but has since died from his injuries. Police have not released any other details, including whether there is a possible suspect. 11Alive SkyTracker flew over the scene, where crime scene tape and at least half a dozen APD patrol cars were seen responding.

A man was shot to death while driving on Interstate 65 in Birmingham late Wednesday night. The shots rang out shortly before 11 p.m. on I-65 northbound just past the 32nd Avenue exit. Sgt. LaQuitta Wade said North Precinct officers were initially dispatched to a report of a single-vehicle crash. While they were en route, they received updated information that a motorist had been shot. The victim, Jonathan Lenair Bradberry, 55, of Gardendale, was found wounded in the driver's seat of a sedan. Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service transported him to UAB Hospital where Bradberry died shortly after his arrival. Wade said road crews currently paving I-65 southbound in that area heard the shots and then the crash. "They did not see anything," Wade said. Two shell casings could be seen in the roadway at the 32nd Avenue exit. It wasn't immediately clear if there were more shell casing further up the interstate. Bradberry traveled at least 100 yards before crashing into the concrete median. Wade said it's too soon to know if Bradberry was targeted. "At this time, we have no idea what could have possibly happened here on the interstate," she said, asking that witnesses come forward if they were in the area and saw or heard anything. As of 1 a.m., traffic was being diverted off I-65 onto 32nd Avenue North.

A man and a teen girl were wounded in an overnight shooting at an eastern Jefferson County home. Deputies were dispatched at 11:40 p.m. Wednesday to the 2300 block of Grayson Valley Drive on a report of two people shot, said sheriff's spokesman Henry Irby. They arrived to find a 49-year-old man and a 15-year-old girl injured. Center Point Fire and Rescue transported the man to UAB Hospital. The teen girl was taken to Children's of Alabama. Their conditions have not been released. Irby said the preliminary investigation indicates the case is domestic-related. No arrests have been made or charges filed.

An SUV packed with 10 youths, some of whom were suspected of breaking into cars, was pursued through Middle Georgia until it crashed into a utility pole Thursday, the Bibb County Sheriff's Office said. The kids range in age from 11 to 17, authorities said. The 2005 Chevrolet Trailblazer had been reported stolen Wednesday, the sheriff's office confirmed. Four people involved in the crash were flown to an Atlanta hospital, including a 14-year-old, two 13-year-olds and a 12-year-old — all boys. According to the sheriff's office, deputies got a call about cars being broken into on Lamar Road around 1:30 a.m. A witness described the vehicle used by the suspects, and deputies spotted it a few miles away on Napier Avenue. They tried to pull over the vehicle, but the driver did not stop, and a pursuit ensued. Eventually, the Georgia State Patrol joined the chase when it reached Mercer University Drive, the sheriff's office said. Troopers then performed a PIT maneuver on the vehicle, which ended the pursuit with a crash into a power pole at the intersection with Burton Avenue. The 17-year-old driver tried to run away but was apprehended by law enforcement, officials said. Deputies then realized how full the vehicle was and quickly worked to get the passengers out. One female passenger, also 17, was pulled out and was said to be stable, according to the sheriff's office. The remaining passengers had to be extricated. The boys flown to Atlanta were in critical condition, while an 11-year-old boy was taken to a Macon-area hospital with injuries that were not considered life-threatening, authorities said. Three other boys, ages 12, 13 and 14, were taken to a youth detention center, where they face a charge of theft by receiving stolen property and entering auto. The driver was taken to the Bibb County jail,

City of South Fulton police say around 9:35 p.m. on July 11, two individuals asked a stranger for a ride at an apartment complex at 5401 Old National Highway and then held the victim at gunpoint before fleeing in the victim's vehicle. The car was later recovered on Dogwood Drive near MLK Drive SW.

A woman was found dead inside a Gwinnett County home after her friend sounded the alarm to check on her, according to police. Gwinnett officers were called around 9:40 p.m. to a home on Glen Summit Lane in the Magnolia Manor neighborhood. The area is located between the Centerville and Rosebud communities. A friend of the woman grew concerned when she hadn't heard from her and reached out to someone with a spare key to the home so that they could check on her, spokesperson Cpl. Ryan Winderweedle said. "The key-holder showed up at the house and located the female deceased," he said. When officers arrived, they found the woman dead inside the home, officials said. It was not clear how she died, but detectives are investigating the incident as a "domestic-related homicide," Winderweedle said. Police also found a man inside. He was alive but had sustained a gunshot wound that investigators believe was self-inflicted. Detectives determined that the man and woman lived together. No other information was released.

A man was shot in the leg Friday while driving through northwest Atlanta, which led to a crash with another vehicle that left that driver in serious condition, police said. A third driver was grazed by a bullet, but authorities have not publicly confirmed if that incident is connected to the initial shooting. According to Atlanta police, the first shooting was reported around 2:15 a.m. in front of a commercial plaza at 935 Chattahoochee Avenue. The area is not far from the intersection with Howell Mill Road and just outside Blandtown. When police arrived, they found that the victim, in a Dodge Durango, had crashed into a Chevrolet Corvette after being shot, officials said. The Corvette's driver was rushed to a hospital in serious condition, police said, while the shooting victim had already been taken to a hospital. As investigators processed that scene, they were alerted to the third driver's injuries about two blocks away. Responding officers found a woman who had a graze wound to her arm, police said. She was described as alert and refused medical treatment, according to officials. Investigators believe the first victim was shot by someone in a passing vehicle. While they are still working to determine the circumstances of the second shooting, they do not believe the Corvette driver was involved in either case, police at the scene told Channel 2 Action News.

Two brothers were hospitalized Friday morning after they possibly shot each other during an argument. Jefferson County sheriff's deputies were dispatched just before 7:30 a.m. to the 3000 block of Rose Hill Drive on a report of a person shot. That is near Palmerdale. Sheriff's spokesman Henry Irby said deputies arrived to find a 74-year-old man and a 63-year-old man suffering from gunshot wounds. Both were taken to area hospitals. Their conditions have not been released. Irby said the two men were involved in a verbal altercation that led to shots fired. While it appeared they may have shot each other, investigators are working to speak with both men to get more details.

An 85-year-old man has been charged with murder after he allegedly shot and killed his son in front of dozens of fishermen attending a tournament in Newton County, authorities said Saturday. Covington police responded around 7 p.m. Friday to the shooting at Lakeview Drive Tournament Lakes, a popular spot run by the family where people pay to participate in fishing competitions. When officers arrived, they found the victim Troy Eaton, 60, dead inside a bait shop on the property. His father, Wayne Eaton, was still nearby and taken into custody, police said. Troy Eaton, a grandfather, was loved by his family and the community, according to his daughter Tiffany Eaton Cartledge. He worked hard to keep Lakeview Drive Tournament Lakes running in honor of his mother. “There was no faking or pretending with my daddy,” she wrote on Facebook. “He was as fair as the word can get and he loved with his whole heart. He was always such a busy Papa, but he never failed to show up for his grandchildren. He loved not only his family and his lakes, but he loved his community as well.” According to Channel 2 Action News, dozens of fisherman were there Friday night when Wayne Eaton left his home and walked toward the bait shop, located near the water in the 8000 block of Lakeview Drive. He then allegedly shot his son inside the shop. Police said the shooting was captured on surveillance video and witnessed by many people. A motive remains unclear. Eaton was booked into the Newton jail on charges of malice murder and possession of a firearm during the commission of or attempt to create certain crimes, according to online records. What happened to her father feels like a nightmare that she can’t wake up from, Tiffany Eaton Cartledge said. Police said the shooting

The Tuscaloosa County Sheriff's Office is investigating after a man was shot and killed early Saturday morning by a Tuscaloosa Police Department officer. The incident happened at the Whataburger on McFarland Boulevard around 1:30 a.m. In a press conference Saturday morning, Sgt. Josh Hastings from the Tuscaloosa County Sheriff's Office Criminal Investigations Division said police were responding to a trespassing call for a male suspect, who he identified as Joseph Driver. "At approximately 1:30 this morning, officers with the Tuscaloosa Police Department were called to the Whataburger on McFarland Boulevard in reference to a subject who was trespassing," Hastings said. "Upon their arrival, they made contact with that individual identified as Joseph Earl Driver, a white male, 36 years of age. As they were attempting to place him into custody, he pulled out a knife and cut one of the officers — at which time they discharged their firearms, striking him multiple times, and he was pronounced deceased at the scene. "The violent crimes unit was called out to assist in processing the scene," Hastings continued. "None of them were Tuscaloosa Police Department employees, due to the officers being from Tuscaloosa involved in the shooting. And both officers have been placed on administrative leave per policy at this time, so the investigation is still ongoing." Hastings said the officer who was cut sought medical attention and "is going to be fine."

A young child was among three people killed in a barrage of gunfire near a Birmingham park Saturday. The shots rang out shortly before 5:30 p.m. in the 1700 block of Indian Summer Drive on the city's east side. The shooting happened in or near the entrance to Echo Highlands Park in the Echo Highlands neighborhood, which is off Winewood Road. Officer Truman Fitzgerald said police initially received a 911 call about a wreck. When officers arrived on the scene, they found a sedan in front of a house next to the park. It appeared to have jumped a curb and come to a rest in front of the home. Police said the car was riddled with bullet holes. Officers found a man, a woman, and a young school-aged child inside the vehicle. They were a mother and her son, as well as the mother's boyfriend. Birmingham police on Sunday identified the victims as Landyn Brooks, 5, Arkia "Kia" Berry, 28, both of Center Point, and Eric Ashley Jr., 28, of Hoover. Berry was a hair stylist, and Landyn was set to begin kindergarten in the fall. All three were pronounced dead on the scene. "We believe some sort of interaction took place between the occupants of the victims' vehicle and the suspects' vehicle," Fitzgerald said. Witnesses told police they believe the shooter or shooters fled in another vehicle. The majority of the shell casings were in the parking area of the park.

Montgomery police are investigating a stabbing that left a man injured. Montgomery Police Dept. Maj. Saba Coleman told Action 8 News that at about 7:40PM last night, they were called to the 900 block of Goodwyn Drive. That is in the Gibbs Village public housing community just off of Air Base Boulevard. Coleman said they had received a call about a disturbance and a person cut. She said two people told officers there had been gunfire which had damaged a home and a car. At a hospital, Coleman said police found the man who had been stabbed. She described his injuries as non-life threatening. She says he was stabbed in the same area on Goodwyn Drive. No other information has been released.

A man is now dead after a shooting near the woods behind a gas station late Sunday night, according to Gwinnett County Police. It happened just after 9 p.m. when police were called to the area for a person shot call near a Shell gas station on 4840 Jimmy Carter Blvd. When police got on the scene, they found a man who had been shot multiple times. Authorities said officers tried lifesaving measures, but the man died. Gwinnett County Police Homicide investigators arrived on the scene, where they learned that a suspect had shot the victim. An 11Alive crew went to the scene shortly after the shooting and obtained surveillance footage from the gas station. The graphic footage shows moments leading up to the shooting. A man, who appears to be the victim, can be seen walking up to someone when another person who cannot be seen and appears to be behind a tree fires shots. The apparent victim then falls to the ground. The alleged shooter appears to emerge from behind the tree, firing more shots at the apparent victim. Law enforcement is interviewing possible witnesses and gathering evidence to learn more about what happened.

A Selma firefighter is behind bars, accused in the weekend shooting death of another man. Benjamin Jackie, 27, is charged with murder, Police Chief Kenta Fulford announced Monday. Selma police were dispatched at 9:36 p.m. Sunday to a report of someone shot in the 2100 block of Minter Avenue. Fulford said they arrived to find a man on the ground with multiple gunshot wounds. He was taken to the hospital where he later died. The victim's identity has not yet been released.

A Sheffield police officer has been arrested on domestic violence charges after an altercation with another Sheffield officer, with whom she is reportedly in a relationship. Colbert County Sheriff Eric Balentine said Sheffield police were called to a reported incident at around 10:52 p.m. Sunday in the 1100 block of Nashville Avenue in Sheffield. Once officers learned the incident involved two members of Sheffield's police force, the Colbert County Sheriff's Office was contacted. Kelsey Quesenberry, 26, has been charged with third degree domestic violence, endangering the welfare of a child, and interference with a domestic violence emergency call. She is being held in the Franklin County Jail on $5,000 bond, Balentine said. The other person was transported to Helen Keller Hospital for treatment. The child endangerment charge came because Quesenberry left at least two children unattended in the apartment, Balentine said. The Colbert County DHR was notified, and the children were removed from the home, according to authorities. Quesenberry has been suspended pending an investigation.

A drive-by shooting at an adult birthday party in Birmingham left four people dead and nine others injured. The deadly shooting happened about six hours after three people – including a young boy – were killed on the city’s eastside. Birmingham police on Sunday identified the slain victims as Angela Weatherspoon, 56, of Center Point, Markeisha Gettings, 42, of Birmingham, Stevie McGhee, 39, of Birmingham, and Lerandus Anderson, 24, of Center Point. A large crowd was gathered at a social club in the 3400 block of 27th Street for the private party when gunfire erupted just after 11 p.m. Saturday. It was the second incident of multiple homicides in Birmingham in a span of less than six hours Saturday. At about 5:30 p.m., three people were found shot to death in a separate incident. Birmingham police Deputy Chief Rodarius Mauldin said police quickly began receiving calls of multiple shots fired from the birthday party. When officers arrived, they put out a max-emergency call for backup because of the large number of people gathered there. He described the scene as chaotic. McGhee was found shot outside of the event venue. Weatherspoon and Gettings were found shot inside the club. All three were pronounced dead on the scene. Multiple victims began showing up at area hospitals with gunshot wounds, Mauldin said. Anderson was among those, and was pronounced dead at the hospital. Police initially said nine others were wounded, but updated that number Sunday to 10. “It’s still a fluid situation,” he said. Mauldin said the deadly shots were fired from a vehicle. It wasn’t immediately clear whether there was more than one shooter. “We’re unsure what led to the incident and whether someone was targeted,” Mauldin said.

A 16-year-old boy was walking along a busy Cobb County road when he was struck and killed by a vehicle late Saturday night, officials said. The teen was in the right lane of Powder Springs Street at the intersection with Cunningham Road around 11 p.m. when he was struck, according to Cobb police. The area is not far from Dobbins Air Reserve base. The boy was declared dead at the scene. His name was not released. Investigators believe that a red Hyundai Sante Fe hit the teen and then fled, but they do not know the identity of the driver, officials said. The identity of the teen was also not released.

A teenager was killed Sunday in a shooting that left three other people hospitalized, including the gunman, according to South Carolina officials. Isis Lorena Johnson, a 19-year-old Goose Creek resident, died from injuries she suffered in the shooting, Berkeley County Coroner Darnell Hartwell said in a news release. At about noon, the coroner's office responded to a shooting on Underwood Lane in Goose Creek, according to the release. That's the Passage Apartments complex in South Carolina's Lowcountry, about 23 miles from Charleston. Johnson died at the scene, and her death was called a homicide, Hartwell said. The Goose Creek Police Department said when officers responded to the apartment complex they found three females — including Johnson — who had been shot. The other victims, a 16- and 20-year-old, were taken to area hospitals, according to police. While at the apartment complex officers learned a fourth person, an 18-year-old man, was also injured and had left the scene, according to police. He was found when Berkeley County Sheriff's Office deputies pulled over the vehicle that the man was driving as it entered the Roper St. Francis Berkeley hospital's campus, police said. That's about a mile from the apartment complex. Investigators determined that the man shot the females before turning the gun on himself, according to police. The three female victims were either in a vehicle or attempting to enter a vehicle when the man, called a relative, approached and shot the young women, police said. The man then shot himself and suffered what police called "a non-life-threatening injury." The man is in custody and will be taken to the Berkeley County Detention Center when he's released from the hospital, police said. There was no word on a motive for the

A woman and a juvenile female have been injured in a shooting in Montgomery. Maj. Saba Coleman of the Montgomery Police Department told Action 8 News that officers were called to two hospitals this morning at about 12:10AM. Coleman says the woman had a non-life threatening gunshot wound, but the juvenile female's injuries were life-threatening. She says the shooting happened in the 2400 block of East South Boulevard. That is between the intersections of McGehee Road and Woodley Road. No other information has been released.

[8/2/2024] One man was killed and two were injured in a shooting in Jackson on July 14, according to a Georgia Bureau of Investigation press release. The Butts County Sheriff's Office responded to a shooting during an event at a location on Peoples Road at approximately 1 a.m. Jason Maughon, 44, had been shot and was taken to a local hospital and pronounced dead. Two other individuals were shot and received non-life-threatening injuries. According to Maughon's father, Dan Maughon, the event where the shooting took place was a wedding. No arrests have been made, the GBI says.

Montgomery police are investigating a hit-and-run wreck involving two vehicles that left one person dead and two others hurt. Police say at about 1:37 this morning, they were called to the 3500 block of Carter Hill Road, which is near the Midtown YMCA. That's where they found a Dodge Charger. The driver, 23-year-old Jamauri Tyler of Montgomery, was found dead. Both of his passengers were taken to a hospital with what are believed to be non-life threatening injuries. Police say the driver of the second vehicle involved had driven off before officers arrived.

Montgomery police have launched a death investigation after a fatal stabbing. Police say 21-year-old Tiana Dye of Montgomery was found stabbed at about 10:43 this morning in the 400 block of Clanton Avenue. That location is just off South Hull Street, not far from the Church of the Ascension and Trinity Presbyterian Church. Police say Dye was taken to a hospital where she was later pronounced dead. No other information has been released. This is the second stabbing in the city in the past 24 hours. A man was stabbed Saturday night on Goodwyn Drive.

The Rockdale County Sheriff's Office is investigating after a woman was found dead in a driveway on Sunday afternoon. According to the sheriff's office, deputies responded to a call of a woman screaming, and gunshots fired on Griffin Mountain Road shortly before 1:30 p.m. When they arrived, deputies found a woman dead lying in the driveway of a residence. A suspect in connection with this incident is currently in custody at the Rockdale County Sheriff's Office Jail. However, the names of the victim and the suspect are currently being withheld until next of kin is notified, the sheriff's office said. According to the sheriff's office, this is still an ongoing investigation.

[7/26/2024] The Richland County Sheriff's Department has charged two men with attempting to set fire to a Hopkins home with the victim inside. Following their arrests, both Travis Tucker and Christian Irick were found to have stolen guns, some of them modified to become fully automatic, according to the sheriff's department. At the time of his arrest, Irick had been released on a $125,000 bond following charges of double murder at an apartment complex on Willow Oak Drive in Columbia. Around 5:30 p.m. July 14, deputies responded to the 200 block of Country Haven Road in Hopkins following a report of arson. The homeowner told deputies that Irick and Tucker had fled the scene after Tucker allegedly dumped gasoline under a house and attempted to ignite it while the victim was inside, according to a statement released by deputies. Tucker, 18, was arrested four days later and served the warrant for second degree arson. During his arrest, deputies say he was in possession of a gun stolen from Richland County. The weapon had been modified with an extended magazine and a Glock switch, according to the press release. A Glock switch enables the semiautomatic handgun to function as an automatic weapon. On Thursday morning, investigators with the Richland County Sheriff's Department, with assistance from the Florence County Sheriff's Office, located Irick, 22, at his family's home in Florence. "Following the execution of a search warrant at the home, investigators located evidence related to the initial incident on July 14, 2024. Additionally, investigators located a large amount of narcotics and two stolen firearms," according to the statement released by the Richland County Sheriff's Department. Deputies found two guns modified with Glock switches inside of the home. One of these weapons was found in the trunk of a vehicle parked in the driveway. Authorities are on the scene of a triple shooting in eastern Jefferson County. The shooting happened shortly after 7 p.m. in the 2400 block of Fifth Street N.W. in the Center Point area. Jefferson County sheriff's spokesman Henry Irby said the victims are believed to be two adult males and a teen girl. Their ages have not yet been confirmed he said. All three were taken to UAB Hospital. Their conditions were not immediately known.

A man was shot during an argument over a basketball that kept hitting his grill late Sunday night, according to officials. Atlanta officers were called to an Edgewood home in the 1500 block of Hardee Street around 11:30 p.m. The area is next to the Edgewood Community Learning Garden. Police said the victim, a 66-year-old man, had been shot in the abdomen and was rushed to a hospital. His condition was not released. Investigators believe the man got into a fight with the suspect when the basketball kept landing within the victim's property and striking his barbecue grill, officials said. The suspect was not publicly identified. No other details have been released by police.

An adolescent has been criminally charged in a fire that was set earlier this week at a Helena grocery store. Helena firefighters responded Monday to a fire at Publix on Highway 17. They arrived to find a fire in the bathroom that had reached the ceiling and activated the store's fire suppression system, causing significant damage, said Helena police Chief Brad Flynn. Firefighters immediately determine the blaze had been intentionally set. Police quickly launched a criminal investigation. Within an hour, Flynn said, detectives had identified an 11-year-old as a person of interest, who was taken into custody at an Alabaster home. The child, who police are not identifying, is charged with first-degree arson in Shelby County juvenile court.

A little over a week after a pregnant Gwinnett County teenager was found dead in a wooded area by family members, officials have charged her ex-boyfriend with murder. Jesus Monroy, 20, is accused of killing 16-year-old Mia Campos, who was seven months pregnant and eagerly preparing for her baby shower when she was found July 15, her family told Univision Atlanta. The baby would have been named Sebastian. "She was just lying there ... already cold," her mother, Miriam Zarate, said of how they found Mia's body in a wooded area near the 3600 block of Stephens Road near Loganville. "I touched her belly, trying to, hoping that maybe her baby would still be alive, but too much time had passed." Police officers could not determine the teen's manner of death at the scene, but the following day, the Gwinnett Medical Examiner's Office conducted an autopsy and ruled her death a homicide. On July 17, Monroy was arrested and accused of making false statements to an officer, police said. On Tuesday afternoon, he was additionally charged with malice murder, felony murder, feticide and aggravated assault. He remains in the Gwinnett jail without bond, online records show. A day before she was found, Mia's family members told police she left the house with an unknown person. After she didn't come home, they used a cellphone app to track her location to Stephens Road. Detectives and investigators from the medical examiner's office gathered evidence and spoke to witnesses at the scene, according to police. Authorities have not shared her cause of death. Zarate described Mia as a sweet, innocent girl who was excited to see her baby's smile, according to Univision. At the time, Zarate was shocked Monroy had been arrested. "I don't understand because he Montgomery police are searching for suspects after a man was robbed inside his own home. Montgomery police Maj. Saba Coleman told Action 8 News that the robbery happened at about 8:24PM Monday at a home in the 500 block of Morningview Drive, which is near Federal Drive. The homeowner said two suspects came into his home, pulled out a gun and demanded property and money before running away. He was not hurt. No other information has been released.

Alexander City police are investigating a man's shooting death. Police Sgt. Drew Machen said officers were called to the 4000 block of Washington Street last night at about 9:40PM. The location is just off U.S. Highway 280. That's where officers found 40-year-old Stephen Huntley with a gunshot wound to the upper torso. He was taken to Russell Medical Center where he was pronounced dead on arrival. Police have now launched a homicide investigation. No other information has been released.

Police are investigating after a man who had been shot multiple times flagged down officers near the Candler Park MARTA station Tuesday afternoon. MARTA police say the man was not shot at the DeKalb Avenue station but was able to make it there to receive medical treatment. The Atlanta Police Department has since taken over the investigation since it occurred at a separate location. The victim was transported to the hospital alert, conscious and breathing, police said. The location of the shooting and possible suspects are unknown at this time.

Several businesses in downtown Tucker were targeted by burglars recently. Decaturish reported that business owners found shattered windows and missing cash registers when they went in to work Tuesday morning. Multiple businesses on Main Street including Munster Cravings, Village Burger, Corner Cup and Las Colinas were burglarized, Decaturish reported. DeKalb Police officials confirmed the burglaries to both Decaturish and Atlanta News First but offered few details. Decaturish reported it appears the suspects broke business windows during the burglaries. A sign on the door at Village Burger advised customers to mind the broken glass. Casandra Hughlett, floor manager at Munster Cravings, said the suspects didn't get much for their trouble. "We don't necessarily keep cash in our register," Hughlett, said. She said she had heard the suspects had been arrested — which Decaturish reported it also heard from the owner of Corner Cup — but police said Tuesday there had been no arrests. "We have not yet made any arrests," a spokesperson for the police department said. "The investigation is ongoing, so I do not have much I can release at this time. I will be following up over the next few days for updates and will send what I can as long as it doesn't interfere with the investigation."

Police are investigating after a teenager was shot and critically hurt in Atlanta's Vine City neighborhood on Tuesday afternoon. According to the Atlanta Police Department, officers responded to the area of Vine Street NW and Magnolia Street NW in reference to a person shot. When officers arrived, they found an 18-year-old male who had been shot. He was sent to the hospital and is in critical condition, police said. This is an active investigation, police said. 11Alive has a crew at the scene to obtain more information.

A Decatur man is facing multiple charges after police say he broke into a woman's house, grabbed her child and ran into the home's bathroom until authorities arrived. Melvin Nickson Jr., 41, has been charged with first degree kidnapping, unlawful imprisonment and criminal mischief. According to court documents, the incident happened at a home on Lamon Drive in Trinity Wednesday morning. A woman told authorities she woke up Wednesday to find Nickson inside her house. When she began "panicking in fear," he grabbed her child and ran to the nearest bathroom and shut the door, locking it. She then contacted police, a report stated. When an officer arrived, he talked to Nickson until the man opened the bathroom door and the child ran to the mother. Nickson was then taken into custody. Authorities said they later discovered a gate to the residence was broken. He is being held in the Morgan County Jail without bond awaiting a hearing.

An overnight shooting in Montgomery left one man dead and another injured. Police and fire medics were dispatched at 12:35 a.m. Tuesday to a report of people shot in the 3200 block of Covered Bridge Road. One man was dead on the scene, and another was taken to the hospital with non-life-threatening injuries. Police Maj. Saba Coleman identified the slain victim as Kavone Mosquera. He was 20. No arrests have been announced and no additional information surrounding the shooting has been released.

While serving an arrest warrant in Banks County on Tuesday, deputies from a different county shot and killed two people, according to the GBI. Forsyth County Sheriff's Office deputies went to a home on Cedar Drive, south of Gainesville Highway and U.S. 23, around 9:30 a.m. and entered the home shortly after 11 a.m. The sheriff's office confirmed they were serving a felony arrest warrant to a sex offender who had violated the conditions of his probation. Officials did not say what happened before deputies entered the home. "During the incident, deputies shot two people," the GBI said, adding that they both died at the scene. No deputies were injured. The names of those killed were not released. The Banks sheriff's office was at the scene to provide support but said they were not "directly" involved in the incident. The GBI will conduct an independent investigation into the shooting and subsequently submit its findings to the Banks District Attorney's Office. The Forsyth sheriff's office will also conduct an internal investigation into the incident.

A man repossessing a vehicle was followed and fired upon in Birmingham Tuesday afternoon. The repo man was shot, but not seriously injured. South Precinct officers responded shortly before 1:30 p.m. to a Shot Spotter alert at 50th Street and Richard Arrington Jr. Boulevard North. They arrived to find at least 21 shell casings in the parking lot of a Shell gas station, and possibly a few rifle rounds. Minutes later, said Sgt. LaQuitta Wade, West Precinct officers were dispatched to a call of a person shot at Birmingham Fire Station 16 on Avenue I in Ensley. The victim was taken to the hospital with non-life-threatening injuries. Wade said the man had repossessed a vehicle from the 4600 block of 12th Avenue North, which is just blocks from the Shell. As he drove away in the repossessed vehicle, he was followed, cornered and fired upon, according to police radio communications. Wade said an undisclosed number of people have been detained for question. One man was in handcuffs nearby the location where the car was repossessed, but his potential role was not yet clear. The investigation is ongoing.

Two Montgomery men have been arrested in Mobile County for being in possession of a stolen vehicle and weapons. Mobile County Sheriff Paul Burch tells Action 8 News that deputies conducted a traffic stop Wednesday on I-10 near the Alabama Welcome Center. As a deputy was approaching the vehicle, Burch said the driver appeared to be attempting to flee while the passenger was reaching towards the floorboard. With the assistance of additional deputies, the driver, 28-year-old Lemarco Burkett and the passenger, 19-year-old Wilvontae Tallie was taken into custody. Burch said Burkett and Tallie were in a 2019 Chevrolet Camaro reported stolen in Texas. Officials say on the floorboard to the vehicle was a short-barreled AR-15 loaded with the safety off. "This traffic stop could have been a very dangerous situation because the AR-15 was loaded with the safety off and ready to use," says Sheriff Burch. "Our deputies did a great job on this traffic stop. We recovered a stolen vehicle, arrested two people who most likely stole it, seized an illegal AR-15 and most importantly, no one was hurt during the process". Burkett is charged with receiving stolen property first degree and possession of a firearm. Tallie is charged with possession of a firearm.

Chapel Hill police are investigating the fatal shooting of a man early Wednesday morning at an apartment complex off Martin Luther King Jr. Boulevard. Officers responding to a call at 1:04 a.m. found a man with gunshot wounds outside the buildings near 123 Ashley Forest Road, north of downtown, according to a news release. He was taken to UNC Hospitals, where he died, police said. The shooting at the Ashley Forest Apartments complex is an "isolated incident," they said, and investigators are trying to identify a suspect and notify the victim's family. Additional information will be released when it becomes available, police said.

A man was found shot to death early Wednesday inside his apartment. North Precinct officers just after 1:30 a.m. responded to a Shot Spotter notification in the 800 block of Jasper Road. The gunfire detection system registered 10 rounds fired there, which is off Eighth Avenue West in the area of College Hills. Sgt. LaQuitta Wade said when police arrived at that location they did not see anything amiss or anyone in need of help. Then, at 1:51 a.m., police received a call of a person shot. “When officers arrived to that location, which was inside of a residence, they observed an adult may lying unresponsive on floor, suffering from an apparent gunshot wound,” Wade said. Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service arrived on the scene and pronounced the victim dead. His friends and family quickly arrived, desperately trying to figure out what happened to the man they said didn’t bother anybody. The preliminary investigation indicates the victim was in the kitchen when the shooter or shooters opened fire through the back door of the first-floor apartment. The victim’s roommate was inside his own room when he heard shots fired. “The roommate stated that he was inside of his room and did not see anything,” Wade said, “yet he heard something that sounded like fireworks and began to look around his apartment and noticed the victim lying unresponsive on the floor.” One person was detained for questioning. That person, Wade said, is not the roommate.

Police have launched a homicide investigation Wednesday morning in an area of northwest Atlanta. A person shot call was made at 4:28 a.m. Atlanta police say officers responded and found one person shot and killed on the 1000 block of Cato Street NW near Hollywood Road. An exchange of gunfire Wednesday morning in Tuscaloosa left one person wounded and four charged, including two juveniles. Tuscaloosa police responded about 9 a.m. to the area of Kaulton Road on a report of a shooting. They arrived to find one person who had sustained a non-life-threatening wound. Officers also located a vehicle with several suspects inside, said Tuscaloosa Violent Crimes Unit Capt. Jack Kennedy. The investigation showed that two males approach a residence and fired on a young man who was standing outside. That man then returned fired. Several nearby houses were also struck by bullets. “The motive for the shooting is still under investigation, but perceived arguments on social media may have been a factor,” Kennedy said. Responding officers and dispatchers did an excellent job of receiving and communicating information to other responding units, which resulted in the suspects being observed trying to flee the area in a vehicle. Both suspects were stopped and held for investigators. One juvenile is charged with attempted murder and several counts of discharging a weapon into an occupied dwelling and a vehicle. He was charged as an adult and taken to the Tuscaloosa County Jail. His name is not being released by authorities because of his age. A second juvenile is charged with certain persons prohibited to possess a pistol. He was placed in juvenile detention. His name was also withheld.

A South Carolina man was killed Wednesday in a shooting and a search is underway for the person who pulled the trigger, according to Aiken County officials. James L. Wright Jr., a 27-year-old North Augusta resident, died at the scene, Aiken County Coroner Darryl Ables said. Wright was shot at least one time, and an autopsy will be performed in Newberry, according to Ables. Witnesses found Wright's body was found on the ground between two buildings on Edgefield Road in North Augusta, according to the Aiken County Sheriff's Office. At about 3:15 p.m., deputies responded to a call about a shooting where the caller said they heard gunfire while inside a store, the sheriff's office said. Aiken County EMS also responded, and declared Wright dead about 30 minutes later, officials said. No other injuries were reported. There was no word on a shooter, or shooters, or a motive for the gunfire. No arrests have been reported by the sheriff's office, which continues to investigate the shooting, along with the coroner's office and the North Augusta Department of Public Safety.

[7/26/2024] Huntsville police have charged a man with first degree assault after they say he struck a Madison County deputy's vehicle, injuring him while he was involved in traffic control earlier this month. Bul Bior Ajan, 26, was arrested July 20. He is being held in the Madison County Jail on $30,000 bond. Deputy Josh Moseley was performing a traffic detail on Interstate 565, according to police. He was stationary with emergency lights activated when police say Ajan failed to move over to the next lane, and his vehicle struck Moseley's from behind. The incident happened July 17 at about 9:13 p.m. According to the Madison County Sheriff's Office, Moseley sustained multiple serious injuries throughout his body, requiring several surgeries since the incident. He was released from Huntsville Hospital Thursday. "I am deeply grateful for the outpouring of kindness and concern from my department, citizens of Madison County, and beyond," Moseley said in a statement released through the sheriff's office. "The thoughts, prayers, and well-wishes have been a beacon of hope and inspiration throughout my recovery. I am truly humbled by the generosity and compassion of our community. Rocket City Federal Credit Union has established the "Detective Josh Moseley Fund" account to aid in his recovery.

Atlanta's Peachtree Hills neighborhood. Police confirmed that multiple cars were broken into in the area around 350 Peachtree Hills Circle NE., adding the investigation into the incidents is active and ongoing. Brandy Doty said she woke up to the news Thursday morning. "The lady sitting at the picnic table, one of my neighbors, and she is visibly upset. She goes, 'Your car window's busted out,'" Doty recalled, saying she was in disbelief. "I'm like, 'It what?' I come out here, every car window was busted out, and her husband's car was gone." Doty described the scene as "mayhem," adding "everything was destroyed." She said she moved to this neighborhood back in December. "It's really quiet," Doty said. "It's safe, or so I thought." Doty walked us to her car and opened the door as leftover pieces of glass fell from a window. "They pulled everything out of the glove box, the console," Doty said, as she pointed to her ransacked car. The complex next to Doty's was also hit. Staff told 11Alive the security camera caught a group of five or six people breaking into more than a dozen cars on the property. "It makes you feel unsafe to a bit. A lot of people try to target this area in Buckhead because they think it's expensive to live here and people have money, but I'm a struggling single mom," Doty said. "(The damage) doesn't meet the cost of my deductible, so I'm going to have to come out of pocket for it." Even though Doty said the person or people stole some of her stuff, including half a case of water bottles she keeps in the back seat to pass out to people experiencing homelessness, she remains positive. "I know what dark days are. I've looked the devil eye to eye, and I've made it out," the single mom said. "It doesn't matter what I go through,

As flames engulfed a Gwinnett County home Saturday night, neighbors said they saw someone running through their yard “after obviously setting the home on fire using gas cans,” authorities said. According to Gwinnett fire officials, that someone is the grandson of the people who lived in the burned house. The neighbor quickly intercepted him as he jumped a fence and detained him until police arrived, the fire department said. Only one person had a minor medical complaint, which did not require hospitalization. The suspect’s name and age have not been released, and officials have not specified what charges are pending. Firefighters were called to the home in the 3000 block of Iron Gate Court not far from Lawrenceville just before 9 p.m. and found heavy flames coming from the garage and the back of the house, authorities said. Photos showed a column of fire billowing from the garage area. By the time crews arrived, three adults had already evacuated thanks to their neighbors, who alerted them to the flames, officials said. The home had no working fire alarms, and there was extensive fire damage throughout the structure, according to the fire department. Investigators later determined that the fire “originated on the ground level in the back corner room,” authorities said. The cause has been ruled as an intentionally set fire.

A man was shot to death Saturday afternoon in a gas station outside two busy east Birmingham shopping areas. Birmingham police Saturday night identified the slain man as Richard Allen Judkins. He was 54 and lived in Birmingham. About 4:45 p.m, a man walked up to a sergeant at the East Precinct and said he had just shot someone nearby, at the Murphy USA outside Walmart on Roebuck Plaza Drive. Police rushed to the gas station and found Judkins unresponsive on the floor. Fire medics pronounced him dead on the scene. Sgt. LaQuitta Wade said police had received calls at 4:44 p.m. of an irate customer inside the store. Officers were being dispatched when the shooter showed up at the precinct. Multiple calls then started coming in reporting a physical altercation followed by shots fired in the gas station. The gunfire shattered the glass on the store's door. Wade said Judkins was at patron of the store, and was the customer who became irate. The man who fired the fatal shots is being questioned. Wade did not say if he works at the business. "As we've stated before, people need to find some other way to resolve conflict before resorting to gun violence and taken a loved one from their family," Wade said. There were other customers in the store at the time, but nobody else was injured.

A man has died after being found shot inside a vehicle that crashed into an Oakwood home over the weekend, authorities said Sunday. Oakwood police were called around 4:45 p.m. Saturday to a shooting in progress in the 5300 block of Aster Place in the Prescott community, which is comprised of single-family home and townhouses. When officers arrived, they found a vehicle had crashed into the back of a residence on Wild Berry Court, a nearby road. Officers approached the car and found a man in the driver's seat suffering from several gunshot wounds. He was taken to Gainesville's Northeast Georgia Medical Center, where he died from his injuries. While Oakwood police were at the vehicle, Hall County deputies and Flowery Branch police officers responded to help with an injured person at the address of the original call on Aster Place. According to investigators, that injured man, identified as 38-year-old Jeremy Gambrel, was detained at the scene and later arrested. Gambrel is facing charges of murder, aggravated assault with intent to murder, and possession of a firearm during the commission of a felony, officials said. A motive is unclear, and police did not share additional details about the shooting. "This is an open and ongoing investigation however there is no threat to the public associated with this incident," police said.

Atlanta Police are investigating an overnight shooting that left two people injured on Dorsey Street. Officers said they received word of the incident just after 11:00 p.m. Once on the scene, they said they found a 40-year-old woman with a gunshot wound and a 67-year-old man who had received "a possible graze injury." According to a release from authorities, the female victim was transported to a hospital by ambulance. At this time, officers believe the victims were simply standing in front of a house on the street when an unknown suspect started firing shots in their direction from a vehicle. Atlanta Police have not provided any word on a suspect.

[8/14/2024] A South Carolina woman was arrested after her fiancé had been charged with murder when officers discovered something hidden inside of her body, according to the Florence Police Department. Lynette Dawn King, a 41-year-old Florence resident, had a dispenser filled with drugs inside of her body when she was taken into custody in connection to the murder charge. The drugs were methamphetamine and fentanyl, an arrest warrant shows. The series of events began July 21, when Idris Cooper was killed at Colonial Gardens apartment complex. The Florence County Coroner's Office said the 34-year-old Cooper was a shooting victim, WBTW reported. On July 22, members of the Florence Police Department and Florence County Sheriff's Office went to serve Matthew Barry with an arrest warrant, saying he was charged with murder, according to the South Carolina Law Enforcement Division. But Barry was armed and barricaded himself inside his apartment in the Brittany Place complex, leading to an exchange of gunfire where Barry was shot by officers and died at the scene, SLED said. While SLED was investigating Barry's shooting, Florence police continued to investigate Cooper's death. Police said that King was with Barry, her fiancé, at the time of the Cooper's death, and had knowledge of the shooting. She was arrested Aug. 7, when King was charged with accessory/accessory after the fact to murder. King was taken to the Florence County Detention Center where she was given a body scan, an arrest warrant said. The scan revealed a foreign object inside of King's body and she was taken from the jail to a hospital for medical treatment, according to the arrest warrant. At the hospital, King removed the dispenser and ingested some of the drugs that

Two men died and one was wounded in a shooting early Sunday morning at a Mobile residence operating as an Airbnb. [8/14/2024] Lexington County deputies have charged a man with murdering a man whose body was found inside a burning home last month, according to a news release. Edward Leroy Smith, 39, of Winnsboro was taken into custody Tuesday night by the Lexington County Sheriff’s Department on a murder charge stemming from the stabbing death of Caldwell Melton Motley Jr., the news release said. Smith is also charged with attempted murder in the stabbing of a man who was found injured inside a detached garage beside the home that burned July 23 in the 200 block of Oak Ridge Lane. Deputies are also searching for another man, Donovan Ryan Holman, 33, of Lexington, who is suspected of being connected to the case, according to Lexington County Sheriff Jay Koon. The sheriff’s department did not release what the specific charges against Holman are. Detectives determined that Smith stabbed Motley and the other man with an “edged object,” Koon said in the news release. “Victim and witness interviews, evidence and electronic data indicate Smith was at the Oak Ridge Lane scene shortly before a 911 call was made in reference to smoke coming from the house,” Koon said. Smith is being held in the Lexington County Detention Center after a magistrate judge denied him bond Wednesday morning.

A 14-year-old boy is in serious condition and a 28-year-old woman is also hospitalized after a shooting incident in Clayton early Tuesday morning. Officers responded around 3 a.m. to a gunshot-victim call near Pond Street and Durham streets, according to the Clayton Police Department. They found the 14-year-old, who had been shot in the chest, the department said in a news release. He was taken to WakeMed Raleigh Campus, where he was in serious condition Tuesday afternoon. They responded to another gunshot-victim call near Joyner Street afterward and found a 28-year-old Raleigh woman who had been shot in the hip, according to the release. She was also taken to WakeMed Raleigh. The shootings appeared to have occurred at a home on the 900 block of Pond Street, according to the release. Clayton Police said this does not appear to be a random incident. WRAL reported the boy, a Clayton Middle School student, was in the intensive care unit, according to his uncle, and that the woman was shot in the hip.

[12/7/2024] A man has been arrested for the death of his infant daughter, a South Carolina sheriff announced. Timothy Jerome Staggers Jr., 21, was charged with homicide by child abuse by the Kershaw County Sheriff’s Office. On July 25, Staggers brought his unresponsive, two-month-old daughter to the Kershaw Health emergency room in Camden. She later died from her injuries. The sheriff’s office, the Kershaw County coroner and the child fatality unit of the South Carolina Law Enforcement Division were called to investigate, officials said. An autopsy was performed the next day. A final report from the autopsy was completed Nov. 25, and all evidence was discussed with the Fifth Circuit Solicitor’s Office, the sheriff’s office said. An arrest warrant was obtained on Monday, and Staggers was arrested Wednesday. “Kershaw County mourns the loss of a sweet innocent baby girl. She did not live long enough to say her first word,” Sheriff Lee Boan said in a news release. “Her autopsy is the only way she can speak to us now. We are listening and responding the best way we can by seeking justice for her.”

Atlanta police are investigating a deadly shooting at a Buckhead gas station Thursday. Officers were called to a Chevron at Piedmont Road and Morosgo Drive around 2:15 a.m. There, they found an unresponsive man who had been shot. Investigators believe the man had been in a “dispute” with a security guard, which is what led to the shooting. Police did not specify who fired the shots or if anyone would face charges. Crime scene investigators were still processing the scene at 5 a.m. A tarp was erected in front of the convenience store as Fulton County Medical Examiner’s Office investigators documented the injuries to the victim. The scene was cleared by 6 a.m. A witness at the scene told Channel 2 Action News that several shots were fired. “I heard it,” Reggie Prudent told the news station. “I’m like, ‘Dang, that was a lot of shots!’ Like, at least six shots. At least. I’m like, ‘Woah, who is shooting that much? If they’re shooting, it’s probably in the air. Let me — bullets don’t have eyes, so let me get away from here.’”

A 75-year-old man in the South Georgia town of Townsend was injured Friday morning after he exchanged gunfire with McIntosh County deputies and was shot, authorities said. The McIntosh sheriff's office asked the GBI to conduct an independent investigation into the shooting of Allen Barrett at his home on Woodstork Way NE, the state agency said. No law enforcement officers were injured during the incident. Townsend is an unincorporated community about an hour south of Savannah. The area is known as the home of the U.S. Marine Corps' Townsend Bombing Range, a facility used by all branches of the military that spans nearly 34,000 acres. The USMC describes the facility as the "East Coast's premier air-to-ground training range." The county, McIntosh, has a population just shy of 11,000. Barrett called 911 around 5:20 a.m. and made suicidal comments while speaking to the dispatcher, the GBI said. The dispatcher sent deputies out to the property to check on Barrett. When deputies arrived at the house, they found Barrett sitting on the porch with a gun, according to the GBI. They began negotiating with Barrett, but as they talked, the 75-year-old brandished his weapon and fired at the deputies, the GBI said. A deputy returned fire, hitting Barrett. Barrett was taken to the hospital and his condition is considered stable, the GBI said. The state agency will conduct an independent investigation of the shooting turn over its results to the Atlantic Judicial Circuit District Attorney's Office for review, and the DA will determine if any charges should be filed. This is the 45th shooting involving law enforcement the GBI has investigated in the state this year.

"When the victim fell to the ground, the customer grabbed a drill set box and ran out of the store." The employee, who suffered serious injuries, was in stable condition Wednesday, according to the release.

An argument between friends in the parking lot of a downtown Tuscaloosa hotel left one man dead and another in jail. Tuscaloosa police at 9:10 p.m. Saturday were called to the parking lot of Embassy Suites at 2410 University Boulevard on a report of a shooting. When they arrived, they found Howell Booth Holland III, 21, of Fayette, dead on the scene, said Tuscaloosa Violent Crimes Unit Capt. Jack Kennedy. Kennedy said the suspect – 18-year-old Jackson Luke Overton of Winfield – and multiple witnesses were interviewed by investigators. Detectives learned that all involved were visiting downtown clubs and bars in Tuscaloosa and had parked their vehicle in the Embassy Suites parking lot. None of those involved were staying at the hotel, Kennedy said. Holland and Overton got into an argument. Kennedy said Overton retrieved a gun from his vehicle and shot Holland one time. "The shooting was witnessed by multiple people," Kennedy said. Overton is charged with murder. He was booked into the Tuscaloosa County Jail early Sunday and remains held without bond pending an Aniah's Law hearing.

A 62-year-old man was killed in a weekend shooting in Bessemer. The Jefferson County Coroner's Office identified the victim as Lee Curtis Tate. He lived in Bessemer. The shooting happened at 9:45 p.m. Saturday in the 2800 block of Dartmouth Avenue. That location is a business where multiple people were hanging out in the parking lot. Det. Justin Burmeister said police were dispatched to the location on a report of a person shot. Bessemer Fire and Rescue pronounced Tate dead on the scene at 10:10 p.m. Burmeister said there were multiple witnesses present during the shooting but many fled after the shooting happened. There was some type of altercation between the victim and an unknown suspect before the fatal shots were fired. No arrests have been made. Tate is Bessemer's sixth homicide this year. In all of Jefferson County there have been 118 homicides, including the five in Bessemer.

A 21-year-old man is in jail after authorities say he assaulted a security guard in downtown Birmingham and was then shot by the guard. The shooting happened at 11:16 p.m. Saturday in the 700 block of Richard Arrington Jr. Boulevard. Jefferson County sheriff's deputies and Birmingham police both responded to the location and Birmingham officers had secured the scene when deputies arrived. A man was found with a gunshot wound to the upper body. He was taken to UAB Hospital with non-life-threatening injuries, and now is in jail. Sheriff's spokesman Henry Irby said a member of the Jefferson County Courthouse Security Team encountered the man in the parking area of the 2121 Building and followed him to the rear of the parking garage and into an alley. A verbal altercation ensued, followed by a physical assault, Irby said. The security guard, who had sustained injuries to his face, then fired a shot, striking Ty Austin Bell, who Irby said is a transient. Bell was under guard at UAB Hospital until he was released and booked into the Jefferson County Jail at 6:33 a.m. Sunday. He is charged with second-degree assault. His bond is set at $10,000.

Troy police have made an arrest in the shooting of a 17-year-old male. Police say they've arrested 36-year-old Demetrius Flowers of Troy and have charged him with attempted murder. Police were called to the scene of the shooting in the 100 block of Cedar Drive at 1:25AM on July 28. Officers say the teenager was shot two times in the back. He was taken to Troy Regional Medical Center and then transferred to a Montgomery hospital for treatment. Police say his injuries are not life-threatening. Flowers is being held on a $75,000 bond in the Pike County Jail.

A 69-year-old man was wounded in an "unprovoked" stabbing in southwest Atlanta early Sunday morning, police said. Atlanta police said they responded to a person stabbed outside a shopping center on the 3000 block of Headland Drive SW around 2:10 a.m. When they arrived, they reportedly found a 69-year-old man who "sustained an apparent stab wound to his abdomen." The victim was alert, conscious and breathing, and was taken to the hospital for treatment. Police said the man was sitting outside using his cellphone when a "male suspect" approached him and stabbed him "in an unprovoked assault." The suspect has not been identified. The investigation is ongoing.

A male was shot Sunday night at a Walmart in Columbia, according to the Richland County Sheriff's Department. At about 9 p.m., deputies responded to reports of a possible shooting at the Walmart Supercenter on Killian Road, the sheriff's department told The State Monday. Deputies found a male victim, who suffered non-life-threatening injuries to his forearm, according to the sheriff's department. Further information on the victim's condition was not available. No other injuries were reported. It was not clear if the shooting happened inside of the Walmart, or elsewhere on the property. There was no word on a shooter, or shooters, or a motive for the gunfire. No arrests have been reported by the sheriff's department, which continues to investigate the shooting.

[10/30/2024] Gwinnett County police are searching for two men suspected of forcing their way into a Duluth man’s home, tying him up and beating him before kidnapping him in his own car in July. Authorities identified the suspects as Jian Sun, 41, of Norcross, and Stephen Carlos Valenzuela, 24, of Atlanta. Police said the man who was assaulted knew Sun prior to the alleged attack but did not know Valenzuela. When Sun and Valenzuela released the victim after beating and robbing him, police said, it was with the expectation that he would meet with the suspects to pay them off the next day. The victim went to police instead, but investigators were not able to immediately arrest the suspects. About three months after the July 29 incident, investigators have released photos of the suspects and are asking for the public’s help in locating them. According to police, investigators met with the victim at the hospital on the day he was attacked. The man told police that Sun and another man, later identified as Valenzuela, had knocked on his door earlier in the day. When the man let them in, Sun and Valenzuela beat him up and zip-tied him, he told police. The suspects then forced the man into the back seat of his car and drove him to an auto shop in Chamblee, police said. Sun and Valenzuela assaulted the man again in the new location, the victim told police. He said the men left him at the shop while they returned to his house and stole several items, though the police did not say what the men allegedly took. The victim was released later that day and checked into the hospital. Police said investigators were sent to both crime scenes and were able to identify the suspects, but Sun and Valenzuela remain at large. They are both wanted on arrest warrants out of Gwinnett on charges of home invasion,

A pedestrian was killed in a hit-and-run on an I-65 off-ramp in Montgomery. Police identified the fatality victim as Lavaris Rawlinson. He was 32 and lived in Montgomery. Authorities said Rawlinson was on the West South Boulevard I-65 off-ramp about 7:15 a.m. Monday when he was hit by a commercial 18-wheeler. The tractor-trailer fled the scene before police arrived, said Montgomery police Maj. Saba Coleman. Rawlinson was pronounced dead on the scene. The investigation is ongoing.

A Gulf Shores man faces charges of willful torture and abuse of a child after he was arrested Monday for being physically and verbally abusive toward his three children whose ages range from 2 to 4. Nicholas Joseph Tomlin, 23, of Gulf Shores was arrested around 8:30 p.m. after police received a call from Mo's Landing at 18068 State Highway 180, about him allegedly being intoxicated and for being abusive toward his children. When officers arrived, they found Tomlin attempting to cross the state highway with three small children. After speaking with Tomlin, he was detained for public intoxication. Witnesses at the nearby park located on Highway 180 — otherwise known as Fort Morgan Road — were interviewed. Evidence obtained by police indicated that he had picked up one of the children by the hair and clothing then slammed him into a stroller. Tomlin is being held at the Baldwin County Sheriff's Correction Center on charges of Willful Torture or Abuse/Mistreatment of a Child, Domestic Violence Third Degree, three counts of Reckless Endangerment, Possession of Marijuana, Possession of Drug Paraphernalia and Public Intoxication.

[8/7/2024] A Birmingham man has died more than a week after he was injured in a shooting on the city's west side. The Jefferson County Coroner's Office identified the victim as Ladarrius Antonio Kennedy. He was 31 and lived in Birmingham. The shooting happened at 10:50 p.m. Monday, July 19, at 1017 Third Ave. West. Authorities said the shooting followed an argument between the victim and another man outside the Chevron. Additional details have not been released. Kennedy was taken to UAB Hospital where he died at 4:42 a.m. Tuesday.

A man was shot and killed by a neighbor at an East Point home Tuesday morning in a situation that led authorities to seek guidance about whether to press charges. The suspected shooter was taken into custody, East Point police said, but officials have released few details about the incident. According to Channel 2 Action News, police shared information about the case with the Fulton County District Attorney's Office and requested guidance on whether charges should be filed. The circumstances around the shooting remain murky. Officers were called to a home on East Point Street after getting reports of gunshots in the area, police said. At the scene, they found an unconscious man on the front stairs, though police did not share details about the man's injuries. He was taken to the hospital, where he later died, Channel 2 reported. "It's very bizarre right now," East Point police Chief Shawn Buchanan told Channel 2. "We would like to speak to (the suspected shooter) first to get his side of the story." The two men got involved in a dispute around 6:30 a.m., according to Channel 2, and the victim returned a few hours later. He opened the suspected shooter's screen door and banged on the front door before he was shot, Buchanan said. Buchanan cautioned against solving disputes with firearms. "Do not take matters into your own hands," he said. "You don't want to mess up your entire life over a quick reaction."

A landlord is recovering after being shot by a previous tenant in southeast Atlanta on Tuesday afternoon. Around 4 p.m., police responded to a residence in the 2800 block of Macon Drive and found a man who had been shot multiple times. Police said he was alert and breathing and transported to the hospital for treatment. The victim was able to tell officers that the suspect was a man he had recently evicted from the home. He said the man had been threatening to shoot him since the eviction. Police have not released any information on the suspect's identity or if he is in custody. The incident remains under investigation.

One man was killed and another is in jail following an argument that led to a shooting, according to the Richland County Sheriff's Department. Michael Harper, 64, was charged with murder. At about 10:15 a.m. Wednesday, deputies responded to an auto-body shop in the 1700 block of Percival Road where a man's body had been discovered. That's in Columbia, not far from Exit 12 on Interstate 77. Deputies met with the caller, an acquaintance of the victim who had not heard from him, and determined that the man appeared to be dead. Investigators accessed the business' security camera footage, which recorded the incident that happened at about 5:30 p.m. Tuesday. Footage showed Harper and the victim got into a verbal altercation, before Harper pulled a gun and shot the victim in the upper body, the sheriff's department said. Harper left the business in a vehicle. At about 2 p.m. Wednesday, deputies saw Harper's vehicle in the area by O'Neil Court, about 3 miles from the crime scene, and when backup arrived, the law enforcement officers made a traffic stop. Harper was taken into custody without incident. He was booked at the Alvin S. Glenn Detention Center, where he was also charged with possession of a weapon during a violent crime, jail records show. No bond has been set and Harper remains locked up, according to jail records.

The DeKalb County Police Department is investigating after a teenager was shot and killed on Tuesday night. According to police, officers responded to the 1400 block of Bouldercrest Road shortly before 9:50 p.m. When they arrived, they found a 16-year-old boy who had a gunshot wound and was pronounced dead at the scene. He was found in the breezeway of one of the apartment buildings, police said. This is an active investigation, and 11Alive has a crew at the scene to obtain more information.

[8/5/2024] A United States Postal Service mail carrier is facing 60 charges after allegedly stealing mail, dumping it in the woods, and using drugs while on the job. According to the Gwinnett County Police Department, USPS carrier Marcus Gregory was arrested on 51 felony charges and nine misdemeanor charges, including DUI drugs, possession of a schedule I narcotic, possession of a firearm during a crime, theft of stolen mail, theft by taking and obstruction. The USPS Inspector General contacted GCPD on July 31 regarding Gregory. Authorities had been investigating him after several complaints of individuals not receiving their mail. On July 31, undercover officers witnessed Gregory dump mail in the woods near Williams Farm Road and Highway 316 and then use drugs in his vehicle, the release said. Officers pulled Gregory over and arrested him. During a search of his work vehicle, officers found more drugs and a handgun. A search of his personal vehicle turned up 215 pieces of stolen mail. Officers served a search warrant at Gregory's residence on Aug. 3 and found more mail.

The GBI issued a Levi's Call, Georgia's version of an Amber Alert, for a 2-month-old girl allegedly abducted by her father in Sandy Springs early Wednesday morning. Reya Clark was taken by 22-year-old Randy Bernard Clark around 3:30 a.m., the GBI said. The baby girl was last seen wearing a diaper and a pink T-shirt. Authorities believe Randy Clark is traveling with her in a car, but could not provide a description of the vehicle. Randy Clark is Reya's biological father, but he does not have custody, according to officials. Authorities are asking anyone who sees Reya or Randy Clark, or anyone with information about their whereabouts, to immediately call 911 or contact the Sandy Springs Police Department at 770-551-6900.

A 67-year-old woman died when a bullet went through her home and into her bedroom while she was sleeping with her husband Wednesday morning in Prichard, authorities said. The woman was the victim of a drive-by shooting around 6 a.m. Wednesday in the 1000 block of Sample Street, said Prichard police Det. Lt. Richard Martin. The victim, identified by media outlets as Ethel Moore Thomas, was pronounced dead at the scene. The drive-by was one of three cases of shots fired investigated Wednesday morning by Prichard police, Martin said. The detective said the incidents did not appear to be related except that they were possibly all “gang-type activity or juveniles involved in gang activity.” Mobile County Sheriff Paul Burch, who joined Martin for a news conference on the homicide Wednesday, said more than 20 rounds were fired at each scene. He reflected on the brashness of the deadly drive-by shooting. “This is a senseless, reckless disregard for human life, shooting into someone’s house, especially while they are asleep. I want to send a clear message to the gutless thugs out here doing this: we’re gonna stop it,” the sheriff said. “A person’s home should be their castle, where they do feel safe from anything.” Burch said gangs in Mobile County have also been threatening law enforcement and had a message for the criminals. “If you point a gun at law enforcement ... it will probably be the last stupid decision you make in your life,” he said.

A man suspected of robbing a U.S. Postal Service worker at gunpoint at a Buckhead condominium building fled after a passerby tried to intervene and the two exchanged gunfire, authorities said. Atlanta police were called to the Eclipse condo building on Pharr Road on Thursday afternoon after the robbery was reported, officials confirmed. No injuries were reported as a result of the suspected robbery or shooting. Property managers at the Eclipse shared a letter with residents that provided an account of the incident, much of which was captured by security cameras, Channel 2 Action News reported. Police later released details of the robbery that mirrored the letter's narrative. According to the letter, a USPS worker was in the building's loading dock area when they were approached by a man dressed in yellow and brandishing a gun. He demanded the postal worker's keys and mail truck, police said. Security video showed the worker handing over the keys, Channel 2 reported. As the alleged robbery was taking place, police said that a witness walking near the building noticed the mail carrier being held at gunpoint. That person pulled out their own weapon and fired multiple shots at the suspected robber, who returned fire and fled, police said. The APD robbery unit was sent to the scene and is continuing to investigate the incident, police said. The suspect remains at large.

[9/23/2024] The Bibb County Sheriff's Office is asking for help finding a 17-year-old they believe is connected to an Aug. 1 shooting death, the sheriff's office said in a press release. They say Johnquavis Leonardo Ruthledge, 17, is wanted in connection to the death of Gabreon Tyrese Harrison, 20. Tyrese was found shot to death in Bloomfield in the 2400 block of Holland Drive, the press release said. According to previous reporting, Harrison was shot in the back of his head. They say a warrant has been issued for Ruthledge — who they say is 5'7 and weighs roughly 140 pounds — but they have not been able to locate him. He is wanted on murder charges, the Macon Regional Crimestoppers say. They say they believe Ruthledge could be in the Atlanta area. They say he has a Spider Web with the number '3' on his neck.

A man was shot to death at a northwest Atlanta student housing complex Thursday morning. Officers were called around 9:30 a.m. to the Westmar Lofts at 800 West Marietta Street near the Knight Park-Howell Station neighborhood. There, they found a 24-year-old man with a gunshot wound. He was declared dead at the scene. Officials did not release the victim's name or any other details about the shooting. Cardinal Group Management, which handles property operations, confirmed that the victim was a resident and they believe it was an isolated incident. Westmar Lofts is an independent complex that markets to students from Georgia State University and Georgia Tech, according to the community's website. "We are devastated that such a serious and unfortunate incident took place at Westmar," a property management spokesperson said. "The Westmar team is fully cooperating with local law enforcement in their investigation ... The well-being of our community is and will remain our top priority."

Three people have been shot Friday afternoon in southeast Atlanta, police said. Atlanta Police said that they found three people with gunshot wounds near the intersection of Cleveland Avenue SE and Browns Mill Road SE. [8/7/2024] A Cobb County man told investigators he fell asleep on the couch with his 17-month-old sleeping on his chest. But when a friend later woke Kenton Hamilton early Friday morning, the child was gone. The toddler was found dead in a bathtub upstairs, according to Kennesaw police. Hamilton, who lived in the Windsor Court home, told investigators the child got off the couch, “walked up two flights of stairs, climbed into the bathtub, and turned the water to the tub on and drowned,” an arrest warrant states. Hamilton was arrested and charged with second-degree homicide, second-degree cruelty to children, possession of a firearm by a convicted felon and cocaine possession. He was being held without bond Wednesday in the Cobb jail, booking records show. The child’s name was not released, but police confirmed Hamilton was the father. A 4-year-old was also in the home, the warrant states. According to investigators, Hamilton had two bags of cocaine under the couch cushions. He was convicted of statutory rape in 1995 and was not legally allowed to have a gun, but Hamilton had four at the time of his arrest, his warrant states. A bond hearing for Hamilton is tentatively scheduled for Aug. 21, court records show.

[11/26/2024] A 20-year-old Jefferson County mother has been charged in the death of her young son. Kayla Mariah Nash is charged with felony murder and aggravated child abuse, according to court records made public Tuesday. Killed was 4-year-old Zane Xavier Nash. Charging documents state Zane died from blunt force trauma. The child died at 4:15 a.m. Aug. 2 at Children’s of Alabama. The assault is believed to have happened in Forestdale. Efforts to obtain additional information from the Jefferson County Sheriff’s Office were not immediately successful. Nash was booked into the Jefferson County Jail at 4:31 p.m. Monday. She remains held without bond.

Raleigh police are investigating a Friday shooting on Briarmont Court that has left one man dead and a woman with serious injuries. Officers responded at 9:52 a.m. to the 1600 block of Briarmont Court, southeast of downtown just inside the Raleigh Beltline, where they found the pair with gunshot wounds. Both were taken to a nearby hospital with serious injuries, and the man, whose name has not been released, later died. Police have a suspect in custody but are continuing to investigate. They have released no other information, such as whether they are looking for additional suspects.

Three men were taken to the hospital after being shot Friday afternoon in southeast Atlanta, police said. It happened around 12:18 p.m. when officers responded near the intersection of Browns Mill Road SE and Cleveland Avenue SE, where they found a red car riddled with bullets. The incident appears to have happened in front of the nearby Mobil gas station. However, police also said they believe the shooting happened at a different location. Atlanta Police said a 37-year-old man, a 28-year-old man and a 19-year-old man were injured in the shooting. The 37-year-old was taken to the hospital in "critical condition." Authorities added that the other two men were in "stable condition." 11Alive's Bobeth Yates spoke with Sam Raja who reacted to the shocking scene that played out in front of the gas station where he works. "It's so scary," Raja said. "We just saw the red car—that's what we saw—and there were a lot of police here. We did not hear anything, and we were so scared." We obtained surveillance footage from the nearby gas station, which showed a car pulling up near the red car with someone inside waving their hands. An APD patrol car then pulled up to the scene moments later, the video showed. Authorities said they believe the car was driving when it was shot at. Police also added they believe the incident involved multiple scenes and that the shooting may have started prior to the car getting to the intersection. All nearby schools in the area were placed on lockdown following the shooting, but the lockdowns have since been lifted. The schools that were locked down include Dobbs Elementary, Cleveland Avenue Elementary, Hank Aaron New Beginnings Academy, and Humphries Elementary. "It's an active investigation. We are requesting the public's assistance in identifying the vehicle involved in this case."

Two people have died after one shot the other and then himself during a family gathering Friday in the Lebanon area of Durham County, according to the Durham County Sheriff's Office. Just before 10:30 p.m., one of two men — who knew each other — shot the other and then himself at a home on the 6200 block of Edsel Road in Durham County, witnesses told investigators, according to a sheriff's office news release. The initial victim died at the scene and the other man was taken to a local hospital where he died, according to the DCSO. The investigation is in the early stages and no other information was released.

Authorities are investigating after a person was shot over the weekend at an apartment complex near a popular Columbia area shopping district. Officers responded Saturday to the Harbison Gardens Apartments at 401 Columbiana Drive. That's about a mile northwest of the Columbiana Centre mall and the larger Harbison shopping district. When they got there, officers found a male who had been shot multiple times, according to Columbia Police Department Deputy Chief Melron Kelly. The victim, whose age were not disclosed, was taken to Prisma Health Richland, Kelly said. He was in stable condition as of Sunday night. Authorities were working to determine whether the shots came from a person who was on foot or in a car, Kelly said. The deputy chief added that there are cameras throughout the complex that will be reviewed. The Harbison Gardens apartments are on Columbiana Drive, between Harbison Boulevard to the south and Lake Murray Boulevard to the north. A host of businesses are nearby, including a row of restaurants that are across the street.

[8/21/2024] A South Carolina man was arrested and called “reckless and dangerous” following a shooting, according to the Irmo Police Department. Maurice T. McQuire, a 20-year-old Chapin resident, was charged with four counts of attempted murder and possession of a weapon during a violent crime. The charges stem from an Aug. 3 shooting in the New Friarsgate Subdivision. That’s in a suburban section of Richland County. Two houses and a car were damaged by the gunfire, police said. Officers responded to the neighborhood, where they processed evidence and conducted interviews. McQuire was arrested — without incident — on Aug. 16. McQuire was taken to the Alvin S. Glenn Detention Center and denied bond. “We are very fortunate that nobody was hit during this incident,” Police Chief Bobby Dale said in the release. “To commit this act in broad daylight in a neighborhood shows just how reckless and dangerous McQuire is. I am proud of the work our investigators put in to have McQuire jailed and thankful that his bond was denied.” McQuire is scheduled to return to court Oct. 25, judicial records show. He was out on bond when the shooting occurred. He was arrested July 1, 2023, when he was charged with hit-and-run, purchase or possession of beer or wine by minor, following vehicle too closely and littering. McQuire was released on $11,298.75 bond on those combined charges, which are pending, according to court records.

[10/23/2024] A man was recently arrested in Florida in connection with the August killing of a woman in Atlanta, police said. Edward Hunt III, 62, was arrested Oct. 17 by the Florida Highway Patrol on warrants for murder and aggravated battery in the death of Angel Rubeck, 43, authorities confirmed. Officials did not disclose why Hunt was in Florida or the reason law enforcement stopped him. He will be extradited to Georgia but had not been booked into the Fulton County Jail as of Wednesday. On Aug. 3, Atlanta police were called to a Super 8 motel in the 3700 block of Jonesboro Road, just off I-285 near Hartsfield-Jackson International Airport. There, they found Rubeck lying on the floor, and she was pronounced dead at the scene, police said. The initial investigation revealed that Rubeck sustained injuries from blunt force trauma, authorities said, but an official cause of death was not provided by police. A GoFundMe campaign created by Alicia Rubeck, who claims to be the victim’s sister and was raising funds for the funeral, states that Rubeck was free-spirited and loved without reason. “She didn’t deserve this malicious and violent ending,” Alicia Rubeck wrote.

Officers with the Mobile Police Department have identified a man killed at an apartment complex as Jermaine Thomas, 25. According to a police report, officers responded to the Stone Ridge Apartments at 1200 Somerby Drive on Saturday, August 3, 2024, at approximately 10:58 a.m., in reference to a shooting. Upon arrival, the officers discovered Thomas deceased from a gunshot wound inside of an apartment unit. Upon further investigation, officers discovered Thomas forced his way into the unit to confront a known individual when a second individual inside of the unit shot him. At this time, officers are still searching for the shooter. As of Sunday evening, the Mobile Police Department says this investigation is still active and no further information will be released.

A 12-year-old boy was injured when he was caught in crossfire at a west Birmingham home. The shooting happened just before 6:30 p.m. Saturday. The boy is expected to recover. Officer Truman Fitzgerald said West Precinct officers were dispatched to the 4900 block of Avenue Q in the Central Park neighborhood on a report of a person shot. They arrived to find the child at a home in the 1600 block of 49th Street Ensley, which is near the scene of the shooting. Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service transported the boy to Children's of Alabama. His injuries are not life-threatening. Fitzgerald said it wasn't immediately clear whether the boy was shot or grazed, but he was injured in the upper body. Investigators said an argument took place between two men – one of them believed to be the 12-year-old's father. The two men knew each other. The two men exchanged gunfire. One of the shooters was inside the home and the other was outside, firing into the residence which had multiple people inside. Shot Spotter registered five rounds fired. There were several shell casings in the street. "Neither of the shooters were struck by gunfire," Fitzgerald said. "However, a round may have penetrated the house and grazed or shot the 12-year-old." "We know all the parties involved," he said. "It's just a matter of our detectives gathering as many facts as they can and presenting this case to the district attorney's office to see if anyone will be charged." "It will be a matter of who fired the first shot who was the aggressor," Fitzgerald said. The homeowner remained on the scene and is cooperating with police. The second shooter fled, but Fitzgerald said they know who he is.

A man is critically injured after being shot helping his daughter move on Saturday night, police said. According to the Atlanta Police Department, officers responded to a person shot at a home on West Lake Drive around 9:47 p.m. When they arrived, they found a man with multiple gunshot wounds. He was sent to the hospital in critical condition. Police said the preliminary investigation indicated that the man was helping his daughter move out of a home with an abusive boyfriend. He had accompanied his daughter so that she could gather the remainder of her belongings when they were confronted by the male suspect, who is accused of shooting the father multiple times. Responding units acted quickly and apprehended the suspect, who was still on the scene, police said. APD said the suspect is the ex-boyfriend and is currently in police custody with charges pending as the investigation continues. In general, APD Chief Darin Schierbaum previously talked about the seriousness of domestic violence cases in a video message last Friday. "I've saw a very disturbing trend this year in Atlanta," he said. "Last year, this moment, five individuals had lost their life in a domestic-motivated homicide. As I come to you today, 13 individuals in Atlanta, Ga. have lost their life in a domestic violence homicide." Schierbaum asked residents in his video to help officers stop domestic violence by learning the signs of abuse.

An investigation is ongoing after two men were shot at a Bessemer gas station. The shooting happened at 10:30 p.m. Saturday at Citgo on the corner of Fourth Avenue and Ninth Street. Bessemer police Det. Justin Burmeister said the gunfire erupted in the parking lot. All of those involved, he said, know each other. A motive has not yet been disclosed. Both men suffered injuries that are not life-threatening. No arrests have been made.

A woman walking on I-20 was struck and killed by a hit-and-run driver early Sunday morning during a street race, authorities said. The driver of a black Mustang left the scene after the wreck, which happened around 1:40 a.m. on the interstate just past Moreland Avenue, according to Atlanta police. When officers arrived, they found a woman dead in the roadway. She was not publicly identified. According to investigators, the driver of the Mustang was racing another vehicle eastbound on I-20 and appeared to hit the woman, who was walking on the side of the shoulder. No other details were provided by law enforcement on the crash, or the driver. The incident remains under investigation.

One man was killed and another was locked up following a recent shootout, according to the South Carolina Law Enforcement Division. Aubrey Priester Jr., a 42-year-old Barnwell resident, was charged with murder and possession of a weapon during a violent crime connected to the death of 33-year-old Juston Erving, SLED said in a news release. Both Priester and Erving fired guns during the Sunday morning shootout, an affidavit shows. At about 3:30 a.m., the men were involved in an altercation on Sato Avenue in Denmark, according to the affidavit. Information about what led to the altercation was not available, and there was no word if the men knew each other prior to the shooting. Erving then pulled a gun and began shooting at a trailer, the affidavit shows. A witness said that Priester then drew a gun and shot Erving, causing him to fall down, according to the affidavit. While Erving was incapacitated on the ground, Priester approached and repeatedly shot the victim in the upper body and head, the affidavit shows. Priester was arrested Sunday and booked into the Bamberg County Detention Center, SLED said. No bond has been set and Priester remains behind bars, Bamberg County court records show. He will be prosecuted by the 2nd Circuit Solicitor's Office.

A South Carolina man was killed Sunday in a shooting, according to the Sumter County Coroner's Office. Jaquen Marquell Jefferson, a 32-year-old Sumter County resident, died from injuries he suffered from an "apparent gunshot wound," Coroner Robbie Baker said Monday in a news release. The shooting happened at about 6 a.m. Sunday on Dinkins Mill Road in the Rembert area, according to the release. Jefferson was taken to Prisma Health Tuomey hospital, where he died, Baker said. An autopsy will be performed at the Medical University of South Carolina in Charleston, according to the release. No other injuries were reported. There was no word about a shooter or shooters, or anyone else involved in the gunfire. No arrests have been reported, and the shooting continues to be investigated by the Sumter County Sheriff's Office and the coroner's office.

One suspect was in custody after a man was stabbed to death Monday morning in Newnan, according to police. Officers were called around 8 a.m. to a wooded area behind a Dollar General store on Bullsboro Drive. "Upon arrival, it was determined that a male appeared to be severely injured from cuts and stab wounds," police said in a news release. "The Newnan Police Department secured the area and apprehended the alleged offender." The injured man died from his injuries. Neither the victim nor the suspect were publicly identified.

