要旨 : Two employees at a Fulton County day care have been charged with reckless conduct after a boy was left alone on a van for hours, police said. When a parent went to pick her two sons up from A Step of Faith in Union City Tuesday about 11:30 p.m., only one was in the building. An employee told the mother that her 6-year-old son wasn't there when she arrived. The day care owner told the mother her son never got on the van after school and to call her sister to make sure he wasn't picked up. When the owner arrived at the day care, she immediately walked to the van parked in the lot and found the boy locked inside. The mother believed that he had been in the van about four or five hours because he was supposed to be brought to the building where she picked him up about 7 p.m.
