ようし要旨 : Several new details have been released regarding Wednesday's fatal police standoff at Arbor Village apartments in Muscle Shoals. Muscle Shoals police responded to a call of shots fired close to 11:30 a.m. They found a woman had been shot and as they were helping her, they were fired upon from the apartment. The woman's brother was reportedly the shooter. What followed was an almost 4-hour standoff as the suspect barricaded himself inside and repeatedly shot at police. The setting was described a scene of immediate danger in which bullets were fired from the apartment many times from a high-powered assault rifle, putting police and civilian lives in danger. Officers were stationed in five surrounding apartments and all of them were fired upon at various points. The standoff ended after another SWAT officer who was covering a Muscle Shoals officer fired two rounds into the apartment; the shooting from within the apartment stopped at that point. The cease-fire allowed officers to blow the door and gain access. They found the shooter dead. After an investigation, it was reported that the shooter was angry over being denied an immediate appointment at a mental health facility Wednesday. He was given an appointment for a later date instead. His sister went over to his apartment to help him when he shot her. She was airlifted to Huntsville Hospital, treated and released.