A man who had been shot multiple times was found dead on the side of a Decatur road early Sunday afternoon, officials said. DeKalb County officers responded to a call about a man lying in the 4100 block of Glenwood Road in the Belvedere Park neighborhood at about 1:45 p.m., police said. When they arrived, they found a man with multiple wounds. No other information has been released, including the identity of the victim.

A man faces an attempted murder charge after a shooting in Pike County. The Pike County Sheriff's Office says it was called to the 1200 block of County Road 3339 yesterday at about 2PM. At the scene, they found a man with a gunshot wound to the chest. He was flown to a Montgomery hospital in critical condition. Investigators say they learned the suspected shooter was 49-year-old Richard Jason Brown of Lapine. They say they found his car near his home in the 300 block of Posey Road in Crenshaw County. The sheriff's office says after an arrest warrant was issued for his arrest, the Pike County Sheriff's Office Special Response Team responded to the location along with Crenshaw County Investigators and Alabama State Troopers. The sheriff's office says the Special Response Team called Brown out of the home using public address speakers from their vehicles. Shortly after the communication was made, Brown came to the front door and peacefully surrendered. Brown is being held on $200,000 bond.

Prattville police are investigating gunfire that left houses and a car with damage. Prattville Police Chief Mark Thompson told Action 8 News the gunfire happened last night around 11PM on Cosby Court, which is just north of downtown. Thompson said investigators have recovered 56 shell casings. He said three or four houses were hit in addition to a vehicle. No one was hurt.

Montgomery police need your help finding two people wanted for questioning about a robbery. Police want to find the two people pictured after a robbery that happened in the East Fairview Avenue/Norman Bridge Road area this morning. Investigators say one of the people was wearing black pants and black shoes, and the other was seen wearing a head covering, dark colored sweatshirt and black pants. There are no other details available for release at this time, police say. Central Alabama CrimeStoppers is offering a cash reward for the identification of the subjects wanted for questioning.

A UAB doctor is under arrest on a felony child abuse charge. Dr. Jean-Francois Pittet, 72, was booked into the Jefferson County Jail at 12:46 a.m. Wednesday and released at 3:15 a.m. after posting a $30,000 bond. The arrest followed a Monday search warrant at Pittet's Vestavia Hills home on Mountain View Drive. There was a large police presence at the home during the search. Vestavia Hills police Capt. Johnny Evans said Pittet was detained at that time and warrants were obtained for aggravated child abuse. Evans said no additional details are being released because of the child's age and the ongoing investigation. Charging documents against Pittet allege he willfully tortured or abuse the child with a sexual violation on more than one occasion. According to UAB's website, Pittet works in the Department of Anesthesiology and Perioperative Medicine. UAB released this statement to AL.com: "We are aware of the arrest and can confirm that this individual has been placed on administrative leave. We take this matter extremely seriously. As employment matters are handled between the employee and the institution, we have no further comment at this time."

A 30-year-old Madison man faces arson and attempted murder charges following an incident on Monday in Limestone County. Sheriff Joshua McLaughlin said first responders were called to a house fire in the 27000 block of Keeton Road in Harvest. Deputies, investigators and the State Fire Marshal determined that Dominic Edward Germain had set the fire inside the house with two people inside, then left the scene. The two victims were able to escape the fire, McLaughlin said. During the investigation, probable cause was found to arrest Germain. Germain has been charged with first degree arson and two counts of attempted murder. Germain is being held in the Limestone County Jail without bond. McLaughlin said several county fire departments, the Alabama Fire Marshal's Office, deputies and investigators quickly responded to this scene.

[11/22/2024] A man who was involved in a August shooting is wanted for attempted murder, according to the Richland County Sheriff's Department. Deputies are looking for Marcus D' Edgrick Gibbs, 26, following a shooting on Aug. 5, where they say Gibbs attempted to kill his ex-girlfriend at Palmetto Garden apartments at the 100 block of O' Neil Court, according to the news release. Shortly before midnight on Aug. 5, deputies responded to the apartment complex after receiving calls of shots fired. Upon arriving, deputies discovered one victim who'd sustained multiple gunshot wounds, the release said. Through their investigation, deputies determined that Gibbs fled the scene after entering his ex-girlfriend's apartment and shooting her multiple times, according to the release. The victim was transported to an area hospital. Her current condition is unclear. Gibbs, who deputies say is from Winnsboro, was last seen in Greenville County, and is believed to be aided by a network of family and friends, the release said.

A man is dead and an Atlanta police officer is in jail after a fight between the two at a South Fulton bar escalated to a fatal shooting, the GBI said. The officer, who was off-duty at the time, has been relieved of active duty, an Atlanta Police Department spokesman said. South Fulton police asked the GBI to investigate the incident, which took place early Monday morning at a bar on Old National Highway near the interchange between I-85 and I-285. APD Officer Melvin Potter was taken into custody on a misdemeanor obstruction charge after the shooting. According to the GBI, Potter shot and killed 28-year-old Devon Anderson around 1 a.m. during a fight that was sparked by an earlier argument. Potter was booked into the Fulton County Jail on Monday and remains there on $1,000 bond, online records show. APD internal affairs investigators were called to the scene, Channel 2 Action News reported. According to the news station, Potter did not cooperate with police and refused a blood test. No additional charges have been filed and officials did not say if alcohol was a factor in the incident, but Potter has faced professional disciplinary action related to alcohol misuse in the past. At the time of the shooting, his state certification was on probation, records from Georgia's Peace Officer Standards and Training Council show. Potter had been pulled over in Coweta County in 2021 and was arrested on drunken driving charges, according to POST records. The DUI arrest led Potter to be placed on probation for 36 months starting in November 2021, POST records show.

Some homeowners in the McGehee Estates neighborhood awoke Monday morning to find their cars had been burglarized and one vehicle had been shot multiple times. A woman who heard the shooting at 2 a.m. and called 911 tells us police never showed up. A young mother who lives in the McGhee Estates neighborhood was rocking her baby at 2 a.m. on Monday morning when she heard an alarming sound. “I heard two of the loudest gunshots I’ve ever heard and we hear gunshots every weekend. Nothing new but these were either in my front yard or across street. I ran in the hallway holding my baby and screamed my husband’s name and he heard them as well so he met me in the hallway and said y’all go hide. I’ll look outside,” said the homeowner. The couple never saw the shooters but they called 911 to report the incident. “I called 911 and they picked up, and I asked them to send someone and then waited up until 4 a.m. and never saw an officer,” said the homeowner. When the sun came up, they saw that their neighbor’s truck across the street had bullet holes and shattered glass from gunshots. The truck had also been ransacked, and it wasn’t the only one. “14 homes were touched that night, only seven on my street,” said the homeowner. Bikes, money and weapons were stolen from cars and yards throughout the neighborhood. Several homeowners said they did not report that their cars were broken into to police because nothing of significant value was stolen. MPD tells us they have three reports of break-ins on Allendale Place. We will hear from more homeowners and have an update on this story later this week.

A man is dead after police found him suffering from a gunshot wound to the head Tuesday morning at a northwest Atlanta apartment complex where multiple cars had been broken into, authorities said. The man, who was not publicly identified, was unconscious but breathing when officers found him in a gray Jeep in the parking lot of the Mark at West Midtown, Atlanta police said. Officers located him just after 3:40 a.m. and he was taken to the hospital, where he died from his wounds, officials said. According to police, the man is suspected of committing multiple car break-ins in Buckhead earlier Tuesday morning. He then drove to the Mark apartments on Bishop Street in Atlanta's Loring Heights neighborhood, where two more cars were broken into, police said. Officers found evidence that an unknown suspect fired multiple gunshots at the man, hitting him at least once, police said. Police did not say if any charges had been filed in this case, and no one was taken into custody. The incident was initially labeled an aggravated assault but is now considered a homicide, police said.

A man was taken to the hospital after a shooting early Monday morning in southwest Atlanta. The Atlanta Police Department says officers responded to a person shot call on the 1400 block of Westboro Drive around 5:10 a.m. When they arrived, they found a 63-year-old man with a gunshot wound. He was taken to an area hospital for treatment. Investigators are working to determine the circumstances surrounding the incident.

The Georgia Bureau of Investigation (GBI) and the Newton County Sheriff's Office are investigating after a person was fatally shot in Covington on Monday afternoon. The shooting occurred just before 1 p.m. at the Almon/Crowell Roads exit near a vape shop, according to a release. There are limited details, but it appears to be a drive-by shooting based on the suspect's charges. Deputies said one person, 27-year-old Treyvion Mason, was shot in the incident. Mason was taken to a local hospital, where he later died. It's unclear what led to the shooting. The suspect, 32-year-old Elan Shabazz, who is accused of leaving the scene, has since been located and taken into custody. Shabazz is charged with murder, possession of a handgun by a convicted felon, tampering with evidence, drive-by shooting and possession of a firearm during the commission of a felony. The shooting is currently under investigation by both the GBI and the Newton County Sheriff's Office. Authorities said more charges are also forthcoming.

Two people were wounded in a barrage of gunfire at a Bessemer gas station. Multiple shots rang out about 8:45 p.m. Monday at the Citgo on Fourth Avenue in Bessemer. More than two dozen bullets struck a sedan that was near the gas pumps. According to Bessemer police, a male and a female inside the Nissan Altima were taken to the hospital. Their conditions were not immediately available. Investigators were interviewing witnesses Monday night and said the shooting appeared to be an isolated incident. No arrests have been made.

A female was found shot to death inside a unit of a Mobile apartment complex Monday night in an incident police say was domestic-related. Mobile police officers responded to the Summit at Hillcrest apartments at 1601 Hillcrest Rd. around 9:06 p.m. Monday on a call of a domestic-related shooting, police said Tuesday. Officers found a female victim dead with a gunshot wound inside of an apartment unit. She has not been publicly identified pending family notification. Police learned the victim was shot by a "known subject." No arrests have been made as of Tuesday morning, police said.

A teenager recently was found lying in a Midlands road, and search is underway for the driver involved in a hit-and-run crash, the Sumter Police Department said Tuesday night. At about 9:30 p.m. on Aug. 5, officers were called about an 18-year-old man who was found lying in the road near Ellerbee Street, police said in a news release. That's in Sumter, a block from South Lafayette Drive. The teen was running east on Hauser Street when he was hit by a car that did not stop, according to the release. The runner is recovering at home after being treated at an area hospital for a head wound and other injuries he suffered in the crash, police said. Further information on the teen's condition was not available. No other injuries were reported. No arrests have been reported by police. Police said that a dark-colored car, possibly an older model Nissan Altima, was the vehicle that hit the teen. It might be easier to identify the car because it would have suffered damage to its front end in the crash, according to the release.

A man was fatally shot at a downtown Atlanta high-rise late Monday night, officials said. Officers responded to a call about a person who had been shot on the residential side of the W Hotel at 45 Ivan Allen Jr. Boulevard, Atlanta police announced. When they arrived at about 11:45 p.m., officers found a 44-year-old man with a gunshot wound who was pronounced dead at the scene. The shooting occurred outside of a woman's apartment on the 26th floor, police told Channel 2 Action News. The high-rise, which is made up of 74 condos and the hotel, is located half a mile east of the Georgia Aquarium. Police Lt. Andrew Smith told Channel 2 that the shooting followed a domestic dispute between a man who was leaving the apartment and another who was arriving. "(The men) confronted each other on the elevator that was taken up to the residence," Smith said. "The male that came to the location, from what we know at this point, was the shooter." One man was detained for questioning, Smith told the news station. No additional details about the case or the identity of the victim have been released.

Two teenage suspects have been arrested after they allegedly damaged Mill Creek High School's football field by driving onto it in a stolen pickup truck, authorities said Thursday. Gwinnett County police said they had received a report about a stolen RAM 1500, which was taken Tuesday from the driveway of a home on Adams Acre Drive in Lawrenceville. Video surveillance shared by the truck's owner showed the suspects, a 16-year-old girl and a 17-year-old boy, entering several vehicles in the area before they found a set of keys inside the truck and drove off, officials said. "After stealing the truck, the two suspects drove it to Mill Creek High School and used it to damage the football field," police added. The school's football coach declined to comment on the damage, and school and district officials have not responded to requests from The Atlanta Journal-Constitution. Later Tuesday, Flock cameras alerted law enforcement to the truck, which officers found behind a Walmart on Sardis Church Road in the Buford area. The two teens were still inside the vehicle, so officers tried to box it in by parking in front and behind it. After refusing commands, police said the 16-year-old drove toward an officer and nearly struck him. According to authorities, the pursuit continued for a short distance before the truck crashed into another vehicle on Hamilton Mill Road. Both teens then exited the vehicle and ran, police said. During the pursuit, officers quickly caught up to and tased the girl, according to bodycam footage shared by police Thursday. The 17-year-old passenger, identified as Robert Krause of Lawrenceville, fled into the nearby woods and was apprehended by the department's aviation unit, authorities said. The 16-year-old was taken to a youth detention center, while Krause was

A police investigation is underway in northwest Atlanta. Police have a portion of Bishop Street closed to pedestrians and drivers as they go over the scene. A woman living in a nearby apartment complex told Atlanta News First that she heard rapid gunfire around 3:40 a.m. She said she had to take an Uber to work this morning because no one was allowed in or out of the complex. Police have not said what they are investigating at this time. We'll continue following this developing story and provide updates as they become available.

A 25-year-old man is behind bars after his mother and her boyfriend were fatally shot inside their Tuscaloosa home. Tuscaloosa police received a 911 call at 10:20 p.m. Tuesday from someone in the residence in 3700 block of 25th Place. When they arrived, Keandra Lee Hawkins was outside the home and told them his mother and her boyfriend had been shot. Inside police found Antionette Hawkins, 62, and Mcran James Montgomery, 63, dead. Tuscaloosa Violent Crimes Unit Capt. Jack Kennedy said investigators determined that one of the victims made the 911 call. Evidence was found during the investigation that identified Keandra Hawkins as the suspect, Kennedy said. He did not elaborate. Keandra Hawkins is charged with capital murder and remains held without bond in the Tuscaloosa County Jail. A motive has not been disclosed. Kennedy said the investigation is still active and ongoing and no other information will be released.

A double shooting in East Point left a woman dead Tuesday night, according to police. The East Point Police Department (EPPD) said around 10:30 p.m., members of the EPPD Evening Watch were called to Pointview Drive for a person shot. When they arrived, officers say they found a man and a woman lying near a vehicle with what appeared to be gunshot injuries. Both victims were transported to Grady Memorial Hospital, where the woman was pronounced dead, EPPD said. Police said the man was detained and taken to the East Point Police Department for questioning.

Two suspects wanted in connection with a Wednesday shooting in Mobile County that left a man dead and a female injured have been apprehended in Mississippi, authorities said. Jesse Darrell Brown, 32, and Thomas Nickols Marshall, 35, allegedly shot at the victims Wednesday in Grand Bay, killing Horace “Bubba” Eugene Sellers and injuring the female, who was not publicly identified, the Mobile County Sheriff’s Office said in a news release. The victims, who were shot in the 10000 block of Hall Road in Grand Bay while gathering the female’s belonging, were able to flee to a Chevron gas station at 13320 Highway 90 to get help, the office said. Sheriff’s deputies at the Chevron found the female with a gunshot wound to her upper back and Sellers with a gunshot wound to his upper back. Sellers died while being treated at a local hospital, the sheriff’s office said. The female is recovering in the hospital. Detectives with the sheriff’s office interviewed the female, who said she went to gather her belongings when Brown and Marshall allegedly came to the location and started shooting at her and Sellers. Brown and Marshall are set to be extradited to Mobile County, the sheriff’s office said.

An investigation is underway after a child was struck in a hit-and-run in Birmingham. The crash happened at 7:44 a.m. Wednesday on Pike Road and Avenue T in Ensley. Officer Truman Fitzgerald said the Minor Elementary School student was walking in the crosswalk when he was struck. Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service said the child was taken for treatment by private vehicle, not transported by BFRS. He sustained minor injuries. Fitzgerald said the police department’s Real Time Crime Center is assisting in the investigation.

Boaz police have arrested a man they say stabbed a person Wednesday morning and prompted a lockdown at area schools. According to police, officers responded to a call on Verbon Street at about 9:55 a.m. to find a person with severe cuts. The victim gave police the name of the person they said stabbed them, who left the area on foot. The victim was transported to Marshal Medical Center South and flown out by helicopter. Area schools, including Snead State Community College, were placed on lockdown. About two hours later, police located Donny Nennis, 23, of Boaz, who they said was hiding behind a residence on Williams Street. Nennis is being held in the Boaz City Jail. The Marshall County Drug Task Force, Etowah and Marshall County Sheriff’s Offices, Douglas, Sardis, Albertville and Snead State police departments assisted in the search.

[8/11/2024] A South Carolina child has died after an apparent accidental shooting, the Orangeburg County Sheriff’s Office announced Friday. “We are brokenhearted over this tragic loss of a little princess,” Sheriff Leroy Ravenell said in a statement. “We lost someone precious this week.” Orangeburg investigators were called to a Eutawville residence for a reported shooting Wednesday around 3:30 p.m., officials said. They learned that a 6-year-old girl had been critically wounded after being shot by another child in the residence. The girl was taken to a medical facility where she later died from a single gunshot wound to the upper body. “My heart is extremely heavy at having to let the public know what happened,” Ravenell said. “This type of incident, this type of investigation is one of the hardest an investigator will ever do.”

[8/10/2024] An investigation is ongoing into the shooting death of a 24-year-old man at a Talladega gas station. Police on Saturday identified the victim as Marvin Darrius Smith Jr. The shooting happened Thursday at Chevron on Broadway Avenue, said Lt. Dennis McDaniel. The wounded Smith was taken to Citizens Baptist Medical Center where he later died. McDaniel said the deadly shooting stemmed from a physical confrontation between Smith and a 17-year-old inside the store. No additional details have been released and no charges have been announced. The Jacksonville State Center for Applied Forensics, the Talladega County District Attorney's Office and the Talladega County Sheriff's Office are assisting in the investigation.

[8/22/2024] The suspect in the killing of a woman found dead on the side of the road in Crawford County killed themselves as law enforcement attempted to take them into custody, according to a press release from the Crawford County Sheriff's Office. They say Baldwin County man Timothy Lamar Crow, 52, was wanted for the death of 35-year-old Callie Brooke Goolsby, who was found dead on the side of Smith Chapel Road back on Aug. 8. The Georgia Bureau of Investigations — who took over the case — secured an arrest warrant for Crow on Aug. 16, the press release said. But when U.S. Marshals found Crow in Rockdale County, they say Crow killed himself after a standoff with authorities. Crow was charged with felony murder, malice murder, possession of a firearm by a convicted felon, aggravated assault and possession of a firearm or knife during commission of or attempt to commit certain crimes. Goolsby was previously taken to the GBI Crime Lab for an autopsy. She was the daughter of Forsyth City Council member Greg Goolsby, according to her obituary.

A man was found hit and killed by a car on Thursday morning in Brookhaven, according to the police department. Brookhaven Police Department said calls came in around 3 a.m. reporting a man lying in the road. Officers were sent over to block 3400 of Buford Hwy. where they found a man who they said "appeared to have been struck by a vehicle." Police said no driver was at the scene, and they are investigating it as a fatal hit and run. No other details were released.

A man was found shot early Thursday in the parking lot of a west Birmingham gas station. West Precinct officers were dispatched just before 5 a.m. to Citgo on Forestdale Boulevard. Officers arrived to find the victim wounded near the gas pumps. Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service took the man to UAB Hospital. His injuries are life-threatening. Officer Truman Fitzgerald said detectives are investigating what led to the shooting. No arrests have been made.

A search is underway for a handcuffed man who fled from police custody earlier today. Fultondale police arrested Daniel Kyle Thomas, 37, about 10:30 a.m. Thursday. Officers handcuffed him, but then he took off running into a wooded area off Alabama 75 in the Pinson area. As of 2:30 p.m., Thomas was not yet back in custody. Fultondale police and Jefferson County sheriff's deputies are searching for him. Detectives investigating the theft of a trailer out of Fultondale identified Thomas as possibly having a role in the theft. He already had outstanding warrants against him, so police were trying to take him into custody while they continue the theft investigation. Chief Marcel Walker said Thomas, a white male, was wearing a white t-shirt and khaki shorts. Court records show Thomas, who has a lengthy criminal history, was charged in December with attempting to elude after he fled law enforcement officers trying to arrest him on multiple warrants. He now faces new charges receiving stolen property, escape and theft of property – for the handcuffs in which he fled.

A gunman who police say shot four people – killing two of them – is now in custody. The suspect, whose identity has not been released, was arrested about 9:15 p.m. in the Five Points West area. His capture came less than five hours after authorities say carried out his rampage of family members and family friends. Police earlier reported a third victim had died, but said the man is still alive. The shootings are believed to be domestic-related, and those close to the suspect told police he appears to have just “snapped.” Dozens of grieving family members were on the scene, including the suspect’s grandmother. “This is senseless,” said friend and neighbor Evelyn Koech. “It’s not fair.” At 4:45 p.m. Thursday, West Precinct officers were dispatched to a report of multiple people shot at a home in the 1600 block of Dennison Avenue. Officers made entry into the house and found a woman dead from a gunshot wound. Family members on the scene identified the woman as LaQuitta Dunn, a beloved mother and grandmother. Officer Truman Fitzgerald said they learned a man had also been wounded in the Dennison Avenue shooting, but he was not at the home when police arrived. That victim showed up at Princeton Baptist Medical Center with life-threatening injuries. He was transferred to UAB Hospital he remains with critical injuries. Fitzgerald said officers learned that the suspect may have also fired shots in the 1400 block of 17th Place S.W., which is close to the first scene.

A Thursday night shooting in Notasulga left one teen dead and another wounded. The shooting happened about 7:15 p.m. in Notasulga, according to Macon County Sheriff Andre Brunson and Lee County Sheriff Jay Jones. The shooting happened in Macon County but the teens were both students in Lee County.

Georgia House Rep. Devan Seabaugh was taken into custody Thursday night, Georgia State Patrol said, by DUI Task Force troopers after he struck a cyclist in the bike lane on Memorial Drive in Atlanta. The incident happened a little after 9 p.m. near Park Avenue, right in front of Oakland Cemetery in the Grant Park neighborhood. State Rep. Seabaugh, a Republican who represents parts of Cobb County, was taken to Atlanta City Jail and turned over to booking staff, GSP said. Atlanta city records show seven charges against him, including: driving under the influence, DUI/alcohol, DUI/drugs, DUI/alcohol & drugs, DUI/multiple substances, driving under the influence of alcohol and obedience. A full statement from GSP said: "On Thursday, August 8, 2024, at 9:09 pm, Troopers from the NightHawks North DUI Task Force responded to a crash on Memorial Drive at Park Avenue, in Fulton County. The preliminary investigation determined a vehicle driven by State Representative Devin Seabaugh struck a bicyclist in the bicycle lane. Mr. Seabaugh was taken into custody and transported to the Atlanta City Jail where he was turned over to the booking staff." Seabaugh, the executive of an Atlanta area ambulance service, has been in office since winning a special election in mid-2021 after former state Rep. Bert Reeves left office to take a position at Georgia Tech.

A woman is in critical condition after getting shot in the neck Thursday night in southwest Atlanta. Atlanta police say it happened just before 11 p.m. on the 200 block of Fulton Street. [8/16/2024] A man has been arrested in Millbrook, charged with a series of burglaries at a church and two businesses. According to Millbrook Police Chief P.K. Johnson, 27-year-old William Jefferies of the Dale County town of Arton has been charged with three counts of burglary in the third degree, theft of property in the third degree, two counts of theft of property in the fourth degree, two counts of fraudulent use of a credit/debit card and third-degree criminal mischief. He is being held in the Elmore County Jail on a $100,000 bond. Johnson says on August 9, officers responded to a report of a burglary at a church in the 5900 block of Main Street. He said someone broke in and stole a debit card belonging to the church. Detectives discovered that the person tried to use the debit card at several businesses. Two days later, police again responded to a burglary report, this time at a business in the 200 block of Deatsville Highway. Someone had broken in and stole electronics. The next day, police responded to a burglary, which was again reported in the 200 block of Deatsville Highway. Someone broke in and stole a cash box with money inside. Johnson said detectives developed a suspect who they had dealt with on an unrelated case recently, connecting that person, identified as Jefferies, to the crimes. Today, police say they observed Jefferies driving a vehicle, which they stopped. Johnson said detectives found and recovered the stolen property from one of the businesses. "In speaking with our detectives, I understand that there is a very high likelihood of additional charges being filed against Mr. Jefferies, as they continue their investigation. Our detectives were able to recover additional stolen property after completing their interview with him following his arrest," Johnson said.

Sheffield police are investigating a fatal shooting that left one person dead and another wounded. Police Chief Ricky Terry said the incident happened at about 2:30 a.m. Friday at the Underground club, in the 200 block of South Columbia Avenue. Police were called to a gunshot victim. The wounded person, whose name has not yet been released, was taken to Helen Keller Hospital but died of injuries. A person detained at the scene for questioning was also wounded, but was treated and released from North Alabama Shoals Hospital.

A CVS store in southwest Atlanta was heavily damaged in a burglary attempt early Friday morning. Atlanta police say a box truck rammed through the front of the CVS at 2237 Cascade Road shortly after 4 a.m. They have not yet determined what was taken. This is a developing story. Check back for the latest developments.

A Hall County teen was arrested after allegedly breaking into a home and stealing a TV, according to the Hall County Sheriff's Office. Deputies said officers responded to the 2000 block of Oconee Circle around 11:15 a.m. and found three elderly women. They said Angel Juarez-Coreno, 15, walked into their home and flashed a bright light in their eyes. He then slapped one of the women and threatened to shoot them before stealing a TV and one of the women's cell phones. He has been charged with three counts of first-degree home invasion, three counts of armed robbery, three counts of exploitation of an elder person, battery and hindering a 911 call. Juarez-Coreno will be charged as an adult.

A man who's accused of sexually assaulting a woman at a Prattville shopping center faces a list of charges. Prattville police say at around 6:08PM last night, they and the fire department were called to the 2400 block of Pinnacle Lane on a call of trauma with injury. That location is in the High Point Town Center complex. Police say that's where they found a woman who said she was forced into a back room of the business and sexually assaulted. Police say the man also robbed the business and tried to set it on fire before running away. Police say the man, identified as 29-year-old Isaac Mathis of Pompano Beach, Florida, was found shortly thereafter and arrested. He is charged with rape, attempted murder, robbery and arson. He is being held at the Elmore County Jail without bond, under Aniah's Law. The woman was taken to a hospital for treatment.

A wanted suspect was shot and killed by police Friday evening at a Cobb County Walgreens, authorities said. The shooting happened shortly before 11:30 p.m. at the store in the 2600 block of Cobb Parkway, near Cumberland Boulevard and Truist Park. Police stated they located the suspect inside and tried to make contact. The GBI identified the man as Nathain Jenkins, 32, of Valdosta, and said he was wanted on outstanding warrants, but did not elaborate. At some point during the encounter, Jenkins was shot by police, the GBI confirmed. He was taken to Wellstar Kennestone Hospital and pronounced dead. No officers were injured. A handgun belonging to Jenkins was recovered from the scene, according to the GBI. Jenkins' s father, Darlland Jackson, told Channel 2 Action News that he was on the phone with his son when the shooting happened. He explained that Jenkins had been at a bar near the Walgreens and called to say that he was in trouble. "As I' m pulling inside Walgreens, I called him and said, 'Hey, there' s a bunch of cops running inside Walgreens.' I said, 'What' s going on?' " Jackson told the news station. The GBI was asked to conduct an independent investigation into the officer-involved shooting.

A suspect has been charged in a Tuscaloosa shooting that left one man dead and a second injured. Darrion Devonta "Buck" Boyd, 30, was taken into custody Thursday morning by U.S. Marshals. He is charged with murder in the Friday night killing of 23-year-old Emilio Travon Herndon. He is also charged with attempted murder for the second victim who sustained non-life-threatening injuries. The deadly shooting happened at 11:50 p.m. Friday at Creekwood Apartments on 40th Avenue in Tuscaloosa. Tuscaloosa Violent Crimes Unit Capt. Jack Kennedy said the shooting appears to be the result of a minor altercation. Boyd is being held without bail in the Tuscaloosa County Jail pending an Aniah' s Law bond hearing.

A 1-year-old child was shot early Saturday morning and a search is underway for the person who pulled the trigger, according to the Kershaw County Sheriff's Office. The baby is doing well in his recovery after his elbow was grazed by a bullet in the drive-by shooting, the sheriff's office said Monday in a news release. The shooting happened Saturday at about 12:30 a.m. when a home in the 600 block of St. Paul Road was hit. That's in Camden, near St. Paul United Methodist Church, not far from the junction with the U.S. 521 Bypass. Witnesses said a light colored SUV had its headlights off when it slowly approached the home, and at least one person began firing multiple shots. The 1-year-old victim was the only person hit by the gunfire. No other injuries were reported. There was no word about a shooter or shooters, or anyone else involved in the gunfire. Information about a motive for the shooting was not available. The sheriff's office said it thinks that the home was the shooter's intended target. "We do not believe this was a random shooting," Sheriff Lee Boan said in the release. "It appears to have been planned. The only thing we know for sure right now is our 1-year-old victim had absolutely nothing to do with the poor decision made by the shooter." No arrests have been reported, and the shooting continues to be investigated by the sheriff's office.

Five people were injured, including three teenagers, in a shooting Saturday night at a park in southwest Atlanta, according to authorities. Atlanta police said an event was being held at Rosa L. Burney Park as the gunfire erupted, which also left a woman in critical condition. Officers responded around 10 p.m. to a parking lot inside the park along Windsor Street after they heard several gunshots while patrolling the Mechanicsville neighborhood. At the scene, officers found five people suffering from gunshots wounds, all of whom were taken to the hospital. Police said the 29-year-old woman was in critical condition. The other four victims, a 17-year-old girl, a 16-year-old boy, a 15-year-old boy and a 33-year-old woman, were all said to be stable. Their names were not released. A motive is unclear, and police have not provided additional details about the event or what led to the shooting. An investigation is ongoing.

Shots fired into an apartment in Birmingham's Collegeville housing community left one person dead and another seriously injured. Two children inside the apartment escaped injury. The suspect appears to have been wounded in return gunfire. Police later Sunday identified the slain man as Brandon Lee. He was 35. North Precinct officers were dispatched about 11:55 p.m. Saturday to the apartment on 30th Avenue North. They made entry into the home and found a man and woman injured. The man was pronounced dead on the scene, said Officer Truman Fitzgerald. The woman was taken to UAB Hospital with life-threatening injuries. Fitzgerald said the preliminary investigation indicates there was some type of argument prior to the shooting. Those involved know each other. The dispute possibly started on the social audio app Clubhouse. The argument could be heard on the app, as well as someone saying to call the police. Multiple shots could also be heard live as it was happening. When the suspect arrived at the apartment, he fired shots into the home. Someone in the apartment fired at least one shot at the suspect, Fitzgerald said. About 1:40 a.m. Sunday, the suspect showed up at UAB Hospital with a gunshot wound. His injuries aren't believed to be life-threatening. He remains under police guard at the hospital and is facing capital murder and attempted murder charges.

A South Carolina man was arrested Sunday following an armed standoff with law enforcement officers at a trailer home in the Midlands, according to the Saluda County Sheriff's Office. Deputies said they responded to a residence on Star Court after being told by members of the Greenwood County Sheriff's Office about a domestic violence assault involving a female victim. That's in Saluda, in the area between U.S. 178 and U.S. 378. Deputies learned that a man armed with rifle had barricaded himself inside a bedroom at the home, the Saluda County Sheriff's Office said in a news release. The man was later identified as Shannon Dale Rodgers, according to the release. Attempts were made to call Rodgers out of the residence, but they were unsuccessful, the sheriff's office said. The Saluda County Sheriff's Office's Special Response Team then entered the residence and took Rodgers into custody, according to the release. Neither Rodgers nor any deputies were injured during the incident, the sheriff's office said. There was no word if any shots were fired, or if any other tactical weapons were used. Rodgers was arrested on domestic violence charges and an outstanding warrant, according to the release. Information about the condition of the female victim was not available. In addition to the Greenwood County Sheriff's Office, members of the Greenwood Police Department and South Carolina Highway Patrol assisted the Saluda County Sheriff's Office. This is not the first time Rodgers has been arrested.

A 26-year-old man was killed Sunday in an exchange of gunfire with officers at an Athens gas station, officials said. Shortly after 1 a.m., Athens-Clarke County police responded to a Verizon store near Lexington Road and Gaines School Road after getting a call about a man who was waving a “machine gun” around, according to the GBI. The busy intersection sits in between several shopping centers near Satterfield Park. After officers arrived, the suspect, identified as Marquavious Sims, ran across Gaines School Road to the parking lot of a QuikTrip gas station. Officers chased Sims and repeatedly shouted at the suspect to drop the gun, the GBI said. “At one point, Sims turned and fired the gun at the pursuing officers. Two officers returned fire, hitting Sims multiple times,” according to the state agency. Sims was given medical aid at the scene before being taken to the hospital, where he was pronounced dead, the GBI said. No officers were injured during the incident. The GBI was asked to conduct an independent investigation into the officer-involved shooting. Sims’ body will be taken to the GBI Crime Lab in Decatur for an autopsy. Once the investigation is finished, the case will be given to the Clarke County District Attorney’s Office for review.

Durham police on Monday identified a man who was fatally shot Sunday as 18-year-old Devondra Mack of Durham. Two people, including Mack, were found shot just after 1 a.m in the North Roxboro Street and Club Boulevard area just north of Interstate 85. The second person who was shot, another adult male, was taken to a local hospital by Emergency Medical Services with non-life-threatening injuries. His name was not released. Police have released no other information.

WHAT DURHAM SHOOTING STATISTICS SHOW

The number of people shot in Durham is up this year compared to the previous two years, the Police Department’s crime statistics show. As of Aug. 3, 140 people had been shot in the city, 21 of them fatally. There were 119 people shot (23 fatal) by the same time in 2023 and 139 people shot (22 fatal) by the same time in 2022. Twenty of the 140 people shot this year, or 14%, were 18 to 20 years old.

Troy police are investigating a shooting that injured three people. Police say the shooting happened around 2:43 a.m. Sunday in the 300 block of Aster Avenue. Once they arrived, they located three victims with gunshot wounds. Two of the victims were taken to Troy Regional Medical Center for treatment. They were later transported by air ambulance to a Montgomery hospital for further treatment. The third victim received a graze wound, where he was treated and released on the scene. Police say none of their injuries are considered life-threatening. During the initial investigation officers discovered several apartment buildings and cars that were struck by gunfire.

A man was shot by DeKalb County police Sunday morning after he allegedly charged at officers while holding a shotgun, authorities said. DeKalb police were called just before 8:45 a.m. to the area of Southland Point and Southland Ridge after getting reports of a man armed with a shotgun, who was threatening his own life, police Chief Mirtha Ramos said during a press conference. When officers arrived, they told the man several times to drop the weapon, but he refused, Ramos said. “Instead, the male charged at the officers, leaving them no choice but to fire several times,” the chief said. DKPD investigates an Officer Involved Shootin. According to authorities, the man was shot once and taken to the hospital, where he is said to be stable. The officers involved have been placed on administrative leave, police said. Residents are asked to stay clear of the area after the shooting, which is being investigated by the GBI. It was the third officer-involved shooting in Georgia and the second in metro Atlanta since Friday, when a wanted suspect was shot and killed by Cobb police at a Walgreens on Cobb Parkway near Cumberland Boulevard.

A man is being charged with murder after police say he intentionally hit a woman Sunday as she waited for the bus in Athens. Athens-Clarke County Police officers responded to the 2000 block of Atlanta Highway on Sunday around 6:13 p.m. where they found Shelby Cox, 45, suffering from injuries. Despite life-saving efforts, police said she was taken to the hospital where she died. During the investigation, police identified 58-year-old Scott Tate as the suspect. He was taken into custody with the help of the Oconee County Sheriff's Department. He is being charged with murder, hit and run, reckless driving and failure to maintain lane. Police tell Atlanta News First that the victim and suspect were in a relationship and that they believe Tate intentionally hit Cox.

DeKalb County Police are investigating what they believe is a murder-suicide in which a mother and daughter died Sunday night. At this time, there has been very little additional information offered by police. What we do know is that this happened at the Polo Club Apartments on Ashley Creek Circle. Police said the daughter was 11 years old. Officers said they found the mother and daughter just before 8 p.m. on Sunday. "Upon arrival, officers located two females deceased from a gunshot wound," a police statement said. Their names have not been released at this time.

A 12-year-old boy was found shot to death Sunday night in Prichard, police said Monday, and authorities are looking to question a 16-year-old relative in connection with the incident. Prichard Det. Lt. Richard Martin told a news conference Monday that he could not provide extensive details on the case since it's ongoing. "We do know that there was a tragedy that occurred last night between the hours of 7 o'clock p.m. and 8 o'clock p.m. in the 500 block of Snyder Drive," Martin said. EMS personnel were called to the scene and pronounced the 12-year-old boy dead of a single gunshot wound, the detective said. The Mobile County Sheriff's Office's Crime Scene Unit were also called to the scene and collected evidence that Martin said he couldn't get into. "It appears that an incident transpired at this location and subsequently a 12-year-old juvenile has been killed at this location," he said. Police are actively looking for relatives of the boy, including 16-year-old J-yquavious Hill, who is being sought for questioning. No guns were discovered at the crime scene, Knight said. Prichard Mayor Jimmie Gardner called the deadly shooting a "tragic situation" and criticized state lawmakers who passed permitless carry legislation in 2023, blaming the measure for a surge in gun violence. "This is a problem," the mayor said. "There are folks who cannot deal with their mental issues. They can't deal with conflict resolution."

A person was shot to death at a Midtown MARTA station Sunday night, officials said. A MARTA security officer heard gunshots around 9 p.m. at the Arts Center station, less than a mile west of Piedmont Park. The guard found one victim with a gunshot wound on the bus loop, according to MARTA officials. The victim later died at the hospital. The person's name has not been publicly released. MARTA's security officers ride buses and trains to assist people and alert officers to dangerous situations. They work alongside MARTA police, but they are not sworn officers. Police have not released any additional details about the case. They did not provide a suspect description but said they are working to identify the alleged shooter.

After two brothers were found with fatal gunshot wounds in the basement of a DeKalb County home Monday, quick work by detectives led to the arrests of two suspects on murder charges, authorities said. Officers were called to a home on Emerald Lake Drive in the Emerald Estates neighborhood off Snapfinger Road after getting reports of a shooting Monday, DeKalb police said. They found two victims with critical injuries. Both were taken to the hospital but later died, police said. They were identified as 21-year-old Broderick Shovely and 17-year-old Santino Shovely by the DeKalb Medical Examiner's Office. Police said detectives at the scene were able to quickly identify and track down two suspects, who were located about 10 miles away in the Wishing Well Hills neighborhood near Conley. One of the suspects was found at a home on Rockey Valley Drive in the same clothes they were wearing during the alleged shooting, police said. The second suspect was found nearby and both were taken into custody without incident and booked into the DeKalb jail. They have not been publicly identified by police. They were each booked Wednesday on two counts of murder and two counts of criminal attempt to commit a felony.

A 16-year-old boy was shot while sitting inside his vehicle at a Hoover apartment complex. The gunfire erupted at 7:16 a.m. Monday at The Benton Apartment Homes on Primm Lane. Capt. Keith Czeskleba said 911 received several calls about multiple shots fired at the complex. When officers arrived, they found the wounded teen in his vehicle. Hoover Fire medics transported the teen to UAB Hospital with serious injuries. Police are still on the scene conducting an investigation and interviewing witnesses. There were roughly two dozen evidence markers in the parking lot. There are no suspects in custody at this time. Czeskleba said it's too soon to determine whether the victim was targeted.

A morning shooting at a Birmingham motel left one person dead. The shots rang out shortly after 9:30 a.m. Monday at the Anchor Motel in the 8400 block of First Avenue North. East Precinct officers arrived to find the adult male victim unresponsive in the parking lot with at least one gunshot wound. A bystander was performing CPR on the man. The victim was taken by Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service to UAB Hospital and pronounced dead shortly after arrival. Sgt. LaQuitta Wade said the victim was involved in a physical altercation with an unidentified suspect who then fired shots and fled the scene in a vehicle.

A South Carolina man was killed Monday as he left a courthouse, and another man involved in the same court hearing was charged with murder, according to the Laurens County Sheriff's Office. The Laurens County Coroner's Office said 34-year-old Woodruff resident Erin Lee Thomas was the victim, according to a Tuesday news release from the sheriff's office. Stephen Andrew White, a 32-year-old Laurens resident, is being held at the Laurens County Detention Center, according to the release. No bond has been set, jail records show. The sheriff's office said that as the men left the Laurens County Courthouse at Hillcrest Square, White "ran his vehicle into" Thomas "and then proceeded to shoot him." The shooting happened at about 3:15 p.m. in the courthouse's parking lot, according to the sheriff's office. White was immediately taken into custody without incident, and courthouse staff quickly secured the scene as well as the courthouse, according to the release. Thomas was airlifted from the courthouse and later died, the sheriff's office said. No other injuries were reported. Information about the court hearing was not available, and there was no word on a motive for the shooting. The sheriff's office called the shooting an isolated incident, but said more information would not be released "to protect the integrity of this case."

A morning shooting in Center Point left one man dead. Jefferson County sheriff's deputies were dispatched at 6:19 a.m. Wednesday to a report of a person shot at 1641 First Street N.E. They arrived to find the man wounded in the front yard of the home. Sheriff's spokesman Henry Irby said deputies began CPR until Center Point Fire and Rescue arrived and pronounced him dead. His identity has not yet been released.

A man who was shot multiple times in front of a DeKalb County gas station died on Tuesday, according to the DeKalb County Police Department. Police said the shooting happened at a Citgo on Columbia Drive around 5 p.m. after the victim was involved in an altercation with the suspected shooter. The man killed was taken to a hospital for life-threatening injuries before he died. Police have not said who was involved in the shooting.

Authorities have released the name of a man killed in a Birmingham shooting as the search for the gunman continues. Birmingham police Wednesday identified the victim as Charlie Moore. He was 61. Moore became the city's 100th homicide Tuesday night when he was shot to death inside an apartment at North Birmingham Homes public housing community, also known as Vice Hills. Shortly before 8:30 p.m. Tuesday, the police department's Real Time Crime Center specialists alerted North Precinct officers they spotted a stolen vehicle in Vice Hills. Officers arrived on the scene and found the stolen vehicle in the 3100 Block of 43rd Avenue North. Officers then heard shots coming from a nearby apartment. A North Precinct officer saw an armed suspect exit the apartment. "Our officer confronted the armed suspect and during the confrontation, our officer fired shots at the armed suspect," said Officer Truman Fitzgerald. The suspect got into the passenger side of the stolen vehicle, which then sped away. North Precinct officers pursued the stolen vehicle until the occupants abandoned the vehicle in the 4100 Block of Fairmont Place. During the pursuit, additional North Precinct officers responded to the apartment where shots were fired, Fitzgerald said. Officers entered the apartment and found Moore unresponsive inside. Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service pronounced him dead on the scene at 8:45 p.m. Fitzgerald said Wednesday morning no arrests have been made. Also, he said, it wasn't clear if the officer's bullets struck the armed homicide suspect.

A 30-year-old man was killed in an overnight Montgomery shooting. Police and fire medics responded at 10:10 p.m. Tuesday to a report of a person shot in the 4600 block of Virginia Loop Road. Maj. Saba Coleman said officers found the victim unresponsive. He was pronounced dead on the scene. The victim has been identified as Marcus Bellinger. He lived in Montgomery. No other details have been released.

Standing in front of another Atlanta construction site where alleged arsonists set fire to equipment Wednesday, police Chief Darin Schierbaum delivered a stern warning. “Ladies and gentlemen, this is a ticking time bomb,” he said. This time, he was referring to the damage at the site of a townhome development along Memorial Drive at the edge of the Kirkwood and Parkview neighborhoods. But over the past two years, the chief has been called to the scene of numerous incidents as opponents of Atlanta’s planned public safety training center target companies involved in its construction. “If these arson attacks continue, and in the manner that they’re escalating in populated areas, someone is going to lose their life,” he cautioned. Wednesday’s fire started after two suspects are believed to have entered the multi-acre site around 2 a.m. before fleeing into the surrounding neighborhood. “We are very fortunate that a fuel tank containing a significant amount of fuel did not explode this morning,” Schierbaum said. “The (nearby) homes could easily have been set on fire ... had that fuel tank exploded.” Evan Pitstick, who lives nearby, told The Atlanta Journal-Constitution he saw the fire hours earlier and was concerned until police told him he shouldn’t worry. “I don’t think that would be a very productive way to protest, personally,” he said. “I don’t really like the idea of (the training center), but it (protests) doesn’t seem very well thought out to me.” Officials asked residents in the area to check their security cameras for anything that may have been recorded in the overnight hours.

Dallas County deputies catch two theft suspects — in the act of stealing copper — during a sting operation early Wednesday morning. Sheriff Mike Granthum says deputies caught the suspects red-handed — prying copper off the old National Guard Armory building — in Selma. “We set up a sting operation at the crack of dawn this morning,” said Granthum. “I mean, we were going to catch these guys.” Deputies arrested 46 year old Randall Murphy of Valley Grande — and 45 year old Mac Norwood of Selma — during the sting and took them into custody. “We seen them get out of the vehicle and they had burglary tools in their hands,” Granthum said. “Once they got there they used these crow bars and were prying the copper off the metal structure of the building.” Murphy and Norwood are each facing multiple charges in the case. “They’ve been charged with Theft-of-Property 1st, Criminal-Mischief 1st, Possession-of-Burglary-Tools and Criminal-Trespass. They’re behind bars. And that’s where they belong. And they don’t have to worry about stealing to buy food or buy a bed, cause that’s what we’re going to give them.” Murphy and Norwood are each being held on $66,000 dollars bond.

A west Jefferson County man is behind bars, accused of trying kidnap a young child from a Fairfield gas station. Jimmy Cone, 55, is charged with child abuse maltreat and first-degree kidnapping. Jefferson County sheriff’s deputies were dispatched Wednesday to Marathon on Aaron Aronov Drive on a report of an attempted abduction of a 4-year-old, said spokesman Henry Irby. The young victim was checked out by Fairfield Fire and Rescue. Irby said Cone tried to forcefully take the victim from the mother. The mother was able to immediately gain control of her child, and the suspect left the store. The suspect did not know the victim. Irby said deputies received a description of the suspect. Cone was taken into custody within two blocks of the gas station. Deputies received a description of the suspect and quickly located him within 2 blocks of the scene and took him into custody. Cone was booked into the Jefferson County Jail shortly after 10 p.m. Wednesday. He remains held on bonds totaling $45,000.

[8/22/2024] Five people have been arrested and accused of stealing commercial building materials, according to Hall County deputies. Search warrants were executed at an apartment complex in the 6000 block of Peachtree Industrial Boulevard and a house in the 3000 block of McElroy Road in Atlanta on Aug. 14. Five men were later identified and arrested. According to Hall County deputies, the men were identified as: Jose Amaya Martinez, 27; Juan Adrian Torres Tello, 30; Gabriel Amaya Zalasar, 30; Margarito Amaya Zalasar, 20; Miguel Amaya Zalasar, 24; Gabriel Amaya Zalasar and Miguel Amaya Zalasar were booked into Jackson County jail, while the other three men were booked into DeKalb County jail. Hall County deputies said the theft ring began in June and stole nearly $500,000 worth of roofing material from construction sites. The five men have been charged with theft and conspiracy.

Raleigh police are investigating after three homes were damaged by gunfire overnight in the same neighborhood where a mass shooting killed five people in 2022. Officers responded at 3:47 a.m. Wednesday to reports of shots fired into a house in the 1900 block of Shadow Glen Drive in the Hedingham neighborhood, the Raleigh Police Department said in an email. There were no reported injuries. One home had dozens of bullet holes in the siding, windows, glass doors and foundation, WRAL reported. No arrests have been made, but police collected evidence and said they are following up on all potential leads. “We are deeply concerned about this incident and are relieved that no one was injured,” department spokesperson Lt. Jason Borneo said in a statement. “However, we recognize the impact an incident like this has on a community still healing from the October 2022 mass shooting,” he continued. “We are asking anyone with information related to this incident to contact Crimestoppers. This includes security camera footage identifying suspicious people or vehicles in the area.”

A man has been arrested after allegedly shooting at a car during a road rage incident near a school, according to Lilburn police. Police said an officer responded to Lilburn Stone Mountain Road and Arcado Road around 7:30 a.m. Wednesday. Parkview Christian School is located at the intersection. A man claimed his car was shot at by another driver after the driver tailgated him. The victim's car was hit in the driver side mirror, according to police. The driver was not injured. Morgan Staton was arrested and charged with the shooting. He has been charged with aggravated assault, criminal use of an article with an altered identification mark and possession of a firearm or knife during the commission of or attempt to commit certain crimes.

A fight between two Birmingham high school students left one cut and another in police custody. Birmingham police school resource officers were notified about 9:15 a.m. Wednesday on a report of a fight inside Huffman High School. When the officers arrived, said Officer Truman Fitzgerald, school security and administrators had already separated the two boys and security had wrestled the knife from a 15-year-old student. A 17-year-old boy, Fitzgerald said, was cut. A school nurse and Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service treated the victim for his injuries, which were minor. The parents of both students were notified, Fitzgerald said. The 15-year-old was arrested and placed in the custody of Jefferson County Family Court. The police department's Felony Assault Unit is working with the Jefferson County District Attorney's Office on formal charges. Fitzgerald credited school security with quickly breaking up the fight. Sherrel Wheeler Stewart, strategy and communications officer for Birmingham City Schools, said a stabbing was averted. "A student smuggled a knife into the school and tried to stab a classmate," she said. "A security officer intervened; however, a student was nicked by the knife." Security is investigating to determine how the knife made it past the scanners. "The safety of our scholars and our employees," she said, "is a priority at Huffman and in Birmingham City Schools."

An armed man was involved in a standoff with deputies Wednesday after barricading himself inside an apartment, according to the Richland County Sheriff's Department. The incident began at about 11 a.m., when deputies went to 716 Zimalcrest Drive in Columbia in response to a report of a robbery. The victim told deputies a man armed with a pistol had stolen a gun from them the night before. While speaking with the victim, deputies learned that the suspect — later identified as 22-year-old Ahkeevius Taylor — was seen inside an apartment. Deputies made contact with Taylor and the other people inside the apartment. While having the occupants exit the apartment, deputies heard shots fired from inside and saw Taylor retreat inside the apartment, where he was alone when he set up a barricade, the sheriff's department said. The deputies called for backup and the Sheriff's Department's special response team came and evacuated the surrounding apartments. A drone and police dog were also used, as deputies told Taylor to surrender. At about 12:30 p.m., the special response team used "distractionary devices," prompting Taylor to surrender without incident and he was taken into custody. During a search deputies found two stolen guns. One of the firearms was the gun that had been stolen from the victim during the Tuesday robbery, while the other was stolen out of Newberry County. Taylor was taken to the Alvin S. Glenn Detention Center where he was charged with strong arm robbery, kidnapping and possession of a stolen firearm, the Sheriff's Department said. No bond has been set. Taylor is scheduled to appear in court again for these charges on Oct. 25, Richland County judicial records show.

One teenager was shot Wednesday and another was locked up, according to the Sumter Police Department. An 18-year-old was airlifted to a hospital in Columbia where he's being treated following what police called a "domestic-related shooting." In a news release issued Thursday, police said that the teen was listed in stable condition in the morning. A 15-year-old is being held in a South Carolina Department of Juvenile Justice facility. The 15-year-old was charged with attempted murder, possession of a handgun by a person under 18 and discharging a firearm into an occupied vehicle. The shooting happened Wednesday afternoon, and officers found the victim on Ash Street at about 2:45 p.m. Officers learned that the 18-year-old Sumter resident was parked in front of a residence on Barwick Drive when shots were fired into his vehicle. He tried to drive away, but crashed and then ran to Ash Street where police were called. The 15-year-old ran from Barwick Drive, but was soon located by officers and taken into custody, police said. Information about a motive for the shooting was not available, but it continues to be investigated by police.

A man was killed Wednesday afternoon at a home in Gwinnett County, police said. The homicide occurred in the 6200 block of Josephine Road, an area just south of Buford Highway and near Norcross. Investigators said they focused their efforts on a house where they found a man shot to death around 3:30 p.m. The victim was not publicly identified. The shooting appears to have happened after an argument between the victim and at least one other person, authorities confirmed. The motive remains unknown. Officials told Channel 2 Action News that a suspected shooter fled the scene and remains on the run.

Griffin police are investigating an overnight shooting. Officers say they found a 20-year-old who had been shot in the stomach in the area of E Central Avenue and 2nd Street Wednesday night. He was flown to Grady Memorial Hospital and is currently listed in critical condition. A suspect has not been identified at this time.

One person is dead and another was injured in a shooting Thursday afternoon in a northwest Atlanta neighborhood near Center Hill Park, authorities said. Few details have been released, and officers remain at the scene on Hill Street, Atlanta police said. The shooting victims were found at a home in the residential neighborhood. One person was pronounced dead by medical personnel at the scene, police said. The second victim was suffering from a gunshot wound, but police did not provide further details about their injury. No one has been arrested and police did not say if any suspects had been identified.

A man was shot outside a Family Dollar in Lithonia on Thursday afternoon, according to police. DeKalb County police said they responded to a person shot at a Family Dollar store located at 7042 Covington Hwy. They found a 25-year-old man in the parking lot who had been shot in the chest. The man was taken to the hospital with life-threatening injuries. According to police, the man may have been speaking with the suspect in the parking lot before the shooting.

There was an attempted break-in at a CVS in DeKalb County. It happened at the CVS location at 2586 Lawrenceville Highway in Decatur. DeKalb dispatch says the call came in at 2 a.m. Atlanta News First is working to get more information from police about this incident. This is the third time something like this has happened in just over a month. Last week, a CVS on Cascade Road was hit by a box truck. Investigators say it was an attempt to steal the ATM inside. And in July, the CVS on Powers Ferry Road was hit in a similar way. Cobb County investigators say the people responsible also tried to take the ATM from inside. Right now, officials have not said if these three break-ins are connected.

Multiple businesses were burglarized in the Hugh Howell Marketplace shopping center in Tucker early Thursday morning. At least one of the thefts was caught on camera. Surveillance video shows a window being smashed at the Magical Waxing. Two masked suspects then unlock the door and take a register and touch screen. An employee there told Atlanta News First they were broken into the exact same way last year. According to our news partners at Decaturish, it happened before 5 a.m. Thursday. Employees at the Buffalo Wild Wings Go next door as well as Jersey Mikes also said they were burglarized. They said this has happened in the past as well. First Watch still has a boarded up door. Employees at First Watch, Jersey Mikes, and Buffalo Wild Wings Go were unable to confirm what exactly was taken. The employee at Magical Waxing said there was only a dollar in the register the suspects took. Several downtown Tucker businesses were broken into on Main Street last month, just about a mile away from the shopping center. The businesses hit included Village Burger, Munster Cravings, Corner Cup, and Las Colinas. There have not been any arrests yet in those cases. When asked if there could be any connection between the two incidents, DeKalb County Police said they would be looking into it.

A predawn shooting in Northport left one man dead and his nephew in custody. Northport police were dispatched at 5:45 a.m. to Knoll Circle apartments on a report of a shooting. Tuscaloosa Violent Crimes Unit Capt. Jack Kenned said officers got on the scene after found 37-year-old Otis Keon Coleman dead from a gunshot wound. Family told investigators that he was shot by his nephew. Keyontae Franshon Coleman, 27, is charged with murder. He is being held without bond in the Tuscaloosa County Jail. Kennedy said the motive remains under investigation.

Mobile police are investigating a fatal shooting outside a west Mobile gas station Thursday. According to police, the shooting occurred at 10:11 p.m. at a Chevron gas station at 4126 Moffett Road. Upon arrival police discovered a vehicle, gas pump and a nearby home were struck by gunfire. No one inside the home was injured. While on the scene, officers learned that a male victim was transported by a personal vehicle to a local hospital where he was pronounced dead. The identity of the victim was not released by police. Upon further investigation, the officers discovered the gunfire originated from a vehicle that had entered the parking lot.

A home invasion in Brookhaven on Thursday night led to a pursuit that ended in a crash and an allegedly armed suspect being shot by police, according to the GBI. The situation started around 11 p.m. when Brookhaven police were called about an active burglary at a home in the 2700 block of Caldwell Road. A woman saw four armed suspects inside her house on her surveillance camera, the GBI said. After calling police, the homeowner called a friend, who went to the house and confronted the suspects, the GBI confirmed. A shootout took place between the suspects and the homeowner's friend just before police arrived. Officers saw the suspects speed away in a silver Lexus, authorities said. Police unsuccessfully tried to pull it over and a pursuit ensued. The suspects eventually crashed into a utility pole nearly three miles away near a CarMax dealership on Peachtree Industrial Boulevard in Chamblee, officials said. All four suspects got out of the car and started to run away, according to the GBI. The driver, identified as Albert Eugene Burns, 19, of Snellville, exited the vehicle with a gun in his hand, the GBI said. That prompted an officer to open fire, striking Burns, authorities confirmed. Burns then dropped the gun, the GBI said, and continued running. As he ran, he dropped a second gun and tried to pick it up, which is when the officer shot him again, the GBI said. Burns was taken to a hospital and described as critical but stable, Brookhaven police said. No officers were injured. The GBI said two other suspects — Davion Harper, 22, and Tyson Kamari Kirksey, 18, both of Conyers — were arrested with the help of the Chamblee, Doraville and Dunwoody police departments and taken to the DeKalb County jail, where they were each booked on a charge of first-degree burglary, according to

A teenager is accused of stealing a car Friday with a 2-month-old baby inside, according to Clayton County police. Jonathan Johnson, 17, then crashed the car and ran from officers and deputies before he was captured. But investigators said the baby was no longer in the 2008 Acura. Johnson told officers he had placed the baby behind a dumpster. "Arresting officers were advised by the male that he had removed the child from the vehicle and placed her behind a dumpster, but he could not recall the location," Clayton County police said in a media statement. After searching apartment complexes along Mt. Zion Road, the baby girl was found at the Tara Woods Apartments, police said. She was unharmed and reunited with her mother. According to the baby's mother, she had parked her vehicle at Champion Wings and Fish near Jonesboro and left the keys inside and the car running while she went to pick up food, police said. She came outside to see her car being driven away by someone she didn't know. After an alert was issued to find the car, Clayton County deputies saw the Acura turn in front of them from Southlake Parkway and Mt. Zion Road made an attempt to initiate a traffic stop, investigators said. But the driver didn't stop and drove at a high rate of speed, traveling onto a sidewalk and concrete median before crashing near a cemetery. Johnson was charged with motor vehicle theft, kidnapping, reckless conduct, hit-and-run, cruelty to children, fleeing and eluding, disobeying a traffic control device and reckless conduct, according to police.

A woman was shot by a Gordon County deputy early Friday morning after allegedly pointing her gun at law enforcement, according to the sheriff's office. A little after midnight, deputies were called to a home on Erwin Hill Church Road near Sonoraville after a 911 caller reported a domestic disturbance. As they tried to speak with her, the woman repeatedly pointed her handgun at them, leading to the shooting, the sheriff's office said. The woman surrendered, and an ambulance took her to a local hospital, where she is expected to recover. No deputies were injured in the incident. The Georgia Bureau of Investigation has been called to look into the case.

[8/22/2024] Henry County authorities are on the lookout for a man who allegedly pulled off a heist at a local Target, making off with over $2,000 worth of Pokémon collector's cards. The suspect was caught on camera entering the Target store at 1850 Jonesboro Road in McDonough on the morning of August 16. Henry County Police Department said he was sporting a pink shirt, black pants, a backpack, and a cap. The man seemed to have one goal in mind: gotta catch 'em all — without paying, of course. Footage shows him picking up two storage bins and loading them with several packs of Pokémon collector's cards. Then, like a Quick Attack, he exited the store. The total damage? $2,152.99, not factoring in possible resale value. Police said he drove away in a white Chevrolet Equinox with Alabama license plates.

A man has been seriously injured in a shooting in Montgomery. Capt. Raymond Carson told Action 8 News that at around 1:14 this morning, police were called to a hospital where a man was being treated for a life-threatening gunshot wound. Carson said that investigators have determined the shooting happened in the 3700 block of Audubon Road. That address is near the East Patton Avenue/Adrian Lane intersection. Carson said there was no more information available for release.

One man stabbed another at a Rock Hill Islamic center before security shot and injured the assailant on Friday afternoon, according to city police. Police don't suspect the incident was "based on religious practices" but said in a news release the men who were stabbed and shot were acquaintances. The incident happened a little after 2 p.m. at the Masjid Al Salaam at 222 West Main St. Travaughn West, 27, of Rock Hill, approached a 44-year-old man after a service and stabbed him in the abdomen, according to the report. An on-site security guard confronted West and shot him after West continued to act "in a violent manner," police say. West fled, and officers found him in the Laurel Street area. Police described the gunshot wounds as minor. Officers also found the stabbing victim at the mosque and transported him to Piedmont Medical Center. Both men are expected to recover, according to police. After West is released from the hospital, he will face charges of assault and battery of a high and aggravated nature and possession of a knife during a violent crime.

A teen is in jail after police say he fired shots at a girl in a Dothan park because she didn't give him her phone number. Officers responded about 7:30 p.m. Friday to Solomon Park on Choctaw Street on a report of shots fired. Dothan police Lt. Scott Owens said officers saw a vehicle leaving with several juveniles inside. They stopped the vehicle and found guns inside. They also recovered fresh spent shell casings in the park. Fortunately, Owens said, no one was injured. A 17-year-old boy was taken into custody for questioning. Witnesses and the suspect told police he was angry at the target of the shooting because she had not given him her phone number at school earlier that day. At Solomon Park, he saw the victim with her boyfriend and opened fire with a 9mm handgun. The teen is being charged as an adult with two counts of first-degree attempted assault. He is being held in the Houston County Jail. "The Dothan Police Department takes this type of conduct very seriously and will hold any person engaging in this type of conduct accountable according to the law," Owens said. "It is a miracle that no one was injured or killed by the actions of this suspect."

A man is dead following an overnight shooting on King Street, the Columbia Police Department announced Saturday. Officers were called to the 1200 block of King Street in the Melrose Heights neighborhood around midnight. The area is east of downtown Columbia. One person was detained for questioning, police said. The Richland County Coroner's Office has not yet publicly identified the man. Police are still investigating and will continue to share updates, the department said in a post on X.

[10/10/2024] Three people, including a teenager, were arrested on multiple charges following a recent shooting, according to the Columbia Police Department. Maalik Corley, 19, Demarco Gleaton, 23, and Ma' ziya Mills, 23, were charged for their roles in connection with an Aug. 17 attempted murder and armed robbery investigation. In August, Mills asked a man — who police called the victim — to meet her on Ripplemeyer Avenue. Mills extended the invitation despite knowing that Corley and Gleaton were going to commit crimes, police said. The victim was approached by Corley and Gleaton, who broke into his car and stole items. The victim ran away but Corley and Gleaton chased him down, then held him at gunpoint and assaulted him. When the victim tried to defend himself, Corley shot at him. The victim was not struck by gunfire. When Corley was arrested Tuesday, he was charged with attempted murder, armed robbery, possession of a weapon during a violent crime, auto breaking, larceny and conspiracy, jail records show. While a $2,125 bond was set on the larceny charge, bond was denied on the remaining counts and Corley is currently locked up in the Alvin S. Glenn Detention Center. Gleaton was taken into custody Wednesday and was charged with armed robbery, first-degree assault and battery, auto breaking, larceny and conspiracy. Like Corley, Gleaton had a $2,125 bond set on the larceny charge but was denied bond on the other counts, and he remains behind bars. When Columbia police arrested Corley and Gleaton, officers seized a gun that was reported stolen out of Winston-Salem, North Carolina. Mills was arrested Tuesday and was charged with conspiracy, accessory before the fact to a felony as well as after the fact to a felony. Bond was set at $75,000 on Mills'

A South Carolina woman was recently arrested on multiple charges after she was involved in a domestic disturbance, hit a patrol vehicle and led law enforcement officers on a chase, all while a child was involved, the Sumter County Sheriff's Office said Monday. Imani Kierra Stephens, a 23-year-old Wedgefield resident, was charged with child endangerment, assault and battery of a high and aggravated nature, failure to stop for a blue light, resisting arrest, uninsured motorist and operating an unregistered vehicle. The charges stem from an Aug. 17 incident. At about 1 a.m., deputies responded to a report about a domestic disturbance near U.S. 378 and S.C. 261. As one deputy approached they saw a vehicle make a quick right turn toward the guardrail and a victim who was on foot run away from the front of the vehicle. Stephens was later identified as the driver, and a child also was inside the vehicle. The victim saw the deputy and ran to them asking for help, saying Stephens was trying to hit them with their vehicle. Stephens then drove the vehicle to the front of the deputy's patrol car and got out before being told by the deputy to get back inside the vehicle and wait. After Stephens returned to the vehicle, she tried to turn around and hit the deputy's patrol car before driving away. Another responding deputy saw Stephens driving away and followed, then tried to make a traffic stop. Stephens ignored the patrol vehicle that had its blue lights on, and didn't stop until she drove to a nearby home. Stephens took the child from the vehicle and ran to another residence, and when the deputy approached she went inside and locked the door behind her. When additional deputies located Stephens, she gave the child to a resident and resisted arrest before being taken into custody. Stephens was taken to the Sumter

A disabled veteran was killed in a hit-and-run when he was crossing a Birmingham intersection in his wheelchair. Billy Ray Hall Jr., 59, was struck at 1:55 a.m. Saturday on Georgia Road and 52nd Way North, according to the Jefferson County Coroner's Office. He was pronounced dead on the scene at 2:14 a.m. The driver left the scene, said Chief Deputy Coroner Bill Yates. Birmingham police are investigating the deadly crash. Authorities said all efforts to find family members of Hall to notify them of his death have been unsuccessful. Yates said Hall was believed to be a disabled veteran and all known family members are dead. Records indicate Hall lived in the Coalburg community for several years.

Wake Forest police are investigating a homicide after a 29-year-old man shot over the weekend died from his injuries. The man, whose name is being withheld pending notification of his family, was shot along the 1000 block of East Wait Avenue just before 3 a.m. Saturday. He was taken to the hospital with serious injuries. Police have not made any arrests or released information about a suspect in the shooting.

A Marietta man has been arrested in connection with a deadly shooting Saturday morning at a home in Cobb County, according to authorities. Cobb police were called just after 10:30 a.m. to the gunfire in the 2400 block of Clay Road near Austell, spokesman Sgt. Eric Smith said. The residence is near Flint Hill Road and a stone's throw from Sweetwater Park. When officers arrived, they found 26-year-old Pablo Alejandro Sandoval, of Kennesaw, lying on his back in the front yard with a gunshot wound to the chest, police said. "Austell Fire responded to the scene to render medical aid, but he was beyond lifesaving measures," Smith added. Following an investigation, officers identified 39-year-old Anthony Alex McDuffie as a suspect. McDuffie was booked into the county jail early Sunday on murder and firearm charges, according to online records. He is being held without bond. A motive is unclear, and authorities have not shared any additional details about the shooting.

A late-night shooting in Brighton left a 19-year-old man dead. Jefferson County sheriff's deputies were notified by Brighton police officials that a shooting had taken place about 11:30 p.m. Saturday on Jaybird Road and Edward Street. Deputies and detectives arrived to find the victim unresponsive in the roadway near a silver vehicle. He had been shot and was dead on the scene. Investigators found a second crime scene nearby where there was an abandoned blue vehicle. Evidence there indicated that someone inside that vehicle may have been injured. No additional details have been released, and no arrests have been made. Sheriff's officials have not released the identity of the victim.

Atlanta police are seeking the public's help looking for a person of interest in a southwest Atlanta burglary. Police said officers responded to 2763 Metropolitan Pkwy. SW Sunday and found evidence that the burglar had forced entry through the business' roof. Anyone with information should contact Crime Stoppers Atlanta at 404-577-8477. There is a reward of up to $2,000.

The Georgia Bureau of Investigation (GBI) said a 60-year-old man was killed Sunday night when he pointed a gun at SWAT officers as Bartow County deputies responded to a domestic call in Adairsville. The GBI said Chris Cochran barricaded himself inside his home off Wesley Mill Drive after his wife and the crisis intervention team took shelter across the street when death threats were made toward them. "Cochran was known to have a large number of rifles in his house," the GBI said. "Cochran ran back inside his home, which is across the street from where the wife was located. Cochran began to break windows of his home, threatening to kill them." The GBI said SWAT was called to remove the deputies, wife and witnesses and to take Cochran into custody. That's when it said Cochran "pointed a long gun out of a second story window and repeatedly threatened SWAT, the deputies, and the witnesses outside." A SWAT officer shot Cochran, who was pronounced dead at the scene by the coroner's office. The incident happened one day after a Paulding County deputy was killed in a domestic situation.

An officer-involved shooting early Sunday left one person dead in Opelika. Opelika police were dispatched at 3:07 a.m. to Century Park Apartments on Century Boulevard to a report of a suspicious incident. The responding officer encountered a person who was armed with a gun, police officials said. There was an altercation, and shots were fired by the officer. Medical aid was rendered at the scene, but the person was pronounced dead. He or she has not yet been identified. The officer was not injured. The State Bureau of Investigation was called in to lead the probe, which is standard procedure for officer-involved shootings. Once the investigation is complete, the evidence will be presented to the Lee County District Attorney's Office for review.

Two people were killed early Sunday morning in a shooting at a South Carolina hotel, according to the Sumter Police Department. The Sumter County Coroner's Office has not publicly identified the victims. The shooting happened at the Sleep Inn at 2510 Broad Street, police said in a news release. That's in an area of Sumter densely packed with hotels and restaurants. At about 4:30 a.m., officer responded to call about a shooting and the victims were found dead at the hotel, according to the release. No other injuries were reported. There was no word about a shooter or shooters, or anyone else involved in the gunfire. Information about a motive for the shooting was not available. No arrests have been reported, and the shooting continues to be investigated by police, who said they are in the early stages of the investigation.

There was a shooting at a Kroger supermarket in Columbia on Sunday, according to the Richland County Sheriff's Department. No injuries were reported, the sheriff's department said in a news release. At about 5:45 p.m., the sheriff's department reported the shooting happened at the Kroger grocery store on Killian Road. The sheriff's department said the incident at Kroger was not an active threat to the public, and did not involve an active shooter. The shooting happened in the parking lot when two people were involved in an altercation, according to the release. Information about what led to the altercation was not available, and there was no word if the people involved knew each other prior to the shooting. No arrests have been reported, but the sheriff's department said a person was detained as deputies quickly secured the scene.

A Dothan man is under arrest on child sex charges involving a young girl. Adam Scott Moore, 40, is charged with second-degree rape and traveling to meet a minor for sex, Dothan police announced Tuesday. The victim is under the age of 16. On Monday, said Lt. Scott Owens, officers were called to the 200 block of Grand Villa Drive. Officers met with the victim's guardian who described inappropriate messages with someone who looked too old for the relationship. The suspect and the victim had connected through an online messaging system. The girl was taken to the Child Advocacy Center for an interview where she described a sexual relationship with Moore, Owens said. Officers located Moore at his residence and interviewed him at the Dothan Police Department. During an interview, Moore admitted to the sexual relationship. Moore admitted to picking up the girl from her home and going back to his residence. While there, he told investigators, he and the girl engaged in sexual activity. Moore was booked into the Houston County Jail with bond set at $90,000.

A Clayton County Police officer was arrested this week and accused of stealing from a rail company, the department confirmed Wednesday morning. Officer Jordan D. Sidney was booked on Monday on two charges -- theft of lost or mislaid property and violation of oath of office. Both are felony counts, according to a release. In a statement, Clayton County Police said they were first notified in June of theft from the railway line by Norfolk Southern Railway Police. At that time, "a collaborative criminal investigation began between the Clayton County District Attorney's Office, Clayton County Police Department Criminal Investigation Unit, and Norfolk Southern Railway Police," a statement said. The police statement added that Sidney "was captured on video removing property belonging to Norfolk Southern." "The investigation revealed sufficient probable cause that Jordan Sidney violated Georgia Law and the Policies of the Clayton County Police Department," CCPD said. The exact nature of the theft was not further detailed. Book records show Sidney spent more than 24 hours at the Clayton County Jail, before he was released a little before 9 p.m. on Tuesday. 11Alive has not yet obtained his mugshot, but will publish it when one is available.

A 68-year-old woman is now dead after police responded to reports of a dispute that led to a SWAT response in the Carroll Heights neighborhood Monday evening, according to Atlanta Police. It happened on Mercury Drive around 8:21 p.m. when officers responded to the call. When police arrived, they found a man who refused to comply with police orders. Authorities said the department deployed SWAT units to make the scene safe. They later found the woman dead on the scene. It's unclear how the woman died, but officers are calling the investigation a homicide. It's also unclear if the man is now in custody. No other information was released as investigators determined the circumstances surrounding the incident.

A Carroll County Sheriff's Office deputy was shot Tuesday morning while executing a search warrant, authorities confirmed. Details are limited, but the sheriff's office said the deputy was flown to Grady Memorial Hospital. Details of his condition were not provided. The incident happened in the area of Don Rich Drive, a dead-end road near Walker Lake that is just south of Carrollton. Law enforcement officers were carrying out a GBI search warrant, according to the sheriff's office. The nature of what they were searching for was not disclosed. "Please pray for the deputy, his family, and our department," the sheriff's office said in a social media post. The incident comes just days after a Paulding County sheriff's deputy was shot and killed Saturday evening while responding to a domestic dispute in the Harmony Creek neighborhood off Virgie Ballentine Drive. Shots were fired at the first two deputies who arrived at the home, officials said. Deputy Brandon Cunningham, 30, was struck and died at a hospital, Paulding County Sheriff Gary Gulledge confirmed. The wife of the alleged shooter had also been shot but was able to escape, officials said. She later returned to the home while deputies were still at the scene and was taken to a hospital, where she was said to be stable. The alleged shooter, James Samuel Atkins, was found dead inside the home late Saturday from a self-inflicted gunshot wound, police said. The GBI is investigating the incident.

