^{ようし}要旨 : Seven women and a man have been arrested and charged in connection with a prostitution ring being run out of a Moulton motel. The arrests are the result of an undercover investigation by Lawrence County Sheriff's Office drug agents. During the investigation, agents learned that the women were using an undisclosed website to set up meetings where clients could pay for sex or, in some cases, sex and drugs. The women would agree to meet an undercover agent at the motel and, once the money would exchange hands, the arrest would be made. Reportedly, the women were charging $200 to $400 an hour, depending on what the client requested and how many participants were requested. The man arrested in the sting is accused of serving as the women's transportation to the motel.

^{ようし}要旨 : Minutes before a 20-year-old Raleigh man was mortally wounded outside a North Raleigh home early Sunday, a man called from inside the house to say there was a "bunch of hoodlums" outside and that he was "locked and loaded" and going to secure his neighborhood, according to a recording of the 911 call released Monday. "You need to send PD as quickly as possible," the man told the dispatcher. "I'm on neighborhood watch. I'm gonna have the neighbors with me. There's hoodlums out here racing up and down the street. It's 1 o'clock in the morning, um, there's some vandalism." Later Sunday, police charged the home's owner with first-degree murder. Investigators say he was inside his garage on Singleleaf Lane when he fired a shotgun, hitting 20-year-old man who was outside.
