要旨：<sup>ようし</sup>Investigators were called to a residential area of west central Tuscaloosa around 4 p.m. after receiving reports of a shooting there. Witnesses told the homicide unit that two men, one 20-year-old and a 21-year-old, had been inside a vehicle at the intersection of 25th Street and T.Y. Rogers Jr. Avenue when a dark SUV pulled up beside them. Reportedly, the occupants of the SUV began shooting into the victims' vehicle, and hit the 20-year-old three times in the left arm. The older man was shot twice, once in the side and once in the back. The shooting may paralyze him. The case is still under investigation, but it is complicated by the victims, who refuse to cooperate with police.

要旨： Investigators were called to a home after receiving reports of a shooting. They found the alleged shooter, a 15-year-old, who was taken to the sheriff's office to be interviewed. The suspect told investigators that he and his friends were playing with a pistol around 9 p.m. Friday night. While he was holding the weapon, he racked the slide and pulled the trigger, firing a shot into the chest of a 14-year-old who was walking in front of him at the time. The victim was first taken to DCH Regional Medical Center in Tuscaloosa then transported to Children's of Alabama in Birmingham for treatment of his injury. The boy was in critical condition but expected to live through the shooting. The victim was conscious and responsive enough to tell investigators that the story the 15-year-old told them was true and that the shooting was accidental.