One person is dead and another one is injured in what Atlanta police believe could be related incidents near Georgia Tech in west Midtown Tuesday afternoon. One person was shot at the intersection of Northside Drive NW and Marietta Street NW. The victim is alert and breathing, according to police. But the victim of the other shooting, located at Northside Drive NW and 10th Street NW, was pronounced dead at the scene. A Georgia Tech alert told students and staff to avoid 10th and Northside Drive as the investigation continues, adding that there is no current threat to campus. Police said the investigation is still ongoing. Check back with Atlanta News First as we learn more.

Jefferson County sheriff's deputies shot a person after a chase Tuesday afternoon in east Birmingham. The scene is still active and no details have been released. The ordeal appears to have started with a pursuit that traveled from Interstate 20 to Messer Airport Highway. There were possibly two wrecks during the pursuit. According to eyewitnesses, the suspect was going the wrong way on the exit ramp from I-20 onto Messer Airport Highway with deputies still in pursuit when he wrecked his car. The witnesses said he got out armed with a Draco gun and was shot three times in the back. Authorities have not confirmed that account. The suspect was taken by Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service to UAB Hospital. The severity of the suspect's injuries is not known, but a female deputy could be heard repeatedly screaming over law enforcement radios that the medics were needed immediately. Sheriff's spokesman Henry Irby said he could not release any information at this time. The Alabama Law Enforcement Agency has been called into lead the investigation which is standard for officer-involved shootings.

Fifteen horses were discovered in what authorities are describing as an “extremely malnourished” condition in Dacula, according to a spokesperson with Gwinnett County Animal Welfare and Enforcement on Tuesday. The animals are now being signed over to Gwinnett County as officials work to ensure their safety and recovery. Seven of the horses have already found foster care, and that number is expected to rise. However, if not all of the horses secure sponsors, Gwinnett County Animal Services is preparing to build a temporary shelter at Gwinnett Animal Welfare. The Gwinnett County Police Department has also confirmed that a 68-year-old woman has been taken into custody in connection with the case. The woman, whose exact charges have not been released, was booked on Tuesday, Aug. 20. She is currently held without bond. Cheryl Flannigan, owner of the nonprofit Save the Horses, shared photos of horses Tuesday evening following the arrest. Several others have reached out to 11Alive, stating that animal services have been to the home many times for the same or similar complaints, but the department has not confirmed that.

Two men were killed in separate early-morning shootings in the Birmingham area. The Jefferson County Coroner’s Office identified the victims as Brandon Barclay Jones, 44, and D’Anthony Dejuan Jones, 22. Brandon Jones was shot at 1:03 a.m. Tuesday in the 1200 block of Woodslee Street in eastern Jefferson County. He was pronounced dead on the front porch of a home at 1:28 a.m. A second man, 43, was injured but his wounds are not life-threatening. Jefferson County sheriff’s deputies are investigating his slaying. Sheriff’s spokesman Henry Irby said the shooting stemmed from an argument between two roommates. D’Anthony Jones was shot at 1 a.m. in the 2100 block of Avenue I in Ensley. He was taken to UAB Hospital where he died at 1:39 a.m. Birmingham police are investigating his slaying. No additional details have been released. The deadly shootings mark the 101st homicide in Birmingham this year, and the 128th in all of Jefferson County.

A suspect is dead, and a Carroll County deputy was hurt in a shooting as authorities tried to conduct a search warrant Tuesday morning. Investigator Taylor Bristow was rushed to the hospital to be treated for his injuries. The Georgia Bureau of Investigation is looking into the shooting. The shooting unfolded off Don Rich Road around 8:30 a.m. Authorities responded to the area to execute a child exploitation search warrant. The warrant was a part of an ongoing GBI investigation. The sheriff's office said Bristow was shot in the head. Bristow was taken to Grady Hospital in critical condition. Deputies said Bristow was out of surgery. The hospital performed a CT scan, and he was moved into the intensive care unit. Bristow is a six-year veteran of the Carroll County Sheriff's Office. He first worked as a deputy and is now an investigator for the sheriff's office. Before that, he worked as a jailer for the Ware County Sheriff's Office. He also spent some time as an officer with Waycross Police. The sheriff's office has had an outpour of support. "Anytime you have a scene like this, it's very fluid. It's very active. Obviously, it's going to be an ongoing investigation for quite some time. We're very fortunate here that our community loves our law enforcement, so of course, they want to come out and try to help. We greatly appreciate that," said Ashley Hulseley of the Carroll County Sheriff's Office. The sheriff's office reported earlier in the day that the suspect was dead. While the GBI shared that the shooting happened during the execution of a child exploitation search warrant, other details have not been released.

Two people are hurt after a stabbing at Woodruff Park in Downtown Atlanta on Tuesday morning, according to the police department. Authorities responded to the park at 20 Auburn Ave NE around 9:20 a.m. When officers arrived, they found two victims: a woman with a stab wound to her body and a man who also had a cut. APD said the woman was taken to the hospital alert, conscious and breathing, and the man was treated for his injury on scene by medical personnel. Officers were able to take a man into custody in connection with the stabbing, according to APD. The police department's aggravated assault unit is investigating the circumstances surrounding the stabbing.

A Warren County man faces a charge of involuntary manslaughter after allegedly leaving a disabled man in his care in a hot car for hours, the Johnston County Sheriff's Office said Wednesday. According to a news release, Rogers Lee Inge Jr., 55, of Warrenton, called 911 at 4:43 p.m. Tuesday while driving to report "he was responsible for the death of an individual who was in his vehicle." The operator told Inge to pull over at a fire department in Clayton, where Emergency Medical Services personnel found Dotarius Batts, 22, also of Warrenton, dead in the vehicle, the release said. Police said Inge, Batts' full-time caretaker through Universal Health Care, held a second job as a janitor at Cleveland High School and allegedly left Batts in his vehicle with the windows up and the engine off when he reported to the school at 8 a.m. Tuesday. "Mr. Batts was identified as a special needs adult who could not care for himself," the release said. According to Weather Underground, temperatures peaked around 80 degrees Fahrenheit in Clayton on Tuesday. On a day like that, the temperature inside a car can reach 109 degrees Fahrenheit within 20 minutes, according to a graphic from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. "Mr. Inge stated he checked on Mr. Batts at approximately 10 a.m. and he was fine," the release continued. By the time Inge returned at 4:17 p.m., Batts was dead, according to the release. Inge then left the school and called 911. Inge's bail was set at $35,000 secured, the release said. Detention records show he posted bail early Wednesday morning.

Many across metro Atlanta were suddenly jolted out of their sleep by the emergency tone on their phones after an Amber Alert was issued overnight. Roswell Police said around 6 p.m. on Tuesday, Aug. 20, a woman and her 4-year-old son were kidnapped. Detectives were able to develop a suspect throughout the evening, who was identified as 40-year-old Brian Betenia of Roswell. Almost seven hours after the kidnapping, the Georgia Bureau of Investigation issued a Levi's Call, which is the same as an Amber Alert in Georgia. Shortly after the state-wide alert was issued, Roswell Police received information that the suspect was in the Forsyth County area. The Forsyth County Sheriff's Office was notified, and deputies were put on alert. Almost 40 minutes after the alert went out, Forsyth County Sheriff Ron Freeman said his crime suppression unit spotted the suspect's vehicle in the area of Highway 141 near the Fulton County line. Sheriff Freeman said once deputies were able to confirm the SUV was, in fact, the suspect's vehicle, they initiated a traffic stop on Betenia, but he refused to pull over. The sheriff's office released an edited video of the pursuit on Wednesday afternoon. You can see Betenia driving recklessly as deputies come up with a plan to box him in. After several attempts to block Betenia in as the pursuit headed up Ga 400, a deputy threw out a spike strip to try and deflate the SUV's tires. A short time after Betenia hit the spike strip, he stopped in the area of Highway 369 in the county. In the dash cam video, you can see Betenia running from the vehicle and running into a Forsyth County deputy's SUV. Betenia then bounced back up and was Tazed a short time later and put into handcuffs. Other deputies in the pursuit were able to get the woman and child who were inside his SUV to safety. Sheriff Freeman said he

A large fight in the parking lot of an east Birmingham apartment complex ended in a deadly shooting that was captured live in Facebook videos. The fight broke out at Monarch Ridge apartments on Gallant Drive. The video showed the victim in a brawl that involved multiple people. It appeared to start near a vehicle in the parking lot and then moved to a breezeway in one of the apartment buildings and continued before a hail of gunfire erupted. Sgt. LaQuitta Wade said East Precinct officers were dispatched to the complex about 10 p.m. Tuesday. The initial calls were of shots fired, and then officers were updated that someone had been shot. When they arrived at the location, they found the victim – the mother of a young daughter – unresponsive in or near the parking lot. Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service pronounced her dead on the scene. The victim had posted her own live video from the apartment complex parking lot shortly before the fight and gunfire erupted. After the shooting, the heartbreaking cries of the victim's brother and sister could be heard on the videos. A second victim – a male – was taken to the hospital with non-life-threatening injuries. Wade said investigators learned that after the fight moved to the breezeway, it appeared to have been broken up. Moments later, the shots rang out. Initially, police said 36 shell casings were recovered but that number grew – as much as tripled – as the investigation continued. The shell casings were in two clusters in adjacent areas in the parking lot. Videos depicted even more shots fired, and witnesses contend it sounded like hundreds. After the shooting, someone fled in the female victim's Ford sedan. That, too, was captured on video. The stolen vehicle was found abandoned in the parking lot of J Wings on Center Point

[9/30/2024] A former officer faces multiple charges after Durham police say he assaulted a community member while on duty. Rayshawn Taylor, 35, is charged with first-degree kidnapping, sexual servitude and sexual battery, according to a news release. Taylor was arrested Monday morning in Mebane. The Durham Police Department received a complaint Aug. 21 alleging Taylor had sexually assaulted a community member during an interaction on duty that day. He was placed on administrative duty that same day and resigned Aug. 22, before the department's internal investigation ended. "Based on the preliminary investigation, the decision was made to open a criminal investigation into the incident which was initiated by the Durham Police Department's Criminal Investigations Division," the release stated. Investigators also contacted the FBI "due to the nature of the allegations and the fact that Taylor was acting in his official capacity when the alleged incident occurred," according to the release. Durham County District Attorney Satana Deberry also asked the State Bureau of Investigation to look into the alleged assault. In a brief press conference Monday, Capt. Randall Packard said Taylor was hired in January 2014 and was a corporal assigned to uniform patrol in the North Durham area when he resigned. Taylor previously served as a patrol officer in the community services division and worked in the special victims unit of the criminal investigations division. Chief Patrice Andrews said any cases involving Taylor in his capacity as an officer will be reviewed by the Durham County District Attorney's Office. Investigators searched Taylor's home Monday, and the FBI investigation is ongoing, police said. He was booked into the Durham County jail Monday.

[11/13/2024] A former school teacher has been charged with felony child abuse and two of his coworkers are accused of not reporting the crime, the Durham Police Department announced Tuesday. The investigation began Aug. 21 when officers responded to a report of an assault at Research Triangle Charter Academy on Ellis Road. The K-8 charter school opened in 2000 and has over 700 students, according to ABC11, The News & Observer's media partner. Raekwon Whitley, 28, who was working as a teacher at the Durham school, was accused of assaulting a student and causing serious physical injuries. Whitley was indicted Nov. 4 on charges of felony child abuse inflicting serious physical injury, aggravated assault on an individual with a disability, misdemeanor child abuse, and assault on a child under 12, the Police Department stated in a news release. The victim was a 5-year-old boy with a disability, the indictment states. It accuses Whitley of forcibly seating the boy in a chair and applying pressure to his shoulders, lifting him off the ground by his T-shirt, "tossing" him to the ground and then pushing him to his ground with his left hand. The boy suffered bruises to his chest, back, both shoulders and right arm, as well as emotional distress, the indictment states. Whitley turned himself in Nov. 7, was booked in the Durham County jail and released on a $50,000 secured bond. Nicole Ann Scotto, 35, of Clayton, and Melanie Butler Stack, 47, of Durham, both employees of the school, have been indicted on charges of felony common law obstruction of justice and failure to report child abuse, the news release stated. Scotto and Stack were released on unsecured bonds. Media outlets report Whitley no longer works at the school, while Stack, who was listed as the school principal, has resigned, and ~~Scotto, the dean of Special Education, is on administrative~~

Opelika police say they've charged a man with car break-ins. Police say at about 1:55AM yesterday, they were called to a possible car burglary in the area of 4th Avenue and North 7th Street. When the suspect was spotted, police say he ran away. After a short chase, the arrest was made. Police say the suspect is 27-year-old Ervin Kendell Dunn from Opelika. Officers say they found bags containing stolen items in the area where he had fled. Dunn was charged with two counts of unlawful breaking and entering a vehicle and one count of theft of property, third degree. Police say additional charges are pending.

Selma Police are investigating a shooting that has left a 16 year old juvenile — brain-dead. Police Chief Kenta Fulford says the shooting happened at around 9:40 pm Wednesday night — on the 2900 block of Citizens Parkway. “Upon arrival they made contact with a 16 year old juvenile who suffered a gunshot wound to the head. He was then transported to Vaughn ER where he was put on a helicopter and airlifted to UAB Hospital,” said Fulford. Initially, Fulford confirmed the teen’s death — but later said the teen was brain dead as a result of his injuries. He says detectives continue to investigate. “Right now we do not have any suspects or do we know what the motive is at this time. But the detectives are out at this time now canvassing the area looking for people. Hopefully, someone will come forth and let us know if they saw anything,” Fulford said.

A man was rushed to the hospital with life-threatening injuries after he was shot on the exit ramp of Interstate 285 southbound to Interstate 20 eastbound, police said. DeKalb County Police said they were called out to the interstate just before 11 p.m. to a call of a man with a gunshot wound. They found the man shot on the interstate. Police have closed the exit ramp to investigate the shooting. It’s unclear what led up to the man being shot or if anybody is yet in custody. Delays to get onto I-20 are massive as the investigation continues in DeKalb County.

A 33-year-old Mobile woman was arrested and booked into the Mobile Metro Jail on a charge of murder following a deadly stabbing on Thursday at a west Mobile apartment complex. According to Mobile police, Jennifer Heathcoe allegedly cut 33-year-old Taylor Rawlins with a knife during an altercation the two had inside an apartment at the Charleston Apartment Homes, 2889 Sollie Road. Heathcoe remains at the Mobile Metro Jail. The case remains an active investigation, and no further information was available.

A home with a mother and her two children inside was shot at in LaGrange early Wednesday morning, according to police. Around 12:40 a.m., officers were called to the residence in the 400 block of Hamilton Street. The 40-year-old mother, who was in the house with her 9-year-old and 17-year-old children, said she woke up to the sound of gunfire. Officers found that the house had been struck by bullets. Nobody was injured in the incident, police said. No suspects have been identified yet.

A male was taken to the hospital with life-threatening injuries after he was shot Thursday afternoon in Mobile, police said. Officers responded around 3:30 p.m. Thursday to the 1600 block of Bank Avenue on a report of a shooting that occurred a short time earlier, said police spokesman Blake Brown. The victim, only publicly identified as a male, was taken via private vehicle to a local hospital with life-threatening injuries. Further information was unavailable.

[9/6/2024] A north Alabama woman being held in the Morgan County Jail on $300,000 bond faces two murder charges. Decatur police say Mary Hughes was involved in a series of events that began almost two weeks ago. On August 25, Decatur police were dispatched to the 1600 block of Ororke Lane S.W. on a reported stabbing. Officers found a man with multiple lacerations inside of the residence. The victim was transported to Huntsville Hospital by Decatur Morgan EMS. Hughes, who was also present at the scene, was charged for second degree domestic violence. She was later released on $10,000 bond from the Morgan County Jail. On Aug. 31, at approximately 7:15 a.m., Morgan County Central Dispatch received a call about an assault at Line Street N.E. and Market Street N.E. An elderly woman, Mimi Marquette, was assaulted with a hammer by a woman who left the scene in a vehicle. A witness was able to follow the suspect in their vehicle until officers arrived, police said. Marquette was transported to Huntsville Hospital to receive treatment. Hughes, who was identified as the suspect in the assault, was booked into the Morgan County Jail on a $50,000 cash bond. The following day, Sept. 1, the body of a man was discovered in the 1000 block of East Moulton Street N.E. An autopsy concluded the victim, James Jefferson, was the victim of a homicide. Then on Thursday, Marquette died of her injuries. Hughes has been charged with his death.

[9/23/2024] The alleged triggerman in an August shooting in a parking lot across the street from Winthrop University turned himself in Sunday, police said. Jerrique Tavrone Markez Dunham, 19, of Rock Hill, surrendered Sunday. That's almost a month after the 18-year-old victim was shot in the head in the parking lot of a McDonald's restaurant, the Rock Hill Police Department said in a statement. The shooting happened across Cherry Road from the Winthrop campus, south of Oakland Avenue. Classes for the fall semester had started days earlier in August. Dunham is charged with attempted murder and possession of a weapon during a violent crime. Law enforcement had sought Durham since shortly after the shooting. Rock Hill police Lt. Michael Chavis said. Police said previously in court the shooting happened during a gun sale. The victim was talking to people inside an SUV when he was shot, police said. His current condition was not available Monday, but he previously was hospitalized in stable condition, Chavis said. Dunham also is charged with two counts of shooting into a dwelling from a previous incident, police said. Officers previously arrested Durham's brother, Jameson Larone Dunham, 20, of Chester, on an accessory after the fact charge from the McDonald's lot incident. Both suspects remain in the York County jail, according to the sheriff's office website.

Authorities have released the name of a woman who was killed in a hit-and-run in west Birmingham nearly one week ago. The Jefferson County Coroner's Office identified the victim as April Rosella Barton. She was 48 and lived in Birmingham. Chief Deputy Coroner Bill Yates said the woman was crossing the road Friday, Aug. 30, at Princeton Avenue S.W. and Lomb Avenue S.W. when she was struck at 10:30 p.m. She was pronounced dead on the scene at 10:58 p.m.

[9/9/2024] A Lipscomb man has been charged in the shooting at a Bessemer gas station that left three people dead. Jeffery Dwaine Moody Jr., 22, is charged with attempted murder in the Aug. 31 shooting at the Citgo on Fourth Avenue in Bessemer, police announced Monday. Authorities said Moody fired shots from a vehicle, but his shots did not hit anyone. He never got out of the vehicle. Moody was booked into the Jefferson County Jail Friday afternoon and remains held on $500,000 bond. Raukeem Cunningham, a 20-year-old also from Lipscomb, is charged with capital murder in the deaths of Christopher Eddins, 25, Ronald Dixon Jr., 20 and Wesley Fowler, 40. Moody was in the vehicle with Cunningham. Authorities said both fired shots from the vehicle, but Cunningham actually got out and followed the victims inside of the store, still fire shots. Willie B. Stokes III, 25, of Bessemer, is charged with first-degree hindering prosecution. Charging documents against Stokes allege he bought gasoline for Cunningham to set the suspect vehicle on fire. The shooting happened shortly after 11:30 p.m. that Friday. A motive has not been disclosed. Three days later, on Labor Day, four people were shot in a drive-by while attending a small vigil for the Friday night homicide victims. Initially police said three people were wounded, but on Tuesday said they learned a female had also been struck. None of those injuries were life-threatening. On Sunday night, three men were shot while in the parking lot of a small strip of businesses on Ninth Avenue North. A gunman or gunmen approached their pickup truck and opened fire. Police have said they don't believe that shooting is connected to the two at Citgo.

[9/4/2024] A Columbia man was charged with murder after a man in another part of South Carolina was beaten to death and his body was set on fire, according to the Greenville County Sheriff's Office. Angel Lazaro-Castillo was the victim, the sheriff's office said Wednesday in a news release. Members of both the Greenville County Sheriff's Office and the Richland County Sheriff's Department arrested 38-year-old Juan Veneroso-Lopez Tuesday night. Veneroso-Lopez was taken into custody during the joint agency search of a home in the 500 block of Fore Avenue. That's in northeast Columbia. Deputies said Veneroso-Lopez had gone to Greenville on Sunday, where he confronted Lazaro-Castillo over a domestic-related dispute. Veneroso-Lopez killed Lazaro-Castillo during an assault where he caused blunt force trauma to the victim's head, according to an arrest warrant. Then Veneroso-Lopez poured a flammable liquid on the victim's body and set him on fire, the Greenville County Sheriff's Office said. Lazaro-Castillo's burning body was found "outside, next to the road," the sheriff's office said. It was discovered near the intersection of N. 6th Street and Woodside Avenue, which is a largely residential area about 1.5 miles from Lazaro-Castillo's residence, officials say. Veneroso-Lopez confessed to the deadly attack, according to the arrest warrant. He was taken to the Upstate region and booked into the Greenville County Detention Center. No bond has been set and Veneroso-Lopez remains behind bars, jail records show.

[9/6/2024] Anniston police are investigating after a man was found shot dead on a street in the city. Officers responded to the 300 block of Eden Hills Road on Sept. 1 on a report of a deceased male laying on the ground, Capt. Emily McCullars said Friday. The investigation revealed the victim, identified as 23-year-old Anniston resident Devonte Moore, suffered from gunshot wounds. The investigation into Moore's death was ongoing as of Friday, and McCullars said the department is pursuing leads in the case. Anyone with information on the incident was asked to call the department's Investigative Division at 256-240-4000 or by emailing apd@anniston.al.gov.

A 64-year-old retired U.S. Army colonel was shot three times during the purchase of a dump trailer brokered on Facebook Marketplace. The shooting happened late Sunday afternoon in Cullman County, and the 21-year-old suspect entered the country illegally roughly two years ago, said Cullman County Sheriff Matt Gentry. “I’m pissed off today,” Gentry said during a Wednesday press conference. “I’m pissed off that we’re even having to have this conversation.” The suspect was identified as Abel Medardo Sacrab-Chen of Guatemala. Sacrab-Chen was shot by the victim during the incident. Sacrab-Chen is charged with first-degree robbery and certain persons forbidden to possess a firearm. More charges are possible. The victim – Glenn Gildon, who posted about his ordeal on Facebook – met with the suspect about 5:30 p.m. Sunday on Brunner Street. Sacrab-Chen told Gildon the trailer was not actually on site, and they would have to drive to another location. “The victim felt that something wasn’t right,” Gentry said. “Like good law-abiding citizens, he had his firearm with him, which is probably the only thing that save his life.” As they were driving in Gildon’s truck, the sheriff said, Sacrab-Chen put a knife to the victim’s throat and said, “Give me your money or I’m going to kill you.” The two struggled and Gildon fired his gun. “But my pistol jammed, and I couldn’t get it to fire again so I threw it and exited the truck,” Gildon wrote. “He got my pistol and got it to work.” “He came to execute me,” he wrote, “but God had a different plan.” Gildon was shot in the stomach, shoulder and leg. “Did I mention that I’m still here?” Gildon wrote. Sheriff’s deputies received the call of the shooting in the area of County Road 463. Good Samaritans had stopped to help Gildon. Deputies and Cullman police quickly found the suspect, who was still in

[9/16/2024] In movie-like fashion, two men dropped through the ceiling of an Atlanta business recently and stole $150,000, officials announced Monday. Teyoka Glenn, manager of Atlanta Check Cashiers, was making her way into work two weeks ago at about 8 a.m. when two men burst through the ceiling above her, crashing onto the floor, police confirmed. Investigators said they later discovered a hole had been cut using power tools in the roof. Glenn was the only worker in the building, located at 2457 Martin Luther King Jr. Drive, when she started hearing loud noises. Thinking it was coming from construction next door, she continued about her normal duties. A few moments later, the men appeared through the ceiling, yelling at her to get down and pushing her down by the back of her neck, according to authorities. As the suspects hid behind the cashier's station, next to where Glenn was forced to lay on the ground, she was able to hear a phone conversation between one of the suspects and someone outside the business, officials said. The person on the other end of the line advised that there was a customer in the lobby. Following instructions from the suspects, Glenn asked the customer to leave and eventually they did, officials said. Glenn said she saw the suspects take money from the safe and place it in a pink-and-black duffle bag, police said. The suspects then took Glenn to the bathroom and duct-taped her while they checked the rest of the building for money, according to authorities. They eventually fled through the back entrance. They left in what officials said appeared to be an older model, two-door pickup truck driven by the third suspect. Glenn called 911 and officers responded around 8:30 a.m. She did not report any injuries and said she did not see any

A man fired a shotgun through a bedroom wall at deputies in Indian Land on Monday before an hourslong SWAT standoff, the Lancaster County sheriff said. Lancaster deputies went to the man's house for a domestic violence call after 2 p.m. Officers from the sheriff's office and State Law Enforcement Division took Jeffrey Dale Kitchen, 38, into custody around 11 p.m. off Dobys Bridge Road, Lancaster County Sheriff Barry Faile said in a statement. Indian Land is in northern Lancaster County, south of Fort Mill and the Ballantyne area of Mecklenburg County. Kitchen allegedly fired through a wall at two deputies in a hallway who had gone in the house. The two deputies were not hurt by the shotgun blast, Faile said. Kitchen refused to come out of the locked bedroom, Faile said. Late Monday night police broke down the door and used a chemical spray on Kitchen, who was arrested in the attic, Faile said. Officials took Kitchen to a medical facility for evaluation and testing, Faile said. Charges were pending.

Alexander City police have arrested a woman in a Labor Day shooting. Sgt. Drew Machen tells Action 8 News that around 6:20 p.m., officers were called to the 1500 block of J Street after receiving a call regarding a shooting. While en route, officers were notified that a person had been shot and they were not located in the Piggly Wiggly parking lot on Jefferson Street. The victim, an unidentified 27-year-old woman, of Alexander City, was transported to the hospital for treatment. The suspect, 21-year-old Jerusalem Banks, of Alexander City, was taken into custody without incident. The cause remains under investigation.

Three people were injured Monday night in a drive-by shooting where a small vigil was taking place in memory of three men killed Friday night at a Bessemer Citgo. Bessemer Police Chief Michael Wood said a small group of people — about six or seven — were gathered at gas station at 200 Fourth Avenue in Bessemer when a gunman or gunmen drove by and opened fire just before 9 p.m. Three men were shot. They were taken to UAB Hospital with non-life-threatening injuries. Wood said he does believe the Monday's shooting was linked to the Friday shooting. "It's definitely related to Friday night," Wood said, "and if I had to guess it's because we ... put capital murder warrants on their boy." "They were doing a prayer vigil, and they did not notify us of that prayer vigil," the chief said. "We've been covering these stores all day — not just this one but all of them to try to keep down any future trouble." Wood said police need the public to get involved. "Gun violence is stupid and we're not going to take it here in Bessemer," he said. The chief said he has called out all available resources. "And will do so for the duration until we end this," he said. "I'm past frustrated." "People depend on a gun to stop the fight," he said, "and it's got to stop. It's not going to be tolerated."

A 21-year-old man was shot to death by police in Auburn late Monday night. Lee County Coroner Daniel Sexton identified the slain man as Amari Justin Young. He lived in Opelika. The shooting happened at The Magnolia at Auburn apartments on Longleaf Drive. Young was pronounced dead on the scene at 10:21 p.m. Sexton said his body was taken to the Alabama Department of Forensic Sciences in Montgomery for autopsy. Details of the shooting have not yet been released. The State Bureau of Investigation will lead the probe, which is standard for officer-involved shootings. ALEA Lt. Jeremy Burkett said more information will be released later today.

One person was killed, and three other people wounded in a home invasion at a southwest Birmingham apartment complex. Just before 11 p.m. Monday, South Precinct officers were dispatched to a report of a burglary in progress at University Crossings apartments in the 200 block of Third Avenue S.W. Sgt. LaQuitta Wade said police were en route when they received updated information that someone had been shot. Officers arrived to find a man shot outside the apartment building. Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service rushed him to UAB Hospital with life-threatening injuries. They learned there was another victim inside the apartment. He was found unresponsive and pronounced dead on the scene. Wade said another man and woman were shot and fled the apartment. The extent of their injuries wasn't immediately available, Wade said. They made it a short distance away but then were found by BFRS and also taken to UAB. The preliminary investigation indicates the victims were inside the second-story apartment when someone kicked in the front door and fired shots. The bullets damaged the apartment below, as well as others, Wade said. No arrests have been made. University Crossings apartments, formerly known as Montevallo Gardens, is in the Titusville community and was the scene of a homicide earlier this year. Monday is the fifth time since 2022 that the apartments have been the scene of a homicide investigation – including one during Spring Break 2023 when a teen was killed in a shootout.

Burglars caused a big mess while breaking into a business in order to get into the business next door early Tuesday morning in northeast Atlanta. Atlanta police say someone broke into Dynamic El Dorado on the 500 block of Edgewood Avenue to attempt to get into a clothing store next to it called Highstakes Atlanta. While inside Dynamic El Dorado, the burglars broke through a bathroom wall, striking a pipe and causing a water leak that damaged both businesses. The owner of the comedy club lives upstairs. He said he thought he heard something downstairs but didn't realize his business was being broken into. "It was kind of interesting because they were very spy-like," said Miguel Figueroa, owner of Dynamic El Dorado. "I've got some electrical damage. I've got some burst pipes." The burglars got into Highstakes Atlanta and allegedly stole a couple of Chrome Heart jeans, according to police. The owner of the shop says they are expensive, very sought-after jeans ranging in price from $7,000 to $17,000.

Carrollton Police are asking residents to be on the lookout for two suspects accused of being involved in an armed robbery on Tuesday, according to a post from the department on Facebook. Police are searching for the two suspects in the area of Burns Road and Cedar Street near North Point Church. Authorities told residents to use caution and not to approach the suspects. According to the department, one of the suspects was wearing jeans and a black hoodie, and the other was possibly shirtless and shoeless. K-9 units are also searching for the suspects in the area. The 11Alive SkyTracker flew over the area where a police helicopter can be seen going over the scene. No other details were released.

A Dothan couple is jailed without bond after police say they shot a man during a robbery. Ty’ Qon McMillan, 24, and Veronica McMillan, 23, are charged with attempted murder and robbery. Dothan officers were called to a home Tuesday in the 1000 block of Fountain Street on a report of someone shot in the head. Lt. Scott Owens said police arrived to the find the victim with a gunshot wound to the back of his head. The victim was seriously injured, but alert. He told police the McMillans tried to rob him of his cell phone and a physical altercation ensued with Ty’ Qon McMillan. Veronica McMillan, he said, was able to get the cell phone from him during the struggle. “During the altercation,” Owens said, “Ty’ Qon fired a round from a small caliber handgun that struck the victim in the head.” The victim is in stable condition and is expected to be OK. The suspects were taken into custody Wednesday and remain held in the Houston County Jail. Both were out of bond on previous charges, and those bonds have now been revoked following their new charges.

[9/10/2024] A DeKalb County School District teacher has been arrested after police believe he sexually abused a 14-year-old. Marcus Knight, 49, of Lawrenceville, was arrested by the Gwinnett County Police Department and booked in jail last Tuesday. He faces six charges related to child molestation, alongside charges of enticing a child for indecent purposes and obscene internet contact with a child, jail records show. The DeKalb County School District has not said what school Knight works at. Police said the victim was not one of his students. Police began investigating on Sept. 3 after the teen’s mother discovered “explicit conversations” between her child and an unknown man and called 911. Detectives posed as the 14-year-old and planned a meeting with the suspect, which Knight allegedly showed up to, according to officers. When arrested, Knight also had several “high-level” THC vape cartridges, police said. This is a developing story. Check back with Atlanta News First for more details.

A man was shot by Roswell Police on Tuesday after allegedly attempting to stab a MARTA bus driver, according to authorities. This happened on Alpharetta Highway after 2 p.m. The Georgia Bureau of Investigation said the suspect charged at them with his "edged weapon," leading one officer to shoot him. According to a MARTA spokesperson, the man allegedly "refused to pay his fare and became irate after being asked to leave the bus." The suspect has now been transported to an area hospital, and his condition is unclear, according to the GBI. For the time being, Alpharetta Highway is closed between Houze Way and Mansell Road for the next several hours. The GBI will conduct its own personal investigation, as is customary. No other details were released.

Huntsville police are investigating a homicide after one juvenile was killed and two others were injured in a shooting Tuesday. Officers responded to a possible shooting in the area of Max Luther and Memorial Parkway just before 5 p.m. Tuesday, said Deputy Chief Michael Johnson. Three victims were being treated at the hospital, where one juvenile later died. Police believe the shooting unfolded on Max Luther Drive just west of Washington Avenue, where people from one vehicle were shooting into another vehicle. The vehicle where the shots were fired from was located a few hours later, Johnson said. Two juveniles were taken into custody and are being interviewed, the deputy chief said. Further information was unavailable.

A teenager was killed Tuesday night in a shooting in the Midlands that also left another person hospitalized, according to South Carolina officials. Jayvion Jones — a 16-year-old Hampton, Georgia resident — died at the scene, Sumter County Coroner Robbie Baker said Wednesday. The shooting happened in the Dalzell area, according to the Sumter County Sheriff's Office said. At about 8:30 p.m., Jones' body was discovered inside a vehicle on Black River Road and Edens Road, Baker said. There was no word about what Jones was doing in the Midlands region of South Carolina. Information about where the surviving victim was found was not available. The surviving victim was taken to Prisma Health Tuomey hospital, and is expected to make a full recovery, the sheriff's office said. Further information on that victim's condition was not available. No other injuries were reported. There was no word about a shooter or shooters, or if anyone else was involved in the gunfire. Information about a motive for the shooting was not available. No arrests have been reported, but both the coroner's office and the sheriff's office are continuing to investigate what Sheriff Anthony Dennis called "a suspicious death." An autopsy will be performed Saturday at the Medical University of South Carolina in Charleston, according to Baker.

A man's body was found at a South Carolina home Wednesday night, and the death was called a homicide, according to the Greenwood County Coroner's Office. The victim was 43-year-old Greenwood resident Demetrous Childs, Coroner Sonny Cox said in a news release. Cox said his office was called to a home at the corner of Cokesbury Street and Durst Avenue, where Childs was found dead. That's about 1.5 miles from what the coroner's office said was Childs' residence. Childs' cause of death has not been released, but the coroner's office listed Cokesbury Street as the location where he was pronounced dead at 7:34 p.m. An autopsy has been scheduled for Sept. 25, according to the release. Information about the homicide was not available, but the death is being investigated by the coroner's office and the Greenwood Police Department. No arrests have been reported by police.

Birmingham police shot someone Wednesday afternoon after a traffic stop and foot chase blocked traffic on Interstate 20/59 near the Birmingham airport, police said. The incident began just before 4 p.m. when an officer was conducting a traffic stop on I-20/59 northbound between Tallapoosa Street and Airport Boulevard. The suspect's vehicle veered off the interstate and came to a stop at a fence that separates the interstate from a neighborhood. Chief Scott Thurmond said the suspect bailed from his vehicle and took off running. A foot chase ensued. "At some point, the suspect fired a shot at our officer and the officer returned fire," Thurmond said. Video from a bystander on the interstate showed the suspect running, followed by three officers. The suspect scaled, and jumped over, a chain link fence and continued running toward the neighborhood. At least one of the officers then fired multiple shots through the fence, hitting the suspect. Dozens of officers flocked to the scene, both uniformed police and detectives. Alabama State Troopers and ATF agents also responded. The suspect was struck one time. Witnesses said he was alert when Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service transported him to UAB Hospital. Thurmond said the man's injuries don't appear to be life-threatening. Medics were called to the scene on the interstate for an "officer in distress." Thurmond said that officer was taken to a hospital as a precaution and observation. The chief said the shooting was captured on the officer's body-worn camera and other surveillance video. The Alabama Law Enforcement Agency will lead the investigation, which is standard procedure for officer-involved shootings.

An apparent love triangle in east Alabama ended with a man and a woman behind bars in an alleged plot to murder the woman's live-in ex-husband. Stevie Earl Harris, 23, and Christian Faith Griffin, 25, are charged with kidnapping and attempted murder of Griffin's ex-husband – James Hunter Griffin. Both remain held in the Clay County Jail. The plan – which was set into motion five days ago – included the threat of an explosives-rigged truck and an attempt to make the victim drink transmission fluid. Instead, it ended with one of the suspects being shot. The Griffins divorced in 2022, but in court records he described her as his girlfriend and the couple share two young children. She was apparently also in a relationship with Harris, unbeknownst to James Griffin. According to court records, James Griffin was sitting in his truck Thursday, Sept. 5, about to leave for work when he heard a loud banging noise on his driver's window. James Griffin told Clay County sheriff's investigators there was a gun pointed at him and Harris told him to get out of the vehicle and get on his knees. James Griffin complied and heard a click noise, charging documents state. "Mr. Griffin stated that he thought Mr. Harris was going to shoot him right then and there, so much so that he clinched his teeth when he heard the click noise," an investigator wrote. Harris then told James Griffin to stand up and walked him to the passenger's side of his truck – still at gunpoint. James Griffin got in the truck and Harris walked around to the driver's side and got inside. Harris told the victim that his truck was rigged with explosives and "today was the day he was going to die" and if he tried anything stupid, they would both die. When Harris tried to put the vehicle in reverse, he put his gun in his lap, records state. "This bought Mr. Griffin enough time to fight back and shoot Mr. Harris in the face,"

Two men were found shot to death Thursday morning in a downtown Birmingham senior living facility. North Precinct officers were dispatched just before 11 a.m. to Freedom Manor apartments at 1617 Fifth Ave. North. The facility is operated by the Birmingham Housing Authorities and is for residents ages 62 and older. Sgt. LaQuitta Wade said officers entered a fourth-floor apartment and found both victims unresponsive and suffering from gunshot wounds. Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service pronounced them both dead on the scene. Both victims lived at Freedom Manor. They were found dead in an apartment of one of the victims. Wade said a friend with a key to the apartment made the discovery and called 911 immediately. "This is a secure facility for senior citizens," Wade said. The deaths did not appear to be a murder-suicide and are being investigated as a double homicide. Wade said investigators don't yet know how long the victims had been dead. No residents have yet reported hearing gunfire. The Jefferson County Coroner's Office will perform autopsies to determine that information.

An elderly couple was found shot to death Thursday night in an apparent murder-suicide in Auburn, police said Friday. Officers responded to a house in the 200 block of Payne Street around 11:30 p.m. Thursday on a call requesting a welfare check, police said. Inside the house, police found an 88-year-old woman and a 92-year-old man who were both dead. A single gunshot wound was found on both victims and a gun was discovered in the house, police said. There was no evidence to suggest anyone else was home at the time of the shootings, authorities said. The preliminary investigation revealed the couple were married and lived in the home. Police said there was no danger to the public in connection with the incident. The case remained under investigation as of Friday.

A 1-year-old child is injured and two others dead following a head-on collision last Friday, according to Rome Police. The department noted that just after 1:30 a.m. on Sept. 6, an officer saw a black Dodge Charger speeding at an "extremely high rate." However, the officer could not keep up with the car and called for other units to be on the lookout. Eventually, another officer traveling on Riverside Parkway spotted the Charger, still speeding on Turner McCall Boulevard. After following the speeding car, the officer arrived at the scene of a head-on collision between the Charger and a Honda Accord. That collision resulted in the deaths of two people in the other car, according to police. A 1-year-old infant was also critically injured, while those in the Charger only had minor injuries, according to the police department. Officers eventually arrested the driver of the Charger, Omar Garcia. The police department said that he is being charged with two counts of vehicular homicide, one count of serious injury by vehicle, DUI, driving without a license, fleeing/attempting to elude, reckless driving, and driving too fast for conditions. Rome Police said he is being booked into the Floyd County Jail. Those who died during the crash have been identified as 23-year-old Kadrian Harris and 23-year-old Malik Henderson.

A man is facing charges after fatally shooting a 16-year-old girl Friday morning at a Cobb County townhouse subdivision, police said. Officers responded to the 7000 block of Fringe Flower Drive, just north of I-20 and west of I-285, around 9:25 a.m. on reports of a person shot. Alejandro Mario Bencomo Aguilar, 57, was found suffering from a self-inflicted gunshot wound and attempted to stab himself with a knife when officers approached him, Cobb police spokesman Sgt. Eric Smith said. The teenager was then discovered in an upstairs bedroom suffering from multiple gunshot wounds, Smith added. Despite life-saving measures being provided, officials said the girl was pronounced dead. She had not been publicly identified by Saturday afternoon. "The offender was in a relationship with the mother of the deceased, and they were all believed to live in the same residence," Smith confirmed, adding that the mother was not home at the time of the incident. Aguilar was taken to Grady Memorial Hospital, where Smith said he underwent surgery and is recovering. He is facing charges of murder, aggravated assault and first-degree cruelty to children. A motive in the case was not provided.

Decatur police say two people were found dead inside a home Friday afternoon. Police were called to a residence in the 1800 block of Fifth Avenue S.W. at about 12:07 p.m. Officers found two people dead inside the home. Detectives with the Criminal Investigation Division, the Crime Scene Investigation Unit and Morgan County Coroner Jeff Chunn were contacted and responded. Police say investigators believe the deaths to be an isolated incident at this time. An investigation is ongoing.

Troy police say a man has been charged with shooting and killing his wife. Troy police say at about 12:42 this afternoon, they were called to the 1000 block of County Road 2221. That's where they found 37-year-old Jennifer Paramore Hill of Troy suffering from a gunshot wound. She was taken by ambulance to a Montgomery hospital, but died of her injuries. Police said her husband, 39-year-old Benjamin Joshua Hill of Troy, was present at the scene and was taken into custody for questioning. Montgomery police are investigating a hit and run that injured a man late Friday night. Maj. Saba Coleman tells Action 8 News that around 8:36 p.m., officers and fire medics responded to the 1100 block of Chestnut Street regarding a two-vehicle versus pedestrian accident. Once they arrived, they found an adult male pedestrian with life-threatening injuries. The unidentified victim was taken to a local hospital for treatment. MPD says the drivers of the vehicles before they arrived. The case remains under investigation at this time.

A South Carolina man was arrested after being accused of sexual activity with teenage girls in exchange for vaping devices, the Lexington County Sheriff's Department announced. Deputies arrested 20-year-old Trevor Oty of Little Mountain and charged him with two counts of solicitation of a minor, one count of second-degree criminal sexual conduct with a minor and trafficking in persons, according to arrest warrants. The case began when the mother of one of the victims reached out to the sheriff's department over the summer with concerns that her daughter had been assaulted, Lexington County Sheriff Jay Koon said in a news release. Detectives opened an investigation, including forensic interviews with the victims, and discovered Oty would arrange to meet girls and exchange sexual favors for vapes. Two girls are associated with Oty's charges. "There could be more victims than these two young ladies," Koon said in a news release. "This case is still open and our investigation is ongoing. We encourage anyone who's had any contact with Oty that included so-called discounts for vaping devices, electronic cigarettes or any other items to give us a call as soon as possible."

A 41-year-old man is in critical condition after being shot by officers who were called to check on him Saturday night at a North Georgia apartment complex, officials said. The shooting was one of two such incidents involving law enforcement in metro Atlanta over a five-hour span, authorities said. The other happened in Newton County. Clarkesville police had been requested to conduct a wellness check around 6:15 p.m. at the Cameron Apartments after getting word of a possible suicidal person, identified as Aaron Allen Patterson, according to the GBI. The complex is located on Cameron Circle near U.S. 441. After the officers were unable to find Patterson at his apartment, a Demorest police officer, who arrived as backup, saw him walking nearby with a handgun, according to the state agency. At that point, Habersham County deputies also responded to assist the other officers at the scene. Upon seeing the law enforcement at the complex, officials said Patterson ran and was later seen holding a rifle. "When the officer spoke with Patterson, he turned toward the officers with the rifle," the GBI added. "At that point, multiple officers fired at Patterson." Patterson sustained several gunshot wounds and was airlifted to a hospital, where he was still being treated Sunday, the state agency said. Just hours earlier, an armed man was fatally shot by an off-duty Rockdale County sheriff's deputy at an apartment complex in Newton County, southeast of Atlanta. According to the GBI, Ivan Felton, of Covington, was chasing and shooting at a resident at the complex around 2 p.m. when the off-duty deputy returned fire. Fenton was pronounced dead at the scene. [9/26/2024] A Moore County man was charged Wednesday after another man died from his injuries following an assault near downtown Chapel Hill. Cody Ray Callahan, 19, of Carthage, was arrested in his home county Wednesday and charged with voluntary manslaughter, simple assault and false imprisonment, according to a Chapel Hill Police Department news release. Police said Callahan assaulted Michael Jesse Griffin, 55, of Chapel Hill, around 7:40 p.m. Sept. 7 in the 300 block of East Rosemary Street, according to the release. The area is near several UNC–Chapel Hill fraternities and sororities, just one block north of East Franklin Street and the campus. Griffin was trying to stop Callahan from assaulting another man when he was assaulted by Callahan, the release said. Griffin was taken to UNC Hospitals, where he died on Sept. 13, police said. Callahan is being held in the Moore County Jail under a $500,000 secured bond until he appears in court on Oct. 7 in Orange County, the release said. Police are continuing the investigation. Griffin’s obituary noted that he was a native of Shelby, North Carolina, and was a 1992 graduate of Western Carolina University. He had worked with Bank of America Mortgage and served as a volunteer firefighter in Pendleton, South Carolina, it said.

A Millbrook teenager is in custody for shooting into an occupied home. Millbrook Police Chief P.K. Johnson tells Action 8 News that around 8:52 p.m. on Saturday, September 7, officers responded to a report of multiple shots fired in the area of Tanglewood Court. Once they arrived, they found shell casings in the area. Witnesses told officers that there were multiple individuals at a home near the cul-de-sac prior to shots being fired. Officers were approached by an area resident, who stated that he was inside his home when he heard multiple gunshots. Shortly thereafter the homeowner discovered that his home had damage consistent with a projectile entering a window of the house. Investigators determined that the round entered the front of the victim's home, travelling through a bedroom and exited the rear of the home. Chief Johnson said no one was injured in the incident. While searching the area, officers located an abandoned firearm behind a nearby home. The weapon was impounded as possible physical evidence in this case. On Tuesday, Chief Johnson said Millbrook detectives took a 17-year-old juvenile male into custody. The unidentified suspect is charged with Discharging a Firearm into an Occupied Dwelling. The juvenile was taken to the Elmore County Jail.

Opelika police say a suspect is in custody after robbing two people, kidnapping one of them, over the weekend. Officials say around 11:26 p.m. on September 7, police were called to the 2900 block of Birmingham Highway on a possible robbery. Once they arrived, a witness told them that they saw the suspect enter one of the apartments. Officers made contact with the residents and located the suspect, 28-year-old Dshawn Raymond Seawright, of Auburn. While speaking with one of the victims, they stated Seawright approached them outside of the apartments and pointed a firearm at their chest before taking money, a cellphone and a key fob. The next victim stated they observed Seawright looking in their vehicle and approached him to see what he was doing. Investigators say Seawright then pointed the firearm at the victims, forced them into their vehicle and demanding they take him to Phenix City. The victims was eventually able to get away. Seawright is charged with first degree robbery and first degree kidnapping. He is also charged with attempted kidnapping for the incident on September 7.

One man was shot to death and another is now in jail after an argument turned violent early Sunday morning, according to the Baldwin County Sheriff's office. The argument led to a shooting in a neighborhood in south Foley. Deputies were alerted early this morning. Authorities say Michael David Norton shot the victim one time. The victim, who has not yet been publicly identified, died as a result. "This was an isolated incident and there is no ongoing danger to the community at this time," the sheriff's office said. Norton was taken into custody by Foley police and is being charged with murder. No further information is available at this time.

Two teens are in custody in connection with an overnight rash of car thefts or attempted thefts that prompted a warning from Birmingham police. Officer Truman Fitzgerald said there were two incidents between midnight and 8 a.m. Sunday where a KIA or a Hyundai was stolen. The thefts happened in the Roebuck and East Lake areas. Additionally, he said, at least five other vehicles were damaged during attempted thefts. At 11:30 a.m., East Precinct officers recovered the stolen Hyundai Elantra in the 8200 Block of 5th Avenue South. Officers took a 15-year-old male and 14-year-old male into custody who fled from the vehicle. After recovering the stolen vehicle, Fitzgerald said, officers were able to link stolen property inside the vehicle to at least one early morning car break-in that occurred in the South Eastlake neighborhood. Both males were interviewed by a Crime Against Property detective. Both males were taken to the Jefferson County Youth Detention Center and petitions were filed on both males. The 15-year-old is charged with first-degree receiving stolen property and unlawful breaking and entering into a vehicle. The 14-year-old is charged with unlawful breaking and entering a vehicle. The investigation is ongoing. At this time in 2023, there had been 359 thefts reported of those two types of vehicles for the year in Birmingham. That included 236 stolen Hyundai vehicles and 123 Kia Motors vehicles. Fitzgerald offered these tips: Invest in a steering wheel anti-theft lock; Park in the garage (if available); Face home cameras towards vehicles; Never confront a would-be car thief.

Two people died following a house fire Sunday in South Carolina, and one of them is accused of intentionally starting the blaze that's being investigated as a homicide, according to the Charleston Police Department. Although the Charleston County Coroner's Office has not publicly identified the people who died, on Monday police said they were adult relatives. At about 10 a.m. Sunday, officers responded to reports of a fire at a home in the 1600 block of Seabago Drive, police said in a news release. That's in the West Ashley area of South Carolina's Lowcountry. Members of both the Charleston Fire Department and Saint Andrews Fire Department battled the fire in the burning building and initiated rescue efforts, according to the release. Detectives determined that the fire was intentionally set by an adult resident, who died at the scene, police said. There was no word about when and where in the house the fire was started. The victim suffered serious injuries and was taken by EMS to an area hospital, and later died, according to the release. Police said that no one else was believed to be inside the residence at the time of the fire, and no other injuries were reported. Both police and the Charleston Fire Department Fire Marshal Division are continuing to investigate the arson-related deaths.

A suspect has been charged with murder after a shooting left a man dead in Rockdale County, the sheriff's office said Wednesday. At around 3:30 p.m. Sunday, deputies were called to Knox Drive, where they found a man with gunshot wounds, investigators said. Kenneth Price, 36, died at the scene. Deputies arrested 46-year-old Jameason Preston Reynolds and charged him with murder, aggravated assault, tampering with evidence, possession of a firearm during the commission of a felony and possession of a firearm by a convicted felon, the sheriff's office said. No additional details were released about the case, which remains under investigation.

A man has been charged with DUI after a crash in Forsyth County left a woman and two dogs dead Sunday evening, officials said. Logan Moye, 30, of Dahlonega, ran a red light around 9:30 p.m., crashing into Julie Waters Lamb, 72, of Dawsonville, at the intersection of Ga. 400 and Jot 'Em Down Road, according to authorities. The Forsyth sheriff's office and fire department responded to the intersection, located less than 10 miles from Lake Lanier, and Lamb was pronounced dead at the scene. Moye was traveling north on Ga. 400 in a 2019 Ford F-150, and Lamb was driving west on Jot 'Em Down Road. The light turned red as Moye approached the intersection but he was unable to stop due to his speed, officials said. Lamb, who had a green light, was crossing Ga. 400 when Moye allegedly crashed into her. Authorities did not share how fast Moye was driving when he entered the intersection. He was booked into the Forsyth jail on charges of homicide by vehicle in the first degree, driving under the influence of drugs, possession of a controlled substance schedule II, reckless driving, two counts of cruelty to animals, failure to obey a traffic control device and failure to use seat belts.

[9/19/2024] Clayton County Police on Thursday announced an arrest of an alleged serial rapist that they said had been attacking women "over the course of several years." The Clayton County Police Department held a news conference on Thursday afternoon and provided further details on the case against 27-year-old Edward Huffman. Clayton County Police Commander Frank Thomas said Huffman had "drugged, sodomized and raped multiple women." "Based on the number of rapes Huffman is accused of committing, he is currently considered to be a serial rapist," a news release from the police department stated. Booking info at the Clayton County Jail for Huffman showed 20 charges against him, including five for rape and others for aggravated sodomy, aggravated sexual battery, and prohibited nude or sexual electronic transmissions. Thomas said the investigation started on Sept. 9, when two women reported Huffman had raped them. Huffman was taken into custody on Sept. 13. When investigators interviewed him, they said he initially denied the claims but later admitted to raping the women. Investigators believe Huffman raped women at multiple locations in Clayton County and the City of Riverdale since 2021. Thomas said so far, there have been at least seven victims. "The majority of the victims consider Huffman to be a friend... and provided similar accounts of being at several social functions hosted by Huffman," Thomas said. Thomas said Huffman drugged his victims, recorded sexual acts while the women were incapacitated and then posted videos on pornographic websites for profit as "sleep porn." At this time, it's unclear what substance he allegedly used. "Each victim advised after being at Huffman's presence, they did recall being asleep for an usual amount of time but did not suspect that he had harmed them in any Police are investigating a shooting overnight in northwest Atlanta. It happened at the intersection of Howell Mill Road and Chattahoochee Avenue. There was also a second scene at Northside Drive and 17th Street. Atlanta police say around 12:30 a.m., officers responded to a reported shooting in the 1300 block of Howell Mill Road. When they arrived, officers said they met with an off-duty officer who was shot at by someone in a black Tahoe SUV. The officer was not injured. The Atlanta Police Department says its preliminary investigation indicates the off-duty officer observed the vehicle driving erratically. At some point, shots were fired from the SUV, striking the officer’s windshield. The officer returned fire in the direction of the SUV, which took off heading north on Howell Mill Road. No injuries have been reported at this time and the investigation continues.

[11/26/2024] A warrant has been issued for a woman’s arrest after she allegedly stole and bred a missing dog, according to the Gwinnett County Police Department. Police say they responded to the Sugarloaf Summit Apartments in Duluth about a theft on Sept. 9. When they arrived, the victim told officers that their 5-year-old Shihpoo had been stolen. The victim explained to police that the dog had escaped from their apartment earlier that day and wandered the complex until a witness at the pool found her. The witness told police she put a notification on the Ring app for the lost dog. Shortly after, two women arrived and identified the dog, whose real name is Lucy, as “Coco.” The suspects took the dog and drove away in a blue SUV. Officers say they located the car and identified one suspect as Kristian Dunning. While speaking with Dunning at her home on Thursday, investigators found what they believed was the missing dog. Gwinnett County Animal Control officers scanned the dog’s chip and confirmed she belonged to the victim. Detectives learned that after the dog was stolen, she was bred with another dog and had just given birth to a litter of puppies weeks before investigators arrived. Dunning is charged with theft by taking and contributing to the delinquency of a minor, police say.

[9/20/2024] Two families are left in the dark after the death of a loving couple who had been together for over a year. Dekalb County Police Department continues to investigate after they were found dead in their home off Cohasset Lane in Decatur. A fire happened on Monday, Sept. 9, just before 1:30 a.m., at the home. The couple was found inside after the flames were put out. "It was just so weird to me, because he would've gotten out of the house and done whatever was necessary to get her out of the house too," Brittany Waters said. Waters' younger brother is the second she's lost since last year. Derris Woods, 35 was a father to 5 young kids and had been living in the home with his girlfriend Brittany Hall, 28. The two were loving and their loss is devastating for their families. "He was a very funny guy! He's like the life of the party. He's always the hype man. He comes and wakes everybody up and gets them excited. He's a great dad. It's just sad because my mom loved Brittany too. She was so sweet," Waters said. Authorities said the two were killed in their very own home that was set on fire, but days after they were found investigators determined both were shot, what happened to them is still a mystery.

An investigation is underway after a man was shot to death in Bessemer. The shooting happened at 3:45 p.m. Monday in the 5900 block of Greenwood Parkway. The victim – an adult male – was taken to UAB Hospital where he was pronounced dead a short time later. Det. Justin Burmeister said the deadly shooting happened in the parking lot of an undisclosed business. The investigation is in its early stages, but no arrests have been made, the detective said. The victim is Bessemer's 10th homicide this year.

An argument between two men left one shot and the other in custody. The shooting happened shortly before 9:30 p.m. Monday at the Anchor Motel on First Avenue North. Officer Truman Fitzgerald said the two men got into a dispute that was quickly diffused by police officers. A short time later, however, a second argument erupted, and the victim was shot. Officers heard the shots, Fitzgerald said, and quickly returned to the motel. The victim was taken to the hospital with non-life-threatening injuries. The suspect was detained. A 45-year-old man was killed in a shooting at the motel last month.

A suspect was arrested and taken to the Mobile County jail after he allegedly hit a man with a hammer, killing him, police said. Officers responded to the Azalea Pointe Apartments at 651 Azalea Rd. around 11:42 p.m. Monday in reference to a homicide investigation, said police spokesman Blake Brown. Officers found a male victim — later identified as 30-year old Aprentice Ethridge — dead inside a unit with blunt force trauma injuries. Detectives later learned Ethridge and the suspect, later identified as 20-year-old Jaylen Tytus, “were involved in a discussion about [Tytus’] girlfriend” when the suspect hit Ethridge with a hammer, police said. Police located Tytus on Tuesday and took him to Mobile County Metro Jail. Jail records showed Tytus was booked on a charge of murder.

A 19-year-old Limestone County man is being held in the Limestone County Jail on $422,500 bond on a number of charges after an investigation involving the Federal Bureau of Investigation. The Limestone County Sheriff’s Office said Jesse James Dauwen, 19, of Madison, is being held on multiple counts of electronic solicitation of a child, possession of child pornography, aggravated child abuse and aggravated cruelty to animals. Dauwen was arrested in connection with an investigation by federal, state and local agencies, which conducted a search warrant at a residence in Limestone County. The agencies were following a lead regarding crimes against children, according to the sheriff’s office.

The Atlanta Police Department is investigating after a man was shot in the Oakland City neighborhood. According to police, officers responded to the 1000 block of Lawton Avenue SW in reference to a person shot. When they arrived, they found a man with an apparent gunshot wound. He was sent to the hospital in critical condition.

The search for an armed woman ended Tuesday night when she was taken into custody following a tip from a witness, according to the Newberry County Sheriff's Office. Marshanna Anderson, 36, was arrested and will face assault charges, the sheriff's office said. At about 6 p.m., the sheriff's office said it was searching for Anderson, who was chasing a man and fired a gun several times. Specific information about a motive for the shooting was not available, but the sheriff's office called it a domestic incident. No injuries were reported. The shooting was reported near the Citgo gas station on College Street in Newberry, according to the sheriff's office. As law enforcement officers searched for the armed woman the sheriff's office said they received a tip from a witness who saw Anderson. Following the tip, law enforcement officers tightened the search area and arrested Anderson near an industrial park at the intersection of College Street and Whitner Road, according to the sheriff's office. Anderson was taken to the Newberry County Detention Center and no bond has been set, jail records show.

Police are searching for a man who they say shot an unleashed dog in southeast Atlanta shortly before midnight Tuesday. Atlanta officers got a call about shots fired around 11:45 p.m. at a house along Browns Mill Road in the Lakewood neighborhood. The area is just a few blocks from Jonesboro Road. When police arrived, they found a man who said another man shot his dog while walking down the road. The dog was injured and removed by Fulton County Animal Services, officials said. An update on the dog's condition was not provided. The suspect, whose name was not released, had already left the area before police arrived, officials said. Investigators believe the owner was walking his dog without a leash when it approached the suspect, who was in his driveway. The suspect then allegedly warned the owner to get his dog or he would shoot it, police said in a statement. He proceeded to fire one shot, striking the dog. Authorities have not released any additional information about the case. According to Atlanta city code, dogs and other domestic animals are generally required to be on a leash that is not more than six feet long "and under the control of a competent person" when not confined to the owner's property. The only exception is for cats. There are a few other situational exceptions, including for dogs "participating in or training for obedience trials, field trials, dog shows, tracking work or law enforcement." The law also does not apply in areas zoned for agriculture where the owner is using the dog for hunting purposes and has the proper credentials for such activity. The area in which the dog was shot is zoned for single family residential homes, according to the city's zoning map.

A man was shot and killed at an Atlanta apartment complex on Wednesday, according to the police department. The shooting happened at 1073 Hollywood Rd NW, the address of the Dwell at Hollywood Apartments in Atlanta's Almond Park neighborhood. The apartment complex is near Woodward Baptist Church and the Loving Care Daycare Center—not far from Center Hill Park. Authorities are still investigating the circumstances surrounding the shooting. No other details were released by police at this time.

An argument over a stolen gun led to a deadly shooting near downtown Atlanta early Wednesday morning, police said. Atlanta police were called to a parking lot near Edgewood Avenue and Hilliard Street in the Sweet Auburn area around 3 a.m. The scene unfolded behind a bar at the intersection, but the victim and suspect were not patrons, homicide commander Lt. Andrew Smith said. When officers arrived, they found a man with gunshot wounds, Smith said. He had been shot at least three times and was rushed to Grady Memorial Hospital, where he died shortly after. The victim's name was not released. Smith said he was approximately 22 years old. "From what we know at this point, the incident took place over a stolen firearm, which led to a dispute, which led to the gunfire," he said. Investigators believe the suspect was known to the victim, Smith added. Officials have not released any other details about the case.

A man stole a vehicle and took off with a child still inside Wednesday afternoon before being detained in Fayetteville, police said. Ervin Wallace, 52, was known to the victim, a woman he is accused of assaulting and carjacking around 3:15 p.m. outside a barbecue restaurant on Glynn Street near Forrest Drive, according to authorities. The woman reported the attack to police, who then learned that the suspect had left the area with the child inside the vehicle. The vehicle was located a few minutes later down the street, and a traffic stop was attempted. Wallace fled, but a Fayetteville officer used an immobilization technique to end the pursuit before it reached high speeds, police stated. The driver then continued into the parking lot where the attack had occurred, and two officers had to run to avoid being struck by the stolen vehicle, the police department said. The vehicle was boxed in soon after entering the parking lot, ending the pursuit. The child was rescued from the vehicle, and the woman was treated for minor injuries, police confirmed. Wallace is being held in the Fayette County Jail pending multiple charges.

A man was shot late Wednesday night in downtown Alpharetta and later died, as police continue to seek a suspect who was on a motorcycle. The incident occurred just after 11 p.m., with officers responding to the area of Highway 9 and Milton Avenue, the Alpharetta Police Department said. The victim has been identified as 46-year-old Justin Mourning of Alpharetta. He was initially rushed to the hospital, but police said Thursday morning he had passed away. According to the department, the shooting happened after a "verbal argument between two people." It was not known if the two people knew each other. Alpharetta Police said: "If anyone has any information which can help identify the person of interest, please contact Detective Lawrence at 678-297-6338 or clawrence@alpharetta.ga.us." Photos were released of the suspect, who is not in custody at this time. The individual's face is obscured but police said the suspect was operating a black "sports style motorcycle" and wearing a jacket with patches on the left sleeve and left breast. That person was also wearing black pants and black Nike shoes with a white swoosh.

Hartselle police say a man used an electronic device to aid him in stalking a woman. According to police, Brannon Roy Bray, 50, of Hartselle, has been charged with first degree electronic stalking. He was arrested Thursday. A victim told an officer she believed she was being followed by the suspect. From his previous experience with these cases, the officer checked underneath the victim's vehicle and was able to locate a magnetic GPS tracking device attached to the undercarriage. An investigator was able to obtain evidence proving the device belonged to Bray, and was used to surveil, stalk, and harass the victim, police said. Bray was booked into the Morgan County Jail with a $2,500 bond.

Madison police are attempting to discover the identity of a nude man who law enforcement officers say attempted to steal a patrol car Thursday afternoon after a string of incidents along a busy highway. The incident happened at about 1:35 p.m., when police from Madison and Huntsville responded to multiple 911 calls in an area on Alabama 72 West and Promenade Point Parkway. Calls from Madison Bowling Center, Burger King, Walmart, and Mister Car Wash reported a nude man trying to enter people's vehicles, breaking windows and assaulting people. Callers also reported the man was possibly dragged by a vehicle after trying to enter it while it was occupied. Madison police arrived on the scene and made contact with the man on Promenade Pointe Parkway. According to police, the unidentified man attempted to enter and steal an officer's patrol car, and the officer used force to detain the man. Huntsville police are investigating the alleged crimes that occurred prior to officers arriving. Madison police arrested the man for the attempted theft of the police vehicle and other alleged public order crimes. He was transported to Huntsville Hospital for medical treatment and will be jailed upon his release. Police said the man's identity was still being verified.

A man has been charged with capital murder following a fatal Thursday night shooting in Madison County. Deputies responded to a shooting in the 100 block of Silver Poplar Place at about 6 p.m. According to the Madison County Sheriff's Office, Carrandas Oshay Jackson, 27, was arrested last night at the scene. Jackson is being held on charges of capital murder of a person in a vehicle. He is being held in the Madison County Jail without bond.

A shooting in downtown Griffin near the Spalding County Courthouse has left one person dead and one injured, authorities said. Amid fears of an active shooter incident, the Griffin Police Department shared an alert asking citizens to stay away from downtown while reassuring the public that the shooting was not an ongoing situation. Officers were called to the intersection of 6th and East Solomon streets around midday Friday after getting reports of an active shooter, police spokesman Investigator Richard Powell said. According to the initial investigation, the shooting actually stemmed from a dispute between two people who knew one another, Powell said. There was never a threat of a shooter targeting the public. One person was killed and the other was taken to Wellstar Spalding Regional Medical Center, Powell said. Spalding sheriff's deputies also responded to the shooting, Powell said, but Griffin police will handle the investigation. Neither of the victims has been publicly identified, and the condition of the surviving victim was not released. Powell did not share any further information about what led to the shooting.

A woman was found fatally stabbed Friday morning near an apartment complex in southeast Atlanta, police said. Officers were called to the 1000 block of Boulevard, just south of the Southside Beltline trail and near Zoo Atlanta, shortly before noon regarding an unresponsive person. A 25-year-old woman was located with several stab wounds, officials confirmed. She was pronounced dead on scene and was not publicly identified. Details on the incident were not immediately available, and no information was released on a possible suspect.

Three men were shot, including one who was critically injured, at a southwest Atlanta strip mall Friday afternoon, authorities said. Officers were called to 2478 Martin Luther King Jr. Drive after getting reports of several people shot, Atlanta police said. Responding officers found three men at the scene suffering from gunshot wounds. Two of the men were conscious, but one man's condition was considered critical, police said. All three were taken to the hospital, and police are continuing to investigate. Police did not say if the three injured men were the only people involved in the shooting, or if others may have left the scene. No other information was released.

Gunshots rang out on the campus of Frederick Douglass High School on Friday after Atlanta Public Schools said a school bus was followed by two people in a car before engaging in a fight. No students were injured in the gunfire, Atlanta Public Schools officials said. School officials said that one of the activity school buses was followed from the 9th Grade Academy to the main campus of the high school, where two people who have yet to be identified got out of the vehicle and began fighting several students. That’s when APS officials said one of the unidentified adults pulled out a gun and started firing shots in the air. Officers assigned to the school responded after they heard several shots fired. In a video obtained by 11Alive, you see several people involved in a physical altercation on the ground in front of a school bus before what appears to be four gunshots ring out. Once you hear gunshots, people in the video run away frantically. Below is a photo from the video of when the fight broke out.

[9/26/2024] A driver is facing more charges after a teenager died Thursday from injuries sustained nearly two weeks ago when he was hit by a car on U.S. 70 in Hillsborough. The 15-year-old boy, who has not been identified, was walking on the south shoulder of U.S. 70 near Central Avenue when the driver hit him with her car, Hillsborough police said in a news release. The boy was taken to Duke University Hospital with serious injuries and died at the hospital Thursday, town officials said in an update. The driver, Monica Janette Dove, 51, of Efland, was charged immediately following the crash with driving while impaired, possession of a Schedule II substance and serious injury by vehicle. She was also charged Thursday with felony death by vehicle, the release said. Hillsborough police are still investigating the crash. Anyone with information about what happened can contact Hillsborough police Investigator Andrew Jones at 919-296-9562 or send an email to andrew.jones@hillsboroughnc.gov.

Durham police are investigating a homicide after two people were stabbed early Friday morning. According to ABC11, police were called to Maryland Avenue just before 1 a.m. A male victim died from his injuries at a local hospital, while a female victim was treated by Emergency Medical Services for non-life-threatening injuries, ABC11 reported. Investigators said the stabbing was an isolated incident. As of Sept. 7, there had been 26 criminal homicides reported in Durham this year, compared to 31 and 27 homicides reported by the same time in each of the previous two years, according to police statistics. Anyone with information about Friday's stabbing is asked to call Investigator J. Justice at 919-560-4440 ext. 29119.

A man was shot to death in broad daylight Friday in a crowded Birmingham public housing facility. The shooting happened just after noon in the 3000 block of 32nd Avenue North. That is just inside the main entrance at the Collegeville complex. Officer Truman Fitzgerald said North Precinct officers arrived to find the man on the sidewalk. He had been shot multiple times. Residents reported hearing a barrage of gunfire and some said they got down on the floors of their homes. Birmingham Fire and Rescue began to take the victim to UAB Hospital, but the 33-year-old died during transport. Fitzgerald said the preliminary investigation indicates the gunman approached the victim and opened fire, seemingly without provocation. "From everything we've gathered from speaking with witnesses outside, it was unprovoked," Fitzgerald said. "He walked up to the victim, shot him and fled the scene."

Police are investigating after two people were shot in southwest Atlanta Friday evening. Officers responded around 5 p.m. to 2478 Martin Luther King Jr. Drive SW, which is the address of a Gordon Plaza shopping center, and found the two people who had been shot. APD initially said there were three people injured. However, in an update, Atlanta Police said its investigation determined that it was a 31-year-old and a 33-year-old who were wounded. APD said all three victims were taken to the hospital. There is no word on what led up to the shooting or any suspects at this time.

A South Carolina man was stabbed to death near Edgefield Highway Friday evening, according to the Aiken County Coroner's Office. Jeffery M. Stodghill, a 36-year-old Trenton man, was the victim, Coroner Darryl Ables said Sunday. Just after 6 p.m. Friday, the coroner's office said it was called to the 2700 block of Edgefield Highway, near Johnston Highway, after Stodghill's body was found on the road. There was a domestic altercation between Stodghill and a family member at the home when he was stabbed, according to the coroner's office. Information about what led to the altercation was not available. Stodghill died at the scene and will be autopsied in Newberry next week, the coroner's office said. No other injuries were reported. The coroner's office and the Aiken County Sheriff's Office continue to investigate the death.

[10/30/2024] The DeKalb County District Attorney's Office needs help identifying a man who they believe tied two dogs to the back of a car and dragged them down a road, killing one. Officials said surveillance footage from around 8 p.m. on Sept. 13 shows a man pull into the parking lot of the Redan Recreation Center on Phillips Road while dragging two medium-sized male dogs behind his vehicle. "The man got out of the car, untied the dogs from the bumper and then left them for dead," the DA's office said. He then backed out of the parking lot, preventing the security cameras from recording his license plate, officials said. At some point, a witness called police after noticing the dogs in the parking lot, the DA's office said. A DeKalb Animal Enforcement officer responded and discovered that the dogs had ropes tied around their necks. One of them, a black mixed-breed adult, was dead. The other, a brindle mixed-breed around 9 months old, was still alive, according to officials. He had severe injuries and is being cared for by DeKalb Animal Services/Lifeline Animal Project. Authorities are looking for the suspect and the vehicle, which they described as a dark four-door sedan that is believed to be a 2008-2012 Chevrolet Malibu. At the time, the driver was wearing dark pants, a white baseball cap and a dark gray top with a white logo on the chest and white writing across the back.

With the help of several witnesses, a shooting suspect was identified and arrested Friday night, accused of killing another man outside of an apartment building in Marietta, officials said. Tavion Taylor, 21, was taken into custody in connection with the death of De' shaune Hall, according to authorities. When officers arrived around 10:15 p.m., they discovered Hall, 21, lying on the ground with several gunshot wounds. The shooting happened at the Rosemont Bentley complex, located in the 2600 block of Bentley Road, less than a half-mile from I-75, officials said. Witnesses at the scene were able to identify Taylor as the suspect and provided an address for him in the 1600 block of Windy Ridge Lane, less than 3 miles away. Cobb County officers saw Taylor walking near the area as they responded to that address, authorities said. Following a short chase, Taylor was arrested. He was booked into the Cobb jail on charges of felony murder, aggravated assault and possession of a firearm during the commission of a crime. He was denied bond Monday, Channel 2 Action News reported.

A domestic argument in east Alabama left a woman dead and a man behind bars. The deadly shooting happened Saturday on Hughes Street, according to Piedmont police Chief Nathan Johnson. The chief identified the victim as Ashley Marie Leonard. She was 36. Damien Michael Bailey, 42, is charged with murder. He is being held without bond in the Calhoun Count Jail. Johnson said Leonard was fatally shot while she and Bailey were arguing. "Please keep the Leonard family and friends in your thoughts and prayers as they mourn the loss of their loved one," the chief said. Leonard was a CNA at Cherokee County Health & Rehabilitation Center. "To care for those who once cared for us is one of the highest honors. Care-giving often calls us to lean into love we didn't know was possible. We often say, to be in healthcare, you must have a heart for it. Ashley Leonard, CNA had just that and so much more," the facility posted on Facebook. "It is with deep sadness to learn of her unexpected passing. Ashley was a dedicated CNA who loved caring for others. Words could never express how much our residents and staff will miss her. At CCHRC, we are one big family. With heavy hearts, we write this post. We will all remember the impact she had serving others these past few years." The facility is planning for song and prayer in the lobby at 9 a.m. Tuesday.

Gwinnett County Police responded to a SWAT situation at a home in unincorporated Duluth after they said a knife-wielding man barricaded himself inside of a burning home. The man, identified as 33-year-old Jonathan Lee, was taken into custody alive and is being charged with arson, police said, as well as criminal damage to property and obstruction. Officers responded to the area of Elkhorn Terrace and Gainesway Trace on Saturday night. Officials said Gwinnett Fire and Police responded to the house around 6 p.m. The man came out holding a knife and then went back inside the burning home. "As the Gwinnett County Fire Department knocked down the fire, officers and mental health clinicians continued to try and negotiate with Lee to peacefully surrender," a police statement said. "Due to Lee being an armed suspect barricaded inside the residence the Gwinnett County SWAT Team was activated. The SWAT team was able to take Lee into custody. Lee was transported to a local hospital out of an abundance of caution." The homes around the one where the barricaded suspect was were evacuated, but police said there were not any hostages inside.

