要旨：A Gadsden lawyer and his wife are charged with a felony crime in connection with the reported theft from a client. The investigation began earlier this month when the victim filed a report in reference to theft by deception. The victim told police that he was bilked out of more than $3,000. According to the victim, the lawyer represents the victim in a current divorce/custody case and the lawyer and his wife, who is also his administrative assistant, allegedly advised the victim that he was the subject of a criminal investigation by the Etowah County District Attorney's Office. Therefore, the suspect needed an additional retainer fee to represent the victim regarding the criminal investigation. However, the victim learned from Etowah County District Attorney's Office personnel that he was not under investigation. As a result of the investigation, the suspects were arrested Monday on a first-degree theft by deception charges. https://www.al.com/news/birmingham/2019/09/gadsden-lawyer-and-his-wife-charged-with-felony-theft-from-client.html

要旨：Two young Tuscaloosa men are behind bars and implicated in more than 70 burglary cases, police announced Wednesday. The police received reports of a large amount of auto burglaries taking place throughout the city. As investigators launched their probe, they learned many residents had security cameras that caught the crimes on video. In all of the break-ins, the victims' vehicles were unlocked. The videos showed the suspects checking car doors to see if they were locked. If they were not, they would enter the vehicles and take property. Several times, they took firearms from the vehicles.

In some of the home security videos, the suspects were armed with handguns when they approached the victims' residences and vehicles. Investigators were able to identify the suspects. On Tuesday, Tuscaloosa police and U.S. Marshals took both men into custody at a Holt residence. Two stolen handguns were recovered, as well as other stolen property.

要旨<ruby>ようし</ruby>：A former supervisor at an assisted living facility in east Alabama is accused of embezzling money from one of the residents there to fund a lavish lifestyle that included multiple vacation homes. The suspect is charged with one count each of wire fraud, money laundering, filing a false tax return and theft of government property, according to authorities. The suspect was a unit coordinator at Oak Landing in Attalla. According to federal authorities, while in that job, she obtained power of attorney from the victim and then arranged for the victim to become a resident of Oak Landing. Reportedly, in January 2017 after the victim became a resident of Oak Landing, the suspect used the power of attorney to gain access to the victim's assets. She subsequently transferred the victim's assets to herself and purchased a primary residence, multiple vacations homes, automobiles, and paid her ordinary living expenses. In addition, the victim is charged with embezzling the victim's Social Security benefits and filing a false tax return. The information seeks forfeiture of a number of assets seized from the suspect, including cash and automobiles. https://www.al.com/news/birmingham/2019/10/assisted-living-official-funded-lavish-lifestyle-with-money-embezzled-from-elderly-resident-feds-say.html
