要旨 : A new mother found shot and critically wounded after a weekend kidnapping in which her boyfriend was shot and killed has died. She was taken off life support overnight at Grady Memorial Hospital, where she had given birth to a premature daughter after Saturday's shooting. Police said the the woman and her boyfriend were confronted around 12:30 a.m. Saturday, as they got out of a car and before they got to the front door of a house on Colleen Court in DeKalb County. Their armed attackers were dressed in black but police are still not sure of how many were there. The male victim's 14-year-old sister was outside, holding the couple's 8-month-old daughter, when they was taken. She heard the men say they were FBI and saw them handcuff the couple and force them into a brown van that sped away. Later, a ransom call was made to the male victim's family, asking for $150,000, according to police. The call came from the male victim's cell phone, police said. Then about four hours after the couple was taken, the two were found 17 miles away in northwest Atlanta on Ridge Avenue. Both were shot in the head.

"The motive is still under investigation," DeKalb police said. "It does not appear to be a random act."