The bodies of two men were found in South Carolina late Saturday night, and the deaths are being investigated as a double homicide, according to the Richland County Sheriff's Department. At about 10:30 p.m., deputies responded to a report of a shooting in the 300 block of Koon Store Road. That's in a more rural part of Columbia between U.S. 21/Wilson Boulevard and S.C. 215/Monticello Road. Deputies found the bodies inside a vehicle. The Richland County Coroner's Office has not publicly identified the men that the sheriff's department called homicide victims. There was no word about a shooter or shooters, or if anyone else was involved in the gunfire. Information about a motive for the shooting was not available. No arrests have been reported by the sheriff's department, which said it's continuing to investigate the deaths.

A 36-year-old man was hit and killed along Mableton Parkway on Saturday night, according to Cobb County Police. The police department said the crash happened at 10:49 p.m. on Mableton Parkway, north of its intersection with Community Drive. Investigators believe that the 36-year-old man, from Mableton, was walking east across Mableton Parkway, outside of a crosswalk, when a white 2020 Nissan Murano hit him. The pedestrian ended up in the northbound lane, where authorities said he was pronounced dead by the Cobb County Medical Examiner's Office. Police said the Nissan came to a stop in the same lane. The police department added that the man's name is being withheld at this time pending notification of his next of kin.

Two people were killed Sunday, including a teenager from Columbia, and another person was injured in an early-morning shooting, according to the Lexington County Coroner's Office. Kashaan Damon Sims, 17, died at the scene after being shot multiple times in the upper body, Coroner Margaret Fisher said. Alvin Davonte McDaniel Jr., a 29-year-old Winnsboro resident, was shot several times in the lower body and was taken to an area hospital where he later died, according to Fisher. A third victim was evaluated at an area hospital for a gunshot wound but was later released, the coroner's office said. The shooting happened at about 3:30 a.m. in the 900 block of Center Street, according to Lexington County officials. That's in a part of Lexington County that's a block from Meeting Street and not far from a bridge to downtown Columbia. At about 7 a.m., the West Columbia Police Department asked the public to avoid the area following what it called "an isolated shooting." There was no word about a shooter or shooters, or if anyone else was involved in the gunfire. Information about a motive for the shooting was not available. No arrests have been reported by police, who are continuing to investigate the shooting along with the coroner's office and the South Carolina Law Enforcement Division.

One man was killed Sunday night and another is in jail following an argument that turned into a shootout, according to the Sumter Police Department. Jeremie Devon Richardson, a 40-year-old Sumter resident, is the man who died, police said Monday in a news release. At about 10:30 p.m. Sunday, officers found a vehicle stopped in the intersection in the Rhododendron Street area, according to the release. Inside the vehicle was Richardson, who was behind the wheel after getting shot, police said. Richardson was taken to Prisma Health Tuomey hospital, where he later died, according to the release. During the investigation, officers learned that the shooting happened outside a residence on Lirope Way and that it stemmed from an argument between James Christopher Wilson and a group of acquaintances who were out socializing earlier in the night. Once at the Lirope Way home, Richardson got involved in the dispute and there was an exchange of gunfire with Wilson, police said. Officers later found Wilson, a 38-year-old Sumter resident, at a King Street residence, where he was taken into custody. Wilson was taken to the Sumter County Sheriff's Office Detention Center, where he was charged with murder, possession of a weapon during a violent crime and possession of a weapon by a convicted felon, police said. Despite the arrest, police are continuing to investigate the shooting.

Three children fell victim to a man's sexual advances, according to the Sumter County Sheriff's Office. He's now behind bars. Bradley Alexander Thompson, 20, was charged with three counts of criminal sexual conduct with a minor after the children complained of the assaults to their parents last month, according to a news release. As deputies with the Sumter County Sheriff's Office began investigating the allegations, the children were medically examined. Upon further investigation and forensic interviews, it was determined that Thompson sexually assaulted the children between May and August 2024, the release said. Bradley also admitted to committing the sexual acts. Thompson was denied bond by Sumter County Magistrate Larry Blanding after being transported to the Sumter County Sheriff's Office Detention Center.

A member of the Lexington County Sheriff's Department was placed on leave Monday after he was arrested on a domestic violence charge. Charles Freeman, 47, was charged with third-degree domestic violence, the sheriff's department said in a news release. Freeman was arrested by Lexington Police Department officers early Monday morning at a home in the 400 block of Ivy Green Lane. That's in Lexington, near the intersection of North Lake Drive and Old Cherokee Road. Officers met with a victim at the home who said that during an argument she was tackled in the hallway of the home by Freeman, who was trying to take his cellphone from her. During the struggle the victim suffered a cut to her right arm, but she declined medical attention, police said. Police said two witnesses told officers that they heard the argument and the noise of someone falling to the ground. Following the arrest, Lexington County Sheriff Jay Koon placed Freeman on paid administrative leave. "When I became aware of the arrest, we initiated the process to place Deputy Freeman on leave," Koon said in the release. "We continue to gather information about what happened in this situation and will take the appropriate action after reviewing the facts of the case." Freeman was booked into the Lexington County Detention Center before getting released after meeting the conditions of his bond, the sheriff's department said. If convicted on the misdemeanor charge, Freeman faces a maximum punishment of 90 days in jail and a $2,500 fine, according to South Carolina law.

A traffic stop in Hoover led to the arrest of a woman on a felony child abuse charge. Brittney Nicole Johnson, 28, is charged with child abuse/torture, according to court records made public Wednesday. Officers assigned to the Hoover Police Department's Traffic Division stopped a vehicle Monday for a minor traffic violation. Lt. Daniel Lowe said police found a young child inside the vehicle who showed signs of child abuse. He was under the age of 12. The department's Special Victims Unit launched an investigation, which determined the boy had been beaten repeatedly struck with a cord, leaving significant visible injuries, according to Lowe and charging documents. The investigation is ongoing in conjunction with the Department of Human Resources and the Jefferson County District Attorney's Office. Because of the child's age, Lowe said, no additional details are being released. Johnson, the boy's mother, was taken into custody at the scene. She was booked into the Jefferson County Jail Wednesday and remains held on $15,000 bond.

A woman was found dead in a wooded area of DeKalb County on Monday morning after being struck by a vehicle that left the scene, officials said. Crews were called around 7:45 a.m. after the victim was found in the woods along Calhoun Street near North Decatur Road, according to DeKalb fire spokesperson Capt. Jaeson Daniels. The area is located a short distance from I-285 in the Scottdale community. According to DeKalb police, the woman was hit by the unidentified vehicle while walking in the road. She had been dead for some time when she was found Monday, officials said. "This wasn't something that just happened," Daniels added. The DeKalb Medical Examiner's Office said it was trying to identify the victim and locate next of kin. Police did not specify how long she had been there or what type of vehicle struck her. An investigation into the hit-and-run crash is ongoing.

A suspect wanted for stealing a car in Tallapoosa County remains at-large. Alexander City police say around 8:00 a.m. Monday, officers and Tallapoosa County Sheriff's Office deputies were involved in a vehicle pursuit with a blue Chevrolet Silverado. Officials say the vehicle they were pursuing was reported stolen out of New Site. Investigators then say the driver abandoned the vehicle and fled on foot. ALEA was brought in to assist with using their helicopter to search the area. Several hours later, the suspect, identified as Benjamin Thomas, of Alexander City, was spotted on Coven Abbett Highway. When officers attempted to make contact, Thomas jumped off the bridge and fled through the water to a separate wood line where officers were not able to reach by land. Officers later received another call of the suspect running nude near the intersection of Hwy 63 and 128, but after officers searched the area, they weren't able to locate him. Alexander City police say they believe Thomas is still in the area. Residents are strongly urged to lock their doors and remove the keys from their vehicles. If you know the whereabouts of Benjamin Thomas, you are asked to call the Alexander City Police Department immediately.

A Breadman's employee is safe after a man fired a gun while stealing a pickup truck from the South Elliott Road restaurant, police said. The employee confronted the suspect, who was stealing from the truck in the parking lot of 261 S. Elliott Road, around 8 a.m. Monday, Chapel Hill police said in a news release. The suspect fired one shot and fled the scene in the truck, which has a Breadman's decal on it, they said. The employee was not injured, police said. They described the truck as a silver 2021 Chevrolet Silverado with a North Carolina license plate, JFC-4180. Anyone who sees the truck can should 911, "and do not approach it," police said.

Cobb County Police said early Tuesday morning they had responded to an apartment where a person is barricaded after a shots fired incident. The incident was unfolding at a location on Atlanta Road just outside Smyrna city limits. Officers have indicated that there was an argument between a group of people that seemed to spiral out of control, with the suspect firing shots before retreating into the home. Cobb Police said in a statement that the investigation was still preliminary but that so far, no injuries have been reported. At this time, officers said they have secured a warrant to enter the home. This is a developing story. 11Alive has a crew on scene to gather more information.

A 40-year-old man is behind bars following a road rage shooting in east Alabama. Gadsden police responded at 3:17 p.m. Tuesday to reports of a shooting at the intersection of Rainbow Drive and Lakewood Drive. They arrived to find a woman wounded. Her injuries were not life-threatening. Investigators learned that the suspect – later identified as Tommy Junior Smith of Oxford – fired at the victim from his Jeep. He then fled in the direction of Interstate I-755. A lookout bulletin was issued to surrounding law enforcement agencies. The vehicle was later spotted by Rainbow City police. Officers there made a traffic stop and took Smith into custody. He is charged with first-degree assault and shooting into an occupied vehicle. Police said the shooting was an isolated road rage incident and there was no ongoing threat to public safety. The Etowah County Sheriff's Office, the Southside Police Department, the Attalla Police Department, and the Etowah County Drug Enforcement Unit assisted. Smith remains held in the Etowah County Jail.

A grandmother is searching for answers after her grandson was hit while walking home from his job Tuesday night at the intersection of Norman Bridge Road and East South Boulevard. “It just hurts so bad it really does,” says Gloria Thompson with tears in her eyes as she holds tightly to a picture of her grandson Quanterious. “It’s just hard knowing my baby is laying up in the hospital fighting for his life, and I mean nobody, the police department nobody, was there to try to help him. It was just the fire department and some of the witnesses they were helping out too as much as they could, and I appreciate them very much,” says Gloria. It is the same route that Quanterious Thompson has walked twice a day for two years from his job at Krystal to his home off of Norman Bridge Road. But Tuesday night while he was walking home after working his shift around 6:30pm, his family says eyewitnesses told them two vehicles – a burgundy car and a gray car – hit him and drove off, leaving the 24 year old lying on the ground alone. His grandmother Gloria says someone called 911 and firefighters from Fire Station 12 responded to the scene, but MPD never did. “They called 911 and the police never showed up and he was still laying out there in the street and they never showed up at the hospital, so MPD they didn’t do anything. One of the witnesses told me there was a police officer at the light and he told the police officer ‘Hey a guy just got hit in a hit and run’ and the car was gone and the police officer told him I’ve got another call and he just sped off so my baby was left out there in the street,” says Gloria. A spokesperson for MPD tells us their Accident Division was notified about a vehicle versus pedestrian accident Wednesday, and while our crew was filming the intersection Wednesday morning, officers from MPD were there for the

The Central Alabama Veterans Health Care System says an active shooter investigation is underway at its hospital on Perry Hill Road. Officials are urging everyone to stay clear of the area. Law enforcement and VA Police are actively responding to the situation, and all hospital entrances are temporarily restricted. To ensure public safety, we ask visitors, patients, and staff to avoid the area until further notice. “We are working closely with local authorities to ensure the safety of everyone on campus,” said Valerie Russell, Acting Director of CAVHCS. “We will provide updates as soon as more information becomes available.” Individuals with scheduled appointments or urgent needs are encouraged to contact the hospital by phone to reschedule or seek services at other VA facilities. Action 8 News has a crew heading to the scene. We will provide more details as soon as they become available.

South Carolina police are investigating after a 2-year-old boy died in a shooting Wednesday in the Chester County town of Great Falls, officials said. Rylin Burrell died after the shooting, said Terry Tinker, Chester County coroner. The child died at a hospital in Lancaster later Wednesday after the shooting on Washington Street, Tinker said. No other details about the fatal shooting have been released “The investigation at this point is focused on how an unsecured firearm was accessed,” Great Falls Police Department Chief Olen Martin said in a statement. A 7-year-old family member has been placed in the emergency protective custody of the South Carolina Department of Social Services pending further investigation, a news release said. Great Falls is a town of about 2,000 people along the Catawba River. Investigators from the State Law Enforcement Division child fatality unit are involved in a joint investigation with local police, Martin said. SLED is required under South Carolina law to investigate deaths of children.

One person was killed Wednesday in a shooting, according to the Aiken County Coroner’s Office. An Aiken Department of Public Safety officer was responding to a report about a shooting on Columbia Avenue Northeast when a victim was discovered nearby on Chesterfield Street, Coroner Darryl Ables said in a news release. That’s in the city limits, not far from Aiken High School. The victim had been shot in the body and was taken to an area hospital, according to the release. The victim died at 11:13 p.m., and the coroner’s office was called to the hospital, Ables said. The coroner has not released the victim’s name but said it will be made public after family members have been notified. No other injuries were reported. There was no word about a shooter or shooters, or if anyone else was involved in the gunfire. Information about a motive for the shooting was not available. No arrests have been reported by the Aiken Department of Public Safety, which is continuing to investigate the death along with the coroner’s office. An autopsy has been scheduled for next week in Newberry, according to the release.

[9/22/2024] A teenager was killed in a shooting and a search is underway for a South Carolina man and woman who are wanted on murder charges, according to the Florence County Sheriff’s Office. There’s a manhunt for 21-year-old Kalebsolik Daron Singletary and 19-year-old Yabriah Latia Lewis, who the sheriff’s office called “armed and dangerous” in a news release. The Johnsonville residents are wanted in connection to a Sept. 18 shooting where 14-year-old Jakarta Doctor died and another person was injured, according to the release. Both Singletary and Lewis are also wanted on other charges, but the sheriff’s office did not list the additional counts. Information about a motive for the shooting was not available. The sheriff’s office described Singletary as a 6-foot-1, 169-pound man. Lewis was described as a 5-7, 230 pound woman by the sheriff’s office. If Singletary or Lewis is seen, they should not be approached, the sheriff’s office said.

A man was found shot in the face and collapsed on a sidewalk outside a DeKalb County gas station early Wednesday morning, police said. His injuries are considered life-threatening. The 38-year-old man was found near the intersection of Columbia Drive and Memorial Drive, outside the Chevron gas station at that intersection. He was taken to the hospital, police said, after being found around 12:30 a.m. It was unclear where he was shot or what circumstances surrounded the shooting. "Detectives responded to the scene to further the investigation," a police statement said.

A man was found shot to death Wednesday afternoon on a southwest Birmingham street. Birmingham police officers were dispatched just after 5 p.m. to a report of a person shot in the 1700 block of Laurel Avenue S.W. Police arrived to find the victim unresponsive in the roadway on a dead end street. Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service Pronounced him dead on the scene. Sgt. LaQuitta Wade said the preliminary investigation suggests the victim was involved in a verbal altercation with an unknown suspect before the fatal shots were fired. The suspect was gone by the time officers got at the shooting site. A second person showed up at UAB Hospital a short time later. Wade said officers did not know if that shooting was related to the one on Laurel Avenue. Multiple people gathered nearby waiting to find out if it was their loved one shot. They stood outside the yellow crime scene tape distraught, crying and praying as they awaited confirmation. Police told them they did not yet have enough information to identify him. The investigation is in its early stages and no arrests have been made.

A juvenile boy is set to face charges after an off-duty officer said he stole his gun on Wednesday, according to Atlanta police. Around 7 p.m., officers were called to 906 Ralph David Abernathy Blvd. SW for a reported robbery. The off-duty officer described being "accosted" by a boy, who he said took his firearm and ran away. Officers canvassed the area and took the juvenile into custody at his home, finding the allegedly stolen firearm in a search. Arrest charges are pending, police said. The department did not specify what the charges are.

Shots rang out in a park on Birmingham's Southside late Wednesday, leaving one man dead. South Precinct officers responded about 10:40 p.m. to a call of gunfire and people running in Brother Bryan Park on Magnolia Avenue. Sgt. LaQuitta Wade said police found the victim unresponsive in the park. Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service pronounced him dead on the scene. The man was found in the northwest corner of the park, closest to 21st Street and 10th Avenue South. Witnesses reported hearing shots fired and saw people running away from the park, but they did not see the actual shooting, Wade said. They called 911. Wade said the victim did not have any identification on him. Though the park is popular with transients, she said there was no indication the victim was a transient. It's possible that the people witnesses saw running from the park were the suspects, she said. No arrests have been made. The deadly shooting was one of two on Wednesday. Earlier, a man was found fatally shot in southwest Birmingham street. There have been three homicides in the city in five days. On Friday, a contract worker for the Birmingham Housing Authorities was shot to death in Collegeville.

Law enforcement have arrested a man accused of shooting a police officer late Thursday night. The S.C. State Law Enforcement Division put out an advisory for Alston Modlin, 27, who was being sought in connection to a Chesterfield County shooting that injured a police officer from the town of McBee. The officer was shot during a traffic stop, SLED said in the advisory. Law enforcement asked that the public be on the lookout for Modlin, but to not approach him or his car if spotted. SLED announced that Modlin had been located and taken into custody shortly after 10 a.m. Friday. The agency did not announce where Modlin was captured. The earlier advisory noted he was last seen around 6 a.m. near Florence, driving west.

A Birmingham police officer is behind bars on a felony domestic violence charge. Officer Justin Bisharat, 28, is charged with domestic violence/strangulation, police officials announced Friday. The investigation began Thursday when a woman went to headquarters to report an incident that happened involving her long-term “on and off” boyfriend – now identified as Bisharat, said Officer Truman Fitzgerald. Internal Affairs Division immediately investigated the incident and referred the case to the department’s Special Victims Unit. Detectives interviewed the woman and Bisharat and learned the pair had been involved in a physical altercation in the 2700 Block of 4th Avenue South. The officer was on duty at the time, Fitzgerald said, but not in a City of Birmingham police vehicle. Investigators observed visible injuries on the victim. Bisharat was taken into custody and held in the city jail on a 48-hour hold. The Jefferson County District Attorney’s Office on Friday issued the warrant against Bisharat. He will be booked into the county jail with bond set at $30,000. “The Birmingham Police Department acted swiftly upon notification of this incident and conducted a full investigation,” said Police Chief Scott Thurmond. “The Birmingham Police Department does not condone this type of behavior and will not tolerate it.”

A man shot at his co-worker during a dispute near the Emory University campus Thursday, prompting officials to issue a brief emergency alert asking the public to stay clear of the area. Emory police were notified just after 8 a.m. about the shooting at Emory Point, an apartment and retail complex adjacent to campus in DeKalb County, Emory police Chief Burt Buchtinec said in a statement. When officers arrived, they learned that at least one shot had been fired inside a restaurant during an isolated incident between two employees of an Emory-affiliated company, but no one was injured. An all-clear was given about 20 minutes later after the suspect left the area. "This individual is no longer permitted on Emory's campuses or in any Emory facilities," Buchtinec said. During the incident, authorities said the 60-year-old suspect went to get his gun from his car, returned to the kitchen and shot at the victim but missed. He then threatened another co-worker with the gun and drove away in a 2021 silver Chevrolet Malibu. Police said the suspect is about 5-foot-8, 230 pounds, and was last seen wearing a navy blue uniform jacket. Anyone with more information is asked to contact Emory police at 404-727-6111.

A man is now behind bars in connection to a deadly shooting in Rockdale County on Thursday night following an argument, according to deputies. Deshaun Elder is facing felony murder, possession of a firearm or knife during the commission of or attempt to commit certain felonies and aggravated assault. The incident happened on Thursday around 8:25 p.m. on Barcelona Way when officers got a call about a person shot, according to the Rockdale County Sheriff's Office. When deputies arrived, they found a 23-year-old man who was shot multiple times. He was taken to the hospital, where he later died. Authorities stated that they believed there was an argument over laundry between the victim and Elder about an hour before the shooting. No details about the identity of the victim were released.

A woman died after she was shot inside a Birmingham bar Thursday night, police said. North Precinct officers received a call of a person shot around 8:50 p.m. Thursday at the 604 Bar and Lounge at 604 Ninth Street North, said Officer Truman Fitzgerald. Officers entered the lounge to find a woman lying unresponsive on the floor. Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service personnel rushed the victim to UAB Hospital, where she died of her injuries. Fitzgerald said officers are unsure if the woman was the gunman's intended target but "our investigators and patrol officers do not believe this was a random shooting." The suspect, who was not in custody as of Thursday night, opened fire from outside the bar. Bar staff are cooperating with police, Fitzgerald said, and officers are identifying patrons who witnessed the gunfire. Fitzgerald said witnesses were urged to call police or CrimeStoppers with information on the deadly shooting.

A Coweta County man was shot by sheriff's deputies early Friday morning after he barricaded himself inside his bedroom and threatened to shoot them, Channel 2 Action News reported. Coweta deputies were originally called to the home in Newnan on Hawthorne Drive after getting reports of a domestic disturbance, according to Channel 2. When the deputies arrived, they found the man barricaded in his bedroom. The man, whose identity has not been publicly released, threatened deputies from behind his door and advanced on them while armed when they entered the room, Channel 2 reported. Deputies shot the man, and he was taken to an Atlanta hospital, according to the news station, though officials did not provide any more information about the man's conditions. The sheriff's office has asked the GBI to conduct an independent investigation, and GBI agents could be seen at the home early Friday morning. A GBI spokeswoman confirmed the investigation to The Atlanta Journal-Constitution but did not share any details. Coweta officials have not responded to inquiries about the incident.

A state lawmaker from northwest Alabama was arrested and jailed on a domestic violence charge Friday after his wife claimed he threatened to beat her. Rep. Tracy Estes, R-Winfield, was held Friday in the Marion County jail on a charge of third-degree domestic violence, WBRC reported. Marion County jail records did not list Estes as a current inmate and a list of inmates released from the lockup within the last 48 hours was unavailable Friday night. Estes' wife, Christina Estes, obtained an order of protection against Estes on Friday, Marion County court records showed. She claimed her husband started "arguing and cussing" in their bedroom when she moved to another bedroom and locked the door. Christina Estes claimed the lawmaker then allegedly started banging on the door and threatened to "beat her ass if she didn't open the door. The incident lasted two hours, Christina Estes claimed, adding that she is scared of her husband "and that this type of behavior has occurred numerous times since they've been married."

[10/12/2024] Three people have been charged in connection with a shooting at a fast food restaurant last month, police announced. A 25-year-old was shot in the lower body in a Wendy's parking lot on Newland Drive in Columbia on Sept. 20. Investigators with the Columbia Police Department arrested and charged Javonte Sutton, 20, with attempted murder, criminal conspiracy, possession of a weapon during a violent crime, discharging into an occupied vehicle and contributing to the delinquency of a minor. He was taken to the Alvin S. Glenn Detention Center. Two 15-year-old males were charged in the shooting. They face charges of attempted murder, criminal conspiracy, possession of a weapon during a violent crime, discharging into an occupied vehicle and possession of a handgun under 18. Both were arrested and taken to the South Carolina Department of Juvenile Justice. Sutton and the two 15-year-olds, who were not named by police, are accused of conspiring to shoot the man after an argument. According to police, the incident was captured on surveillance video.

Two people died in overnight shootings in Birmingham, including a woman who was shot inside a bar. The Jefferson County Coroner's Office identified the victims as Diontranet Tinae Brown, 35, of Birmingham, and Tremayne Javahn Long, 37, of Bessemer. North Precinct officers received a call of a person shot around 8:50 p.m. Thursday at the 604 Bar and Lounge at 604 Ninth Street North, said Officer Truman Fitzgerald. Police found Brown unresponsive inside the bar. Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service rushed Brown to UAB Hospital, where she was pronounced dead at 9:09 p.m. "We do not believe this was a random shooting," Fitzgerald said. "It is unclear if the victim was the intended target." Long was shot at 12:40 a.m. Friday in the 1500 block of Third Avenue West, according to coroner's officials. He was taken to UAB Hospital where he was pronounced dead at 2:16 a.m., becoming the fifth homicide victim in the city in seven days. Fitzgerald said a physical fight took place between two men, which led to the fatal shots fired.

A morning drug raid in Lee County led to the arrests of two people, and the seizure of drugs and guns. Authorities said a 9-month-old child was at the home during the raid and was placed into the custody of the Department of Human Resources. The Lee County Sheriff's Office, including its SWAT team, and the Muscogee County Sheriff's Office carried out the raid at 6 a.m. Friday in the 600 block of Lee Road 293 in Smiths Station. Investigators confiscated 869 grams of methamphetamine, a small amount of marijuana and three guns. Kenneth Byron Halsey, 48, and Kacee Jo Pruitt, 30, are charged with trafficking methamphetamine, chemical endangerment of a child, second-degree possession of marijuana and possession of drug paraphernalia. Both are being held in the Lee County Jail with bond set at $56,000 each.

A body found in a Birmingham apartment Friday afternoon has been positively identified as a woman reported missing earlier in the day. Police on Saturday confirmed the victim's identity as Maria Juan. She was 27. Juan was last seen about 8 p.m. Thursday on Birmingham's Southside. Special Victims Unit detectives launched an investigation Friday morning after family reported she had not been seen or heard from since then. Then, about 3:30 p.m. Friday, South Precinct officers were called out to do a welfare check at the Hillside apartment complex at 1521 17th Street South in Glen Iris. Officers arrived at the complex, entered an apartment and found Juan unresponsive. Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service pronounced her dead on the scene. Officer Truman Fitzgerald said detectives and officers suspect foul play. They have not said how she was killed. An autopsy will be performed by the Jefferson County Coroner's Office to determine the cause of death. During the investigation, officers learned about some of the people Juan was with Thursday night, which led North Precinct officers to detain a man Friday in downtown Birmingham. That man – described by police as a former romantic partner – is in the Birmingham City Jail on a 48-hour extension pending formal charges for murder. Fitzgerald said family members provided the suspect's name.

Police in Rock Hill have charged a man after a child died Saturday morning at a hospital after being shot Friday night with an unsecured gun, officials said. The fatal shooting of a child is the second in three days in upstate South Carolina. Both involve unsecured guns, police said. The identity and age of the child shot on Barrow Court in Rock Hill before 8 p.m. Friday have not been released. Police arrested Kunle Lawal Laguda Jr., 39, of Rock Hill for unlawful neglect and possession of a firearm by a person convicted of certain crimes, Rock Hill Police Department Lt. Michael Chavis said Saturday morning. Two children, including the one who died, were playing with the gun left unsecured in the master bedroom when the victim was shot, police said in a statement. Police said they identified Laguda as the person responsible for “leaving the gun in a location where the children could reach it,” the statement said. The other child was not hurt, Chavis said Saturday. No other details about the Rock Hill shooting and investigation have been released. In another child shooting in South Carolina this week, 2-year-old Rylin Burrell died at a Lancaster hospital after he was shot at a home in Great Falls in Chester County on Wednesday, police said. No charges have been filed in that case. Great Falls police said in a statement Thursday, “the investigation at this point is focused on how an unsecured firearm was accessed.”

A man was arrested after a woman was shot and killed Friday evening at a weapons store in downtown Newnan, officials said. Newnan police were called to Oz Tactical, which claims to be “veteran owned and operated,” on East Court Square around 9:15 p.m. regarding the shooting. The woman was located inside suffering from an apparent gunshot wound, authorities said. She was pronounced dead at the scene and identified by the GBI as Olivia Faith Robinson, 28. The investigation led officials to determine that William Brannon Owens, 38, shot and killed Robinson, the GBI said. A motive was not provided. Owens was arrested Saturday on charges of aggravated assault and murder. He remains at the Coweta County Jail without bond. The weapons store is across the street from the Coweta probate court, walking distance from city hall and less than a mile from Newnan police headquarters. In April 2022, three family members working at a Coweta gun range and shop were fatally shot by a customer, the GBI said. Jacob Christian Muse was indicted on several charges including murder in the deaths of Tommy Richard Hawk Sr., the 75-year-old owner of Lock Stock and Barrel, his wife Evelyn Hawk, also 75, and their 18-year-old grandson Alexander “Luke” Hawk, a senior at East Coweta High School. City officials are asking anyone who has information on Friday’s shooting to contact GBI detective Steve McCook at 770-254-2355 ext. 136 or Lt. Chris Robinson 770-254-2355 ext. 155.

A man and a woman were shot and killed Saturday at an apartment complex in northwest Atlanta, according to authorities. Atlanta police responded just after 3:30 p.m. to the Reserve at Hollywood apartments, located on Hollywood Road in the Scotts Crossing neighborhood. Officers had received a call about a person shot and found a 25-year-old man and 24-year-old woman each suffering from several gunshot wounds. The victims, who were not publicly identified, were pronounced dead at the scene by medical crews. No information was released by police about a possible suspect or what led to the incident. A motive is unclear at this time for the shooting at Reserve at Hollywood, where two people were shot to death earlier this year. Police were already looking for three people accused of killing a 16-year-old boy at the complex July 10. Maurice Weems was shot and taken to the hospital, where he died. According to Channel 2 Action News, Weems had called his paternal grandmother, whom he lived with, asking her for a ride on the day he was killed. His maternal grandmother was previously strangled to death there when he was just 9. "We do want justice. We hope for justice. We need justice. And we're asking for justice," Weems' paternal grandmother told Channel 2 earlier this year. "But we also know God has his timing too, so we'll wait." On June 3, officers were previously called to the complex and found 21-year-old Jacquez Harris dead behind a building. He had been shot several times, police said. A 61-year-old woman was also arrested after she allegedly stabbed a 63-year-old woman in the arm there during Memorial Day weekend.

A 7-year-old boy remained hospitalized Saturday with injuries that police described as “extremely severe” after gunfire erupted in a Burlington home. “Our thoughts and deepest sympathies are with the family and everyone affected by this act of violence,” Police Chief Alan Balog said in a statement Friday. The boy was an “innocent bystander” who was “senselessly shot” during an argument at a home in the Beaumont Apartments complex, he said. The child was shot around 8 p.m., WXII reported. Emergency responders flew the boy by helicopter to a local trauma center, WFMY reported. He was in critical condition, Balog said. Police arrested Tremaine Armstrong, 18, of Burlington, and Kemontae Crosby, 21, of Graham. Armstrong was charged with attempted first-degree murder, Balog said, and Crosby with accessory after the fact to attempted first-degree murder. Police took Armstrong and Crosby into custody Friday without incident, Balog said. “This incident affects all of us, and it is a reminder of the importance of coming together as a community,” Balog said. “While we are deeply saddened by what has occurred, we also look forward to strengthening our resolve to prevent such violence from taking place again,” the chief said. “Now more than ever, we need the community’s support, cooperation, and vigilance.”

A juvenile suspect was arrested after gunfire erupted Saturday night during a football game at South Cobb High School, officials said. Cobb police responded around 9 p.m. to the shooting on its Austell campus. The victim sustained non-life threatening injuries and is expected to recover, police said. School district officials described the game as a “community event.” The suspect was taken into custody at the scene and is facing charges of aggravated assault, reckless conduct, minor in possession of a firearm, criminal trespass and violation of probation, police said. His name was not released. Several law enforcement officers responded to campus after the shooting, and caution tape surrounded an area near the football field. A police spokesperson did not release additional details on what led up to the incident, saying they would be “released as it becomes available.” In a statement, Cobb County Schools said the campus was used “through a facility use request” and that it was not an event by the district, according to Channel 2 Action News. “We do not have any further details and appreciate the Cobb Police Department’s quick response,” the district added.

Tuscaloosa law enforcement have started a homicide investigation after a man was found dead Saturday night. Just after 9:30 p.m., officers arrived at the Stillman Court Apartments in the 2900 block of 17th Street Tuscaloosa. Capt. Marty Sellers told AL.com that a family member found the man’s body. He has not been identified. WBRC reported that the man apparently had been dead for several days. Police say the victim lived in the apartment.

A Brookhaven woman was arrested Sunday, less than eight hours after she allegedly struck and killed a man with her car in Fayette County before driving away, authorities said. At about 10:25 p.m. Saturday, officers were called to the hit-and-run crash in the area of East Stonewall Avenue and Lee Street in Fayetteville. An investigation found the suspect, Danielle Loyd, had been arguing with the pedestrian that night when she intentionally struck him with her black 2024 BMW I4 and left the scene, Fayetteville police said. The man was taken to a nearby hospital, where he died from his injuries, according to officials. His identity was not released, but police said Loyd and the victim knew each other. After the crash, Fayetteville police said multiple law enforcement agencies were searching for Loyd, who was located in Brookhaven at about 5:30 a.m. on Sunday. Loyd was then booked into the Fayette County Jail on several charges, including murder, police said. She is being held without bond. “We still ask that anyone with knowledge of the incident contact the Fayetteville Police Department at 770-461-4441 or 770-461-4357,” police added.

Authorities have released the name of the fourth person killed in a barrage of automatic gunfire in a mass shooting in a popular Birmingham entertainment district. Roderick Lynn Patterson Jr., 26, of Birmingham, died at UAB Hospital shortly after Saturday's night shooting. Authorities previously identified the other homicide victims as Anitra Holloman, 21, Tahj Booker, 27, and Carlos McCain, 27. Seventeen other people were reported injured after a hail of bullets were fired into a crowd outside of the Hush lounge in Five Points South. Officer Truman Fitzgerald on Monday said four of the surviving victims have life-threatening injuries. A press conference is set for this morning to provide additional updates in the ongoing investigation. No arrests have been made. It was just after 11 p.m. Saturday when Birmingham's 911 dispatchers received multiple calls of shots fired. While police were en route, officers learned multiple people were shot and the scene was quickly deemed a mass casualty incident. Holloman, Booker and McCain were found unresponsive on the sidewalk. They were pronounced dead on the scene within moments. Officers from the city's other precincts were brought in to help control the chaos, and at least 50 Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service personnel – 15 units – also responded. Police quickly cordoned off a blocks-wide perimeter as hundreds stood among the chaos, many crying and trying to find their loved ones and friends. Witnesses said many of the victims were standing in line outside Hush when the bullets were unleashed. Victims were treated at UAB Hospital, Princeton Baptist Medical Center, Brookwood Medical Center and St. Vincent's. Fitzgerald said the surviving 17 victims – both male and female – sustained injuries ranging from non-life-threatening to critical. Police said the Muscle Shoals police shot a person after officers were called to Tuxedo Avenue Sunday night, the department announced on Facebook. Few details were released. It was not clear what the nature of the call was, how badly injured the person was injured in the shooting or what led police to fire. "As protocol, The Alabama Law Enforcement Agency (ALEA) was called to the scene and the investigation was turned over to their agency," the department stated. "The Officers involved are on Administrative Leave per protocol. More information will be provided as it becomes available per ALEA."

Shots were fired at two different gatherings in Troy early Sunday morning. Just after midnight, the Troy Police Department responded to reports of shots fired in the 100 block of US 231. When they arrived, officers found a large crowd, and several people and vehicles were leaving the scene. Shortly thereafter, officers were called to another large gathering in the 1000 block of Park Street. While they were trying to break up the crowd, several shots were fired damaging a vehicle and a residence. Fortunately, no one was injured in either incident.

The Atlanta Police Department is investigating after a man was shot and killed on Sunday afternoon. According to police, officers responded to the 500 block of Magnolia Street NW in Atlanta's Vine City neighborhood. When they arrived, they found a man with an apparent gunshot wound. Police said he was unresponsive and was pronounced dead at the scene. His identity is currently unknown. In a Sunday night update, the police said that the preliminary investigation indicated the man's gunshot wound was self-inflicted and that foul play is not suspected.

A call to police about a shoplifter at Buc-ee's in Leeds led to an investigation into trafficking in stolen identities. Amber Michelle Beard, 39, of Calera, is facing multiple felony charges. She is being held in the Jefferson County Jail on bonds totaling $80,500. Leeds police were dispatched to Buc-ee's on Sept. 22 to investigate a shoplifter. After determining a theft had taken place, police said, Beard was taken into custody. A search of her purse revealed not only stolen merchandise from the store, but numerous credit cards, debit cards, and other documents belonging to other people. Additionally, officers found U.S. mail not addressed to Beard. Beard told police she was employed by the U.S. Postal service. Investigators then searched Beard's vehicle and found a large amount of mail addressed to various individuals in the Birmingham area, including credit/debit cards, checks, gift cards, and Alabama driver's licenses. "It has been determined while Beard acted in her official capacity employed by the United States Postal Service, she opened U.S. mail not addressed to her, removed items from the mail packaging, such as checks, debit/cards, and gift cards, and fraudulently used them," police said in a press release. Beard is charged with trafficking in stolen identities, five counts of illegal possession of a credit/debit card, and fourth-degree theft of property. More charges are pending as additional victims are identified.

Atlanta police are investigating after a 48-year-old man was shot and killed in downtown Atlanta on Sunday morning, authorities said. The victim was found shot to death around 6 a.m. in the 200 block of Peachtree Center Avenue, according to police. The location is near Atlanta Marriot Marquis and the Consulate General of Germany. It's also a short distance from the Hub at Peachtree Center, a food court where four people were shot in June, including the suspect. When officers arrived Sunday, they found the victim in critical condition after being shot several times. Medical crews attempted life savings measures, but he died at the scene. His name was not released. A motive is unclear, and no other details were provided by police. The investigation is ongoing.

An hours long standoff ended Sunday night when a man who had barricaded himself inside a South Carolina home was taken into custody and charged with kidnapping and assaulting a female victim, according to the Lexington Police Department. The barricaded standoff happened in the 100 block of Palm Court, police said Monday in a news release. That's in a part of Lexington between U.S. 378 and Old Cherokee Road. At about 7 p.m., officers responded to a home following a call about female who had been kidnapped and held against her will for several hours, according to the release. The victim had been assaulted before she was able to escape and call law enforcement officers, police said. Officers' attempts to contact the man barricaded inside the home were unsuccessful, and members of the police department's Emergency Services Team and the Crisis Negotiations Unit were called. Further negotiations with the barricaded man, later identified as 57-year-old Lexington resident Keith Dwayne Miles, failed to lead to his surrender, according to police. The Emergency Services Team then extracted Miles "without further incident," police said at 11 p.m. Specific information about how Miles was removed from the barricaded home was not available, but after being forced out he was taken to Lexington Medical Center for treatment and evaluation. No other injuries were reported in that standoff that prompted police to temporarily restrict access to the neighborhood and have residents shelter in place. Miles has since been arrested and booked in the Lexington County Detention Center, jail records show. Miles was charged with kidnapping as well as assault and battery (of a high and aggravated nature), police said. No bond has been set and Miles remains behind bars, jail records show.

A man is behind bars and facing charges after a 27-year-old was shot and killed at an apartment complex in Mableton on Sunday night, Cobb County Police said. David Wells, 26, is facing felony murder, aggravated assault, third-degree cruelty to children, possession of a firearm by a convicted felon and tampering with evidence charges. The shooting happened at the Mableton Ridge Apartments on Mableton Parkway around 9 p.m. When officers arrived, they found 27-year-old Namarri Shackelford shot. She was taken to a local hospital where, despite attempts to save her life, she later died, according to police. Wells is currently in custody.

More than a week of steady bloodshed on the streets of Birmingham continued Sunday night when three people were shot on the city's east side, one of them fatally. The killing came less than 24 hours after a mass shooting in Five Points South that left four people dead, and 17 others wounded. Police officials on Sunday's night scene said they had not ruled out the possibility that the gunfire could be linked to Saturday's carnage in Southside. "One of our personnel received intel that this may be related," said Officer Truman Fitzgerald. "So anytime we have a community member willing to step up and give information, we're going to investigate that the best we can." Just before 9:30 p.m. Sunday, the city's gunfire detection system – Shot Spotter – alerted officers to shots fired in the South East Lake community, specifically the 700 block of 81st Place South. Shot Spotter registered at least 30 rounds fired, and there were multiple evidence markers placed in the middle of 81st Place South. Once on the scene, they found a man unresponsive on the sidewalk and a woman unresponsive in a front yard. Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service rushed both of them to UAB Hospital, where the man died. His identity has not yet been released. The woman's injuries, Fitzgerald said, are life-threatening. Police then learn another gunshot victim showed up by private vehicle at St. Vincent's East. The initial report was that the victim was shot in the same incident but Fitzgerald said they are still working to positively confirm that. No arrests have been made. "Witnesses are coming forward. They have been helpful," he said. "We're hearing reports the shooter was possibly in a vehicle. However, we're working to confirm if the shooter fired shots from the vehicle, or exited and then fired shots," Fitzgerald said.

A person was killed and another was injured Monday after a shooting at a grocery store in southwest Atlanta, police said. The gunfire happened around noon at 875 Metropolitan Parkway, according to Atlanta police. The site is listed as a neighborhood grocery store and is located on the corner of Metropolitan Parkway and Lillian Avenue in the Adair Park neighborhood. Police said officers found two individuals with gunshot wounds; one person was pronounced dead at the scene. No other details were released by police about the shooting, which remains under investigation. Nobody answered a phone call to the grocery store. We are working to learn more.

One man is dead, and another man is hurt after an argument escalated into a shooting inside a neighborhood grocery store on Monday afternoon, according to the Atlanta Police Department. APD officers responded around noon to 875 Metropolitan Pkwy SW, the address of the Grocery Brothers (Family Grocery Store LLC). The grocery store is located in Atlanta's Adair Park neighborhood, not far from Kindezi at Gideons Elementary School. When officers arrived, APD said they found the two men shot— one of the men was pronounced dead by EMS on the scene. The other man was taken to Grady Hospital in stable condition, police added. APD Lt. Homicide Commander Andrew Smith said surveillance video shows the two men got into an argument and began shooting at each other. Smith said investigators believe at least five shots were fired. Smith added that the employees and customers at the grocery store were not hurt. Investigators are still looking into the circumstances surrounding the shooting. 11Alive crews at the scene saw several APD patrol vehicles and crime scene tape surrounding the front of the grocery store.

Four teens have been charged in a shooting that happened Little Caesars in Tuscaloosa earlier this week. Police responded just before 6 p.m. Monday to the restaurant on Old Greensboro Road on a report of a shooting. Tuscaloosa Violent Crimes Unit Capt. Jack Kennedy said investigator learned that the four teens entered the business and physically assaulted one of the employees. The altercation spilled into the parking lot where that employee was shot one time. Several of the young suspects were wearing full face-covering masks, Kennedy said. The wounded employee's injuries are not believed to be life-threatening. Authorities quickly identified and found the suspect vehicle. The lone occupant of that vehicle – 16-year-old – was taken into custody. Three other suspects were taken into custody early Tuesday. They are ages 15, 16, and 18. All three are charged with first-degree assault, as well. Kennedy said the attack stemmed from an ongoing dispute with the victim and had nothing to do with the business. The 15-year-old is being held in juvenile detention. The two 16-year-olds and the 18-year-old are being held in the Tuscaloosa County Jail. The 18-year-old has been identified as Nicholas Tubbs. The names of the juveniles are not being released.

A 28-year-old suspect is now in custody after a SWAT standoff at a DeKalb County home on Monday night, police said. Authorities said he was charged with two counts of aggravated assault on a police officer and added they found several firearms and thousands of rounds of ammunition inside the home. It all started near the 900 block of Meadow Rock Drive, where authorities said a SWAT unit was responding to a barricaded person. Heavy police presence was seen in the area. According to police, the incident began when DKPD was notified around 6:30 p.m. about an armed person experiencing a mental health crisis. When they arrived, officers heard what sounded like gunshots being fired from inside the residence. Witnesses said they heard at least four shots. "It was like pow, pow, pow, pow," one witness recalled to 11Alive's Cody Alcorn. "It was crazy." A Mobile Crisis Unit Officer discovered a defect in his duty belt but was otherwise unharmed, police said. In addition, no shots were fired by the officers, and there were no reported injuries. By 8:49 p.m., DeKalb County Police's SWAT command center rolled onto the scene. 11Alive crews also spotted additional tactical vehicles in the area. DeKalb County Police had asked the public to stay clear of the area near the area that evening. However, officers had also said there was no threat to the community and that they contained the situation to one residence. When SWAT prepared to enter the home, the 28-year-old suspect exited the building and was taken into custody without incident, police said.

An overnight shooting in Fairfield left a teen boy dead. The Jefferson County Coroner's Office identified the victim as Marquise Jermaine Witherspoon. He was 17 and lived in Bessemer. The shooting happened at 10:38 p.m. Monday in the 300 block of 67th Street. Chief Deputy Coroner Bill Yates said Witherspoon was taken to UAB Hospital where he was pronounced dead at 11:21 p.m. The Jefferson County Sheriff's Office is leading the investigation. No additional details have yet been released. Witherspoon is the third person killed in Fairfield this year. In all of Jefferson County, there have been 156 homicides, including the three in Fairfield.

A South Carolina woman was killed Tuesday by a man who then shot himself, but didn't die, Berkeley County officials said. The Berkeley County Sheriff's Office said it's investigating what it believes to be a murder-attempted suicide. The shooting happened on Kennan Avenue in the Goose Creek area of Berkeley County, according to the sheriff's office. That's near Naval Joint Base Charleston, about 17 miles from downtown Charleston. Katie Sullivan, a 38-year-old Goose Creek resident, is the woman who died at the scene of the shooting, Berkeley County Coroner Darnell Hartwell said. Sullivan's body was discovered by deputies who were responding to a call about a domestic violence incident with gunshots. After attempts to make contact with occupants of the Keenan Avenue residence were unsuccessful, deputies said they saw signs of a struggle and went inside. That's when they found Sullivan. Deputies were conducting a safety sweep of the residence when they discovered a man "with a self-inflicted gunshot wound," the sheriff's office said. The man, 31-year-old Goose Creek resident Michael Scott Vasko, was taken to an area hospital. Preliminary investigations show Sullivan was the victim and Vasko is being investigated as the shooter, and criminal charges are pending against him. Hartwell said Sullivan's death is being investigated as a homicide by both his office and the sheriff's office. "We often tell our community if they see something suspicious to call us," Berkeley County Sheriff Duane Lewis said in a news release. "This tip from a neighbor helped deputies locate the crime scene in a quick manner."

A man shot late Tuesday afternoon inside a crowded southwest Birmingham convenience store may have become a homicide victim for something as trivial as a social media dispute, police said. West Precinct officers responded to the Big Boy Convenience Store at 2714 Pearson Ave. SW just before 5 p.m. on a report of a person shot, said Officer Truman Fitzgerald. Officers found a man suffering from a gunshot wound and lying unresponsive in front of the store. Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service personnel were transporting the victim to UAB Hospital when he died en route, said Fitzgerald. “We believe that two adult males who were involved in an armed confrontation with one another,” Fitzgerald said, citing the preliminary investigation into the homicide. “One party had a gun, the second party had a gun, and one of those males fired shots.” Police were searching for the gunman and other males involved in the confrontation. Witnesses were asked to call Crimestoppers at 205–254–7777; tipsters may remain anonymous. “This was a very tragic situation,” Fitzgerald said. “There were other patrons inside of the business when the shooting occurred.”

A man was shot to death in a southwest Birmingham neighborhood Tuesday night, less than four hours after another man was killed a short distance away. Police said they are not ruling out the possibility that the two killings are linked. The victims have been identified as Malike Williams, 26, and Damone Gardner, 34. Both victims knew each other. West Precinct officers responded to a Shot Spotter alert in the 300 block of 27th Street S.W. shortly before 8:30 p.m. Tuesday. They arrived to find Gardner unresponsive in the middle of the road. Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service pronounced him dead on the scene. Officer Truman Fitzgerald said investigators believe some sort of argument took place between Gardner and the suspect which led to the fatal shooting. The gunfire detection system registered two shots fired. “This was a personal conflict,” Fitzgerald said. A large crowd of friends and family gathered at the scene, visibly upset and clearly agitated with police. “We have a large crowd that’s talking, a large crowd that’s loud,” Fitzgerald said as family yelled things while he was briefing the news media. “We need that same energy sent to our detectives. That way we can do something with that information and get these individuals off the street.”

An early morning double shooting in DeKalb County caused a huge scene Wednesday morning at an apartment complex off Pleasantdale Road. [10/13/2024] A security guard arrested last week on a murder charge is accused of stabbing a 90-year-old man more than 50 times at a Buckhead apartment complex that houses the elderly and people with disabilities, according to a warrant obtained Monday by The Atlanta Journal-Constitution. Janet Williams is charged in connection with last month's killing of Chun Ki Kim, who was found dead on the kitchen floor of his apartment at the Marian Road Highrise complex Sept. 25 after being stabbed in the torso and face. During the investigation, police said Williams, who worked as a guard in the building, stood by and watched investigators at the scene, asked questions and even went inside the apartment of a fifth-floor resident who had a doorbell camera near the victim's unit. "While it was still unclear what her intentions initially were, Williams stabbed Mr. Kim to death," the warrant stated. Kim, who was from South Korea, ran a shoe repair shop in metro Atlanta. His caretaker called police around 7:40 a.m. Sept. 25 after finding his body at the complex, located in the 700 block of Sidney Marcus Boulevard near Piedmont Road in the Lindbergh/Morosgo neighborhood. The 240-unit building, which is owned by the Atlanta Housing Authority, has security cameras, but there were none on the floors with apartments that would have shown someone entering or leaving a unit, the warrant stated. Inside Kim's apartment, the only missing items were his wallet and an Atlanta Braves cap, police said. Surveillance footage showed that Kim was last seen getting on the elevator to go to his apartment at noon Sept. 24, the report stated. By 3:15 p.m., Williams, who was wearing a dark-colored security guard uniform, cargo-style pants, Crocs, a face mask, glasses, a lanyard for

A man shot a woman before killing himself early Wednesday at an apartment complex in DeKalb County, authorities said. DeKalb police responded at around 4:30 a.m. to the shooting at The Landings at Pleasantdale apartments on Meadowglenn Village Lane. At the scene, officers found a man dead and a woman suffering from two gunshot wounds. She was taken to a hospital in critical condition but died there, police said. The names of the suspect and victim were not released. “At this time, it appears that the suspect shot the victim and then turned the weapon on himself,” police spokesperson Officer Elise Wells said. Their relationship is unclear at this time. Briy Golden said she heard about six gunshots at her complex Thursday morning before a woman started screaming. She said it was a jarring way to wake up. “It was scary. Her scream made me shiver a little bit. I dropped up out of the bed,” Golden said. After seeing a car driving away from the scene through her window, Golden waited a bit before stepping outside, she said. The police arrived soon after. There had been gunfire in the area but never that close before, Golden noted. The complex is located near Pleasantdale Road and I-85.

A search for suspects is ongoing following a shooting Wednesday evening near a mobile home park outside Rock Hill, York County deputies said Thursday. Deputies and the Charlotte–Mecklenburg Police Department helicopter responded after 6 p.m. to Adnah Hills Avenue located west of Rock Hill. The area is off Adnah Church Road, between S.C. 161 and S.C. 5. The victim was shot several times, said Trent Faris, spokesman for the sheriff’s office. A 14-year-old was found dead on the side of the road in Meriwether County after deputies said he was shot and killed late Wednesday night. The Meriwether County Sheriff's Office said they are now investigating after the teen, identified as 14-year-old Jordan Simon from Newnan, was found in the 12000 block of Rocky Mount Road in Luthersville, Georgia. Deputies and first responders arrived on scene around 10:50 p.m. after it was phoned in. Officials said it was initially reported as a medical call after a passerby saw a body on the side of the road. When deputies got there, they found the boy shot to death. The sheriff's office said the details surrounding Simon's death are still unclear and they are urging the public to come forward with any information that can help lead to an arrest in the case. Investigators said they are specifically focusing on establishing a timeline and figuring out who saw Simon between the hours of 5 p.m. and 10:50 p.m. on Wednesday, Sept. 25. "No detail is too small," Sheriff Chuck Smith said in a news release. "If you saw Jordan or know where he may have been in the hours before his death, we need to hear from you. Your cooperation could be the key to bringing justice to this young man and his grieving family." If anyone has information in the case, they are asked to call the Meriwether County Sheriff's Office at 706-672-4236. They also asked anyone with information in Newnan or Coweta County to reach out to the Newnan Police Department or Coweta County Sheriff's Office.

[9/28/2024] A man found dead and decomposing in east Birmingham was the victim of a homicide, authorities announced Saturday. The discovery was made about 8:15 a.m. Thursday by a person walking in the 3000 block of Jefferson State Parkway. The body was found in a wooded area. The passerby flagged down a Jefferson County deputy who notified Birmingham police. Initially the man’s death was unclassified, but an autopsy carried out by the Jefferson County Coroner’s Officer determined he was a victim of foul play, said Officer Truman Fitzgerald. Authorities have not yet identified the man or said how he was killed. The Jefferson County Sheriff’s Office and Jefferson State Community College campus police also responded to the scene. The victim is Birmingham’s 126th homicide this year. Of those, eight have been ruled justifiable and two others happened in previous years, but the victims died in 2024. In all of Jefferson County, there have been 160 homicides, including the 126 in Birmingham.

An early-morning shooting in Jefferson County on Friday left a woman dead. The Jefferson County Coroner’s Office identified the victim as Kandyce Marie Williams. She was 28 and lived in Trussville. Shortly before 12:30 a.m., the victim was driven to the Brighton Police Department headquarters after being shot at another location. Brighton police, Jefferson County sheriff’s deputies and Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service all responded to the police department. Williams was pronounced dead on the scene. No additional details have been released.

A Gadsden man has been arrested in connection with reports of an attempted child abduction. DeKalb County Sheriff Nick Welden announced that Cordell Quenton Brand, 29, has been charged with second degree unlawful imprisonment and illegal possession of prescription drugs. The arrest stems from an incident that happened on Sept. 27. Collinsville police were dispatched to the area of Piggly Wiggly and Rains Court Apartments. Police questioned a juvenile victim and family members and put together a description of the person involved in the incident. Two days later, Collinsville police were called to the apartments on Truman Lane on another issue. While speaking with subjects on the scene, an officer determined one of the subjects matched the description of the man from the previous incident. Brand was then arrested. Welden said the arrest would not have taken place without the help of “vigilant members of the community.” Brand is being held in the DeKalb County Jail, awaiting a bond hearing.

A man was arrested for causing a three-vehicle crash on I-75 during Hurricane Helene. Kazi Sihan Hossain was arrested Monday and charged with Hossain was charged with second degree homicide by vehicle, driving too fast for conditions and driving requirements for tires. He was released on a $10,000 bond Tuesday. Police said Hossain was driving 71 mph on I-75 while Georgia was experiencing heavy rainfall from Helene on Sept. 27 a little after 5 a.m. The speed limit in that area was 65 mph. Hossain lost control of his car, which caused him and Rodrigue Joseph to crash. A tractor-trailer hit Hossain’s car before veering and hitting Joseph’s car. Joseph died from his injuries five hours later, police said. Police said Hossain also knowingly drove with illegally slick tires – the two back tires were below the Georgia requirement of 2/32 inch tread depth. The front tires were destroyed in the crash and could not be measured. This, combined with the heavy rain, small patches of shallow standing water on the road and poor lighting in that section of I-75, contributed to the crash, police said.

Two officers were injured and a suspect was fatally shot after a burglary at a Cobb County gun store late Friday, officials said. The Smyrna police officers injured were not immediately identified, but officials said they were both shot in the leg. The suspect killed by police was not publicly identified. “I’m angry. It angers me that we have people that want to do this, that want to take shots at police officers, that want to do us harm,” Smyrna police Chief Keith Zgonc said during an overnight news conference. According to Zgonc, officers were called to the Adventure Outdoors gun store on Cobb Drive about a burglary shortly before midnight. Police met with an employee at the scene who indicated that the suspect was inside the business, the GBI said. Officials did not say what the suspect was trying to steal. The suspect is accused of initiating gunfire during the encounter, and Smyrna and Cobb officers returned fire. The GBI said the suspect shot at officers with a rifle slung around his neck after being able to break free from officers trying to place him into custody. The two Smyrna officers shot were taken to a hospital with injuries not considered life-threatening. The GBI said Cobb officers fatally shot the suspect, who was pronounced dead at the scene. Earlier this month, former President Donald Trump’s campaign held a large debate watch party at Adventure Outdoors, which bills itself as “The World’s Largest Gun Store.” The GBI was asked to investigate the officer-involved shooting. After the independent investigation is complete, findings will be sent to the Cobb district attorney’s office for review.

A man was killed, and another is in custody following a shooting and standoff in Fairfield. Jefferson County sheriff’s deputies were dispatched just before 11:30 a.m. Saturday to Budgetel Inns & Suites on Kelco Place on a report of a person shot. A 35-year-old man was dead at the scene. Deputies arrived and made contact with the suspect who was holed up in one of the rooms, said sheriff’s spokesman Henry Irby. The alleged shooter surrendered a short time later without further incident. Irby did not release any details. The victim is Fairfield’s fourth homicide this year and the second in less than a week. A 17-year-old boy was killed in a Monday shooting in the city. In all of Jefferson County, there have been 161 homicides in 2024, including the four in Fairfield.

A man was shot and injured by deputies in Lumpkin County over the weekend, according to the Georgia Bureau of Investigation. The incident happened on Saturday, September 28, shortly after noon. The GBI says deputies with the Lumpkin County Sheriff's Office responded to a domestic dispute at a home in the Cavender Creek area. Deputies specified that they had information indicating a woman was injured in the incident. Once there, the deputies encountered 27-year-old Malachi Mayfield, who was armed with a knife and made "aggressive movements towards the deputies," according to the GBI. It was at that moment that Mayfield was shot. He was treated at the scene and eventually taken to a local hospital, according to the GBI, who said he is in stable condition. The GBI is continuing to investigate the situation.

Muscle Shoals police say a Nashville woman was struck and killed by a vehicle on Saturday night. The incident happened at about 7:35 p.m. on George Wallace Boulevard between Patriots Drive and Sixth Street. Officers responding found Jamya B. Shanes, 25, lying on the edge of the roadway with severe trauma to the body. She was pronounced dead at the scene. Witnesses told police they were walking with Shanes when a dark-colored truck struck Shanes and fled the scene. Muscle Shoals police, along with Tuscumbia police, gained a description of the vehicle and a license plate number, which they traced to an address in Tuscumbia. Police said an Explorer Sport Trac with heavy damage to the front passenger side and hood, and what appeared to be human hair on the vehicle, was found there. Police took a 74-year-old Tuscumbia man into custody and plan to charge him with leaving the scene of an accident that has resulted in death. "Our thoughts and prayers are with Ms. Shanes' friends and family during this difficult time," Muscle Shoals police said in a statement.

A Birmingham bank was robbed Thursday morning, and police are asking for the public's help identifying the suspect. The holdup happened about 11:30 a.m. at Chase Bank on Crossplex Boulevard. The man entered the bank wearing a head covering, a surgical mask and carrying a backpack. He handed the teller a note, and said he was armed with a gun. He did not brandish a weapon. The man fled with an undisclosed amount of money. No one was injured.

A man was fatally shot Friday afternoon during an incident involving a teenager in South Fulton, officials said. The shooting occurred in the 6600 block of Mancha Street, a residential road off Old National Highway, around 5:30 p.m. A 41-year-old man was found shot and killed at the scene, a spokesperson for the police department said. He was not publicly identified. A 16-year-old boy was involved in the shooting, which officials said "stemmed from a domestic dispute." Authorities did not specify the teen's role in the incident. The circumstances surrounding the shooting remain under investigation, and no arrests had been made as of Friday evening.

A Dallas County man is behind bars tonight — after he opens fire on authorities — who were attempting to serve him with a warrant Friday afternoon. Sheriff Mike Granthum says deputies were called-in — to help state probation officials safely apprehend 20 year old Matthew Wright. But when officers approached the house — Wright opened fire on them. Then barricaded himself inside. "We backed off. I began negotiations with the subject. And about 30 or 45 minutes later we were able to talk him out of the residence," said Granthum. "When we searched the house we found marijuana, we found cocaine. We found fentanyl, we found all kinds of drug paraphernalia and stuff." Wright is now being held without bond. His charges include five counts of attempted murder — unlawful possession of marijuana — and a probation violation.

An off-duty Atlanta police investigator was fatally shot Friday morning after breaking into a Douglas County home, officials confirmed. The Douglas sheriff's office said it was around 5 a.m. when deputies responded to a home in the 8000 block of Orkney Way near the St. Andrews Golf Club about reports of an attempted burglary. The preliminary investigation revealed that a man, who appeared to be experiencing a "mental health episode or under the influence of narcotics," attempted to break into the front door of the home. "This individual was able to make his way into the residence and was confronted by the homeowner," the sheriff's office said. "The homeowner, acting in self-defense, shot this person inside his residence. The shot was fatal and the individual died at the scene." Atlanta police confirmed the investigator involved was Aubree Horton, 32. He had been with the department for almost 10 years and was awarded the "Investigator of the Year" award last week at the Atlanta Police Foundation's annual Crime is Toast ceremony. Horton, who was most recently assigned to the department's fugitive unit, had no law enforcement experience before joining APD in November 2015. Douglas officials later learned Horton lived at a home on Rannoch Moor Drive, which is walking distance from where the shooting took place. The sheriff's office did not say why Horton allegedly broke into the nearby home. "We are working closely with the Douglas County Sheriff's Office to learn more about what occurred as they investigate the incident," Atlanta police told The Atlanta Journal-Constitution in an email.

[10/10/2024] A nurse at Wellstar North Fulton Hospital has been arrested and charged with felony robbery and elder abuse, among other counts, after she allegedly stole items like jewelry from at least three patients. Stephanie Phillips-Siwiec, 54, of Woodstock, was initially arrested Saturday on multiple counts of theft, Roswell police said. She was released from the Fulton County Jail the following day but arrested a second time Wednesday on additional charges after police said their investigation led them to two new alleged victims. Phillips-Siwiec was again booked into the jail on new charges: three counts of elder abuse, three counts of robbery and one count of aggravated battery, jail records show. She remains in jail on a bond of $140,000, according to court records. A police report shows the initial incident took place Sept. 28. The alleged victim, a 95-year-old woman, was wearing an 18-karat gold chain bracelet when she was taken to the hospital in an ambulance, the report said. When the woman's daughter visited her in the hospital later that day, she discovered the bracelet was missing. The daughter reported the theft to the hospital and contacted police Oct. 4. Police did not share details about how the ensuing accusations were levied against Phillips-Siwiec. Jail records show that her charges stem from two other incidents that took place Aug. 19 and Aug. 28, respectively. In a statement, Wellstar Health System said Phillips-Siwiec had been placed on administrative leave as they conduct their own investigation. "These allegations, if true, go against everything we stand for as caregivers," a spokesman for the hospital system said. "Every person should feel safe and comfortable when they receive care. We are cooperating with the investigating authorities and will take further action

A man was sent to the hospital overnight after he was shot at a homeless encampment, according to Atlanta police. Police were called to 241 Forsyth St SW at around 1:20 a.m. on Saturday, where they found the 23-year-old man shot in the neck and shoulder during a suspected robbery. He was taken to Grady Memorial Hospital in stable condition. No suspects have been identified or arrested, police said.

One man was killed, and a bystander seriously injured in a barrage of gunfire outside two Birmingham businesses previously labeled by city officials as a “launching pad for criminal activity.” Birmingham police identified the victim as Johndarius Decareious Ward. He was 26 and lived in Birmingham. The shots rang out about 3 a.m. Saturday in the 800 block of Third Avenue West outside the Shell station and Boston Fish Supreme. Sgt. LaQuitta Wade said police received four different Shot Spotter notifications. In all, the gunfire detection system registered about 42 shots. When officers arrived, they found Ward unresponsive inside a vehicle. Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service pronounced him dead on the scene. Roughly two dozen shell casings surrounded his sedan which was stopped in front Boston Fish Supreme. Another cluster of shell casings was right in front the Shell, feet away from the store’s front door. Wade said it appears Ward as trying to leave the parking lot when the shooter came from around a building and opened fire on the vehicle. The shooter, who police said ambushed the victim, fled. While officers were on the scene, they learned an additional victim showed up at Princeton Baptist Medical Center via private vehicle. He was transferred to UAB Hospital with life-threatening injuries. “It is believed the second victim was a bystander at the store,” Wade said. Ward had been parked outside Boston Fish Supreme earlier, police said. His killing appears to be targeted but a motive has not yet been disclosed. Once the shooting started, Wade said, somebody outside of Shell also began firing, and that is when investigators believe the bystander was caught in the crossfire. “It’s believed once the shooting started over here,” Wade said, “someone else who was armed did not know what the hell was going on and started firing.”

A large bang echoed throughout a southwest Atlanta townhome community Saturday when a SWAT team broke down a door following a deadly shooting. After an hours-long standoff at the Oakland Park Townhomes on Oakland Drive, officers entered the residence in search of a man accused of fatally shooting his 28-year-old roommate over money, police said. But the suspect was nowhere to be found. “They have cleared that apartment and he is not inside that apartment,” Atlanta police Lt. Andrew Smith told reporters at the scene. Atlanta police were called just after 12:15 p.m. to the shooting, located near the intersection of Lee Street and Campbellton Road in the Oakland City neighborhood. When officers arrived, they found a man suffering from several gunshot wounds. The victim, who was not publicly identified, was pronounced dead at the scene by medical crews. Smith said the suspect fired at least five shots in the parking lot during a dispute over money. The SWAT team was called after police believed he retreated back inside the townhome. Residents were unable to enter their homes during the standoff, according to Channel 2 Action News. A police spokesperson did not provide any information on the suspect Sunday afternoon, saying “there are no updates at this time.”

A man is dead and two others are injured following a drive-by shooting Saturday night at a strip mall in DeKalb County, authorities said. DeKalb police responded around 7 p.m. to the 1200 block of Panola Road after getting a call about a person shot at the mall, located near the intersection of Redan Road. When officers arrived, they found a 21-year-old man dead in the parking lot with several gunshot wounds. His name was not released. Nearby, police also found a 29-year-old man with a gunshot wound to his leg and a 29-year-old woman who was shot once in her torso. The injured victims were taken to area hospitals and are expected to be OK, police said. According to investigators, a car pulled up to at least one of the victims that night and someone inside fired several shots. The vehicle then left the mall, which is also home to a gas station and several stores. A motive for the shooting is unclear at this time, police said. An investigation is ongoing.

Authorities are trying to identify two men and woman sought in the carjacking of a Birmingham Lyft driver. The robbery happened about 9 p.m. Oct. 5 in the Collegeville area. Sgt. LaQuitta Wade said the trio asked the driver for a ride and then robbed him at gunpoint. The driver was not injured.

A shooting at a party in Lee County has left a man dead and another seriously hurt. Lee County Sheriff Jay Jones says the shooting happened just before 9:30PM Saturday in the 3000 block of Lee County Road 11 South in Beauregard. Jones says 34-year-old Darrian Finley of Opelika was pronounced dead on the scene. Another unidentified victim had to be flown to Piedmont Hospital in Columbus, Georgia, to be treated for a gunshot wound. Jones says it appears an argument led to the shooting. The people involved are believed to know each other. A gun was recovered at the scene that they believe was involved, Jones said. Witnesses are now being interviewed. No one has been arrested. Finley’s body was taken to the Department of Forensic Sciences in Montgomery for further examination.

A person was shot outside of a county fair in South Carolina Saturday night as the event was shutting down early because of incidents involving groups of youngsters, officials said. The gunfire was reported at the Orangeburg County Fair. At least one person was taken to an area hospital, with what fair officials called non-life-threatening injuries. Another person, was taken into custody by members of multiple law enforcement agencies. Prior to the gunfire, there were “multiple incidents involving groups of youth behaving in a disorderly fashion,” according to the release. At about 10:35 p.m. Saturday, fair officials said they made the decision to shut down all attractions and asked patrons to exit the fairgrounds at 350 Magnolia St. in Orangeburg. The rides were scheduled to close at 11 p.m. As the fair closed down, there was a report of a gunshot in the parking lot. Because the shooting continues to be investigated, fair officials said they are unable to make more comments about the incident. Despite the shooting, officials said the fair will re-open Sunday at noon as previously planned. Officials said the decision to operate the fair’s final day, through 7 p.m., was made because the shooting is considered to be an isolated incident., Officials noted the quick response of on-site security and law enforcement to the shooting. While officials said the shooting happened in the parking lot, the fair has a no weapons policy for the fairgrounds. Additionally, no concealable weapons are allowed, even by permit holders, the fair’s policy says. The fair’s board of directors are reviewing the incident to see if there are changes that should be made to ensure the safety of the patrons, staff, and community, according to the release.

Atlanta police said a man is facing charges after his gun went off and shot a neighbor through an apartment wall late Saturday night. Officers said a 24-year-old man was shot through the wall of his apartment at 2400 Campbellton Road, the Blue Harmony complex in southwest Atlanta's Campbellton Road neighborhood, while he was watching television around 11:50 p.m. The victim was hit in the neck, according to police. He was taken to Grady Memorial Hospital "in serious but stable condition." Police said the victim's neighbor, a 39-year-old man, was arrested and charged over the incident. They said investigators believe the victim was shot because the suspect's firearm was negligently handled. Police have not identified the suspect or said what charges he's facing. This is a developing story. Check back with Atlanta News First for updates.

A Bartow County man has been arrested after being found with blood on himself inside a home where a body was found wrapped in a blanket on the living room floor, authorities said. According to the Bartow County Sheriff's Office, deputies and investigators were sent to a residence on Chastain Drive on Sunday in reference to a welfare check and possible domestic dispute, which was later determined to be a homicide investigation. Upon arrival, deputies initially attempted to make contact with the residents at the home but after no response, they had to force their way in. When they got inside, authorities said they found 52-year-old Antonios Pete Kostopoulos inside the home with blood suspected to be on him. He was taken into custody without incident. When they were clearing the residence, 42-year-old Karina Moreno was found on the living room floor dead and wrapped in a blanket, the sheriff's office said. Kostopoulos is being held in the Bartow County Sheriff's Office Adult Detention Center without bond on charges of murder, aggravated assault-strangulation, two counts of aggravated assault, aggravated battery, false imprisonment, kidnapping, concealing the death of another and tampering with evidence. This is an ongoing investigation, and no further arrests are expected at this time, the sheriff's office said. Anyone with information is asked to contact the Bartow County Sheriff's Office Criminal Investigations Division at 770-382-5050 ext. 6029.

Police said three men were shot outside a northwest Atlanta nightclub early Sunday morning. Atlanta police said the shooting happened just before 1 a.m. at 3120 Donald Lee Hollowell Pkwy., the address for The Vault Hidden Inside the Bank nightclub in the Brookview Heights neighborhood. Police said three men – ages 18, 23 and 27 – were shot in the parking lot. The victims were taken to the hospital and are reportedly stable. Police said someone in an unidentified vehicle shot the victims, based on investigators’ preliminary information. They said bullets also hit three cars in the parking lot. Investigators are working to learn what led up to the shooting. Police have not announced arrests in the case. This is a developing story. Check back with Atlanta News First for updates.

One person was killed and a second was wounded when shots were fired in the dark at a popular mountain overlook in Upstate South Carolina, investigators say. The man who died has been identified as 21-year-old Kaylon Reid Culbertson of Greenville, according to the Greenville County Corner’s Office. He was found “on the ground outside of a vehicle,” officials said. The shootings happened around 2:57 a.m. Sunday, Oct. 6, near a parking area where motorists can pull off Geer Highway and walk to a rock outcrop overlooking Bald Rock Heritage Preserve. The park is outside Cleveland, about a 120-mile drive northwest from Columbia. Zachary Ray Pridmore, 20, of Simpsonville, has been arrested as a suspect, the sheriff’s office said in an update. “Investigators discovered a verbal altercation transpired between Pridmore and two acquaintances inside a vehicle on the roadway just after departing (the overlook),” the sheriff’s office said. “During the course of the altercation, Pridmore drew a firearm and fired multiple rounds striking both victims at least once. Nine-one-one was called by one of the victims who was later transported to the hospital due to the injuries sustained. The other victim suffered fatal injuries and was declared deceased on scene upon EMS arrival.” Pridmore was also briefly hospitalized due to “injuries acquired during the altercation,” officials said. He has been charged with murder, assault/attempted murder, and possession of a weapon during a violent crime, officials said. He is being held without bond.

Three people were wounded when gunfire erupted early Sunday in Birmingham's Lakeview District. The shooting happened at 3:27 a.m. in the 3000 block of Seventh Avenue South. Police blocked off a portion of Seventh Avenue where there were shell casings in the roadway and a white sedan with its flashers on. Sgt. LaQuitta Wade said there were no details immediately available about the circumstances surrounding the shooting. The three victims were taken to the hospital, according to police radio communications. Wade said their injuries are not life-threatening. No arrests have been announced.

An argument at an overnight birthday party ended in gunshots and left a woman with serious injuries in Birmingham. North Precinct officers were dispatched at 5 a.m. Sunday to a report of a person shot at an apartment building in the 1900 block of 18th Place North. Sgt. LaQuitta Wade said the preliminary investigation suggests a fight broke out between the woman and a man during the birthday gathering. The suspect retrieved a gun and shot the victim, Wade said. The woman is hospitalized with life-threatening injuries. The suspect is in custody.

An investigation is underway after a shooting Sunday evening in Ensley. Birmingham police responded at 5:56 p.m. to a report of a person shot in the 1800 block of Ensley Avenue. The victim, a male, sustained life-threatening injuries, said Sgt. LaQuitta Wade. Details surrounding the shooting have not yet been released, but Wade said a suspect is in custody. The shooting was one of several throughout the city on Sunday. Shortly before 3:30 a.m., three people were injured when gunfire erupted in the Lakeview District. Two patients were taken to UAB Hospital by Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service, and another showed up at a hospital. None of their injuries were life-threatening. Then, about 5 a.m., a woman was shot and seriously injured during a physical fight with a man at a birthday gathered in the 1900 block of 18th Place North. The suspect in that shooting was also taken into custody.

One person is dead and another person has been taken into custody following a fatal shooting Sunday night in Tuscumbia. WHNT is reporting that Nathan Littleton, 28, has been identified as the shooting victim in an incident at about 7 p.m. that took place on Paul E. Johnson Memorial Drive. Officers were called to a home where they found Littleton lying on the ground with several gunshot wounds. The body was taken to the Alabama Department of Forensic Sciences for an autopsy. Police are treating the case as a death investigation. One person is in custody, and another questioned, but no one has been charged in connection with the case, WAFF is reporting.

A man was shot and killed by MARTA Police Sunday near the College Park station, according to the GBI. Around 7:40 p.m. Sunday, a man was seen at the station pointing a gun at another person, according to authorities. The GBI adds that a MARTA officer followed the man with the gun and gave commands. However, the man turned toward the officer and "reached in the direction of the gun." That's when officials said the officer fired his weapon, hitting the suspect. A gun was then located near his body. The man, whose name has not been identified, was taken to an area hospital where he was pronounced dead, according to GBI investigators. For the time being, the Fulton County Medical Examiner's Officer is expected to perform an autopsy.

A South Carolina man was charged with multiple crimes Monday after he fought with a deputy, stole a patrol vehicle and led a chase before crashing on Interstate 20, according to the Lexington County Sheriff's Department. Kevin Romero, a 22-year-old Lexington resident, was charged with grand larceny, failure to stop for blue lights and reckless driving, the sheriff's department said Tuesday night in a news release. "A deputy responded to a call about a civil dispute Monday night in the 3400 block of Augusta Road," Lexington County Sheriff Jay Koon said in the release. "Romero had a bat in his hand and eventually dropped it after numerous commands from the deputy." Romero, who was wanted by at least two Midlands law enforcement agencies, continued to put his hands in his pockets, and told the deputy he had a knife in his pocket. "The deputy was able to get the knife out of Romero's pocket and put it on the ground," Koon said. "As the deputy was trying to detain Romero, he started to resist and disregard commands. The deputy called for backup as they continued to struggle." The fight moved to the deputy's patrol vehicle and Romero eventually made his way to the driver's seat, which is where the deputy attempted to deploy his Taser, according to the release. "Once Romero was in the vehicle, he shifted it into drive, drove away and initiated a pursuit," Koon said. "A passerby offered to help the deputy and they trailed Romero in the passerby's car for a while before meeting up with a second deputy." Other patrol units followed Romero until he crashed on a section of I-20 in Aiken County, near the 5 mile marker. That's close to the Georgia state line, more than 50 miles from where the initial incident happened.

Following the crash, Romero was arrested and taken to the [10/21/2024] Weeks after a 22-year-old's body was found on the side of a Richland County road an arrest has been made, according to the Columbia Police Department. On Monday, 40-year-old James Gilmore was charged with hit-and-run with death as well as failure to give information and render aid. Gilmore was also charged with driving under suspension and an uninsured motor vehicle fee violation, jail records show. No bond has been set and Gilmore remains behind bars at the Alvin S. Glenn Detention Center. The charges are connected to the death of Columbia resident Xavier Jackson, who was previously identified by the Richland County Coroner's Office. On Oct. 7, Gilmore was driving in the 3400 block of Bluff Road when he hit Jackson, who police said was walking east along the road that's near Exit 5 on Interstate 77. Jackson's body was found Oct. 8. Several witnesses told police they saw a pickup truck drive off the road and onto the grassy shoulder of Bluff Road where Jackson was hit, police said. Gilmore is accused of then leaving the scene of the crime, and not rendering aid to the victim or notifying police about the incident. Officers found key pieces of evidence at the scene that were collected and processed, and the pickup Gilmore was driving during the crime, a blue Chevrolet, was located near the crime scene on the same day as the collision, police said. Members of the police department's traffic safety unit as well as its violent crimes against persons unit investigated the death. At the time of the crash, Gilmore was out on bond following an April 12 arrest on a drug charge, Richland County court records show. Gilmore posted a $5,000 bond after being charged with drug possession (1 ounce or less of marijuana), according to court records. In the past 17 years, Gilmore has been arrested on multiple charges, including

[10/22/2024] A woman was charged with four counts of felony animal cruelty this week in Baldwin County, according to the sheriff's office. On October 7, 2024, deputies with the Baldwin County Sheriff's Office received a call for service regarding five dogs being abandoned at a residence in the Marlow community of Baldwin County, according to a recent release. "With the assistance of personnel from the Baldwin County Animal Shelter, deputies located five abandoned dogs, including four puppies left in a kennel with no food or water," the release reads. "Due to being neglected and abandoned without food or water for several days, the puppies passed away." Through the course of investigation, it was determined that Ashley Miller, 38, was the sole owner of the dogs. She was arrested by patrol officers on Oct. 21 on unrelated charges and admitted to the neglect of the dogs, the release says. She is being held on the animal cruelty charges as well as possession of a controlled substance and failure to appear.

A child has died days after he was shot inside a home that was riddled with bullets, according to South Carolina officials. Nine-year-old Gregory Robinson Jr. died Wednesday, Sumter County Coroner Robbie Baker said. The Sumter County Sheriff's Office also confirmed Gregory's death at about 10:30 a.m. Wednesday. Gregory was shot while in his home early Monday morning, according to Baker. Multiple rounds hit the home that's between West Brewington Road and U.S. 521/Thomas Sumter Highway in Sumter, according to sheriff's office. At about 1:45 a.m. Monday, a deputy heard multiple gunshots, and multiple calls were made to 911 to report the shooting, the sheriff's office said. Gregory was taken by EMS to a hospital, according to the sheriff's office. He was being treated at Prisma Health Richland hospital in Columbia when he died, Baker said. No other injuries were reported. There was no word about a shooter or shooters, or if Gregory's home was the intended target. Information about a motive for the shooting was not available. No arrests have been reported by the sheriff's office, which is continuing to investigate the death along with the coroner's office. An autopsy will be performed at the Medical University of South Carolina in Charleston.

An off-duty Atlanta police officer fired his service weapon at an armed suspect Monday evening during an encounter that ended with the suspect's arrest and no serious injuries, authorities said. After a chase on foot in downtown Atlanta, the suspect suffered a scrape when he was placed under arrest, police said. No one was hit during the shooting, and the suspect was treated at the scene. The incident began just after 5 p.m. outside of the Five Points MARTA Station at 20 Broad Street SW, police said. The off-duty officer encountered the suspect, who was also allegedly armed with a gun, while working another job. Officials did not share any information about the encounter or how it escalated to gunfire, but after the officer fired his weapon, the suspect fled. Police did not say if the GBI would investigate the incident.

[12/5/2024] Two men are in custody after deputies said they tried to rob someone at gunpoint months earlier. According to the Wake County Sheriff's Office, the robbery happened around 8:30 p.m. on Oct. 7 at the intersection of Old Weaver Trail and Cheek Road in Creedmoor. Deputies said a victim told them two men, later identified as 42-year-old Dagoberto Lozano-Carcamo and 37-year-old Julio Antonio Flores-Carcamo, attempted to rob them at gunpoint. The victim said shots were fired but they weren't hurt during the incident. Deputies arrested and charged both men with attempted murder and felony conspiracy.

A teen girl was among three people shot Monday night in Fairfield. Jefferson County sheriff's deputies were dispatched just before 10 p.m. to a report of people down in the 500 block of 66th Street North in Fairfield. They arrived to find a 21-year-old man and a 14-year-old girl wounded, said sheriff's spokesman Henry Irby. Fairfield Fire and Rescue transported both victims to UAB Hospital. Irby said their injuries are not life-threatening. Deputies then learned another man was taken by private vehicle to a hospital. He, too, is expected to be OK. Details surrounding the circumstances of the shooting were not released but witnesses reported hearing multiple shots fired. No arrests have been announced.

A 17-year-old has been charged with manslaughter after a car crash that killed two teenagers was determined to be criminal, the Orangeburg County Sheriff's Office announced, following a joint investigation with the South Carolina Highway Patrol. "We received information that prompted us to look closer at this car crash," Sheriff Leroy Ravenell said in a news release. "As a result of the investigation along with the Highway Patrol, we have determined this case warranted criminal charges." Ravenell said 17-year-old Elijah Hickson of Calhoun County was charged with two counts of manslaughter in connection with the crash. If convicted, he could face up to 30 years in prison on each count, officials said. An 18-year-old female and a 17-year-old male were killed when their car ran off the road and struck a tree on Neeses Highway on Tuesday. According to affidavits, it was because Hickson was chasing them at a high rate of speed after finding the male with his girlfriend. The victims had evaded him, but lost control of their car. The investigation into the case is ongoing.

A Lexington County Sheriff's Department deputy was run over Tuesday by a man who was trying to evade arrest, according to the Lexington Police Department. Hours after assaulting the deputy and running over him with a car, 36-year-old Cayce resident Antwan Martel Jeter was arrested on multiple charges, police said in a news release. The deputy was taken to an area hospital, but police said his injuries are not believed to be life threatening. No other injuries were reported in the incident that happened outside the Lexington County Sheriff's Department headquarters. At about 4 p.m., Jeter went to the sheriff's department to complete court ordered registration as a sex offender. Information about the past sex crime was not available, but Lexington County court records show that in 2021 Jeter pleaded guilty to a domestic violence charge. During Tuesday's sex offender registration process it was found that Jeter had an outstanding warrant for his arrest. When approached by deputies, Jeter ran to a car where he struggled with the law enforcement officers as they attempted to take him into custody. During this struggle, Jeter backed up the car and drove over a deputy as he fled from the parking lot, police said. Both police officers and sheriff's deputies searched the area for the car and then began following up at addresses where Jeter had connections. That night, Jeter was taken into custody by the Richland County Sheriff's Department at the home of a family member on Allaire Ct S in Blythewood, police said. Jeter was charged with assault and battery of a high and aggravated nature, assault on a law enforcement officer while resisting arrest, hit-and-run with great bodily injury and malicious injury to property. No bond has been set for Jeter.

A shootout between two vehicles on a busy Birmingham roadway left one person injured and several businesses damaged by gunfire. The shooting happened at 11:18 p.m. Tuesday on Parkway East near Huffman Road. Sgt. LaQuitta Wade said investigators believe the occupants of two vehicles exchanged gunfire. One of the occupants was injured. He was taken to the hospital with non-life-threatening injuries. Two businesses in the 9400 block of Parkway East and one in the 400 block of Huffman Road were shot into during the gunfire exchange. There were no injuries reported in those businesses. The second vehicle involved in the shootout fled the scene. No arrests have been made.

A man who tried to stop a robbery at a Dollar General store in northwest Atlanta on Wednesday afternoon was taken to the hospital after he was shot in the shoulder by a suspect, police said. Officials provided few details about the victim's condition but said he was conscious when officers arrived and when he was taken away for treatment. Officers were called to the Dollar General location at 3509 Martin Luther King Jr. Drive around 3 p.m. after getting reports of a person shot, Atlanta police said. They found the victim at the scene, but the multiple robbery suspects had already fled the area. A photo shared by Channel 2 Action News showed the parking lot roped off with police tape and officers interviewing a man outside the building. No further information has been released about the incident, including how many suspects were involved. Police did not say if the victim was an employee of the store or a bystander.

Police are offering an award of up to $5,000 for information leading to the arrest of a man who shot into a South Carolina home Wednesday. The Sumter Police Department issued a warrant for Ty'heim Anthony James, 21, of Robney Drive, Sumter. Gunfire began around 7 a.m. Wednesday after //someone fired into his home from a passing car that sped away, police said. An investigation has found that James left his home soon after and began firing shots along Robney Drive and into a nearby home. Several people, including adults and children, were inside that home at the time it was struck by gunfire. No injuries were reported, police said, but the home, adjacent property and nearby cars were damaged.

Montgomery police have made an arrest in a shooting that killed a woman earlier this week. Police say 35-year-old Devondrick Jones, of Montgomery, was taken into custody for the murder of 26-year-old Courtney Gunn. The shooting happened around 9:00 p.m. Monday in the 300 block of Georgia Street. Once officers arrived, they found Gunn with a fatal gunshot wound. Gunn was pronounced dead on the scene. Jones is currently in the Montgomery County Detention Facility on no bond.

A man accused of attempted murder after stabbing another man was taken into custody, according to the Lexington County Sheriff's Department. Jesse Waylon Jones, 38, was charged with attempted murder and possession of a weapon during a violent crime, Lexington deputies said in a news release. Jones' charges stem from an incident on Thursday, where authorities say Jones stabbed a man twice in the upper body at a Batesburg home. "Detectives who responded to the scene of the stabbing at the 100 block of Haven Road determined the victim and Jones got into an argument before the stabbing," Lexington Sheriff Jay Koon said in the news release. Koon said the victim was transported to an area hospital and is expected to recover from his injuries. Jones fled from the scene but was ultimately apprehended. He's being held at the Lexington County Detention Center, according to the release.

An Aiken County man has been charged with attempted murder after he shot an employee at a Lexington County business Thursday, the sheriff's office said. Howard Fogle Jr., 73, of Wagener, faces an attempted murder charge and possession of a weapon during a violent crime charge. Fogle went to a business on Pond Branch Road to ask about the turnaround time for a job the business was handling for him, Lexington County Sheriff Jay Koon said in a statement. "After some back and forth between Fogle and an employee, he pulled a pistol and fired at the employee," Koon said. The employee suffered multiple gunshot wounds, but is expected to recover. Koon said the shooting was captured on a security camera and the business had a service agreement with Fogle. Fogle, who drove away from the business after the shooting, was taken into custody at his Wagener home, Koon said. Fogle is being held at the Lexington County Detention Center.

Authorities have released the name of a man killed Friday in a shooting in East lake. The Jefferson County Coroner's Office on Monday identified the victim as Paul Devaried Terry Jr. He was 20 and lived in Birmingham. Just before 12:30 p.m., East Precinct officers were dispatched to a person shot in the 8300 block of Fourth Avenue North. When they arrived, they found the victim inside a shed behind an abandoned house. That property is adjacent to East Lake Park. Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service pronounced Terry man dead on the scene at 12:40 p.m. Sgt. LaQuitta Wade said Terry was in the neighborhood to visit someone at a home in the 8200 block of Fourth Avenue North. The person he went to visit had another visitor and a verbal altercation ensued between Terry and the other visitor. The suspect fired at least several shots. Police found shell casings in the roadway. Terry ran just over a block before collapsing in the shed. A bystander called 911. Wade said she did not yet know the nature of the argument. No arrests have been announced.

A South Carolina man is charged with murder after shooting his mother to death Friday with a shotgun in Chester, deputies said. Tracy Sanders, 61, died after being shot after midnight, according to the Chester County Coroner's Office. Breon Feaster, 29, was captured about two hours later after he fled on foot from the Columbia Road house where he lived with his mother, the Chester County Sheriff's Office said. Deputies used a drone and K-9 teams to track Feaster, the sheriff's office said in a statement and on social media. The sheriff's office published some of that drone footage from the pursuit on its Facebook page. The footage shows a foot chase down railroad tracks into a developed area of Chester before deputies took Feaster into custody. No motive for the shooting has been released. Feaster, charged with murder and possession of a weapon during a violent crime, remains in the Chester County jail.

Gwinnett County police are investigating a second fatal shooting Friday, just hours after a man was killed outside a Latino supermarket in Norcross, authorities said. The circumstances around both shootings are similar, but police said the incidents are not related. The second shooting took place around midday outside of the Budgetel Inn and Suites in Lilburn at 4350 Stone Mountain Highway, Gwinnett police spokesman Sgt. Collin Flynn said. The location is near the Yellow River Wildlife Sanctuary and less than half a mile from Shiloh Elementary School. A 911 caller reported a shooting in the rear parking lot of the building, and responding officers found a man there suffering from “at least one” gunshot wound, according to Flynn. The man was taken to the hospital but later died of his injuries. He was identified as 60-year-old Victor Ricks by police.

Investigators determined Ricks, of Snellville, appeared to have been shot by 57-year-old Hugh Forman, who did not remain at the scene, Flynn said. Police believe the two men knew each other. Later Friday, Forman was arrested and booked into the Gwinnett jail on charges of malice murder, felony murder, aggravated assault, possession of a firearm during the commission of a felony and first-degree cruelty to children, according to online records. The first shooting took place a few hours earlier and about 10 miles away. Around 7:45 a.m., officers were called to the Supermercado Mexicano at 4169 Jimmy Carter Boulevard after getting reports of gunshots at the store, Flynn said. Police found a man suffering from a gunshot wound in front of the market and took him to the hospital, where he died. The victim has not been publicly identified. Store managers told investigators he was a regular at the market, Flynn said.

A man died after a shooting in a motel parking lot along Stone Mountain Highway on Friday, according to the Gwinnett County Police Department. Authorities investigated the shooting at the Budgetel Inn & Suites at 4350 Stone Mountain Hwy. The motel is between Rockbridge and Snellville, Georgia, and across from Stone Mountain Nissan and down the road from Dollar Tree. The police department said when officers arrived, they found the man with a gunshot wound. He was taken to the hospital, where police said he died from his injuries. The victim was later identified as 60-year-old Victor Ricks, of Snellville. At the time of the shooting, the suspect, 58-year-old Hugh Forman, ran away from the scene before officers arrived but was later arrested. Forman is charged with malice murder, felony murder, aggravated assault, possession of a firearm during the commission of a felony and cruelty to children. Investigators believe the suspect and victim knew each other, but have not clarified their relationship.

A man from Mobile County is currently in jail after allegedly kidnapping a woman, sexually assaulting her and forcing her to “marry” him. According to the Mobile County Sheriff’s Office, on Friday evening Roy Clowder encountered a woman at a convenience store on Dauphin Island Parkway. Clowder allegedly asked the woman if she could give him a ride home and on the way to the car he produced a handgun. Clowder allegedly took control of the vehicle by holding the victim at gunpoint and forced her to get into the passenger seat. Clowder then proceeded to drive the car to a church where he made the woman “marry” him on the steps outside, officials said. “Clowder drove the victim’s car to several locations around DIP with victim inside,” MCSO said in a statement. “Clowder even went to a local church and forced the victim to participate in a “mock” wedding on the steps outside of the church.” After her family called the police, officers called her phone. Clowder allegedly answered and then abandoned the vehicle. Clowder faces three charges for sexual abuse, robbery and kidnapping -- all in the first degree. He is currently held at Mobile County Metro Jail without a bond.

Police said they've arrested a suspect in the fatal shooting of a man outside a Gwinnett County gas station last week. Gwinnett County police said Thursday that Donte Dieal Newcomb-Donnelly, 31, of Norcross, is being held without bond at the Gwinnett County Jail. His charges include malice murder and felony murder in the killing of 41-year-old Anthony Bernard Miles. On Friday, Oct. 11, police said they responded to a shooting at the Amoco at 4169 Jimmy Carter Boulevard. Police said they found the victim, later identified as Miles, with at least one gunshot wound in the front parking lot. Miles died at the hospital. At the time, police said they believed the suspect and victim knew each other. They said the suspect shot the victim during an argument and ran away. A woman who lives across the street from the gas station told Atlanta News First she heard several gunshots. "It is concerning, because me and my daughter could've been coming here to get gas and witnessed that," said Tammera Martin. "You just never know how traumatizing it could've been if we were in that vicinity at that time." Police said Newcomb-Donnelly was also charged with aggravated assault and possession of a firearm during the commission of certain crimes.

Authorities have released the name of a man fatally shot outside his Ensley home Friday night. Birmingham police on Saturday identified the victim as Kerry Terrell Primm. He was 30. The shooting happened just after 7 p.m. in the 1800 block of 31st Street in the Ensley Highlands community. Sgt. LaQuitta Wade said West Precinct officers were dispatched to the neighborhood on a report of a person down. When they arrived, they found Primm unresponsive in front of a home there. He was pronounced dead by Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service. Wade said the victim had just exited his home to speak with another family member. It was then the unidentified suspect pulled up to the house in a vehicle. "The victim and the suspect exchanged words," Wade said. "The suspect shot the victim and left the scene." No arrests have been made.

Montgomery police are investigating a shooting that left two people seriously hurt. Montgomery Police Maj. Saba Coleman told Action 8 News that the shooting happened at about 8PM last night in the 2200 block of West Woodley Square. That is just off East South Boulevard not far from Woodley Road. Coleman said two men were found who both had life-threatening gunshot wounds. They were taken to a hospital for treatment. She said there is no other information available at this time.

Two people were killed in a shooting in Graham in Alamance County Friday night, police said. Graham police officers responded to a report of a shooting around 10:30 p.m. Friday in the 400 block of E. Hill Street. They found two people who had been hit by gunfire — Jamal Isaiah Thorpe, 28, of Graham; and Kenneth Uriah Francis, 29, of Burlington. Thorpe was declared dead at the scene. Francis was airlifted to a local trauma center, where he died Saturday, police said. Police arrested Derrick Ramont Spencer, 52, of Graham in connection with the shootings. He was initially charged with one count of first-degree murder and one count of possessing a stolen firearm. Police said Saturday afternoon, after Francis died, that more charges would be filed.

One person was killed, not two as Huntsville police originally reported, in a double shooting Saturday night, the department said Monday. Damien Obrien Manning, 22, was found with a gunshot wound at a gas station at 3310 Meridian St. around 10 p.m. Saturday, police said. He was pronounced dead at the scene. Around the same time, police were told a second gunshot victim arrived at Huntsville Hospital via private vehicle. That victim was in critical condition, police said. The department's major crimes unit was investigating several leads Monday but believes several people fired shots from opposing sides of the gas station's parking lot. The incident remained under investigation Monday. Anyone with information about the double shooting was asked to call Huntsville police Investigator Matthew Edger at 256-427-7247.

Greensboro police are still searching for the person who shot and killed a man on his wedding day. Police said the shooting happened Saturday night in the parking lot of Barber Park Events Center. It's where 37-year-old Tyrek Burton had just gotten married to his wife Kiara. The newlyweds who dated for 16 years weren't even able to leave their wedding venue before the unimaginable happened. The groom was gunned down seven hours after saying 'I do.' Burton's sister Brittany Burton said Tyrek's passing not only left his wife a widow but also the four daughters, two of which they took in without a father. "Tyrek was a gentleman. A hard worker. He worked 12-hour shifts. He was a husband. A loving father. A son, a brother an uncle. An amazing dad," Burton said. "He didn't deserve this." Police said the shooting may be related to a road rage incident, and detectives are continuing to investigate the circumstances that led up to the shooting. "My brother didn't know this man at all they never met. This was a random stranger. On his wedding day. It's supposed to be one of the happiest moments of his life and it turned into something tragic," Burton said. "Worldwide he did this in front of a minor, his wife with her gown on, and his best groomsman and a sister-in-law." Burton said as they were wrapping up the reception Tyrek left Barber Park briefly. As he was heading back, a stranger followed him saying Tyrek cut him off at the stop sign, so he shot him. "He emptied his clip. Didn't fire one, or two shots. He didn't fire eight shots. It was in the teens," Burton said. "He literally had a hole in his chest over road rage." GPD said lifesaving efforts were immediately initiated at the scene. However, Burton later died from his injuries. The family was traumatized and devastated by the turn of events. "For the woman who did

The Douglas County Sheriff's Office is investigating the shooting deaths of two teenagers over the weekend. Deputies say in the early morning hours of Saturday, they were alerted to 3253 West Stewart Mill Rd by an iPhone, automated crash alert through Douglas County 911. They found no evidence of a crash but said they discovered 17-year-old Beatriz Vega and 19-year-old Roberto Deleon in the front seats of the car critically injured from apparent gunshot wounds. Both were transported to the hospital where each died from their injuries, the sheriff's office says.

One man was charged with murder and there's a search for a teenager who's wanted after a body was found in a South Carolina road, according to the Sumter County Sheriff's Office. Jordan Malik Coleman-Jacobs, 19, is wanted on a murder charge. Another suspect, Jaqual Jamaul Coleman was arrested and charged with murder and possession of a weapon during a violent crime. No bond has been set for Coleman, Sumter County court records show. The charges are connected to the fatal shooting of D'ante J. Archie. In the early morning hours of Oct. 12, deputies responded to a 911 call about an unconscious man lying in the 5000 block of Byas Road near a home. That's near the Wedgefield area of Sumter County. The victim, later identified as the 20-year-old Archie, died at the scene. An investigation led to Coleman's arrest and now the charge against Coleman-Jacobs. Coleman was arrested Oct. 14, court records show. The sheriff's office described Coleman-Jacobs as 6-foot, 200-pound man with brown eyes and black hair.

[10/30/2024] Four teenagers and one adult have been arrested, and now all face murder charges after they allegedly beat a 16-year-old boy to death in a small south Georgia town. The Georgia Bureau of Investigation said that 16-year-old Darion Davis, from Pearson, Georgia, died from his injuries several days after he was allegedly beaten to death by a pipe in a fight with several people that was all caught on video. Those involved in the fight were 17-year-old Verntron White, 21-year-old Ta'shunika Jones, a 14-year-old, a 15-year-old and a 16-year-old. The 15-year-old suspect was charged with malice murder, aggravated assault and aggravated battery. The other four suspects were charged with felony murder, aggravated assault and aggravated battery. All suspects are from Pearson, Georgia. The town of Pearson, which is in Atkinson County, is a small south Georgia city with roughly 1,800 people, according to census data from 2022. It is about 154 miles southwest of the coastal Georgia city of Savannah. The Atkinson County Sheriff's Office requested the help of the GBI after deputies learned about a teen who had died from his injuries at a Savannah hospital following an alleged assault that happened on Oct. 12, 2024. Agents with the GBI discovered during the investigation that there was a video of the fight in which the suspects were beating Davis. During the fight, the 15-year-old suspect grabbed a pipe and hit Davis multiple times. Davis died at the hospital in Savannah a few days later, the GBI said. White and Jones were booked into the Atkinson County Jail. The minors are currently in the custody of the Georgia Department of Juvenile Justice. The GBI medical examiner will conduct an autopsy to determine the exact cause of death for Jones.

[11/7/2024] A man accused of robbing multiple metro Atlanta banks has been caught by law enforcement. Mack Carr faces charges of robbery and attempted robbery, LaGrange police said. He is currently awaiting extradition from Alabama. On Oct. 12, LaGrange police were called to a Synovus Bank off Greenwood Street. The teller said a man gave him a note and took an “undisclosed amount” of money before running away. The man was wearing a wig, sunglasses, a surgical mask and gloves — which is how police connected him to another incident on Oct. 31, when he showed up at a PNC Bank off Lafayette Parkway in the same disguise. Police said the man had a note and envelope but turned around and left before doing anything. Then on Nov. 1, Newnan police were called to an AmerisBank off Newnan Crossing Boulevard, where a man in the same disguise robbed the bank with a note. Newnan police officers identified his car, which was found in Roanoke, Alabama, and traced it to Carr, who was arrested. Search warrants of Carr’s home and car revealed evidence that he was involved in both robberies and the attempted robbery, according to LaGrange police.

A woman was taken to the hospital with life-threatening injuries early Saturday after she and a man were shot in the 1100 block of University Drive, Durham police said. Police found the woman who had been shot when they responded to a call around 3:45 a.m. Saturday, according to a news release. The male victim had been driven to a different location before someone called 911 about his injuries, which police said were serious. Both victims were taken to a local hospital for treatment, police said. The investigation is continuing. Police did not identify the person who drove the male victim from the scene of the shooting and said no other information is available. Anyone with information about the shooting can contact Investigator D. Bussell at 919-560-4440, ext. 29254, or leave an anonymous tip with CrimeStoppers at 919-683-1200. Tips can also be submitted online at durhamcrimestoppers.org. CrimeStoppers pays cash rewards of up to $2,000 for information leading to arrests in felony cases.

A Columbia man was recently arrested on multiple charges after he led law enforcement officers on a high-speed chase while behind the wheel of a U-Haul truck, according to the Kershaw County Sheriff's Office. James Lee Washington, 67, used the U-Haul truck to ram a patrol vehicle involved in the chase, causing both a deputy and the U-Haul to crash, the sheriff's office said Tuesday night in a release. The chase-turned-crash happened early Saturday morning. At about 4:30 a.m. Saturday, a deputy tried to pull over the U-Haul being driven by Washington on Bay Lane in Camden, the sheriff's office said. The deputy wanted to make a traffic stop on suspicion of DUI. Washington ignored the attempted traffic stop and drove away on the wrong side of U.S. 1. The U-Haul avoided oncoming traffic as it traveled to Lugoff at about 80 mph. Deputies tried to spike the U-Haul's tires as it drove through Lugoff, but were unsuccessful. When U.S. 1 shifted from four- to two-lanes, deputies surrounded the U-Haul to attempt a maneuver referred to as a "rolling road block," the sheriff's office said. They were able to slow the U-Haul down to below 60 mph before Washington rammed a sheriff's office F-150 in the rear. The deputy lost control of his vehicle as it went spinning off the side of U.S. 1. before flipping on its side, deploying all airbags. Information about the deputy's condition was not available, but the sheriff's office said the deputy "is doing well." Following that collision, Washington lost control of the U-Haul and ran off the opposite side of the road from where the deputy crashed. The U-Haul went through a wooded area and finally stopped within a few feet of a house, and Washington was immediately taken into custody. Washington was charged with DUI, driving under

A man was shot to death in DeKalb County's Redan area early Thursday morning, according to police. DeKalb officers got the call at around 5 a.m. When they arrived at the scene, in the 5800 block of Hallwood Court, they found the victim with an apparent gunshot wound. The man, believed to be in his 30s, was already dead. The area is in a quiet neighborhood just south of Redan Road and north of I-20. Investigators said they believe the victim, whose name was not released, was in an argument with the suspect prior to the shooting. No other details have been shared by police.

The Raleigh Police Department is investigating a fatal shooting that took place early Saturday in the 400 block of South Salisbury Street downtown. Officers responding to a report of a shooting about 6:22 a.m. found Christian Oldham, 30, suffering from a gunshot wound. Oldham was taken to a hospital, where he later died. Police arrested Spencer Charles Wrightington, 30, who has been charged with murder. Police released no further information.

A shooting victim's body was found in a South Carolina road Saturday, and a search is underway for a killer, according to the Sumter County Sheriff's Office. Dante Archie, a 20-year-old Sumter County resident, died from the injuries he suffered in a shooting, Sumter County Coroner Robbie Baker said Sunday. At about 9:50 a.m. Saturday, deputies responded to a 911 call about an unconscious man lying in the 5000 block of Byas Road near a home. That's near the Wedgefield area of Sumter County. The victim, later identified as Archie, died at the scene, according to the coroner's office. A vehicle that was parked nearby in the road belonged to Archie, the sheriff's office said. Archie's death might be related to another shooting, according to the sheriff's office. Sheriff Anthony Dennis, who also responded to the scene, said another shooting was reported on Duffie Drive at about 2 a.m. That's less than a mile from where Archie's body was discovered. No arrests have been reported by the sheriff's office, which is continuing to investigate the death along with the coroner's office. An autopsy will be performed at the Medical University of South Carolina in Charleston. "Our investigators are gathering evidence and interviewing eyewitnesses, and we are only in the early stages of our investigation," Dennis said in a news release.

Bay Minette police have charged a 37-year-old man with murder after a fatal shooting Saturday night. Police Chief Al Tolbert said the incident happened Saturday at about 7:58 p.m. in the 400 block of East Banyan Street. Officers called to the area found a man suffering from an apparent gunshot wound. He died later at North Baldwin Hospital. Dwight Lanell Pettway was arrested at the scene and a firearm was recovered, Tolbert said. Pettway has been charged with murder and is being held in the Baldwin County Sheriff's Correction Center without bond. Investigators believe the incident resulted from an argument and fight between the victim and Pettway while the two were attending a small gathering at a residence. The victim's name has not yet been released.

Alexander City police are investigating a shooting that left a man dead. Police say the shooting happened just after 10PM Saturday night in the 2000 block of County Road. That's where they say they found 20-year-old Marquell Banks of Alexander City. Investigators say he had been shot several times and was pronounced dead at Russell Medical Center. Police say two suspects have been taken into custody. They are both from Alexander City. One is a juvenile. Their names haven't been released. They are currently awaiting a bond hearing.

A teenager was killed, and seven others were shot after gunfire rang out outside a nightclub in Elberton, Georgia, on Saturday night. Elbert County Emergency Services confirmed just before midnight on Oct. 12, their agency, along with the Elbert County Sheriff's Office and Elbert County EMS, responded to a shooting near 7 Grand nightclub on Evergreen Drive in reference to multiple people shot. Elberton is about 100 miles northeast of Atlanta near the South Carolina state line. 11Alive obtained video which was recorded by an individual in a vehicle near the nightclub, where you can hear more than 20 shots being fired, followed by chaos as many were trying to get out of the area. The victims were rushed to area hospitals for treatment. Seven of the victims ranged in age from 15–19, and the eighth victim was an adult. Hart County Schools put out a statement on Sunday confirming one of their students died in the shooting. The school district identified the 15-year-old as Bry' Shun Jordan, who attended Hart Academy. The district said, "Our thoughts and prayers are with Bry' Shun's family, friends, and the entire Hart County community during this difficult time." The Georgia Bureau of Investigation (GBI) was requested to help the Elbert County Sheriff's Office process the scene and investigate the homicide. It's unclear how many of the six other teenagers who survived the shooting are students. On Monday, Daniel Graves, the Mayor of Elberton, put out a statement on Facebook regarding the deadly shooting. "Our community's heart is broken over the events of this past Saturday evening. It is proof of what we already knew, but don't want to have to accept: our community is not immune from the terrible, senseless and tragic events of our times," Graves

Two people are behind bars in a weekend shooting in Tuscaloosa that left a man with serious injuries. Tuscaloosa police responded at 3:30 a.m. Sunday to a 911 call from the 31-year-old victim reporting that he had been shot. The man told authorities he'd been shot at Creekwood Village Apartments in the 1700 block of 40th Avenue in Tuscaloosa. After being wounded, said Tuscaloosa Violent Crimes Unit Capt. Marty Sellers, the victim ran to Westgate Apartments where he made the 911 call. The victim had been shot multiple times, Sellers said. He is in serious but stable condition. Tanesha Thomas, 32, and David Waller II, 20, are charged with attempted murder. Both live in Tuscaloosa. The victim and the suspects had an ongoing issue which culminated in the shooting on Sunday morning, Sellers said. Both remain held in the Tuscaloosa County Jail. Thomas's bond is set at $30,000 Waller is being held on $60,000 bond which also includes other theft charges, jail records show.

The Atlanta Police Department is investigating after a person died from a shooting in southeast Atlanta on Sunday night. According to police, officers are investigating a person shot and deceased around Georgia Avenue SE. This is in Atlanta's Summerhill neighborhood. Two teenagers died after they were found suffering from gunshot wounds in a car in Douglasville over the weekend. Robert Deleon, 19, and Beatriz Vega, 17, were found in a car at 3253 West Stewart Mill Road early Sunday morning, the Douglas sheriff's office said. The address corresponds to an overflow parking lot for a nearby Chick-fil-A at the corner of Bill Arp and West Stewart Mill roads. Deputies initially responded to the scene after getting an automated crash alert from one of the teens' iPhones but found no evidence of a crash. Instead, deputies found Deleon and Vega suffering from gunshot wounds in the front seat of a car, the sheriff's office said. Both were taken to the hospital where they later died. The area where Deleon and Vega were found is just off a busy section of Bill Arp Road near restaurants, shopping and grocery stores. A preschool is located across the street from the overflow parking lot where the teens were shot. Investigators are working to determine the circumstances around the shooting and are asking the public for help. Anyone with information about the incident is asked to contact Investigator Michael Aziz at maziz@sheriff.douglas.ga.us or by calling 770-920-3923.

Mobile police say one person was critically injured following a shooting early Sunday morning. Public Information Officer Blake Brown said the incident happened at about 1:57 a.m. outside a business in the 200 block of Dauphin Street. Officers were called to the area following the shooting, and around the same time, a man with life-threatening injuries arrived by personal vehicle to a local hospital. Back on the scene, officers quickly identified and located a man who was still in the area who they suspected as being involved in the shooting. Oscar Phillips, 29, was arrested and transported to Metro Jail. He has been charged with first degree assault, attempting to elude, certain persons forbidden to carry a firearm and a probation violation.

An investigation is ongoing after a weekend shooting in Midfield left one person injured. The shooting happened shortly before 2 a.m. Sunday in the 900 block of Ninth Street, Jefferson County sheriff's officials announced Tuesday. Deputies arrived to find the 22-year-old man suffering from gunshot wounds. Midfield Fire and Rescue transported him to UAB Hospital with non-life-threatening injuries. Sheriff's spokesman Henry Irby said no arrests have been made.

Two sisters were shot Sunday at a South Carolina home and one of them died, according to the Spartanburg County Sheriff's Office. At about 5:30 p.m., deputies responded to a 911 call from the mother of the victims about a shooting at a Foxborough Road home in Spartanburg. One of the victims was found in the road and the other had been shot inside the home. The Spartanburg County Coroner's Office identified the victim who was found in the road as 29-year-old Marisa Lashae Dowdle, television station WHNS reported. She was shot in the head, an arrest warrant shows. The surviving victim is expected to recover from her injuries. The victims' mother provided the suspect shooter's name, a description of the clothes he was wearing and the direction he was traveling. Other deputies found the man, later identified as 38-year-old Spartanburg resident Tyrone Douglas Brown, while he was walking, just a short distance from the shooting. The victims' mother told deputies that Brown was at the house visiting with his child, a minor, since another daughter of hers who died last year was the mother of that child. Brown got into an argument with both victims before the situation escalated into a physical altercation, the sheriff's office said. Brown pulled out a gun and shot the first victim inside the house, and when the second victim chased him outside, he shot her as well, according to the sheriff's office. Deputies detained Brown and took him to the sheriff's office where he told them the shooting was an act of self defense. But evidence at the scene, along with statements from the surviving victim and witnesses, refuted that claim, the sheriff's office said. Brown was charged with murder, assault and battery of a high and aggravated nature in addition to possession of a weapon during the commission

Atlanta police are investigating after a man allegedly shot and killed another man in self-defense at a townhome near Georgia State University late Sunday night. Officers got a call about shots fired at the Summerhill by Hedgewood homes on Fraser Street around 9:30 p.m. The area is just east of Center Parc Stadium. When they arrived, they found a 23-year-old man dead inside the home, police told The Atlanta Journal-Constitution. The alleged shooter told Channel 2 Action News at the scene that he and his roommate were watching football with a friend just before the shooting. He believes that, at some point, the friend told two other men to knock on the door and pull a gun on the residents. "I told them to leave," the man told Channel 2. He did not want to be identified. "They left with no contest, (but) I turned around, (and) there was a barrel of a gun to my face," he added. The man said his roommate then wrestled the intruders to the ground, but the barrel was still pointed at his face. "They (the intruder and roommate) separated, and I opened fire in self-defense," he told the news station. "The (suspect) had the gun in his hand and everything." Police have not released any additional details.

A person is dead after a stabbing along Lenox Road NE on Monday, according to the Atlanta Police Department. Authorities responded to 3699 Lenox Rd NE, the address of several restaurants and an apartment complex in Buckhead. The location is across from Buckhead Church and down the road from T.J. Maxx. APD said a "possible suspect" has been detained. At this time, police have not released any other details.

A boy was killed Monday morning after a car hit them on Riverside Drive, according to a press release from the Bibb County Sheriff's Office. They say it was called into the E-911 Center at 3:58 a.m. According to the press release, deputies responded to a missing person report — a 3-year-old boy — from a hotel within 3900 block of Riverside Drive. The victim has since been identified by the family as Royal Jamal Rhodes. Bibb County Coroner Leon Jones says it appears the child had left a room at the Suburban Studios hotel without the parents knowing about it. That's near Northcrest Drive. The sheriff's office says investigators would find the missing child unresponsive after being hit by a car, which had driven away. The sheriff's office says they are looking for the person responsible. The victim was pronounced dead on the scene by Deputy Coroner Richard Robinson. The victim's next of kin was notified, the sheriff's office says, and the body will be taken to the GBI Crime Lab for an autopsy. They say the circumstances around the boy's death are currently under investigation. Anyone with information is asked to call the Bibb County Sheriff's Office at 478-751-7500 and ask to speak with a fatality investigator.

[12/7/2024] A man was arrested on Friday for breaking into a home in October while the homeowners were inside. According to court documents, 32-year-old Jonathan Dodrill broke into a home around 1:27 a.m. on Oct. 14 on Kilburn Road in Raleigh. The documents said Dodrill broke into the home with the intent to commit felony larceny. The victims told WRAL News that Dodrill threw a rock through their window trying to get into the house. While the two victims declined to share their identities, they shared a video with WRAL News of the moment Dodrill broke into their home. [My fiancée] heard the glass break, and then she saw him actually in the window," the victim said. "It's so surreal, maybe you imagined the scenario before thinking it could happen, but hearing my fiancée scream was the most terrifying part," The residents shared pictures of a fallen plant and shattered glass inside their home from the burglar using a rock in an attempt to break in. Deputies arrived minutes after the victims called 911, but said Dodrill escaped before they arrived. The victim said he found Dodrill weeks later on West Davie Street in downtown Raleigh and stopped him so police could arrest him. "I was like, 'You're not going anywhere until the police get here,'" the victim said. The victims also don't believe it was a random robbery either, adding that Dodrill once lived in the same house. The Wake County Sheriff's Office charged Dodrill with felony first-degree burglary. He is currently at the Wake County Detention Center under no bond.

A suspect has been arrested in the fatal shooting of a man in Carrollton early Monday morning, according to the Carrollton Police Department. Police said officers responded to a shooting on 6th Street around 2:30 a.m. and found a 34-year-old man with at least one gunshot wound. The victim, identified as Gregory Martez Patton of Carrollton, was taken to Tanner Medical Center and was later pronounced dead. Police said a suspect, 26-year-old Quantrevion Desean Caldwell of Carrollton, was arrested Monday evening on a murder warrant. Police have not said what led to the shooting. The investigation is ongoing.

A man was arrested after Holly Springs police say he tried to steal a car with a child still inside, the department said on Tuesday. The man, who has not been identified, faces charges of kidnapping and theft by taking. Around 8 p.m. on Monday, Holly Springs police were called to 2240 Holly Springs Parkway, which is a Shell gas station. The car's owner, also the mother of the child, chased after the vehicle and threw the suspect out when he stopped a short distance away from the gas station, according to police. The suspect then ran away, prompting Holly Springs officers and Cherokee County deputies to canvass nearby businesses. The Holly Springs Police Department used a drone, and a Woodstock police K9 also joined the search. Officers eventually identified the suspect, finding his driver's license information and phone number. They tracked his cell phone to a Greyhound bus station in Atlanta, calling on Atlanta police to arrest the man. The Holly Springs Police Department said inter-agency cooperation was crucial to finding and capturing the suspect. "If it was not for the collaboration and teamwork of all listed above, we would not have been able to apprehend this suspect as quickly as we did," the department said in a statement.

[10/22/2024] The Atlanta Police Department's (APD) Burglary Unit is offering a reward of up to $2,000 for help identifying five burglary suspects. Police said the burglary happened at an apartment on Huff Road in northwest Atlanta on Oct. 14. Police said two men knocked on the apartment door at 11:30 p.m. and left. They returned with three other men an hour later and forced their way inside the apartment, stealing several items, according to APD.

A Chelsea woman is being held on nearly $1.9 million bond after authorities say she sexually abused a young girl and made numerous videos of the child involved in sex acts. Blake Miller Barakat, 50, is charged with three counts of sex abuse of a child under the age of 12, 10 counts of production of child pornography and 10 counts of dissemination of child pornography. The investigation began Oct. 15 when the Shelby County Sheriff's Office was notified by DHR about possible child sexual exploitation. Because of the girl's age, authorities are not releasing any additional information. Charging documents against Barakat state she subjected the girl to sexual contact, and also recorded her in nudity and in sex acts while watching pornography. "This is one of the most egregious crimes our agency has investigated in some time, and I'm grateful the juvenile victim is safe," said Sheriff John Samaniego. "I am also grateful to our investigators who must endure heartbreaking images and videos in the investigation of these heinous crimes to ensure justice is served for the victim," the sheriff said. "These cases leave a lasting impact on our law enforcement professionals, and I am grateful for their tenacity to protect our children and our communities." The investigation is ongoing.

Montgomery police are investigating a shooting in east Montgomery that left a man seriously hurt. Police Maj. Saba Coleman told Action 8 News that the shooting happened at about 1:10 this morning in the 4900 block of Paddock Club Court, which is in an apartment complex at Bell Road and Young Meadows Road. Coleman said the man who was shot suffered a life-threatening gunshot wound. He was taken to a hospital for treatment. No other information has been released.

A wild break-in was caught on camera in Buckhead. Sharif Deshazor, owner of Price Tag ATL, explained that he used to manage a store until he decided earlier this year he was going to open his own store. "It's about becoming an entrepreneur and building a business, and you know, giving positivity and doing things the right way in the community," Deshazor said. That is why he said all of this is disheartening. He just opened his business in June, and this is the second time his place has been broken into. In September, Deshazor said several suspects cut their way through his front door and literally wiped the place out. He spent several thousand dollars reinforcing the building and beefing up his security system and was able to open it back up. Now, weeks later, not only was his place broken into a second time, but he is dealing with major structural damage. On Tuesday, Oct. 16, just after 2:30 a.m., the staff at Price Tag ATL on Roswell Road were alerted by their security system of a possible break-in. When they clicked on the LIVE video, they were surprised to see an SUV sitting inside the business. They also noticed a suspect running around inside the store. The owner shared the surveillance video with 11Alive on Wednesday afternoon. You can see the black SUV pull into the parking lot before the driver throws in reverse and crashes through the storefront. The driver is then seen running from the SUV through the store straight back to the counter. He spends a few seconds moving around behind a computer before he heads out and starts pulling clothes off the racks. The employees said they were alerted by their security system and were able to speak through the intercom system. You can hear them in one of the surveillance videos yelling at the suspect, "The cops are outside the store!"

A woman walking in southwest Atlanta early Tuesday morning was killed when she was hit by a car, authorities said. The driver did not remain at the scene. Officers were called to Lee Food Mart at 1193 Lee Street just before 5:30 a.m. after getting reports of a hit-and-run, Atlanta police said. They found the 30-year-old woman, who has not been publicly identified, already dead at the scene. No other details have been released about the incident, including a description of the car involved.

Montgomery police are investigating a shooting in midtown Montgomery that left a man injured. Police Maj. Saba Coleman told Action 8 News the shooting happened at about 9:12 this morning in the 2500 block of Plum Street. That location is a few blocks from Ann Street. Coleman said the man who was shot suffered a gunshot wound that is not believed to be life-threatening. He was taken to a hospital for treatment. No other information has been released.

Days after police said he robbed a bank in Columbia a man was arrested for his role in another incident, the Richland County Sheriff's Department said Tuesday night in a news release. Willie Lee Moses II was taken into custody Oct. 19 following a civil disturbance. The 39-year-old was charged with entering a bank with intent to steal in addition to possession of meth or cocaine base (less than one gram). The sheriff's department got involved Oct. 15. At about 10 a.m., deputies responded to a report of an armed robbery at the First Citizens Bank branch at 7039 Parklane Road. That's in the part of Columbia between U.S. 1/Two Notch Road and Interstate 20. Deputies learned that a man, who they later identified as Moses, walked into the bank and gave the teller a handwritten note saying that it was an armed robbery and demanded money. Moses left the bank with money before deputies arrived. Deputies identified Moses based on a previous investigation involving him, and an arrest warrant was issued on the bank robbery charge. Law enforcement officers tracked Moses down just after 9 a.m. on Oct. 19. Deputies said they responded to a civil disturbance at 200 Zimalcrest Drive, near Exit 108 on Interstate 26 in Columbia. The deputies said Moses was the person creating a disturbance and he was immediately taken into custody before being booked at Alvin S. Glenn Detention Center. The drug charge stems from the Oct. 19 incident. Bond was set at $10,000 on the combined charges, and Moses remains behind bars. Prior to the bank robbery, Moses had pleaded guilty to multiple charges following four separate arrests since 2022, according to Richland County court records.

An investigation is underway after a shooting on Birmingham's busy Third Avenue West on Tuesday night left three people injured, including two children. The gunfire erupted just before 8:15 p.m. in the 1400 block of Third Avenue. Sgt. LaQuitta Wade said a man and woman and two juveniles were traveling on the roadway when someone in another vehicle opened fire on the victims. The family's SUV was struck at least a dozen times and Shot Spotter registered about 20 rounds fired. Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service transported the man to UAB Hospital. Both juveniles were taken to Children's of Alabama. The man and one of the children sustained non-life-threatening injuries. The condition of the second child is life-threatening. The woman was not injured. The investigation is in its early stages, and no arrests have been made.

A man killed his wife before eventually killing himself on Thursday in Jackson County, the Georgia Bureau of Investigation said. Arcade Police Department responded to a home on Azalea Drive in Arcade, Georgia, after receiving a call about a domestic dispute. When officers got there, they found 56-year-old Alison Markee and 60-year-old Thomas Markee of Arcade dead at the home. The GBI said that Thomas killed his wife before dying by suicide. Both bodies were taken to the GBI Crime Lab to have autopsies performed.

Two men were shot Thursday and no one is in custody, Durham police said. Authorities took the two men to an area hospital after the shooting in the McDougald Terrace community. Both men have non-life-threatening injuries, police said. The investigation is ongoing. Anyone with information about this incident is asked to contact CrimeStoppers at 919-683-1200 or online at www.durhamcrimestoppers.org. CrimeStoppers pays cash rewards of up to $2,000 for information leading to arrests in felony cases, and callers never have to identify themselves.

Two people were sent to the hospital after a road rage shooting near a fast-food restaurant in DeKalb County on Thursday afternoon. Police said they responded to 2473 Wesley Chapel Road in Decatur around 1:15 p.m., which is the address of Church's Chicken. Upon arrival, officers found two individuals who had been shot. A 21-year-old woman and a 23-year-old man were taken to the hospital with graze wounds from the gunfire. They had non-life-threatening injuries, police said. It's unclear if any of the gunshot victims were involved in the shooting itself. 11Alive Syktracker flew over the scene around 3 p.m. and spotted a car with multiple bullet holes being loaded onto a flatbed tow truck. As police investigated, crime scene tape also blocked one southbound lane of Wesley Chapel Road and the turning lane in front of the restaurant. It's unclear at this time what led up to the road rage shooting or if any of the people involved will be charged.

A Rock Hill 17-year-old faces charges after he and another person were shot Thursday afternoon during a struggle for a gun the teen pulled out during a THC vape sale, police said. Ervin Jackie Stephan Myers is being charged as an adult with attempted murder, attempted armed robbery and possession of a weapon during the commission of a violent crime, according to a written statement from the Rock Hill Police Department. The shooting happened shortly before 5 p.m. in a vehicle in the parking lot of apartments on Patriot Parkway. Myers allegedly pulled a gun to rob the other person involved in the vape sale when the two struggled over the weapon, Rock Hill police Lt. Michael Chavis said Friday morning. A THC vape works by heating oil cartridges so people can inhale the vapor. The victim was shot in the abdomen and taken to an area hospital. Myers was shot in the arm. He will be served arrest warrants when released from medical care. Police recovered the gun, Chavis said.

Dothan investigators believe a bullet fired in the air from Kornegay Street was the likely cause of a young girl's gunshot wound at Rip Hewes Stadium Friday night. "Due to the angle of the bullet entering the vehicle from the roof and the extent of the injuries to the victim believed to be from a low velocity bullet, investigators believe it is likely the bullet was fired in the air from Kornegay Street and landed where the victim was sitting," reads a recent release from the Dothan Police Department. "Charges for the shooting are pending until testing can be done to match the firearm located with the bullet recovered from the scene." On Oct. 18, Dothan police working security for a high school football game were flagged down by a citizen who said a child had suffered a gunshot wound in a vehicle. The vehicle was in the parking lot and officers responded to render emergency aid for minor swelling on the girl's head from being struck by the bullet. She was then transported to a local hospital as a precaution and an investigation was immediately launched to find out where the bullet was fired from. Police learned that shots were fired after an altercation occurred in the 400 block of Kornegay Street moments before the juvenile was struck with the bullet. Officers located shell casings in the roadway, then contacted residents of the house. Police secured the house and got a search warrant to look for firearms and ammunition. Investigators found a 9mm carbine and ammunition that matched those found in the roadway. Two people were arrested for charges unrelated to the Rip Hewes shooting until forensic testing can be completed.

A homicide investigation is underway after a man was fatally shot Friday near a diner in Prichard. The victim was shot Friday afternoon near Fat Boys Diner in Prichard, WKRG reported, citing city officials. The man then ran to a car wash when he collapsed. He was taken to a hospital where he died of his injuries.

[2024.11.07] Two carjacking suspects were arrested, according to the Gwinnett County Police Department. Police say they responded to a call about a carjacking in off Seasons Parkway in unincorporated Norcross on Oct. 18. The victim told officers that when he was sitting inside his parked car, a man tapped on his windshield with a gun and ordered him out. When the victim got out of his car, a second man searched his pockets and took his car keys and cellphone. The two suspects then got away with the victim’s car, according to police. Police say they found the stolen car near Singleton Road and Harbins Road about an hour later adding that they sped away from officers, but lost control and crashed down an embankment. Officers surrounded the car and removed both suspects. The two were taken to the hospital with minor injuries from the crash and then booked into the Gwinnett County Jail, according to police. Amadeo Barragan–Carbijal, 25, of Atlanta, and Luis Contreras–Pineda, 23, of Norcross, are both charged with hijacking a motor vehicle, aggravated assault, armed robbery, and possession of a firearm during the commission of certain felonies. Barragan–Carbijal is also charged with fleeing or attempting to elude for a felony offense.

Two South Carolina men were arrested on multiple charges after a shootout in the parking lot of a Midlands Burger King led to a search where more than $50,000 worth of drugs and cash were seized, the Sumter Police Department said Wednesday in a news release. The exchange of gunfire happened Friday at about 9:45 a.m. outside of the Burger King on Calhoun Street. Two men were involved with a drug deal gone bad, as one tried to rob the other, then the shooting started, police said. One of the men, 24-year-old Spartanburg resident Authur Jamaal Reimbeau, was shot and ran a short distance from the fast food restaurant's parking lot where he was found injured. At least one vehicle was hit by the gunfire, but no other injuries were reported, police said. Reimbeau was taken to an area hospital where he was treated and released Tuesday, when he was placed in police custody. Reimbeau was charged with discharging a firearm into a vehicle, attempted murder, illegal possession of marijuana (2nd offense), possession of a stolen firearm, unlawful possession of a firearm, felon in possession of a firearm, possession of a weapon during a violent crime and armed robbery, police said. The second shooter, 23-year-old Sumter resident Eyan Ernest Nathaniel, drove away from the Burger King but was located a short time later and taken into custody. Nathaniel was charged with attempted murder, possession of a weapon during a violent possession with intent to distribute marijuana, trafficking of marijuana and felon in possession of a firearm, police said. Following Nathaniel's arrest, officers searched a Reed Street residence tied to him where they found nearly $17,000 in cash and 18 pounds of marijuana that police estimated was worth $36,000. The residence is about a mile from the Burger King where the shooting happened. Police said both

A man was shot and killed Friday morning near several southwest Atlanta businesses, police said. The shooting happened shortly before noon in the 2600 block of Campbellton Road near a small grocery store, hair salon, and tire shop. The area is west of Adams Park and south of the Cascade Springs Nature Preserve. Officials said they found the 21-year-old victim with a gunshot wound, and he was pronounced dead at the scene. Investigators were able to determine that the victim and suspect "were familiar with each other and involved in an ongoing dispute that resulted in gunfire," according to police. A description of the suspect was not provided, and the victim was not publicly identified.

A home invasion in South Fulton that led to a vehicle pursuit and shootout involving a resident and multiple suspects ended with at least one person injured Friday afternoon, police said. It all began at a home in the 4700 block of Brookwood View, just north of South Fulton Parkway, around 4 p.m., when an “unknown number of armed individuals” entered the house and began taking items, officials confirmed. The suspects fled in a vehicle, and the resident then pursued them in his own vehicle, according to authorities. The pursuit ended in a crash, but police did not specify whether the two cars collided. This was followed by an exchange of gunfire between the resident and the suspects, and officials said the resident shot one of the suspects. The injured suspect was able to flee through a wooded area and stumbled upon a home under construction on Inkberry Drive, less than a mile from the initial incident location. Two construction workers told police that the suspect approached them and asked to wash his hands. The suspect was eventually found by officers hiding in a closet inside the home, officials added. No arrests had been made as of Saturday morning, and police said they are still trying to locate the other suspects.

A juvenile was injured in a shooting early Friday evening in Madison County. Sheriff’s deputies are on the scene of the shooting in the Bermuda Lakes area off of Moores Mill Road, a spokesman said. The juvenile was taken to Huntsville Hospital with unknown injuries. A suspect was still being sought as of 7:15 p.m. Friday. Further information was unavailable.

Two people were injured in a shooting at a Columbia apartment building, according to the Columbia Police Department. The shooting happened at 401 Columbiana Drive, police said, which is the Harbison Gardens complex behind Harbison West Elementary School on Friday night. It happened around 8:15 p.m., WLTX News reported. Police said the injured people, both men, were taken to the hospital and treated for their injuries. The reason behind the shooting is still unclear, police said. The motive and circumstances are still under investigation. As of Saturday afternoon, no arrests have been made.

A Birmingham man was fatally shot Friday in a high school parking lot in Selma, authorities said Thursday. Selma police responded to Southside High School at 7975 U.S. Highway 80 East in Selma around 11 p.m. Friday on a report of shots fired in the area, according to Central Alabama Crimestoppers, which is offering a $1,000 reward for information that leads to an arrest in the homicide investigation. Authorities located the victim, later identified as 32-year-old Birmingham resident Devante Tashon Hall, with a gunshot wound near Water Avenue and Broad Street in Selma. Hall was pronounced dead at the scene. Investigators determined the shooting occurred in the Southside High School parking lot. No suspects have been apprehended as of Thursday.

A man was found shot to death in the middle of the street in a south Birmingham neighborhood. The discovery was made Saturday morning on 24th Avenue South, just off the busy Green Springs Highway. Sgt. Bryan Shelton said Birmingham Police officers were notified about 6:30 a.m. and responded to the location. They arrived to find the man unresponsive and medics pronounced him dead on the scene. Residents told police they heard some kind of commotion and then heard the shots. No arrests have been made. “It ‘s early in the investigation and we do not have a motive,’” Shelton said. “Truly any homicide is a tragedy and so our hearts go out to the family,” Shelton said. “Our investigators will work to try to bring some closure to the family.”

[10/23/2024] A popular walking trail in Athens is now the center of a gruesome homicide investigation after a man walking his dog came across a bloody scene over the weekend. The Trail Creek Trail runs parallel to Oakridge Avenue off Vine Street and is just roughly a mile northeast of downtown Athens. Athens-Clarke County Police were dispatched to the trail behind the University of Georgia’s Chicopee Complex around 9 a.m. on Saturday, Oct. 19, in reference to a person hurt along the concrete path. It was 48-year-old Santonio Coleman who was found critically injured by a passerby on the trail. His little sister, Lakiesha Fleming, said the man she knew as just “San” had gone out on Friday night, which wasn’t unusual. San was described as the life of the party, a colorful guy and someone didn’t shy away from his identity as a gay man. “It was never a secret,” Fleming said, adding, “We loved him for who he was.” San was born and raised in Athens. “He’s been in this same community for 47 years, and nobody ever hurt him,” Fleming explained. However, Athens-Clarke County Police said someone killed San. On Saturday morning, San’s mom explained she got a call asking her to get to the hospital because San was hurt. The family said they rushed to the hospital and found San covered in blood. At the time, it was still being told to them that it appeared San had fallen and hit his head. However, the family said after seeing his injuries and going back to the trail where his body was found, they quickly realized something far more sinister had happened to him. “He fell there, because he tried to keep on going,” Fleming said. She explained San’s body was about a mile from home. She believes he was attacked then tried to make his way home along the trail. She said his phone was taken

Montgomery police are investigating a Saturday shooting that injured a teenager. Around 4pm Saturday, MPD and Fire Medics responded to the 100 block of Amanda Loop. They made contact with a juvenile male victim who had non life-threatening injuries from a gunshot wound. MPD has not released any other information at this time.

A pedestrian was killed Saturday night in Lexington County in a hit-and-run crash, according to the South Carolina Highway Patrol. Madelein Lopez-Resendiz, a 25-year-old Pelion resident, died at the scene from injuries suffered in the crash, Lexington County Coroner Margaret Fisher said Sunday. The collision happened at about 7:10 p.m. in the Pelion area of Lexington County, said Cpl. Nick Pye of the Highway Patrol. Lopez-Resendiz was walking west along Hartley Quarter Road, according to Pye. Near the intersection with S.C. 302, Lopez-Resendiz was hit and killed by an unknown vehicle that was driving west on Hartley Quarter Road, Pye said. The driver did not stop and fled the scene, according to Fisher. No other injuries were reported in the death that continues to be investigated by the Highway Patrol and coroner's office.

Gunfire erupted during homecoming weekend at Albany State University, leaving a metro Atlanta teenager dead and five others injured, including two local high school students, officials confirmed Sunday. The shooting happened in a crowded area near a campus concert at about 8:50 p.m. Saturday, according to a statement shared by ASU Interim President Dr. Lawrence M. Drake II. Earlier Saturday, Albany State hosted Morehouse College in a football game. "As always, the safety and security of our ASU students, faculty and staff are the number one priority of this institution," Drake said. The deceased victim was identified as 19-year-old De-Morion Tayshawn Daniels, according to Dougherty County Corner Michael Fowler. Daniels is from Newnan and was not an ASU student, the GBI said. Officials said three other victims suffered a gunshot wound, including a 13-year-old Albany girl, and two girls, aged 16, and 17, who both go to a local high school. A 20-year-old woman was also grazed by a bullet, while a 19-year-old girl was injured while trying to get away, the GBI added. The injured victims were treated at a triage site on campus. Afterward, they were taken to a local hospital, according to the GBI. Officials didn't provide a motive for the shooting, which happened near the C.W. Grant Student Union on the university's east campus during homecoming weekend. The campus was placed on lockdown as authorities searched for those responsible, but no arrests have been made, according to the GBI. Drake said the GBI is leading the investigation and will be helped by state and local law enforcement agencies.

An individual was arrested after shooting an innocent bystander in a Mobile bar Sunday night according to the Mobile Police Department. While at Hayley's Bar the alleged shooter, Michael Sullivan, got into an argument with a woman prior to the shooting police say. Following the argument Sullivan is alleged to have attempted to shoot another person but instead shot a man in the back of the bar. The victim lived and was taken to a local hospital. Sullivan was arrested after Mobile police officers arrived at the bar. He was taken to Mobile County Metro Jail.

Two teens in Dunn are recovering after someone threw a scorching liquid on them. Larry McDougald is the uncle of a 15-year-old boy who got burned. McDougald said he was watching football Sunday afternoon when he heard yelling outside of his apartment complex on Ponderosa Drive. "This turned into something I have never seen before in my life," McDougald said. McDougald said an argument may have been over a phone. "You can't hear too much, see too much when you have 40 people around the whole step," McDougald said. "[People were] trying to escalate by throwing stuff through the windows." On Monday afternoon, shards of broken window were still in the grass. When McDougald went to get someone to help break up the fight on Sunday, he came back to find his 15-year-old nephew in pain. "When I got back there, I [saw] my little nephew hollering and screaming," McDougald said. "He got burned [really badly] across the chest." Dunn police said someone threw hot liquid on the teens. The liquid was not just water, police said. Neighbors and McDougald said they believe it was hot water mixed with bleach. While the 15-year-old boy was released from the hospital, a 14-year-old girl was also burned and remains hospitalized with non-life-threatening injuries. Dunn police said no one has been arrested, but they have a person of interest with charges likely to be filed soon. McDougald said he thinks the incident should have never happened. "We need to pass things up and let them go before it escalates any worse," McDougald said. "This is my family. I don't want nobody hurt, period." WRAL News asked Dunn police why no one was arrested if it appears everyone involved knew each other. Dunn police said they are still confirming some things about the incident.

[10/24/2024] Priceville man involved but not criminally charged in the Sunday shooting death of his ex-wife was arrested by Lawrence County deputies on Tuesday. Zachery Allen Merriman, 33, was taken into custody at Langley Private Drive — where his ex-wife, Kimberly Shaun Ricks, was found dead from multiple gunshot wounds two days earlier — by Priceville police at 6:15 p.m. and transferred to the Lawrence County Sheriff’s Office, according to the Priceville Police Department. Police said Merriman was arrested on six active warrants: second-degree assault, second-degree burglary, first-degree criminal mischief, first-degree theft, menacing and third-degree trespassing. The charges stem from an attempted Sept. 18 theft of a motorcycle from a residence in Lawrence County and an ensuing altercation, a Sheriff’s Office spokesman said Wednesday. Merriman and Ricks had three young children and divorced in 2019, according to court records. Prior to Ricks’ death, she attempted to modify the custody agreement. In May, Ricks petitioned Cullman County for a protection from abuse order against Merriman, claiming he had been stalking her. The petition was denied by Circuit Judge Gregory Nicholas. Merriman has been charged twice with violating a protection order barring him from contacting his current, estranged wife. Monday afternoon, the Cullman County District Attorney’s Office moved to revoke Merriman’s bond for a first-degree theft charge he faces there. Court records show Nicholas issued an arrest warrant for Merriman minutes later.

A 36-year-old woman on Sunday night allegedly shot her parents, killing her father and seriously injuring her mother, and then fled with her two young children, Mobile police say. Charity Matthews is in custody, police announced shortly before 5:30 a.m. Monday. On Sunday night, at approximately 7:47 p.m. in the 1400 block of Avonlea Court, police were called to investigate a shooting. Police found Matthews’ father dead and her mother suffering serious injuries. Early Monday morning, police found Matthews at a local hotel. “A joint effort amongst our Homicide Unit, Cyber Intelligence Unit, Tactical Intelligence Unit, SWAT, Drone Team, K-9, Patrol Unit and our Identification Unit made it possible to apprehend Matthews without incident,” police statement read. “Both children were found safe.”

A 16-year-old boy was killed in a weekend shooting in Tuskegee, and the person of interest was also found dead hours later. The teen victim was shot about 2:30 a.m. Sunday. Interim Police Chief Patrick Mardis said the ordeal began at Josh's convenience store on East Martin Luther King Highway. That is the same store where one person was killed and three others injured in a June shooting. The teen, the chief said, is believed to have been committing a crime outside the store. The person of interest followed the teen and others in a vehicle and shots were fired. Those in the vehicle with the teen drove him to the hospital where he was pronounced dead. Mardis said the person of interest was found dead about 4 p.m. Sunday in a wrecked car in a ravine in the area of Highway 29 and Highway 53. The cause of death for the person of interest was not immediately known and is pending an autopsy. Mardis said all of those involved knew each other. The chief said multiple law enforcement agencies, including ALEA, are assisting in the investigation.

A woman who was shot late Sunday night near downtown Durham died at the hospital, police said. It happened around 11:48 p.m. in the 900 block of Fayetteville Street. ABC11, The News & Observer's newsgathering partner, said the woman was shot outside Jack's In and Out Mart, which is across the street from the Phoenix Square shopping center and just south of the Durham Freeway. Officers found the woman, who was taken to the hospital where she was pronounced dead, police said. As of Oct. 12, 182 people had been shot this year in Durham, 25 of them fatally, according to police statistics. That is down from 32 fatal shootings by the same time in each of the previous two years, the statistics show. Police are still investigating Sunday's shooting and did not release the woman's name or any suspect information.

Police in Gwinnett County made an arrest in a shooting Monday at an apartment complex in Tucker that left a mother dead. The Gwinnett County Police Department says, with the help of the Covington Police Department, detectives arrested 26-year-old Aaron Guillen, of Norcross, and charged him with malice murder, felony murder, aggravated assault, and possession of a firearm during the commission of a felony. Officers arrived at the Gwinnett Station Circle apartments just off Old Norcross-Tucker Road around 7:30 a.m. They said they found Marianna Guillen shot and killed inside her apartment by a man she had been in a relationship with and may have had several children with. “The preliminary investigation determined that this is a domestic-related incident between the suspect and deceased victim who knew each other. They possibly have several kids together as well,” Cpl. Juan Mediado said. Officers said there were multiple people and possibly children inside the apartment at the time of the shooting.

A suspect in a Hazel Green road rage incident was arrested this week, according to a release from the Madison County Sheriff's Office. On Oct. 21, at approximately 8:10 a.m., sheriffs received a report of a "road rage" incident at the Hazel Green Walmart on Highway 231. Initial investigation revealed that the incident began near Taft, Tenn., when the suspect, identified as James William Moore, allegedly followed the victim, struck the victim's vehicle, and fired a gun in the direction of the vehicle. The suspect then pursued the victim to the Walmart in Hazel Green, where he used a baseball bat to strike the victim's vehicle before fleeing the scene, the release said. The victim reported no injuries. Further investigation led to Moore's arrest of James William Moore in Lincoln County, Tenn., on an unrelated matter, according to the release. The Madison County Sheriff's Office said they are continuing to investigate this incident and working to determine the motive behind the suspect's actions. The incident comes two days after another driver was forced off the road and shots were fired. On Oct. 19, at around 7:30 p.m., Madison County sheriffs received a report of a vehicle crash on northbound Highway 231 near Buckridge Drive in the Hazel Green community. Deputies arrived at the scene to find evidence of gunshots fired at a single vehicle that had been forced off the roadway, the release said. The victims reported no injuries. The suspect's vehicle is described as an older model pick-up truck. The investigation into this incident is still ongoing, and the two incidents are not believed to be related and do not actively threaten the public, according to the release.

Durham police are investigating a shooting that injured a man Monday night. The incident took place just before 8 p.m. in the 100 block of West Enterprise Street. When officers arrived, they found a man who had been shot. He was taken to the hospital with non-life-threatening injuries. The investigation is ongoing.

A man was shot and killed last night in Triana, according to the Madison County Sheriff's Office. At approximately 8:10 p.m. on Oct. 21, deputies received a 911 call regarding a shooting incident in the 100 block of Murphy Lane in Triana, according to a recent release. In response, multiple units from the Sheriff's Office and the Huntsville Police Department arrived at the scene. Upon arrival, it was determined that Trayvon Deshawn Harris, 37, had suffered a gunshot wound to the abdomen. He was transported to Huntsville Hospital by Huntsville Emergency Medical Services for medical care but died as a result of his injuries a short time later. Sheriff's Major Crimes detectives and CSI are currently working on collecting evidence and conducting interviews with witnesses to identify the offender and establish the circumstances surrounding the shooting, the release said. The Madison County Sheriff's office said they will release further details as the investigation continues.

Three people were shot overnight in Fayetteville, police said. Monday at 11:57 p.m., Fayetteville police responded to a triple shooting at Manhattan Deli on Village Drive, beside Cape Fear Valley Medical Center, according to police. All three victims have severe injuries and are being treated at Cape Fear Valley Medical Center, police said. The investigation is ongoing.

Two men were injured in a shooting Tuesday night in Durham. Officers responded to a call of a gunshot wound on the 1200 block of East Lawson Street. The McDougald Terrace apartment complex is listed at this address. Police found two men with gunshot wounds to their lower bodies. Their injuries are serious but non-life-threatening, according to police. Both men were taken to a local hospital. Authorities are investigating the incident and seeking information from the public.

A Sanford man has been charged with murder after his girlfriend was shot and killed, according to the Lee County Sheriff's Office. Deputies came to a home on River Run Drive on Tuesday night, finding Joan Collins dead from a gunshot wound. Collins was 76 years old. Randall Lee Stark was charged with murder. Stark, 66, is being held in Lee County Jail without bond. Authorities said Collins and Stark were in a long-term relationship and lived together.

Montgomery police have launched a death investigation following a man's shooting death. Police say they were called at about 2:21 this morning to the 100 block of Aster Drive. That's not far from North Eastern Boulevard and Wares Ferry Road. Police say they found 23-year-old Richard Oneal of Montgomery, who had been shot. He was pronounced dead at the scene.

Two suspects are in custody after an hours-long search following a theft from a U.S. Postal Service drop box in Mountain Brook. Officers were dispatched at 5:04 a.m. Tuesday to the reported drop box theft in Office Park off U.S. 280. They arrived to find two men in a vehicle and confronted them. The suspects, police said, fled and a car chase ensued. The pursuit ended in the 2700 block of Rockhill Road when then two suspects bailed from the vehicle and ran away. One suspect was taken into custody at 8:37 a.m. near that location. As the search and investigation continued throughout the day, officers received reports of an individual matching the second suspect's description near Grants Mill Road and Interstate 459. Mountain Brook officers and U.S. Postal Inspectors responded with Irondale police and took the second suspect into custody at 2:20 p.m. The suspects names are being withheld pending formal charges.

Atlanta Police are investigating after a man was stabbed on Tuesday afternoon and later died at a hospital. According to the Atlanta Police Department, officers responded to 2711 Metropolitan Parkway SW shortly after 3:30 p.m. This address shows as a Walgreens in the Hammond Park neighborhood. Police said when officers arrived, they found a 37-year-old man with stab wounds. The man was sent to the hospital in critical condition, where he later died from his injuries. Homicide Unit Investigators responded to the scene to figure out the circumstances surrounding the incident.

Two pedestrians are recovering after they were hit while crossing a busy Fayetteville intersection on electric scooters. The pedestrians were hit before 4 p.m. Tuesday at the intersection of Raeford Road and McPherson Church Road. The entire incident was captured on a driver's dash camera. Juana Estrada was sitting in her car Tuesday waiting for the light to change with her dash cam running. She said she couldn't believe her eyes. "They proceeded to cross the street and in the corner of my eye I saw a vehicle move and then I turned and I saw that blue truck striking the lady, the pedestrian," Estrada said. Estrada said the male pedestrian jumped in front of the woman so she wouldn't be hit by another vehicle. Estrada's dash cam video shows the bright blue pickup truck hit the people on the scooters, but what happened next is what shocked her. "That driver, instead of stopping, proceeded to yell something out of the window and just drove off," Estrada said. "Luckily somebody stopped to help out and make sure they crossed the street safely." The light was green when the pickup truck drove away. Estrada made a U-turn to check on the pedestrians and tell them about her dash cam video. They told her the driver yelled at them before he drove away, heading west on Raeford Road. According to Estrada, the pedestrians said the man stuck his head out the window and yelled that he didn't care because the "light was already green." The pedestrians, who only suffered minor injuries, walked away after the crash. Both were shaken up, and one complained of a headache and was waiting to be taken to the hospital. In addition to Estrada's dash cam video, Fayetteville police may have captured the incident on a security camera posted at that intersection. "It's scary," Estrada said. "It could be my child crossing the street, it could be an elderly woman, it

A Lawrenceville man wanted for numerous armed robberies was killed by one of the officers who went to arrest him Tuesday night in Chamblee. The Georgia Bureau of Investigation (GBI) says just before 5 p.m., Lawrenceville police got word that the robbery suspect, identified as 59-year-old Terrell Laron Hoggro, was hiding out at the Quality Inn motel on Northeast Expressway. After setting up surveillance, police saw him leaving his motel room. The GBI says when officers moved in to arrest Hoggro, he “pulled a handgun from his waistband and raised it as officers approached.” One Lawrenceville Police Department officer shot at Hoggro, hitting him. He was taken to an area hospital where he died, officials say. Lawrenceville police say none of their officers were hurt. Motel management says none of their other guests or staff were hurt, and operations have resumed as normal. The GBI continues to investigate.

Two employees of a Walmart in Newton County were arrested after allegedly firing shots during an argument in the store parking lot Wednesday, according to the sheriff’s office. Newton County deputies said they responded to shots fired in the parking lot of the Walmart on Salem Road in the Covington area. The sheriff’s office said it was an isolated incident involving an altercation between two Walmart employees, resulting in no injuries. Deputies arrested 42-year-old Eric Webb and 47-year-old Howard Williams, both of Covington, on charges of aggravated assault, reckless conduct, and possession of a firearm during the commission of a crime. The investigation into the incident is ongoing.

A man was arrested Wednesday after an armed robbery at a Circle K gas station on New Bern Avenue in Raleigh. The robbery happened at the Circle K at 3948 New Bern Ave. Just after 3 a.m., officers arrived and talked to witnesses at the business. Crime scene tape surrounded the gas station. Reginald Tillman, 37, was charged with robbery with a dangerous weapon, larceny of a firearm and misdemeanor larceny. An investigation is ongoing.

A man was shot to death Wednesday morning by police in east Alabama. A Sardis police officer responded at 7:30 a.m. Wednesday to a report of a disturbance near the drop-off line at Sardis Middle School. When the officer arrived, the male suspect fled in a vehicle, leading the officer on a pursuit. The chase ended on a driveway off Lawson Gap Road. Etowah County Sheriff's Sgt. Josh Morgan said an altercation erupted when the man got out of the vehicle, and shots were exchanged between an officer and the suspect. The man was pronounced dead on the scene. His identity hasn't been released. No officers were injured. The Etowah County Sheriff's Office and the Jacksonville State Center for Applied Forensic Science were brought in to lead the investigation. The incident at Sardis Middle School caused no injuries, disruptions, or danger to any students or staff, Morgan said. The incident happened in the parking lot area of the school. School activities continued as normal. Once completed, the findings will be submitted to the Etowah County District Attorney's Office for review.

A Jefferson County man is behind bars following a morning bank robbery in Chilton County. Police officers responded at 9:20 a.m. to a report of an armed robbery at River Bank & Trust on Seventh Street South in Clanton. The caller told police the bank had been robbed by a man driving a white Dodge Charger with no tag. Officers began checking the area for a matching vehicle and located it on Interstate 65 near the 212 exit. Clanton police officers, Chilton County sheriff's deputies and ALEA state troopers tried to stop the car, but the driver refused, and a pursuit ensued. Authorities said the driver was eventually stopped using law enforcement vehicles. Michael Jimenez, 32, is charged with first-degree robbery. He is being held in the Chilton County Jail. "Many times, the information that we receive is not relayed in time for this type of an outcome," Clanton police said in a statement. "The swift and accurate action of the bank employees enabled the rapid apprehension of the suspect."

Five people were treated at Baptist South Hospital Wednesday night after a shooting at a Montgomery apartment complex. According to the Montgomery Police Department, officers responded to Baptist South Hospital around 6:15pm. Contact was made with three adult male victims and two juvenile victims. Two of the adults sustained non-life-threatening gunshot wounds and one adult sustained a life-threatening gunshot wound. One of the juveniles sustained a life-threatening gunshot wound and the other juvenile sustained a non-life-threatening gunshot wound. It was determined that the shooting happened in the 1000 block of Liberty Square Drive which is located in the Liberty Square Apartment complex behind the Walmart Supercenter on the Eastern Boulevard. According to MPD, there is no additional information available for release in connection to this continuing investigation.

Three schools are on lockdown and one person is injured after an shooting Thursday afternoon in Cary. According to the Cary Police Department, officers responded to an active shooter situation in the 600 block of Walnut Street. "All of a sudden, my son called me screaming, "Mom! there's been a shooting,"" Cary High School parent Norma Reaves said. "People started running, trying to get back on school property because they didn't know where to go. They were waiting for their parents." Officers believe the initial scene occurred in the roadway between Cary Town Boulevard and Walnut Street. Sky 5 was over the scene while officers were investigating. Police said one person was injured and there is no active threat to the public. Police said they have "several" people in custody and officers seized several weapons. According to officials at East Cary Magnet Middle School, Adams Elementary and Cary High School, the schools went into a code yellow lockdown due to "police activity" in the area. During a code yellow lockdown, all students return to and remain inside the building. Activities inside the school continue as normal. "The community has nothing to really be afraid of at this point," Cary Police Chief Terry Sult said. "We have the scene contained and the areas that we need to search for evidence [blocked] off." It is unclear how long the lockdowns will be in place.

A Gwinnett County School District bus driver has been charged with assaulting a middle school student, according to an arrest warrant. The warrant states Rhodesia Ealey “slapped, pinched, and choked a seventh grade, 12-year-old student.” McConnell Middle School Principal Derico White said the bus driver was immediately put on administrative leave after the incident was reported and later fired. “A former Gwinnett County Public Schools (GCPS) bus driver, who previously transported your student, was recently arrested and charged with physically assaulting a student on the bus. To be clear, this individual is no longer employed by GCPS,” said Principal Derico White in a letter to parents. Ealey was released on a $1,000 bond. Atlanta News First staff attempted to contact Ealey through Facebook and by phone but did not receive a response.

Police said a man was charged after an incident of alleged sexual battery and indecent exposure at a LaGrange business. LaGrange police said the suspect, Brandon Lee Garrett, allegedly exposed himself and touched a woman “in a way that constituted sexual battery” inside an herb shop on Ridley Avenue on Thursday. Garrett was reportedly located and arrested Friday night. He’s being held in the Troup County Jail on charges of indecent exposure and sexual battery. Police said Garrett was not a registered sex offender as of Friday.

A man confined to a wheelchair was attacked Thursday morning by two suspects who broke into his East Point home, police said. Officials said they were able to identify one of the two men accused in the incident. Troy Gonzales was arrested later in the day on a warrant out of Henry County, jail records show. Shortly after 7 a.m., officers were called to the home in the 2100 block of Castlewood Street, just south of Langford Parkway and next to Hamilton E. Holmes Elementary School. The 67-year-old victim, who is wheelchair bound, was found on the floor, police said. Authorities learned that the victim was in the bathroom when the suspects allegedly broke in by kicking open the front door. The victim was then thrown from his wheelchair into the living room area, police said. One of the men pointed a handgun at the victim and demanded valuable items, according to a news release. Police did not disclose if any items were stolen from the home. The victim reported that he was then kicked and punched by the suspects before they left the location in a black vehicle, according to officials.

A man was shot after breaking into a home to try to harm someone, witnesses told the Kershaw County Sheriff's Office. Deputies originally received a report of a man who had shot himself in the 1000 block of Highway 1 North in Cassatt on Thursday around 4:30 p.m. When they arrived, the sheriff's office said, they were told by everyone involved that someone at the residence had shot him after he had forced entry in an attempt to harm someone inside. Everyone present there knew each other, officials said, including the man who was shot. No strangers were involved. EMS took the man to an area hospital. Officials said he was in stable condition. No arrests have been made. The sheriff's office said the public is not in danger. Officials said they believe all suspects, victims and witnesses have been identified and located. An investigation is pending.

The S.C. Highway Patrol is investigating an apparent hit-and-run death Thursday of a Lexington County pedestrian whose body was struck by three different vehicles on a rural road near Pelion. The pedestrian, who was unidentified, died at the scene, according to Trooper Mitchell Ridgeway. The incident happened shortly after sunset about 7:15 pm Thursday on U.S. 178 near Wash Board Road, several miles southeast of Pelion. The first two vehicles, which are unidentified, hit the pedestrian and left the scene, Ridgeway said. A third vehicle also struck the pedestrian's body, Ridgeway said. That operator of that vehicle, a 2009 Chevrolet sedan, did not leave the scene and notified authorities, Ridgeway indicated. A Highway Patrol MAIT team, whose investigators use state-of-the-art technology and analysis, was on the scene. "This collision remains under investigation," Ridgeway said.

The Durham Police Department is investigating a fatal shooting that occurred south of downtown Thursday night. Officers responded at 8:41 p.m. to a reported gunshot wound in the 3000 block of E Weaver St. and found a man with serious injuries, according to a news release. The location is between South Roxboro Street and East Cornwallis Road. The man, whose name has not been released, was taken to the hospital, where he died. Investigators have not released other details.

A Thursday night shooting in Bessemer left one man dead. The Jefferson County Coroner's Office identified the victim as Tavares Deone Moore. He was 44 and lived in Bessemer. The shooting happened at 8:56 p.m. in the 2900 block of Ninth Avenue North. Moore was taken to UAB Hospital in Birmingham where he was pronounced dead at 9:40 p.m. Bessemer police Det. Justin Burmeister said Moore was shot multiple times but was able to talk briefly with officers before he died. No arrests have yet been made, but the suspect and the victim knew each other and police have leads on the identity of the suspect. Moore is Bessemer's 11th homicide this year. In all of Jefferson County, there have been 166 homicides, including the 11 in Bessemer.

A pedestrian was killed early Friday morning after apparently being involved in a hit-and-run crash in the southbound lanes on the Downtown Connector, Atlanta police said. Officers arrived at about 5:10 a.m. and located the person, who was unresponsive. “The suspect vehicle did not remain on scene,” police said. A HERO unit closed two lanes of traffic at the Edgewood exit on-ramp while police began the investigation, which is still ongoing.

A man is dead following a late-night shooting at a Columbia event venue, the Richland County Sheriff’s Department announced. Around 11:30 p.m. on Friday, deputies were called to 9221 Two Notch Road to an event venue called Suite Sixty because of a shooting, officials said. They met with venue security, who said there was a person inside with gunshot wounds. A deputy found the shooting victim and began lifesaving measures. However, the man died from his injuries at the scene. EMS and the Richland County coroner were called. Witnesses told the sheriff’s department that a “large fight” had broken out inside the venue and a man was shot several times by a person outside the building. The suspected shooter left the scene before deputies arrived.

A Huntsville man captured by federal agents has been charged with murder in connection with the fatal Pulaski Pike shooting of another man Saturday morning, police said Tuesday. Jerriance Dural Freeman, 38, of Huntsville, was captured by U.S. Marshals in Colbert County, said Huntsville police Sgt. Chris Jackson. He did not say when Freeman was apprehended. Freeman is set to be extradited to Huntsville and booked in the Madison County jail on a murder charge in the fatal shooting of 32-year-old Huntsville resident Jamie Darquez Cawthorne. Cawthorne’s body, which had gunshot wounds, was found in the 4000 block of Pulaski Pike around 10:50 a.m. Saturday Freeman was identified as a suspect less than 24 hours after Cawthorne’s body was found. Police believe the shooting stemmed from a dispute between the suspect and victim. Further information was unavailable.

[10/30/2024] A boy critically injured when his ATV was struck in hit-and-run on Birmingham's west side has died. Braylen Hardy, who just turned 13 on Sept. 20, died Tuesday at Children's of Alabama. His death came three days after the crash in Ensley. "He was just a sweet kid," said his grieving mother, Vanessa Riggs. "He was always smiling." Braylen was sitting on his four-wheeler on a sidewalk on Avenue E in his father's neighborhood Saturday evening. He and his dad and brothers had just finished riding, a family activity they liked to do every chance they got. It was about 6:45 p.m. when there were shots fired nearby, in the 2400 block of Avenue D. Birmingham police said a vehicle fleeing the shooting scene crashed into the child. The driver who hit the child fled on foot, but Birmingham patrol officers took him into custody a few blocks from the scene. No formal charges have yet been announced but police said the investigation ongoing by BPD's Traffic Homicide Unit. Braylen's mother, Vanessa Riggs, said her son was about to put up the ATV for the night. "A man driving erratically, going 60 or better down the road, I don't know if he went over pothole or hit a curb, but he lost control, hopped the curb and hit my baby," Riggs said. Riggs rushed to the scene but by the time she got there, Braylen had already been taken to Children's of Alabama. Braylen stopped and started breathing a couple of times, and he was put on a ventilator once at the hospital. The impact of the collision injured Braylen's lungs and head, and he also sustained a broken leg and a broken arm. "We were trying to see if God was going to turn it around," Riggs said. On Tuesday, after multiple tests showed no brain activity, the family made the decision that they didn't want to see Braylen suffer any longer. "The only thing keeping him on the breathers

Troy police are investigating shots fired on University Avenue and are looking for people with information about it. Police say the shots were fired at around 7PM Saturday in the 100 block of University Avenue, which is near the South Brundidge Street intersection. Officers responded to reports of gunshots involving two people — one firing from a vehicle and the other on foot. No suspects were located at the scene, but witnesses provided descriptions, police say. A nearby home and an unoccupied parked vehicle were damaged by gunfire. No one was hurt. Police say it appears the gunshots may have followed an altercation inside a nearby business.

Two unrelated shooting incidents on N.C. Central's campus in Durham on Saturday night marred homecoming weekend. At around 7:45 p.m., campus police issued an "active shooter alert" and responded to reports of gunfire outside Debra Saunders-White Residence Hall at 2103 Fayetteville St., ABC11, The News & Observer's media partner first reported. According to NCCU's daily crime and fire log, the incident happened as hundreds of people attended homecoming events scattered around campus. Police determined there were no gunshot-related injuries, "though three shots were fired into the air," NCCU's office of communications and marketing said in a statement Sunday. Police charged Danye Negash Medhin with discharging a firearm on educational property and felony riot, according to court records. He was an assistant professor in the Department of Criminal Justice until the university ended his employment after Saturday's incident, a university spokesman said. He started working for the university in August 2023, according to his LinkedIn profile. After this first incident, the university said, it began suspending activities and started clearing the campus. But at around 8:59 p.m., responding officers heard gunshots nearby and issued a separate alert to campus. In the second incident, police found four people — including a student — with non-life-threatening gunshot wounds in the area of the Student Services building on Eagle Campus Drive. They were treated for their injuries at a local hospital, NCCU said. The campus was placed on lockdown until campus police issued an all clear to the campus around 11:48 p.m. School officials said the two incidents are being investigated by state and local law enforcement. NCCU has not released any information about suspects or motives in the second shooting incident.

The Goldsboro Police Department is investigating two shootings that happened within hours of each other Saturday night – leaving one man dead and another in critical condition. Saturday at 9:22 p.m., officers with the Goldsboro Police Department and deputies with the Wayne County Sheriff’s Office responded to a ShotSpotter alert and 911 calls in the 800 block of Newsome Street. Law enforcement officers located Daquan Almanta Simms, 26, who had been shot several times. He was transported to UNC Health Wayne for treatment and was subsequently flown to ECU Health in Greenville for further treatment. Unfortunately, Simms died Sunday. The shooting is now being investigated as a homicide. Another man was also shot in Goldsboro Saturday night. At 11:50 p.m., officers with the Goldsboro Police Department responded to UNC Health Wayne after a gunshot victim arrived by private vehicle. Officers arrived and found Anthony Ray Capps Jr., who had been shot in his abdomen. Investigators determined the shooting happened in the area of Sixth Street and Wayne Memorial Drive in Goldsboro. Capps was transferred to ECU Medical Center for further treatment. He was listed in critical condition, police said. Both investigations are ongoing.

The Durham County Sheriff’s Office is investigating a fatal shooting Saturday night at a popular fast-food chain. Shortly after 10:30 p.m., deputies responded to reports of a shooting at the Cook Out in the 1500 block of South Miami Boulevard, east of downtown in Durham County. Davicia Annie Jean Lee, 29, was found dead at the scene, the sheriff’s office said in a news release. About 90 minutes earlier, five miles away, four people were shot and three were hospitalized after reports of gunfire at 231 Eagle Campus Drive on N.C. Central University’s campus in Durham, reported ABC11, The News & Observer’s media partner. In a separate incident on campus, a person is in custody after gunshots were reported at the Debra Saunders-White Residence Hall parking lot at 2103 Fayetteville St., police said. The two shootings on NC Central’s campus happened during homecoming festivities.

A child was shot Saturday night during a sleepover at a South Carolina home and a teenager has been arrested, according to the Greenville County Sheriff’s Office. At about 11:35 p.m., emergency officials received a 911 call about a 7-year-old being shot, and deputies responded to a home in the 400 block of Crosby Circle, the sheriff’s office said Sunday in a news release. That’s in Greenville, near Exit 46 on Interstate 85. Deputies found the child who had been shot at least once in the abdomen, and he was taken to an area hospital. Following an investigation, deputies arrested a 13-year-old male after discovering the teen shot the victim while at what was believed to be a sleepover at the victim’s house. The teen had left the victim’s home and was later located at his residence, just a few houses away. There was no word about any charges pending against the 13-year-old. Information about a motive for the shooting was not available, or how the teen got a gun, but it continues to be investigated by the sheriff’s office. There was no word if the teen is still in custody, and if so, where he is being held.

The Sampson County Sheriff’s Office is investigating a deadly shooting. The sheriff’s office said it happened Saturday around 11:50 p.m. on Brantwood Court near Roseboro. Chatham County deputies arrested a man on Saturday they said injured three people in a shooting the night before. According to the Chatham County Sheriff's Office, deputies responded a report of three gunshot victims at Murphy's Gas Station on New Chatham Road in Siler City near U.S. 421. On Friday night, a minivan was seen being towed away near the scene. The back window of the vehicle had been shot out. EMS transported all three victims to UNC Hospitals in Chapel Hill with non-life-threatening injuries. Deputies at first believed the shooting was related to a road rage incident, but discovered the shooting occurred at a home on Highway 902 in Bear Creek. Deputies said they searched the home and found evidence related to the shooting. They later arrested 46-year-old Michael Darren Sharpe, who lived at the home, and charged him with multiple felonies, including: Seven counts of firing a weapon into a motor vehicle, three counts of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill inflicting serious injury, one count of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill, and one count of assault inflicting serious injury. Sharpe was also charged with multiple misdemeanors related to the shooting. Deputies took Sharpe into custody and placed him under a $1 million bond. His first court appearance is on Jan. 6 in Chatham County District Court.

A South Carolina man was charged with attempted murder and other crimes following a knife attack outside of a Lexington County bar, according to the Chapin Police Department. Newberry County resident Jacob Adam Riddle was also charged with second-degree assault & battery and possession of a weapon during the commission of a violent crime, police said Monday in a news release. The attack happened at about 2 a.m. Sunday. It occurred in the parking lot of the Topsy Toad Tavern at 103 Beaufort Street. That's in the heart of Chapin, not far from Exit 91 on Interstate 26. Riddle was seen stabbing the victim in the back prompting another individual to try and get Riddle off of the victim, according to the release. During the struggle the second individual was also cut with the knife. Once they were separated Riddle drove away before police arrived. The stabbing victim was taken to Lexington Medical Center with what police called non-life-threatening injuries. Officers responding to the stabbing identified Riddle as the suspect through the combination of evidence collected in the bar's parking lot as well as statements from several witnesses. With assistance from the Newberry County Sheriff's Office, police took Riddle into custody at his residence in Little Mountain. He was arrested Monday and is being held at the Lexington County Detention Center, jail records show. No bond has been set. There was no word on a motive for the attack, or if Riddle and the victim knew each other prior to the incident.

Three people were injured early Saturday in a stabbing at a fast food restaurant and a man was charged with multiple crimes, according to the Columbia Police Department. The attack happened at the Hardee's at 5801 U.S. 321/Fairfield Road, police said Saturday night in a news release. Shortly before 8 a.m., officers responded to an emergency call about a fight at the restaurant. The officers found three people with what police called "non-life threatening injuries." Two of the victims were Hardee's employees and the other was a customer. One of the victims remains hospitalized, police said. Police said they believe that 42-year-old Ira Grissett "went to the restaurant with the intention of confronting a male employee about a personal conflict." Grissett was charged with attempted murder, two counts of assault and battery of a high and aggravated nature as well as possession of a weapon during the commission of a violent crime. No bond has been set and Grissett remains in the Alvin S. Glenn Detention Center, jail records show. Following a bond hearing, the Columbia resident is scheduled to return to court on Dec. 13, according to Richland County court records. Officers recovered the knife used in the attack, which police said was an isolated incident.

Raleigh police have charged a man as they continue investigating a shooting Saturday afternoon at Crabtree Valley Mall that they say damaged vehicles but didn't injure anyone. At around 1:35 p.m., police responded to multiple calls of shots being fired in a parking deck outside the mall at 4325 Glenwood Ave. in Raleigh, the police department said in a news release. They found shell casings and vehicles damaged from gunfire. There were no reports of injuries, the release said. On Monday, police said they have charged Jaquez Anthony Brown, 24, with discharging a weapon into occupied property, which is a felony. They also have served him with outstanding warrants for assault on a female and communicating threats out of Durham. A second person, a suspect, left the mall in a car, hit another car, and continued fleeing, police said. The crash didn't cause injuries. Police worked with mall staff to secure the crime scene and collect evidence.

A woman was killed in a hit-and-run crash near a Taco Bell in the Old Fourth Ward on Sunday evening, according to police. Atlanta officers responded to 429 Ponce de Leon Avenue around 7:45 p.m. after getting a call that a pedestrian had been struck by a vehicle. When they arrived, they found the woman, who was pronounced dead at the scene, officials said. Her name was not released. Investigators believe she was struck by a gold Jeep, and the driver left the scene. No other details have been released by police.

A man has been charged with attempted murder after he allegedly gained control of a Tuscaloosa mental health officer's gun, which discharged during a struggle late Monday morning, authorities said. Cedric Leon Tinker, 44, was reported to Tuscaloosa police by his family, who claimed Tinker was "experiencing some type of mental health issue" several times in the last few days, said Capt. John Kennedy of the Tuscaloosa County Violent Crimes Unit. Tuscaloosa police dispatched mental health officers to the 3600 block of Stillman Boulevard around 10:45 a.m. Monday, Kennedy said. Police decided to transport Tinker to a hospital for an evaluation after meeting with his family, social workers, interviewing Tinker and reviewing the incidents over the last week. Tinker refused and became aggressive; he physically resisted being taken into custody by assaulting several officers and making threats against them, Kennedy said. As the officers struggled to restrain Tinker on the ground, the suspect allegedly removed one of the officer's weapons and took control of it. During the struggle, Kennedy said, the gun was discharged once but nobody was hit by gunfire. Multiple officers were eventually able to retrieve the weapon and take Tinker into custody. The Violent Crimes Unit was then called to investigate the incident, which led Tinker to be charged with attempted murder, disarming a law enforcement officer and second-degree assault. Tinker is being held in the Tuscaloosa County jail without bond.

A Wilcox County woman is facing charges — after a shooting incident involving a child — at an elementary school in Pine Hill. The shooting happened Tuesday afternoon at F.S. Ervin Elementary School. Authorities say a 5 year old student who was left in a vehicle unattended got a hold of his mother's gun. And fired a shot into the building. Now — the child's mother — 32 year old Aleah Coates of Pine Hill — is charged with endangering-the-welfare-of-a-child — and reckless-endangerment. "It's prohibited to have weapons on a school campus anyway," said Pine Hill Police Chief Nikisha Gales. "But if you're going to go out there in your vehicle dropping off a kid or picking up a kid, those guns have to be secured. They need to be secure." Coates is free tonight awaiting a court date. The charges against she's facing are both Class A misdemeanors.

[11/15/2024] An Auburn man has been arrested in connection with the death of a 60-year-old and his pet rabbit in a home near Lawrenceville, Gwinnett County police said. On Oct. 29, Robert Terry was found dead in his house on Mount Vernon Drive under what authorities called “suspicious” circumstances. Police had been called to check on Terry after he had not been heard from in several weeks, officials said. His rabbit was also in the home at the time and died without food or water. Terry’s cause of death was not disclosed, but the manner of death was ruled a homicide. Police have not shared the method by which they believe he was killed. During the investigation, police learned that one of his vehicles had been recorded on traffic cameras around the county. Investigators also learned that money was missing from Terry’s financial accounts, and several important documents were missing from the home. Eventually, detectives managed to get security footage of the suspect, later identified as Marquis Green, 27, “withdrawing several thousand dollars from Terry’s bank accounts while driving around in Terry’s vehicle,” police said in a statement. Green was arrested at a Duluth restaurant Thursday. He was taken to the Gwinnett jail, where he faces charges of felony murder, robbery by intimidation, aggravated assault, financial transaction card fraud, concealing the death of another, identity theft, computer forgery, theft by taking and aggravated cruelty to animals.

A woman was killed in a wrong-way crash in Midtown Atlanta early Tuesday morning, and the driver is facing charges. Atlanta police were called to the intersection of 12th Street and West Peachtree Street around 3:30 a.m. to find a car had crashed into a cement construction barrier, officials said. Three people were inside the vehicle. All of them were taken to a hospital, but one did not survive. The 24-year-old’s name was not released. Investigators determined the driver, a 21-year-old woman, had been going the wrong way at the time of the collision. Police have not publicly identified the driver or disclosed what charges she faces, only that she “was charged accordingly and transported to the Fulton County jail.”

Mobile police are investigating after a male suspect stole a truck and used it to ram into an ATM in an unsuccessful effort to pry open the machine early Tuesday morning. Officers were called to the All In Credit Union at 750 Downtowner Blvd. around 3:59 a.m. Tuesday when they discovered an ATM in the road and a wrecked pickup truck nearby, police said. Officers later learned the suspect, who fled before police arrived, tried unsuccessfully to open a second machine. Police determined the truck was reported stolen from a business in the 900 block of the I-65 West Service Road and used the vehicle to ram into the ATM found in the road. The investigation was ongoing as of late Tuesday morning.

Two men found slain in a burning car in northeast Birmingham have now been officially identified, nearly a month after the horrific discovery. The Jefferson County Coroner's Office on Tuesday identified the victims as Antonio Kasey James, 20, of Pinson, and Ja' Calvin Demond Ball, 20, of Bessemer. The discovery was made shortly before 8 a.m. Tuesday, Oct. 29, in the 1600 block of 90th Place North. That is in the Airport Highlands neighborhood of the Airport Hills community. Birmingham firefighters were called to the wooded area on a report of smoke. They arrived to find the sedan engulfed. Once they extinguished the blaze, they found two bodies inside. Both were burned beyond recognition. James was identified through DNA and dental record comparisons. Ball was identified through DNA. Authorities have not yet said how they were killed, but said they are victims of homicides. No arrests have been made.

A person was found stabbed to death Tuesday afternoon in the parking lot of a north Alabama casual steak restaurant, authorities said. Boaz Police responded to the parking lot of the Western Sizzlin around 2:20 p.m. Tuesday on a report of a person stabbed. Police found the victim dead in the lot and detained the suspect after a brief foot pursuit. The department said it could not name the suspect or victim or release further details on the ongoing case. The Marshall County Coroner's Office said it responded to the scene of the homicide Tuesday afternoon but deferred additional comment to Boaz police.

Two men were shot in southwest Atlanta on Tuesday night, according to police. At around 9:30 p.m., officers were called to 2343 Campbellton Road SW, where they found a 45-year-old man who had been shot in the chest and shoulder. Not long after, they were called across the street to Appletree Apartments, where they found a 24-year-old man shot in his hand and hip. Both of the victims were conscious and breathing and were taken to the hospital, according to police. Officers believe the incidents are related.

A man is dead in Saraland after being shot by police Wednesday during a stand off. According to a Mobile County Sheriff's Office spokesperson, officers were attempting to execute a warrant against a man for Internet Crimes Against Children. However, as police tried to perform a traffic stop they noticed he had a gun. Sheriff Paul Burch said the individual attempted to flee and as officers pursued him he fired shots at them. A PIT maneuver, a police tactic used to stop fleeing vehicles, was used but he proceeded to lead officers back to his home where he barricaded himself inside. Burch said officers attempted to negotiate with the individual but the suspect fired on officers. This led to dozens of responding officers firing approximately 100 shots. The man was hit several times and would succumb to his injuries. Dianne Wright was the neighbor of the man who died and was at home when the stand off occurred. She told Fox10 News how chaotic the situation was listening to all of the bullets ring out. "I think he must have stuck his barrel of his gun out the door, and all the officers, about 50 officers, let loose bullets, and they were just flying everywhere. It was very scary," Wright said. Wright said the man had a wife and two children recalled him being a "family man." She said she had no idea he was in trouble with the police. The man's truck was towed away as police investigated the scene. The incident remains under investigation.

A man was shot and killed by Conyers police on Wednesday morning, the police department said. Officers were called to a Chevron gas station at 1135 Sigman Road, where a 911 caller said a man was “causing a disturbance” and refusing to leave. The man was later identified as Jesse Roach, 40, according to the Georgia Bureau of Investigation (GBI). “As officers were attempting to detain and identify Roach, Roach pushed past them and exited the store,” the GBI said in a statement. “One of the officers attempted to tase Roach, but Roach was able to remove the taser probes. Once he removed the probes, Roach pulled a gun from his pocket and shot at the Conyers PD officers. Officers returned fire, hitting and wounding Roach.” Police also said the suspect got into his truck and tried to leave, smashing into the store and another car, and officers fired more shots at him. Roach was taken to Piedmont Rockdale where he later died, the GBI said. The GBI was requested to investigate as is protocol with shootings involving officers, Conyers police said. Officers added that there is currently no threat to the public. “There are several witnesses on the scene who are being interviewed by the GBI,” Conyers police Lt. Quantavis Garcia said. “Of course, whenever there are some sort of shooting or critical incident like this, there is always going to be someone shaken.” Anthony Jackson, a man who lives across the street, said he heard the gunshots and ducked for cover in fear for his life. “We normally don’t have anything like that happen around here. This is very suburban, very quiet. It’s just shocking that something like that happened so close to my home,” he said. The GBI said once it is finished with its investigation, the case file will be turned over to the Rockdale County District Attorney’s Office to Conyers police shot and killed a man Wednesday morning while responding to a disturbance at a gas station, officials said. Officers got a call around 6:45 a.m. about the man, whose name was not released, refusing to leave a Chevron at 1135 Sigman Road, spokesperson Lt. Quantavis Garcia told reporters at the scene. When police arrived, the man was “attempting to exit the location and going against officers’ commands,” he said. The suspect then got into a black truck and “attempted to leave the scene at one point in the vehicle,” Garcia said. The truck crashed into another parked car and the front of the gas station’s convenience store, causing some structural damage to the front glass. At some point, shots were fired by officers, striking the suspect, Garcia said. The man was taken to a hospital but died shortly after. According to Garcia, the man had a gun, but it was not clear if it had been pointed at anyone. The GBI has been asked to investigate the incident, but the agency has not released information. Conyers police will conduct an internal affairs investigation into the use of force, which is department protocol following an officer’s discharge of a firearm. The Georgia State Patrol will handle the investigation into the crash.

A Raleigh man is charged in connection to the sexual assault of a young girl. Around 10 a.m. on Wednesday, officers with the Raleigh Police Department responded to a reported sexual assault in the 900 block of Ileagnes Road near Peach Road Park. Officers found a girl with injuries consistent with an assault. She was transferred to the hospital with non-life-threatening injuries. Mmende Msombo, 24, of Raleigh, was charged with second-degree rape, second-degree forcible sex offense, first-degree kidnapping and sexual battery. Earlier on Wednesday, police said officers searched the area for the suspect and spoke with several witnesses. Before Msombo's arrest, police released a photo of the suspect. While police did not release the suspect's name, a Raleigh woman said she saw the man on a bench at the park days earlier. "I saw him on Saturday sleeping on a park bench," Chareese Green said. Green said she believes in hyper vigilance, especially with three children at home. "There was a bunch of kids running around and I had never seen him before," she said. "It was the first time I've seen him." The news of the assault even kept runners at the park on alert while authorities searched for him. "Hearing that this is something that can happen in the morning, it's like it can happen at any time," said Casey Embler, a Raleigh resident.

One man was killed and a second man was injured in a double shooting Wednesday night in southwest Birmingham, police said. Just after 6 p.m. Wednesday, West Precinct officers received a call of a person shot in the 1700 block of Pearson Avenue SW, said Officer Truman Fitzgerald. Officers arrived on the scene to find an adult male suffering from non-life-threatening gunshot wound, Fitzgerald said, Police then found a second man lying on the sidewalk with a life-threatening injury. Community members were already providing aid to one of the victims when “our officers stepped in and took over life-saving duties,” Fitzgerald said. Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service personnel arrived on the scene and took both victims to UAB Hospital, where the man with life-threatening injuries died of his wounds. The preliminary investigation revealed that everyone involved in the shooting knew each other, according to Fitzgerald. “We believe that this all stemmed from an argument between the deceased victim and a third adult male,” he said. “He was not shot in this instance. ... We believe that all parties involved knew one another, so this is an incident where suspect and victim or victims knew one another.”

A child was hospitalized after being struck by gunfire early Thursday in what Atlanta police describe as a possible drive-by shooting in the southeast part of the city. Authorities responded around midnight to reports of shots fired in Atlanta’s Lakewood neighborhood, on Lakewood Trail, where they discovered the child hurt. Although the child’s age has not been officially confirmed, a witness on the scene reported the child is 12 years old. The child was reportedly hit by at least one bullet and possibly grazed by another. Police did say the child was alert and conscious when transported to the hospital for treatment. Officers continue to investigate the circumstances of the incident and are working to obtain surveillance footage from nearby residences. No suspects or motive have been identified at this time.

A 12-year-old was shot early Halloween morning as they slept in their bed after someone fired into their home from the street in southeast Atlanta, authorities said. Officers were called to a home on Lakewood Trail around 12:15 a.m., Atlanta police said. They found the child inside suffering from a gunshot wound to the shoulder and a graze wound to the arm, police said. The child, who was not publicly identified, was taken to the hospital, but police did not provide an update on their condition. Police said investigators found several shell casings in the street. They were collected and submitted for ballistic testing. There was no recent history of 911 activity at the address where the shooting happened, according to police. The neighborhood of single-family homes is near the historic South-View Cemetery and just around the corner from Dobbs Elementary School, part of the Atlanta Public Schools system. Police said the investigation is “highly active” but have not released further information.

The Mobile Police Department is currently investigating a potential homicide after a woman was found dead early Thursday morning. MPD released a statement saying they received a call from an individual who discovered a body. After arriving at Barnes Avenue at about 4:32 a.m., responding officers found a dead woman’s body. The incident is currently under investigation and the department is not releasing any more information at this time.

Police are seeking the public’s help in identifying an armed robbery suspect at a gas station Thursday morning. According to police reports, officers responded to the Speedy Serve Gas Station at 201 Whitesville Street at 6:40 a.m. Police said the clerk told them an unknown Black man wearing a ski mask jumped over the counter and waived a small handgun. The suspect immediately went toward the cash box and grabbed an undisclosed amount of money. The suspect left in a gray Kia Soul, according to the clerk.

A boy was fatally shot Thursday night in Mobile, police said. Officers responded to the 4200 block of Arcturus Lane just before 7 p.m. Thursday on a report of a shooting, said police spokesman Blake Brown. At the scene, officers found the victim -- only identified as a juvenile male -- dead from a gunshot wound. Police have not identified any suspects as of Thursday night. Further information was unavailable.

A shooting in north Birmingham left one person seriously injured. The shots rang out at 7:23 p.m. Thursday in the front yard of a home in the 3400 block of 31st Avenue North. Additional details surrounding the gunfire were not immediately available. Police said the victim, an adult male, was taken to the hospital with life-threatening injuries. No arrests have been made.

Police are investigating after two young people were assaulted Thursday night on Valley Edge Drive in north Raleigh. The incident happened just after 8 p.m. Police say one person was stabbed and another one hurt. As police were headed to the scene, a dispatcher told them the second victim was hit in the head with a baseball bat. "The suspect is going to be a female wearing a ski mask who attacked both of the boys," the dispatcher said on audio captured by Broadcastify. Both victims were under 18. Police have two suspects in the attack, both also 18, so none of the names of those involved are being made public. A police spokesman said that ages of the young people involved might be released later in the day Friday.

A Halloween night stabbing in southern Alabama left one man dead and another sought for murder. Ozark police were dispatched at 10:15 p.m. Thursday to a report of a stabbing in the 100 block of Frank Marshall Road. Officers arrived to find 43-year-old Eric Lamont Eutsey lying in the road. He had been stabbed multiple times, police said. Eutsey was rushed to Dale Medical Center where he was pronounced dead. Police and Dale County Sheriff's Office investigators worked throughout the night to process the crime scene and interview witnesses. The probe included obtaining search warrants for a nearby home and vehicle. Witness statements and evidence led them to charge 58-year-old Marcus Lee Slater with murder. Investigators have not yet determined a motive. Police in a Friday news release said witnesses saw Slater running toward Faust Avenue after the attack. In response, law enforcement officers deployed tracking dogs and a helicopter to search for the suspect, but to no avail. "We are committed to bringing justice to the victim and his family, and we will continue to pursue all leads in this investigation," police said in the news release. "We ask the community to remain vigilant and assist us in locating Mr. Slater."

Police are investigating a bank robbery Friday in Raleigh. According to the Raleigh Police Department, the robbery happened around 5 p.m. at a Truist Bank branch inside the Avent Ferry Shopping Center. Police said a man demanded money by passing a note to the teller and ran from the bank with an undisclosed amount of money. A weapon was implied but not seen by bank employees. Many who visited the shopping center didn't know what was going on when they saw crime scene tape around the bank. "We were confused," said Jackson Lure, who lives in Raleigh. "We considered it may be a robbery, but didn't know what it actually was." Sky 5 was over the scene and captured several police officers and a K-9 officer searching behind the shopping center and in the woods. Shoppers said they were concerned that officers didn't find the suspect. "That's something to be wary of," said Sammy Pedro, another Raleigh resident. "I go here so much, to see this happen is kind of frightening." Several police cars are outside the bank and searched around the bank with a K-9 unit. Police later released photos of the man they believe is the suspect.

One man is in jail and another is in a hospital following a recent shootout in Columbia, according to the Richland County Sheriff's Department. Marshaun Robinson, 40, was charged with attempted murder, possession of a weapon during a violent crime, and a felon in possession of weapon. The charges are connected to a Friday night shooting. At about 11 p.m., deputies responded to reports of a shooting in the 1200 block of Metze Road. That's in the part of Columbia between Broad River Road and Interstate 26. Deputies were told about a possible shooter, later identified as Robinson. Robinson was driving away in a vehicle when he was detained and questioned. While deputies questioned Robinson, they learned about a possible victim inside a building, who was found and taken to a local hospital, according to the release. Deputies determined that Robinson and the victim were associates on Metze Road who were involved in a brief conversation when Robinson fired multiple shots and hit the victim, the sheriff's department said. The victim then returned fire in self-defense. Robinson also was taken to a local hospital for injuries he suffered, but was medically cleared and then booked into the Alvin S. Glenn Detention Center. Bond was set at $290,000 on the combined charges and Robinson remains behind bars, jail records show.

An off-duty Fulton County law enforcement officer was injured Friday evening while working at a northwest Atlanta liquor store, officials said. Atlanta police were called to the HN Liquor Store in the 700 block of Joseph E. Boone Boulevard, just east of Joseph E. Lowery Boulevard, around 11:15 p.m. about an injured person. At the scene, authorities said they located a 54-year-old man who had sustained visible injuries. The victim, identified as a deputy with the Fulton County Sheriff's Office, was taken to a hospital and was said to be stable after the incident. He was working an extra job at the liquor store. According to police, the victim and suspect got into a dispute that turned physical. Officials did not say what they were fighting about. The deputy was not publicly identified, and no information was provided on the suspect.

[11/10/2024] Three people were rescued after a man started shooting into their home, the Vance County Sheriff's Office said. On Nov. 2, deputies with the Vance County Sheriff's Office were responding to a call on Hunting Trail Lane when they were advised of a person shooting into a home with juveniles inside on Flat Rock Lane. Responding deputies were shot at; additional deputies and officers with the Henderson Police Department arrived and surrounded the home. Shamon Keshawn Yancey, 38, surrendered and was arrested. He has been charged with the following crimes: Three counts of felony assault on law enforcement officer with a deadly weapon; Three counts of felony second-degree kidnapping; Felony possession of a firearm by felon; Felony larceny of a firearm; Felony assault inflicting serious bodily injury. Two juveniles and an adult were rescued. Authorities said the adult was injured during the shooting. Yancey is being held at the Vance County Detention Center without bond.

One person is dead following a fight and shooting at the Walmart in Monkey Junction on Saturday, Nov. 2. A Walmart employee, Mark Thomas Paz, was pronounced dead at the scene shortly before 6 p.m. According to the New Hanover County Sheriff's Office, several employees attempted to stop the suspect, 35-year-old Dean Michael Newman, from shoplifting when a fight broke out. Newman then allegedly pulled out a gun and fired one shot, hitting Paz. Newman allegedly ran from the store and was later arrested in the parking lot. District Attorney Rebecca Zimmer Donaldson confirmed Sunday that Newman has been charged with first-degree murder and possession of a firearm by a felon. On Monday morning, Newman made his first appearance in court, where he was appointed a public defender. He will be held under no bond on the charge of first-degree murder. According to the N.C. Department of Adult Corrections records, Newman has convictions dating back to 2008. In 2010, Newman was charged for allegedly assaulting a police officer. His other convictions include breaking and entering, larceny, and escaping from prison. Newman is also listed as a habitual felon, meaning he has been convicted of three or more felonies.

A suspect has been taken into custody after one person was killed during a triple shooting in Villa Rica on Saturday morning, police said. According to Villa Rica Police, officers responded to an address off Conners Road in reference to a domestic dispute with shots fired shortly after 6 a.m. When they arrived, they found three adults with gunshot wounds. Two were sent to the hospital, but the third died on the scene, police said. The suspect left the area before officers arrived. Investigators responded to the scene and were able to identify the suspect as 35-year-old Karlton Sirmons of Norcross, police said. Sirmons was taken into custody shortly after in Cobb County and has been charged with murder, home invasion and other charges pertaining to the incident. Police said there is no danger to the public and that the victim will not be identified at this time pending notification of next of kin. The agency said that further information would be released at a later date.

A man was hospitalized after being shot during an attempted car break-in Saturday, according to DeKalb County police. Police responded to Demetris Restaurant on Covington Highway around 6:30 a.m. Officers immediately discovered a 54-year-old man, shot in the torso. That man told police he was sitting inside the diner when he spotted three men trying to break into his wife's Orange Corvette in the parking lot. The man and 'several other employees' confronted the would-be burglars, which led to a gunfight, according to police. The gunfight resulted in the 54-year-old being shot. His injuries were not life-threatening, according to police. Neighbors believe the man to be the owner's husband. Brooke Pope lives in nearby neighborhood, woken up by the sound of gunfire. "We heard bang, bang and then we saw a car speed off," she said. "We went back to sleep and when we woke up, there were police cars everywhere around here." Patrick Dent frequently eats at the Mom & Pop Shop. He was shocked to hear that this happened. "That's scary, it's crazy," he said. "I just couldn't believe it. That's why I had to come over and look at the glass." Dent described the damage to restaurant's windows, shattered by gunshots. "From what I can see within those glass windows, it's about five or six bullet holes over there," he said. Anyone with information should contact the DeKalb County Police Department.

[11/14/2024] Three people were hurt in a recent shooting that happened near Williams–Brice Stadium following a recent Gamecocks’ win, and Thursday three men were arrested, according to the Richland County Sheriff’s Department. Wendell Snow, 38, Terrell Singletary, 20, and Dominique Rivers, 19, were charged with various crimes, the sheriff’s department said in a news release. One of the men is accused of being the gunman who opened fire in the Nov. 2 shooting that happened in the 1400 block of Bluff Road. At about 11 p.m. Nov. 2, deputies responded to a shooting that happened just after the Gamecocks’ 44–20 win over the Texas A&M Aggies, and found a man who had been shot in the upper body. Days later, investigators learned that two additional victims had been shot, and one of them is a juvenile. During their investigation, deputies found out that the shooting followed a fight between two groups. As the fight escalated one person, later identified as Snow, pulled out a gun fired multiple shots. Only one of the three victims was involved in the altercation; the other two were passersby who were hit by gunfire as they were walking home following the football game. Early Thursday morning, deputies with the Fugitive Task Force and Special Response Team served arrest warrants at Snow’s home, where Singletary and Rivers were also found. After taking Snow into custody, deputies searched the home and discovered multiple firearms — one of which was reported stolen out of Florence — and multiple drugs. The stolen gun and drugs led to the arrests of Singletary and Rivers. There is no information that they were involved in the Nov. 2 shooting.

An investigation is underway after a deadly shooting at an Alabaster gas station. Officers responded to the Shell station at 11:45 p.m. Saturday on a report of an altercation in progress at the Shell just off Interstate 65. One person was killed, according to Shelby County coroner Lina Evans. Police aren’t releasing any additional details, except to say it was a contained incident with no threat to the general public.

Police said they don't believe there is a threat to the community. The investigation is ongoing.

A woman is in jail Sunday after authorities said she shot a man in Clayton. According to the Wake County Sheriff's Office, deputies responded to a report of a man walking into a hospital with a gunshot wound. The man told deputies that he was shot in the 200 block of Thomas Drive near Clayton. Deputies arrested and charge 23-year-old Brianna Ambles with assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill or inflict serious injury. According to the sheriff's office, both the man and Ambles knew each other. Investigators said their case is ongoing.

The Johnston County Sheriff's Office is investigating after one person was shot and killed at a convenience store in Zebulon. The incident happened Sunday evening at the Shop-N-Go convenience store at 13597 NC 39. A store clerk told ABC11 the incident started when a regular customer ran into the store asking for help. The clerk said he got a gun they keep in the store for protection and he went outside and found a man trying to break into cars. The clerk told ABC11 the man had a can of pepper spray and forced his way into the store, where there was a confrontation and the man was shot. Authorities have not confirmed that account or released any other details. In 2016, a 29-year-old clerk at Shop-N-Go 39 was killed and a second employee was also shot during an armed robbery. Police arrested two men in connection with the shooting in the months after it took place.

Two men have been arrested after a shooting in Rock Hill Sunday during a drug deal left a third man wounded, police said. The wounded man had a gun when he tried to rob two others who were going to sell him marijuana in the parking lot of a business on Saluda Street after midnight, according to a statement from the Rock Hill Police Department. One of the two men then shot him, police said. The 21-year-old wounded man remains in critical condition at a hospital, Rock Hill police Lt. Michael Chavis said Monday. He has not been identified. Demetris Maurice Franklin, 19, the alleged shooter, is charged with assault and battery of a high and aggravated nature, possession of marijuana with intent to distribute, and possession of a weapon during a violent crime, according to police and jail records. Christopher King Boyd, 21, faces charges of assault and battery of a high and aggravated nature, and possession of marijuana with intent to distribute. Franklin and Boyd remain in the York County jail after they were arrested.

A Cobb County man was arrested early Sunday after a double shooting left one dead, according to police. Courtney Rashun Woullard of Austell was charged with murder, two counts of aggravated assault and possession of a firearm during the commission of a felony, his arrest warrant states. Woullard is accused of shooting two people around 12:30 a.m. Sunday at a home on Linworth Boulevard near Austell, according to police. “Said accused, while armed with a .45-caliber pistol, shot two people, which resulted in one person’s death,” the arrest warrant states. Jeffrey Moore, who was shot in the abdomen, died from his injuries, according to police. The other person, who was not identified in the arrest warrant, was shot in the torso and groin. No information was released on a possible motive in the shooting. Woullard was taken into custody at the shooting scene and later charged. He was booked into the Cobb jail, where he was being held without bond Monday.

A man was shot at Shaw University overnight after the university's homecoming football game. Sunday around 12:40 a.m., Raleigh police said a man was shot in the 700 block of Person Street. He was taken to the hospital and is in critical condition, according to police. The shooting happened on Shaw University's campus, and police said the victim was attending a homecoming event at the time of the shooting. "I did see police show up and I knew something was up," said Jevon Draft, a student at Shaw University. "I was honestly in shock, because I was asleep at the the time, and I remember I just woke up to the first gun sound." Police said there is no suspect at this time. WRAL News is working to learn whether the victim is a student.

[11/14/2024] A teenager was charged with murder Wednesday in the recent stabbing of a 78-year-old man in northeast Atlanta, police said. Claude Jayy, 19, was booked into the Fulton County Jail on Nov. 3, the day of the stabbing, and his charges were upgraded after the victim died Tuesday, authorities confirmed. Officials said the incident occurred at a Buckhead home in the 2100 block of Fairhaven Circle, just off Peachtree Road and near E. Rivers Elementary School. It happened shortly before 8 a.m., when officials said they found the victim with multiple stab wounds. The incident was "domestic in nature," police said, but did not clarify Jayy's connection to the victim, who has not been publicly identified. He was taken to a hospital and was initially said to be stable. Police said they were notified later that he had died from his injuries. In addition to murder, Jayy is facing charges of aggravated assault, abuse of a disabled elderly person, aggravated battery and possession of a weapon during the commission of a felony.

A northeast Georgia man is accused of crashing his SUV into a business and then fighting with an officer, who then shot him, the GBI said Monday. A 911 caller reported that someone drove into a business on Irvin Street in Cornelia at 5:50 p.m. Sunday, according to investigators. The Cornelia police and fire department sent responders to the scene. Christian Drake Shurtleff, 33, of Mt. Airy, crashed with his 7-year-old daughter in the car, investigators said. The child was removed from the SUV without injury. "Shurtleff was immediately uncooperative and combative," the GBI said. "He began to fight with the officer, and during the fight, the officer shot Shurtleff. Shurtleff was taken to the hospital, where he was treated for his injuries." The GBI charged Shurtleff with felony obstruction. The Georgia State Patrol is investigating the crash. The incident was the 77th officer-involved shooting the GBI has been asked to investigate this year. As of the same time last year, there had been 87 such cases. The GBI will conduct an independent investigation and will give the case file to the Mountain Judicial Circuit district attorney for review when it is completed.

A 33-year-old motorcyclist was killed in a weekend hit-and-run crash in Montgomery. Police on Monday identified the victim as Jerome Stone. He lived in Montgomery. Officers and fire medics were dispatched at 5:55 p.m. Sunday to a two-vehicle crash in the 1700 block of Yarbrough Street. Stone was pronounced dead on the scene. Police Lt. David Wise said the driver of the other vehicle fled the scene. No additional information was released. The investigation is ongoing.

Shots fired outside Topgolf in north Birmingham led to a brief lockdown of the facility Sunday. Before 6 p.m., a male fired shots at a group of males in the parking lot in the 100 block of 24th Street North. Officer Truman Fitzgerald said no one was injured, but an occupied vehicle was shot into. Patrons were ushered into Topgolf until the all-clear was given. The investigation is ongoing.

University of North Carolina wrestler Jace Palmer turned himself in to Chapel Hill police late Wednesday afternoon to face assault charges after punching another student, records show. Robbi Pickeral Evans, UNC senior associate athletic director, said in an email statement that Palmer has been suspended from the wrestling team. “We are aware of the situation, we are cooperating with all relevant authorities and Jace Palmer has been suspended from the wrestling team,” she said. “We expect all of our student-athletes to abide by all laws and serve as positive members of our campus community.” Palmer, 23, is accused of assaulting and seriously injuring a fellow undergraduate student, Kevin Andrew O’ Brien, on Monday. He is charged with felony assault causing serious bodily injury. Palmer allegedly punched O’ Brien during the incident, causing significant damage to two of O’ Brien’s teeth, according to an arrest warrant and incident report obtained by The News & Observer. The alleged assault occurred Monday near the intersection of Purefoy Road and Howell Street in Chapel Hill. Palmer, a Chapel Hill resident, was released on Wednesday after posting a $5,000 secured bond. He is scheduled to appear in court on Nov. 18 at the Orange County Courthouse in Hillsborough. Carrie O’ Brien, Kevin Andrew O’ Brien’s mother who is serving as his attorney, alleges the university had knowledge of Palmer’s “propensity for violence” before the assault but allowed him to continue both as a student and athlete. Evans did not address that specific claim in the provided statement. If convicted, Palmer faces potential prison time for the felony assault charge. Under UNC’s student conduct code, that could also affect his standing within the university. Palmer is

A Wilson man faces multiple charges, including assaulting and intimidating a woman, at a sporting goods store. Arrest records show Joshua Smith, 37, of Wilson, was charged with assault by pointing a gun, assault on a female, second-degree trespassing and ethnic intimidation. Smith was also charged with a hate crime. The crimes occurred Monday inside Dunham's Sports at 2800 Raleigh Road Parkway West, according to a warrant. Smith was charged with trespassing because he would not leave the store when he was asked to do so by the manager. The documents allege Smith threatened to assault a woman because of her race and pointed a gun at her. According to the warrant, Smith also hit the woman in the back. WRAL News visited the store Wednesday. Employees said the encounter they witnessed on Monday was scary, adding they were not sure why Smith was so angry. Employees said Smith had a child with him at the time and that he went out to his truck before coming back inside and shoving the woman. Dunham's Sports now has a security guard stationed at the front door. Previously, in September 2023, Smith was arrested for communicating threats and damaging property after yelling at a woman in the parking lot of Walmart on Forest Hills Road. Records show he hit her truck and broke her mirror and called her racial slurs.

A woman is in jail after she allegedly bit off part of a man's nose. On Nov. 4, Bladen County deputies found a man with severe injuries to the head and face; he was taken to Cape Fear Valley in Fayetteville to be treated and was released days later. Sandra Davis, 53, of Fayetteville was taken to Bladen County Hospital and was reported to be released with no injuries. Investigators determined that Sandra Davis was the aggressor and had partially bitten off the man's nose as well as stabbed him multiple times with a screwdriver.

A shooting investigation on Monday slowed traffic along Interstate 40 East near Cary. Around 6:30 a.m., officers with the Raleigh Police Department responded to a shooting in the eastbound lanes of I-40 near Exit 290 for Chapel Hill Road, close to Cary. Police investigations centered around a white SUV. Part of I-40 road was blocked until 8:30 a.m., when the SUV was moved out of the lanes. Delays were present. A woman was found with a non-life-threatening single gunshot wound to the leg, police said. She was transported to a hospital for treatment. Police said no one was arrested, and the shooting does not appear to be a road rage incident. An investigation is ongoing. Broadcastify radio traffic provided more information about the shooting: "This is going to be a shooting. We've got gunshot wounds going through both legs." "We're doing patient care right now. She's got GSW to the left thigh femur exit. No exit wound on the right leg."

A person was shot Monday morning while Rocky Mount police officers searched a home. At 8:15 a.m., the Rocky Mount Police Department Special Operations Division's Narcotics Unit, in collaboration with the Violent Crime Unit, searched a home in the 1700 block of Windsor Street. Police said a citizen was shot during the operation and search. WRAL News is working to learn whether this citizen was a suspect or bystander. The victim's injuries appear to be non-life-threatening, according to police. That person has been taken to the hospital for treatment. Per standard protocol, the North Carolina State Bureau of Investigation (SBI) has been notified to take the lead on this investigation. No officers were injured, the police department said.

A young man died in a hail of gunfire midday Monday in a north Birmingham neighborhood. The victim is the city's 135th homicide this year, which is the same number of people killed in Birmingham in all of 2023. The shots rang out at 12:12 p.m. in the 1600 block of Fifth Street North. That location is in the Enon Ridge neighborhood. Sgt. LaQuitta Wade said more than 20 shots were fired. She said it was not immediately clear if the victim or anyone else returned fired. Wade said an argument preceded the deadly shots. Police radio communication indicated a somewhat chaotic scene, with at least woman taking cover under a vehicle in fear of the gunfire. She called 911 multiple times before police convinced her the immediately threat of danger was over. More than a dozen distraught family and friends flocked to the scene, visibly emotional. The victim's father ran through the police perimeter trying to get to his son, but police were able to get to him and stop him from going any further. A man at the scene identified himself to AL.com as the victim's grandfather, and said the victim was 22 years old. Wade said no arrests have been made.

A man threatening suicide was shot by Lee County sheriff's deputies after authorities say he pointed his gun at them. Wesley Floyd Poole's gun turned out to be a pellet gun that resembled a real firearm, authorities said Tuesday. The 52-year-old Phenix City man is recovering. Lee County deputies received a 911 call at 9:10 p.m. Monday from a man – now identified as Poole – stating he was going to kill himself, said sheriff's Captain Jimmy Taylor. When communications officers tried to talk to him, he would not give them any information and hung up the phone. Deputies arrived at his location in the 100 block of Lee Road 482 and met with a concerned neighbor who told them Poole was walking around his home with a gun. At 9:24 p.m., deputies saw Poole outside of the residence with a gun to his head threatening to kill himself. Lee County negotiators were notified and responded to the scene. After about 1 ½ hours of negotiations, Taylor said, Poole pointed the gun at deputies. Deputies fired at him, striking him in the shoulder. He was taken to Piedmont Hospital in Columbus where he is listed in stable condition. Alabama Law Enforcement Agency investigators were summoned to lead the probe, which is standard when law enforcement shoots someone.

A teenager was killed Tuesday afternoon in a double shooting near a gas station and the Atlanta University Center, police said. Officers were called to the 300 block of Joseph E. Lowery Boulevard near the intersection with Sells Avenue around 4:20 p.m. The area is near a gas station and Morehouse College's B.T. Harvey Stadium. Atlanta police confirmed they located two teens, ages 18 and 14, shot at the location. The 18-year-old, identified by authorities as Raquavious Ferguson, was taken to a hospital in critical condition and later died. The 14-year-old boy was said to be alert when taken to a hospital. No information was provided about a suspect or what led to the gunfire. Ferguson was a graduate of Booker T. Washington High School, according to a GoFundMe campaign created to help with funeral costs. "Raquavious had big dreams for his future and was about to begin a new job to support his family," the GoFundMe states.

An Athens man was arrested after a woman was found dead in an apartment on Tuesday, according to the Athens-Clarke County Police Department. Police say they received word at 4:20 p.m. that there was a body in an apartment in the 100 block of Royale Road. Officers found a woman with a gunshot wound in the unit. Police say they are withholding the victim's identity while they notify her family. After investigating, police say they found and arrested Kendall Boone, 27, in the 300 block of Jennings Mill Parkway. Boone is charged with malice murder, felony murder, aggravated assault, and possession of a firearm and knife during the commission of a crime, according to police.

A man died and a woman is hospitalized after both were shot Wednesday afternoon near an elementary school in Rock Hill, police said. No arrests have been made in the shooting on Amelia Drive in a residential neighborhood west of Cherry Road. The shooting happened around 12:45 p.m. near Richmond Drive Elementary School but there was no connection with the school, Rock Hill Police Department Lt. Michael Chavis said Wednesday afternoon. The school was put on a “secure” status where exterior doors were locked, said Lindsay Machak, spokesperson for the Rock Hill school district. The secure status with extra security on campus remained until after dismissal, she said. The man died at the scene of the shooting after officers found him in a vehicle, the police department said in a statement. The man had been shot several times. Officers found the woman who had been shot in the head and hand in a driveway, police said. She was taken to a hospital but her condition is unknown. Both victims are adults, Chavis said. The ages and identities of the two people shot have not been released. No other details have been released as the investigation continues.

A South Carolina woman was arrested on multiple charges Wednesday after a man who was her neighbor was shot and killed, according to the Richland County Sheriff's Department. Charmika Wright, 46, was charged with murder and possession of a weapon during a violent crime, the sheriff's department said in a news release. James R. Outland, a 22-year-old Irmo resident, was identified as shooting victim, Richland County Coroner Naida Rutherford said Thursday. At about 3 p.m., deputies responded to a report of a shooting in the cul-de-sac of Hedgefield Court. That's in Irmo, near Broad River Road and not far from its junction with Lake Murray Boulevard. Prior to arriving, deputies were told the suspected shooter, Wright, was still there. When the first deputy got to the neighborhood, he located and detained Wright. The deputy also found a man nearby, later identified as Outland, who had been shot in the upper body. Deputies provided care before EMS took the victim to a local hospital where Outland died shortly thereafter from the injury he suffered in the shooting. The sheriff's department said the shooting "was the result of a neighbor dispute." Wright was booked at the Alvin S. Glenn Detention Center, jail records show. No bond has been set and Wright remains behind bars.

[11/12/2024] A DeKalb County woman who was arrested on child cruelty charges after her 1-year-old was found unresponsive in the bathtub last week has now been charged with murder following the girl's death, Channel 2 Action News reported. Ronica Jones, 27, was taken into custody Nov. 7 on one count of second-degree child cruelty, according to a DeKalb arrest warrant obtained by The Atlanta Journal-Constitution. The warrant said Jones had two children, ages 1 and 3, in the tub together when she left them temporarily unsupervised. When Jones returned, she found the 1-year-old under the water, the warrant said. The girl was taken to a Children's Healthcare of Atlanta location, where her condition was considered critical, the warrant said. She died Monday night after four days in the hospital, Channel 2 reported. According to the news station, Jones' charges have been upgraded to second-degree murder. Under Georgia law, a second-degree murder charge applies to cases in which one person's negligence leads to the death of another. Jones' family told Channel 2 she plans to fight the charges. Her father, Ronald Jones, gave the news station a version of events that conflicted with the affidavit in the original arrest warrant. "She explained that she was bathing her and that she turned to get the towel, and when she turned back around she slipped and fell in the tub," Ronald Jones said. "(She) called the ambulance to pick the baby up. That's when they arrested her." The DeKalb District Attorney's Office said in a statement that police are responsible for the initial charges against Ronica Jones and that her case will be reviewed before it is presented to a grand jury. Jones was released from the DeKalb jail Saturday night and remains out of police custody.

[11/19/2024] A homicide investigation is underway in Montgomery after a 6-month-old boy died in a Birmingham hospital of injuries he sustained earlier this month, authorities said Tuesday. Montgomery police were notified Nov. 7 about a 6-month-old boy with life-threatening injuries who had been taken to a hospital in Birmingham, said Maj. Saba Coleman. The boy was pronounced dead on Nov. 10, said Coleman. His body was taken to the Alabama Department of Forensic Science for an autopsy. The circumstances of the child's death were not initially known, which prompted a death investigation. New information determined the boy was the victim of a homicide, Coleman said. Further details about how the child was injured or about the case were not released.

Raleigh police are investigating shots fired at a man's car on Trailwood Drive Thursday morning, and it is unclear yet whether the incident is connected to a recent series of rush-hour shootings along Interstate 40. The shots fired Thursday happened just before 9 a.m. in the 1400 block, which sits about half a mile from I-40 and near the Gorman Street exit where one of the earlier shootings occurred. Raleigh Deputy Chief Rico Boyce said Thursday that the department has "no credible information" yet that the Trailwood Drive shooting is connected to any others. "I want to ensure the community that we are doing all we can as the city of Raleigh to keep our citizens safe," he said. On Wednesday, Boyce said the first report of a shooting on I-40 came Monday near the Chapel Hill Road exit when a woman driving suffered a non-life-threatening gunshot wound to her leg. Later that day, officers responded to a second call from a victim reporting a single gunshot to a car driving near the Buck Jones Road exit. Four more such incidents were reported Wednesday along the stretch between Chapel Hill Road and Gorman Street.

[11/11/2024] An elderly couple was murdered at their home last week near Gaston. On Nov. 7 at 10:26 p.m., Northampton County deputies responded to a shooting at a home outside of Gaston. Investigators discovered that a husband and wife, 72-year-old Michael Powell and 70-year-old Carolyn Powell, were found dead in the front yard of their home near the driveway. Both victims were shot in the head at point blank range. Investigators said the suspect had stolen the victims' truck after shooting the couple and fled the scene. On Nov. 8 at 2:20 a.m., law enforcement officers found the stolen truck in a local hotel parking lot in Roanoke Rapids. That same day at 4:25 a.m., law enforcement officers with Northampton County Sheriff's Office, Halifax County Sheriff's Office and Roanoke Rapids Police Department arrested 35-year-old Ryvaries Butcher, of Gaston. Investigators discovered that Butcher was a close neighbor and a relative of the victims. He was charged with two counts of first-degree murder and one count of felony larceny of a motor vehicle. Butcher received no bond on the first-degree murder charges and he received a $35,000 secured bond for the motor vehicle larceny charge. His next court date is scheduled for Nov. 19. The motive behind this homicide shooting is still unclear at this time and is being further investigated. The North Carolina State Bureau of Investigation (SBI) assisted with the crime scene investigation.

[11/14/2024] A mother and her daughter were both arrested after they allegedly kidnapped two children during court-mandated visitation at a Gwinnett County mall, according to the Gwinnett County Police Department. Starlita Moore faces two counts of kidnapping, interstate interference with custody, battery, simple battery and third-degree cruelty to children. Meanwhile, 19-year-old Teisha Schulters faces two counts of kidnapping and interstate interference with custody, according to Gwinnett County police. Last Friday, officers were called to the Sugarloaf Mills mall, where Moore was visiting her two young children at a trampoline park. The woman was caught on camera punching the supervisory Georgia Division of Family and Children Services (DFCS) employee in the face and taking her children to a Crysler 300 in the parking lot with Schulters' help. The DFCS employee called 911, and police told neighboring law enforcement agencies about what had happened. Alabama State Patrol found the car and pulled it over, finding both children unharmed. Moore and Schulters were arrested on the scene, and the children are in DFCS custody, according to police.

A man was found assaulted and unresponsive Friday at a Birmingham apartment building. West Precinct officers responded at 8:50 a.m. to a report of an assault in the 400 block of Tuscaloosa Avenue S.W. Officer Truman Fitzgerald said they found the victim near the entrance to an apartment. Officers were unsure how he had been wounded. Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service rushed him to UAB Hospital with life-threatening injuries. The preliminary investigation suggests the victim was involved in a physical altercation with another man that he knows. That information came from a witness. "We believe he was stabbed," Fitzgerald said. "Officers are at UAB Hospital and will be able to let detectives know how he was injured." No arrests have been announced.

A teenager is dead and a person has been detained after a Friday shooting at an apartment complex in Norcross, authorities said. Officers were called to the Huntington Ridge Apartments at 2400 Windsor Woods Lane after getting reports of a person shot around 4 p.m., Gwinnett County police said. The complex is just off Buford Highway near Best Friend Park. One person was already dead at the scene with at least one gunshot wound. On Tuesday, police identified him as 16-year-old Jose Yahir Batz. According to police, investigators believe two people got into a dispute that escalated to gunfire. Officers detained one person but did not say how he was connected to the incident. Homicide investigators spent Friday afternoon canvassing the complex in search of more information.

The Kinston Police Department has arrested and charged a Kinston father in connection with the death of his 2-year-old daughter in a hit-and-run incident. On Friday at approximately 7:56 p.m., emergency services, including Kinston Police Officers, responded to a call at Carver Courts Apartment Complex regarding a hit-and-run involving two pedestrians. When officers arrived, they found 2-year-old Gynie Wade and a 35-year-old man with serious injuries. Gynie was rushed to UNC Lenoir Hospital, where she later died. The man involved in the incident was injured but survived. According to police, the incident occurred after an argument in the apartment complex parking lot. Gynie's father, 35-year-old Rashaun Wade, fled the scene in a pickup truck, striking both his daughter and the other man. Wade was arrested when he arrived at the hospital to check on Gynie. He has been charged with the following: Second-degree murder; Two counts of felony hit-and-run; Felony serious injury by vehicle; DWI. "We ask the community to be patient and let justice run its course," the Kinston Police Department said.

[11/15/2024] Deputies are searching for three men Friday after they said they robbed a woman they followed home after shopping at a Walmart in Johnston County. According to the Johnston County Sheriff's Office, the robbery happened around 8:06 p.m. on Friday, November 8 at a home in the Four Oaks area. Deputies said a 66-year-old woman was struggling to load her groceries into her car at a Walmart on North Brightleaf Boulevard in Smithfield when a man helped her place them in her car. While carrying her groceries into her home, deputies said two men approached her and one indicated they had a shotgun before they grabbed her purse, and drove away in an unknown vehicle parked in the roadway. Deputies said the woman told them she thought she was being followed but did not see a car when pulling into her driveway. The woman suffered minor injuries in the robbery. Danielle Graham, who was shopping at Walmart on Friday, said the incident has her and other shoppers on high alert. "I'm watching to see who's following me, or any car that's behind me too long," she said. "I won't go straight home." Jesus Trujillo, another shopper at the Walmart, said he plans to go shopping with his mother to prevent a similar situation. "Now I feel unsafe, because I don't want to leave her by herself now. Now this is happening?" he said. "I'm not going to leave her by herself." Then, deputies said the victim's credit cards were used at businesses in Benson, Selma and Smithfield. On Friday, deputies released photos of the three men they are searching for in connection to the robbery.

[11/12/2024] Durham police announced they are investigating a 36-year-old man's death on Brye Street as a homicide, making two fatal shootings on the same street within four days. Police said Tuesday that Jacob Kennedy, found Saturday morning on the 800 block of Brye Street, died from a gunshot wound. Officers found a second man dead from gunfire Tuesday morning near the intersection of Brye and Holloway streets east of downtown. His name has not been released. In addition to the Brye Street shootings, Durham police said they are investigating after a man was killed and another reportedly injured in the area of Lednum and Leon streets sometime late Monday or early Tuesday morning. That shooting followed an incident Sunday night, in which officers found a man with a gunshot wound in the same block of Lednum Street, according to ABC11, The News & Observer's newsgathering partner. That man was taken to a hospital with non-life-threatening injuries, ABC11 reported.

[12/6/2024] Charlotte police on Friday arrested a family member of a woman who died in a Rock Hill assault last month on murder charges. The Charlotte-Mecklenburg Police Department arrested Anthony Lopez, 39, Rock Hill police said. Officials previously found Lisa Rosenzweig, 53, dead Nov. 9 at her Cauthen Street home after a welfare check, the York County Coroner said. Rosenzweig had been hit in the head, according to Lt. Michael Chavis and a statement from the department. Detectives received a murder warrant against Lopez this week, Chavis said. Police did not say where CMPD found Lopez in Charlotte. Rock Hill police said in the statement Lopez and Rosenzweig have a "familial relationship" but declined to give details. Officials have not said how long Rosenzweig had been dead before she was found. Lopez remains at the Mecklenburg County jail, pending extradition to South Carolina to be served the Rock Hill murder warrant.

A man is dead and four others are injured in separate shootings along a southeast Atlanta road early Sunday, authorities said. The two shooting incidents, which happened over the span of six hours, are not related, a police spokesperson confirmed. Just after midnight, Atlanta police responded to 925 Conley Road, where officers found a 28-year-old man suffering from a gunshot wound. The victim, who is expected to survive, told police he was shot near 807 Conley Road, located about a half mile away near the intersection of Jonesboro Road. While at the scene, officers learned three other shooting victims, a 23-year-old man, 44-year-old man and 20-year-old man, were taken to the hospital in a private vehicle. All of the victims are said to be stable, police said. According to investigators, the men were hanging out at 807 Conley Road before one of them got into a fight with a suspect over a gun. The suspect then fired several shots and left the area, police said. The second shooting happened later that morning at a home at 1048 Conley Road, about a half mile away from the earlier scene and a quarter-mile from where the 28-year-old man was found shot. Officers were called at about 6 a.m. and found a 44-year-old man dead from a gunshot wound. The victim has not been publicly identified. "Preliminary investigation suggests the male's injury may have been the result of an accident involving a firearm," police said. Detectives continue to investigate both shootings. No additional information was provided by police.

A 23-year-old man has been charged in the death of a 6-month-old Montgomery boy. Johnnie Taylor Sr. is charged with capital murder, police announced Thursday. Montgomery investigators launched their investigation earlier this month when the infant was hospitalized at Children's of Alabama with undisclosed, but life-threatening, injuries. The child died on November 10. Major Saba Coleman earlier this week said an autopsy by the Alabama Department of Forensic Sciences deemed the boy's death a homicide. Authorities have not released the baby's name nor said how he was killed. They also have not disclosed the relationship between the suspect and the victim. Taylor, jailed Thursday, is being held without bond in the Montgomery County Detention Facility.

One person was killed on the campus of Tuskegee University after dozens of shots were fired early Sunday morning following the historically Black university's 100th homecoming. The person who was killed was not associated with the university, according to Tuskegee spokeswoman Thonnia Lee. Several other people, including Tuskegee students, were injured and are receiving treatment at East Alabama Medical Center and Baptist South Hospital. The severity of their injuries was not immediately known. Alabama Law Enforcement Agency Lt. Jeremy Burkett said the shooting happened at 1:40 a.m. No arrests have been made, but State Bureau of Investigation Special Agents are still in the process of gathering and studying evidence to determine the sequence of events. He said investigators plan to release another update early Sunday afternoon. Macon County Coroner Hal Bentley said as of 9 a.m. just one person had died. That person has not yet been identified, but university officials said the victim was not affiliated with the school. Several students were injured in the shooting. A female student was shot in stomach, Tuskegee city Police Chief Mardis said. "I helped load her up," Mardis said. A male student was shot in the arm and Mardis said he did not have information about the third person injured. In social media videos, rapid-fire shots are heard as people crouch on the ground and behind cars at West Commons.

[11/12/2024] A man was charged with kidnapping after police say he held two adults and two juveniles at gunpoint inside a Decatur home over the weekend. Decatur Central Dispatch received a call around 5:37 p.m. Sunday on a report of a possible kidnapping near the intersection of Sandlin Road and Austinville Road, police said Tuesday. At the scene, officers found two adults and two juveniles who told police they had just escaped captivity from a nearby location. A violent crimes detective was notified and began investigating. The investigation revealed that on Saturday, the suspect, identified as John Derek Mitchell, held all four victims at gunpoint at barricaded them inside his home in the 400 block of Autumnwood Drive SW. Mitchell allegedly held the victims for more than a day before they were able to escape and contact police. Four warrants were obtained on Mitchell for second-degree kidnapping. On Monday, officers found Mitchell in his home and took him into custody without incident. He was taken to the Morgan County jail, where he remains held on $20,000 bond.

The Cumberland County Sheriff's Office is investigating a deadly shooting that killed a woman Sunday night. At 10:13 p.m., deputies responded to a shooting in the 5900 block of Clarkton Court near Stedman. Investigators said a woman had been shot and was transported to Cape Fear Valley Medical Center, where she was pronounced dead.

Two men have been arrested in connection with a deadly shooting stemming from what police believe was a drug deal gone wrong near the University of West Georgia campus in Carrollton on Sunday night. Carrollton police got a call just before 10:30 p.m. about shots fired at The Reserve Carrollton Apartments, an off-campus student housing complex on Lovvorn Road. When officers arrived, they found a man with a gunshot wound in the parking lot. He was taken to Tanner Medical Center, where he was pronounced dead, according to officials. He was identified as Mario David Lopez Gomez, 32, of Snellville. Authorities said a white car was seen speeding away from the scene. Officers pursued the vehicle to the area of the hospital, where the driver then got out of the car and ran away. It was not clear if both suspects were in the car. They've been identified as Markeese Jarvis Clark, 20, and Maurice Williams, 22, both of Marietta. One of the suspects was eventually located and taken to Grady Memorial Hospital with gunshot wounds he sustained during the deadly shooting, police said. The second arrest was announced later. "The investigation at this time appears to point to a drug deal gone wrong," police said. Both suspects face a murder charge and are being held at the Carroll County jail. A University of West Georgia spokesperson said neither the victim nor the suspects were students, and a spokesperson for the apartment complex said none of them lived there. Property management is working with law enforcement "to assess whether any measures may be appropriate to strengthen security at the facility to ensure the safety of our residents. We will provide information to residents as developments warrant," the spokesperson said.

A man was shot several times and taken to the hospital on Monday, the Raleigh Police Department said. First responders took the man to an area hospital for surgery after responding to the scene near June Lane and North Fisher Street, police said. The shooting happened at the Washington Terrace Apartments, which is east of downtown Raleigh. Raleigh police did not provide the condition of the man shot and said no one is in custody. However, police said there is no threat to the area. Sky 5 flew over the scene, which showed about 15 Raleigh police cars. "It's just too close to home," said a woman named Brie, who lives near the shooting. "So, it's kind of scary, not going to lie. "When I heard shots, I jumped up on my bed. [I] called my friend over here, called my mom and sister, like y'all good? We're trying to figure out what happened." Nikita Bethea also lives nearby "This is the first time I saw or heard something like this since I've been here in July," Bethea said. "I thought it was like a safe place to live at and everything, so what in the world?"

Gwinnett County police are searching for a man who allegedly broke into several businesses at an office complex in Norcross. According to police, a man broke into multiple businesses at 3550 Engineering Drive on Nov. 11 and stole items from the businesses. Surveillance video captures a man wearing all black walking through the building.

Security video shows three people broke into a Youngsville business early Monday morning. Around 1 a.m. Monday at the computer company PowerGPU, the three people spent more than two hours inside the business' warehouse before triggering an alarm. "It's wild," said PowerGPU owner Jese Martinez. "The way they entered the building was very odd." On Monday, there was still debris on the ground where the three thieves cut a hole on the side of the warehouse. Martinez said it was one of three different entry points the people used to get inside to steal $30,000 worth of camera equipment. The thieves also broke through an HVAC vent before busting out a window in an office. Youngsville police did not provide any description of the thieves on Monday. According to Martinez, a car was stolen around midnight and driven to PowerGPU at 762 Park Ave. The thieves left the vehicle behind. Police did not say who the car belonged to or where it was stolen from. "They're going through your stuff. It definitely feels very different," Martinez said. "This is my business, but at the same time, it's pretty much my home as well." Martinez said he didn't get a security alert until after 3 a.m. Monday. When he showed up, police had the place surrounded but the thieves had already left. Martinez says the entire ordeal feels coordinated and targeted. "Obviously, that's speculation," he said. "We don't know for sure, but it definitely looks that way." Martinez said despite this setback, he's not letting this prevent him from running his business. "The amount of hours we put in and this is like our baby, essentially," he said. "We put a lot of sweat and tears into this and then to see that happen." While police search for the thieves, Martinez said he plans to add more cameras and tighten security at his business. He's [11/23/2024] Authorities on Saturday said the car used to help two men wanted in a deadly armed robbery in Asheboro escape was found the night before in Durham. According to the Asheboro Police Department, Durham police officers found the car while on a service call. The car was used in an armed robbery around 7:34 a.m. on Veterans Day in Asheboro. Police said two men robbed the "64 Skills" on East Dixie Drive in Asheboro. During the robbery, police say the two men shot and killed David Matthew Davis and then drove away in a gray 2013 Toyota Avalon. Authorities believed the car was stolen.

A man was shot to death while driving on Birmingham's busy Parkway East Monday morning. Police identified the victim as Enrique Cortes Martinez. He was 45 and lived in Birmingham. His 5-year-old grandson was also in the pickup truck but escaped harm. The child has been reunited with his family. Cortes's death marks the city's 136th homicide this year, which puts the tally over the total in 2023 with more than month left in the year. Just before 8 a.m., East Precinct officers were dispatched to a person shot in the 200 block of Gadsden Highway, which is in front of CVS. They arrived to find the victim in 9300 block of Parkway East, slumped over the steering wheel of his truck. Witnesses said Cortes had been shot once in the head. He was pronounced dead on the scene at 8:15 a.m. Bystanders rushed to help the victim. One woman, who didn't want to give her name, said the man appears to have been able to stop the truck and put it in park before becoming unresponsive. She said the man had a pulse when she first got to him but was unconscious. She started CPR but to no avail. Other bystanders took the child to CVS. A worker at CVS said the boy was anxious and upset. Witnesses said he began to cry as officers escorted him from the scene to the East Precinct to try and locate other family members. "I can imagine he's shaken up," said Officer Truman Fitzgerald. Fitzgerald said the investigation so far indicates the victim was driving on the Parkway when a separate vehicle pulled alongside him and someone fired shots into the truck. A motive has not yet been determined, and it's not clear if Cortes was targeted. "We are grateful this happened in such a commercial area because we've already been able to tap into some resources, surveillance wise," Fitzgerald said. "We have officers and detectives following up on these leads."

Two teenagers are in custody after leading Jefferson County sheriff's deputies on a chase in a stolen vehicle, according to authorities. Authorities said the 14-year-old boys hit two other vehicles during the pursuit, including a parked car, before crashing and fleeing on foot. Just before 4 p.m. Monday, deputies responded to the 5000 block of Myron Massey Road to investigate a report of persons with guns, said sheriff's spokesman Henry Irby. When they arrived, they tried to make a traffic stop but the driver of the Hyundai refused and a pursuit ensued. During the chase, Irby said, the driver struck a motorist on Allison Bonnet Memorial Drive, causing minimal damage. The pursuit ended in the 5300 block of Molton Gray Drive, where the driver struck a vehicle that was parked in a driveway. Four suspects exited the vehicle and ran into a wooded area. Midfield police officers immediately captured one of the suspects. Jefferson County tracking dogs, as well as Bessemer officers, responded to the scene and captured a second suspect as he exited the wooded area. Alabama State Troopers also responded to investigate. Irby said one weapon was recovered. Two other suspects are still at large. One of the captured teens is charged with first-degree receiving stolen property, reckless endangerment, menacing, attempting to elude, certain persons forbidden to possess a firearm and two counts of leaving the scene of an accident. The second suspect is charged with attempting to elude. Both are being held in the Jefferson County Juvenile Detention Facility.

A Montgomery County man is under arrest after authorities say he fired shots at law enforcement officers during a central Alabama standoff. Shortly after 4:30 p.m. Monday, an ALEA trooper tried to stop a 2020 Dodge Ram pickup truck on U.S. 231 near County Road 7707 in Pike County. The driver failed to stop and a chase ensued. The pursuit ended when the driver crashed on Alabama 94 in Montgomery County. After the crash, a standoff took place between the driver and law enforcement. ALEA's State Bureau of Investigation, SWAT Team and Hostage Negotiation Unit responded, as did Montgomery County sheriff's deputies. Maxie Doyal Evans, 47, of Ramer, was armed with a handgun and fired at officers, ALEA Lt. Jeremy Burkett said. No one was injured. After negotiations, Burkett said Evans was taken into custody without further incident. Evans was taken to Baptist Medical Center South in Montgomery for treatment. He is facing charges of attempting to elude as well as gun charges, Burkett said. Evans will be booked into the Pike County Jail once released from the hospital.

[11/16/2024] A 12-year-old was arrested in connection with a shooting and charged with attempted murder, the Richland County Sheriff's Department announced. Just before 7 p.m. on Nov. 11, Richland County deputies responded to the 3600 block of Ranch Road behind a restaurant in Columbia for a shooting. They found a 14-year-old with multiple gunshot wounds. An investigation found that the 12-year-old and four other juveniles got into an argument when the 12-year-old pulled out a gun and began shooting, officials said. The suspected shooter then fled before law enforcement arrived. The injured 14-year-old was taken to a local hospital in stable condition. The 12-year-old was identified in an investigation and turned themselves into the Richland County Sheriff's Department headquarters on Friday. The child is also charged with possession of a weapon under the age of 18 and possession of a weapon during a violent crime. Other juveniles involved were cleared of criminal charges. A different investigation discovered that the same 12-year-old is the suspect in another crime and was charged with armed robbery. Around 2 p.m. March 1, 2024, deputies were called for an incident of "strong armed robbery" at the 2200 block of East Boundary Road, the sheriff's department said. The child will be booked at the South Carolina Department of Juvenile Justice.

A shooting Monday night at a Mobile apartment complex left one person dead and another injured, according to police. The incident occurred at Dauphin Gate apartment complex with Mobile Police Department officers responding at approximately 9:20 p.m. After arriving at the apartment complex, officers found one man dead and later found out that another victim went to a hospital by personal vehicle with non-life-threatening injuries. A MPD spokesperson said they were not releasing the identity of the victim yet. Additional information was not immediately available.

A man was carjacked while dropping off a delivery in Hoke County Monday night. At 9:23 p.m., deputies responded to a carjacking in the 180 block of Independence Drive. The victim said he was dropping off a delivery when three people approached him and asked for his car keys at gunpoint. That's when his car was stolen. Tuesday around 9 p.m., the sheriff's office was notified by the Fayetteville Police Department that there was a chase and crash involving the stolen car. Three suspects ran from police after the crash. Police were able to detain a juvenile, but the other two suspects fled. While searching the stolen car, two firearms were recovered. This investigation is still ongoing.

A male and a female were shot to death Tuesday night in southwest Birmingham. The victims were among several shootings throughout the city in the span of several hours, including a teen who suffered life-threatening injuries outside of Woodlawn High School. Sgt. LaQuitta Wade said police were alerted to a vehicle that was on the sidewalk by an abandoned house in the 1300 block of Princeton Avenue S.W. The caller reported multiple bullet holes in the car. Officers approached the sedan and saw the victims unresponsive inside of the car. Both were pronounced dead on the scene by Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service. Wade said a passerby noticed the vehicle was moving slowly in reverse and came to a stop on the sidewalk in front of two vacant houses. No one reported hearing gunfire, Wade said.

The Chatham County Sheriff's Office has arrested and charged a man in connection with a shooting in Bear Creek on Tuesday. Deputies responded to a call near NC Hwy 902 in Bear Creek, to a report that a person had been shot in the leg by a friend. The victim provided details about the incident, starting an investigation. After obtaining and executing a search warrant at a residence, investigators found two firearms. Authorities identified the suspect as 47-year-old James Lamonte Cotton. Deputies say that Cotton shot the victim and failed to offer help or call for emergency services. Cotton was taken into custody on Wednesday and charged with two felony offenses: possession of a firearm by a felon and assault with a deadly weapon inflicting serious injury. He is being held on a pretrial hold with a secured bond set at $25,000. His first court appearance is scheduled for Nov. 25.

One man is dead and another is in the hospital with life-threatening injuries after police responded to gunfire in northern Durham early Tuesday morning. Shortly after midnight, officers responded to gunshots in the area of Lednum and Leon streets, north of Interstate 85 near Brogden Middle School, where they were told a man who had been shot had been taken to the hospital. Officers then found a man in the 2300 block of Lednum Street who also had been shot and died at the scene. The Durham Police Department (DPD) has not released any other information.

A Canton woman is dead after being hit by an Amazon truck Tuesday evening, according to the Cherokee Sheriff's Office. Deputies say they were sent to a hit-and-run scene at Cumming Highway near Jordan Lane at 6:30 p.m., where Sandra Fitts, 79, was killed. Evidence at the scene led deputies to believe the vehicle was possibly an Amazon delivery truck. A deputy spotted an Amazon truck turn down Bishop Drive while responding to the accident and called for help to search for it. A Canton police officer found the truck on Bishop Drive with damage that matched the evidence found at the accident, the sheriff's office says. Deputies say the investigation revealed that the Amazon truck was the vehicle that hit the victim.

A man was found shot and seriously injured when he crashed his vehicle into a north Birmingham Family Dollar. North Precinct officers were dispatched at 7:10 p.m. Tuesday to a report of a single-vehicle crash in the 3100 block of 26th Street North. Sgt. LaQuitta Wade said police arrived at the scene to find the victim in the driver's seat. He had been shot at least one time. Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service transported the man to UAB Hospital. His wounds could be potentially life-threatening, police said. Wade said it appears the victim was shot at or near the Marathon gas station in the 3400 block of 26th Street. He traveled several blocks before striking a pole and the Family Dollar. The investigation is ongoing. No arrests have been announced.

A teen was seriously injured in a shooting outside of Woodlawn High School Tuesday night. Gunfire erupted just before 10 p.m. following a basketball game at the school. Sgt. LaQuitta Wade a group of people got into an altercation behind the school. The 17-year-old victim and his friends got into their vehicles and attempted to drive away. The suspect fired shots, striking the teen in the passenger's seat. The teen's friends drove around to the front of the school and reported he had been shot. Wade said the victim's injuries are life-threatening. He is a student, but not at Woodlawn. Police put out at least two dozen shell casing markers at the scene. Wade said the city's gunfire detection system – Shot Spotter – registered more than 50 shots fired. No one is in custody. Birmingham City Schools spokesperson Sherrel Wheeler Stewart said the shooting took place in the school's parking lot and that one person was taken to the hospital.

A night of violence throughout Birmingham continued into Wednesday's predawn hours when a man was fatally shot during a small gathering at his home. The city's East Precinct officers were dispatched at 2:13 a.m. to a home in the 6800 block of 68th Street South, which is off Exeter Avenue. Once at the location, police entered the house where they found the victim dead on the floor from an apparent gunshot wound. Sgt. LaQuitta Wade said there was some type of get-together at the residence when an argument erupted. "Shots were fired, we believe, inside the residence as well as outside of the residence," Wade said. The city's gunfire detection system – Shot Spotter – registered at least 14 shots fired. Several witnesses were undergoing questioning by detectives. No one has been taken into custody. Wade said it appears the victim lived at the home. Animal Control was called to the scene because a dog and puppies were inside the house, and police did not want to leave them unattended.

An investigation is ongoing after three people were shot Wednesday in Tuscaloosa. The shooting happened shortly before 4 p.m. in the 2700 block of Beech Street. That is a residential area. A high-speed pursuit in Coweta County ended with a crash, a sheriff's deputy injured and his police dog killed, according to authorities, who were still at the scene Thursday morning. The incident started with an attempted traffic stop of a Chrysler 300 on U.S. 29 near Tommy Lee Cook Road around 11 p.m. Wednesday. The driver did not stop, and a pursuit ensued that continued into Fulton County and reached speeds of 110 mph, the Coweta County Sheriff's Office said. The pursuing deputy eventually performed a precision immobilization technique, known as a PIT maneuver, to end the pursuit by causing the driver to crash and then deployed K-9 officer Titan to help with apprehending the driver, officials said. That is when the driver opened fire at the deputy and the dog, striking Titan multiple times. The deputy returned fire, killing the suspect, whose name has not been released. K-9 Titan was declared dead at the scene. The deputy also was struck multiple times, but the injuries were graze wounds, according to the sheriff's office. He was taken to a hospital and has since been released. "He should make a full recovery," the sheriff's office said. "K-9 Titan has served the Coweta County Sheriff's Office for over five years. During his time, Titan has successfully located several missing persons, successfully identified illegal narcotics as well as assisted in the successful apprehension of multiple offenders." The GBI has been asked to investigate the shooting.

A man was killed Thursday morning after gunfire erupted at a shopping center in southwest Atlanta, according to authorities. Details are limited, but the shooting happened at the Princeton Lakes Shopping Center in the 3700 block of Carmia Drive. The shopping center, located near Camp Creek Parkway and I-285, is home to a Publix supermarket and several shops and stores. The man's identity has not been released. No information was provided on the suspect and what led to the shooting, but investigators were on the scene. "Information is still being gathered at this time," a police spokesperson said.

Fayetteville police are asking for help to identify a man accused of sexually assaulting a woman on Nov. 14 in the parking lot of the Oak Run Apartments. The woman was only able to give a vague description of the man. She said he was driving a newer, gray Dodge Charger. She told police the man offered her a ride from the 500 block of South Eastern Boulevard. He drove her to the Oak Run Apartments, where he parked, sexually assaulted her and then ordered her out of the car.

A Fayetteville man has been arrested after a woman and man were shot in Cumberland County early Thursday morning. At 1:35 a.m., Cumberland County Sheriff's deputies were patrolling the area of Gillespie Street when they heard several gunshots from a shooting at 2640 Gillespie Street. A woman and man had been shot and were both taken to the hospital. When deputies arrived on scene, Bradley Raymond Donahue, 41, of Fayetteville, ran up to the deputy's vehicle and attempted to enter the car. He then fled on foot but was later apprehended. Investigators said Donahue shot both victims and was attempting to flee the area. Donahue is being charged with the following crimes: Three counts of attempted murder, two counts of assault with a deadly weapon inflicting serious injury with intent to kill and two counts of discharging a firearm into occupied property inflicting serious injury. The circumstances leading up to the shooting are still under investigation.

There's a large law enforcement presence in a popular dining and shopping district which was temporarily blocked Thursday morning after a woman was shot outside of a fast food restaurant, according to the Columbia Police Department. Shortly before 10 a.m., officers said they responded to an emergency call about gunfire at the Bojangles restaurant at 151 Harbison Boulevard. The parking lot has been blocked by officers, who are interviewing people at the scene and are reviewing surveillance video, and the 100 block of Harbison Boulevard was temporarily closed. At about 12:15 p.m., police reported that the road had been reopened. An adult female was injured and taken to an area hospital. There was no word about a shooter or shooters, or anyone else involved in the gunfire. Information about a motive for the shooting was not available, but police said they believe the gunfire stemmed from an on-going dispute between two groups. No arrests have been reported by police, who are continuing to investigate the shooting, which they called "isolated."

Police are responding to a shooting call in an east Raleigh neighborhood on Thursday. Officers were gathering in Raleigh at a home on Summerkings Court around 11 a.m. About a dozen squad cars were seen along the street. An officer told WRAL News someone accidentally shot a friend, a male juvenile, in the leg. The juvenile was taken to the hospital with injuries that weren't considered life-threatening. Police said there is no suspect in custody. The shooting is believed to be isolated. This is a developing story.

A pedestrian was killed in a hit-and-run crash in northern Birmingham. The wreck happened at 5:23 p.m. Thursday on Finley Boulevard between 16th Street and 17th Street North. According to the Jefferson County Coroner's Office, the victim was crossing the road when a vehicle hit him. The driver left the scene. The victim was pronounced dead at 5:38 p.m. He has not yet been identified, but authorities said he was an adult Black male. Birmingham police are investigating.

[11/21/2024] Cary police are searching for three men Thursday who they say attempted to break into a Cary apartment complex a week earlier. Security footage from a Ring doorbell camera captured three masked men around 8 p.m. on Nov. 14 attempting to break down a door at AXIS Crossroads on Crossroads Boulevard. One appeared to be holding something in his hand. The suspects left after several attempts, but what could have happened is too hard to think about for the dad of one of the residents. The victim's shared the footage with WRAL News, but declined to talk further. The father of one of the victims, who identified himself as "Whit" to protect the identity of the two victims, told WRAL News the situation has been tough on the victims and himself. "They're not even able to cope with it in a lot of regards," Whit said. "Knowing that they were absolutely terrified, and [I felt] helpless because I wasn't there at the time. It's quite emotional." The robbery was particularly frightening for the residents, since it's not the first time a masked suspect has come to their unit. Less than a month earlier on Oct. 18, a person wearing a mask and another individual knocked on their door, and eventually left. The tenants told WRAL News they made multiple attempts to reach out to AXIS Crossroads and its property management company, Bainbridge, asking them to notify other residents of the situation, enhance security measures and let them out of their lease right away. Residents said they never received a clear response and were told they couldn't immediately leave. "They were saying, 'No, you're going to have to stay,'" Whit said. WRAL called and emailed the property management company and never heard back. Minutes later, representatives of the apartment complex told ~~the residents that the men had been~~ "I think [WRAL's]"

A teenager was shot and killed late Friday at a South Carolina motel, according to the Pickens County Coroner's Office. Robert Preston Crawford, 17, was shot at the Sun Inn in the 4000 block of Calhoun Memorial Highway in Easley, Coroner Kandy Kelly said in a news release. Crawford died at the scene, according to the release. No other injuries were reported. Kelly called the teen's death a homicide. There was no word about a shooter or shooters, or whether anyone else was involved in the gunfire. Information about a motive for the shooting was not available. No arrests have been reported by the Pickens County Sheriff's Office, which is investigating the death.

An overnight shooting at a DeKalb County gas station sent one person to the hospital. Shots were fired around 2 a.m. at the store on the 4600 block of Glenwood Road in Decatur, right off I-285. The victim is expected to be okay. Police say no one is in custody at this time.

An investigation is underway after two brothers were found dead from gunshot wounds inside a Dothan home. Just before 8 a.m. Friday, Dothan police were dispatched to a residence in the 1200 block of South Park Avenue. Lt. Scott Owens said a family member went to the house to check on one of the residents. She found him dead and called 911. Police arrived and found an additional man also dead in the home. Both had sustained gunshot wounds. Owens identified the men as Zatorrion O'Neil Facion, 23, and Omarion Jackson, 20. The brothers were last heard from on Thursday. Their bodies are being sent to Montgomery for an autopsy.

A man was shot Friday along an exit ramp on Interstate 20 in Atlanta after police say he got into an argument with a group selling water, police said. Officers with the Atlanta Police Department responded around 11:50 a.m. at the eastbound exit to Joseph E. Lowery Boulevard and Lee Street. The highway was closed for a brief time and the ramp remained closed for the investigation. Police say the victim was taken to the hospital in critical condition and the suspects ran from the scene before police arrived. People in the area say it's a known spot for panhandlers. "Usually, people some guys or some females they panhandle there they have a cup, or they have sign and sometimes people stop to give them something, sometimes they don't," Tyson Battle said. "That just rattles my mind. I don't understand that I don't understand it." Atlanta Police are still searching for suspects. Anyone with any information is being encouraged to call police.

One person was injured after shots were fired from a moving vehicle into another car, the Sumter Police Department announced. The shooting happened around 2:45 p.m. on Friday near the intersection of Liberty and Purdy streets. Both cars were traveling west on Liberty Street, and one of the drivers was struck. The 28-year-old injured driver is being treated at a local hospital and is expected to recover. No other information about the incident was available.

Investigators believe a man who was found dead Saturday at an apartment complex was a homicide victim, according to Gainesville police. The man was found at the Walton Summit Apartments off E.E. Butler Parkway, police said. The complex is located less than a mile from the Gainesville town square. "Police are awaiting autopsy results to confirm identity," the department said in a social media post. A cause of death was not released. Detectives are asking anyone who may have witnessed anything in the complex possibly related to the case to contact the police department. Investigators believe the homicide happened between Friday and Saturday.

One man was killed and two others were injured, including a suspect, in a Saturday shooting in southeast Atlanta, police said. Officers responded to the 1660 block of Jonesboro Road around 12:45 a.m. regarding gunfire. There, officials said, they found a 45-year-old man and a 38-year-old man, who each had been shot multiple times. The two men were taken to a hospital to be treated, police said, but the 45-year-old, later identified as Derrick K. Lakes, died from his injuries. A short time later, officers were called to the 1800 block of Lakewood Terrace, about a half mile away. A 20-year-old man was found suffering from gunshot wounds to his leg and torso, authorities said. He was taken to a hospital and police confirmed the victims were involved in the same incident. On Saturday night, police arrested the 20-year-old, identified as Mason Bates, who is facing murder, aggravated assault and gun possession charges in connection with the shooting on Jonesboro Road. Bates is being treated for injuries sustained during the shooting and will be taken to the Fulton County Jail following his release from the hospital, police said. No additional information has been provided about what led to the gunfire.

Two people are linked to a pair of armed robberies on Saturday morning in Chapel Hill. Officers said they responded to reports of two robberies near UNC-Chapel Hill's campus. The first incident happened on West Cameron Avenue at Granville Towers student housing. The second robbery happened in the area of Crest Drive and Knolls Street. The first robbery occurred around 2:20 a.m. and the second occurred nearly 7 minutes later. In both instances, two males in a white SUV left the vehicle, assaulted the victims and took their personal property, according to police. "The whole house was out at bars and parties right when it happened," said Kenzie Novack, who lives near Crest Drive. "That was pretty spooky to realize that we were out at the exact same time." The victims had minor injuries. Some UNC students told WRAL News that while they haven't been nervous around that area of campus, they are shaken up by the incidents. "It always feels really safe on campus, but I think now walking around here, especially around West Cameron, I'll definitely think twice about walking by myself or walking with just a couple of girls at night," said Bella Hilditch, a UNC student. No arrests have been made. An Alert Carolina message was sent out to the campus community, but students said they were frustrated that they didn't receive the alert until four hours after the robberies. "That was a little unsettling," said Jess Saunders, another UNC student. "There was so much time where we could have really done something different and really just had no idea." Police said community members should be cautious and report any suspicious behavior to Chapel Hill police or UNC police.

A Durham police officer shot and wounded a 16-year-old boy after a confrontation at a reported racing meetup event off Hope Valley Road early Sunday, according to the police department. The shooting took place at a shopping center near the intersection of Hope Valley and Garrett roads shortly after midnight. Someone had called 911 to report “car club” racing in the area, according to police. When the first officer arrived to try to disperse the cars and a crowd, he said someone threw “objects” at his car, according to police. He got out to confront the young man and gave chase when he ran. The officer said the teen brandished a handgun and ignored repeated calls to drop it. The officer said he shot the teen when he raised the handgun, hitting him twice. Police say the teen dropped the gun but kept running and got into a car with several other people. Police broadcast a description of the car, and other officers pulled it over, according to police. Those officers rendered medical aid to the wounded teen until EMS arrived. The teen was listed in stable condition at a hospital early Sunday, police said. Police have not released his name. He has been charged as a juvenile with assault with a firearm on a law enforcement officer; possession of a handgun by a minor, and resist, delay, obstruct a public officer. Police say the officer is Cpl. R. McQueen, who has been with the department since 2006. McQueen was wearing a body camera that was activated during the foot chase and shooting, police said. At a press conference at 2:45 a.m. Sunday, police chief Patrice Andrews said she did not know how many shots were fired or where the teen was struck. McQueen was placed on administrative duty, standard procedure in an officer-involved shooting. The N.C. State Bureau of Investigation (SBI) and the Durham police

An investigation is underway after a man died Sunday afternoon, about 14 hours after he was found shot in Birmingham. East Precinct officers were dispatched at 12:30 a.m. to a report of a person shot in the 1000 block of Huffman Road. They arrived to find the man unresponsive on the ground near several businesses, said Officer Truman Fitzgerald. Birmingham medics took the victim to UAB Hospital. Police were notified at 3 p.m. that he had died, Fitzgerald said. Details surrounding the investigation are limited, and no arrests have been made. The man's identity has not been released pending notification of his family. The victim is the city's 141st homicide this year. Of those, 10 have been ruled justifiable and therefore aren't deemed criminal. In all of Jefferson County, there have been 176 homicides including the 141 in Birmingham.

A 39-year-old man was shot and killed Sunday morning near a gas station in southwest Atlanta, authorities said. The shooting happened just before 4:30 a.m. in the 1100 block of Pryor Street near the Downtown Connector, police said. The address, located a stone's throw from the intersection of University Avenue, is home to a Chevron gas station, tire shop and a few other stores. At the scene, officers found the man, who was not publicly identified, suffering from several gunshot wounds. He was taken to the hospital in critical condition, but died there, police said. No other details were shared by police about the incident, including whether any arrests have been made.

[11/26/2024] The Huntsville Police Department (HPD) today charged Erica Lashawn Baker, 31, of Huntsville with murder in connection with a deadly shooting that happened on Lakeview Drive earlier this month. Around 5 a.m. on Nov. 17, HPD officers responded to the 3000 block of Lakeview Drive for a shooting, where they located James Grays, 35, of Huntsville, with a gunshot wound. Grays was pronounced dead at the scene, according to a previous release. Earlier this week HPD also charged Kiarah Donque Jones, 34, of Huntsville, with murder after gathering evidence from the scene. Following an extensive investigation and consultation with the Madison County District Attorney’s Office, it was decided to issue an additional murder warrant for Baker on Monday, Nov. 25. Baker was taken into custody by U.S. Marshals in Lexington, Kentucky on Friday, Nov. 22. HPD will now shift its focus to working with the Madison County District Attorney’s Office to ensure the successful prosecution of this murder, according to today’s release.

A 17-year-old was killed in a shooting at a southeast Atlanta apartment complex Sunday, according to police. Atlanta officers got a call shortly before 1:30 p.m. about a person shot at the East Ridge Park apartments in the Glenrose Heights neighborhood off Mount Zion Road near I-75. When they arrived, they found the teen, whose name has not been released, with apparent gunshot wounds. He was declared dead at the scene, officials said. No other details about the incident have been released by police. It is not clear what may have led to the shooting or if any suspects have been identified.

[11/22/2024] Friends of a man shot and seriously injured in Jasper five days ago are asking for help to support his recovery. Timothy Cannon, 31, remains on a ventilator at UAB Hospital after the Sunday shooting. His wife, 26-year-old Kourtney Grace Duggins, is charged with attempted murder. The shooting happened about 2 p.m. Sunday in the area of 714 Highway 78 in Jasper. Officer arrived to find Cannon wounded. He told them his wife shot him and then fled. Charging documents against Duggins state Cannon was shot in the neck with a handgun. Duggins remains held in the Walker County Jail on $50,000 bond. Brandi and John Sanders, friends of Cannon, said Cannon has a long road to recovery and have started a GoFundMe to help with his needs. Cannon, they said on the fundraising site, is a “kind and humble man that has been through so much recently.” “Tim, who is disabled, was the victim of a terrible tragedy when his wife tried to take his life,” Brandi Sanders wrote. Cannon underwent throat surgery earlier this week. “We’ve known Tim since he was little,” Brandi Sanders said. “He has always been such a sweet and humble person to everyone.” “Right now, he has nobody to help him get back up on his feet, so we are asking for help on his behalf,” she said. “If you can help in any way—whether it’s through prayers, support, or donations—it would mean so much to him and us.”

A 14-year-old was hospitalized after being stabbed by a family member, according to the Atlanta Police Department on Sunday. Officers were called to Thorton Place SW around 3 p.m. after receiving reports that someone had been stabbed. When they arrived, police said they found a 14-year-old with a stab wound in his back. The police said he was taken to the hospital for treatment. The investigating officer said the incident began as an argument between the teen and a man related to him. Officers said the man was arrested and that APD’s Domestic Violence Unit also responded. Police said the investigation is still ongoing.

A woman was wounded when a fight led to gunfire Sunday at an east Birmingham apartment complex. Shots rang out about 4:15 p.m. in the parking lot of Monarch Ridge Apartments, formerly known as Valley Brook Apartment. That is the same complex where an chaotic shooting in August led to the death of Asia Alyce Poole, a 21-year-old woman, and the wounding of her friend after hundreds of shots were fired. Much of the August shooting was livestreamed. Officer Truman Fitzgerald said the injured woman sustained non-life-threatening injuries. Initial reports of a child shot turned out to be false. The shooting started out as people fighting. Shots between two groups of people then erupted. Witnesses reported hearing possibly dozens of shots fired. The City of Birmingham previously sued the apartment complex and said it had not been in compliance with agreed-upon security updates. Fitzgerald said since August, the complex has brought their camera system into compliance, which is helping BPD's Real Time Crime Center in this investigation and others. No arrests have been made in Sunday's shooting.

A toddler girl was among two people wounded in a shooting Sunday night in Birmingham Wylam's community. Birmingham police were notified at 6:45 p.m. that an 18-month-old girl was at Children's of Alabama. She had been driven there in a private vehicle. Officer Truman Fitzgerald said her condition is not life-threatening. Initially police believed the girl was caught in crossfire of a shootout while riding in a vehicle. Fitzgerald said further investigation showed the shooting happened at the 5-Way service station at 4800 Eighth Ave. Fitzgerald said a man fired shots into at the vehicle in which the girl was a passenger. "Officers believe an adult who was traveling with the 18-month-old was the intended target," Fitzgerald said. Police discovered a second victim – an adult male – was also injured in the same incident. He was in a separate vehicle and also not an intended target. He was taken to UAB Hospital. His condition was not released. No arrests have been made.

A South Carolina woman was arrested after two people were shot at while sitting in a parked car, according to the Sumter Police Department. No injuries were reported in the Nov. 17 shooting, police said in a news release. At about 7:30 p.m., officers responded to reports of a shooting in the Marilyn Avenue area. That's in the Sumter area, near U.S. 378 and U.S. 15. A man told officers that he and another person were sitting inside a parked car when they saw a vehicle drive past and then stop at a nearby intersection when shots were fired toward them. Police said that the shooter was identified as 39-year-old Sumter resident Christina Marie Hodge. Hodge was taken into custody at her home, less than half a mile from the crime scene, and was charged with two counts of attempted murder and a single count of possession of a weapon during a violent crime, according to the release. Hodge was booked at the Sumter County Sheriff's Office Detention Center. No bond has been set and Hodge remains locked up, Sumter County court records show. She's scheduled to return to court Jan. 10, 2025. The shooting was "domestic related," according to police, who are continuing to investigate the incident.

Police say that a 40-year-old woman killed Monday morning in Semmes was shot accidentally by her father. According to a press release from the Mobile County Sheriff's Office, an officer was flagged down by two men outside a minivan while driving along Moffett Road. After approaching the minivan, a woman, Emily Roney, was found unresponsive inside. The two men standing outside the vehicle were identified as Roney's father and husband.

Cary police found a gun beside the body of Xavier Holton upstairs in the home he shared with his mother. The mother, Erica Holton, 54, and Xavier Holton's girlfriend, 19-year-old Aminah Michelle Guy, were found shot to death elsewhere in the house in the 100 block of Smokemont Drive Shawn Certain, who identified himself as Erica Holton's husband and Xavier Holton's step-father, called 911 when he arrived at the house Monday afternoon to find his wife and son's girlfriend laying on the floor. In that call, Certain suggested that his stepson could be a suspect in their shooting deaths. Certain told detectives he had been on the phone with his wife when he heard two "loud pops" before the call dropped. He told investigators that Xavier Holton had recently mentioned buying a gun. Angela Guy, mother of Aminah Guy, said that her daughter told her Xavier Holton had shown symptoms of mental illness in the weeks before his death. "He was hearing voices and things like that," Guy told WRAL News. Cary police said investigators are aware of Xavier Holton's mental health struggles, as the family shared them with police, but it's not clear if that played a role in what happened inside the home. "It just seems like [mental health issues] are so prevalent nowadays," Guy said. "Especially with men, like, it's okay to go to therapy, just reach out, before it's too late."

A small business owner in Avondale Estates is reeling after burglars ran a car through the front of her store that sells CBD and hemp products. Diana Padron owns Hemp Haven near E College Avenue and Livingston Place. She was shocked to be awoken by her phone just after 4 a.m. on Monday. “I saw a car was in my store,” Padron said. Security video shows the entire ordeal. A crew backed a stolen Kia Optima through the front of Hemp Haven, rummage through the store, and then jump into getaway vehicles, all in less than 90 seconds. “Mostly what they did was damage property,” Padron said. Padron said it’s not the first time her business has been burglarized. Surveillance video from Oct. 23 shows a group attempting to break in but struggling to get through the glass. “We’ve added these rock-proof windows, which you can’t break,” Padron said, showing off a pile of thick glass. Next door, Josh McDowell and Taylor’s BBQ weren’t so lucky. “A crew came through, I think, on Oct. 23, and threw a brick through our window,” he said. In a result similar to Hemp Haven, not much was taken. “(Some) $420 for the new door, and they took two sodas,” McDowell said. However, Padron’s repairs will cost much more. “I was quoted $26,000 for this,” she said, pointing to the smashed front, twisted metal and disfigured masonry. Said McDowell: “It just seems like in the last two months, it’s becoming a big issue.” Businesses have tried different things. Puff, a vape shop across E College Avenue, has a raised curb. Another nearby business installed metal poles, which Padron said is likely her next move. McDowell would like to see more active policing. “We need more patrols in the area,” he said. Avondale Police are investigating the burglary, which they believe was part of a

A Butts County man has been arrested for allegedly attacking deputies with a machete, according to the Georgia Bureau of Investigation (GBI). Courtney Deonta Reeves, 30, of Jenkinsburg, was booked into the Butts County Jail on charges of aggravated assault against law enforcement. The GBI said they arrested Reeves after the Butts County Sheriff's Office asked the agency to investigate an aggravated assault against two deputies Monday morning. Around 9:20 a.m., Butts County deputies went to a home on County Line Road to serve an eviction notice to Reeves. The GBI said Reeves allegedly grabbed a machete and began attacking the deputies. Two deputies were injured and taken to the hospital. Both deputies are in stable condition and are expected to be released. The GBI said they will conduct an independent investigation and give the case file to the Towaliga Judicial Circuit District Attorney's Office for review.

A 59-year-old man was killed and a second person suffered head injuries in a shooting late Monday morning in southeast Alabama, authorities said. Enterprise police responded to the 800 block of County Road 266 around 11:05 a.m. Monday on a call of a shooting, the department said. Officers found a "male individual" with head injuries and a deceased man with a gunshot wound. The deceased victim was identified as Patrick John Cerqua, 59, of Houston County, according to Coffee County Coroner Arnold Woodham. He was pronounced dead at 11:20 a.m. The Enterprise Police Department's Criminal Investigations Division, the coroner's office and the the 12th Circuit District Attorney's Office are investigating the homicide. Police said there is no danger to the public as a result of the incident.

A man was stabbed to death at a property that serves formerly unhoused people in southwest Atlanta's Capitol View neighborhood Monday afternoon, according to police. Atlanta police said they responded to a person stabbed at 1296 Murphy Avenue, listed as the address for the Phoenix House, around 4:45 p.m. The Phoenix House is described on its website as a supportive housing community that "serves formerly homeless individuals with mental illness." Officers reportedly found a man who was stabbed multiple times in the neck. He was in critical condition and was pronounced dead at the scene a short time later. The victim has not yet been identified. Police have not announced suspects or arrests. Investigators are working to learn what led to the deadly stabbing.

The Wake Forest Police Department (WFPD) is asking for the public's help identifying and locating the people responsible for firing the gunshots into a Wake Forest home earlier this week. Monday around 7 p.m., shots were fired into a house in the 300 block of N. Taylor Street. Police said no one was injured, but the home was damaged by the gunfire. Investigators believe two suspects were involved. "The Police Department relies on the town's citizens to be its 'eyes and ears,'" the WFPD said.

An investigation is underway after two women were shot and seriously injured in Homewood. The shooting happened shortly after 10:30 p.m. Monday in the 900 block of Valley ridge Drive, police announced Tuesday evening. That location is the parking lot at the Valora at Homewood apartments. When officers arrived at the scene, they found both women wounded inside a vehicle, said Lt. John Carr. The investigation indicates the women were sitting inside the vehicle when an unknown suspect approached them and opened fire. Both victims were taken to UAB Hospital with serious injuries, Carr said. A motive has not been disclosed, and no arrests have been made.

[11/26/2024] A Cary woman is charged with cruelty to animals after a 6-month-old Great Dane puppy was rescued from her care. Claudia Delacerda, 35, was charged Nov. 19, according to Cary police. The dog is now in the care of Perfectly Imperfect Pups, a Raleigh-based rescue. Nicole Kincaid, who founded Perfectly Imperfect Pups, first posted a video of "Teagan," the skinny Great Dane puppy, on Facebook on Nov. 20. At 6 months old, the Great Dane puppy should weigh between 45 and 50 pounds, Kincaid said. Teagan only weighed 26 pounds when she was rescued. "This is animal cruelty at its absolute worst," Kincaid said. "Teagan has endured unimaginable suffering, starved for weeks, possibly months. Her frail body tells a story of neglect and pain that no animal should ever experience." After her rescue, Teagan suffered from breathing issues and had stopped eating. At one point, veterinarians gave her a 50-50 chance of survival, Kincaid said. Teagan suffered a tear in her diaphragm, and her organs were pressing on her lungs, Kincaid wrote on Nov. 22. The dog, which will need surgery, has already undergone multiple medical treatments. On Nov. 25, Kincaid said Teagan was eating again and was starting to receive medications orally. On Nov. 26, Kincaid shared another update, writing, "Teagan has so much love being sent her way and it makes me so happy that so many are pulling for her. Her bill is now up to $9,000." Kincaid said she will keep posting updates on Teagan's recovery on Perfectly Imperfect Pups' social media channels.

Atlanta police had a gas station in Midtown surrounded for several hours after a man was shot there early Tuesday morning. It happened at the Chevron at 180 Ponce De Leon Avenue NE. Officers say around 3:45 a.m., a man was shot in the chest and was rushed to Grady Memorial Hospital. His condition is unknown at this time. Right now, there is no word on a possible suspect. The scene has since cleared but the investigation is ongoing.

A Baldwin County sheriff's deputy shot at a gun-wielding suspect after they say he disobeyed commands to drop his weapon following a high-speed chase Tuesday. Members of the office's Street Crimes Unit were in Foley around 2:30 p.m. Tuesday searching for a stolen vehicle reported to deputies earlier in the day. The vehicle was spotted on Charolais Road near Baldwin County Road 65 when a deputy tried to initiate a traffic stop. The driver then led deputies on a 12-minute high-speed chase spanning the outskirts of Foley, through Magnolia Springs and an area south of Magnolia Springs. The suspect left the road, drove into a field and then got on Hartung Road when the pursuit ended. The driver of the vehicle and the sole occupant of the vehicle, identified as Jabari Maliek Stots, fled on foot. Pursuing deputies allegedly saw a pistol in Stots' hand and ordered him to drop the gun but Stots did not comply, the sheriff's office said. A K-9 was then deployed when Stots swung his arm and shoulder toward the pursuing dog when a deputy fired one shot at Stots. The shot did not hit the suspect, the sheriff's office said. Deputies made contact with Stots, who continued to resist apprehension, and eventually took him into custody. Stots suffered injuries from the K-9 and received medical treatment. He is expected to be booked in the Baldwin County jail on charges of resisting arrest, receiving stolen property, felony fleeing or attempting to prelude and a preexisting felony failure to appear warrant, the sheriff's office said.

A Gwinnett County man shot and killed a husky trapped on his property, officials said, leading to his arrest on animal cruelty and gun charges after officers discovered he was a felon. Richard Beatty Hart, 78, of Duluth, was taken into custody Wednesday on multiple charges after he was reported to authorities by a local animal trapper, Gwinnett police said. A police spokesman said Hart contacted the trapper to say that he'd shot a dog that had been caught. Animal control responded to the Citrus Drive property and found that the dead animal was a pet dog, police said. Hart told officers he shot the dog because it had been chasing his cats, according to police. Upon Hart's arrest on the aggravated cruelty to animals charge, officers found that he was formerly convicted of a felony and could not legally own or possess a gun. He was also charged with possession of a firearm by a convicted felon, possession of a firearm during the commission of a felony and reckless conduct. Hart was booked into the Gwinnett jail Wednesday and released the next day on just over $18,000 bond, jail records show.

[12/3/2024] A Raleigh mother is accused of striking her infant in the face and leaving the baby alone in a car in 40-degree weather while she worked. Nikita Jones, 21, is charged with one count of misdemeanor child abuse and one count of child abuse resulting in serious physical injury. Jones left her 6-week-old baby unrestrained in the backseat of a car in downtown Raleigh while she was working at McDonald's on E. South Street, according to warrants. The car was not running, and temperatures at the time were recorded as low as 40 degrees. According to warrants, Jones is also accused of striking the 6-week-old in the face, causing bruising to both eyes, causing swelling and a scratch to the face. The reported incidents occurred on Nov. 20 and Nov. 21. Jones was taken into custody Monday after the Raleigh Police Department issued two warrants for her arrest. It is not known how long the baby was in the car, but experts say it takes only a matter of minutes on an adult for hypothermia to set in -- or even quicker for a baby less than 2 months old.

Morrisville police are investigating a fatal stabbing that happened on Athletic Lane early Wednesday morning. Officers responded to a domestic disturbance around 2 a.m. in the 900 block of Athletic Lane and found a man who had been stabbed once in the chest and was not breathing, according to a news release from town of Morrisville. They tried to save him, but he was taken by ambulance to the hospital where he was later pronounced dead. Charges are pending against Destinee Unique Baugess, 22, of Reidsville, N.C., in the death of 32-year-old Zachary Obrian Epps, 32, of Roanoke Rapids, N.C., the release stated. "The preliminary investigation indicates that the suspect and victim were in a relationship and in town visiting friends when the incident occurred," according to the release.

An 18-year-old girl is facing criminal charges in connection with an alcohol-fueled single-vehicle wreck in north Alabama that left a 13-year-old dead and three other teens injured earlier this week, according to jail records and prosecutors. Yeismin Ramirez, 18, of Albertville was booked into the Marshall County jail Thursday night on charges of vehicular homicide and two counts of first-degree assault, records showed. Ramirez remains held in the jail Friday on $500,000 bond. Marshall County Assistant District Attorney Adam Culbert told WAFF that Ramirez was driving the 2015 Nissan Altima that left the road and struck a tree stump, a sign post and then a fence around 7:45 a.m. Wednesday on Blessing Road near Arley Lacey Road, approximately two miles north of Boaz, in Marshall County. Alcohol was involved in the fatal wreck, Culbert told the station. The Alabama Law Enforcement Agency said a 13-year-old passenger in the vehicle was killed and two other teens -- a 17-year-old and a 15-year-old -- were injured and taken to a hospital. They were not wearing seat belts. Ramirez, who was initially only identified as the 18-year-old driver of the vehicle, was also injured and taken to a hospital. She was not wearing a seat belt at the time of the crash.

A woman was hospitalized after being stabbed during an attempted bank robbery Wednesday, according to Atlanta police. Police said a 17-year-old girl was shot near Greenbriar Mall in southwest Atlanta on Wednesday night. Atlanta police said they responded to a person shot at a shopping center on the 3000 block of Headland Drive SW, across the street from the mall, around 7 p.m. Officers said they found a 17-year-old girl who'd been shot once in her right leg. The victim was alert, conscious and breathing, and was taken to the hospital. Investigators are working to learn what led to the shooting.

Police said a man is in critical condition after being shot in a northwest Atlanta neighborhood Wednesday night. Atlanta police said they responded to a person shot in the area of Joseph E. Lowery Boulevard NW and Proctor Street NW at around 8:20 p.m. Officers reportedly found a man with a gunshot wound to the head, who was taken to the hospital. Investigators are working to learn what led up to the shooting. This is a developing story. Check back with Atlanta News First for updates.

A man was found shot to death near a southeast Atlanta park early Thursday afternoon, according to the Atlanta Police Department. The victim was found at 1001 Stonewall Dr. SE, which is near Rebel Valley Park in the Leila Valley neighborhood. Police have not said who the man is, but they did say officers are working to learn what led up to the shooting. Police also have not said if they are looking for a suspect in connection to the shooting.

Fulton County Police detained several people at a home Thursday after nine dogs were found dead at the residence, police said. According to the Fulton County Police Department, its newly-formed Animal Services Division executed a search warrant at a resident on the 2800 block of Old Farm Road for multiple cruelty to animal charges. When police arrived, they found 19 dogs at the location where nine of them were dead. Police said that a male pit bull charged and attacked an officer, and so another officer then discharged his weapon -- striking the dog twice. No other injuries were reported. Four people were arrested and taken into custody for multiple warrants out of different local jurisdictions, and one was arrested for nine counts of felony animal cruelty. This is an ongoing investigation, police said.

A man is dead after being shot by police who were responding to a domestic dispute. The South Carolina Law Enforcement Division is investigating. On Nov. 21, 2024, officers with the Charleston Police Department were dispatched to a dispute reportedly involving an armed man, later identified as Andrew Williams, 37. Upon arriving, officers witnessed Williams in a domestic feud while armed, according to a news release. During their encounter with Williams, officers shot him, the release said. He was transported to an area hospital and later succumbed to his injuries. SLED is investigating the shooting, which marks the third officer involved shooting this year for the Charleston Police Department. The department had no officer involved shootings last year, according to SLED.

[12/19/2024] Police are searching for a man accused of badly injuring a woman in downtown Atlanta last month when he punched her in the face in an apparent random act of violence. Atlanta investigators are now asking for the public's help as they work to identify the man, releasing photos and videos Thursday. The incident took place Nov. 21 during daytime hours on Baker Street by Centennial Olympic Park and the World of Coca-Cola, police said. Officials released a video of the attack with the victim obscured. In the footage, the victim and suspect are walking in opposite directions on the sidewalk when the suspect, apparently unprovoked, suddenly punches the woman in the face. The video shows her falling to the ground immediately while the suspect stumbles backward, then falls to the ground himself. He quickly gets to his feet and approaches the woman on the ground, pausing briefly before beginning to run across the street. The footage shows at least six witnesses in the immediate area, including two people walking directly behind the woman. Both of those witnesses, who were closest to the attack, quickly backed away after the man's punch. A second surveillance video shows the suspect walking up another downtown Atlanta street near Centennial Olympic Park. As he walks by a large commercial building, the man removes his jacket and tosses it aside, leaving it on the sidewalk. Police have not released further information about the case.

The Roswell Police Department is investigating a stabbing at a QuikTrip convenience store Thursday morning. Officers said they found a man who'd been stabbed by a woman at the QuikTrip on 4635 Woodstock Road a little after 9 a.m. He was taken to the hospital with serious injuries, according to police. Police say the suspect ran before they arrived but was later found and arrested. The woman has not yet been identified.

Two children have been found safe after the running vehicle they were left inside was stolen Thursday from outside a Birmingham methadone clinic. Police said it was about 10 a.m. when the children's mother left the children, ages 2 and 4, in a running vehicle when she went inside New Seasons on Clifford Circle in east Birmingham. While she was inside, a man jumped into the vehicle—believed to be a Toyota Tacoma, and sped away. Two men are in custody and one is at large. The children's mother told AL.com, "I'm thankful they're OK." She and her family declined further comment.

A man is facing charges after allegedly stabbing his brother to death Thursday in Cobb County, police said. Officers were called to a home in the 1100 block of Mountain View Drive around 3:20 p.m. and found 43-year-old Jonathan Hightower with a single stab wound to his chest, according to Marietta police. Firefighters rendered aid to the victim as officers secured the area. The suspect, identified as 41-year-old Sherman Hightower, remained at the scene and was taken into custody. He was booked into the Cobb County jail on charges of murder and aggravated assault with a deadly weapon. Officials said the two men are brothers and the stabbing followed a dispute. The incident took place just north of North Marietta Parkway and east of I-75.

A man died in a barrage of gunfire Thursday afternoon in the parking lot of a Birmingham apartment complex. Shots rang out at 3:51 p.m. at Park at Wood Station apartments. That is in the 6000 block of Wood Station Drive, which is off First Avenue South in Woodlawn. Officer Truman Fitzgerald said police were dispatched to the complex on a report of a person shot. They arrived to find the victim, identified only as a young adult male, dead inside a vehicle from multiple gunshot wounds. Fitzgerald said it appears the victim was ambushed, possibly by multiple shooters. At least 15 to 20 rounds were fired, if not more, he said. Witnesses said the victim's vehicle was peppered by gunfire. A massive crowd gathered at the crime scene where the victim's loved ones hugged and cried. Fitzgerald said the victim may have been visiting someone at the complex. A motive has not been determined and no arrests have been made. "This happened in a heavily populated complex," he said. "We're urging anyone with information to contact Crime Stoppers. You can remain anonymous, and you will receive up to $5,000 in a cash reward."

One person was injured after a landscaping crew working in Decatur was robbed at gunpoint Thursday afternoon, police said. Officers with the Decatur Police Department were called to the 1000 block of Clairemont Avenue at around 5:15 p.m. and located a man who had been shot. The victim was taken to a hospital, but his condition was not disclosed. Investigators determined that the crew was working in the area when an armed "unknown suspect" robbed them, Lt. John Bender confirmed. No information was released about the suspected gunman or what was stolen. Bender did not say if the shooting occurred at a home or business. The Decatur Family YMCA, an assisted living facility and several homes are all located near the incident location.

A double homicide investigation is underway after Birmingham police found two men shot to death at an abandoned house Thursday night in Inglenook. Two men have been detained in connection with the deadly shootings, police said. East Precinct officers responded to a shots fired call around 6:30 p.m. Thursday in the 4400 block of 41st Place North, said Officer Truman Fitzgerald. Officers went to the back area of an abandoned house where they found a man shot and lying unresponsive in the driveway. Police found a second victim inside the house following a search of the area. Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service personnel arrived on the scene and pronounced both victims dead. Officers at the scene found a third man who was then detained by authorities. Responding officers discovered a fourth man walking in the area and detained him as well, Fitzgerald said. A stolen vehicle was recovered at the scene. “Right now, we are unsure of who is who – whether the victims were originally suspects; did the victims fire shots?” said Fitzgerald. “This is a scene that is going to take time and time to uncover.” Police determining if the shooting occurred outside the house. Officers are treating the scene as if more suspects could be on the loose.

A man was found shot and killed in Marietta early Friday morning, police said. There were few details initially available about the incident. Police said officers heard a gunshot in the area of 677 Franklin Gateway and responded to find a man shot and killed. There was no immediate additional information. The address of the incident incorporates a small retail strip not far from South Marietta Parkway and I-75, but there was no information to suggest anything happened at any of the businesses preceding the shooting.

A man was shot and killed outside a Marietta restaurant shortly after midnight Friday, police said. Marietta officers were near the Costa Mar Seafood and Grill restaurant on Franklin Gateway when they heard a single gunshot, officials said. They immediately began looking for the source of the gunfire and came upon a man with a gunshot wound. It is not clear what sparked the shooting, but Marietta police spokesperson Chuck McPhilamy said that an “incident” began inside the restaurant and then spilled outside into the parking lot and road. Officers attempted to save the man’s life, but he did not survive. His name has not been released. Police have not released information about a suspect.

A man was arrested in Suwanee early Friday morning after he allegedly killed a woman in her home in a suspected drive-by shooting, authorities said. Christian Marcus Ware Lessington, 23, was taken into custody near the scene on one count of aggravated assault, Suwanee police spokesman Capt. Robert Thompson said in a statement. According to Channel 2 Action News, Lessington is suspected of targeting another man but killed the target’s mother instead. Police identified the shooting victim as 45-year-old Nicole Winds Clemons, who was inside the house when she was hit by gunfire. The incident took place on Baxley Village Trail in the private Baxley Point neighborhood around 2:30 a.m., Thompson said. Officers responded to reports of gunshots and found Clemons injured at the scene. She was taken to Northside Hospital Gwinnett but later died from her injuries. After the shooting, Lessington drove into another car and blew his tire, Channel 2 reported. He tried to get into another car to drive away, but he was apprehended in the neighborhood, according to the news station. Police did not say who the original shooting target was or why he was being targeted, though Thompson said his agency is actively investigating the case with help from Duluth and Lawrenceville police.

Two unrelated school fights happened within minutes of one another on Friday, the Sumter County Sheriff's Office announced, one of which left a school resource officer injured. At about 9:15 a.m., a school resource officer at R.E. Davis College Preparatory Academy on Eastern School Road contacted dispatch to report an ongoing fight and requested assistance. A juvenile and their mother, 36-year-old Nessia Gibson, assaulted another student at the school, the sheriff said. Neither Gibson nor her children had permission to be in the area of the school where the assault happened. Gibson was charged with assault and battery and disturbing schools, officials said. She was placed under arrest and transported to the sheriff's detention center where she is awaiting a bond hearing. Her child, who was accused of assault, was detained and then released to a relative. They were petitioned in family court. Gibson's other child was charged with public disorderly conduct. In the other fight at about 9:22 a.m., administrators at Lakewood High School called 911 to report an assault. A 17-year-old student allegedly assaulted two students. When a school resource officer attempted to make an arrest, the 17-year-old struck and "wounded" the deputy. The deputy was treated for his wound and released from Prisma Tuomey Hospital. He is expected to make a full recovery, officials said. The 17-year-old, whose name was not released by the sheriff's office due to their age, was charged with assault and battery, resisting arrest and assault of a police officer. They were taken to the Department of Juvenile Justice and have been petitioned to Family Court. "Schools must be safe places for our children to learn," Sheriff Anthony Dennis said in a news release. "To ensure this, we have School Resource Officers assigned to each school and these officers and deputies

Two men were killed, and a third injured, in two separate Montgomery shootings on Friday. Police on Saturday identified the slain men as Maurice Walker, 44, of North Carolina, and Marcelino Hernandez, 33, of Montgomery. Officers and fire medics responded at 4:18 p.m. to the 900 block of West South Boulevard on a report of a person shot. Walker was pronounced dead on the scene. Police at the same time were dispatched to the 100 block of Beckview Drive where they found a second man wounded, said Maj. Saba Coleman. His injuries were not life-threatening. Coleman said investigators determined the second victim was also shot at the West South Boulevard location. At 11:30 p.m., first responders were dispatched to the 4800 block of Park Towne Way. There, they found Hernandez dead from a gunshot wound as well. Authorities have not released details surrounding either shooting. No arrests have been announced.

An armed man who fled from Gwinnett County police was shot in the hand Friday evening, officials said. Officers were in the area of Dawson Boulevard and McDonough Drive conducting a “crime suppression detail” and spotted a man walking through a parking lot shortly before 9 p.m. They tried to speak to him, but police said he ran off. An officer then began to chase the man. At some point, authorities said the man fell and dropped a handgun. When he tried to pick it up, the officer drew his own gun and gave the man several commands, according to police. The man is accused of ignoring the officer and picking up the gun anyway. That’s when the officer fired multiple times, striking him at least once in the hand, officials confirmed. The man continued to run until giving up a short time later and being placed in handcuffs, police added. He was taken to a hospital for injuries not considered life-threatening, and authorities said charges are pending. The suspect’s name was not provided.

A man who disappeared in Birmingham over the weekend was the victim of a homicide, Birmingham police said Monday morning. Dontrell Gooden, 20, was last seen about 11 p.m. Friday, traveling in a vehicle in the Crestwood area. Police on Saturday night issued a critical missing alert for Gooden saying they believed he was in danger. Around 7:30 p.m. Sunday, East Precinct officers were searching for Gooden in the Brummitt Heights neighborhood. They spotted the vehicle he was last seen traveling in on Spruce Avenue at Cunningham Street. Gooden was found inside the vehicle, suffering from an apparent gunshot wound. Firefighters pronounced Gooden dead on the scene. Gooden is the 146th person to die in a homicide in Birmingham in 2024 and the fifth to die in a shooting since Thursday night.

Montgomery police have launched a homicide investigation into a man’s shooting death. Police say at about 11:30PM last night, they were called to the 4800 block of Park Towne Way, which is just off Troy Highway. That’s where they found 33-year-old Marcelino Hernandez of Montgomery, who had been shot and killed. Police have released no other information.

A South Carolina man who was shot and dropped off at a hospital in the Midlands on Saturday has died, according to the Sumter County Coroner’s Office. Travis Desmond Rouse, a 35-year-old Sumter County resident, died Saturday at Prisma Health Tuomey, Coroner Robbie Baker said Monday in a news release. Rouse died from injuries he suffered from an apparent gunshot wound, according to the release. He was dropped off at the hospital’s emergency room, but it was not known where the shooting happened, Baker said. There was no word about a shooter or shooters, or whether anyone else was involved in the gunfire. Information about a motive for the shooting was not available. No arrests have been reported by the Sumter Police Department, which is investigating the death, along with the coroner’s office. An autopsy will be held at the Medical University of South Carolina in Charleston, Baker said.

A man law enforcement was trying to arrest for rape Friday evening was fatally shot in Cherokee County, officials said. Cherokee sheriff's deputies were asked by Floyd County deputies to help with the arrest of Charles Woodall, 52, who was staying at a home on Ficklen Church Way, just south of Knox Bridge Highway and outside of Canton, the GBI said. In addition to rape, he was facing charges of incest and entering auto. At around 11:15 p.m., deputies arrived at the Cherokee home and found Woodall outside with a weapon, the Cherokee sheriff's office said in a statement. The GBI said he pointed the gun at deputies. The Cherokee SWAT team was eventually called to the scene and tried to negotiate with Woodall, but the GBI said he continued to point the weapon at officials. Shots were fired by deputies shortly after midnight, leading to the suspect's death, authorities said. Officials said his body will be taken to the GBI's Medical Examiner's Office for an autopsy. It was the 79th officer-involved shooting the state agency was asked to investigate in 2024. At this point last year, the GBI had opened investigations into 93 such incidents. After the GBI investigation is complete, the case file will be given to the Blue Ridge Judicial Circuit District Attorney's Office for review.

A woman is dead after she made threats and pulled a knife on deputies, the Greenville County Sheriff's Office said. At 2:15 a.m. Saturday, deputies were dispatched to the corner of Kmart Plaza and Marue Drive, near the Spinx gas station, after reports of a woman threatening to hurt people, local news said. The sheriff's department said the deputies were "dealing" with a suspect for "a short while" before the woman brandished a weapon, which Greenville television station WYFF reported to be a knife. A deputy shot her and she was taken to a local hospital, where she died. Her name was not released. The South Carolina Law Enforcement Division is investigating the incident. The deputies involved will be placed on paid administrative leave. Video footage of the incident will be released on Jan. 7, the sheriff's office said.

A Dothan man is under arrest after police say he hit a juvenile girl in the head with a pistol when he found her in a bedroom with a juvenile boy. Allen Terell Jackson, 41, is charged with willful abuse of a child. His bond was set at $15,000. Dothan patrol officers were called to a home on an assault on Westgate Parkway about 2:30 a.m. Saturday. When officers arrived, they were met by two juveniles, said Lt. Scott Owns. According to witnesses at the home, Jackson discovered a female juvenile and a male juvenile in the female juvenile's bedroom. Jackson attacked the female juvenile with closed fists and then went and retrieved a pistol and a shotgun, Owens said. Jackson struck the female juvenile in the head with the pistol that caused lacerations to her head. Both juveniles were ordered out of the residence by Jackson until police arrived. While on scene with police, Jackson again attacked the female juvenile and pushed her in front of officers, Owens said. Jackson was taken into custody. The female juvenile was checked by Dothan Fire Department medics and Pilchers Ambulance. After being interviewed by investigators, Jackson admitted to assaulting the female juvenile. Owens said more charges are pending.

A suspect has been charged in a shooting outside two west Birmingham businesses that left one man dead and another injured. Jaylin Rashad Horn, 25, of Bessemer, is charged with capital murder in the Oct. 5 slaying of 25-year-old Johndarius Decareious Ward. The deadly shooting happened outside the Shell station and Boston Fish Supreme on Third Avenue West, a location which city officials have previously labeled as a “launching pad for criminal activity.” Birmingham police last week released surveillance photo showing the two suspects walking, and also images of their vehicles. Sgt. LaQuitta Wade said Horn turned himself in hours after police released the footage. Horn was booked into the Jefferson County Jail at 7:19 p.m. on Nov. 22. He remains held without bond. The shots rang out about 3 a.m. that Saturday in the 800 block of Third Avenue West. Police received four different Shot Spotter notifications. In all, the gunfire detection system registered about 42 shots. When officers arrived, they found Ward unresponsive inside a vehicle. Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service pronounced him dead at the scene. Roughly two dozen shell casings surrounded his sedan stopped in front of Boston Fish Supreme. Another cluster of shell casings was right in front of the Shell, feet away from the store’s front door. Authorities said it appeared Ward was trying to leave the parking lot when the shooter came from around a building and opened fire on the vehicle. The shooter or shooters, who police said ambushed the victim, fled. While officers were on the scene, they learned an additional victim showed up at Princeton Baptist Medical Center via private vehicle. He was transferred to UAB Hospital with life-threatening injuries. Ward had been parked outside Boston Fish Supreme earlier,

A bystander was killed over the weekend after an argument over money led to gunfire at a DeKalb County parking lot, authorities said. DeKalb police were called around 2:25 p.m. Saturday to the 2100 block of Flat Shoals Road for a person shot, according to police spokesperson Officer Elise Wells. The area, home to a nightclub, barber shop and grocery store, is located a short distance from I-20. When officers arrived, they found a man dead in the parking lot with a gunshot wound. His name was not released. According to investigators, two people were arguing over money that afternoon when one of them started shooting at the other. Wells said it didn't appear that the victim was involved in the dispute. No arrests have been made as detectives continue to look into the shooting.

A suspect is on the run after a shootout with police at an Atlanta apartment complex on Saturday. On Saturday night, around 10:22 p.m., police said they responded to a call about a dispute involving a weapon on Huff Road. Once on the scene, they found a man with a gun at the Avana Westside Apartments. Officers said the man fired his weapon at them, prompting them to return fire. Police also tell 11Alive that a woman was inside the apartment with the man. Thankfully, they were able to remove her from the scene safely before SWAT arrived on the scene. However, Atlanta Police said the man had left by the time SWAT was able to enter the apartment. No injuries were reported, but police said they continue investigating the situation. In a letter to residents, Avanna Westside's management team said a domestic dispute had occurred and that authorities are searching for the suspect offsite. "Police officers have informed our team there is no risk to our residents related to this incident," the management team wrote. "Law enforcement officials remain on-site and are conducting a thorough investigation. As part of this process, we are working closely with authorities to assist where we can." Avanna Westside's management team said it's committed to supporting the investigation and maintaining the well-being of the complex's community. "We understand this situation may be concerning, and we appreciate your cooperation and patience during this time," the management team added.

[12/18/2024] A South Carolina man who was previously arrested after his roommate was assaulted had his charge upgraded when the victim recently died, according to the Richland County Sheriff's Department. Raymond Jolly, a 30-year-old Columbia resident, is now charged with murder after the 57-year-old victim died Sunday, the sheriff's department said in a news release. At about 11 p.m. Nov. 23, deputies were searching for Jolly following a separate assault. Deputies went to Jolly's home in the 600 block of Kentucky Street, according to the release. That's in the area between Bluff Road and Olympia Avenue, less than a mile from Williams-Brice Stadium and the South Carolina State Fairgrounds. At the door of the home, deputies heard what sounded like a person in distress and then discovered the 57-year-old victim lying on the floor after suffering "severe head trauma," the sheriff's department said. The victim was taken to an area hospital. While deputies were tending to the victim, they received another call about a suspicious person, who was later identified as Jolly. Deputies tracked down Jolly who ran away but was taken into custody after a brief chase. Jolly had suffered minor injuries and was taken to a local hospital for treatment. After Jolly was medically cleared from the hospital he was then taken to the Alvin S. Glenn Detention Center, where he still remains locked up, according to the release. Jolly was originally charged with attempted murder, breach of peace, simple assault, giving false information as well as three counts of second-degree assault and battery. Bond was denied on all of the charges, jail records show. The additional assault charges and breach of peace charge stem from a separate incident that occurred around the same time. The

A man is facing a murder charge after being detained by police officers at the scene of a deadly shooting in Midtown early Sunday, authorities said. At about 1:45 a.m., Atlanta police responded to shots fired in the 1100 block of Crescent Avenue, home to the Atlanta Event Center and a few nightclubs near 13th Street. When officers arrived, they found a man suffering from a gunshot wound in a nearby alleyway, police said. The victim, who was not publicly identified, was pronounced dead at the scene by medical crews. According to authorities, officers who were working a “city approved extra job” saw the shooter at the scene and “quickly detained him without incident.” A police spokesperson said he was unaware of what jobs the officers were working at the time. The suspect, identified by law enforcement as Ricky Hutchinson, was taken to police headquarters to be interviewed. Following an investigation, detectives found probable cause to charge the 21-year-old with murder, aggravated assault and possession of a firearm during the commission of a felony, police said. Hutchinson is being held at the Fulton County Jail without bond, according to online records. Police have not shared additional details about the shooting. Channel 2 Action News reported that it started from an argument, with one of the men shooting the other. After the gunfire, photos from the news station showed people navigating the busy nightlife area as caution tape surrounded a section of Crescent Avenue. An investigation into the incident is ongoing, police said.

A man was shot and killed early Sunday morning after getting into a fight with the suspect, according to DeKalb County police. Officers got a call at around 2:45 a.m. about a person shot in the 1400 block of Bouldercrest Road near East Atlanta. When they arrived, they found a man in his 20s with multiple gunshot wounds, according to police. The victim, whose name has not been released, was taken to a hospital but did not survive, authorities said. No other details have been released by police. It is not clear if they have identified the suspect. The incident unfolded just a mile from another fatal shooting that took place hours earlier. A man was fatally shot after two other people argued over money and started firing at each other, police said. The victim was a bystander.

A 17-year-old mother is being charged in the death of her newborn son, Marietta Police said Monday. The Marietta Police Department said officers responded Sunday to a residential address on Grambling Street around 3 p.m. and found the baby boy dead and "clearly injured" inside the home. In a news conference on Monday afternoon, MPD Public Information Officer Chuck McPhilamy said the mother had given birth at the home and did not have anyone to help her. McPhilamy also said investigators discovered the mother digging a hole in the backyard. The criminal warrant indicates the teen concealed the infant's death for about six hours after she gave birth in her bed. A relative caught her digging a hole in the backyard to bury the baby, the warrant states "Investigators worked throughout the evening to determine what exactly caused all of this," McPhilamy said. Police said the mother was later arrested and taken to Wellstar Kennestone for medical treatment. After she is discharged from the hospital, the department said, she will be booked into the Cobb County Adult Detention Center and held without bond on charges including concealing a death, abuse of a dead body and abandonment of a dead body, all felonies. The medical examiner is working to determine the cause of death of the newborn, including if the infant was stillborn or born alive. "Once we get that information back from the medical examiner, there will or could be additional charges. The reality is that could be two or three weeks before we get that information and we're able to continue our portion of the investigation," McPhilamy added.

A woman was shot in the face Sunday night in the parking lot of a Hoover shopping center. The shooting happened about 9 p.m. at Village of Lee Branch on Doug Baker Boulevard, near Panera Bread. Hoover police Capt. Keith Czeskleba said the woman was conscious and alert, and talking with officers before she was taken to the hospital. Czeskleba said one person has been detained but investigators are working to determine the involvement of that person, if any. Police said it is too early to confirm the circumstances surrounding the shooting.

Two police officers were shot at a condominium complex in southwest DeKalb County on Wednesday morning, authorities said. Both were taken to Grady Memorial Hospital. Officials plan to hold a news conference at Grady. The shooting took place at about 11:30 a.m. at the Waldrop Cove condo complex south of Panthersville, just outside the Perimeter, according to the fire department. The neighborhood is just south of the South River and surrounded by woods. It is situated between Panthersville Road and Flat Shoals Parkway. DeKalb police officers remained at the scene shortly after 1 p.m., restricting access to the condo development with patrol cars and yellow cones. Crime scene tape surrounded at least one of the buildings, including part of a playground near the entrance. A resident told the AJC she lived in the complex but was told by police it would be “a couple of hours” before the scene was clear. Debra Thomas runs the wig shop Shuggs on Waldrop Place, located about a quarter-mile from the shooting scene. After a friend called to tell her about the gunfire, she was shocked to hear it happened so close to home. “I don’t know what happened, but it’s scary. Somebody shooting at the police,” she told the AJC. Curious about the law enforcement presence, Thomas said she was going to look out her window to see what’s was going on.

A man was shot to death in Hueytown on Wednesday afternoon, according to Police Chief Mike Yarbrough. The shooting happened around 12:17 p.m. in the 1700 block of 28th Avenue. Officers found the man suffering life threatening wounds. Firefighters were not able to save him and he was pronounced dead on the scene. “The shooter and all witnesses stayed on scene and are cooperating with investigators,” Yarbrough said. Yarbrough said the findings of the investigation will be turned over to the district attorney. Additional information was not immediately available.

A South Carolina man has been arrested on allegations of robbing a Wells Fargo bank branch in Rock Hill Wednesday afternoon, police said. Officers arrested Eli Eason, 27, of Clover, in a residential neighborhood nearby after the crime happened after 1 p.m. at the bank on Celanese Road near the corner of India Hook Road, said Rock Hill Police Department Lt. Michael Chavis. Eason is accused of showing a note to bank employees saying a robbery was going on before leaving with money he received from a teller, the police department said in a statement. Eason ran from the bank, according to police. Responding officers took him into custody soon afterward on Matthews Drive south of the bank, Chavis said. The area is on the city's northern edge west of Interstate 77. The corridor along Celanese Road is one of York County's busiest roads, S.C. Department of Transportation figures show. No one was hurt and no weapons were shown during the robbery, Chavis said. Eason is charged with entering a financial institution with intent to steal, according to police. Police did not release how much money was taken or if it was recovered.

Alabama State Troopers need your help finding the driver who hit and killed a man in Lee County. State troopers say 49-year-old Floyd Davis of Salem was hit at about 5:06PM yesterday and was pronounced dead at the scene. It happened on Alabama Highway 169, about two miles north of Crawford. Investigators say Davis was in the road when he was hit. The driver and the vehicle are unknown.

A Cary man is in critical condition after he was stabbed Wednesday evening during a dispute in a Walmart parking lot. The victim, 43-year-old Fouad Elsenbary, was stabbed at least twice, Morrisville Police say. Tikira Norman, 38, of Durham, is suspected of stabbing Elsenbary following an argument over a parking spot. She is being held at the Wake County Detention Center. Police responded to a 911 call around 6:30 p.m. at the Walmart on Shiloh Glenn Dr. According to authorities, Elsenbary and Norman did not previously know each other. "There is no further information at this time," Town of Morrisville spokesperson Rox Cruz said in a statement Thursday.

Durham police are investigating two Wednesday night shootings, one of them fatal, in the McDougald Terrace public housing community. Officers responded to the 1200 block of East Lawson Street at 10:43 p.m., the Durham Police Department said in a news release. The location is between Durham Technical Community College and N.C. Central University. A man, identified Monday as 45-year-old Lamarcus Alston of Durham, had been shot multiple times and was pronounced dead on the scene. It was the second shooting at the apartment complex that night. The earlier shooting, in which a man suffered life-threatening injuries, happened on Ridgeway Avenue around 6:20 p.m. Police have not provided any other details about the shootings or said whether they might be connected.

A man was found shot to death in a Clayton County neighborhood less than 20 minutes before Thanksgiving Day, according to authorities. Clayton police said they got a call about a shooting around 11:40 p.m. Wednesday. The incident took place in the 8400 block of Moultrie Drive, a small dead-end street to the west of Jonesboro. When officers arrived, they found the victim, whose name was not released, with a gunshot wound to the chest, officials said. He was declared dead at the scene. No other details have been shared by police, including if a suspect has been identified. That shooting was followed by at least two other fatal incidents to unfold over the Thanksgiving holiday in metro Atlanta. In Atlanta, a 52-year-old man was shot to death along Booker Avenue around 3 a.m. Thursday. At about the same time, Kennesaw police found a person shot to death in the area of Moon Station Road. Few details have been released in either incident.

Damain Cummings could never have imagined the world he'd be waking up to on this Thanksgiving when he learned his 55-year-old father Robert was shot and killed just feet from his home in Zebulon. Zebulon police responded to the shooting on West Barbee Street around 1:30 a.m. Thursday, finding Robert Cummings' body in the yard of a home across the street from where he lived. Damain said the house where his father's body was found belongs to his uncle, and that the family believes the shooting all started when his father and uncle argued with a group of people outside the home overnight. Damain said investigators have said they think those people left, then came back and shot Robert. "My brain is completely processing it right now," Damain said. Cummings said he's most concerned for his grandmother, who shared a home with Robert. "I'm not really too much worried about myself, it's more of like my grandmother right now," he said. "Because she is pretty much by herself right now. So now I have constantly people coming over here 24/7 to check on her." Damain said investigators believe alcohol was involved in the fight and shooting, and that as of Thursday afternoon, they have a lead on a possible suspect but are still investigating. He said he wants those responsible to understand the pain that they've inflicted. Damain said he heard gunshots from his home across the street, but didn't realize they were related to his father until Robert's girlfriend started pounding on his door to tell him he had been shot. He told ABC11 that the family is still numb, now preparing a funeral hours before they were supposed to celebrate Thanksgiving together. Damain said they're setting up an online fundraiser to help cover the costs of the funeral.

A man is dead after an early morning shooting in southwest Atlanta. Atlanta police say Thursday around 3 a.m., officers responded to a report of a person shot on the 1100 block of Booker Avenue SW. When they arrived, officers said they found a 52-year-old man with a gunshot wound. Medical personnel arrived and pronounced the victim dead at the scene. The investigation continues.

A man is dead after a shooting in Kennesaw early Thanksgiving morning, according to police. The Kennesaw Police Department said they found Casey Plumb, 35, of Acworth, dead from gunshot wounds at Moon Station Road at Bayswater Drive shortly after 3 a.m. They identified and arrested Dain Mark Ryner, 34, of Powder Springs, on Saturday. Ryner is currently being held without bond. He is charged with felony murder, possession of a firearm during the commission of a crime and aggravated assault, according to police.

Two people were detained after robbing a man at gunpoint, according to South Fulton police. Police said three people robbed a man of cigarettes at 3288 Blackwood Lane in College Park. The three reportedly jumped out of a vehicle, held the man at gunpoint and stole the cigarettes. According to police, two of the people were detained after a car chase. The two were hospitalized after the chase. Anyone with information should contact South Fulton police.

A woman is behind bars after an early morning reported DUI crash that killed a juvenile and critically injured two adults. Northport police responded at 3:43 a.m. Friday to a report of a wreck on Hugh Thomas Bridge. Officers learned that a vehicle had been traveling the wrong way and hit another vehicle head on, said Tuscaloosa Violent Crimes Unit Capt. Jack Kennedy. Three people were inside the vehicle that was struck. One of them was dead on the scene, and two others were rushed to DCH Regional Medical Center with critical injuries. The wrong-way driver was uninjured, Kennedy said, and immediately suspected her to be under the influence. Investigators processed the scene, executed search warrants, and obtained digital, physical, and forensic evidence. Rachael Robinson, 29, is charged with manslaughter, two counts of first-degree assault and DUI. She is being held without bond in the Tuscaloosa County Jail.

A 40-year-old Hampton man was shot and killed by Lovejoy police Friday after he pointed a handgun at them during a traffic stop, officials said. At about 8:45 a.m., an officer noticed a suspicious car in a Lovejoy parking lot and went over to check its registration, according to the GBI. The officer got close and saw a man, identified as Jean Cesar, who appeared to be “racking the slide of a handgun,” the state agency said. “As the officer gave Cesar orders to drop the gun, Cesar pointed the gun towards the officer,” the GBI said. “The officer fired his weapon, fatally wounding Cesar.” No officers were injured during the incident, officials said. Cesar’s body will be taken to the GBI’s Medical Examiner’s Office for an autopsy. It was the 80th officer-involved shooting that the GBI was asked to investigate in 2024. At the same time last year, the state agency had open investigations into 94 such incidents. After the GBI investigation, the case file will be given to the Clayton County District Attorney’s Office for review.

The Georgia Bureau of Investigation (GBI) shares that an arrest has been made in the double murder that took place in Quitman on Friday morning. At around 9:42 a.m., the GBI was requested by the Brooks County Sheriff's Office to assist in a double murder that happened on Shiver Road. According to the GBI, Deputies initially responded to the scene and found two women shot inside the home. They were identified as 48-year-old Tamiko Mobley and 25-year-old Tiaja Mobley. They were mother and daughter. Tamiko did not live at the residence but was staying with her daughter after an argument with her husband the night before, according to the GBI. An additional male victim was located. He had also been shot, but he did not sustain any fatal injuries. He was hit by the debris from objects a bullet struck. Both victims have been taken to the GBI Crime Lab in Macon for autopsies. The GBI identified the person responsible as Wilbert Mobley, Jr., 44, of Brooks County. Wilbert was Tamiko's husband and Tiaja's father, according to the GBI. He was taken into custody outside the residence by Quitman Police, who assisted the Brooks County deputies in responding to the 911 call. He was booked into the Brooks County Jail on the following charges: Two counts of malice murder, two counts of felony murder, three counts of aggravated assault, and three counts of possession of a firearm during the commission of a crime.

Sheriff's deputies arrested a man after a 24-year-old West Columbia resident was shot and killed Saturday at the Riverbend Apartments. Bradley Freeman Tucker was shot repeatedly in the upper body and pronounced dead outside of his residence in the 100 block of Riverbend Drive, near North Lucase Street, according to the Lexington County Coroner's Office. On Sunday, the Lexington County Sheriff's Department released a statement on Facebook saying Justin Brandon McCrae, 26, was charged with murder in Tucker's death. McCrae was also charged with possession of a weapon during a violent crime. He is being held at the Lexington County Detention Center, according to the statement. No information has been released about McCrae's bond or what led to the shooting. According to the department, detectives interviewed nearby residents while crime scene investigators collected evidence. In a statement, the Lexington County Coroner's Office said it also continues to investigate. Tucker's autopsy has been scheduled for Wednesday at MUSC in Charleston, South Carolina.

A man has been arrested in Halifax County after the sheriff's office said he fired a shotgun at employees of a local fiber internet company. On Saturday, deputies responded to the 100 block of Lee Lane Road due to a gunshot being fired in the area. Deputies learned that a man had fired a shot at employees who were going door to door in the neighborhood offering internet service to homeowners. After Larry Mickey Scott declined the service and closed the door, the sheriff's office said he came back outside, aimed his shotgun at one of the employees and fired the shotgun. A search warrant was executed at Scott's residence and the shotgun was seized. Scott was arrested and charged with possession of firearm by a felon, assault by pointing a gun and assault with a deadly weapon. The employee was not injured. Scott was given a $12,500 bond and is scheduled to appear in court on Dec. 11.

Police in Cobb County need help searching for a driver who they believe hit and killed a man along a quiet street near Smyrna early Saturday morning. The incident happened around 4:30 a.m. along Pat Mell Road just west of Benson Avenue. The area is between Atlanta Road and South Cobb Drive. Investigators believe the man was walking west on Pat Mell Road outside of a marked crosswalk when he was struck by a vehicle traveling in the same direction. “The unknown vehicle collided with the pedestrian and projected him in a westerly direction,” officials said. The driver then kept going instead of stopping to call for help, they added. The victim’s name has not been released.

An investigation is underway after a 20-year-old man was shot to death Saturday afternoon in Jefferson County. Sheriff’s deputies were working a traffic crash just before 3 p.m. in the area 23rd and 25th Avenues Northeast. Spokesman Henry Irby said while that investigation was ongoing, a different vehicle pulled up the scene. The gunshot victim was in the passenger’s seat. Center Point Fire and Rescue transported him to UAB Hospital where he was later pronounced dead. Irby said the wreck was not related to the shooting. No additional details have been released.

A man was sent to the hospital to get treated for a life-threatening injury after being shot in DeKalb County on Saturday afternoon, police said. According to the DeKalb County Police Department, officers were flagged down to the 2700 block of Candler Road shortly after 3 p.m. about a person shot. When they arrived, they found a man with a gunshot wound to his leg on the side of a building. He was sent to an area hospital to be treated for his life-threatening injury, police said. Preliminary information indicates that the man was standing next to the building when the suspect allegedly approached him from across the street before shooting him once, according to police.

A teenage suspect, who was wanted by authorities in Texas, is accused of fatally shooting a 70-year-old man at a southwest Atlanta liquor store before driving away in his car, according to arrest warrants obtained Monday. Atlanta police were called at around 6:40 p.m. Saturday to the 2100 block of Metropolitan Parkway for reports of a person shot. The liquor store is located in the Perkerson neighborhood near Langford Parkway and I-85. When officers arrived, they found the victim, David Tuttle, who had been shot in the neck, according to the warrant. He was taken to the hospital, where he died, police said. Tuttle's 2004 black Toyota Highlander was nowhere to be found at the scene, the warrant stated. During the investigation, police said they found and arrested the suspect, identified as Jaylen Mosley. The 19-year-old is accused of using a .380 caliber handgun to shoot Tuttle in the neck before "immediately" getting in his vehicle and fleeing, the warrant states. According to the warrant and online records, the 19-year-old was also wanted by the Harris County Sheriff's Office in Texas on a charge of felony criminal mischief. He was booked into the Fulton County Jail on charges of murder, armed robbery, first-degree hijacking of a vehicle, aggravated assault and possession of a firearm or knife during the commission of or attempt to commit certain felonies, jail records showed. No other details were released by police on the shooting, which remains under investigation.

[12/4/2024] A Lyft driver was shot and killed over the weekend, DeKalb County Police said. DKPD identified the driver as 31-year-old Rafeeq Badee, and a statement from Lyft indicated he was on the job when the shooting occurred. Lyft, in a statement, called it a "terrible tragedy" and said the rider involved "has been permanently banned from the Lyft community." Any further information about the rider was unclear, as police did not provide details on a possible suspect. DKPD said witnesses reported "multiple suspects running from the scene after the shooting." It happened on the 1000 block of Woodberry Place on Saturday evening, with officers responding around 7:30 p.m. and finding Badee "lying in the parking lot with multiple gunshot wounds," DKPD said. He was taken by EMS to a hospital but "later succumbed to his injuries." Lyft's statement said the company's "hearts are with Mr. Badee's family and loved ones in the midst of this terrible tragedy." "We have reached out to offer support to them during this difficult time, and stand ready to assist law enforcement with their investigation," Lyft said.

The GBI is investigating after a Saturday evening shootout at a Rockdale gas station left a Georgia State Patrol trooper injured and a suspect shot, officials said. A trooper and his cadet were patrolling I-20 at about 11:40 p.m. when they tried to stop an SUV for speeding, according to the GBI. A GSP spokesperson said the SUV and another unidentified vehicle were allegedly racing on the interstate. According to the state agency, the SUV got off I-20 at Sigman Road, where it drove into a gas station parking lot. To avoid the troopers, the driver, Tony Ward, 34, kept circling the pumps, the GBI said. After Ward eventually stopped the vehicle, his passenger, identified as 41-year-old Chester Williams, got out and shot at the troopers, the state agency said. "One of the troopers returned fire, hitting Williams," the GBI said. Williams, of Jonesboro, was arrested and taken to a hospital to be treated, while Ward ran away from the scene was found by Rockdale County deputies at a nearby business, according to the state agency. Ward, of Atlanta, was then taken into custody and turned over to the GSP, officials said. The suspects' charges were not released, but the GBI said it was requested by the GSP to investigate the shooting and aggravated assault "on an officer." The trooper was taken to the hospital "for observation," after a bullet struck his baton and "resulted in the injury," according to the GBI. Officials have not said what happened to the other vehicle on the interstate. The names of the suspects were not released and the GSP deferred further comment to the GBI. After the GBI investigation, the case file will be given to the Rockdale County District Attorney's Office for review.

Police are investigating after two people were shot at an apartment complex in Cobb County on Sunday evening. According to the Cobb County Police Department, officers responded to the Chroma Park Apartments at 2100 Mesa Valley Way on reports of shots fired. When they arrived, officers found two people suffering from gunshot wounds, police said. They were sent to the hospital by ambulance, and their conditions are currently unknown. Surveillance video depicts an angry driver striking another individual outside of a Waffle House as Mobile police continue looking for the culprit. According to MPD, the incident occurred on Dec. 1 at a Waffle House on Highway 90. The video shows a white car pulling into the restaurant parking lot followed by a Blue Toyota Camry. As the female victim gets out of the white car, the Blue Camry pulls closer to her. The driver and victim appear to exchange words and seconds later the vehicle veers quickly into the victim striking her. Police were called after receiving a report of a pedestrian struck and the victim was transported to the hospital with non life-threatening injuries. Police said prior to the incident the victim passed the Blue Camry due to it being stopped on Highway 90 and the enraged driver then followed the victim. MPD is asking for assistance in identifying the driver in the attack — who is a woman. MPD also clarified that the Camry also is faded on the hood and roof.

A 3-year-old boy is recovering after he was shot Sunday morning inside his bedroom at a Birmingham apartment complex. Just before 8 a.m., West Precinct officers responded to Forest Hills Village apartments on Tempest Drive on a report of a shooting. Once inside the apartment, they found the child with gunshot wounds to his leg. Birmingham Fire and Rescue Service rushed him to Children's of Alabama. His injuries are not life-threatening, said Officer Truman Fitzgerald. Family members told police they were inside the apartment when someone fired shots into the unit from outside. "They heard shots and noticed that their 3-year-old child was screaming," he said. It was then they realized he had been shot. There were bullet holes in the walls of the apartment, Fitzgerald said. Officers arriving at the complex saw a man running away and they gave chase. That man was detained trying to climb over a fence. A second man was then taken into custody. Fitzgerald said officers found a gun near a vehicle. The investigation is ongoing by felony assault detectives.

Millbrook police say a man told them he shot his sister, leaving her seriously injured. Millbrook Police Chief P.K. Johnson said at about 6:06PM Tuesday, they were called to a shooting in Pine Court. They say the person who called them, 54-year-old Anthony Granata of Millbrook, told them he shot his 55-year-old sister during an argument. Johnson says the victim was taken to a medical facility where she was treated for what he called serious to life-threatening injuries. Granata was arrested and charged with assault in the 1st degree. Granata was taken to the Elmore County Jail.

The Durham County Sheriff's Office is investigating a shooting apparently sparked by road rage Tuesday night, officials said Wednesday. The incident occurred about 9 p.m. Tuesday when a driver traveling on South Mineral Springs Road near N.C. Highway 98 honked at a dark blue Chevy Malibu for driving slowly, according to a Durham County Sheriff's Office news release. When the Malibu turned off South Mineral Springs Road, someone inside allegedly fired several shots into the other vehicle, grazing a passenger, the release said. The driver of the damaged car, a 19-year-old woman, continued to their original destination nearby before calling 911. EMS determined the grazed passenger, a 19-year-old man, didn't need to be taken to the hospital, the incident report shows. The victims' names are not being released to protect their safety, according to David Bowser, a spokesperson for the Durham County Sheriff's Office. Investigators found 20 shot casings and a projectile at the site of the shooting, according to the incident report. Bowser said Thursday that "this is still a very active investigation as we continue interviewing independent witnesses to determine what happened."

A person is in the hospital Wednesday night after a shooting in Raleigh. According to the Raleigh Police Department, officers were responding to a "domestic situation" around 7:22 p.m. on the 5300 block of Pinhook Lane when they found a person with a gunshot wound. EMS took the person to the hospital with non-life-threatening injuries and police detained one person. Police said their investigation is ongoing.

Two people were killed and another wounded Wednesday in a Rock Hill smoke shop shooting that occurred hours after the alleged shooter bought a “psychedelic substance” from the business, police said. Zachary East Elias, 28, of Columbia, shot two women and a man around 9:40 p.m. after going in Budimans’ Smoke Shop and Art Gallery on North Cherry Road, Rock Hill Police Department detective Robert Smith said in Rock Hill Municipal Court Thursday afternoon. Celci Johnson, 27, of Rock Hill, a female employee, died at the scene, according to court testimony and a written statement from the York County Coroner. Emad Thabet Saadalla of Rock Hill, 49, whom the coroner identified as a customer at the store, also died at the scene. A woman wounded has not been identified by police or court documents. The extent of her injuries is unclear after emergency crews took her to a hospital. A fourth person not hit in the gunfire ran to safety through a back exit, Smith said. The incident was captured on camera at the store, according to arrest warrants obtained by The Herald. Elias appeared in court on charges of two counts of murder, two counts of attempted murder and possession of a weapon during a violent crime.

A teenager was fatally shot Wednesday night after an argument escalated while he was trying to sell T-shirts following a rock concert at State Farm Arena, authorities said. Just before 10:15 p.m., officers were called to the 100 block of Nassau Street near Centennial Olympic Park in downtown Atlanta. At the scene, they found an 18-year-old who had been shot several times, police said. The teen was taken to the hospital, but died from his injuries, authorities said. He was identified as Dexter Devaughn Hoefer Savage by the Fulton County Medical Examiner’s Office. Police said the teen and someone in a parking lot on Nassau Street got into an argument as he tried to sell T-shirts. During a dispute over parking, he was shot, authorities said. Creed, known for its hits in the late 1990s and early 2000s, was playing at the arena as part of the rock band’s “Are You Ready?” tour. No arrests have been made, and the shooting remains under investigation, police said.

Atlanta's midnight traffic came to a screeching halt Thursday as shocked motorists witnessed a man run onto I-75 with police in hot pursuit. For five hours, the southbound lanes near Cleveland Avenue remained closed as officers unsuccessfully tried to calm the man, who they said had just stabbed someone aboard a Greyhound bus. The 39-year-old from Maryland, identified by the GBI as Robert McVay, had boarded the Greyhound bus in Atlanta and was headed to Florida, officials said. Over the course of five to six minutes, the already chaotic situation escalated to five officers opening fire, killing the man shortly after 1 a.m., Atlanta police Chief Darin Schierbaum told reporters at a news conference. The stabbing victim had a cut to his hand and was treated at the scene before reboarding the bus, Schierbaum said. When police first reached the bus around 1:05 a.m., it was stopped on the shoulder of the interstate, according to the GBI, which is investigating the shooting. McVay's erratic behavior continued, as he began running through traffic, Schierbaum said. Some commuters had to stop as the scene unfolded. "What then played out was a protracted effort to de-escalate the situation," he said. "Officers were using verbal commands. They attempted multiple less-lethal options, including Taser and pepper spray." As officers continued their efforts, Schierbaum said McVay went into the middle of the interstate, still armed with the knife as people drove by. Eventually, McVay went onto the access ramp to Ga. 166 and "began to move toward the officers" in what Schierbaum described as an "aggressive manner." That is when five officers discharged their weapons, he said. They then rendered aid to McVay, who was later pronounced dead at Grady Memorial Hospital.

A search is underway for the men who stormed into a South Carolina home where one person was killed and another was injured early Thursday, the Newberry County Sheriff's Office said. At about 2 a.m., a man called Newberry County 911 and claimed to have been shot during an attempted robbery. Deputies responded to a home on Green Meadows Drive, just outside the city of Newberry, and found a man who had been shot in the lower torso lying on the ground outside, according to the release. That victim said another person inside the house might have been shot, and deputies found the body of another victim in the backyard. Newberry County Coroner Laura Kneece identified the deceased victim as 31-year-old Broadway, North Carolina, resident Kier Leon Marsh, according to the release. Marsh resided at the Green Meadows Drive address at the time of the shooting, according to the release. The surviving victim told deputies that several men entered the home, began firing shots before leaving in a dark-colored sedan. Newberry County EMS treated the victim before he was flown to a nearby trauma center. There was no word if anything was stolen during what the sheriff's office called an attempted robbery, but those involved could face murder and attempted murder charges, among other crimes. The South Carolina Law Enforcement Division helped the sheriff's office process the scene, according to the release. The sheriff's office, coroner's office and SLED are continuing to investigate what Sheriff Lee Foster called an "isolated incident". An autopsy has been scheduled, according to the release.

A woman was shot at a Raleigh hotel on Thursday morning. Raleigh police responded to the Days Inn on South Wilmington Street around 2:30 a.m. Officers found a woman with a gunshot wound in her torso. The woman was taken to the hospital, but is expected to make a full recovery. Police do not have a suspect in custody.

A man was killed Wednesday and a woman was arrested on a murder charge following a domestic dispute, according to the Fairfield County Sheriff's Office. In addition to murder, 54-year-old Ridgeway resident Tammi Neal was also charged with possession of a weapon during a violent crime, the sheriff's office said in a news release. The Fairfield County Coroner's Office identified the victim as 44-year-old Ridgeway resident George Thomas Yorn Jr., according to the release. At about noon, deputies responded to a report of a stabbing at a Salutation Lane home, the sheriff's office said. That's in the Ridgeway area of Fairfield County, not far from Exit 34 on Interstate 77. Deputies discovered a man, later identified as Yorn, who had been stabbed in the chest, according to the release. One of the deputies provided aid, but Yorn died at the scene. No other injuries were reported. Both Yorn and Neal lived at the home. Neal was taken to the Fairfield County Detention Center. No bond has been set and she remains behind bars, Fairfield County court records show. Neal is scheduled to return to court on Jan. 22, 2025, according to judicial records.

Two people were found shot to death in a northwest Atlanta home late Thursday, according to police. The incident remained under investigation, but was possibly a murder-suicide. Officers were called at 10:18 p.m. to the 1000 block of Westmoor Drive in the Washington Park neighborhood, where they found a man and woman shot, police said. The man had what appeared to be a self-inflicted gunshot wound and the woman was found dead with a gunshot wound, according to police. Their names were not immediately released. No additional details were released by police.

DeKalb County firefighters worked Friday morning to extricate a man after his vehicle crashed in the woods. But when he was pulled from the vehicle, investigators determined the victim had died from a gunshot wound, authorities said. Officers were called to the 3500 block of Waldrop Road near Decatur at 8:35 a.m., according to Lt. Shane Smith with DeKalb police. The victim, whose name was not released, was believed to be in his 40s, Smith said. No further details were released about the shooting and crash, which remain under investigation.

A shooting at a bonfire in south Alabama has left a man dead and six juveniles injured, according to police. The shooting happened shortly before 11 p.m., in the area of Bellingrath Road and Laurendine Road in Mobile. Officials aren't releasing the name of the man who was killed until his family has been notified, said Blake Brown, public information officer for the Mobile Police Department. Two juveniles were transported to the hospital by ambulance, while four other juveniles arrived to local hospitals by personal vehicle, Brown said in a statement. "The extent of their injuries is unknown at this time," he said. "In all, 7 individuals were struck by gunfire." On Saturday afternoon, the Gun Violence Archive listed the deadly incident as one of 476 mass shootings in the U.S. and one of 25 in Alabama so far this year. A mass shooting is one in which four or more people are injured or killed.

Earlier this weekend, just before 11 p.m. on Friday, the [Atmore Police] department responded to a shooting at Point Escambia Apartments. The responding officers found 32-year-old Rakeem Phillips of Atmore suffering from multiple gunshot wounds. Phillips was transported to Atmore Community Hospital and then flown to a trauma center where he passed away due to his injuries. Officers were able to locate the suspect, 31-year-old Gelonte Giles of Atmore, and took him into custody. Giles was charged with Murder and transported to the Escambia County Detention Center. The investigation revealed that Giles and Phillips were involved in an altercation when Giles produced a firearm and fired between three to five rounds striking Phillips multiple times, according to the release.

A Montgomery police officer was arrested over the weekend on domestic violence charge. D'Anthony Green, 32, was charged Saturday with third-degree domestic violence-assault. Police Maj. Saba Coleman said at the time of Green's arrest, he was already on administrative leave from an unrelated incident. Details of both incidents have not yet been made public. Green joined the department in 2017 and was assigned to the Special Operations Division. Last year, Green was among four people injured when a fleeing suspect crashed into his police vehicle during a pursuit.

Five people, including a one-year-old boy and a five-year-old girl, were killed in a suspected murder-suicide at a DeKalb County apartment complex Saturday night, authorities said. The shooting, which is believed to be domestic-related, happened just before 7:30 p.m. along the 2100 block of Vineyard Walk inside an apartment, where Christmas lights surrounded a window facing the parking lot, police said. The address corresponds to the Vineyards at Flat Shoals. Details are limited, but when officers arrived for a wellness check, they found the two children and a 43-year-old woman, a 32-year-old man, and a 26-year-old woman dead from gunshot wounds, police said. Their names were not released. Detectives continue to investigate the shooting.

Two teenagers were arrested on multiple charges Sunday after leading deputies on a chase where shots were fired, according to the Richland County Sheriff's Department. The pair of 15-year-olds each were charged with counts of attempted murder, first-degree burglary, possession of stolen vehicle and failure to stop for blue lights and sirens, the sheriff's department said in a news release. At about 2:30 a.m., deputies tried to pull over what they said was a stolen vehicle on Winnsboro Road. That's in the Blythewood area of Richland County. The driver ignored the attempted traffic stop and led deputies on a chase. That's when the passenger in the vehicle leading the pursuit began shooting at deputies, according to the release. Another deputy shot at the teens as they drove by and was able to disable the vehicle using spike strips. The teens then ran away from the vehicle but were taken into custody after deputies set up a perimeter. Two guns were recovered and both teens were taken to a South Carolina Department of Juvenile Justice facility, the sheriff's department said. There was no word if there was an incident involving the teens prior to deputies identifying the stolen vehicle, but Sheriff Leon Lott is expected to hold a news conference Monday where more information is expected to be made available.

A South Carolina man was hospitalized Sunday after he was found with a stab wound inside his burning Midlands home, where a dead body was also discovered, according to the Newberry County Sheriff's Office. At about 2 p.m., deputies along with members of the Newberry County Fire Service responded to a call about a Green Acres Road home that was on fire. While emergency responders were on the way to the house another 911 call was made from the homeowner, who said that he had been stabbed and the person who attacked him also set his house on fire. The homeowner was taken by EMS to an area hospital with what the sheriff's office called a non-life-threatening injury. After firefighters from Silverstreet, Chappells, Friendly and Newberry Rescue Squad responded to the home and extinguished the blaze "a deceased victim" was found inside, the sheriff's office said. The Newberry County Coroner's Office has not publicly identified that victim, but is conducting an investigation into the cause of death. Investigators said the homeowner and another person got into an argument and the property owner was stabbed. After the stabbing, the accused attacker retreated into the home and a fire started, the sheriff's office said. The sheriff's office did not say if the person who is accused of assaulting the homeowner was the individual who died at the scene.

The Atmore Police Department is currently investigating two weekend shootings that left three people dead. A 75-year-old man was shot to death early Tuesday inside his Leeds home. Officers responded at 6:30 a.m. to a residence in the 8200 block of Jackson Avenue on a person shot. Police Chief Paul Irwin said a witness inside the home made the 911 call. When police arrived on the scene, they found Christopher Lee Smith dead from gunshot wounds. Police took a suspect into custody at the home. Investigators are interviewing witnesses, Irwin said, and Jacksonville State University Center for Applied Science responded to process the crime scene. “We are very upset that this has occurred and are very sad for the family and community,” Irwin said. “It is apparent that many people in our community love Mr. Smith.” “We are praying for them and want them to know that we are here to support them, especially during this difficult time,” the chief said. “One thing is for sure that in our city and this community everyone cares for each other, and we all have strong relationships.”

Amid the busy Christmas shopping season, Atlanta police are investigating an apparent smash-and-grab at a Lululemon store in the West Midtown area Tuesday morning. Details are limited, but police confirmed they are “investigating a business burglary at the location” on Howell Mill Road near 14th Street. A large glass door at the front of the shop was shattered and glass shards were piled up on the sidewalk as police combed the area for evidence. The incident took place before the store’s 10 a.m. opening. The shop, known for its yoga wear, leggings and athletic clothing, is situated within the Westside Provisions District, an upscale shopping area with a mix of clothing, home goods and dining establishments. Crime scene investigators were carefully swabbing surfaces for any evidence potentially left behind by the suspects. It is not clear how much merchandise, if any, was taken. Store representatives did not answer a phone call Tuesday morning.

A young man is dead after police say nearly 50 shots rang out in a west Birmingham neighborhood Tuesday night. West Precinct officers responded about 11:45 p.m. to a report of a person shot in the 1800 block of Princeton Court S.W. Alley. They arrived to find the victim off to the side of alley, dead from at least one gunshot wound. Sgt. LaQuitta Wade said at 10:10 p.m., officers were dispatched to the neighborhood on three different Shot Spotter notifications that registered a total of 49 rounds fired in the 1800 block of Princeton Court, which is in front of the location where the victim was found. During that first response to the area, officers retrieved some shell casings and recorded gunshot damage to two vehicles and a home. They did not, however, find anyone injured. More than an hour later they were called back to the neighborhood. It is believed that a family member of the victim found him dead. Investigators said it appears the victim ran after he was shot, and collapsed in the alley. Authorities have not released the name of the victim, but Wade said he is over the age of 18 and under the age of 25.

A 37-year-old man was killed in a shooting Wednesday at a Tuscaloosa apartment complex. Tuscaloosa police responded to the shooting at 11 a.m. at Forrester Gardens apartments on James I Harrison Jr. Parkway, Violent Crimes Unit Capt. Cobb County police said a man was carjacked, shot at, handcuffed, and then kidnapped. The encounter happened at Fair Oaks Park in Marietta. Police said he managed to get out of the car and run inside a restaurant on Austell Road to call 911. Surveillance video was captured by Young Einsteins Academy, which sits right across the street from the terrifying scene. “We do have parents that drop their kids off and pick their kids up so I’m just glad it didn’t happen in the hours that we were open,” said Renee Morgan, director at Young Einsteins Academy. Police arrested two people, an 18-year-old man, Edwin Flores Jr., and a 24-year-old woman, Nahomi Flores, who they believe were responsible. “These people do need to be held accountable for the actions that they are doing,” said Morgan. Police said the victim knew at least one of the suspects, so this was not a random attack. “I’m just glad that this young man was able to get away and go on with his life,” said Morgan.

A man was shot in the parking lot of a hospital after colliding with a security officer and fleeing, according to the South Carolina Law Enforcement Division. The man, who SLED has not identified, was shot by a security officer in the parking lot of the McLeod Regional Medical Center on Dec. 11 in Florence, according to a news release. The incident began when the man, while driving a 2016 Kia Soul, hit the vehicle of a security officer at the hospital, the release said. The security officer called for backup, prompting another officer to attempt to stop the man’s vehicle. The man did not stop and was eventually shot by the second security officer during the encounter, according to the release. No security personnel were injured during the incident, while the man driving the Kia was taken to the hospital for treatment, the release said. No other information was available as the investigation is ongoing, according to SLED.

A man was arrested after a suspected road rage incident at Hartsfield–Jackson International Airport in which the suspect allegedly sideswiped another driver's car and fired several shots at them, authorities said. According to Atlanta police, officers were called to the airport's South Terminal after getting reports of gunfire just before 2 p.m. Wednesday. The victim met the officers at the scene and explained that the incident took place just after they dropped off a client at the terminal's lower level, police said. The victim said the other driver became irate as they both tried to leave the airport. In that area, several lanes are quickly merged into one before traffic is directed toward the interstate. The suspect, a 29-year-old man, hit the victim's car, then fired shots and sped away, police said. The victim reported minor injuries along with damage to his vehicle, according to police. After gathering information at the airport, police canvassed areas nearby and found the suspect at a truck repair shop on Moreland Avenue near Fort Gillem, about eight miles from the site of the shooting. Police said charges against the suspect are forthcoming but did not share further information about the arrest, including the man's name.

A Cobb County man is accused of raping a woman nearly 50 years his senior at her home in front of her 5-year-old grandchild, according to arrest warrants. Ahmad Rucker Sr., 26, of Mableton, was arrested Friday on a dozen counts, including eight felonies, in connection with the rape of a 74-year-old woman, court documents show. He was booked into the Cobb jail Saturday and remains there without bond. Rucker lived less than a mile from the victim's home, where the alleged rape took place, court records indicate. According to Rucker's warrant, he forced his way into the home around 4 p.m. Friday. He is accused of beating the woman and inflicting a range of visible injuries, including two black eyes, a broken nose and a broken shoulder, leading to four misdemeanor charges of battery and one felony count of aggravated battery against someone 65 or older. The assault allegedly took place in front of the woman's granddaughter, resulting in a charge of second-degree cruelty to children. The warrant also accuses Rucker of imprisoning the victim in her own home and raping her. The nature of the sexual assault led police to charge him with one count of rape and two counts of aggravated sodomy. Cobb police have not responded to requests for more information about the incident. Rucker's address is on Brookside Drive in Mableton, a street that connects to the victim's neighborhood. The location is near the corner of Veterans Memorial Highway and Oakdale Road, just outside of I-285. Rucker's eight felony charges include: first-degree burglary, aggravated battery of a person 65 or older, rape, exploitation of an elderly person, false imprisonment, second-degree cruelty to children and two counts of aggravated sodomy.

A man was found injured in downtown Columbia near the University of South Carolina's School of Law, the Columbia Police Department announced. Just before 7 p.m. Friday, officers were called to the 1700 block of Gervais Street for a shooting, police said. An injured man was found outside and taken to a hospital by EMS. Investigators are trying to figure out what happened.

A man crashed a stolen tow truck into a store in central Apex, capping off a Saturday morning crime spree in dramatic fashion. The crash caused serious damage to the shop, Apex Coin & Currency, located at 703 E. Williams St. Police photos show the truck plowed through the front window and slammed into the back wall, crumbling bricks and cinder blocks and tossing guns and other merchandise outside. The bed of the truck was left hanging out of the front of the shop. Police said the tow truck was stolen from the inspection center next door. The suspected driver, whose identity police are withholding “pending further investigation,” is also accused of two assaults that began at the gas station on the corner. One of the victims was seriously hurt, police reported. The Apex Fire Department said nobody was inside the coin shop during the crash. Town officials condemned the building because of the structural damage. Police arrested the suspected driver at the scene and charged him with two counts of strongarm robbery; two counts of assault, one inflicting serious injury; larceny of a motor vehicle; and injury to property.

A man has died after what appears to be a fatal hit and run crash in Rock Hill Sunday night, police said. Officers found the 44-year-old in the street on Celanese Road near Interstate 77 before 6:45 p.m., the Rock Hill Police Department said in a statement. The man died later at Piedmont Medical Center hospital, police said. He has not been identified. It is believed the man who died was a pedestrian, Lt. Michael Chavis said Monday. “All indications are he was struck while on foot,” Chavis said. Police have not located the vehicle or driver involved in the collision, according to Chavis and the statement from the department. The department’s Serious Traffic Accident Reconstruction team continues to investigate. Celanese Road near I-77 is one of York County’s busiest streets with more than 47,000 vehicles per day on average, according to S.C. Department of Transportation statistics.

One teenager was killed Sunday and another was arrested following a shooting at a South Carolina home, according to the Richland County Sheriff's Department. A 14-year-old was charged with involuntary manslaughter and illegal possession of a weapon by a minor, the sheriff's department said in a news release. At about 10 a.m., deputies responded to a report of a shooting in the 100 block of Hunting Avenue. That's near the intersection with Lower Richland Boulevard in Hopkins, in the area between Garners Ferry Road and Leesburg Road. Inside the home, deputies found a 15-year-old victim in a chair. The teen had been shot in the upper body and was taken to a hospital, where the victim later died, the sheriff's department said. Hopkins resident Jayen Gladden is the 15-year-old who died, according to the Richland County Coroner's Office. The shooting happened after the 15-year-old visited their 14-year-old friend's home, according to the release. During the visit, the 14-year-old was handling a handgun near the victim, and while attempting to clear the weapon a single bullet was fired that hit the 15-year-old, the sheriff's department said. An investigation determined that the 14-year-old was at fault, according to the sheriff's department. There was no word if the 14-year-old was locked up in a detention facility. The sheriff's department said it's continuing to investigate where the teen got the gun.

A suspect was arrested after one person was killed and another was injured during a shooting Monday in East Point, police said. While officers were en route to the 3000 block of Washington Road after receiving reports of gunfire, officials said dispatch received several additional calls about multiple people fleeing the area and shots being fired. The incident was determined to have occurred near a Citgo gas station, Piggly Wiggly and other stores within a small strip mall at the intersection of Washington Road and Harris Drive. Police said they found shell casings in the parking lot, and a suspect was arrested “within the immediate area.” The suspect, who was not publicly identified, was taken to the East Point Detention Center. Detectives gathering information at the scene were eventually informed that “unknown individuals involved in the shooting” were located within the city of Atlanta, according to police. One man was taken to a hospital, and another was pronounced dead. Officials did not publicly identify them or clarify how they were involved in the gunfire.

A second juvenile has been arrested in connection with the fatal shooting of a 15-year-old in northeast Columbia earlier this week, the Richland County Sheriff's Department announced Friday. The 16-year-old juvenile was arrested Friday after investigators linked the teen to a shooting Monday on Quinton Lane, the sheriff's department posted on Facebook. The juvenile is charged with accessory before the fact and accessory after the fact, and will be transported and booked at the Department of Juvenile Justice. The sheriff's department earlier this week arrested a 14-year-old suspect in the shooting itself. That juvenile was charged with murder, possession of a weapon during a violent crime and possession of a handgun by a person under 18. The fatal shooting occurred just before 3 a.m. Monday in northeast Columbia. Roughly an hour later, a resident of the 200 block of Quinton Lane called 911 to report what they believed was a body on their back porch. Responding deputies found the 15-year-old victim on the porch with multiple gunshot wounds and no vital signs. The teen was pronounced dead at the scene. Sheriff's investigators quickly identified a suspect and, with the assistance of the Lexington County Sheriff's Department, served search and arrest warrants at a residence later that afternoon. The search resulted in the arrest of the 14-year-old suspect and the discovery of a firearm. Investigators are still working to determine how the juvenile obtained the gun, which had not been reported stolen. The shooting was one of three unrelated shootings in Richland County last weekend that killed two teenagers and left another critically wounded. In the aftermath of the shootings, Richland County Sheriff Leon Lott held a press conference where he called Montgomery police are investigating a shooting that critically injured a man. The shooting happened around 3:00 p.m. Monday in the 2200 block of Upper Wetumpka Road. Once officers arrived, they found an adult male victim with a life-threatening gunshot wound. The unidentified victim was taken to a local hospital for treatment. No word on any suspects at this time.

A National Guard sergeant and married father is being remembered for his smile and dedication to his daughters, his family said Wednesday. Abraham “Ab” Suarez Santiago died Tuesday when a domestic dispute led a friend’s husband to shoot him, the Paulding County Sheriff’s Office said. Shortly after midnight, deputies were called to Windsor View Lane near Villa Rica about a report that Rick Joseph Reed and his wife had gotten into a dispute at the home, according to officials. “Responding deputies arrived on scene and observed numerous people near the roadway and a body on the ground,” spokesperson Maj. Donny Pace said. Following the dispute, investigators said Santiago, the woman’s friend, arrived at the home. “Ultimately, the male friend was allegedly shot by Reed near the roadway, where he succumbed to his injuries,” Pace said. Reed was arrested and charged with murder and aggravated assault. He was being held without bond in the Paulding jail. Santiago joined the National Guard in 2008, according to a Facebook post by the 1160th Transportation Company. “Sgt. Suarez was an outstanding soldier whom many looked up to, regardless the unit he served in,” the company posted. A GoFundMe page was also created to assist his family with funeral costs. “Anyone that knows Ab knows Ab would light up a room and was always smiling,” the fundraiser stated. “Ab was a great father and overall person.” The GBI is assisting with the investigation.

Two people are behind bars after police say a man was robbed at gunpoint during a supposed car sale brokered on Facebook Marketplace. Briana Bonds, 23, and Earron Bryant, 28, are charged with first-degree robbery, Birmingham police announced Friday. Just after 8 p.m. Tuesday, East Precinct officers responded to an armed robbery call in the 700 block of 81st Place South. Officer Truman Fitzgerald said once they arrived, they spoke with a man who told he went to the address to buy a 2015 Chrysler 200 he saw advertised on the social media platform. The seller, a woman, requested cash payment. When the man arrived, he was robbed. Patrol officers launched an immediate investigation, which led to them to the 7500 Block of 67th Courtway South. Bonds and Bryant were taken into custody at that location. After being interviewed by detectives, the suspects were booked into the Birmingham City Jail on a 48-hour hold pending the ongoing investigation. The Jefferson County Magistrate's Office then issued the robbery warrants. Police want the public to be reminded that all four police precincts, as well as BPD headquarters, can be used as an online purchase safe meeting spot.

Durham police have charged a 16-year-old with murder and conspiracy to commit murder in a shooting that left another teenager dead late Tuesday night. Neither teen's name will be released by police due to their ages. Officers responded around 11 p.m. to the 2500 block of South Roxboro Street where they found a 17-year-old who had been shot. He was pronounced dead at the scene. Police have not provided any other details in the killing. As of Monday, 215 people had been shot this year in Durham. That was up from 198 people shot by the same time last year but down from 232 the year before that. More people shot this year have survived, police statistics show. Thirty-two people shot this year have died, compared to 39 and 38 people who were fatally shot by the same time in the two prior years. At least 11 people shot this year have been 16 or 17 years old, including Tuesday's victim.

An Orangeburg County man is facing multiple criminal charges after authorities say he burned alive a woman's dog Wednesday during a domestic dispute. Desmond Brown, 28, of Norway, allegedly tossed the pit bull puppy into a fire while the woman was burning his clothes, Orangeburg County Sheriff Leroy Ravenell said in a statement. The dog's gruesome death was broadcast live on Facebook, according to a police report. "I've seen some extremely despicable and disgusting things in my career," Ravenell said in a statement, "but this is one of the worst." Sheriff's investigators responded to Brown's Norfield Drive home Wednesday morning after receiving reports of a domestic dispute during which he allegedly threw a woman's dog into a fire, police reports state. Both Brown and the woman initially denied the animal abuse and investigators were unable to find the dog's remains, the sheriff's office said. While searching for the dog, however, investigators found two Dodge Chargers on the property that had been reported stolen, Ravenell said. The woman, who lives at the property, told investigators Brown had said they were his vehicles. Later that day, investigators obtained video of the dog being burned alive and confirmed it was deceased, the sheriff's office said in its statement. Brown, who was arrested Thursday, was charged with ill treatment of animals, two counts of domestic violence, two counts of possession of a stolen vehicle and one count of receiving stolen goods/chop shop, court records show. A judge ordered him held without bond, Orangeburg County Sheriff's Office spokesman Richard Walker said.

Two men were shot to death at a South Fulton home Wednesday morning during a fight that broke out as the alleged shooter was trying to move out, according to Fulton County court documents. Malcombe Hill, 37, and Tijuan Heard, 35, were gunned down in the home on Bellmist Drive sometime before 3 a.m., a warrant details. Zj' Xari Taylor faces multiple charges, including two counts each of murder, aggravated assault and possession of a firearm in the commission of a felony. He was arrested at a hospital after being taken for a possible gunshot wound to his hand. The shooting was the culmination of a fight that started around noon the day before the incident, court records show. According to a warrant for his arrest, Taylor had been staying at the home with Hill since mid-October. In the hours leading up to the shooting, the men had an argument over the use of a vehicle, and eventually Hill told Taylor to leave. What followed was several attempts by Taylor to retrieve his belongings from inside the house, including multiple calls to police by both Taylor and Hill, the warrant states. Each time, police responded and eventually left after the parties were uncooperative. By 2 a.m. Wednesday, Taylor called a family member to help him get his belongings. The woman arrived and asked Hill and Heard, who was also inside the house, to let them in to pack Taylor's things. At some point, another argument broke out between the men. The woman tried to intervene, but Taylor told police that Hill "punched" her. Taylor then alleged that Hill "removed an unknown object from his waistband," which prompted Taylor to fire several rounds, killing Hill. "Taylor stated that Mr. Heard then began advancing toward him without a weapon, and he fired at him as well, striking and killing him," police

A suspect has been charged in a double shooting in Leeds that critically wounded his wife and killed her boyfriend. Charles Richard Bryant, 40, is charged with capital murder in the Wednesday death of 25-year-old Luis Enrique Herrera-Valenciana. The charge is capital because the killing happened during a burglary. Police said Bryant kicked in the door to the mobile home before opening fire. He is also charged with attempted murder of his wife. The status of their marriage was not immediately available. Police responded just before 1 p.m. Wednesday to a mobile home in the 700 block of Morgan Street. Herrera-Valenciana was pronounced dead on the scene at 1:28 p.m. Chief Paul Irwin said a female victim was taken to UAB Hospital with life-threatening injuries. Bryant was taken into custody at the scene. He is being held without bond in the Jefferson County Jail. The Irondale Police Department and the Jacksonville State Center for Applied Forensics assisted in the investigation.

A man who exchanged gunfire with officers in Coweta County, sparking a massive manhunt on Wednesday, was arrested two days later, officials said. A Georgia State Patrol K-9 was shot during the initial incident but survived. Investigators knew exactly who they were looking for the entire time: Ira Troy Williams, 51, had allegedly given a state trooper his driver's license on Wednesday. By Friday evening, officials announced that Williams had been taken into custody by the State Patrol and the Coweta Sheriff's Office. No other details were released about his apprehension in Grantville. The GBI said arrest warrants charging Williams with aggravated assault against a police officer were issued Thursday. While Williams was on the run, residents in the Grantville area were urged to remain cautious and alert. The Marshals Service said earlier Friday that it was offering a reward of up to $5,000 for information that could help lead them to Williams. It all started shortly before 2 p.m. Wednesday when a trooper attempted to stop a Chevrolet Cruze on I-85 for a traffic violation, according to the State Patrol and GBI. Williams gave his driver's license to the trooper but then left the scene, initiating a chase, the GBI said. "During the chase, Williams fired a weapon several times from his car at troopers and Coweta County deputies who joined the chase," the GBI said. "The troopers returned gunfire." Troopers performed several PIT maneuvers, or precision immobilization techniques, to disable the Chevrolet, the GBI said. When the vehicle chase ended in Grantville, Williams got out of his car and again fired his weapon several times at troopers while running away, according to investigators. Williams may have been injured during the incident and was considered armed and dangerous while on the run, the GBI said. Other than the K-

Two men are in custody after a police chase that began in Homewood and ended in north Birmingham. Officers recovered 10 guns from the vehicle and said the pair is suspected in 18 vehicle burglaries that happened overnight in Moody. Homewood police Sgt. Mark Trippe said officers tried to stop a vehicle Thursday in the 200 block of Robert Jemison Road. The officers suspected someone in the vehicle was being sought by U.S. Marshals on multiple federal arrest warrants. The driver refused to stop, Trippe said, and spike strips were deployed. The pursuit continued until coming to an end on 27th Street North near 22nd Avenue in Birmingham. The driver and passenger were taken into custody without further incident. Of the 10 guns seized from the vehicle, three were confirmed stolen, Trippe said. Drugs were also confiscated from the vehicle. Paul Gilbert Hinkle, 36, of Birmingham, is charged with felony attempting to elude, unlawful possession of a controlled substance and second-degree receiving stolen property. He had outstanding warrants from the U.S. Marshals on a weapons offense, as well multiple burglary charges from three different Mississippi counties. Rashawn Rodrekus Taylor, 24, of Tuscaloosa, is charged with unlawful possession of a controlled substance and second-degree receiving stolen property. Taylor also had outstanding warrants with the U.S. Marshals and in Mississippi.

The investigation continues into a Montgomery shooting that left a 13-year-old boy dead. The shooting happened just before 2 a.m. Thursday. Montgomery Maj. Saba Coleman said police and fire medics found the young teen fatally shot in the 100 block of West Fred D. Gray Avenue. Police previously reported the deadly shooting but provided updated information Sunday night to include the victim's age. His name has not been released. Circumstances surrounding the shooting have not been made public. Coleman said the boy's death was a homicide.

A male pedestrian was fatally struck early Thursday evening in a hit-and-run collision in northeast Columbia, police said. On Sunday, the victim was identified as 71-year-old Columbia resident John Corbett, according to Richland County Coroner Naida Rutherford. Corbett was hit around 6 p.m. Thursday in the 5400 block of Farrow Road, the Columbia Police Department said. That's between Varn and Busby streets, in the vicinity of a Cheap Way gas station. At the time, the circumstances of the crash were unknown. The department's Traffic Safety Unit was investigating.

The Cary Police Department is asking for the public's help in three shootings over four days that left one person dead and two people injured. The first shooting was reported shortly after 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the 500 block of Berry Chase Way, a residential area off McCrimmon Parkway, police said. A woman with multiple gunshot wounds was taken to the hospital and was in stable condition with non-life-threatening injuries as of Saturday morning, according to a news release. Just over 24 hours later, Cary police received a report of a shooting in the Green Parking Deck at the upscale Fenton shopping center at 8:45 p.m. Friday. Officers found 23-year-old Corey Edward McNeill dead from a gunshot wound inside a vehicle. Malik Emaje Scott-McClarin, 24, turned himself in shortly after McNeill's body was discovered, officials said. He was charged with murder and is being held in the Wake County Detention Center. His bail was set at $1.5 million secured Monday, court records show. WRAL reported prosecutors said Monday that Scott-McClarin told investigators the shooting was accidental. Cary police said in a press release that Scott-McClarin and McNeill knew each other and the shooting was "an isolated incident." In the third incident, a man was shot about 8:30 p.m. Sunday in the parking lot of the Burlington Coat Factory at 1745 Walnut St., police said. He was taken to the hospital with a gunshot wound to the leg and is expected to recover. Police announced Monday they'd identified a person of interest in the shooting but declined to release the names of anyone involved due to the ongoing investigation.

A Millbrook man is in custody after police say he stole a woman's purse out of her vehicle. Millbrook Police Chief PK Johnson tells Action 8 News that officers responded to a business in the 2100 block of Main Street Friday after receiving a call that a theft occurred from a vehicle. Once officers arrived, the female victim told them that she left her vehicle unsecured and went inside a business to make a purchase. When she returned, she noticed that her purse had been stolen. After viewing video surveillance, officers noticed a male suspect, who was standing near the roadway adjacent to the business, make entry into the victim's vehicle and remove the victim's purse, then fled the scene. Officers viewing the video recognized the suspect, later identified as 28-year-old Kison Tymes. Chief Johnson said Tymes lives in the area where the theft occurred. Shortly after the offense occurred, an officer noticed leaving the suspect's home. Police say the suspect was wearing the same clothing as what was in the surveillance video. Officers later took Tymes into custody. Chief Johnson said Tymes also was wanted on active misdemeanor warrants by the Millbrook Municipal Court. Officers were able to locate several items, including the victim's purse. Tymes has been charged with Unlawful Breaking and Entering a Vehicle and two counts of 3rd Theft of Property. He is currently in the Elmore County Jail.

Lumberton police have one man in custody and are looking for another after a Walmart shooting that left a 42-year-old woman dead. Brian Campbell, 18, surrendered to police on Monday. He is charged with accessory after the fact and is being held on $1 million bond. Ezekiel Burden, 17, who faces charges of first-degree murder, discharging a firearm within an enclosure to incite fear, and going armed to the terror of the people, is still wanted in the case. On Friday just before 4 p.m., officers responded to reports of a shooting at Walmart, located at 5070 Fayetteville Road. Upon arrival, police and other responding agencies found Olson with a gunshot wound at the Woodforest Bank inside the store. She later died at the hospital. According to police the suspects were targeting two individuals they knew, who were standing at the bank. Olson was an innocent bystander and not involved in the confrontation.

A U.S. Army installation in Georgia was locked down Saturday after a person was shot and killed in what base authorities described as an isolated incident. The shooter was apprehended and taken into custody, and an “all clear” was given about two hours after Fort Eisenhower went into lockdown, the installation’s operations center said on social media. The shooting took place at housing located on the base, which is located outside Augusta, Georgia, authorities said. Information about the victim will not be released until their family has been notified, according to the base. The Department of the Army Criminal Investigation Division was leading the investigation. “Fort Eisenhower is actively supporting the victim’s family and assistance will be available to anyone impacted by this tragedy,” the installation said in a statement. Fort Eisenhower issued the alert on social media Saturday morning with a “LOCK DOWN! LOCK DOWN!” message. “Execute lock down procedures on the installation immediately! If you are in danger take appropriate action,” the message said. A short time later, the operations center said the threat had passed and that normal operations could resume. However, the base canceled activities related to the afternoon’s Army–Navy football game, which was being played outside Washington. The base’s public affairs officer, a spokesperson for the base’s medical center and a spokesperson for the nearby Richmond County Sheriff’s Office didn’t immediately return phone calls. Formerly named Fort Gordon, the installation is home to the United States Army Cyber Command.

Authorities released video footage Monday of a suspect accused of stabbing a man to death in downtown Atlanta over the weekend. The victim, a 54-year-old man, was found early Saturday in the 100 block of Trinity Avenue, Atlanta police said. He was later identified as Erman P. Hendricks Jr. by the Fulton County Medical Examiner's Office. Officers responded to the location near Atlanta City Hall and an apartment complex around 4:25 a.m. Authorities said they found Hendricks suffering from an apparent stab wound. He was pronounced dead at the scene. According to police, investigators believe the victim was stabbed by another man in an unprovoked attack. Police shared video footage from multiple surveillance cameras downtown that showed a bearded man they believe to be the suspect wearing light-colored sweatpants, a dark hoodie and a light-colored scarf.

One South Carolina man was killed Saturday in a shooting and another has been arrested, officials said. Samuel Raymond Wright, a 47-year-old Greenwood resident, was shot and taken to an area hospital where he died during surgery at 4:43 a.m., the Greenwood County Coroner's Office said. Another Greenwood resident, 23-year-old Bryson Thomas Long, was charged with murder and possession of a weapon during the commission of a violent crime, according to the Greenwood County Sheriff's Office. At about 2:20 a.m. Saturday, deputies responded to a call about a shooting near S.C. 72 in Greenwood where they found a crowd gathered around an unresponsive victim. The victim, who was later identified as Wright, had been in an argument with Long prior to the shooting, according to the sheriff's office. Information about why the men were arguing was not available and there was no word if they knew each other prior to the incident. Witnesses identified Long as the suspected gunman, and he left the scene following the shooting, the sheriff's office said. Deputies searched the area and found Long when he was coming out of nearby woods, according to the sheriff's office. Long was taken into custody without incident and is being held at the Greenwood County Detention Center, the sheriff's office said. Bond was denied on both charges and Long remains behind bars, jail records show. Despite the arrest, the death continues to be investigated by the sheriff's office and coroner's office.

A teen was injured Saturday evening outside a Hoover shopping center. Shortly before 6 p.m. Saturday, Hoover 911 Center received a call about an 18-year-old male who entered Office Depot with multiple gunshot wounds. Responding police officers and paramedics with the Hoover Fire Department administered first aid and transported the victim to UAB Hospital where he remains in critical condition, said Lt. Daniel Lowe. Hoover police believe the victim was shot in the parking lot of Wendy's nearby. The SUV he was in then drove to the nearby Office Depot. The investigation is in its early stages and detectives are following up on several leads to identify a suspect.

Gwinnett County police have found the suspected getaway car of a man accused of fatally shooting his wife over the weekend, though the suspect remains at large, officials announced Thursday. At about 7 p.m. Saturday, officers were called to a residence on Creeldale Drive after a 911 operator was told that a woman was suffering from a gunshot wound inside, Gwinnett police spokeswoman Lt. Michele Pihera said. When officers and county firefighters arrived at the home, they found the woman dead. She was identified by police as 31-year-old Jackmerly Jouselis Hernandez-Rodriguez of Norcross. At the scene, police vehicles illuminated the night sky outside the house, where lights from a Christmas tree were still visible in an upstairs window. Authorities said other witnesses were at the house, located near Lucky Shoals Park and Jimmy Carter Boulevard. During the investigation, police identified the suspect as 35-year-old Victor Jose Yaraure Morillo, who fled the residence in a 2016 black Toyota Corolla that is missing a passenger-side hubcap. On Thursday, the vehicle was recovered but was unoccupied, Gwinnett County police Cpl. Juan Madiado said in a statement. "Crime scene investigators, alongside detectives, are currently processing the vehicle. Victor Jose Yaraure Morillo is still at large," Madiado said. Morillo and Hernandez-Rodriguez lived in the home and were divorced, officials said, though it was unclear how recently. According to authorities, Morillo is about 5-foot-6 and 110 pounds with brown eyes and black hair. Police had stated earlier that he was 4-foot-11. He is wanted on charges of murder, aggravated assault and possession of a firearm during the commission of a felony.

A 75-year-old man who allegedly shot his wife in the back on Sunday was prevented by his family from firing the gun again, according the Hartselle Police Department. Jerry Oneal Hutto was being held on $200,000 bond for domestic violence first degree. Police were called to the scene of the shooting in the 1600 block of Barkley Bridge Road. Hutto left the scene before officers arrived. "Officers issued a BOLO and Hutto was apprehended by Lawrence County Sheriff's Office and transported Morgan Country Jail," a police statement read. Hutto's wife is suffered a non-life-threatening event. Investigators planned to speak with her at Huntsville Hospital.

A 34-year-old man was killed in a shooting early Sunday in Montgomery. Police on Monday identified the victim as Hector Figueroa. Montgomery police and fire medics were dispatched at 1:41 a.m. to the 4400 block of Virginia Loop Road on a report of a person shot. Maj. Saba Coleman said Figueroa was pronounced dead on the scene. Details surrounding the deadly shooting have not been released.

A person found dead in the back seat of a burning vehicle in northwest Atlanta on Sunday morning had been shot, officials said. Crews were called just after 7:20 a.m. to a vehicle fire in the 30 block of Wadley Street, according to Atlanta fire spokesperson Anare Holmes. The residential area is near Verbena Street and just north of I-20. At the scene, firefighters extinguished the blaze before arson investigators found a body in the back seat of the car, officials said. Police said they later determined the victim had been shot several times. Their name was not released. Officials have not provided the make or model of the vehicle.

The Harnett County Sheriff's Office is investigating a crash on Interstate 95 near Dunn, where a man was shot twice by someone in another car Sunday. Around 5 p.m., the State Highway Patrol said a trooper responded to a report of a crash on I-95 in the northbound lanes near mile marker 70, south of Dunn. There the trooper found a 31-year-old passenger in a 2015 white Chrysler 200 with two gunshot wounds. The man had been shot by someone from another moving vehicle. The victim was wounded so seriously that he was rushed to Betsy Johnson Hospital in Dunn by the trooper in his patrol car because there wasn't time to wait for an ambulance. The victim has been listed in stable condition. A woman was driving the car at the time, but she was not seriously injured. The Harnett County Sheriff's Office is investigating the incident. The left northbound lane was briefly closed but has since reopened. The identity of the shooter remains unknown.

The Morgan County Sheriff's Office is no longer maintaining that a suspect killed by deputies fired at the officers after the investigation revealed that the man was holding a fake gun when he was fatally shot. The suspect, identified Tuesday by the Alabama Law Enforcement Agency's State Bureau of Investigation as 41-year-old Decatur resident Drew Patterson Banks, was shot dead by deputies following a vehicle chase. Priceville officers tried to conduct a traffic stop on the vehicle Banks was driving, which was reported stolen, according to the SBI. The driver refused to stop and a chase ensued with Morgan County sheriff's deputies assisting the Priceville officers. The pursuit ended at Thompson Road and Byrd Road in Morgan County, when Banks allegedly exited the vehicle "with what appeared to be a handgun," according to the SBI. "Upon further investigation, it was determined that the firearm was a full-sized replica of a Sig Sauer 1911 semiautomatic handgun," the agency said. Banks was then fatally shot. No officers were injured. In a Facebook post, the sheriff's office initially said Monday that "the subject shot at deputies, who returned fire." On Tuesday, the office edited its post to say "the subject pointed a firearm, later determined by ALEA Investigators to be a replica handgun, at Deputies and Officers, who returned fire." The post no longer makes any mention of Banks firing at officers.

A woman whom Scotland Neck Police call "a repeat offender" surrendered on Christmas Day on a charge of attempted murder. Tarniquia Scott, of Enfield, is suspected of shooting two men Monday. Police said she lay in wait and ambushed the two men in a car in 500 block of East 8th Street. Both were injured, and they drove to the police department where their wounds were determined not to be life-threatening. Scott, police said, "possesses a violent criminal history and is presently on probation for an assault that caused serious injury." Scott faces charges of possession of a firearm by a felon and assault with a deadly weapon. She was being held without bond.

Police are investigating after a man was found shot to death inside a crashed car in northern Durham early Monday morning. Authorities have released the names of two men killed in separate shootings in Jefferson County during a 48-hour period over the Christmas holiday. The Jefferson County Coroner's Office on Thursday identified the victims as Brandon Montez McIlwain, 35, of Birmingham, and Jerry Dewayne Robinson, 20, also of Birmingham. A third man, who was killed Monday night, was an adult Black male but has not yet been identified, said Chief Deputy Coroner Bill Yates. The bloodshed began Monday night when the unknown man was shot in eastern Jefferson County. Sheriff's deputies were dispatched at 11:50 p.m. Monday to a report of a person down in the 200 block of Polly Reed Road, said sheriff's spokesman Henry Irby. They arrived to find the victim wounded by gunfire. Center Point Fire and Rescue rushed him to UAB Hospital where he was pronounced dead at 12:31 a.m. No arrests have been announced. The, nearly 24 hours later, Hoover police at 9:59 p.m. responded to a 911 call at an apartment in the 2200 block of Rime Village Drive. Lt. Daniel Lowe said officers found McIlwain suffering from a gunshot wound. Police and firefighters attempted life-saving measures, but he was pronounced dead at 11:49 p.m. shortly after arriving at UAB Hospital. Lowe said a 29-year-old male suspect, an acquaintance of the victim, was detained at the scene. Detectives believe the suspect and victim got into a physical fight inside the apartment. The suspect then fired his gun, striking the victim multiple times. A motive has not been disclosed. Detectives will present the evidence to the Jefferson County District Attorney's Office for consideration of charges.

A man is in custody after a stabbing Tuesday in Wake County. According to the Wake County Sheriff's Office, deputies responded to a reported stabbing on Tuesday in the 600 block of Academy Street near Raleigh. When they arrived, they found a man suffering from a stab wound. The man was later taken to the hospital with non-life-threatening injuries. During their investigation, deputies arrested and charged 57-year-old Omar Satiel Rodrigo-Ramirez with felony assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill or inflicting serious injury and misdemeanor assault on a female for a domestic dispute that happened before the stabbing. Deputies told WRAL News the investigation is ongoing.

A shooting left a woman dead and a man injured at an encampment on Christmas Eve, according to Gainesville police. Officers responded to the camp near Dosey Street around 4 a.m. and found one victim, identified as Ashley Marie Hill, at the scene, authorities said. She was pronounced dead. Another victim, Marcus Robinson, 36, was taken to Northeast Georgia Medical Center, police said. Police did not share Hill's age or detail the severity of Robinson's injuries. According to investigators, the suspect had already left the scene. "With the help of witnesses and other occupants of the camp, police were able to quickly identify Demetrius Few, 37, of Gainesville, as the suspect," officials said. Gainesville police and Hall County Sheriff's Office later found Few in the area and arrested him. Few was booked into the jail and faces a charge of malice murder and aggravated assault. Police said more charges are forthcoming.

Montgomery police are investigating a robbery of a business in East Montgomery. Maj. Saba Coleman tells Action 8 News that around 11:08 a.m. on Christmas Eve, officers responded to the 7800 block of Vaughn Road in response to a robbery. Once they arrived, contact was made with a victim who told officers that two unknown suspects entered the business demanding money and then fled on foot. It is MPD's policy not to release the name of businesses. Maj. Coleman said no one was injured and no arrests have been made.

Roswell police are searching for a man whom they believe killed his girlfriend and then dumped her body in a ditch near a popular walking trail, where she was found on Christmas Eve. Roberto Dominguez Soto, 49, is wanted on murder charges. He is also being sought by Interpol on firearms charges, officials said. Around 3:15 p.m. Tuesday, Roswell officers were called to the area of Azalea Drive near Atlanta Street after a passerby reported seeing a possibly deceased person, officials said. The location is along the Chattahoochee River near Riverside Park and not far from St. Andrew Catholic Church. When police arrived, they found the woman near the road and confirmed she had died, according to authorities. She was identified as Blanca Sauer, 47, of Sandy Springs. Investigators noticed she had suffered at least one gunshot wound, and they believe she was killed at another location. It's not clear if she died the same day. "This is a heartbreaking situation, especially during the holiday season, and our hearts go out to the family and loved ones of Ms. Sauer," said Roswell police Chief James Conroy, in a statement. "We are committed to bringing justice to those affected by this senseless act of targeted violence." Roswell police are working with state, federal and international authorities to locate Dominguez Soto. He should be considered armed and dangerous, they said. No other information about the case has been released.

Two young women are dead following a double shooting on Christmas Eve in Lee County, and their alleged killer has been charged with capital murder. The Lee County Sheriff's Office 911 Center received a call around 3:48 p.m. Tuesday about gunfire near Lee County Road 2113 and Highway 29 North in the Beulah community, the office said. Deputies responded to a home in the 100 block of Lee County Road 2113, where they found the two victims, ages 18 and 19, suffering from gunshot wounds and unresponsive along with an 18-year-old man suspected of shooting the women. Lee County Coroner Daniel Sexton pronounced the victims dead at the scene. Sexton identified the slain women as 18-year-old Madison Daly and 19-year-old Kayden Lynch, both of Beulah. The victims, according to the sheriff's office, were not related but listed their address as the home where the shooting occurred. Tributes were posted to the roommates on social media. "My beautiful beautiful sweet angels I hate he took y' all from us we will miss y' all so very much , I'm still in shock I need you to come I miss you so much I just wanna hear y' all laugh and talk and come pick me up to go on crazy rides I love y' all so much may y' all rest," read one post. Another shared a photo of Lynch, writing, " We will miss you sweet baby." "They will definitely be missed !!" wrote another who knew the roommates. The investigation revealed the 18-year-old male suspect reportedly assaulted his mother, who lived next door to the home where Daly and Lynch lived, earlier on Christmas Eve. The suspect, who was not publicly identified, then allegedly took a gun from his mother's house. Witnesses reported hearing gunfire before 911 was called. Two 9-year-old twin girls had been at the home but left prior to the shooting, the sheriff's office said.

Police arrested a South Carolina man in connection with a Christmas Eve shooting in Rock Hill that left another man wounded, officials said. Rock Hill Police Department officers took Semaj Malik Bernard Evans, 21, of Florence, into custody Tuesday after a foot chase, police said in a statement. The shooting happened around 5:30 p.m. in the 200 block of Robinson Street, the police statement said. The victim, a 25-year-old man, had been shot several times, police said. The victim and Evans were arguing in a yard before Evans allegedly pulled out a gun and shot the victim, according to the police statement. Police arrested Evans after finding him on Carolina Avenue, the statement said. The victim was taken to Piedmont Medical Center hospital for injuries, the statement said. Police have not identified the victim and his condition Thursday was unclear. Officials have not released what the argument was about or why Evans was in Rock Hill. Florence is about 100 miles east in the Pee Dee region of South Carolina. Two houses were hit by gunfire, according to the police statement. Evans is charged with attempted murder, possession of a weapon during a violent crime, illegal carrying of a handgun, and two counts of discharging a firearm into a dwelling, according to police and York County jail records. He remained in jail Thursday under a $225,000 bond, records show.

A woman was fatally shot on Christmas Eve in southwest Atlanta, police said. Officers were called to the 1100 block of Smith Street in the Pittsburgh neighborhood shortly after 6 p.m. The victim was found with an apparent gunshot wound and was pronounced dead at the scene, according to authorities. The woman was not publicly identified. No information was provided on a suspect or what led to the shooting.

A suspect has been charged in the deadly Christmas Eve shooting of another man in Hoover. Anthony Keith Russell, 29, is charged with murder in the killing of 35-year-old Brandon Montez McIlwain. Both men were from Birmingham. Officers were dispatched on a 911 call at 10:59 p.m. Tuesday to an apartment in the 2200 block of Rime Village Drive. First responders attempted life-saving measures on McIlwain. He was rushed to UAB Hospital where he was pronounced dead. Lt. Daniel Lowe said both men were visiting the resident of the apartment. The suspect and the victim began fighting of a handgun, with Russell eventually gaining control of the weapon. The weapon discharged several times, with at least two rounds striking McIlwain. Russell was taken into custody at the scene. Detectives presented the evidence to the Jefferson County District Attorney's Office which issued the murder warrant, Lowe said. Russell, who has been held in the Hoover City Jail, will be transferred to the Jefferson County Jail where he will be held without bond. McIlwain's death is the first non-traffic homicide to happen in Hoover since Oct.1, 2022.

The Mobile County Sheriff's Office is investigating a shooting that injured two people on Christmas. The shooting happened in the area of McDonald Road and I-10 around 1 p.m. on Christmas Day. Two people were admitted to a hospital for treatment of gunshot wounds, the sheriff's office said in a press release. In an interview with detectives, a woman said that she was driving on McDonald Road when a man in a burgundy Hyundai with a Virginia tag fired into her vehicle. She said they were headed north toward I-10 when the Hyundai began to slow down and make multiple break checks. When the Hyundai was driving parallel with her, she saw an unknown black male driving the vehicle, according to the sheriff's office. The woman told detectives the man then smiled at her and fired a shot, striking her vehicle. The woman suffered a gunshot wound to her leg, the release said. A second victim, who was in the passenger seat, then returned one shot to the suspect's vehicle. The woman said she drove her passenger to a local hospital after seeing him slumped over on his side with a serious gunshot injury to his neck. The passenger was immediately transported to another local hospital because of his injuries and is listed in critical condition, the sheriff's office said.

A 21-year-old man has been charged with murder after a Conyers woman was killed and her husband was injured in a Christmas Day shooting in Walton County, authorities said. Monroe police responded just after 6 p.m. to a home in the 400 block of Maple Way, located a short distance from U.S. 78. When officers arrived, they found Tyesha Colley, 35, dead at the scene. Her husband, Jermaul Colley, 41, had also been shot. Police have not released information on the severity of his injuries. Late Wednesday night, police arrested 21-year-old Devin Sullivan at an apartment in the 600 block of Plaza Trace, about two miles away, officials said. Sullivan, of Monroe, was then booked into the Walton County Jail on charges of murder and aggravated assault, according to online records. Police said other charges are pending. A motive is unclear and authorities have not shared how Sullivan knew the victims.

Rocky Mount police are searching for a suspect in an attempted murder. Jenatus Gray Manning is also facing charges of assault with a deadly weapon inflicting serious injury and shooting in the city limits. The charges stem from a shooting that left a 37-year-old man injured on Wednesday just before 6:30 p.m. in the 1300 block of Maple Street. The man, whose name was not released, is expected to recover. Police said that an argument between the two men took place before the shooting.

An investigation is underway after a deadly Christmas night shooting in the Center Point area. Birmingham police and Jefferson County sheriff's deputies responded to the scene just after 8:30 p.m. Wednesday. The location is a neighborhood in the 500 block of 26th Avenue N.W. According to police radio traffic, the victim was shot in unincorporated Jefferson County and ran a block before collapsing inside the city limits. The victim was pronounced dead on the scene. Because the shooting happened in the unincorporated area, the sheriff's office will handle the investigation. No additional details have been released. It is the second deadly shooting in the Center Point area in under 48 hours. On Monday, at 11:50 p.m., police responded to a report of a person down in the 200 block of Polly Reed Road. He later died.

Early Thursday morning, seven people were shot in the 1000 block of Triple Hill Drive in Macon, according to a release from the Bibb County Sheriff's Office. The release said Jawasiki Guyton, 34, died in the hospital just after 3:00 a.m. The next of kin has been informed. One 33-year-old man is in critical condition. The five other people hurt in the shooting are expected to recover. Coroner Leon Jones said the shooting happened at 1085 Triple Hill Drive. That's off Houston Avenue in south Macon. The sheriff's office said that, when deputies arrived at the scene, they found three people shot. They eventually learned that four others were brought to the hospital in personal vehicles. Bibb County's first homicide of 2024 happened at the same address. At the time, neighbors called the home a "shot house," where people illegally served liquor by the drink. On the day of the shooting, neighbors said they were used to hearing gunshots and loud noises overnight in that neighborhood.

Huntsville police are investigating a shooting that happened this morning, leaving one woman dead. Just after 5:30 a.m., officers responded to the 500 block of Webster Drive near Garrison Street Northwest for a possible shooting in progress. When they arrived, they found Justice Nicole Shoulders, 29, of Huntsville, with a gunshot wound, according to a release from the police department. Shoulders died on the scene, the release said. During the investigation, officers said they learned Shoulders was in an argument with Veronica Lashae Ferguson, 28, of Huntsville. During the argument, Ferguson pulled out a gun and shot Shoulders, killing her, the release said. She then fled the scene before officers' arrival. Ferguson was located this afternoon and charged with murder. She's currently being held in the Madison County Jail.
